BELLEVILLE WAS INCORPORATED AS A CITY HALF A CENTURY AGO

Ald. E. T. Cherry And W. B. Deacon Were In Parade

THE DECORATIONS

Little Or Nothing Planned To Mark Anniversary of Event

Fifty years ago yesterday, Belleville celebrated the incorporation of the city, the charter having been given by the Lieutenant-Governor in the early days of 1878. Several days were observed and took place in the parade which marked the event, slated to be a big one, but of which few can now remember the city was decorated, better at that time than at any other season.

Huge arches of cedar and evergreen were built across the principal streets, the corner of Bridge and Front Streets a double arch was erected, and the Market, Bridge and Front Streets being covered with flags and bunting.

W. B. Deacon, prominent manufacturer of this city, was Alderman E. T. Cherry, instead having been on a float in the parade sponsored by Wm. Ham & Sons, of which he was a young employee. At that time, voteless boys just coming to the vague, and very all boys, before joining them, were admitted to the machines in the parade. Charles Fyke, who has since passed away was another who was prominent in the procession.

Mr. Deacon recalled the celebration which took place when the soldiers returned from the South African campaign in 1900, and declared that the welcome planned as well as that time by the city.

There has been a genuine feeling of regret in the city quarters that no immediate plans have been made to mark the 50th anniversary of incorporation. There was a suggestion that Fair time would be an appropriate period but no definite steps have been taken in this direction.

A garage crew from Stirling was called and the car towed to Stirling where it was put on sale and seemed extremely fortunate that they were not more seriously injured. The ball game was the first part of the program to be run off in the morning, with the exception of the registering of children under 12, who were given free refreshments at the children's booth all day. Point Anne didn't a smart soft ball team, and it would probably be a good idea to have them go to Toronto for some other larger town to stack up against some of the fast teams in Western Ontario. Green was a pitcher in Toronto who would be glad to play home and home games with the Point Anne team. Green showed class to put the class of ball they are entitled to play in.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC IS HELD

A delightful picnic was held at the Capitol in Prince Edward County yesterday, when the scholars and teachers of St. Thomas' and St. Paul Sunday Schools adjourned to that lovely spot. Cars packed with children left the Sunday School in the city early in the morning and a picnic luncheon was held at noon. The afternoon sports were the order of the day, and many events were staged.

A great deal of the success of yesterday's outing is due to the Reverend Mr. and Mrs. John Lyons, who have worked so diligently to build up the Sunday School's of St. Thomas' and St. Pauls since the Reverend Lyons came to this city last year. Mr. Lyons is a premier favorite with the children, and has organized a splendid A.Y.P.A. in St. Thomas'

CREW ALL SAFE

Ship Crashed Shore-Line In Dense Atlantic Fogs

Halifax, July 3.—A 30 foot hole just forward on the main funnel on the port side, was torn to the hull of the British cruiser Dauntless, when she crashed upon the tribune ledges inside the Halifax Harbor yesterday in a dense fog. The damage was revealed today following an inspection of the hull by a boat diver but the full extent of the damage remains to be ascertain ed as the starboard side of the warship was not inspected, it being considered too dangerous by the diver.

Halifax, N.S., July 3.—Daybreak found the British light cruiser Dauntless grinding relentlessly in the bay over the jagged tribune ledges inside the entrance to the Halifax Harbor. Her crew remained while feeling her way through the dense fog trying to make port yesterday afternoon from Bermuda.

There was little hope today that her salvage would be effected, although there was practically no wind and the heavy southerly swell that lifted her from the ledges yesterday was subsiding.

Water poured into the partially abandoned fighting ship throughout the night and it was believed a sharp bould er had pierced her bottom amidships, causing her to pivot.

There were officers, true to naval tradition, had remained aboard the vessel throughout the night, but the crew of her crew of 425 were safely placed on the shore at the naval dockyard last night.

BRIDGE PARTY AT GOLF CLUB

Considerable Money Raised For Club-House Decoration Fund

On Saturday afternoon a delightfully arranged bridge party was held at the Belleville Golf Club. About twenty-five tables were in play on the wide verandahs and the interior of the club house and the cool breezes from the Bay added to the enjoyment of the event. Miss Dickins, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, was Convenor for the happy affair and with Mrs. G. C. Walker, chairman of the House Committee, acted as hostess for the afternoon.

During the afternoon tea was served in the club rooms where the tables were prettily set out on flowers. The tea table was beautifully arranged with a large silver basket of roses forming the centrepiece and pale yellow candles in tall silver candlesticks adding to the decorative note. Mrs. S. Mason and Mrs. A. I. Bird presided, pouring tea and were assisted in serving by the members of the Entertainment and House Committees.

Following the serving of afternoon tea, prize winners were announced and were: Mrs. Hoff and Mrs. Hoff.

The party was a decided success from a financial as well as a social standpoint and the money realized is to be used for various improvements in the interior of the Club House. Those in attendance are already looking for another party in the near future.

CORDIAL FEELING IS GROWING IN CANADA

In his annual report, Premier Perraeus as minister of education, refers to the language question, as regards French and English instruction in the schools of the province. He states the policy of the department to be one of sympathetic and helpful advice, and supervision and efficient teaching, rather than the rigid enforcement of inflexible rules. The action of the premier in respect of the establishment of French-Canadian classes in this province has done more to cement the good feeling between Quebec and Ontario than any other development in recent years. A policy of sympathetic and helpful advice found to succeed, under any circumstances, and its success, so far, is not surprising.

There is a different sentiment in both provinces regarding the language question. French-Canadians are showing a real desire to learn English, and there is a much keener interest on the part of English-speaking Canadians in learning French. Not only school teachers but many other classes of citizens enroll themselves for the summer courses in the Quebec schools, while French is taught in the only satisfactory way it can be taught by natives who know the difficulties of grammar and pronunciation likely to be experienced by English-speaking people and who are therefore in a position to impart a practical knowledge of their mother tongue. It would be all to the benefit of Canadians and to the Dominion if a full realization and appreciation of the advantages of bilingualism should become general.

PROBLEM TO SOLVE TO BUILD CANADA

"This parliament that has just prorogued has placed burdens on you and your successors, some direct and some indirect, of almost $400,000,000," said Hon. R. B. Bennett, speaking to the business of Toronto recently. "I say to you in my judgment no people of a 1-2 millions can continue to bear that burden for very long. It can be proven mathematically that they can't bear it long. You are as much to blame for the condition as any one.

"If we are to preserve our integrity as a people we must create conditions leading to increase of our numbers. It can't be done with this burden, the levies of sales taxes, income taxes, customs levies and many others.

"In the thirty years up to 1922 we brought in 4,471,000 people and 1921 we had 8,000,000 and at the end of 1927 we had but 9 1-2 millions, so we lost nearly 3 3-4 million people, including our natural increase.

"I put this to you seriously: what is wrong with this country? Why have we lost all these people? Why have we lost a population of over 12 millions instead of 9 1-2 millions? That's a problem for you to ponder."

PRODUCTION OF CARS KEEPS ON MOUNTING

The month of May is the peak of automobile production. The statistics just issued by the Dominion bureau regarding production in Canada show that last month established a record, with an output of 32,962 cars, 40 per cent. over the May figure, and 22 per cent. greater than the previous high total of motor cars recorded in May last year. There is no sign in this of the much-discussed "saturation point." Advances in production, as compared with the previous months' output, were general in all types of car, it is stated, with the exception of a slight reduction in the number of chassis. The five-passenger closed passenger automobiles made in May was 23,211, as against 15,711 in May, 1927; 5,092 open passenger cars as compared with 6,718 fewer than last year; the number of trucks produced in Canada during last month showed a great decline, as compared with May, 1927, the figures being 568 and 3,286 respectively. The total value of production, including all descriptions of cars, was $22,818,492, as compared with $17,411,660 in May 1927—being the selling value, f.o.b. plant.

While the number and value of cars of domestic production were thus increasing, there was also a big increase in the number and value of imported cars. During the month Canada imported 8,138 automobiles valued at $6,711,901; the figures for May last year being 5,916, with a value of $4,906,007. Taking the five-month period, from January to May inclusive, there was an increase in the number of passenger cars, busses, taxicabs and chassis, but a reduction in the number of open cars this year as compared with last. The net selling value of automobiles produced in Canada in the five months of this year was $2,223,617 less than in the corresponding period of last year—the figures being $65,668,345 for January-May, 1928; and $68,311,962 for 1927. Of the 98,629 automobiles produced in Canada in the five months, 23,882 were for export.

WINGED LOVE

I wandered through the meadows
When summer skies were fair,
And with the brightest blossoms
Twined garlands for my hair.

Young Love came running up to me,
All smiles and eager-eyed,
'Come, let us spend the sunny hours
In happy ways!' he cried.

'I want you not,' I sharply said,
'I wish you would not stay';
I mounted a careless song and smiles
To see Love turn away.

To see his downcast look I smiled—
The wound he could not hide.
I knew a glance, a word, at once
Would bring him to my side.

I wove my garlands, sang gay songs
All through that afternoon,
And often secret glances cast
On Love, who sighed alone.

Till suddenly the sun was set.
Gray skies replaced the blue;
Love's aid and company then seemed
Thy dearest thing I knew.

I turned my head. He was not there.
Sweet Love, who once had followed me,
I never found again!

Do you gamble in Oils?

Every time you buy an unknown motor oil you are in a game with the cards stacked against you. Thousands of busy repair shops all over Canada prove you can't win. You match your motor against the price of a few quarts of cheap oil—a high price to pay for the doubtful privilege of gambling with the lubrication of your car.

Motor oil has a hard job to do. It has to form a thin film over the vital parts of your motor—to protect them from deadly heat and friction. While this film remains unbroken your motor is safe. Once it breaks down and trouble begins. Your car is headed for the repair shop.

Tide Water technologists spent years studying not oils alone but oil films—with hundreds and hundreds of laboratory and road tests. Finally they perfected in Veedol an oil that offers the utmost resistance to destructive heat and friction—a fighting film of protection—thin as silk, smooth as silk, tough as steel—capable of withstanding heat 100° hotter than the hottest friction generated by your motor.

Have your crankcase filled with the new and improved Veedol motor oil—heavier-bodied, tougher, longer-lived than ever—the "lightingest" oil that ever turned heels. Correct for modern high-compression, high-speed motors, Veedol is better for any motor. Let this heat-resisting oil give your motor the extra protection it requires.

WOMEN AWAKENING TO VOTING DUTIES

Editorial Psychologist.

Now that women have the franchise coming newly to the forefront in politics, they ought to contribute an invaluable freshness of viewpoint.

Men are blamed for their failures and voting. They do not, as a rule, feel the responsibility and duty that goes with good citizenship.

For women there lies ahead a wonderful opportunity. Will they grasp it?

Women have for so long had their opinions largely formed by men and there is a real danger lest the gift of suffrage to women may mean only an increase in the ranks of the voting body. Simply more voters, that's all.

The most unselfish, far-thinking woman in every walk of life will prompt-ly prove her value. But what about the average woman?

Will she be swayed as to how and when to vote, taking an active part in politics only when advised by her husband, or some male friend or relative?

Independence of thought will be lost since upon one's own judgment must not however, become an obsession.

Were women to swing the pendulum too far in the older direction it would also be bad.

Disagreement and argument is a fine thing. Although men on the vital issues of society and government ought to make women clear thinkers in a field in which they must still feel themselves somewhat new and strange.

As a citizen a woman is now one in a thousands. But as in the case with the men, as a solid citizen a woman is only one in a hundred.

We have received much—therefore we owe much.

We can pay the debt only by giving to the civilization of our time, particularly to that in which we live, the best born both and to which we have sworn allegiance, the best that is a-us.

"Plain incredible," he wrote once, "the quantity of good that may be done in a country by a single man who will make a business of it, and not suffer himself to be diverted from that purpose."

Franklin spoke of a man. Were he living today I daresay he would have written the same about a woman.

Women can do so much now. Their time has come. Their opportunities are really colossal.

Never before have they had less obstacles to overcome.

Much they have already accomplished, to be sure, in social uplift work in all its manifold phases.

But I venture to say that this nation has not yet felt the full effect of women's influence as a body. The real Woman is still, I fear, too bound by tradition and habit in her thinking.

The world is waiting to see what woman will do.

Let us hope it may not be disappointed.

WHAT'S NEW

(From a Woman's Standpoint)

New York reports that since transferred from Paris to America the trend is as autumn fabric, the draped turban of transparent velvet promises to be extremely popular as complement to the velvet costume as the fall approach es.

The success of the low-cut decolet, age among smart Parisiennes has log ically passed from its interest in evening scarfs, and this was confirmed at a recent Ambassadeurs gathering, where many of the dresses of lace and chiffon had scarfs 'o match.

A London artist, Miss Hilda May Gordon, has the unique distinction of being the only woman to go round the world "on her brush," for she has been quietly painting for six years and has literally circled the globe, painting everything of note in the world and holding an exhibition in every big centre where it could be arranged.

Fascinating new shades have been introduced for autumn wear, and, even with sunlight yellow, a light pure gold shade, much used in Chanel's mid-season collections

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl sixteen years of age and am in love with a boy about five years my senior. I love him very much but think that I don't care for him. I know that he loves me but I think he is too bashful to tell me.

How can I let him know that I love him? HEARTBROKEN.

HEARTBROKEN: There are many ways of saying "I love you," little girl. But before you express this sentiment in words you must be sure of yourself —and your sweetheart. Are you quite certain that a bashfulness that is keeping the young man from declaring himself?

Try to learn what the reason for his reticence is, and in the meantime encourage him to cultivate your friendship and love. If he does love you he will manage to overcome his shyness.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl of seventeen and am writing to you for advice. My girl friend and I have cut out with two boys. When we invited them to our homes they would dance for a while, and then they would want to "pet". We won't consent to their wishes and weren't shy in telling them, either. But the next time we saw them they "snubbed" us.

Do you think it necessary for a girl to "pet" so as to get a fellow? How should we act towards these boys when we see them?

CURLY HEAD.

CURLYHEAD: The answer to your question is decidedly, "NO!". The modern girl does not have to permit her young men friends these liberties in order to retain their friendship. Any young man who makes this a condition of his attentions should be made to understand that his friendship isn't worth anything.

Keep up your noble ideals, dear girls and you will be rewarded by wholesome friendships and sterling companions. There are not many boys who are look ing for that type of girls you are so don't lose hope.

As for the young men you mentionsed, greet them coldly, but don't go out of your way to be over-cordial. They don't deserve it.

A HUSBAND AFTER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

Chapter 53.

THE SCHEME OF AN ADVENTURER.

At the light of Cells, Fulmer stopped his restless pacing and said:

"Sol Yare's headed at last! Where have you been all the afternoon?" She shrugged. "I think I might ask that of you."

He laughed shortly. "I'll tell you all that later. . . But what have you been up to . . ."

She answered resentfully: "One would think, from your question and your tone, that I am really your wife."

His genially apparently restored, he said: "I'm sorry if I was rude, . . . Tell me!"

She answered wearily: "Oh, dizziness was in town. I had a talk with him."

She was glad to be able to tell the truth, for once.

"Annecley?" he started, frowned. "And you told him everything? He knows?"

"I stuck to the story you have made me tell every one . . I told him I had married you."

He chuckled. "Poor old Annecley! I'll bet that was a jolt to him. He has no use for me. Did he go up in the air?"

"He was surprised—and disapproving."

"I'll take my oath he was! I'm not exactly too sort of bridegroom that Annecley would pick for a charming girl like you. . . But he believed it?"

"Unfortunately—yes," was her response.

"See here, Celia," he came close to her suddenly, "I'm in a hole, I'm in a mess. The chap who came this morning was one of my erstwhile associates. He's in trouble this time—serious. In fact, he was my right-hand man. He had to get out of it, did when the thing went up in smoke. But since he landed in the United States, he's been up against it hard for six years, actors in our late drama. They de-ported him, and he's in a devil of a grimance. "There didn't seem to be much difficulty entailed. So here they are—and here I am."

"Well " she questioned curiously, "what's the point in all this?"

Lighting a cigarette, "that they've got another scheme up their sleeves for starting the ball rolling, I'm certain. Those oil-fields are too tempting. And they want me to lead them this time and leave the estimable, his rather excitable, Manuel out of it."

Hope flared in Celia's heart.

"You'd like to do that, wouldn't you? You are fond of adventure always, appeals to you."

He flung himself into a chair. "Hanged if I know. I'm infernally comfortable here, and, now that I've gone and let Sallee into the secret—"

She turned away. "Please go on. Tell me more."

He laughed ruefully. "The real isn't so pleasant. I am informed that the doughty Manuel is down on my trail. Not on my trail, to be exact."

"Then you have to go away? Go somewhere else to hide?"

"Not on your life!" he told her coolly. "This is the last place he'll look, until Manuel actually shows up. After all, there may be no truth in the report. These chaps haven't any scruples, and they're determined to get that oil. Also, they have an enormous confidence in my ability to put the thing across. As a matter of fact, I have done it, if we hadn't run out of funds. They may be telling me this about Manuel to put me on my mettle, their new scheme. . . . You know the sort of things—you play, or I'll tell where you are."

Celia said hastily: "If you dare make a scandal— if you even get in trouble with the police——"

He laughed at her. "Don't worry. They're just as anxious as I am to remain in retreat. They'll be model citizens."

"Just what do you intend to do with them?"

He considered this at some length.

"I rather think we could put a new revolution afoot, and be cast-aways in the right way," he answered slowly. "The present administration is none too strong, and the people are pretty sore, because they've been taxed very heavily. We'd likely have a lot of support, if we made another attempt. The joke of the thing is that they want me to be next president. You would you like to be the wife of th. president of a Central American republic, Celia

When she made no reply, he went on: "Of course, it'll take a lot of planning. We can't go off half-cocked. But what better place to arrange all those little details than right here?"

"You mean in this town?

"Oho—here in the house," he corrected her coolly. "The hotel is no place for that. Walls like paper, and bellboys are very key-holey."

She gapped at his audacity.

"You mean that you would dare bring that bunch of ruffians here? With my mother dangerously ill—"

"Why don't you go away with them somewhere far away?" asked Celia, a sense of disaster coming over her. "I'll give you the money for the trip."

His eyes gleamed suddenly.

GLORIOUS TIME AT OPENING OF ATHLETIC FIELD

BABY SHOW

And Fun And Sports For Young And Old At Annual Picnic

It would have been impossible to have more perfect weather conditions than those that greeted the Cloco social and athletic club picnic held in the new Cloco recreation grounds yesterday. From early in the morning until well after six o'clock in the evening the fun waxed fast and furious and not one idle minute was there during the entire day.

The day was started with the marathon race from the Belleville post office to the Canadian Industrial alcohol plant, a distance of some four miles and a fraction and the splendid time of an average eighteen minutes to the mile was made by the winning relay team. Three sixteen runners entered in all, made up into four relay teams, the group running about a mile. The race was won by the Yard team, composed of Drummond, Jack Smallbone, Crozier and Abrahams running in the order named. Second to arrive in the winning post was the office quartette Don Hurst, J. V. Boyle J. A. Boyle and R. Black. This aggregation averaged about eighteen and a half minutes to the mile.

Third to finish was the Bottling room and last the Racks team. The members of these teams are as follows: Bottling room, Ted Hannah, Wilbur and Latchford; Racks, Miller, Jack Fox, Hamilton and Smith and Fox.

The morning was hot, and the going was hard, but all runners finished with the exception of one, showed little the worse for their experience.

Fun Galore.

From then on there was fun galore for the entire day. Races, swimming, baseball games, a baseball game, football games and a baby show, all combined to make up the "perfect day" by eight o'clock in the evening. The morning there was held a baseball game between the married and the single men, which contest was won by the single men by the score of 22-21. The game was close and the playing keen. The battery for the married men was composed of Smith and George, while Whiting and Latchford performed the same service for the single men. Colonel Coffee and T. Simpson acted as umpires.

Following the game the festivities were hatched while all present lunched, the meal being in attendance bringing their lunches with them.

The afternoon was opened by a baby show, Mrs. Jack Burns and Mrs. Abrahams, Messrs. P. Harrison, C. Trevelyan, F. Baker, R. Smith and a reporter for the Intelligencer acted as judges. A baby belonging to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Boyle took first prize and Mr. and Mrs. E. Cooper's child carried off second honors. Owing to the fact that judging was hard as all babies were nearly as perfect as could be.

Catch the Greased Pig.

Perhaps the greatest fun of the day was occasioned late in the afternoon a contest open to all, that of catching a greasy porker of heavy weight was held. Many tried to capture the pig so, and the winner, R. Abrahams, was the only one to emerge from bed of mud when he emerged victorious from the battle.

Another side-splitting event was staged when a very much lively goose was tossed in the river and several swimmers tried to catch it. Lionel Baker finally succeeded in doing this and brought the goose in triumph to shore. Winners in both these events were allowed to keep their trophys.

Races on water and on land filled up the greater part of the day, as well as several other athletic contests.

The Cloco Club's picnic, as all events staged by this famous organization was a success in every way. In the evening a dance was held at Kent's Boat House, all members of the club being the guests.

COAL AND WOOD

Those of the younger generation of to-day have probably had many a good laugh at the fancy pictures of grandmother when she was a young girl dressed in the frocks that Dickens and soldered at the bottom with ruffled Bonnets. Yet this smartly dressed young lady above is wearing a charming model that is taken from a picture from the 1880 silhouette. The apron tunic which ties at the back and is finished by pleated ruffles is an entirely new feature in the summer mode. A narrow pleated ruffle gives a little lingerie touch to the collar which is rounded in front but extends to a point in the back. The sash cuffs are similarly trimmed, being defined at top and wrist by pleated ruffles. A narrow belt and tie at the collar completes the trimming of a frock which would be particularly chic made of the soft prints of silk crepe, georgette, or organdie. (Copyright, 1928, by Bellsyndi.)

Thumb sucking does look sweet in a baby, but it is disgusting in the three-year-old and sometimes is danger ous. Fifty fifteen of cases of thumb sucking cause an ill-formed mouth or indurated adenoids; and it always interferes with digestion. Pinning the sleeve over the hand; attaching mittens, or putting on bandaged cuffs, which prevent bending the arms at the elbows, are some of the ways to stop the habit.

Another habit—bad habit—regularity in bowel action—is responsible for weak bowels and constipation in babies. Give the tiny bowels an opportunity to act at regular periods each day. If they don't act at first, the use of Fletcher's Castoria will soon regulate them. Every mother should keep a bottle of it handy to use in case of colic, flatulency, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, loss of sleep or when baby is cross and feverish. Its gentle influence over baby's system enables him to get full nourishment from his food, helps him gain, strengthens his bowels.

DELORO CLUB TO PLAY TOMORROW

Belleville Now In Second Position With Oshawa Leading

Oshawa again jumped into the lead position of the Central Ontario League yesterday by taking two games from the Kingston team at Alexandra Park, Belleville, by losing to Peterboro were forced to drop to second place after having occupied the top rung for some three weeks. The Nationals are being chased closely by the Peterboro tea nawks are one-half a game behind. Oshawa have a small lead of one-half a game over Belleville and this race is one of the tightest in years. Every team has a wide-open chance and the prospects are that with all of them bunched it will result in a close finish.

Manager Walter Gerow has a battle on his hands with the Deloro team at the Park tomorrow afternoon and with the locals having lost 3 games in succession it is hoped that the team will emerge from their slump and capture the half-holiday game. The Nationals have been playing good ball but the opposition have been playing just a little bit better and the team deserve a capacity house tomorrow. Manager Hemphill, of the Deloro team, will likely pitch Woodrow Jack who has been fairly successful in trimming the Nationals while Walter Gerow will probably use Hoot Gibson who is one of the league's leading batsmen. Deloro is very weak on the hole but they will make a decided attempts to boost their average here tomorrow. Belleville fans have given the team good support and with the push right in the pennant race it will be a splendid argument may be expected. The game will start at 3.30.

ANNUAL PICNIC

Races for the children of the employees and the employees themselves were held at one o'clock also, the winner of each event getting a ticket which was exchanged for a prize. H. Scollan and Art Lowe were in charge of these races. At about three o'clock the Flannery Peanuts Girls' Ball team arrived from Toronto, to play the Point Anne girls. Although starting off well, the Point was beaten out in the last few innings and had to take the short end of a 16 to 10 score.

Miss Shepherd of the Point Anne team has the makings of a real pitcher but while her battery mate held her up well, Mr. Generaux for the point and Miss Fox of Flanders hit home runs which were nice clouts.

At the dock at four p.m., Pat Jennings of Trenton, the "human fish" gave an exhibition of swimming which was greatly appreciated by the crowds who watched him. When it comes to swimming, Pat is right there, and has entered again this year in the third Wrigley Marathon to be held at Toronto this Fall. Last year he was prevented from competing because of the ill health of his mother, and best wishes will be his from the friends he made at the Point yesterday.

Also the Baseball team hooked up with the Point Anne baseball team in the night-cap fixture, and although both teams tried hard, it was a rather lutless game, probably due to the fact that the Point Anne team had been competing in various sports all day and were tired out. The Al-mite won by the score of 6-1, with Pamkin in the box and Haserman receiving. Strachan pitched for Point Anne and Shri Green caught.

This game was not over until about eight o'clock, so the prizes were distributed before that time. The Argyll band from Belleville was in attendance most of the afternoon in the picnic grounds, and their music was greatly appreciated. This band is getting better and better and it is to be hoped that there will be more heard of them in Belleville this summer. The Children's Playground was open all day, with Cranky King in charge, and the kiddies certainly enjoyed themselves to the utmost. A dance was held in the Parish Hall in the evening, where the light fantastic was enjoyed until the wee small hours. The picnic was one of the best that has been held at the Point for years and the committee in charge is to be congratulated on the splendid success they made of it.

Point Anne—K. Generaux, c; A. Hull, ss; M. Generaux, cf; J. Generaux 3rd; Scott, 1st; Reed, 2nd; F. Brant, rf; M. Maracle, 3rd; W. Shepherd, p; Hill, cf.

FINAL MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL

NEW SIDEWALKS

London Council Propose To Petition Government In Regard To Holidays

The City Fathers met last night for the last time before commencing the summer session. The Council will not open again until September 1st. There was little discussion on any of the matters to be brought to the attention of the Council and all was serene within the precincts of the chamber.

Sidewalks will be constructed on Henry Street and Foster Avenue.

Engineer Dunlop presented a most comprehensive report on the operation of the city skating rinks during the past month, showing that during the people, mostly youngsters, had used the two public hockey and skating rinks.

A letter was received from the Acting City Clerk of London requesting the Belleville Council to concur in a resolution that all holidays falling in the middle of the week be celebrated on Monday to avoid confusion and disarrangement in business in the middle of the week. Dufferin, Holiday Armistice Day and Labor Day throughout Ontario are marked on Monday and the resolution reads that upwards of a million dollars is lost to employees by Canada through mid-week holidays while this loss could be reduced by holding all holidays on Monday. The resolution asks that employees as well as employers would benefit from the change. The Federal and Provincial Governments will be petitioned to make regulations as may be necessary to bring the Monday of the week in which Dominion Day, New Year's Day, etc., fall a public holiday. The letter was filed.

R. Oliphant and Son will be remitted $10 on their butcher license for 1928 as the year was expired and business has been discontinued.

Chief Cook has communicated with the City Council in regard to a number of infants in the Children's Shelter, at present made by Mrs. Christine Mikel as Judge of the Juvenile Court, directing the City of Fort William to pay for the board and maintenance of the infants in the city's absence. The Clerk of Fort William states that Fort William is not liable for the payment and proceedings will be taken. No action to order changed. This may result in the City of Belleville becoming liable for the payment. Brought the matter to the attention of the Council in order that the City Solicitor may take the necessary proceedings. Chief Inspector of the Children's Aid Society will lend the Council any assistance in the matter.

Fill-In At College

A letter was received from Chas. W. Bishop, Principal of Albert College, in respect to the frontage of the Continuation property on Bridge Street.

Bishop said the Board appreciated the generous interest taken by the Council as a whole in the matter. The present site was presented. Considerable work has been made in developing it satisfactorily. There is, however, a strip along the front between the City Grove, King Street, Macpelah Hill, Rose Hinton, Arthur Jones, Perry Jury, Franklin Lake, Nellie Marabas, Lillian Marabas, Esther Mason, Robert Morris, Harold Phillips, Doris Samuels, Evelyn Short, Doris Simpson, Clarence Stinfield, Rita Symon, Hyma Tobe Isaac Tobe, Rose Wilson.

Promoted to 2B.

SIR DAVID YULE DIED LAST NIGHT

St Albans, Eng., July 4.—Sir David Yule, reputed to be the wealthiest Indian merchant with fortune worth £11,000,000, died here last night.

Although he was the head of the great Indian mercantile firm and director of several banks, he was scarcely known to the public. He lived a simple life in comparative obscurity, spending most of his time in India, where he controlled the zenana above his office in Calcutta.

INSTANT DEATH TO TRENTON MAN

Fred Campbell, Laborer, Killed In Severe Electric Storm

Toronto, July 4.—Three lives were cut short and five persons were injured yesterday afternoon when death descended from out of the sky in one of the fiercest electrical storms ever to strike Toronto.

The dead are Miss Ella Campbell, of this city, in Leaside, at about 4.30 o'clock; some time between 2 and 3 o'clock, Fred Campbell, laborer, of Trenton, Ont., was killed in a shack, waiting for the rain to cease that they might proceed with their employment. Both had been killed instantly before they moved, and when they edged back into the shack, the other two with whom they had worked, Dale M. Scott, aged 32, of Adelaide, Ont., and Fred Campbell, aged 60, of Trenton, Ont., lay dead and four others injured.

In a standing crowd of about 400 at 422 Greenwood Avenue at the same moment, a 11-year-old boy sat in a doorway when a lone lake truck and its light sedan collided and plunged into the ditch on the provincial highway Number Two, four miles East of Thamesville. The injured are: Edward Wilson and Stanley Scribe, Detroit; V. S. Shantz, truck driver; Clarence Pratt, aged 13 and Alvin Pratt, 14, all of Waterloo. The four Detroiters, occupants of the sedan which was wrecked were hurled under the heavy truck, while the cab of the truck collapsed under the load of beer and was hurled forward pinning the truck driver, and the two young boys, who were with him, beneath the wreckage. Wilson was the driver of the sedan.

COLONEL S. S. LAZIER PROMINENT MILITARY FIGURE PASSED TODAY

DIED TODAY

Interesting Career Was Studded With Brilliant Achievements

LEGAL LIGHT

Bore Distinguished Record In Military And Civic Life

With the passing of Colonel Samuel Shaw Lazier today Belleville loses one of its most prominent citizens, respected and loved by all. A veteran of the Fenian Raid, a lifelong member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and the oldest Local Master in Ontario, it was with the deepest regret that his many friends learned of his passing.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon from his late residence at 2 o'clock private, to St. Andrew's Church at 2.30. Colonel Lazier will lie in state at his late home all Thursday next.

The late Samuel Shaw Lazier, Honorary Colonel Argyll Light Infantry, Master-in-Chancery, and Deputy Master, was born in Belleville, his station in legal and civic circles was born to the manor. He was born in the year 1840. He received his education at Victoria University College, studied law under his brother, he was admitted as a call to the Bar in 1864. Practiced law for the county of Hastings, was created, in 1874, the appointments as Master-in-Chancery and Deputy Registrar for the county of Hastings. Prince Edward, Lennox and Addington. After some years in Peterborough he returned to Belleville, but retained the office of Master-in-Chancery for Belleville and Hastings. This appointment prevented his practising law for Parliament when nominated as the Liberal-Conservative candidate for the riding of East Hastings. On occasions during the past he has been appointed and of acting as Deputy Judge for the County. His legal policies career as Master (the longest in Ontario) his decisions were seldom reversed and always upheld.

Two Hobbies.

Although the duties of his office and his energies to the utmost he managed to devote a great deal of his time to two hobbies. The Militia and Free Masonry. In May, 1866, he obtained a first-class military certificate and in August following was gazetted ensign in the 15th Argyll Light Infantry. In the year 1880 he became Captaincy while on active service with his regiment in Prescott, where he got service against the Fenians. He was gazetted Major, in 1871, and Lieutenant-Colonel in the year 1877, which he held until January 1886, when he retired retaining the rank of honorary Lieutenant-Colonel. At the time he was the senior officer in the Militia in point of time in the service of the regiment to the credit of the city and the force. Only those who have connection with the militia must know the time and money that he expended during his thirty years service. Generations of the young manhood of this city passed through his regiment, of Colonel Lazier, had many old Belleville officers have enthusiastic words to say of the kindly, considerate soldier officer and speak with affection of the old 15th.

He was chairmain of the Board of Managers of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at the time of the jubilee memory of man runneth not to the contrary.

Prominent Mason

Colonel Lazier's career in Free Masonry was as distinguished as that in his military. He joined Moira Lodge,

TWO KILLED IN HIGHWAY CRASH

Beer-Laden Truck Collides With Sedan Injuring Passengers

Chatham, Ont., July 4.—Alexander Wilson and his brother-in-law, Mr. J. G. Brown, both of Detroit were killed and five others were seriously injured today when a beer laden truck and light sedan collided and plunged into the ditch on the provincial highway Number Two, four miles East of Thamesville. The injured are: Edward Wilson and Stanley Scribe, Detroit; V. S. Shantz, truck driver; Clarence Pratt, aged 13 and Alvin Pratt, 14, all of Waterloo. The four Detroiters, occupants of the sedan which was wrecked were hurled under the heavy truck, while the cab of the truck collapsed under the load of beer and was hurled forward pinning the truck driver, and the two young boys, who were with him, beneath the wreckage. Wilson was the driver of the sedan.

TOURISTS PRAISE FACILITIES HERE

Travellers From Atlantic To Pacific Visit Belleville Camp

Belleville Tourist Camp has started off in great style with a rush. It is great, in fact, that this month's registrations will no doubt be in excess of those for the year until the morning of the 4th, less than four days, 123 par ties have registered, with a total of 393 persons. More cars are from Ontario, according to the names, than from the United States, although a great many of our neighbours to the South have visited the city's camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Kilkey, Ridgefield, N.J., stayed there for a few days recently and Belleville immediately. Mr. Kilkey is the grandson of Alexander Hamilton, author of the "Blue Leaf for Ever," and thought Belleville's Tourist Camp "the finest camp in New York City."

Douglas Hunt, of Trail, B. C., is on his way to Scotland, via Montreal. He declared that this camp is the finest he has visited since he left British Columbia, and incidentally, it is the first visited. H. H. Hitch, of Kentville, Nova Scotia, who registered at the Chamber of Commerce, said that Belleville is the most beautiful city he has been in in Canada. Both men are going to make their home at home everywhere in this city. This is a fine reputation for a city to have and the Tourist Camp and the Chamber of Commerce are doing the work of the right way. Mr. Nelson, caretaker of the Tourist camp is to be congratulated on the excellent manner in which he looks after the Camp. More than one tourist has remarked on the courtesy and service which they have been given at the Camp.

BOAT STILL ON ROCKY LEDGE

Halifax, July 4.—The British cruiser Despatch, the flagship of the North Atlantic and West Indies squadron of the British Navy and commanded by Vice-Admiral Sir Frederick Dreyer, was standing today toward the Tribune Ledge, Halifax harbor, where the cruiser Dauntless was still hard on the rocks after entering the harbor in the fog on Monday. The Despatch was expected to arrive this evening. It was thought that a court martial enquiry into the attack would probably be held later. Another unsuccessful attempt was made to float the Dauntless at high tide today and the vessel remains remaining unchanged.

THE WEATHER

Fair; decidedly warm.

GENERAL WILLIAMS HERE

General V.A.S. Williams, Commissioner of the Ontario Provincial Police was in Belleville yesterday and paid a visit to the local Provincial Police headquarters. The General was motoring further east and stayed here only a short time. He was accompanied by his wife.

WORK BEING COMPLETED

Sergeant Clarke and Provincial Constable Price Morris of Picton are at the Abe Robinson farm again today, in anticipation of any further trouble with the family. Work on the barn should be finished today, when the Hydro men will move on next.

A SUGGESTION

Several persons have called attention to the fact that at the junction of Pinnacle and Campbell Streets, there are only two small signs noting that Campbell Street is a one-way street. While the streets are being marked with white paint it appears like a good suggestion to have the pavement at this point marked with an arrow indicating the way out, and also the word 'stop' in order that strangers may be saved any inconvenience.

CONTRACT AWARDED

The Public Library which has been donated to the town of Wellington by Mr. Saylor in memory of his mother, will be started soon, the contract having been let to O'A. Bennett and Company of Belleville. Plans are being drawn up by Thomson and Johnson, Architects, of this city. The total cost of the building will be in the neighbourhood of $16,000.00.

The records of attendance show that at Holloway Street, 6,097 skaters and hockey players enjoyed the advantages of the rink, while at Queen Street and Foster Avenue, 10,721 skaters were in attendance throughout the season, making a total of 16,832. In addition to the forty-five days operation there were seventeen days on which they could not be run due to mild weather. The average attendance per day totalled 374 skaters. The Holloway Street rink was operated from December 24 to March 13, while the rink at Fox-ter Avenue opened on January 4 and each closed March 16. The total cost of operation was $565.13, and for the pleasure derived, it is considered the expenditure was well worth while.

The rinks have now operated three years and the attendance increases each winter. During the first year the Service Clubs each donated $50 toward the construction, the second year each gave $150 and this year, each paid $150 with the City Council assuming the balance.

DISTORTED DREAMS REFLECT YOURSELF

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH,
Consulting Psychologist.

Everybody dreams. Perhaps you do not remember your dreams. Perhaps you do not. But almost certainly it is true that you have dreamed at all—for it is true that you do dream many nights a week. There can be no question.

Dreams are supposed to come from repressions. But while all of us must repress, most bad mannerisms in check so as to harmonize with society, it follows that all of us must dream.

Dreams have always interested people, but their mechanism is still more or less puzzling. Dreams are as vivid and real, yet at the same time so elusive and fleeting, that it is often difficult to pin them down for careful analytical study.

Not all scientists are agreed as to how dreams are manufactured. Dreams have two causes, however. One is the precipitating cause and the other the underlying cause.

If an occurrence impresses you during the day you are likely to dream about it at night. The occurrence, you see, precipitated the dream. It set it off.

The underlying or undercoat cause, however, may date back to your earliest childhood days. That cause is always a repression—some unfulfilled and repressed desire.

Your repressions may remain buried for years. Then accidentally you see or hear something that impresses you. That night your unfulfilled wish—in other words, your repression—appears in the disguise of that something which struck you so forcibly.

Have you ever noticed that you do not dream of the something that impressed you exactly as you heard it or saw it?

If you dream about it at all, you do so in a very much changed and distorted manner.

Incredible things happen in dreams. That's because they are disguised on purpose.

Dreams are distorted so you can't find out what they are hiding.

If they were not so disguised, your repressions would be as clear to you as the day you pushed them out of your mind, with the result that you would waken and worry all over again.

Dreams are also very condensed and very dramatic. They are often jumbled and topsy-turvy. Exaggerations and fantastic situations are the rule.

All the mechanisms, again, are for the purpose of throwing you off your guard, to prevent you from waking up.

Often you can learn a lot about yourself by studying your dreams. Start from the premise that your dreams have a meaning and that they are not nonsensical.

Books on the scientific analysis of dreams are available and they will aid you in unraveling the mysteries of your own mind.

But, like most other worthwhile things it requires patience and practice to become expert, and in very repressed cases it requires an outsider, a psychologist, to solve the dream puzzles for you.

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Velvet velvet coats in blue and mauve are being much worn over printed frocks by smart New York.

Pattie Hockaday Heald, of Denver, Col., the only American woman violinist in Europe, has been in Holland in that capacity since November, 1925.

Osbert Sitwell says: "One of the chief drawbacks to modern friendship is that intelligent people are apt to demand intelligence in others as a condition of friendship; whereas the stupid and devoted make the most faithful friends."

"Catherine Blust," a new vivid color between purple and blue, has been chosen by Mrs. Alfred Smith, who wore a costume in this color when leading for the Democratic Convention in Houston, and the color was originated for her by a famous American firm.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

"By Jove, that's an idea! Not about going away. I won't have that. But the money. You have no money, Celia. All the old man's dough. After all, it would be a good investment for your if the revolution succeeds. I tell you those oil-wells are among the richest in the world. Celia, you're not angry with me, you heart. You've got to help me. I'm absolutely pinched, now."

Chapter 24.
THE PLOTTERS.

It was not until three days later that Celia understood the full significance of Falconer's cool proposition.

She was with her mother when the maid arrived to say that she would please see Mr. Falconer in the laboratory. She hesitated, but with her mother's eyes upon her, she had to yield with good grace. Falconer opened the door for her, and said:

"Some friends of mine wish to meet you, Celia."

She found three men sitting around a table. One of them she recognized as the stranger who had called to see Falconer on the day of Annesley's arrival and had refused to give his name.

They rose awkwardly at her approach. She saw that they were able before them, and several half-filled glasses. The room was thick with smoke.

"Well?" she queried coldly. "Why told you want to see me?"

"Just a moment," Falconer calmly placed a chair for her. "Please don't keep you long. . . . These gentlemen, Celia, were my associates in that little revolutionary project. . . . We've had the good fortune to come together again, and we think our plans are ripe. We have a happier ending. All we need is money to tide us over. . . . Celia, you have money."

She said scornfully: "You expect me to finance a revolution against the government of a friend? American Republic? You scoundrel!"

"Not against the government, Celia. Only against Annesley. Don't you see that they actually think——"

"Naturally, they think what the town thinks."

His effrontery made her boil with rage. He added, cold-voiced:

"You needn't be afraid. They don't speak much English. I shall act as interpreter."

"What is it you want?" she asked coldly.

"Money."

"I have told you that I will give you money, if you will go away."

"Not enough, my dear girl. One decent financial coup is a revolution with a pittance. Firearms are necessary. Food, clothing. Bullets, here and there."

"And you think I would give you enough for all that?" she asked bitterly.

"I know it," was the response. "You can afford to refuse."

"There's Annesley," she reminded him. "If I refuse, he will tell him of your request——"

"I rather think you wouldn't care to have Annesley know about our little — er — arrangement, or you'd have told him when he was in town. The minute, Annesley knows, the whole town will know. I presume you that."

The menace in his words came home to her. She looked at the men. They regarded her silently. She knew there was no hope of succor there. They were completely scoundrels, they wanted to bring about the revolution, seize the oil-fields——and, after that, fight for the spoils. The fact that they had to victimize a helpless girl to gain their ends was nothing to them. How much Falconer had confided to them she couldn't guess. But, at least, they knew that she was in his power, and they meant to take advantage of the fact.

She found herself saying, feeling like a hunted animal: "How much do you want?"

He considered. "Well, at first, to start with——" He named a sum that left her gasping. "After that, of course we shall act."

She turned on her heel abruptly. "I refuse!"

He barred her way: "Dare you refuse, my dear? Haven't I a couple of cards up my sleeve? Would you care to have your mother know the truth? Or your acquaintances, who are so ready to gossip about you?"

"You would threaten me with that?"

"Not threaten, my child. I would act, like a flash. At first, I wasn't so keen about this new revolution, but these chaps have got me all keyed up. It looks like child's play now. And I have fancy being the next president of that republic. It's a soft, lucrative job, and soft, lucrative jobs are in my line."

She said icily: "I wish that I could tell you what I think of you."

He laughed: "Words are empty things, Celia. Come, make the best of a bad bargain. You're rich. You've offered me money many a time, if I'd clear out. Give it now for a good cause."

"I'll think it over."

"But not long, Celia. These gentlemen are a trifle impatient. No telling what may happen. If I were you, I'd come to a decision at once."

She said, and wished she hadn't: "Have you no heart?"

He answered: "Rather too much for my own good. . . . I wish I hadn't. But I have ambition, too."

She escaped then. Better give him the money and have him clear out than have him remain and make love to her. But there was her mother to be considered.

She crept up the stairs, miserable and distracted. She felt cornered, trapped.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Mahogany furniture should not be placed where the summer sun will strike it, as this exposure will remove its glistening finish.

When you make pie crust make twice the quantity needed. Pie crust rolled in a damp napkin and put in the refrigerator will keep perfectly for several days.

Tea and coffee stains can easily be removed from white and colored cloths if soaked overnight with a little pure glycerine and afterwards washed in warm soapy water and rinsed well.

—ARMSTRONG.

IMPORTANT VISITORS COMING TO CANADA

The visit at the end of July and during August of the young "ambassadors of Empire," fifty British boys and girls, between the ages of 16 and 21, who have won scholarships entitling them to an extensive tour of Canada, assumes greater importance the more closely the details are studied. Hundreds of thousands entered the competition, and over 100,000 papers were submitted to fifty examiners—papers from every nook and corner of the British Isles. When the finalists had been narrowed down to a hundred or two, an oral test determined the final decision. In addition to these fifty boys and girls who will participate in the tour of the Dominion, 34 younger children, aged 8 to 14, received scholarships of $250 each, and there were numerous lesser prizes. The general result is that an immense amount of information about Canada has been imbibed by contestants and that this information has also reached a large number of people other than those who actually took part in the competition. Nation-wide publicity was given to the scheme, with a series of announcements in the newspapers, advertising and editorial comment. Moving picture houses to the number of 130 put on special performances, featuring films of Canada, and particularly those parts of the Dominion which are to be visited by the successful scholars. The British Broadcasting corporation also co-operated. "In addition lecturers on Canada visited various centers.

The Allied Newspapers of Great Britain launched the scheme and the Canadian National railways and the Cunard Steamship company have given generous support. The canadian papers were printed in the newspapers, being in the form of questions on the Empire in general and Canada in particular. Some of these were fairly elementary and others necessitated considerable research work. Many of the questions were designed to bring to the notice of the British people the means by which the Canadian government is assisting in emigration work. The elementary, secondary and public schools, continuation classes, technical colleges, Boy Scouts and Girl Guides' organizations the Y.M. and Y. W. C. A.; banks, insurance companies, business houses and industrial firms received leaflets to the number of five million descriptive of the competition. Specimen questions follow: "What is the pre-Cambrian shield of Canada and for what is it noted?" "In what way is the winter an asset to the Canadian farmer?" "What is insulin? Who discovered it? With what institution was the discovery connected?" Hamilton is included in the itinerary of the prize-winners, which covers the Dominion, from the Maritime provinces to the Pacific coast. It will give our young visitors a thorough opportunity of seeing for themselves the scenes and objects of interest upon which they are already primed through their special studies in preparing their papers.

OTHER MEN'S THOUGHTS

A moving picture actress wonders how she can stop people from taking an interest in her private life. Has she tried firing her staff of publicity experts?—Winnipeg Tribune.

The press of the United States is being blamed for great evils, but no improvement is noted. Few papers are now publishing crossword puzzles. —Hamilton Spectator.

Year after year, almost as far back

THOSE ORCHESTRA SEATS

Lady of the golden tresses,
Lady sitting at my right:
Know you that your elbow presses
Tight?

Ever since you first were seated
And I first admired your map,
We have waged a very heated
Scrap.

No one else, I'm sure, has seen us
Battle to determine who Owns the narrow bridge between us
Two.

Every time I've tried contesting
Whether I might seize a share,
I have bumped your own arm resting
There.

Lady, I don't wish to pound your
Elbow; there is but one check—
May I put my arm around your Neck?

—C. C. N. Y. Mercury.

as we can remember, came the announcement that the peach crop had been ruined by mice, severe winter weather or some other stereotyped reason. It is refreshing, therefore, to read a report from Queenston that Ontario is to have a record peach crop this year. Not only will it be the largest in years, but it will be sold to the consumer at lower prices than have been experienced for many years. That's good news; come on with some more.—Aylmer Express.

Uplift Worker—My dear Mr. Bins, why do you beat your poor wife?"

Mr. Bins—Why do I? Well, if yer wants to know, it's because she will keep on saying she's unhappily married."

"Only a flapper in a roadster," Fred answered.

"Thank heaven we escaped!" he muttered.

A clergyman who had given up his former position as a Magistrate in order to enter the Church, was conducting his first marriage service.

"Will thou have this man to be thy wedded husband?" he asked the bride.

The bride answered promptly: "I will."

"And you," he continued, addressing the bridegroom, "what have you to say in your defence?"

REGENT THEATRE

Regent Theatre announces the coming of Monte Blue in "One Round Hogan" a Warner Bros. production, tomorrow for a run of three days. "One Round Hogan" is an up-to-the-minute fight film. The support includes beautiful Lelia Hyams (the only woman), James J. Jeffries, former heavyweight champion of the world Frank Mayo, Texas Kid and Abdul the Turk and others of note in ringside circles. It is a breath-taking drama of the whirlwind adventures of "One Round Hogan," son of an exchampion of the ring. Howard Brethericon, who directed, has succeeded in getting the atmosphere and action of the squared circle vividly. Blue will never more in his element than in this role of a fighting Hogan. The public will remember the other popular matinee idol in "Hogan's Alley." While that picture won unanimous acclaim all over the world, "One Round Hogan" is winning even more enthusiastic commendation. See it by all means.

BELLE THEATRE

"Two Arabian Knights" is finished and picture-goers will soon see Wallace Reid and Boyd Marshall in his first comedy-drama appearance since his performance in "The Valley Boatman." This time the popular young star plays a comedy role, for "Two Arabian Knights" is a war-time story with most of the action the scene of the laughs, left out. "Two Arabian Knights" comes to the Belle Theatre on Thursday.

It was made under the supervision of John W. Considine, Jr., for Cuddo Productions, a new United Artists unit, headed by Howard Hughes. Director Lewis Milestone, who also took "Seven Sinners" only a short time ago with "The Cave Man," has tried to make a swift-moving picture of hilarious incidents into which a first sergeant and a private get when they escape a German prison camp. In this disguise. In spite of their efforts, they land in Arabia and both fall in love with the Sheik's daughter. Then the fun begins.

Complete the picture especially for those who were in the war and those who weren't," says the director smiling. It's a scream."

BEAVERS' TOUR WAS SUCCESSFUL

Arrange With Humber Bay And Fobular Teams For Games Here

Belleville Beavers soft-ball team returned yesterday morning after a tour of Toronto and Western Ontario over the holiday. The local aggregated to win one game, tied one and lost another. While the tour was not a clean-up the Beavers distinguished themselves ably and are doing a great deal to advertise the city in other parts of the Province. The team left early Saturday afternoon, motored directly to Oakwood Stadium, Toronto and after one or two mishaps reached the Park on the scheduled hour. At this park they played the Flanders team and before a large crowd trimmed them by a score of 21-13. Molly Gray pitched splendid ball for the Beavers in this game and she was given sparkling support by her team mates. "Smiler" Melchior was easily the star of this game, spearing several high flies and grabbing a number of hot line-drives that were ticketed for doubles. She played the finest game of her career on the diamond.

On Sunday the Beavers motored to Guelph where they were entertained by the members of the Guelph team. They met the Guelph team at the ball park at 1.30 Monday and after a game which was played in tropical weather the locals lost by a close score of 9-7. The game which was played in less than one hour was a fine exhibition but poor base-running on the part of the Beavers cost them the game. Babe Vincent went the full route for the Beavers and while she has had little practice this season she hurled good ball. Fred Geyer was an interested spectator at this game.

The Beavers were originally scheduled to play the Glen Stewarts at Kew Beach Monday night, but due to heavy traffic the team was delayed and three thousand people waited in vain for their arrival. Finally part of the Glen Stewarts' team left the Park and when the Beavers arrived a team of boys consented to give the Beavers a battle rather than disappoint the spectators. Eight innings were played and the score was tied 36-14 when darkness halted further proceedings. The Beavers were splendidly treated by the Beach League officials and one man, boarded the opinion that the Beavers would be rated as Seniors if playing in Toronto. Gray, Vincent and Jothan divided the pitching duties for the Beavers. John Kerr umpired.

The management of the Beavers arranged for the Humber Bay team to play here on Saturday of this week; on July 21st the Poplars of the Beach League will play here, while on Civic Holiday the Guelph team will play a return game. Other engagements for the summer campaign will be announced shortly. The Bay of Quinte League may start shortly.

LEAFS LOSE TO BISONS BY 7-6

Barrett's Single, Scoring Archdeacon, Ended Game of Homers

Buffalo, July 4.—The Buffalo Bisons in a rousing twelve-inning duel from the league-leading Toronto Maple Leafs here yesterday by a score of 7 to 6. The contest resolved itself into a furore of homers with Toronto getting four circuit blows and Buffalo two. Easterling hit two terrific blasts over the distant fence to help the Leafs in the running while Phillips and Bedore aided four markers.

Rochester, N. Y., July 4.—Two scoring rallies, one that brought Rochester seven runs in the second inning, and another in the sixth that gave Montreal its three runs, provided the only excitement yesterday afternoon as the baseball park as Rochester defeated the Royals, 7-3. The Red Wings and the visitors each amassed a total of six hits, but bases on balls in that second frame were too much for the visitors, who held their second place position by one point.

SportOgramS

By "The Observer"

After occupying first position in the Central Ontario Baseball League for the past three weeks the Belleville Nationals were forced to relinquish the title this week and Oshawa the original leaders assumed the position which they held at the opening of the season. Oshawa is leading Belleville by half a game while Peterboro who had been occupants of the cellar for the past fortnight have bettered their position and are now one-half a game behind the Nationals. The race has tightened considerably with the latest games and it is now a wide-open affair with all five teams still very much in the running.

The Kingston team dropped a double-header to Oshawa, went skidding down the ladder and along with Deloro are at the bottom. The Deloro team lost another game to Peterboro on the holiday and appear to be the weak sister of the league. The Smelters were twice intermediate champions of the Province and were runners-up the same number of times but the pace is too fast and unless the team play better ball they will not alter their position before the end of the current season.

Belleville have now lost three games in succession, two to Peterboro while Walter Schultz and his Oshawa clan took them for a neat trimming last Tuesday. The Nationals appear to be in the throes of a decided slump the pitching has not been up to the mark and generally speaking the team has not been hitting at the rate which they started the season. Gibson and Uzzell the two main-stays of the staff have lost their last two starts and none of the other hurlers on the club are capable of stemming the tide. The Deloro team play here today and the Nationals hope to break the jinx that has been their lot for the past two weeks.

Peterboro's showing in the last week has been the chief topic of conversation in Central League circles. Manager Fred Craig tried several combinations and after fruitless experiments he appears to be headed for the top. The team lost in the last three starts, the pitching has been superb, the Pets are fielding in faultless style and their hitting propensities were apparent by an unknown quantity until last week. Mystery surrounded the failure of the Petes to strike their stride at the opening of the season but the warm weather has worked wonders with "Tweney" Holyman, "Shiner" Johnson, "Max" Swanston, "Hap" Harrison and other seasoned veterans and they are stepping along at a merry clip now.

Oshawa after slipping badly surprised all and sundry by taking a double-header from Kingston on the holiday and apparently the Motors were not discouraged by the double defeat handed them by Belleville a short time ago. The Venerable "Duke" Dainty has a few victories still lingering in his fading Kingingarm.

Jamieson of Kingston who was the only undefeated hurler in the league up until Monday received his first setback at the hands of the Oshawa team. Jamieson was favored by lady luck and is not like ly to be up among the leading hurlers when the official averages are issued. Jack Shea, the Deloro cocktail artist received his first lump at the hands of the Kingston team the other afternoon. Jeff Handill the Peterboro pitcher is leading the parade in the matter of strike-outs having whiffed fifty-five batters thus far. He is the best looking pitcher in the league by a long way.

Belleville was handicapped by having to use several youngsters in Peterboro but with the veterans back in the line-up they have visions of recapturing first place from Oshawa within a week.

The Kingston team have been fad ing badly and just now they are giving the Deloro team a worthy battle for the cellar position.

The disadvantage the Petes have been working under this season through inability to have all their material always available is shown by the fact that in eight games they used four pitchers, two catchers, three first basemen, four second sackers, two shortstops, three third basemen and eight different players in the outfield.—Peterboro Examiner

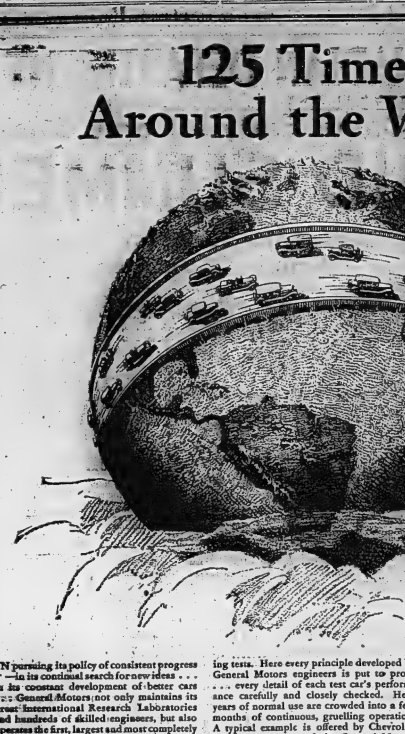

We predict that "Josh" Craig's Peterboro Petes are going to step any time now—the Petes are long overdue and have the stuff to do it with too. If any person will bring real baseball out of a team then "Josh" Craig is the man. Let's go "Josh."—Oshawa Times.

When "Pennie" Mills is handcuffed, the whole National team loses most of its effectiveness, — even if "Whitey" Ross leads the league in filtered sacks!—Wah Gerrow says he is always going to have a derrick on hand to pull "Pennie" out of a batting slump. Three losses in a row —That's terrible, Wah."—Oshawa Times.

In big "Chuck Matthews the Motormen have a real smart hurler and his last two efforts against the Nationals show that he is going to be one tough proposition for any man's club. In McFadden's Central League Derby, to beat—throw 'em in Big Boy—we sure like to see them smoke!—Oshawa Times.

Page Ernie Howsome, some one! —We hear that the Almite Products Plant in Belleville nearly shut down yesterday, when the rotund and jovial president of the Belleville Nationals was missing after his pets had been bumbed off by Peterboro—Don't take things so hard, Ernie.—It won't be long now.—Oshawa Times.

125 Times Around the World

IN pursuing its policy of consistent progress —in its continual search for new ideas . . . in its constant development of better cars . . . General Motors not only maintains its great International Research Laboratories and hundreds of skilled engineers, but also operates the first, largest and most completely equipped automobile proving ground in the world.

Here, on the vast fourteen-hundred-acre tract of the General Motors International Proving Ground, every type of road is duplicated, every condition of driving is reproduced. Here all makes of General Motors cars are constantly being subjected to the most searching tests. Here every principle developed by General Motors engineers is put to proof . . . every detail of each test car's performance carefully and closely checked. Here years of normal use are crowded into a few months of continuous, gruelling operation. A typical example is offered by Chevrolet. Since the opening of the General Motors Proving Ground, Chevrolet cars alone have piled up over three million miles of testing . . . a distance equal to 125 times around the world.

In the countless millions of miles that General Motors cars have covered on the General Motors Proving Ground, there has been one great purpose kept in view . . . to improve, by constant testing, the quality and worth of every General Motors product.

Every Canadian buyer of a General Motors car gets a car built in Canada by Canadians to meet Canadian conditions of road and climate . . . a better car and a greater value because General Motors uses so freely and unsparingly its unequalled facilities for testing and research . . .

FELL INTO SEA FROM AEROPLANE

Capt. Alfred Lowenstein, Belgian Financier, Drops Into Sea

SUICIDE MOTIVE?

Built Up Huge Fortune By Clever Manipulation of Funds

Brussels, July 5.—The minister of Independence Belge says that Capt. Alfred Lowenstein, killed last night in a fall from his private aeroplane, had married Antoinette de Neuville and had lived somewhat luxuriously in which $1,000,000 fund in London.

London, July 5.—Captain Alfred Lowenstein, who was drowned when he fell from his aeroplane over the French this yesterday, was reputed to be the richest man in Europe, his wealth was estimated at only less than that of Henry Ford or the Rockefellers. He controlled steamship lines, was one of the chief shareholders in the Belgian Railway System, owned the Manganese iron Mines in Rhodesia, and financed the recoil of Spain; coal properties in Saar Basin and in the Ruhr and immense rubber plantations in Dutch Guiana.

He was born in 1871 in his father became a small Jewish banker in Brussels. His immense fortune was built up by clever speculations. Adventurer Emulates Feat of Bobby Leach And Mrs. Taylor

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 5.—Jean Lussier, French-Canadian of Springfield, Mass., was successful in negotiating the Horse Shoe Falls in a large rubber ball at 3.40 p.m. yesterday, and came out alive. Lussier appeared none the worse for his hazardous feat.

The ball, which is six feet in diameter, has six piles of lead around the steel frame, and four piles of rubber underneath the steel. Its walls contain thirty-two oxygen compartments and tubes leading into the inner chamber where Lussier sat when the ball was put into the water at the brink of the falls.

Tubes to the outside of the ball provide communication with rescuers when he reached the base of the cataract. William (Red) Hill, who has saved ten persons from drowning and recovered 90 bodies of persons who had death over the brink of the falls, was engaged by Lussier to take him from the river after his descent.

DROVE TOO SLOW ON CITY STREET

Donald Downey Was Holding Up Traffic On Main Thoroughfare

Three cases faced Magistrate Mikel in police court this morning. J. B. Ellis, of Toronto, was charged with speeding and paid a fine of $10 and $5.50 costs.

Nicholas Ryan, of Montreal, was accused before the Cadi of stealing a ride on the Canadian National Railways. He pleaded guilty and the court said was sent to goal for ten days.

Donald Downey, of this city, appeared in the first case of its kind before Magistrate Mikel. Downey was charged with proceeding at a slow rate of speed down Front Street. There have been cases of drivers exceeding the speed limit on the main streets of the city, but this is the first example of somebody being arrested for driving too slowly. It cost Mr. Downey $5 and costs for his little error.

REPORT DISTANCE RECORD BROKEN

Italian Newspapers Proclaim Victory For Native Fliers

REACHED BRAZIL

If Confirmed Record Held By Levine And Chamberlin Shattered

Rome, July 5.—Newspaper Giornal d'Italy, which is sitting in London, says that the Italian trans-Atlantic plane of Capt. Ferrarin and Major Del Prete reached the Brazilian coast today and is going on to Rio de Janeiro.

The newspaper says that at 2.30 p.m. Rome time the fliers were between Pernambuco and Bahia and were five hours away from Rio de Janeiro with about 10,000 litres of gasoline still remaining in the tanks. The newspaper carries the Italian radio report from Rio Janeiro saying that the aviators appeared in the sky there, reading in "Another world's record conquered by Italians" and "Marconi Guglielmo. Delirium seizes another first place to Italy." The newspapers take for granted that the Chamberlin-Levine distance record of 3,900 miles has gone by the board. They figure that the distance from Rome to Brazil are 4,830 miles which would be increased if the plane should go on to Rio Janeiro.

RADIO DEALERS ARE BANQUETED

"Bob And Al" Harvey, Well-Known Artists, Gave Program

Seldom, if ever, has a more successful banquet been given than that held in the De Forest Crosley radio dealers, held in St. Agnes' Manor last night. From its inception shortly after seven until its closing at nine o'clock, not one dull minute was noticeable.

Bob and Al Harvey, the "Battery Boys," entertained the guests, and entertained them in a manner unsurpassed. These two lads are radio artists and broadcast over station CKNC, of Toronto.

There were no speeches during the progress of the dinner, but Mr. Wagstaffe, director of the Manor during his stay, congratulated the dealers on the splendid meal he supplied. The five course dinner was prepared for the delegates, and was enjoyed by all.

There were about forty present at last night's dinner, the remainder returning home late in the afternoon.

2. Concert Waltz "Dolly Varden" (Edwards)

from Julian Edwards Musical Comedy

3. Selection "A Musical Switch" (Eilenberg)

BRING BACK CAR AND OCCUPANTS

Sergt. of Detectives Jack Truaisch Has Trio In Charge

Although they were expected in the city today, Sergeant of Detectives Jack Truaisch and Detective Ray Orr did not return to Belleville by local time with Mr. Springer's car which was stolen some five weeks ago.

Sergeant Truaisch is bringing back with him Harry May, Fred LePage and Edward Syna who were arrested in Windsor while they were in charge of the car. With the men were three women companions.

It is said at first thought that the automobile recovered belonged to Mr. W. H. Ireland, of Trenton, M.P.P., for West Hastings, but it was later discovered that the serial numbers on Mr. Ireland's and Mr. Springer's car had been mixed up. The markers that were found on the car were stolen from a Trenton automobile.

MARSEILLES MOB SEEK BLUEBEARD

Jerome Prat Grins As Police Stave Off Assailants

Marseilles, France, July 5.—An enraged Marseilles mob made an earnest and decided attempt to lynch Jerome Prat, alias Pierre Rey, when he was landed here from the Algiers boat yesterday.

Police had expected the mob, and had taken their prisoner, who is charged with the strangling of three women and the disappearance of 15 others, from the boat at Chastau d'If. A small boat took him to a secluded spot of the port, but his identity became known there too, and it was all the police could do to escort him safely to a cell in the court house.

The demonstration is seen as the result of published reports that Prat may escape the guillotine, inasmuch as French law decrees no one over the age of 70 may be so executed. A similar law will prompt his being transported to the Devil's Island prison, and he, if convicted, he probably will spend the remaining years of his life in a relatively comfortable French jail cell.

Prat refused to be frightened at the mob and grinned while police battered heads with sticks in an effort to save his life. "Kill me right away, but leave me alone," is his imperturbable reply to police attempts to question him regarding his alleged murders.

GASOLINE STATIONS READY FOR BUSINESS

While, so much controversy has raged over the number of new stations being erected in the city, the companies have quietly gone ahead and now almost all are ready for business. The Shell station at Bridge Street West and Coleman streets is open and certainly improves the appearance of the corner. The service station where the old Maple Leaf Hotel formerly stood, will soon be ready for business. While the Imperial Oil Company's station on Front Street will throw open its doors in a few days. The station standing on Dundas Street, opened a few days ago. On the whole, it looks as though the summer in this city will have no trouble in getting the best of service.

SHORES STREWN WITH DEAD FISH

Food Famine In Frontenac County Waters Blamed For Conditions

Kingston, July 5.—The appearance of a big haul of dead fish on the shores of the lake and the rivers in this district the past few days has attracted much attention. Dr. J. J. Cook, health officer of this city, who is an authority on fish, and who is a member of the Ontario Fish and Game Board of Canada, states that the dead fish are menhaden and that there has been a heavy catch of small or insufficient food. Dr. Knight recalls that in 1917 when he attended the old Normal School here this type of fish died in large numbers and covered the shores of the lake.

Menhaden are also called moss-bunker. They were largely used by the Indians and while settlers as a manure for fertilizing the land. They are also used to shad and pickerel and contain much oil. The immense quantities of the dead fish have caused a very unsavory odor along the shores. The menhaden grows to a length of about twelve inches, but most of those that litter the shores now are from three to five inches long.

SWALLOW PLANE VISITOR HERE

Pilot Peterson of Elliott Air Service Advocates Landing Field

Belleville was again visited by another air visitor last Saturday when Pilot S. R. Peterson, of the Jack Elliott Air Service of Hamilton, who had passenger for Montreal on board stopped in for gas and oil. Pilot Peterson was in charge of a Swallow plane, one of the latest biplane models to be brought to this country, and the passenger was a Montreal business man, who does all his travelling by air.

The passenger, speaking to the Press declared that Belleville was a very beautiful city, especially as viewed from the air, but expressed amazement when told that Belleville did not have a suitable airport for ships to land and take off.

On his way back to Hamilton, Pilot Peterson stopped for gas again on Monday morning. He declared that Belleville is a logical place for a good air field, especially because of the fact that we are situated directly on the main line from Toronto to Montreal, which in time will be the main air line of Ontario. The Leavers Brothers have done as much as they are able to, and have made a fair landing field, but with a few hundred dollars the runways could be made much smoother, especially if they were coated with tarvia. Saturday being a holiday the afternoon methods of travelling in Canada and the city would be taken up by many who would be passed up both by rivers, and by manufacturing concerns which use the air mail and express.

TODAYS MARKETS

New York, July 5.—Lowering of the call money rate from six to 5 1-2 per cent, stimulated buying of securities in stock prices which set in early this week. The extreme gains of two to three points showed a much broader movement over a broad list with nearly a score of issues moving into new high records. Trading showed a marked expansion in volume, the sales in the first three hours running short of 1,400,000 shares as contrasted with less than 1,000,000 in corresponding period on Tuesday. Financial circles say Secretary Mellon that the treasury department looked for an increase in revenues after the quarterly settlement has been completed went a long way in restoring confidence. Call money sales called at $6,000,000 in loans but plenty of new money poured into the market. The reports of further improvement in the oil and copper industries were likewise listed in the bullish news to influence the price movement. The sudden death of Alfred Lowenstein, Belgian financier which is reported to have unsettled European finance markets, was without visible effect on stock exchange prices.

From friends, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Brown, Chicago.

PENNY—In memory of Edward Penny our dearly beloved husband and father who passed away two years ago today, July 5th, 1926.

Today recalls sad memories
Of a loved one gone to rest
Those who think of him today,
Are the ones who hadst him est.

Two years have passed since you left us
Sad was the shock that day
Oh how our hearts were broken
When you passed away two years ago today.

Days of sadness still come over us
Secret tears do often flow,
But memory keeps you ever near us,
Though you died two years ago today.

KINGSTON TEAM HERE SATURDAY

Oshawa Now Lead Central League By Half a Game

Belleville team is again close to the top in the Central League race following yesterday's games. While Oshawa were idle the locals were regaining some of the ground lost last week. Deloro who have been utterly routed in the Central League were handed another defeat here while the Kingston team were applying a similar coat of defeat to the Peterboro Club. Belleville now trail Oshawa by one-half a game with a percentage of .583 while Oshawa have an even .600 As a result of Kingston having defeated Peterboro 6-5 the Petes and the Ponies changed places, the Kingston team advancing to third place while Peterboro are holding fourth position. Deloro did not better their position any but rather dropped further into the cellar mire and will now have a hard row to get out. The Petes after winning three games in a row could not stand prosperity and Joe Daley's clan inflicted another defeat.

Saturday's games will have an important bearing on the standing with Kingston making their second appearance of the season at Belleville, while Oshawa will play at Peterboro This is the first Saturday game of the season in Belleville and it will allow the factory workers a chance to see the Nationals in action. The game will start at the usual hour. The present standing of the Central League is as follows:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Oshawa	6	4	.600
Belleville	7	5	.583
Kingston	6	6	.500
Peterboro	5	6	.455
Deloro	3	6	.333

TORONTO TEAM TO PLAY HERE

The soft-ball fans are in for a real treat Saturday evening when the Humber Bay team of the National League, Sunnyside, come here to meet the Beavers.

The Belleville girls are in for a tough argument and if they are good enough to win or make a showing against this clever team, home fans will have a hot to boast about. Allan Meagher saw them play and claims they are a real class. Geo. Gore, the noted pointer, is claimed to be the fastest girl on bases in soft-ball, and will she might having competed for the C.N.E. for years; she plays basket ball and holds the records for hurdles.

Athol Wesley, short stop, is also claimed to be the best short fielder in Toronto. She is a star at hockey and basket-ball, playing hockey for Aura Lee, Canadian champions for this year, and basket-ball with Lakeside, Ontario champions for three years, and runners-up to Edmonton Grads.

Mollie Tyrinell is the Babe Ruth of the team and hits them far and wide.

Mr. L. McDermott of Steel Co. of Canada, Humber Bay, is manager of the girls. They are sure to make a hit here, being made up of a clan of young ladies who are a real credit to the game.

To the Members of the International Association of Machinists
Belleville, Ont.
Gentlemen:

I wish to thank the members of the International Association of Machinists for the chair they presented me with on Monday night, June 18th, and the enjoyable evening which I spent in recognition of my retirement on pension from the C.N.R. after 43 years service in the Company's Employ as Machinist.

I appreciate the gift very much and wish all the members the best of luck.

I remain,
Yours sincerely,
F. Holmes.

DEFIES GOVERNMENT

London, July 5.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Bombay today said the Nationalist agitator Mahatma Gandhi was trying to establish a rival voluntionary regime in Gujerat agricultural region. His organization is defying the government and terrorizing 80,000 villagers in the Bardoli district.

I have more respect for those who work for the improvement of society than those who merely pray for it.—

YANKS HALVED HOLIDAY GAME

Split With Senators—Athletics Took Double-header

Washington, July 5. — Everything was nice along the Potomac yesterday. The Yanks spent a safe and sane Fourth by sharing the spoils of war with the Senators, who won the first game of the holiday carnival, 5—2, and then lost the second pleasantry 5-4, before 22,000 home folks.

And so the first fluff of the baseball season is ended and the Yanks are three games ahead of their nearest competitor. They are not playing at the top of their game; indeed, they are in the depths of a small slump at present, but with Ruth on the warpath streak for one team is a slump for the Hogmen and no rival has appeared his head to challenge their tight clutch on their third straight pennant.

The Senators behind old Samuel Pond Jones won the first game with ease and dispatch and in the second game held the champions to a score less tie for five frames. It was dough by battling for the Senatorial champs but the stubborn resistance took its toll and in the seventh inning Lloyd Andrew Brown, the last southpaw cracked under the strain and the Yanks pushed five runs over in a single inning.

The best hitting of the afternoon-three singles, a double and a triple —was packed into that inning and saved the Yanks from a double squash. Ruth, however, had to be helped out by Wallie Hoyt in the eighth, but Pennock pitched further along and scored two in the ninth, only to fall before Hoyt at the crucial moment.

Samuel P. Jones held the Yanks to seven hits in the corner. Al Shealy was knocked out in two stakes of a jamb's tail, retiring in the first inning with nobody out and three runs in. Caldwell finished up in capital style.

BENTON ADDS TO BIG LIST OF WINS

New York, July 5.—The Giants gained an even break with Brooklyn in the holiday doubleheader here today, the visitors taking the first game 5 to 2, after Dazzy Vance had pitched the Robins to an 8 to 3 victory in the opener. The second game was called with two out in the Giant fifth when darkness and mage it impossible to see the ball.

In the second clash, Larry Benton got credit for his seventeenth scored game and his fourteenth victory against three defeats, although he was called upon to relieve in the ninth. Benton ran his season's record to 150 in 5 innings without relief.

The Phillies pounded Cooney and Cantwell hard in the early innings as what was to have been the first game of a doubleheader at Boston, and won by the score of 10 to 4. Cooney started the game was pounded when a heavy shower made the field too wet for playing.

Cantwell, who relieved Cooney in the third inning, was touched for six runs, but settled down after the fifth and held the Quakers scoreless. Walsh and Taylor divided pitching for the Phillies, retiring in favor of Alexander, although he has been holding on to a lead his mates piled up for him.

The Cincinnati Reds made a clean sweep of the Fourth of July games at Pittsburgh by annexing the afternoon contest in an easy manner, 11 to 3, after blanking the Buccaneers in the morning, 6 to 0.

FOREST FIRES AND WEATHER

"It is recognized by all forest authorities that certain meteorological factors have an important bearing on the occurrence and behavior of forest fires. Lightning is the only meteorological factor which may itself start fires, but the relative humidity of the fires, but precipitation, temperature, air are the weather factors which influence the behavior of all forest fires which start from any cause.

TEAMS EVEN ON DOUBLEHEADERS

International League Teams All Break Even Yesterday

Buffalo, July 5.—The league-leading Toronto Maple Leafs and Buffalo Bisons struggled to a stand-off in morning and afternoon duels here yesterday, the invaders copping the early affair, 7-4, and the Bisons winning the after noon encounter by the same score. The Leafs went on a hitting spree against Curley Ogden, to score all their tallies in the second inning of the morning game.

Twelve men took their swings and five swatted the ball safely, seven runners making the round trip. Doyle and Phillips each drove in a pair of markers with singles. Jess Doyle had one bad inning for the Leafs, also, but allowed only four runs.

Rome runs by Barnet and Moore featured the Bison play. Alexander hit another long homer for the Leafs.

Rochester and Montreal broke even in their International League morning and afternoon Independence Day games. The Royals took the morning encounter, 7-3, and the Red Wings took through in the second contest in grim, 5-4. Art Decatur scored the shut out victory, holding the aspiring Royals to five safe hits in the nine frames, and allowing but one base on balls, while his teammates Bush and Henderson aided to get five runs, while furnishing excellent support.

Jewell, and while he was limited under the pinches. Sergeant Jim Bagby staggered through nine frames for Newark and while he was touched rather hard he managed to stay until the finish. Cliff Lee's home run was the margin of victory.

NATIONALS COME FROM BEHIND TO DEFEAT DELORO SMELTERS 6-4

Gibson Pitched Masterful Game Allowing But 3 Hits

COSTLY ERRORS

Blakely Made Sensational Play To End Yesterday's Game

Belleville Nationals in a listless game yesterday afternoon defeated the Deloro team by the score of 6 to 4. Stan Gibson was on the mound for the Nationals and turned in a fine game, allowing only three hits and issuing one base on balls. Besides this, he helped himself to two nice singles, got a base on balls and filed out once. This is a real afternoon's work for a pitcher and Gibson deserves a great deal of credit.

Deloro used three pitchers, Shea, Jack and Woods, but their first choice was by far the best, as he had held the locals to two runs and five hits, without giving a pass, until taken out in the fifth. Jack, who succeeded him was in for two thirds of an inning and yielded three hits, two of them doubles by W. Mills and Blakely. Agnew let two free tickets to first, Woods let the Belleville squad down with three hits, two passes and hit one man.

Until the seventh, Gibson had a no hit game, but an error by Blakely and one by Scott paved the way for a run in the second. Belleville had only two hits until the fifth, but could score no runs, but they got to Shea for three hits and two runs before he was taken out. Bob Scott had his worst day of the year, as he was given three errors, one in the second when he overthrew first, one in the fifth, and one in the seventh when he made a bad throw to first base. W. Mills had two errors, one an overthrow of second and the other when he dropped a pop foul, the batter getting a hit on the next throwin ball. Blakely was the other offender when he made an overthrow of first base in the second inning.

As usually seems to be the case in the last few games, the Nationals were on case when they needed runs, and this fact alone kept them trailing for four innings. Deloro was guilty of only two misplays in the field, when Scott booted Sonny Green's single all over the place, Sonny trading to second.

Belleville's batting order was changed around for this game, Bob Scott leading the bolt by batting second, going to sixth place. Although Scott went hitless yesterday, he should be a good man to start the fire-works when he gets accustomed to the change. Apparently the change of place had the desired effect on "Micky" Ross, for he hammered out a lovely two bagger and bet was out on Jack's fielder's choice. Hagerman was unlucky in that two drives he was going around first base he stumbled and fell, or he would have had an easy triple. Hagerman's hit was another real nice effort, as it was a hard driven ball and was good for two bases in any league.

Hughes of Deloro had the longest hit of the day when he poled out a three bagger over Green's head in right field. Smart fielding was also that took him there. Then a homer Regan and Quinn made their other two hits, both singles. Regan's going past Blakely a mile a minute. Budreau batted for Scott in the ninth for Belford, and he hit for a hit nearly as good. He placed it between Bob Scott and Blakely the former missing it and the latter making a wonderful stop and throw to first to get his man and to end the game.

Deloro scored their first run in the second frame when Quinn got off to Blakely's error and went to second on the overthrow of first. Regan the next man up got on when Bob Scott overthrew first quinn scoring. Gibson then settled down and struck the next two batters out. With two out in the seventh Regan singled and Hughes tripled, Regan scoring. Jack then hit Ross, but made a bad throw to first and Hughes scored. The inning ended by Bob Scott taking a hot liner from Brown.

Belleville opened up in the fifth, when Ross doubled, Blakely hit to Jack, who threw out Ross at third. Blakely stole second and Hagerman doubled, followed by a single from Gibson to score Hagerman. Jack then went in the box and struck Bob Scott out to end the inning. In the sixth Weir walked. H. Mills sacrificed him to second, W. Mills, doubled, Weir scoring, and Green singled, scoring "Penny". Ross drew a walk, and Blakely doubled, Ross holding third. This ended Jack's stay in the box, and Woods took up the burden. Ross was caught trying to steal home, and Gibson got his second hit. Bob Scott ended it by hitting to the pitcher.

This ended the scoring for Belleville although Harry Mills helped himself to a hit, as did Harry Blakely. W. Mills was hit, but no more runs could be manufactured. Vernon Weir played a fine game at second, accepting no less than nine chances without an error. He had eight assists and one put out.

Credits for the only double play of the afternoon must be given to Deloro, when Ross popped out to Collins, the catcher, who whipped the ball to Hughes on first, catching Sonny Green, who had singled just ahead of Ross, off the bag.

Gibson struck out eight men, walked one and allowed three hits. Shea struck out two, walked none and allowed two hits in 4 and 2-3 innings. Jack struck out one, walked two and allowed three hits in 3-1-3 of one inning. Woods struck out one, walked two, hit one, and allowed three hits in 3 and 2-3 innings.

Hagerman, Ross and Green in the outer gardens for Belleville were not credited with a put out all afternoon, only three balls being hit out of the field. Two of these were over Green's head, while the other was a Texas Leaguer. Although errors were the prominent in the Nationals play, some of the stops and throws they made were pretty to watch, and they will give any team in the league a hard run for the championship.

Ukranki is slated to pitch the next game, which will be of this coming Saturday, when the Kingston Ponies will be with us. Belleville has been quite successful with Kingston this year, and expect to take the game on Saturday. In fact, the only team which the Nationals seem to be unable to defeat is the Peterboro club. But the break is bound to come, and when it does Belleville will be right there to grab as much of it as they can.

A fair sized crowd turned out but it was not as large as the usual Wednesday afternoon one, probably due to the fact that most of the stores stayed open in the afternoon because of the holiday on Monday. Quite a large contingent of Deloro fans came with the team, and made themselves both seen and heard. The best out of town trips the Smelters have the largest following of any team in the league.

TREASURES PLAY HERE ON FRIDAY

Ontarios Meet One of Leading Kingston Teams At Armouries

The Belleville Ontarios after having remained idle for some weeks will continue their summer campaign on Friday night of this week at the armouries lawn when the Kingston Treasures one of the fastest teams in the East will be here. The Ontarios have play ed but one game this year and that with the famed Hamilton Cardinals on the Queen's Birthday. The locals were victorious and have played no fur ther games since. They displayed good form on that occasion and will make any team in this section of the country step to win. The Ontarios were runners-up for the Provincial honors in 1926 and since that time they have played many games and won the majority of them. The Ontarios have been regarded as one of the best teams in Eastern Ontario. They have lost their good pitcher Jean Ramsay, but Hilda Adams has developed into a clever moundsman and will likely do the flinging against the Treasurers. The Bay of Quinte League which has been a past issue this year will be organized and the scheduled games will start next week. The league will be composed of Belleville Beavers, the Ontarios and Napanee.

TILDEN DEFEATED BY FRENCH STAR

"Big Bill" Falls Victim To Rene Lacoste's Superfor Playing

Wimbledon, Eng., July 4.—Rene Lacoste, the French tennis ace, staged an uphill rally today to beat back "Big Bill" Tilden, former American champion and capture a sensational five-set match by scores of 2-6, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3. In the semi-finals of the Wimbledon tennis championships.

Tilden put forth a gallant effort to turn the tables on the French star who has been the American's Nemesis for the past two years, but fell a victim to Lacoste's unfailing steadiness. "Big Bill", taking the first and third sets easily, once held a 4-3 lead in the second set but discarded this advantage and was erratic in the last two sets.

Wicky Ross was robbed of a stolen base and incidentally a run in the sixth when Alex. Kay called the fleet-foot centre fielder out at the plate on a close decision. Hagerman, who was at the bat made the mistake of remaining in the batter's box while Ross came in standing up instead of hitting the dirt and thus left room for some doubt in the umpire's mind.

Vaughan Jack, erstwhile Renfrew, player lasted but one inning on the mound. He was ineffective yesterday and the boys pounced on his offerings.

Penny Mills has more doubles to his credit this season than singles.

Home Demonstration
—no Obligation—

You need not buy a new Orthophonic Victrola in order to hear it at home. Try it first—then purchase if you like it.

After all—the purchase of a new Orthophonic Victrola is a step requiring a little serious thought in various ways. You want to know (not of imagine), how it will appear in your home. You want to hear it in its permanent location. You will probably wish to try it in various locations in your home.

Why—not? It costs you nothing to do all this—to have a wonderful evening of your favorite music.

Home demonstration is part of the service rendered by His Master's Voice dealers. Any responsible person in the community may arrange for such a demonstration.

There is no music so beautifully identical with the original performance as Orthophonic Victrola music. This is procurable through the recently developed, Victor controlled, principle of "Matched Impedance" or "Sukoph Flow of Sound"... Also,—there is no group of artists so varied or so famous as the group that sings for Victor. V. E. Orthophonic records.

Models of the New Orthophonic Victrola are beautifully executed in fine woods, smartly designed, from $140 as low as $115. Obtainable at all His Master's Voice dealers on convenient payments.

"Hec" Gibson strolled himself with his masterful pitching yesterday. It was by long odds his best effort of the season and now that he has regained his winning ways he should climb back to his position as league-leader. Gibson allowed but three hits a fine performance, and these did not come until the closing stages. The boys had visions of a no-hit game but Regan spoiled any possible chances by pulling out a pretty single in the seventh. Jimmy Hughes who followed Regan banged out a triple to deep right field.

He played fine ball yesterday. In the seventh inning Berry made a great catch of Green's long drive that "Penny" was occupying first base. He went back to the base alright and then walked ten feet, to want the Deloro fly-out before he realized his mistake and then he scrambled back for the bag and Hughes nearly tagged him.

Bob Scott had three errors yesterday, but these were excusable in view of the fact that Scott went in to the game a sick boy and should have been home in his bed instead of on the ball diamond.

"Hec" Boudreau, who was always regarded as a smart fielder and a good batter made his appearance yesterday as a pinch-hitter for Scott in the ninth.

Belleville's four runs in the fourth certainly looked good to the dark customers since Deloro had been leading previously and a lost to the dollar champs would have been a severe blow.

Blakely's play to end the game was the feature of the afternoon. Boudreau drove a similar drive at the short-stop and he made a magnificent stop of the ball but he got in a very bad position to throw to first. Like a flash he straightened away and the old spark was in a direct and true line into the waiting first-baseman's hands. It was a great play.

Carl Wood was the best of the three pitchers that Manager Kennedy introduced. Jack, who first started the game could not battle the Nationals with any degree of success.

CHANGE YOR MIND—IT MEANS GROWTH

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH.
Eminent Psychologist.

It is amusing to hear people boast sometimes that they never change their minds.

Assuming that what they say be true, what does it amount to? That they have never grown up!

If a man of forty has not changed his mind since he was eighteen, it's debatable to believe he still thinks like an adolescent.

The person who thinks like an adolescent is one! And if his stick-boomers started even earlier than that—why he may only be a twelve-year old!

The older we grow the more we learn, and anyone who lays claim to possessing a live mind is bound to change his opinions, and judgments about many things.

Now I don't mean to imply that you should change your mind quickly and easily.

When you are sure of your ground stick to the guns by all means, but if you find yourself wrong, if you have made a mistake don't hesitate to turn about, and think and do differently.

Don't be hesitant about changing even if it be the opposite of what you are tenaciously clung to before!

We all want to be consistent, but consistency can be carried so far that it becomes blind resistance to easily fashed fact.

Many a business man has ruined himself because he has persisted in sticking to the ways of doing things that he learned in his youth and has refused to adopt newer methods.

While he nursed his stubbornness and refused to change his mind, his competitor across the street marched along in step with the times and all the business.

The same holds true in other walks of life and in the more personal and intimate relationships.

I have known people to die of disease because they wouldn't call in a doctor. They had always prescribed for themselves and refused to listen to reason. And they certainly paid the price for not changing their minds.

The grocer who is dingy, untidy store—the butcher who won't accept modern refrigeration—the baker who thinks that because his cakes and pies and breads are prepared below stairs, it doesn't matter—the manufacturer who can't see the advantages, even in hardfelt, of having employees work under sanitary conditions—the people who won't read trade journals, or otherwise keep abreast of modern advances—all these are types that won't change their minds.

Would the world be where it is today if people in the past had not changed their minds?

It's easier not to change your mind, of course.

But it pays about as well as sticking to a spavined automobile similar because you believe it ought to last longer.

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Western Standpoint)

Two-color band belts are a new vogue in Paris.

Paris reports that fine hair nets are the foundation of new mesh weather hats, and the net is made to fit exactly to the shape of the head, while on it are laid curls of cock-feathers, and the hat gives the illusion of all over curls.

Tulle and lace frocks with symmetrically clipping points reflect the feminine mode as worn in Paris.

The Henley bathing suit, which is placarded as a replica of Mary Nowlin's model, is of two tones of a single color in jersey, the top of the lighter shade and the insets at the sides piped with the darker tint.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Furs will never be spoiled by moths if, before being put away, they are well sprinkled with pepper, and then laid in layers of ordinary newspaper.

Glass may be frosted by the amateur by first cleaning the glass and then applying a thin coat of white lead mixed with turpentine. Then put lightly all over the glass with a pad of cheesecloth, stippling to suit.

A neat and orderly way to keep old newspapers and magazines so they are ready for your particular junk man to have boxes a little larger than the average folded newspaper. Keep two strings stained at right angles in the box. Lay the accumulated papers in on the strings and when the pile is large enough the strings may be tied. The piles of newspapers will never be disorderly if this method is employed.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

CHAPTER 55
THE PRICE OF SILENCE.

When Gwen called the next day, Celia, clutching her parchment, behind closed doors, lost the unbiquitous Miss Page should be eavesdropping. Gwen threw up her hands despairingly.

"My poor Celia! . . . I don't know what to say, but it seems as if they've trapped you. What can you do? You daren't risk exposure. And these rats' fiends are desperate."

"I know it," agreed Celia hopelessly. "It's not that I mind parting with the money. I have a good deal. I can afford to lose some. But not this blackmail. There's no end to it. They can demand and demand."

"If only we dared appeal to the police—"

"No, no, no! Don't you see, that would only precipitate a scandal! I'm in terror now, and they haven't any legitimate business in town, and you know how queer it is for a group of men of that type to take up residence in a little town, for no reason at all. Suppose they're traced to my house. A slip mess for me to be caught in, harboring a gang of revolutionary politicians."

"I see," agreed Gwen gravely. "Oh, Celia, can't that first deception of yours be responsible for all this."

"I know," wailed Celia. "But what could I do, when it dawned Mother so happy? I was in such terror of losing her. When she told me how happy she was to know I had a husband to look after me, if anything happened to her, and, when the doctor said she'd improved right away, I was ready to do anything to carry through the deception. How was I to know that this odious Falconer would turn up?"

"You couldn't know, of course. You did it all because of your devotion to your mother. You're a wonderful daughter, Celia."

"But suppose the whole wretched story does come out? Then what? It will be a million times worse than if I'd told the truth in the first place."

Gwen looked grave.

"It mustn't come out. You've gone this far. You've got to carry it through somehow. It's too late . . . now up the sponge now. . . . But listen, Celia. I'm afraid that I too am the bearer of bad tidings. It hurts me like the dickens to tell you this, but you should know. . . . People are talking, thanks to your Miss Page, I'm afraid. The story is that you met a strange man in that little park near the factory. Several women saw you there. Of course they were tipped off and went with that purpose in mind. It was Mr. Annesley, wasn't it?"

"They came in search of dogwood," she laughed drearily.

"They came in search of a nice fresh scandal," remarked Gwen. "And the talk is that your marriage is going to pieces. Of course, they all are taking Falconer's part. He is attractive, if you like that bold, swaggering type—as most women do. They're saying that, once you've been mixed up in a scandal, you'll do the same thing over until Doom's day. You know the sort of talk. I could kill them all. You know how I feel about it, Celia. I loathe gossip, but I had to tell you, so you'd be prepared."

"There's Annesley."

Celia made a despairing gesture.

"He couldn't help me now. No, I've got to play this thing out. Heaven knows how it will end, but I must go through with it."

When she went up-stairs to her mother, after Gwen had gone, Mrs. Drew asked:

"Who are the men who come here in the evening to see Richard? Miss Page tells me that he entertains guests in the old laboratory almost every night. . . . Why don't you have them in the living-room, Celia? It's so much more comfortable."

"They come on business, Mother, dear. I think they prefer the laboratory."

Mrs. Drew sighed.

"Poor dear Richard. He gets so little pleasure, shut up in the house with an invalid. I'd hoped he'd make some acquaintances. . . . And, Celia, don't like to criticize you, when you're so sweet and thoughtful with me, but I do think you're a little cold to Richard."

"Dick isn't much on sentiment," answered Celia, examining the patient's fever chart with absorption.

"My dear, if you could see the way he looks at you, when you're not looking his way! How can you say such a thing!"

Celia reached her decision that afternoon mail was brought to the hall table. She glanced at it, half-hoping for a note from Annesley. Then she remembered that he was not the sort who would write to another man's wife.

In the evening she went to the laboratory, where the men met with Falconer. She gave them the contents of her handbag.

"There . . . that's all!" she said to Falconer. He bent over her hand. The others kissed it. She shrank from them and dashed up-stairs.

There was only one thing to be thankful for in the whole wretched business. Falconer's new interest, the call of adventure and danger—had, apparently, made him forget his determination to marry her, to have his answer within a week.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl fifteen years of age. I have been in love with a young man one year my senior. Sometimes he is as nice as he can be and at other times he treats me shabbily.

Recently I met another young man two years my senior. I love him very much and he loves me. Since I have been keeping dates with this young man my other friend has begun to treat me nicely at all times, but I do not love him. Please give me some advice.

BROWN EYES.

BROWN EYES: Since you are not engaged to the first young man you aren't pledged in any way to continue your friendship with him. If you wish, accept his invitations—and if you would rather not, merely ignore them. He has earned your displeasure by his inconsiderate treatment of you.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

"Give not riches to your inflamed passions."

AMUNDSEN'S RECORD.

Roald Amundsen, Norwegian, at home or, a ship of the sea or on his native skis behind a dog sled, meets difficulties in the modern craft of the air when he ventures into the icy fastnesses with which he is so familiar. Once he scorned the old and tried methods. Amundsen's first attempt to fly over the North Pole failed and he was believed for a considerable time to have perished. He turned up later, however, safe and sound, and tried to make his flight over the Pole that Robert E. Peary had discovered in 1909 two feet. Finally, Amundsen gave forth to rescue Nobile and become best himself, and in turn men from the ranks start out to search for him. The Arctic is as forbidding as ever, despite man's great inventions.

Amundsen is not an old man, having been born in 1872, and he is strong and sinewy for his 56 years. The spy of a ship-owner, he studied medicine as a youth, but the sea called him and he could not resist. In 1901, he joined an exploratory expedition to the Arctic and, shortly after he commanded a party on the steamship Gjoa, which sailed from sea to sea, 1903-06, accomplishing the feat of passing through the Northwest Passage, which had been searched for by Englishmen, who was making his way to the Antarctic. Amundsen changed his mind and headed south, and on Christmas in 1911, he reached the South Pole, where he hoisted his country's flag, erected a tent, and took observations for a couple of days. Then he held his party, with their dogs, made a comparatively easy return, reaching the North Dakota Post, and his companions at, no great distance, although both parties were unaware of the fact. Thirty-two days after Amundsen had reached the Pole, Scott arrived there and discovered Amundsen's tent. It was a blow to the party that they had lost by only a month, but they courageously started on the return journey, which was to end in disaster in a terrible Antarctic storm. Amundsen was keenly disappointed, when he learned of Scott's loss, becoming that he had passed so near the struggling party while in a position to render aid in the matter of provisions and fuel, which the others so desperately needed. He is an old sled very hardy campaigner, and there is still hope of his safe return from a radio expedition which he did undertake and undertook unfortunately.

BRITAIN PAYS MOST OF THE COST OF WAR

A few days ago a number of allied countries reached an aggregate of almost $61,000,000. This amount represented the annual payments of several debtor countries, Britain leading the list with $27,200,000. France paying $11,256,000, Italy $5,000,000, Belgium $3,375,000, while a number of lesser countries paid a total of $3,722,-000.

This record shows that has often been noted in the past that Britain is bearing the lion's share of the financial burdens of the war, and is paying more than two-thirds of the whole war debt of the world to the United States. All the same time it will be recalled that Britain, in the first three years of the war, did practically all the financing for the allied countries, but is not yet receiving payments on anything like the scale on which she is compelled to pay to the United States.

There are growing indications that a large mass of public opinion in the United States is not taking kindly to that country's attitude towards its debtors. The United States has to depend to a large extent on foreign trade to take care of its surplus products, but, while foreign countries are paying through the nose to meet the demands of United States treasury, they cannot be expected to have surplus money left over to buy the products of that country. Paying these countries of Europe poor, is keeping them from reaching the stage of prosperity which is so desirable if foreign markets for American products are to be maintained. Some day, this will be fully realized, and there will be a strong reaction against the shylock-like attitude of the present United States administration.

THE FONT OF BEAUTY

Because of thee the star-crowned dome of night,
Adds love and rapture to infinity;
Wherefore should sunsets burn, except that we
Drain to our souls the splendors of their flight?
With thee shall I tread Andes of delight,
Beneath my feet as snow-hills, till I see
That God Himself is sure because of thee,
And thou and I dear children in His sight.

Thy hands have strewn the roses of the dawn;
Thy face repays for every flower that dies;
Thy whisper is the song Astarte sings!
Thy grace hath caught its silence from the fanes;
Thy heart hath stolen starlight from the skies;
Thy spirit is the wind of Beauty's wings!

"I should like very much to see my father's record. He was in the class of '98, announced the new student.

"I shall be glad to look up the record," replied the officer. "Have you any special reason for consulting it?"

"Well," answered the youth, "dad has warned me again not to disgrace him, and I wish to see how just far I can go.'

Just Stories

Miss Amelia Earhart, the woman flier, is essentially feminine. Slight of build, with wavy fluffy hair and serene eyes and a pale complexion, unusual in view of her outdoor life, she nevertheless is an athletic type, fond of swimming and fencing, but golf and tennis only to a degree. Her mother and a younger sister, Muriel, live in Medford, a suburb north of Boston. Miss Earhart since she became a full-time social worker resides her home at the Denison House in that city. Her departure from Boston for Trepassey Bay was marked by the announcement of her engagement to Samuel Chapman, of Marblehead, an electrical heating expert.

The second son from Byron, the Irish-American writer recently killed in Ireland, came suddenly in the short story field after he had worked as an assistant on the staff of the Century Dictionary. His first successful novel was "Messer Marco Polo," published in 1921 and followed by "Blind Raftery," "Hangman's House," "Brother Saul" and others. Byron was scheduled to visit the United States and Canada in November for a lecture tour, a visit which he planned some time ago but postponed to await the publication of "Hangman's House," by the Century Company, his publishers.

Lloyd George and his daughter, Megan Lloyd George, are inseparable. Lloyd George was telling her not so long ago in a certain spot in Wales that in his youth he had climbed a tree beneath which he and she were standing. "You couldn't do that as a child do," with dancing and challenging eyes, "Betchu!" said he, with the self-confidence which he has passed on to his daughter. And he did.

PLUMER RETIRES AFTER DISPUTE

Sir John Robert Chancellor Mentioned As New Governor of Rhodesia

London, July 4 (C.P.)—The Manchester Guardian says today that it is reported that Col. Sir John Robert Chancellor, governor of Southern Rhodesia since 1923, will be appointed High Commissioner for Britain in Palestine. The present High Commissioner Lord Plumer, is retiring because of a dispute over whether the expenses of trans-Jordania forces should be borne by the Imperial Government of Palestine.

If this is correct the Guardian continues, it means that an interesting plan for the appointment of General Jan Smuts of South Africa has failed The offer was made to General Smuts by the Government some weeks ago and it was understood the former South African Premier had accepted it.

LIBERALS HOLD LARGE PICNIC

Grits of West Peterboro Assembled For Day's Sail On River

Peterboro, July 7.—The Liberals of West Peterboro held their annual picnic this year in the form of a delightful sail down the river Wednesday on the steamer Stoney Lake, returning to Wallace's Point for supper, games and speeches. An ideal day, ideal crowd, and ideal trip, with no accidents to spoil the day,made it one of those delightful trips that have ever been held. The number of women on board seemed to indicate that women have a real live interest in politics, and that the Liberal women have a live organization.

The refreshment booth did a thriving business under the successful management of the Refreshment Committee of the Women's Liberal Association. Three gallons of ice-cream disappeared on the trip down, not to say of the amount sold on the return trip. The boat travelled a little below Campbellford, down on the river, then returned to Wallace's Point. The keen air and sail had put everyone's appetite on edge, and it was decided that all preliminaries be dispensed with and games begun until the dinner call. ing had been satisfied. A long table covered with white and trimmed with red, white and blue runners, made a perfect setting.

FAMILY HOLDS BIG RE-UNION

Peterboro, July 7.—About 1821 attbrothers and one sister, (Johnston) from the north of Ireland settled in the Townships of Cavan and Hope. About 1830 a father with seven sons and two daughters (Johnston) settled in the Township of Belmont. The two families have a common history, being descended from a Scottish immigration from the North of Ireland about 1640. These families have become connected through inter-marriage. A re-union was held of both families at Cavan on July 2nd, 1928, there being nearly 400 present, coming from all parts of Ontario, Montreal and a number from the United States. A very pleasant time was spent. Dinner and tea was served, a fine program of games for the young and old, and speeches, and generally a very pleasant time, old acquaintances being renewed and new acquaintances being made. The total membership of these families today pro bably would run into the thousands.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Toronto (6), July 2nd

The Editor of Belleville Intelligencer
Dear Sir,—

A copy of your issue of June 5th has recently come to me in which you give a brief outline, editorially, of the pages relating to the titles "K. C." and "Q. C." In this you state that "the first to receive this title in Ontario (then Upper Canada) was Sir Allan MacNab, Attorney General, etc."

In the interests of historical accuracy may I ask space for a correction of this statement, as Sir Allan was never Premier. That title, coming into use some years after his death. According to the History published by Mr. J. R. Roberts,as he was Speaker of the Legislative Assembly from 1837 to 1841 and 1844 to 1848. Then, in 1852, he was chosen to be the first Speaker in the Legislative Council.

According to the Canadian Almanacs of that period, he also held office as Minister of Agriculture, of Upper Canada in 1856 and he had the title of President of Council in both 1855 and 1856. This title, however, is not a synonym to that of Premier as, during the term of its use, it indicated the official representative of the Lieutenant-Governor.

I notice, too, that you spell his name as "McNab" whereas his autographs of which some are still to be seen in the Museum in Dundurn Castle, Hamilton, his residence for many years, are all spelled MacNab. It is true that his baptismal entry, in St. Mark's Church at Niagara on the Lake, is spelled McNabb (according to the above mentioned history) but Sir Allan changed it, for reasons not recorded.

Yours faithfully,
N. W. J. HAYDON.

CLOSING MEETING JOHN STREET W.M.S

The closing meeting of the W. M. S. of John Street United Church was held in the lecture room on Wednesday afternoon, July 4th. The president, Mrs. Cook occupied the chair and opened the meeting with hymn, "Wonderful Words of Life." Scripture reading from the 15th chapter of John and prayer. After the usual roll call the minutes of the June meeting were read and reports given by the secretary-treasurer. Secretary of Literature and other various reports after the singing of hymn, "Breathe on Me Breath of God." Davis gave a fine report of the third annual meeting of the Bay of Quinte Conference. Miss Stark Demlie followed with a solo, "Drowsing and Belging," which all enjoyed. Mrs. Cook then gave a good reading on "Why We Should be Interested in the Missionary Society," after which the meeting was closed by repeating the Lords Prayer in unison.

SPREAD RECREATION OVER ENTIRE WEEK

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH,
Eminent Psychologist.

Everyone should exercise above all things. Not only the body, but the mind as well, requires exercise.

But exercise must be planned and thought out, if it is to be of value.

Above all, exercise must not be excessive.

Leading a sedentary life indoors, in an office all week, they think that by playing 36 holes of golf on Saturday afternoon or Sunday, or walking twenty miles, or playing ball all day, that they are counteracting the bad effects of six days of indoor work.

On the contrary! That sort of exercise is like whipping up a tired horse!

It is just as absurd to do all one's exercising in a single day as it would be to do all our eating in one day.

What we should aim for is a well-rounded life! Exercise every day—not once a week. Plan each day so that you will get in all the elements of a well-rounded life in twenty-four hours.

Do everything in moderation, each day and your entire week, entire month entire life will also be symmetric.

Eight hours for work, eight hours for play, and eight hours [illegible] an old, but most sensible program to follow!

And when you work, work hard. When you play, play with interest and zest. That you will sleep "hard" as a result goes without saying.

Exercise is part of play and two hours of it each day for physical exercise is plenty.

Spend another two hours in reading—one of these in serious reading.

Spend two hours in the pursuit of a hobby—supplying you really like to do, even if it is so harmless a pastime as stamp-collecting.

Spend the remaining two hours of your eight devoted to play, to the pursuit of pleasure—music, motion pictures, dancing, the theatres, etc.

I have stressed the exercise element in a well-rounded life because excesses have led often to grave results while avoidance of excesses has meant so much in health, success and happiness.

It is comparatively easy to spend twenty-four hours sensibly if we but give the matter a little sober thought. Anyone can do it.

Nervous conditions may follow in the wake of an disappointed day. Indeed, they are a common aftermath.

Since we accomplish less in a day that is poorly planned, or not planned at all, we feel discontented, dissatisfied and generally upset.

Many persons, in consequence, begin to feel that they are failures, that their will is weak, that they couldn't succeed any more than they had hoped they would.

How quickly one dismaying thought tumbles over another is amazing.

Once you lose your grip and become desultory in your daily habits it is easy to slip far and fast.

But you can help yourself. Plan your time.

Spend each of your twenty-four hours as though each were your last dollar.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

Recently a young man came to our town where I was entertaining. He called at the place of business where I am employed, sometimes three or four times a week.

He has a very good education, has a delightful disposition. Several times he has mentioned "the dreariness" he finds in this town, but that he came from a much larger city, I suppose our social life seems very unusual to him.

Would it be correct to ask this young man to my home for an evening? Or to ask him to call next Sunday and then go for a walk. POLLY PATSY.

POLLY PATSY: I assume from your letter that this young man has been introduced to you through the medium of your business connections, Polly, and therefore, I think it would be a mighty nice thing to invite him to your home. Perhaps he can, he can. So why not try sometime when he is beginning to run out of ideas for a Sunday supper, or Sunday afternoon? You could go for a walk, then invite him home to supper. That would lead to a pleasant acquaintance. I do not advocate the forming of promiscuous acquaintances, which is so easily done in a business office. However, if the young man has your stamp of approval of your employer and you have been introduced to him, it might make a pleasant friendship.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

Do you believe in what is called "petting?" The other evening I had a date with a boy, whom I like very much. He became angry at me, when I did not approve of him "petting" me. Do you think that when a boy and girl love each other that "petting" is wrong? I told him just exactly what I thought, but he did not seem to think the way I did.

Can you tell me how I can find out whether he really does like me or not? BRUNETTE.

BRUNETTE: Positively, NO I do not approve of petting, and if the young man disapproves of it, I should just drop him, my dear. Sometimes a man will try a girl by suggesting a "petting party." If the girl is wise, she will refuse. Obviously he does not care as much for her as he says he should care for you when he sulks at your refusal to pet, but, don't ever weaken in your stand, my dear. The only way I know that you can find out whether he really cares or not is how he acts toward you in the future. If you girls and boys could only read some of the letters I have received telling of the consequences of "petting" you'd put the word out of your mind forever. Clean friendship, good comradeship and high ideals bring so much greater happiness to us all, my dear, and these are the things for you to cultivate.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I'm going to a dance with another couple. My sister is our chaperon. Do you think it would be all right if I asked the boy I am going with to come to our home prior? KIDS.

KIDS: I think it would be very nice to ask the young man to your home, my dear, and I hope you both have a very happy time.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl sixteen years of age. I have often gone out with boys unknown to my mother, and as I do not feel safe I am asking your advice. Please tell me about the right age for a girl to keep company. BLUE EYES.

BLUE EYES: I don't think you should go out with boys if your mother doesn't know of it, Blue Eyes. Tell her, and ask her permission to invite the boys and girls to your home. The right age you ask for is a hard question, for there isn't any such thing. When a mother feels that her daughter is old enough to have men friends, is the only answer I can give you. Some girls by nature are more mature and older for their years than others, so don't you see how impossible it is to give a definite age?

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Turquoise blue is the rage this summer.

Beige, lime, peach, raspberry pink, powder and hydrangea blue, sweet pea, mauve and soft primrose are the pastel tints the favorite shades this season in London for debutantes' dresses.

With their old felt hats!" is answered by a New York reporter who found as old clothes exchange where among the things bought and sold are men's old felt hats, which are later remodeled and converted into felt hats for women.

Both red and blue are to be particularly good fall shades and the former includes a deep garnet, a henna and rust, and a deep mahogany shade that is a compromise between the deep red and rust shades.

When Lady Patricia Herbert weds the Hon. W. E. Smith at St. Margaret's, Westminster, July 18, there are to be 12 or 13 bridesmaids—young children, in delphinium blue pompons with touches of primrose. St. Margaret's is to be decorated with lilies and blue delphiniums.

Martha Calliot expects to make quite a few toques combining felt with a plain trimming that shades from dark to light tones. She also uses for the beginning of the season a special plush called "satin Mousse", of which the hairs are slightly shaved.

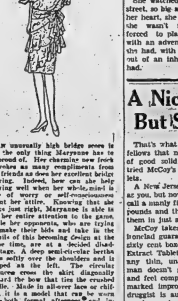

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Remove onion and fish odors by pouring a little vinegar into the hot frying pan directly after the food is removed.

If you can't afford cream, you can get the same effect by mixing the milk and serving it hot with your cereals or coffee.

For a very delicate fabric which will not stand starch, melt some powdered sugar in boiling water and add it to the rinsing water.

Broiled chops and tomatoes can be done together on the broiler. If a large enough for the tomatoes can be baked in the oven with the potatoes and the chops pan-broiled or griddle-broiled. You have probably seen the griddles with the grooves around the edge into which the fat from meat runs as it cooks, leaving the part dry. This is fine for broiling on top of the stove.

An unusually high bridge nose is not the only thing Maryanne has to be proud of. Her feminine nose [illegible] provokes as many compliments from her friends as does her excellent bridge playing. Indeed, her can she help playing well when her whole face is free of worry or self-consciousness about her looks? Knowing that she looks just right, Maryanne is able to put her entire attention to the game, while her opponents, who are trying to make their faces look right to the details of this becoming design at the same time, are at a decided disadvantage. A deep semi-circular bertha falls softly over the shoulders and is draped as the left. The circular flounce over the skirt falls equally toward the bow that ties the crushed girdle. Made in all-over lace or chiffon, it is a model that can be worn for both formal [illegible] informal evening occasions. (Copyright, 1928, by Reinried) 6

By Mildred Barbour

Chapter 56.

Celia's tears were realized. It seemed to her that she had no fresh day brought new demands on her purse. She was between two fires—several fires, in fact. There, just always Falconer reviled—sometimes open — threatened her refusal to aid the revolutionary plotters would result in his revealing the falseness of the story she had told him—a falsehood for the sake of her mother's peace of mind. Then was also the wild hope that, in meeting his financial demands, she would escape his proposal of marriage.

He had been quite open. "You know if you refuse to aid me we can skip, can disappear, without a word, and leave you to explain the situation to your mother and your friends. How would you manage to do that?"

Celia realized again how futile it was to [illegible]

Annesley wrote to her once. He said:

"I happen to know that your expenditures of late have reached alarming proportions. Have you taken my warning about Falconer to heart? Are you doing all this of your own free will, or is he threatening you in some way? In spite of the fact that he is your fiancé, I am sure you have confessed that you love him, my fingers fairly itch to get at his throat. Write me, if you possibly can."

Celia cried a little over the letter. It only she dared write him. Sometimes the temptation to do so seemed [illegible] strong to resist. But, when she saw Falconer at her mother's bedside with the invalid regarding him fondly, calling him "my son", her head failed her. Better suffer then to do anything that would hurt her mother. She was young and strong. She supposed she could weather the storm. People didn't die of mental troubles and worries.

Falconer said one day, when she was standing with horror in the face of her finances: "Never mind. We may soon have enough. Don't look so terrified the painful information that Manuel is not as far away as I'd like him to be—for my safety and comfort—"

Wild hope filled Celia's heart, only to be followed by apprehension. If Falconer went, what then? What could she tell her mother?

To make matters worse, she encountered Tom Harrington on the street one day. He joined her, looking rather wretched.

"Celia," he said, "I'm a beast to ask this, with you so very right to do anything upon, but are you happy?"

Why do you ask?" she answered, yearning to tell him the truth.

"Because I've heard rumors. I've been worried about you. Falconer makes you happy?"

She answered: "What is not a question for you to ask, Tom. As you say, you long ago forfeited all right to intervene in my affairs."

He walked with her down the street. They passed Lucien Bonnet, who glared toward Tom was venomous. Had Larry heard, too? Did he believe that she was neglecting her betrothed for an old suitor who had once jilted her?

She said to Tom: "Why should you? better leave me now? I'm too much under discussion to wish to add fuel to the flames."

She watched him striding down the street, so big and handsome. With all her heart, she wanted to tell him that she wasn't married, that she was forced to play a perpetual game with an adventurer who believed that his hold with her charm, tricked him out of an inheritance he might have had.

SINCLAIR'S

Nightly the conspirators gathered in the laboratory. Nightly Celia sat upstairs with her mother, trying to be gay and self-possessed, while she listened to each noises below stairs, expecting at any moment the ring of the door-bell that might mean the police and disgrace.

Miss Page said one night: "Husbands are so selfish, aren't they, Mrs. Falconer? They like to have themselves, if masculine evenings, and they don't seem to care how bored their wives are with staying at home."

"That's true, Celia, you and Richard go out so little now. It's not wise to settle down quickly when one is young."

Celia grew [illegible] to her feet. "Dick has so much business to transact just now, darling. You see, staying here, for your sake, makes it difficult for him."

"Dear Richard! A sor-in-law in a million!" sighed Mrs. Drew.

"Of course, it's none of my business, Mrs. Falconer, but I think you ought to know that your husband isn't always engaged with his affairs. Cook tells me she finds fire sandwiches almost every night, and, in the morning, Anna says the place is littered with cards and poker-chips. I'm a woman like yourself, and I know I should appreciate it, if any one told me that my husband was being a little—er—gay."

JAM AND JELLY MAKING
By Anna Brewster

At this season of the year when the good housewife's thoughts naturally turn to the making of her winter's supply of Jams and Jellies, it is not only interesting but instructive to hear what the experts have to say on this subject.

Miss Flint, who is Consultant in Home Economics and Editor, Department of Foods and Household Manager of Modern Miss Magazine is an authority on the making of Jams and Jellies.

She says "One of the many advantages in using Concentrated Fruit Pectin is that results are certain and failures that they are sure to turn our rich. Even if you have never before in your life made a glass of jam or jelly you cannot fail. With your first attempt you become an expert. You need no previous experience. Simply follow directions.

"To be able to make Jams and Jellies" continues Miss Flint "by boiling the fruit or fruit Juice one or two min utes instead of the usual 20 to 25 minutes means a saving of the best flavor, bottle's time and attention, to say both of fruit and no waste from failures!"

These two opinions should convert the most skeptical housewife as to the advantages of the modern short boil method of making Jams and Jellies. Each year I find the number of really good cooks who are adopting this is increasing rapidly. Not only is the number increasing, but I also find that where formerly Concentrated Fruit Pectin was used for only one or two fruits which were extremely hard to Jell, it is now used for all fruits throughout the season.

Miss Alice Bradley, who is Principal of Farmer's School of Cookery and Cooking Editor of Woman's Home Companion, is without doubt one of the best known authorities on this question.

"One trial" says Miss Bradley "will convince you that the best way to make Jams and Jellies is with the use of Concentrated Fruit Pectin. I strongly advise all housewives to make all their Jams and Jellies this way because it's easier—Takes only one min

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Like fragile ice swift passes away in time.
—OVID.

THOSE THESPIANS

A savings bank in the Broadway theatre belt recently announced that more than 1,000 actors and actresses have substantial deposits to their credit. There are, generally speaking, two legends concerning the people of the theatre. One pictures them as profligate spenders who never have any money, the other endows them with fabulous salaries which they are totally unable to squander because of the size. Both legends have a slight basis of truth. The average actor, we think, is a bit careless with his means and a few performers enjoy very fat incomes. But like manager of the particular bank to which we have had reference declares that the great rank and file of theatre folk have learned by bitter experience the moral of the rainy day. Saving a few pennies is more than matter of thrift with them it is an utter necessity. The lean seasons are as frequent as the fat seasons in the stage world. Even the highbrows have fallen and continue to fall. It is not uncommon for an entire season to find a very important performer without a chance to work. The right show doesn't come along or the show fails or something else happens—and the income is slim. Then there are those thousands who make but medium salaries when they do get work. Often they are on a payroll but twenty weeks or so out of the year. They have to save. They have to learn the value of money. No profession teaches thrifter lessons and none is less been demonstrated, is quite so charitable. Few are the performers who escape being called upon many times a year to contribute to comrades who have come upon evil days. Broadway, we read, is often linked with "have beens", quite willing to accept a dime or cup of coffee. They belong to the "never-never" brigade which, in the face of dire necessity, will sell of fat engagements that wait just around the corner; will be like spielmeier and casually comment on a visit to David Belasco that is to be made on the morrow. All their bright prospects are built upon to-morrows that never come. It is slight wonder then that faced daily with such pictures the sensible fears of the theatre store away their dollars.

EVER-PRESENT GUN

The revolver keeps on making its appearances in Ontario.

In Toronto on June 23 P. C. Doolittle, although not on duty at the time, went to investigate a night row. He was badly beaten by a couple of rough-necks who afterward hurried away. A search showed a loaded revolver on the lawn near where the fracas took place.

On June 28 Glen Davis was in court in St. Thomas, he had a revolver in his possession, and he also had in his room 50 rounds of ammunition.

On June 30 P. C. Crawford, a young officer on the Toronto police force chased an automobile which had been stolen, arrested three men and found three guns and a goodly supply of ammunition in the car.

If a person watches the news closely it is possible to find such cases in some part of the province almost every day in the week.

They do not seem to excite any unusual interest until some person gets a finger on the trigger and starts shooting, then of course, there is a hue and cry about the deadly revolver in the land, and a coroner's jury is almost certain to make mention of the fact and add a clause to the effect that steps should be taken to do away with the revolver menace.

But in between these high and alarming spells the revolver business seems to go on just about as usual.

There is no determined effort being made to rid the province of the guns. Things are at liberty to go about and make their plans, and they are fairly certain that no person is going to step in and demand to know what business they have of being in possession of a gun and a supply of deadly bullets.

It is quite past our understanding, we admit.

FEWER LEAVING.

The United States consulate in London, Ontario, reports a decided decrease in the number of Canadians who are making application for permission to enter the United States to make their home there. A few months ago, it was announced that there was a waiting list of 1200 people, waiting their turn, as it were, to enter the promised land. This list, however, has dwindled down to 400 as a result of the others having decided that the land of promise does not look quite so promising now, and that they would rather stay in Canada.

This is only the natural consequence of the trend of business and industry in the two countries. While there was depression in Canada and fairly good business prospects in the United States there was a great rush of people going south. But today conditions are reversed. All reports show that industry in the United States is not as active as it was a year or two ago. There are great unemployment problems, and Canadians have not the opportunities of finding work there such as existed two or three years ago. On the other hand, Canadian conditions have improved, and even United States industrial experts look to this country to lead the way in industrial prosperity for the next few years. This being so, it is only natural that Canadians should desire to stay in their own land rather than go south, where there is great uncertainty about employment prospects.

It would not be possible to entirely eliminate the inter-change of people between Canada and the United States. There will always be those who, for personal or family reasons, will leave this country to cross the border. But it is encouraging to note that the number going south is growing less, and particularly that many who applied for admission to the United States have now decided that they are better off in Canada.

RESURRECTION

Now, I said, that I am done
Even with sorrow—
Never any more yesterday nor today,
Never to-morrow;
Now that the worm, resentment,
Hath eaten my heart out wholly,
I will stretch out in its empty husk,
I solely,
Uncompanioned by grief or hope or wonder,
Knowing life only as the word
Death pronounces.
Crushing its dry husk under.

Here in my eyeless void,
Emptied even of my pulse's stirring,
Darkling I heard
Earth's timeless axles whirring,
From seas unreckonned
The foam-slavered sea pack
Yelp on the moon's cold traces;
Low in their places,
I that was done with wonder
Heard the unhurrying grasses
Lisping their leaves asunder.

Treasure from the Tropics

Nature endowed many districts with petroleum containing a high gasoline content. Such oil fields are common. But nature was less generous in providing raw materials for motor oil manufacture. In one oil field she stored a crude petroleum ideal for the requirements of a fine motor oil.

That field is in Peru, and the virtues of its yield were discovered by IMPERIAL OIL scientists. Today, IMPERIAL OIL controls the Peruvian field, and alone has access to its rich crude. Because Marvelube is made from Peruvian crude, it is an inherently better oil that more fully meets the requirements of complete and efficient lubrication under all conditions of motor operation.

Back of Marvelube are the experience, resources and integrity of IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED, for forty-seven years Canada's largest refiners of petroleum products.

BEYOND UNDERSTANDING

JAMIESON CHOICE AGAINST LOCALS

Kingston Club Will Be Here For Scheduled Game Tomorrow

Kingston Purples will be the Saturday attraction at the Belleville Ball park this week and a hot argument is in store for the fans who take a trip over to the Exhibition Grounds tomorrow. The nationals defeated the Kingston team in the only game played here this year between these two teams, but the Chan Daley had sweet revenge on June 3rd when the railroaders were forced to take the short end of the count. "Tammy" Jamieson who has been one of Kingston's leading hurlers will be the choice against the locals and Jamieson has given a good account of himself everytime out this year. Belleville fans will see two of the leading sluggers in action here in the persons of George Ada and Del Cherry. The hitter drove out a home run in the game played Belleville on Wednesday and Ada was the leading hitter in the Kitchener team last year. Ada also has uncovered a new pitcher in Charlie Pournier who limited Peterboro to four runs.

Manager Gerow has two pitchers in whom he can rely, Gibson and Stroobel and the latter may be handed the assignment since Gibson pitched on Wednesday. Oshawa has been a seventeen point lead and the Petes may take a fall out of the Motors tomorrow. If Belleville and Peterboro win, the Nationals will be back in first place once again. The Kingston game is the last hitting club in the Central League and all they need is steady pitching. Geo. Sullivan and Ken Colling will officiate tomorrow.

SEVEN KILLED IN BUS ACCIDENT

Tlaxcala, Mexico, July 5.—Seven persons, including a baby, were killed, when a crowded bus crashed against a tree last night on the highway between Apizaco and Tlaxcala. Ten persons were seriously injured.

SportOgramS

By "The Observer"

Those who attempt to choose the ultimate winner in the Central Ontario Baseball League on the past form of the teams are only making trouble for themselves. The games in the Central League this year began to be more uncertain than April weather. Oshawa and Belleville have alternately been occupying first place and just now the Motor City club have a seventeen point margin but the Nationals hope to erase that on Saturday when Kingston come here for their second game of the season.

The Molony play in Peterboro on Saturday and from the manner in which the Petes have been playing lately, one should judge that this game will be a close fit either way but if Jeff Hardill is in his usual form the laddies from Sam McLaughlin's village will have their hands full. Fred Craig has an invigorated, stampeding bunch of ball players under his wing now. They have won their way back into the hearts of the Peterboro fans with their stirring exhibitions and now that they are in the thick of the fight they will give Walter Schultz's crew a tidy argument.

The Ponies won their recent game with the Petes and although they are in third place they will be fighting with their backs to the wall here tomorrow and the Nationals cannot afford to drop another game with Oshawa having a slight advantage and Peterboro and Kingston camping on their trail.

Alex Kay's decision at the plate in calling "Wicky" Ross out in Wednesday's game, appeared to be very bad. From the press coop it looked as though Ross had crossed the plate when Collins tagged him with the ball. It isn't the first bad decision we have seen Alex make at the plate. We have distinct recollection on one memorable afternoon last season when Reedy Mills was called out on the same identical play and the locals lost a chance to tie a game with Delaro. Belleville fans haven't forgotten that play.

Those who have been clamoring for Saturday baseball will not forget to decorate the grandstand with their presence tomorrow. Belleville is not a Saturday town and the management are taking a big chance on staging the game, but the boys who work for the factories have been afforded a chance of seeing the holiday games only, this year. It would no doubt have been wiser to have played the game at five o'clock this afternoon.

Jamieson the Kingston pitcher who has been riding on the crest of a wave of success may do the flinging for the visitors tomorrow. "Van" Young has lost his cunning so far as the Belleville team is concerned, and he will not likely ascend the mound. The Nationals simply could not fathom Young's delivery but on a recent occasion they drove him off the mound and he will not be apt to essay the task of defeating the Railroaders again.

Many have been asking why "Chuck" Jeffery has not been given a chance to show his stuff since June 3rd. Jeffery hurled a game in Kingston and through no fault of his own, but due to carelessness on the part of the infield behind him Kingston team walked off with the verdict. Jeffery pitched a splendid game, fanning eight and only allowed only a few hits. It might not be a bad idea to give the boy another chance. He is unable to get away on Saturdays, but is ready for service on Wednesday afternoon. Gibson and Utzuki have been the only pitchers in the league in victories and Darragh and Gerow are certainly not of Central League calibre.

The Ki-Y league games will wind up this week and the group has certainly been a success. The boys have been on deck at the appointed hour for their games and the Ki-Wanis Club and Y. M. C. A. officials are to be congratulated for their efforts in promoting this league.

Belleville Golf course has been further improved on the new greens on the sixth and seventh holes having been placed in use. The course is now in first-class shape under the supervision of Alf Leduil, who is a master mind in laying out and taking care of the links. Fred Rickwood, the professional is at the course at the present time and is teaching the novices the rudiments of the game.

Duffers have found the sixth hole a tricky one in view of the long grass on the right of the fairway. The tertiary which was part of an adjoining farm was a [illegible] but balls and it was practically impossible to retrieve the tiny white pellets. However this week the farmer cut the grass and a group of youngsters found the field a veritable mine of golf balls.

It is surprising the number of new players who have taken the game this year at the Belleville Club. Ideally situated just without the city limits it is a pleasure which this become very popular with both the members of the male and female set.

'Cumer Arnott, debonair hockey player with Preston Riversides and formerly with the Belleville Maroons will shortly join the ranks of the Benedicts and is apparently lost to Belleville forever. "Cumer" has refused many tempting professional offers and has certainly made himself solid with Preston fans. He has lead the "Big Six" in scoring for the past three years.

Swimming has become a popular sport with the advent of the warm weather and the Corby public baths have been a godsend to many during the recent torrid spell. The Intilude dock and the Government Wharf have been the mecca for dozens of city dwellers who wish to escape from the stifling atmosphere.

RE-STOCKING INLAND FISHERIES

The total distribution in 1926 of fish and fish eggs from hatcheries operated by the Fisheries Branch of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, Canada was nearly 722,000,000. In addition to the distributions that were made from the hatcheries, twenty-five lakes received allotments of fry or older fish from other bodies of water. With one exception this work was confined to the western provinces where there are many districts that are not readily accessible to existing hatcheries. It involved the capture and transfer, in many instances for a considerable distance of 88,262 fish, comprising nine different species. Sixty black bass, for instance, some weighing as much as four pounds, were caught in Dog lake, in the Keewatin district and transferred to Fox lake near McDougall's Mills Station, northwestern Ontario.

POINT ANNE WON FROM CORBYVILLE

Cement Makers Scored Two In Ninth To Claim Verdict

In one of the best games in the Industrial Baseball league played to date the Point Anne team defeated the Cleco Chte at the Point Anne diamond last night by a score of 5-7. It was a nip and tuck affair all the way and was scheduled to go nine innings but the Point Anne team came through with a rally in the closing stages and tied things up. The score was tied 5-5 at the end of the seventh, each scoring one run in the eighth and Cleco Club tallied one in the ninth and assumed the lead. However the Point Anne team in last of the ninth scored two runs and won the encounter.

The Cleco team got five in the first but were blanked until the closing stages. The Point Anne team's runs were scattered. Simmons started for the Point Anne team but he was relieved by Lloyd Finkbeil. Finkbeil, "Sunny" Green was on the receiving end. Pitchett did the pitching for Cleco Club. Jack "Crock" Williams got a long three bagger with one on base in the first inning. It was the longest hit of the game. Walter Gerow and Twig Woodley umpired.

ATHLETIC STARS WILL PLAY HERE

Humber Bay Team Made Up of Leading Toronto Athletes

The management of the Belleville Beavers have arranged for the visit of a fast team here tomorrow night in the Humber Bay Ladies of the National League, fromjnside, Toronto. Local soft-ball fans are exceedingly fortunate that they have been given the privilege of seeing this club in action and they will no doubt encourage the Beavers' management by turning out in large numbers at the armouries. The Humber Bay ladies have been a member of the Summyside Senior loop for some years and they have one of the fastest squads around the west end of the city. Grace Coxacher, sister of "Big Train" Coxacher is among the notables with the Humber Bay team. Miss Coxacher is a sprinter of unusual ability. Athol Wesley, a star at baseball, hockey and basket-ball, will be with the visitors. Miss Wesley is a member of the Lakeside Basket-ball team, champions of the Province for the last three years. The Humber team have made themselves popular wherever they have played and Belleville fans will see a real fast team here on Saturday night. E. L. Agnew is manager of the team. Molly Gray will likely pitch for the Beavers with Evelyn Whalen on the receiving end.

TREASURES TO PLAY TONIGHT

Kingston Treasures will be here tonight to do battle with the Ontarios at the Armouries. The Treasures are regarded as one of the leading softball teams in Eastern Ontario and fans will be given an eye-full if they step over to the armouries. The Treasures are no strangers to Belleville, having played here on several occasions and they have always given a good account of themselves. The Ontarios have played no games since May 24th when they disposed of the famed Hamilton Cardinals here in an exhibition tilt. They have been practicing faithfully lately and it should be one of the best games of the season.

Miles Adams who is developing into a smart pitcher will likely do the flinging. Miss Adams, or rather Mrs. Adams, since she was married a month ago, is one of the best girl pitchers in the city. She possesses a fast ball with a nice assortment and if she is in her regular form tonight the Ontarios should win. The team will line up with Mary Adams, clever little third baseman, her sister Olive at short-stop, and Peg Hickey at second, all holding down their regular positions.

CANUCK WINNERS OF KING'S PRIZE

Five Canadians Have Won In Thirty-Three Years

Bisley Camp, Eng. (By The Canadian Press).—In the past thirty-three years five Canadians have won the King's Prize, the most coveted award that a soldier marksman can win in the empire. Lieut. Dixmond Burke of Oliawa in 1924 was the last Canadian to take this prize. Last year he failed to repeat by a single point.

The big shoot is in three stages, each on different days. The first stage is this year of seven shots at 600 yards, seven at 500 and seven at 200. Formerly the two former ranges were taken first but this meant that the longer distances were faced in a waning light. Also, the targets on ranges up to 600 feet have been made more difficult by lessening the bull's eye.

In the second stage the 300 best first stage scorers each shoot ten at 500 and 600 yards.

The hundred best in the second stage enter the final—15 shots at 900 and 1,000 yards.

BIG SWIM NEWS

By The Walrus

MRS. LEE FOURRIER comes from San Bernardino, California. She recently won the championship of the Pacific Coast for endurance swimming, establishing a record of 45 hours, 21 minutes and 15 seconds. The world's record for this event is held by Mrs. Myrtle Huddleston, of Malcom, Ills., who swam continuously in a pool at Chicago for 65 hours and 19 minutes.

Mrs. Fourrier is entered in the Third Wrigley Marathon and will establish herself in a camp on Lake Ontario within the next few weeks. She competed last year and was making extremely good time when forced out by the cold water of Lake Ontario. This year Mrs. Fourrier will arrive at the scene of activities sooner, so that she may get thoroughly acclimitized.

Mrs. Fourrier is one of the outstanding women swimmers of America, with a graceful and sturdy style, and will have to be considered a formidable contender in the shorter distances of 10 miles that will be contested at the Canadian National Exhibition on August 25th.

Mrs. Lee Fourrier, swimming instructress of San Bernardino, California, again an entrant in the Wrigley Marathon. She is Pacific Coast endurance champion.

CHRISTIANITY ONLY RACIAL SOLUTION

Toronto, Ont., — (By the Canadian Press)—Proclaiming Christianity as the only possible solution of the racial problem, Rev. Frederic C. Spurr, of Birmingham, England addressed the Baptist World Alliance today on "Racialism." He painted a sordid picture of the exploitation of colored races by the whites. The white man in his relations with colored people has been inspired by "no moral or spiritual motive," he declared.

The colored races were now beginning to revolt, he said and 1360 million colored people were challenging 500 million whites for supremacy. Neither subjugation, segregation nor the mixing of blood would solve the problems. The only solution lay in Christian ideals, in proclaiming the equality of all men before God, and in the acceptance by the white races of responsibility for backward peoples.

MERGER DRAFT READY TO SIGN

Will See Ottawa Cabinet On Matter—Canada's Interests Affected

Ottawa, July 7.—A semi-official announcement, from London that, the terms of an agreement for the merging of the Marconi Wireless Company, the Eastern Cable lines, the Pacific Cable and other inter-imperial communications, had been reached after six years' duress, and sent to the various Dominions, has created considerable interest.

During the week representatives have been in Ottawa by President F. C. Beatty, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, relative to some of the conditions of the proposed agreement, particularly in view of the recent action of the Canadian Marconi Company in the matter of the kind of wireless station in Canada with the Canadian Pacific Telegraphs, and its decision to enter into an exclusive agreement with the Canadian National Telegraphs on November 1 next.

Another development in the situation is the news that Sir Campbell Stuart, chairman of the Pacific Cable Board, has left for Canada and will confer in a short time directly with the cabinet and officials of the Government the terms of the proposed merger, and the relation of approval by Canada of the merger.

Aside from the action of the Canadian Marconi in planning an exclusive agreement with the Canadian National Telegraphs, Canada is deeply interested in the negotiations because of the Dominion's partnership in the Pacific Cable, whose fate will, it is believed here, be sealed with the consummation of the merger.

A common belief that the Pacific Cable was slightly remunerative to its participants—Great Britain, and the Dominions—was dispelled last session by the Postmaster-General, Hon. P. J. Veniot, who stated, in reply to a speech of Dr. Manning MacDonald, of St. John, that while considerable profit accrued from what a cable the year, it was profit totalling about $11,000,000, "this money was all spent in the construction of a new cable. Therefore, Canada and the other contracting parties are still faced with a deficit."

Mystery of Lowenstein's Death Baffles French Police

RIDICULE SUICIDE

Belgian Financier Was Plunger And Revelled In Facing Odds

Paris, July 7.—The mystery of how the Belgian financier, Alfred Loewenstein could have fallen accidentally from his plane Wednesday evening in the centre of the English Channel, was increased rather than diminished by experiments made today at Le Bourget with a similar plane. Two mechanics, who tried to open the outside door of a plane while the motor was turning at full speed only succeeded in doing so by using their combined strength, and then succeeded only in pushing it far enough open for a man to squeeze out with difficulty. They concluded that it was practically impossible for anyone to open such a door, if the plane was flying at orderly cruising speed.

This experiment was made by officials of the Fokker Company with one of their machines of almost exactly the same type as that used by Loewenstein, and one of their officials who was present at the inquest declared afterwards that he could not believe it possible that Loewenstein could, almost involuntarily, have opened the outside door by mistake.

The investigation has redoubled the speculation as to the manner of the financier's death. Dr. Paul Gorphe, one of four possible hypotheses, the first, of crime, may be at once set aside. There was no one aboard the plane with any motives for crime, and the idea of pollution among the banker's employees is palpably absurd.

The second hypothesis is suicide. One banker's friend noticed such an idea. Even if Loewenstein had been in difficulties, which they are not, he was not the kind of a man to run away from them.

He revelled in a financial fight, and always enjoyed himself most when face to face with odds. He was no man for embarrassment, and the easy way in which his financial friends have been able to meet the price of his shorts has confirmed that there was no motive for suicide.

STIRLING PASTOR WAS INDUCTED

Rev. E. A. McCutcheon And L. S. Wight Assisted In Service

An interesting and impressive service was held at Stirling last night when the Reverend E. W. Rowland, formerly of Omemee, Ontario, near Lindsay, was inducted as minister of the Stirling charge. Rev. Mr. Rowland will succeed Rev. C. W. Barrett, who has been removed by transfer.

The Rev. L. S. Wight, of Holloway United Church, Belleville, presided as chairman and Rev. E. A. McCutcheon formed the induction service.

The sermon was by Rev. McCutcheon of Tabernacle United Church, Belleville, addressed the minister while the Reverend Rivers, of Melrose, addressed the congregation. Miss Betty Cosier, soloist at the church, rendered a number during the evening.

While away he visited a great many of the principal cities of Europe and travelled extensively in Asia.

Although he has visited a great many places, Mr. Tanahill still maintains that Belleville is just as fine a place to live as any other. His friends will be glad to know that he has returned in the best of health after his long absence.

CANADA'S HOPES AT AMSTERDAM

Henley on Thames, Eng. July 7.—(C. P. Cable)—For the second time in history, the Diamond Sculls, the premier event for the supremacy amateur scullers in the world, was won by Canada today when Joe Wright, of the Argonaut Rowing Club, Toronto, defeated R. T. Lee, of Worcester College, Oxford, in the final heat by a full length.

Thirty twenty-one year old Sculler from whom victory was snatched by a misfortune in last year's final when Lee, accomplished his revenge in the fast time of 8 minutes, 24 seconds, which was 43 seconds faster than Lee's time last year when the Canadian passed Wright (who the Canadian's craft struck under an feet from the finishing post.

Capt. Lou Scholes, of Toronto, was the only other Canadian to win the Henley single sculls, taking the event in 1904. Wright is a son of Joe Wright Senior, who acted as his son's coach and trainer. He was a famous sculler in his younger days. Joe Wright, Senior Alderman in Toronto, was educated by private coach at several universities in the United States.

Henley, England, July 7. — The Thames Rowing Club crew won the Grand Challenge cup, the eight oared event of the Henley Regatta today when they defeated Trinity College in the final race, by a length and a quarter over the finish, the time was six mins. 36 secs.

BRUTAL MURDER AFTER QUARREL

Douglas McArthur, Toronto, Alleged To Have Killed Janitor

Toronto, July 7.—Alfred Charles Salter, 33, janitor of an apartment house, is dead, and Douglas McArthur, 36, occupant of one of the apartments, is held on a charge of murder following yesterday morning's quarrel.

It is stated by police that in a quarrel in McArthur's room, he struck Salter over the head with a knife and stabbed Salter near the heart. The janitor died a few minutes later.

The quarrel is alleged to have arisen over the disposal of garbage. McArthur called the police and reported the affair.

Mr. Arthur is stated to have given the officers the following statement: "I called in Salter and told him to remove the garbage which had started to decay, from my premises. Salter became enraged and went at me with a whiskey bottle which he was carrying in his hand. I was still dazed in my night clothes having risen the instant to attack. I seized a bread knife from a kitchen drawer and threatened him.

"He ran straight at me and my knife entered his breast just below the heart."

After being shaken Salter ran out of a back door and was later found by a milkman.

McArthur's wife, who is in poor health, has not yet been told of the tragedy.

FIRE DESTROYS FARMER'S SHED

House Was Threatened But Bucket Brigade Extinguished It

Fire, last night destroyed the driver shed at T. W. Smart, at Wellman's Corners, north of Stirling and would have been by a hastily-formed bucket brigade saved the house. The woodshed of the house was also burned during the conflagration, but friends from different farms were there to extinguish it.

When first discovered, the flames had gained such headway that it was found impossible to check them, and so all concentrated on saving the house. It is thought that the fire started from a spark from the chimney, as the shed was blown down by up fruit and light wood and other material was being used in the stove for a hot fire.

A small chicken coop was nearest the shed and it is supposed that this caught first, the flames then spreading to the shed loaded with feed. Lawson, William Smart, left for England, last Friday, and will be gone for six weeks.

STRAWBERRIES JUMP IN PRICE

Strawberries took a jump in price yesterday and today and were selling at twenty and twenty-two cents by the box. Cherries were offered at twenty cents a box for the first time this year, today, while gorgeous displays of Sweet Peas, Asters and Pinks were selling for fifteen cents a bunch.

Eggs were slightly higher today, retailing at thirty-two cents a dozen and butter sold at forty-five cents a pound. Vegetables were about the usual price.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

A little nerve's a little pleasure,
This notice is cut from the dusty measure
That holds the fate of all of us.
—SWINBURNE.

NEW VICTIMS ALWAYS READY FOR KILLING.

The president of an organization known as the Baker Heirs' Association has been committed for trial on a charge of having stolen $10,000. This association was organized, presumably, to provide the claims of its members to ownership of a certain large estate supposed to exist somewhere in the United States to which they thought they had some right, and it is reported that, in all, it received from its members funds $171,000 in initiation fees and dues. As the case of the president is still before the courts, comment on it is not permissible. That does not, however, prevent any remarks on the peculiar trait in many people which impels them to part with their money in the hope that they will get rich quickly.

The net results of the exposure of the Baker Heirs' Association will not be known until the time when it is learned that it would appear that there is little hope for those who paid their money into it. Great fortunes are not allowed to lie around for a century or more without the rightful owners securing possession, and it was the nearest 'will-o'-the-wisp' idea which the people who contributed to funds to the association were following. Yet every day there are people who will part with their money in the hope that by some strange turn of fortune it will come back to them a hundred fold. On rare occasions, they are rewarded, but in the great majority of cases, they say goodbye to their money forever. Even experience fails to teach thoroughly the lesson the such ventures can rarely hope to succeed. There is always the hope that this one case will prove the exception, and will bring back wealth to those who invest in it. Human nature does not change very much in this respect, and while there are some who will learn a bitter lesson from their experiences, there are always many more ready to take to their places in the list of easy victims.

EARNS ENOUGH MONEY TO STAY IN POLITICS.

Considerable attention is being given to the announcement of the Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George that he intends to write no more for the newspapers of the world, that, having feathered his nest in the field of journalism, he intends to forsake his remaining years entirely to politics. For some years he had been known as the world's most highly paid writer and this is probably true, for his articles were syndicated all over the world, and it is stated that in the last few years he has earned over $600,000 from this source.

Young people who have journalistic aspirations, however, should not make the mistake of thinking that the experience of Lloyd George is common to the profession. Had the articles he penned been written by an ordinary journalist, instead of by Britain's great wartime premier, they would not have attracted anything like the same attention, nor would they have produced anything like the same financial returns. Lloyd George served a hard apprenticeship before he ever put his pen to paper as a journalist. His apprenticeship brought him through the political fires of Great Britain as chancellor of the exchequer and as president of the country, and made his name a household word all over the world. So he had the first article qualifying its particulars, experience and his political knowledge and associations were the factors for which the newspapers publishing his articles paid. The name of Lloyd George meant a great deal more than did the words he wrote.

Yet no one will begrudge the former British premier the rewards of his writing. In politics, he won much honor and glory, but made very little money. Had he depended on his political career entirely, he would probably die poor, just as Lord Oxford did. But he seized the great opportunity when it was offered, obtained in the recent peace past for his articles, and now he is in a position to give his time wholly to His life work of political activity. He can find much consolation in the thought that he is relieved from financial worries, and is free to serve his country better in his chosen sphere.

THE CROSS AT THE CROSSWAYS

See there:—God's signpost standing at the ways
Which every man of free-will must go—
Up the steep hill—or down the winding ways—
One or the other every man must go.

To every man there openeth
A Way and Ways and a Way,
The High Soul Climbs the High Way,
The Low Soul gropes the Low,
And in between on the misty flats,
The rest drift to and fro.
But to every man there openeth
A High Way and a Low,
And every man decideth
The Way his soul shall go.
—John Oxenham.

BELLEVILLE WON FROM TREASURES

Belleville Ontarios after a lay-off of six weeks stepped back on the diamond last night and won from the Kingston Treasures by a score of 17-11 in a game that was replete with thrills from start to finish. It was a fine exhibition and only a stiff-ish batting rally in the seventh inning won for Walter Gerow's Club. They hung up eleven runs in this frame and it's lucky for them that they did, since the Treasures came back in the first of the eighth with five more. It was an abbreviated game and was cancer in one eighth on account of darkness. The Ontarios certainly swatted the pill with a vengence in the seventh and deserved to win after the batting frenzy. Five runs in the third frame had placed them in the lead and they were on the long end of the count throughout the proceedings. There were home runs, lots of them, and the fans who like to see the old apple go for a ride were given more than their money's worth last night. Among those who got four-baggers were Misses Mary Adams, Audrey and Aileen Wilkins, of the Ontarios and Misses Compeau and Duncan of Kingston. Audrey Wilkins manages to get hers in the third inning with two on bases. Jack O'Neill of Kingston has a nice club but they could not hit with the rest of the Belleville lassies.

Mrs. Matthews, (nee Hilda Adams) was on the mound for the first time since her marriage and she was in real form. The Kingston team had difficulty in fathoming her delivery and she struck out no less than six batters. Miss Back pitched for Kingston and with the exception of the third and seventh innings she was very effective.

Among those conspicuous with their hitting were Mary Adams, Hilda, her sister and the other member of the trio, Olive. Three sisters are natural ball players and Miss Mary at third base turned in a sterling game. She was grabbing hot liners and made some very fine plays. Misses Ellerton and Ferguson were the swat-smiths for the visitors. Miss Compeau played a good game at third base and was responsible for three runs when she poled out a home run in the eighth.

BUSINESS INCREASING

HEAR REV. GEO. RIVERS.

The Rev. G. W. Rivers of Madoc gave a very fine talk at the Candle-Fire Service at Community Camp, Moira Lake, on Thursday evening. Taking the life of David as the basis for his talk he drew many fine lessons which ringing from the interest shown by the boys were well understood and should do a world of good in shaping the lives of at least a small portion of the boyhood of Canada.

LOST DRIVER'S LICENSE.

A motorist from Toronto was anxiously enquiring for his driving permit from the police today. He dropped it somewhere in Belleville, and wanted to know if it had been turned over to the police. The motorist was so cautious that he did not want to start back to the Queen City without his permit,—a wise precaution.

INTERESTING HEALTH TALK

Dr. Haffner paid a visit to the Boys' Camp, Moira Lake, on Thursday last and not only gave a splendid talk to the boys on the Eyes, Ears, Nose and Throat, but helped a great deal while he was in camp by taking an active part in the swimming and games. It is much appreciated by the camp committee and parents of the boys when men with the ability and education take interest enough in the camps for boys and girls to make a trip at their own expense and time to help the campers in their quest for health.

NEW BUS IN SERVICE

A new bus has been placed on the route between Belleville and Trenton, and is an improvement to any in this district. It is a Studebaker, and is a bright orange colour, with awnings over the windows. No doubt the change will be appreciated by those who travel between the two towns by motor bus.

Such well known diamond lights as Athol Wesley and Grace Comsher will be with the Humber Bay team. The latter play at Sunnyside diamond and have given exhibitions in every part of the Province, although this is the first time that they have played in Belleville. The Humbers will bring their full line-up to Belleville and the Beavers will be out with their strongest team, so that a fine battle should result. The game will commence promptly at 6.15.

IDEAL BASEBALL WEATHER.

Kingston ball team arrived today shortly after noon to play here with the Nationals this afternoon at the Agricultural Field. Joe Daley announced that the "Yannigan" Johnson would do the pitching. Vinny Utrocki will do the flinging for the Nationals with Percy Mills on the receiving end. This should be one of the best games of the season as the Kingston team are but a few points behind Belleville having defeated Peterboro on Wednesday. George Sullivan and Ken Colling will officiate.

GLORIOUS TIME AT MOIRA LAKE

Dr. Haffner Addressed Boys at Camp Community Last Night

Dr. Haffner, well-known specialist of this city, was the guest of the boys of Moira Lake Camp last night, giving a talk on how to take care of the eyes, ears, nose and throat. The boys and men in charge of the camp appreciated his fine lecture, and the time quickly was passed.

That by no one has been sick either with actual maladies or with homesickness, although many of the boys have grown to love the camp life. The natural tendency under the circumstances would be for them to have a slight touch of it. However, with swimming, soft ball and hikes, all arranged for them, they have something to look forward to each day.

Many of the boys will be coming home at the end of this week, while others will go out for the final week. Each evening, about eight-thirty, a large camp fire is kindled, around which the boys gather for a singsong and to recount their experiences. Mosquitoes, unfortunately, are playing a much more important part in camp life this year than formerly, and they make the evenings uncomfortable. The north country this year is infested with flies and mosquitoes, due to the heavy floods which left many breeding grounds.

ESSEX Super Six

World's Greatest Value ... altogether or part by part

The Essex Super-Six is outselling, and all this year has outsold, every other "Six" by such margins that comparison is only a gesture.

For it needs no expert to see—what every expert knows—that such an array of values was never before presented within hundreds of dollars of the price.

Your first glance tells that. But more important, you can examine this Essex, part by part, and in each item, whether it is the upholstery used, or the costliest type of four-wheel brakes, or the use of vertical shutters, demonstrate a superiority of quality and actual margins of costlier materials and workmanship.

To know the overpowering conviction of greatest value held by Essex owners is merely to see Essex beauty, to examine Essex quality, to sit inside and feel Essex comfort—to ride and know Essex performance.

WRANGLING PARENTS WRECK YOUNG MINDS

BY DR. LOUIS E. BISCH.
Psychologist.

Married life, where a certain amount of disagreement does not exist is, of course, most exceptional.

Whether such incompatibility is much or little, avoidable or not, or justifiable or not, makes no difference from the standpoint of the children.

Dissension of any kind within the family circle always and invariably has a pernicious effect upon them. Children have no say in the choice of parents. They must accept what is.

If they happen to be born into a family where peace and happiness reigns, it's nothing short of a piece of luck and they may thank their stars on their good fortune.

And if the opposite is true, if their parents do not get on amicably with each other, the children can do nothing but suffer in silence.

All children begin by loving their parents. And whether the children maintain this attitude of adoration depends largely upon the parents themselves.

Imagine the feelings of a child when it hears its father or mother, quarrelling!

Can you imagine how an immature and grasping mind must be puzzled when fathers and mothers maintain a frigid silence and do not speak to each other for days and weeks at a stretch?

When there is family discord children have a way of getting it into their little heads that somehow they, themselves, are to blame. They think they must be in the way. They believe they are not wanted.

Many and many a time have I heard such stories told by adults who recall their childhood vividly.

Often, too, have I heard children themselves say such things. Memories of childhood stick—especially the disagreeable ones.

Even if they become learned, they are never wholly educated.

Often they influence the character development to an astonishing degree, making for figurativity-speaking "stepchild" timid, oversensitive, and sods.

As parents we all have weighty duties thrust upon us. Not the least of these is to present a happy front to our children.

If we must disagree, let us do it in private always! It is incomeright upon us to make our children believe that their parents are as one—in happy accord!

Family discord always leaves a scar in a child's mind. Avoid it by every possible means.

Think about it so that you may constantly guard against it.

Otherwise you may not realize the damage done until it is too late, for when one is angry one forgets good intentions unless such gold intentions have become fixed habits because of practice.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl in my late teens and I am engaged to a man two years my senior. I don't go out with other boys. But he goes out with other girls. I try to tell him he should not but he will not listen. Please advise me.

UNHAPPY.

UNHAPPY:—No, it's hardly right for the young man to go around with other girls, since you and he are engaged. It is tactly understood that an engaged couple are limited in their friendships and it should think if the young man really loved you he would listen. If, however, he refuses to give up his other friends, you might break your engagement until he would prove his love for you. Few ladies of such little things that greater troubles and problems arise after one is married.

For slips of Rose, etc.—Apply to the ...ard as soon as possible a little ammonia and water or moistened cooking soda.

SINCLAIR'S

Celia wanted to slap the sweetly smiling mouth but she managed, so sadly coldly: "Thank you, Miss Page, but I happen to know all that. It is with my approval that Mr. Falconer entertains guests in his own quarters."

Quite unabashed Miss Page murmured: "Of course. I understand your viewpoint, Mrs. Falconer. I have seen the gentlemen, and they are not exactly your type, are they?"

Celia went to her room in a state of panic. How much had Miss Page heard, how much did she know of what was going on in the laboratory at night?

THE STEADY FLAME.

At the end of another week of intense anxiety, for Celia, Gwen gave a dinner-dance at which "Mr. and Mrs. Falconer," were the guests of honor. She said to Celia:

"You that I give a darn about the party——and I know you don't either. But people are talking, as I told you before. It's better than you and Falconer appear in public as a devoted married couple."

Celia winced. "I suppose so. Oh, Gwen, I can never repay you or make you understand how I appreciate your taking this interest in my tangled affairs."

When she told Falconer of the engagement, he said impatiently: "But I've a really important business which then concerns me and you that might. We've splendid news, and I——"

She flared at him hotly: "I don't ask much of you——and you demand much of me. You must cause with me."

He ascended with rather bad grace, but when they were in the car on their way to the club, his mood changed. He tried to take her hand, but she jerked it away.

"Listen, Celia," he said, his voice soft as velvet. "I've been rather preoccupied of late. I haven't said the things to you that I want to say. I guess you have to make up your mind to marry me, but all this other business came up and got me off, for the time being. However, don't think, my sweet girl, that I've forgotten. I am ridiculously in love with you. It just happens to be my nature that women take second place when other matters call. I'm still waiting for that answer and I mean to have it!"

To Celia's relief, the car drew up at that moment before the club-house, and an attendant opened the door. She was reprieved for a time, at least, and she had reached the stage where even an hour away from her distressing problems was welcome.

But, if she had looked forward to some slight pleasure, for some measure of forgetfulness, for a few hours when she would not be forced to play her difficult role before her mother, she soon realized that she was to be disappointed. All the guests were affable and gushing to Falconer, who was most charming, but Celia very quickly found that the women were regarding her critically, even a little coldly.

Gwen's words came home to her with full force. She knew what they were thinking and what they were saying to one another behind their fans.

She was a fool, she had had to play the game, to appear to be sweet and smiling and unconcerned. For the sake of appearances, she was unusually affable to Falconer, and it disturbed her to see the way in which he looked at her.

Larry Cross was there, very quiet and correct. He sought her out after dinner, while the orchestra was tuning up for the dance. She said quickly after the first words of greeting:

"I don't think you'll mind my talk to me, Larry, it seems that I'm the object of a great deal of gossip."

He said, in a low tone: "I know. I've heard that. That's why I want to talk to you. . . . Celia, are you happy with Falconer?"

"That is something you have no right to ask, Larry."

He answered miserably: "It's all my fault, Celia. I can't help but think that, after what—what happened. I was Happy that all seemed well with you. But, since I've seen you and Falconer together, I've been wondering if you didn't marry him just to show the beastly gossips here a thing or two, just out of pride. . . . Oh, Celia, I'd hate that. I'd hate to think that a folly of mine ruined your whole life."

She told him—because it was hard in it, with his miserable, devouring eyes upon her: "Larry, the best thing you can do is to forget all about me and my affairs."

His answer was so simple that it touched her deeply. "I can't," he said. "I can't. You know that. I never can."

She said: "Larry, Gwen is worth ten of me. She's been a marvelous friend to you when every one else has tried to push you down."

"I know that," he said. "Gwen's a girl in a million. I'm on my knees to her for what she's done for me. But I'm nothing sentimentally about her."

"Maybe something will come right out of this sorry mess, after all," she thought. "But not for me. Not for me."

"I've never seen you so lovely as you are tonight, Celia——or as sad."

He smothered his sigh away sharply. "Oh, do let me alone! I detest being pawed, ed." He laughed good-naturedly, and said:

"Celia, what a riot you'll be in Central America. Every one will envy the possessor of the ruby—I can think that, by next week, we can safely leave and start our fireworks. You'll be brief that time, thanks to your financial support. We'll be married in New York, eh, Celia, before we sail?"

JULY MEETING OF LADIES' AID

The July meeting of the Tabernacle Ladies' Aid was held at the home of Mrs. R. Pearce, Bleecker, Ave., yesterday afternoon with thirty in attendance.

In the absence of the President Mrs. A. Martin, Second Vice President Mrs. Adcock presided over the meeting. After singing the hymn, "Take Time to be Holy," short prayers were given by Mrs. McMullen, Mrs. G. S. Sharpe and Mrs. Spracklen. After reports by the Secretary, Treasurer the various committees had been received and adopted the company was pleasingly entertained with a piano duet by the Misses Jean and Betty Sherry.

One of the important business matters were then discussed after which the meeting was brought to a close by the singing of hymn 203 followed by the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison.

The genial hostess and her assistants then treated the crowd to ice cream and cake which thoroughly enjoyed by all.

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Badger is being used on new, imported coats for trimming.

Miss Frances Doble, the Canadian actresses, impersonated Mrs. Patrick Campbell in the Hyde Park pageant for charity.

Circular treatments are in high favor, with flounces, tiers, godets and panels all affecting flared outlines, and many frocks concentrate fullness at one side, with length manifested at that point.

Unless the sports ensemble with the long coat has its coat unlined and made of some such cool material as the nattier blue pongee which Philippe et Caslon employ in a certain right-ing model; the coat is apt to find itself discarded in hot weather.

Promise of much velvet for the fall season is given, but not all frocks will be entirely of velvet or transparent velvet and some impressive-looking designs contrive to use these fabrics as the high light against a dull material such as crepe.

The Ideal becomes Reality

CADILLAC, and its companion car, LaSalle, have caught and crystallized present-day motor-car ideals as no other cars have done. In them the ideal becomes reality, not alone in the exuberant beauty of their Fisher and Fisher-Fleetwood body creations, but also in the tireless, effortless ease with which the 90-degree, V-type, 8-cylinder engine delivers its inimitable performance.

SportOgrams By "The Observer"

...Iyer notice Ken Colling's sweet little new flower planted in his boiler-house when he's umpiring these girls' games. Who says he isn't a lady's man?...You'll probably take notice that he isn't decorated with any Iron Cross Wreaths when he's handling any games at the Park. ...

Local golf will fans held see a clever girl athlete in action here tonight when Ethel Wedge, one of Toronto's best, steps out with the Humber Bay team against the Beavers. Miss Wedge is a star at hockey, baseball and basketball and was a member of the Lakeside team who have given the Edmonton girls some smart battles in the Dominion finals. Miss Wesley is a fine softball player as well.

Miss Grace Conacher is another of the luminaries with the Humber Bay outfit. She is a sister of Lionel Conacher of hockey, rugby and baseball fame. The Conachers have been associated with every branch of sport and Lionel Conacher's name is known in every redblooded sport in Canada.

Alan Meagher, the peppery manager of the Belleville Beavers has arranged for a game with the Gooderham and Worts Senior team here next Saturday. The G. and W. team have as their sponsor Harry Hatch, well known horseman through his connections with the Canadian Industrial Alcohol Company. The G. and W. team played here last year and gave the Claco girls a real honest-to-goodness trimming if our memory serves us correct.

Kingston team with Joe Daley et al, are here this afternoon at the Park for a scheduled O. H. L. game. The Kingston team defeated Peterboro and hope to follow it up with a win over the locals here today. Walter Gerow has not yet announced his pla-e but it will likely be Vinny Utronki.

The Nationals play a double-header next Wednesday afternoon in Deseronto when on Saturday they tackle Oshawa up at Alexandra Park. Providing they win these four engagements they should reach the rest of the way home to Pennantville. Gibson and Utronki will alternate with Utronki pitching today.

Angus McDonald, Peterboro's new pitcher sounds as though he might be a parliamentarian or a member of the legal fraternity. At any rate according to the Kingston papers, he can pitch a fair game of ball and it was only mistakes on the part of his teammates that cost him the game with Kingston.

"Josh" Craig has dug up some new material to strengthen the fading Peterboro veterans. Several baseball leagues are functioning in Peterboro and district and "Josh" has a one good young players to choose from. Belleville has but one hard-ball league functioning and that is the Industrial loop. At that there are some pretty fair games played in this group. Jack "Crock" Williams in a recent tilt at Point Anne had a triple, a double, a single and a walk in four times at bat which is not really a bad evening's work. Jack is still the same unsunny third-baseman and could step in and hold down a place with any Senior team in this neck of the woods.

Miss Compeau, who played third base for the Kingston Treasures last night is a sister of the well-known "Mickey" Compeau, who starred in Central League ball and Senior Intermediate. He is also still playing a good game for Chimberland in one of the Eastern O. S. Ball or leagues. Compeau went to the Mint League but when that league disbanded he hied himself to the U. S.

Poolish question no. one: "Are you in on Nomads three days?"

Golf and swimming are holding the stage just now with Old Sol out in fulbloom every day. Golf, the most fascinating sport in the world is drawing a large number of new devotees while the docks are filled with bathers every evening with the falling sun. The Institute dock and the Country Club are the more popular of the Bayview haunts.

Belleville was at one time a centre for aquatic sports but of late years with the advent of the motor cars the sport has fallen off considerably. Canoeing is almost a lost art while yachting (underwent a revival two years ago it has again lapsed, with the disposal of the good ship Tomerance. With the beautiful expanse of water at our disposal it seems a shame that no efforts have been made to interest Belleville sportsmen in yachting. There are plenty of old-timers who are keenly interested.

When the late Ned Hanlan was in his prime he engaged in a contest with Edward Hanlon, champion of the day. A large grandstand was erected and the whole front and hundreds witnessed the stirring contest. Those days are gone forever.

Lacrosse and sculling are two of the sports which for some unknown reason were never accepted by the Belleville public. Yet they are two of the most thrilling and strenuous of present-day athletics.

REGENT THEATRE

A thrilling picture story with a brand new twist to the popular Jewish-Irish theme, is the colorful setting of the Past Side of New York—a tense, gripping, compelling photoplay of life and love in the Ghetto—you'll regret missing it. At Regent Monday.

BELLE THEATRE

There will be a happy reunion Monday night at the Belle, theatre. The cause for the joyful proceedings will be the re-union of Jack Holt in Zane Grey production produced by Paramount. The picture that heralded his most pleasant combination brought together again was "The Vanishing Pioneer", a story by the famous author of western stories.

As if to celebrate the return of Jack Holt under the Paramount banner, the producers have surrounded the star with an excellent supporting cast. In fact the cast in support to Holt might be termed all star. There is Sally Blane, an "up and coming" young star, who is both pretty and adequate for her role; William Powell, the very popular suave villain, in spite of his characterizations of "bad" and right along with him is Fred Kohler, he of the serving face, and a most capable actor. Guy Oliver portrays the role of Miss Blane's father and Reece Karns furnishes comedy relief. Marcia Mannon is good as the "apron woman."

However, the really big high-light of the production is the appearance in the first scenes of young Tim Holt, son of the star. It is easy to discern the trait of acting ability running through the Holt family. Young Tim does very well for the time he is permitted to appear before the camera with his illustrious father.

SINICAL SADIE SEES

HOW TO PET PROPERLY.
(For Office's Only)

Take it slowly, don't hurry your approach and keep your eye on the girl.

Mr. Ambleyith was very tiresome. He always considered himself a "bit" with the ladies, and invariably gave the impression that when he talked to them she was conferring upon them a very great favour. One night he chanced to one of his special victims, "What fine dark hair you have got! My wife, who's much younger than you, has red hair quite gray. "Yes," replied the lady, "and if I had been your wife, my hair would, no doubt, have been gray too."

THE PARTY WAS A SUCCESS.

Some parties are mere affairs. But this one wasn't. Everyone seemed to be riotously jolly.

Not a moment dragged. Something doing every minute. Everybody happy, joyous, frolicsome. Never was a party been such an affair. Music and other noises, dancing, playing games, singing, and PLENTY. The biggest thing was how they could all keep it up without a moment's rest.

It certainly was a wonderful party. Nobody could say it was the kind of affair people would fall asleep at.

I know, because that's precisely what I was trying to do in my flat below.

SHE KNEW "SCOTCH".

Two Aberdonians who were visiting London for the first time discovered that there was no soap in their hotel bedroom, and one rang for the chambermaid.

"Ye micht bring a wee bit o' soap," he suggested.

The girl, not understanding the request, simply gaped at him.

"Hoots, lassie," he grunted testily "can ye no understand plain Scotch?"

OUR LOVE'S FOR ALL THE WORLD TO KNOW.

It seems that time alone, my dearest, can erase
Your all too tender brand.
I trust you understand.
As homewardly I go,
That every man must know
Our secret, darling one, that's written on my face.

For though it's of the sort that is unseen,
And
And just between us two,
There's nothing I can do
Or say (twitched, I'll confess)
Our secret will come out . . .
Unless you buy some Sparkle tint's indelible.

FAILS TO APPEAR PROPERTY IS SEIZED

Washington, July 6.—The second hundred thousand dollars of property of H. M. Blackmer, of Denver mining magnet Dodge Widows was ordered seized today by Justice Jennings Bailey in the district of Columbia Supreme Court because of Blackmer's failure to appear as a witness at the trial of Harry F. Sinclair on April 9, last.

As we understand it, losing in England is called "unemployment," and the people are taxed to pay the loafers.

Poems Old And New

GYPSY LAMENT

By James E. Tobin

There is no shelter there within the city,
No shelter past its guarded gates, no pity,
None of them glad;
May he have aches in his fat loins,
When he is old!
May pride his pounds from golden grain.

And prays his sins will leave no stain
Who are washed with charity:
A curse on such a sort as he!

No friends we have but the great tree in the glade,
None who can give us shelter, offers shade,
None other is good to our rails and halts, our lads and lasses,
We are birds in your arms, O great tree, and at your feet, grasses.

FORGOTTEN

By B. Y. Williams

Beneath the great pine tree we rest,
Dear John, Elizabeth, and I—
(I think I really loved him best—)
Elizabeth was first to die.

And then I came. I knew his heart.
Was in the grass mound on the hill.
But I was glad to have a part
In caring for his comfort still.

And did he learn to love me some?
I never knew. With his hat breath
He smiled and said his time had come
To sleep beside Elizabeth.

I kept their graves, and still lived on,
Until I, too, was called and so
The neighbors carried me by John.
I had no other place to go.

And here we've lain for many years.
The hill is now a pasture field
The strangers' hands; nobody clears
The sunken mounds by weeds concealed.

The chimny cows above us tread
To gain the friendly pine tree's shade—
I shudder in my narrow bed,
I little Tennessee maid of Kidd.

I'd like to reach my hand to John,
But I am held by more than death.
I fear to learn he thinks upon
Near other than Elizabeth.

ON MAKING FRIENDS

"Considering that most friendships are made by mere hazard, how is it that men find themselves equipped and fortified with just the friends they need?" asks Mr. Christopher Morley in "Safety Pins and other Essays."

"We have heard of men who asserted that they would like to have more money, or more books, or more pairs of pyjamas; but we have never heard of a man saying that he did not have enough friends. For, while one can never have too many friends, no one has ever always enough. They satisfy us completely. One has never met a man who would say, 'I wish I had a friend who would combine the good humour of A, the mystical enthusiasm of B, the love of doughnuts which is such an endearing quality in C, and who would also have the habit of giving Sunday evening suppers like D, and the well-stocked cellar which is so deplorably lacking in E!' No, the curious thing is that at any time and in any settled way of life a man is generally provided with friends far in excess of his desert, and also in excess of his capacity to absorb their wisdom and affectionate attention.

"There is some pleasant secret behind this—a secret that seems to wise enough to fashion. The infinite fund of disinterested humane kindliness that is adrift in the world is part of the riddle, the laughable riddle of life that is torn in our blood and tissue. It is agreeable to think that no man, says by his own gross fault, ever went through life unbefriended, without companions to whom he could stammer his momentary impulses of sagacity, to whom he could turn in hours of bowel ness. It is not even necessary to know a man to be his friend. One can sit at a lunch counter, observing the moods and whims of the white-capped pie-passer, and by the time you have jaggled a couple of fried eggs you will have caught some grain of his philosophy of life, seen the quick edge and tang of his humour, remarked the shrewdness of his worldly insight, and been as truly stimulated as if you had spent an evening with your favorite parson."

Let Me Tell You

Lemon juice can be used as an emergency shoe polish for black or brown shoes.

If blankets, after being washed and thoroughly dried, are beaten with an ordinary carpet beater, the wool will be light and soft.

After using furniture polish it is a good plan to do the brass something with a hot duster, in order to give extra brilliancy.

If a little salt is added to the blue water when clothes are being blued, it will help to distribute the colour evenly and prevent patches.

Scraps of Soap

A way of using scraps of soap of any kind is to save them until there is a fair amount, then melt them, add a little sand, and make all up together into a soap ball. This will be found most useful for removing stains from the hands.

Mildewed Leather

Mildewed leather should be treated with vaseline. Rub the grease well in to the leather, and leave it there for some time.

JUST IN PASSING

Riches I hold in light esteem,
And love I laugh to scorn;
And that of fame was but a dream
That vanished with the morn.

And if I pray, the only prayer
That moves my lips for me
Is, "Leave the heart that now I bear,
And give me liberty!"

Yes, as my swift days near their goal,
'Tis all that I implore
In life and death a chainless soul,
With courage to endure.

Emily Bronte.

MARGOT—HMM.

"Experience can never be measured by the calendar, and one day of emotion may lay the foundations of a greater change in the lives of men and women than the events of years."

The wife of an eminent Civil servant recently, after some difficulty, engaged a new cook, who seemed somewhat particular about the amount of work she did in the evening. On the day of her arrival her mistress informed her that they were very small meat eaters, and mentioned that she had ordered a small joint for dinner that night. Then she went out to pay a call and, returning about an hour before dinner time found cook in the hall with a very angry face calling to give notice of her immediate departure.

On asking what the matter was Lady X. was led to the kitchen and found herself confronted by a mass of meat weighing about a hundred weight. "If that's what you call a small joint, my lady," said the cook, "I'm just wondering what you have for Sundays."

It was the annual gift of half a fine buck from Windsor, which her husband received by virtue of his office.

There are Two Sides to this Story

MOST people think of their Chevrolet dealer as a NEW-CAR dealer . . partly because of the large numbers of new Chevrolets which they see on the streets.

But, while new car sales are the Chevrolet dealer's biggest reason for being in business, they form only one side of his activities. He must not only sell cars but he must also exchange them.

Every good, successful Chevrolet dealer must also be a good, successful Used Car dealer.

From his experience in selling Chevrolet cars, he knows motor-car values . . . He knows that it is just as important for him to sell a Used Car as a new car . . He knows that Used Car buyers have a right to as much for their dollar and are entitled to as complete satisfaction as new car buyers . . He knows that satisfied Used Car owners will eventually become prospects for new cars . . He knows the value of good-will.

In short, our business as Chevrolet dealers depends on our reputation as used car dealers. That is why you are sure of a square deal and a sound dollar-for-dollar value, when you buy a used car here.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless teaspoonful neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Observe this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggists.

ST. VITUS DANCE

A Trouble That Usually Attacks Young Children.

St. Vitus dance is the name generally given to a disease described by medical men as chorea. This trouble usually attacks young children, though older people may be afflicted with it. The most common symptoms are a twitching of the face and limbs. As the disease progresses the twitching takes the form of spasms, in which the jerking motion may be confined to the face or all the limbs may be affected. Frequently the patient is unable to hold anything in the hands or walk steadily. In severe cases the speech is often affected. The disease is due to debility of the nerves and relief comes through an enriched blood supply. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been most successful in reaching this trouble through their specific action on the blood, which it enriches and purifies. The following instance proves the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in this trouble. Mrs. Thomas Bowen, Bath, Ont., says:—"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been in use in my family for years and always with good results. I believe they saved the life of my only son. At ten years of age he grew very nervous and the trouble developed into St. Vitus dance. His legs and arms would jerk and twitch, then his speech was affected, and his condition was pitiable. Just then there came to me a little book telling of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided to give them to him. By the time two boxes were used there was an improvement in his condition and by the time six boxes more were taken all traces of the trouble had disappeared, and he was well and strong. I have also given the pills to my growing girls, and I know of no better strengthening medicine. I may add that the same applies to grown-ups as well."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

GOOD TIME NOW TO HAVE THAT DUCO JOB DONE

Now about that Duco job for the old boy one of these days? Just about this time of the season, Isaac Stephenson, local authorized Duco refinisher, is in a position to give your car a Duco finish on short notice—and a genuine factory finish at that. Any color you may wish for—or combination of colors, for that matter, may be yours; just simply pick out your favorite one and Stephenson will re-finish your car in that color, and give you a real job.

People don't always stop to consider that they are actually able to get right here in Belleville a Duco-finish applied in exactly the same manner as is used in the larger motor car factories—a spray job, and done by men trained in the art of applying Duco just as are the factory experts who put the original finish on the metal body of your car.

Drop around and see Stephenson, in the Greenleaf Building on Station Street—and have him estimate the cost of a Duco job on your car, you'll be surprised when you learn how cheaply it may be done.

DESOTO SIX NEW CANADIAN CAR
Made By Canadian Men And of Canadian Materials

The DeSoto Motor Corporation of Canada, Ltd., new division of the Chrysler Corporation of Canada, Ltd., will be headed by Jno. D. Mansfield as president, it was announced today. Mr. Mansfield is also president of the Chrysler Corporation of Canada, Ltd., and will direct the policies and operations of both organizations.

The DeSoto Six, product of the new Chrysler division, will be manufactured in Windsor, Ont., where the plants of the Chrysler Corporation of Canada, Ltd., are located. Extensive additions to the main chassis manufacturing plant have been under way for months and are expected to be completed shortly.

The new car, according to President Mansfield, is of a distinctly new type and will appeal to a different field from any of the present Chrysler products. It is being brought out by a new company which is owned one hundred per cent. by the Chrysler Corporation of Canada, Ltd., and will be handled throughout by its own organization.

"Remarkable as the progress of the Chrysler Corporation of Canada, Ltd., has been, this latest manufacturing move promises to improve upon all past records," President Mansfield said. "The DeSoto Six is a distinctly new car designed to fill a need which is not now being satisfactorily met. It is no exaggeration to say that there is at present no car of its exact type on the market.

"The manufacturers of the DeSoto Six by Chrysler will increase factory volume and, in turn, create manufacturing savings which will enable Chrysler to give still greater values to the public.

"As in the case of the Chrysler, the DeSoto Six will be made by Canadian workmen using Canadian parts and materials wherever possible. Obviously this means that Canadian industry in general will be advanced and that the Canadian automobile industry will be increased to a material extent.

"Equally important is the fact that the new DeSoto Six will show the great skill and scientific manufacturing has taken even within the last twelve months in increasing the buying power of the motor car dollar. I am sorry that our plans do not permit me to give the public details of the new car at this time. Beyond stating that it will have six cylinders and stressing the fact that the progress of the past year in manufacturing efficiencies and economies has made it possible to give in quality more than anyone has ever been able to give before, I cannot now reveal any information as to specifications and price.

"When the new car is presented to the public it will appear under the auspices of a sales and service personnel of outstanding standing and ability. For the last several weeks a newly created executive organization headed by Russel Paige as vice-president in charge of sales has been engaged in the allotment of territory to DeSoto dealers."

Mr. Paige, the vice-president in charge of sales, is widely known by automobile dealers and owners, throughout the Dominion. He was formerly Sales Manager of the Willys Overland Corporation of Canada, Ltd., and has held important executive positions with the Chrysler Sales Corporation.

While no date of public announcement has been given out, conditions indicate that the new DeSoto Motor Corporation of Canada, Ltd., will have entered large production within three to four months.

FINE DAY SIGHT NOT ALWAYS SO DURING TWILIGHT
But Night Eye Cannot Detect Various Colors

Because there are two sets of sensitive substances in the eye which function—one in daylight and the other in twilight or dim illumination—we sometimes hear people speak of the day eye and the night or twilight eye. Some people with very good daylight vision have a night eye that is almost useless.

When you first come out of a brightly illuminated room you know how pitch dark the night seems and how only gradually dim objects begin to emerge. That is because our eyes have to get used to the dark before our night eyes can begin to see.

But there is one peculiar thing about the night eye—it can't see color. "All cats are gray at night," so runs the ancient proverb. You perhaps remember Eugene Field's verses about "Good Things" at night.

Sometimes they're by the door.
Sometimes they're all a-standin'
In the middle of the floor;
Sometimes they are a-sittin' down,
Sometimes they're walkin' round
Right pert an' so prompt;
They never make a sound!
Sometimes they are as black as ink,
An' other times they're white—
But the color ain't no difference.
When you see things at night!

Sometimes even the daylight eye can't see colors, at least all of them. In fact, about four out of every hundred persons are partially color blind. They can see some colors but they usually confuse certain greens and reds. They also have difficulty distinguishing between rose and blue and between vermilion and brown.

Claude Edwards, optometrist, if you have any reason to doubt your vision is perfect. 288 Front Street.

How are your car battery and electrical system working these warm days? Your battery is the "life" of your car and it is imperative that it be maintained in good shape and never fail you. During the past two years or so, since Quinte Electricians have been established, this firm has been responsible for many large wiring jobs in this city and district, in each case giving absolute satisfaction. ASPHALT TWIN SHINGLES GOOD

If you're planning to build in the near future, or simply planning to have a new roof put on your home, try the new Heavy Butt Asphalt Twin Shingles, made by Building Products Ltd. sold locally by the Houston Co., Limited, well known lumber and roofing firm.

The test is always the least expensive in the long run, and so it is with these Asphalt Twin Shingles; these Heavy Butt Shingles with their mottled effect give a distinct advantage over other asphalt shingles, and this at a price little more than that of other shingles. A phone call to 1677 will bring you prompt service.

CHOICE OF PROPER ICE REALLY IMPORTANT

Hot weather at last and good ice an absolute essential. And speaking of good ice, don't overlook the fact that Graham's is absolutely pure, and clean; pure because made from the purest of spring water and therefore absolutely safe for use in drinking water or for any other purpose, and clean because it is not packed in dirty messy sawdust to clog your refrigerator pipes.

And then, again, reflect that with it's advantages of being safe and clean, Graham's ice is actually cheaper, because being harder, it lasts longer, a phone call to 374 will bring you immediate service.

For the well known Exide "long life" battery, and are prepared to give you expert service on this, or any other type of battery.

They are also expert in ignition systems on starter and generator repairs of all kinds. Take your ignition and all electrical troubles to them—they'll solve them for you. Phone 418.

Exchange Telegraph Prints Startling Story On Lowenstein's Fate

PLANE HANDED OVER

French And English Authorities Will Investigate Affair

London, July 9.—The Exchange Telegraph Company prints a rather startling dispatch from Dunkirk which gives a new theory on the disappearance of Captain Alfred Lowenstein, Belgian financier of the small airliner of New Orleans, on the coast of France, says the dispatch is reported to have stated that no was certain he saw a parachute fall from the skies, about the time the Lowenstein plane was crossing the English Channel, and about a few miles from the place where he was. He says a boat then goes where the parachute came down.

Paris, July 9.—At Mrs. Lowenstein's request, a court has appointed Captain Lowenstein's brother-in-law and associate, count Roger Van Der-Straeten, administrator of the Lowenstein's affairs.

As to the final pronouncement of death in the case of Lowenstein, action pending the official investigations of France and England, the Belgian government has ordered the British to hand over Captain Lowenstein's plane which, it appears, crashed in the sea. Never the less, technical experiments will be made in connection with Lowenstein's disappearance.

WEATHERMAN PROMISES LITTLE RELIEF FROM INTENSIVE HEAT

89TH BIRTHDAY

John D. Rockefeller

Is 'rounding into the final lap of a century on earth. The man who has given away half a billion dollars and amassed one of the greatest fortunes the world has ever seen observed his 89th anniversary on Sunday much as he observed other days in the twilight of his life. The only exception was that owing to it being Sunday he did not have his usual game of golf. Rockefeller believes firmly in fresh air and exercise to prolong life and his week-day golf game is the bright spot of his daily existence.

MANY VICTIMS

Whole American Continent Swelters Under Torrid Weather

Belleville sweltered over the week-end, and with little relief in sight it appears as though citizens will continue to swelter for some days yet.

Yesterday crowds poured out of the city in every direction to the Bay shore, to the Sand Banks, to Wesley's Bay, to the lakes, in fact, any place that the piercing rays of the sun could be avoided. By noon, Front Street was practically deserted and for a breath of air moved to the cool side.

Saturday's heat was almost torrid with the thermometer registering eighty-six degrees in the afternoon, the temperature on Sunday bettered this record, the mercury jumping to eighty-eight degrees with a corresponding temperature of sixty-five degrees, and Monday's minimum was fifty-three degrees.

Late Saturday morning it was was carried into the police station, a victim of the heat. He soon recovered, however, and was released when medical aid was not required. The police records today show no reports of citizens falling from the heat, but there were several, but in all probability the sun-rays had their effect upon several.

The bathing places and the County public baths were popular resorts over the week-end.

Toronto, July 9.—Toronto-lans returned today to sweltering offices with no promise that the weather man at headquarters had relented, the best ways which has prevailed here for many days and increased in intensity yesterday.

While the temperature today was not particularly high at 78, as compared with yesterday's seasonal record of 84 the humidity reached 82, the highest point yesterday being 73.

21 Lives In Wood

Chicago, July 9.—The Arctic zed the equator lent phenomena and tons, ridly to the western hemisphere. The aurores borealis streaked the night skies, while the daytime was a procession of blistering days that claimed at least 23 lives and sent hundreds to thousands to the hospitals for relief.

Chicago had a desire, directly and indirectly to the heat, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Kansas also reported deaths and prostrations growing out of prostration.

New York, July 9.—Eastern Seaboard continued today to swelter in the grip of a heat wave, twenty-one or more persons succumbing among the victims who sought relief Sunday in streams and at the crowded bathing beaches. Thousands were cited from the heat in New York City.

BAND RENDERED FINE CONCERT

Argyll Band Played To Hundreds In Victoria Park

Although the city sweltered yesterday and last night, Victoria Park made-ti tained its record as the coolest spot in town and hundreds trended their way to this delightful place in the evening for the band concert by the Argyll Light Infantry band. The organization which was recently taken in hand by Bandmaster Sergeant Major Ellis has improved wonderfully and their concert last night was enjoyed by many of the listeners. They rendered several popular and sacred numbers during the evening. The crowded conditions of Belleville for their first public appearance in concert, however, Bandmaster Zealley took charge and they acquitted themselves well last night. Mr. Zealley has had a wide and varied experience as bandmaster with larger organizations in Toronto and is the right man for the job. The band stand was surrounded by hundreds of people, when the concert started at eight o'clock. The mosquitoes were the chief detraction from the pleasure of entertainment. Scores of small crafts dotted the harbor and the river mouth during the concert.

FILM ACTRESS AND ENGINEER KILLED

New York, July 9.—A woman believed to be Mary C. Jobling, English film actress, and C. P. McCormick, Cleveland Engineer, were killed last night when an aeroplane in which they were passengers crashed at Spring Lake, N.J. The pilot was severely injured.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Proved high endeavors are an inward light
That makes the path before him always bright,
Looks forward, persevering to the last,
From well to better, daily self-surpassed."

—WORDSWORTH.

RACKETEER IS NEW IDEA FROM CHICAGO.

When Tim Murphy fell by machine-gun fire in Chicago he was referred to in the news despatches as "the most picturesque of the racketeers."

The term 'racketeer' is new in this part of the world, but it has a dreadful significance in Chicago. Literally a racketeer is one of a gang who operate a system by which citizens are compelled to pay for the privilege of existence.

How the Racket operates is described in a recent issue of 'Collier's Weekly.' One Funnyface' McGinty, it says, contributed $7,000 to Big Bill's campaign fund. Shortly afterwards McGinty notified garage owners that they were to pay each $250 for membership in an association, with monthly dues in addition. In return the garage men were assured the streets would be made unsafe for parked automobiles.

Mr McGinty made good his threat in regard to the uncertainty of leaving a car parked on a Chicago street. His industrious boys cut tires, smashed windshields and stole spares and until automobile owners began to see the wisdom of patronizing the nearest garage. They did that, and the garages filled up, but unless the garage owner had signed up, the cars were no safer indoors than they were on the streets. Inside an association garage a car was safe, but in any other garage it wasn't.

"The gang, known jocularly as the educational committee,' would simply enter an independent garage in force, indulge in an orgy of glass smashing and rubber slicing and leave the owner to settle with his patrons.

"After this, if he had any money left, and any judgment, the owner, even though not a crook himself, would always come across go to see McGinty, kick in with the two-fifty initiation and sign up for the payment of the monthly dues. If you don't believe this, go to Chicago and open a garage.

"As a trivial item in connection with the garage owners' Racket, two or three men are said to have been bumped off, but what of that?"

Charlie Eisenstetter, a distinguished fellow citizen of 'Funnyface,' using sandbags and bombs, 'organized' the fish dealers in Chicago's ghetto with such success that he continued with the meat business, the candy business, delicatessen dealers and bakers, and the owners all 'pay Charlie handsome tribute for the privilege of running their own shops.' Another Racketeer makes a specialty of the dairies, and over the doctors have been organized. After a few doctors have answered 'nine calls at night,' says the writer, 'and had been met by the 'educational committee' and worked over with short pieces of gas pipe, the others could see the advantages of owning a membership.'

The Racket game, according to this authority, has obtruded itself into nearly every phase of life in Chicago, and the Chicagoan 'actually leads a controlled existence.'

'He may not know it, but in many ways he has ceased to be a creature of his own free will. He buys his milk, his meat, and his groceries from stores which exist at the sufferance of the Racketeers, and at prices fixed by the Racketeers. The boys who shine his shoes, press his trousers, and wash his shirts are not really of his own choosing. Neither can he select the taxicab in which he wishes to ride.'

'When a Racketeer is arrested he is subjected to but little inconvenience. The judges have little if any control over the criminal situation.' And every Racketeer has the shining example of his mayor. 'He sees Big Bill', declares 'Collier's' writer, 'as the master mind back of the great American Racket, assess every policeman $10 for membership, and he takes his tip.'

HAVE YOU HEARD THESE?

'Oh, Mrs. Murphy, I 'ad such a scare in the night! I was awakened by 'earing a loud scratching noise. I went to get under the bed, and the first thing I saw was a man's legs stickin' out.' 'You don't say, Mrs. Calligan! And it was a burglar, I suppose?' 'No, my dear. It was me 'usband. 'E 'ad 'eard the noise, too.'

Brown—So you and the handsome Montgomery girl are one?'

Tilcombe—That's what I thought when the minister married us, but I have since concluded that we are ten.'

Brown—What do you mean?'

Tilcombe—She is one, and I am nought.'

OTHER MEN'S THOUGHTS

Cool weather has postponed the evil day, but soon we shall be exhorted to 'swat.' Swatting indiscriminately is not scientific. It is limited in positive, heroic and effective, but it application and, as a solution of the fly problem, it is about one-half of one per cent. Walworth Evans, in a current magazine article, says there is but one way to get rid of flies—birth control. If we have the good sense to leave no exposed food, garbage or sewage for the flies to lay eggs in, the generation of these pest breeders will be cut off. Future historians of our time may speak disparagingly of our civilization, recounting that we tolerated flies, because we had not learned so simple and decent a method of eliminating them.

DREAMS.

Not as we dream them,
Rose-sweet and wonderful
Laughter-thrilled, magical,
Our dreams come true.

Always some hidden,
Unforeseen circumstance,
Seeming malevolence,
Darkens the view.

Something we want not,
Ugly and masterful,
Sprouts through the beautiful,
War with our joy.

Someone is missing:
Gone the sweet comradeship,
Commerce of eye and lip—
Barren is Troy.

Yet go we ever,
Though earthly experience
Mocks at their radiance,
Dreaming our dreams,

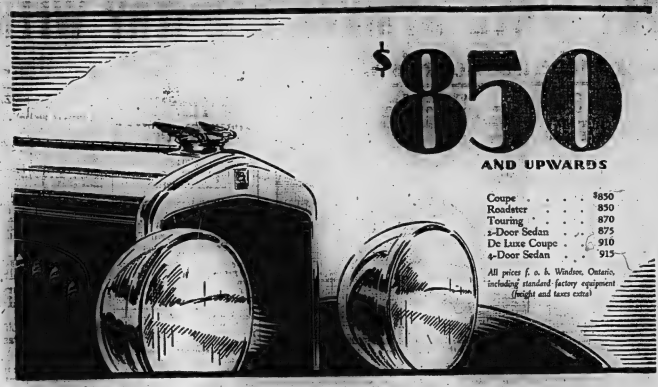

Dreams without reason,
Rose-sweet and wonderful,
Laughter-thrilled, magical—
Fools? So it seems.

Or is there a feeble
Spark of the infinite
Burning in Hell's dapple,
In me and you?

Lighting us onward
Through the inscrutable,
To a land wonderful
Where, as we dream them,
Our dreams will come true?

A New Car... A New Car Style.. A New Zenith of Low Priced Car-Luxury and Performance

New slender profile chromium-plated radiator — Long, low bodies.—Generous room for 2 to 5 passengers, according to body model.—Luxurious deep upholstery and appointment detail.—New "Silver-Dome" high-compression engine, for use with any gasoline. —Smooth speed up to 60 and more miles an hour.— Chrysler light-action internal expanding hydraulic four-wheel brakes—no other car of this price possesses this feature.

All Chrysler research, engineering and manufacturing have been inspired by the fundamental motive of giving ever greater quality and value for each dollar of car cost. Public recognition of this principle, in four years advanced Chrysler from 27th to 3rd place in sales in the N. A. C. C.

With a new product—the Plymouth—Chrysler is the first to give, at so low a price, the advantages of performance, riding ease, dependability and full adult size which characterize fine cars of higher price.

The new Chrysler-designed and Chrysler-built Plymouth is so revolutionary an advance over other low-priced cars, it is such conclusive evidence that the past year's strides in the science of manufacturing have multiplied the purchasing power of the motor car dollar, that you will surely want to see it and drive it.

And above all, you must see its beautiful lines and finish, and stretch at ease in its deep-upholstered, full adult-size bodies, to comprehend how completely the Plymouth surpasses cars heretofore sold under $1000.

The Plymouth is today displayed by every Chrysler dealer. He wants you to see it and to ride in it.

Please submit the Plymouth to this trial. We believe you will discover there has never been a car anywhere near its price that can approach the Plymouth for power, pick-up, smoothness, easy handling, safety, quietness and roominess—nor that can equal it in beauty and style.

A TRUE ORANGEMAN

In the Orange Order Church parade yesterday to Christ Church was Henry Alford, of 31 North Front St., who a few days ago celebrated his eighty-second birthday. Mr. Alford has been a member of the order for well over thirty-five years and in that time has seldom missed an Orange Walk or a church parade of the order. Yesterday he marched from the Lodge Rooms on Front Street over the Upper Bridge and up to Christ Church. After the service he marched back again which is considered quite a feat in view of his advanced age.

A DELIGHTFUL TRIP

Mr. Zed Tickell, Church Street, motored to the Thousand Islands yesterday and returned last night aboard the Steamer Cape Trinity. According to Mr. Tickell, this is one of the most delightful cruises on the whole of the Great Lakes system. The trip which is just sixty miles to Kingston, and the trip from that city was made in a little over five hours. Next week the steamer has been chartered by a party of U.S. tourists to make a trip from Lewiston to the Saguenay River in Quebec.

ORANGEMEN ATTEND CHURCH

Sunday last, the 8th July, being the Sunday before, 12th July, the Orangemen of Foxboro and surrounding country assembled in their Hall and marched to the church, which was filled to the doors. After a short service, Most Worshipful Grand Chaplin Geen of Belleville, addressed the large congregation, taking for his text, "Thou art Peter and upon this Rock I will build my Church." The preacher treated the subject from a Scriptural standpoint in a reasonable vein and was listened to with marked attention. After the Service, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the Grand Chaplin for his splendid sermon.

STEAMER STOPPED HERE

The Canada Steamship Lines ship "Cape Trinity" made its second stop here this season last night at 7.30 p.m. on its way to Toronto. It is a passenger vessel and the vessel will stop here again, since the passenger traffic from this city has been almost negligible.

Solomon Brant, who, as his name indicates, is an Indian, appeared this morning charged with having liquor without a permit, which is contrary to the provisions of the Canada Temperance Act. Brant pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and $7 costs. Constable Imard made the arrest, and stated that the man had had home-made beer in his possession.

A rack of umbrellas, left standing outside the door by Mr. C. J. Simmons, Front Street merchant, were recovered by the police and reposed in the property room last night. Mr. Symons recovered his property today. Police always take similar left outside stores to the station for safe keeping.

TWEED BOYS ARE LIKELY WINNERS

Annual Field Day Was Held At Community Camp

Although another day's records have to be taken into consideration in the totalling of the points which will decide which group of boys at the Metro Lake Camp have shown the greatest proficiency in all phases of the camp programme, it was almost a certainty Saturday night that the Tweed Twin boys would be the ultimate winners. The finals of the Senior Softball series which took place in a twilight fixture Saturday evening, resulted in the Tweed group being returned champions. As they had previously won the senior field day and the volleyball championship also went to them, there is small possibility of the Tweed boys being ousted from their position at the head of the race.

However the Tweed boys did not have it all their own way as in the aquatic events and the junior field events, they were forced to take lesser honors. Led by Tommy Byrne in the senior aquatics, the Belleville group made a clean up of these events. The junior softball series which was played in the mornings, was also won by the Tweed Twin Rangers following a hard fought game with a Belleville team. In this game the losers were leading when they entered the final innings but heavy hitting on the part of the Tweed boys and a couple of errors by the losers allowed one boy from the northern town to add another championship to their laurels.

All-around Senior Champion, R. Sayers of Tweed with 31 points. (Sayers was closely followed by Williams of Cannilton who had 30 points.)

Junior Events

Standing Broad Jump—Stephenson, Kerr, McCrae.

Six Pound Shot—Stephenson, Mundick, Kerr.

Base Running Contest—Kerr, Murphy, McCuthrie

Potato Race—Stephenson, Siegle, Kerr.

Team championship Point Anne 41 points, 2nd Belleville, 30; 3rd, Tweed, 15. Individual champion, Stephenson, Point Anne, who scored 31 points.

Records for the aquatic events were not fully compiled when this report was received from camp. These will appear in a later edition of the paper.

ORANGE ORDER

depressed, then is the time to look back on the good things of life.'

All through the ages, the Christian Church had put men in servitude, both body and soul, but until in the Middle Ages, the Christian Church had gone so far away from the doctrines of Jesus Christ as to found the terrible institution which held men to do its will whether they would or not.

When the first monasteries were built, they contained noble men, whose only wish was to live the simple life of Christ, and to hold the fellowship of other good men. For years they maintained this aim, but in time the seeds of decay set in, and in the reign of Henry VIII in England, they had become nothing but the homes of irreligious, sensuous men. They had become a curse to the world, and the results of them were disastrous.

Buddhism was started in India, and as the founder himself was one of the greatest men who has lived on the earth. He was religious, earnest and tried his best to follow in the simple ways of the Lord. Through the ages, the religion deteriorated to such an extent that Buddhism is today nothing but a scheme of extortion for the priests.

Taking them back to the time of the inception of the Orange Order, Rev. Clarke told them of the Stuarts, who were absolute believers in the Divine Right of Kings. Charles Stuart was beheaded by the English people, principally on account of this belief, while James, his son, went so far as to suppress all other forms, of religion in Orange, who, although weak in body, came over and in a succession of battles defeated James and became King in England.

William of Orange was determined above everything else that there should be no persecution of any person because of his religious beliefs, and although establishing the Church of England as the established church, declared that any other form of religion would not be suppressed, provided, of course that it did not involve crime.

"We can never be of that mind that violence is suitable to the advancement of true religion, were the sacred words used by Prince William. His Toleration Act caused a great deal of protest from Scotland, but it was enforced there also, and anyone could worship in any manner that they desired.

The ideals of the Orange Order are that they must not interfere with the religion of any other person, and to stand as the bulwark against religious persecution. The order is still needed because one never can tell from what direction the persecution of religion will spring. In Russia today, the Soviets are trying to suppress the Christian religion, and this end alone is the Order needed.

Where men are needed in the Orange Order, for it is only the Christian man who will defend religion. The Orders do not go around about it to defend it. The spirit of persecution still lives, and when it will break out no one knows. The Orange Order is one of the means to hold it in check.

The greatest power in man is his religion, and with his freedom of worship is his religious freedom. It is something to be guarded, and guarded well, for when one has lost that freedom, it is a hard thing to regain. The Order deserves the best men that can be found, so be sure to not forget your high calling."

GREATNESS EMERGES FROM THE STRUGGLE

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH,
Eminent Psychologist.

You doubtless have read some of the works of Sir Walter Scott.

You probably have been charmed and transported to fields of beauteous imagery and thrilled by noble deeds and daring exploits when you read those works by that master wing of romance.

But has it ever occurred to you under what a terrific strain those beautiful pieces of literature were written?

Did you know that he owed debts? Did you know that he owed debts over five hundred thousand dollars?

And finally, when he was stricken with paralysis, only one-fifth of his original indebtedness remained unpaid and this balance was wiped out by royalties from his books after his death.

Disease, social misfortunes of all kinds have often beset life path of great men. Milton was blind. Heine had chronic spinal trouble. Pope was deformed. Bismarck had tuberculosis. Moliere suffered from convulsions. Charles Lamb had attacks of insanity. Beethoven was stone deaf.

One could go on citing many more instances in which men and women have failed, only to be overawed by obstacles.

Then why be discouraged?

Why blame this, that or the other for not succeeding, for standing in the way of the fulfillment of your ambitions?

Why be depressed and discouraged? Think of what others have done and buck up!

Read the biographies of men who have suffered and profit by their example.

See what hundreds have suffered and yet conquered despite it all.

One person succeeds in one way, another in another, but no one has ever succeeded who did not have to overcome one handicap or failure after another.

Keep your persistence and pluck at fever heat!

In your own heart you must know it can be done!

First of all you must yourself be convinced that you can win.

Then daring becomes natural. Then you forge ahead fearlessly. Nothing daunts your courage.

Outstanding your spur you on to greater effort and achievement.

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Woman's Standpoint)

The first woman to receive the Bachelor of Laws degree at Rangoon University has been appointed assistant registrar on the original side of the Rangoon High Court, and her name is Miss Ma Mie Khin, B.A., B.L., and it is the first time a woman has been given an appointment in India.

At the recent marriage of Clara Bow and Rex Bell, Miss Joy Kenseley Rumford reproduced her mother's wedding costume. The bridesmaid's dress was in the "Empire style," with red, white, and blue as the predominating colors, and the bridesmaids wore rose-colored Empire dresses with old-fashioned poke bonnets and carried canes garlanded with roses.

Some London people now believe one of the best ways of improving one's golf is to have a slow-motion film taken of one's shots, and twice a week now at Holland Park a cine operator is at the disposal of players who want their strokes filmed, while thirty-six spectators in basket form watch from behind the client at the cost of 5s. 6d.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Fold a towel over the sprain and keep it wet with ice-cold or very hot water till the inflammation is subdued. Elevate the foot with ankle or foot sprains.

Carron oil, made of equal parts of linen water and linseed oil, should be gently applied to a burn. Sweet oil and thickly spread vaseline are also valuable. The object is to exclude all air and dust from the hurt surface.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a young girl seventeen years old and I go with a man twenty-two years old. I am alone in the world and am working for a living. He is well-to-do and wants me to marry him. I love him sincerely and I think he loves me too. What must I do about this situation?

LOVESICK ANN.

LOVESICK ANN: Why ask me, Ann? If you are sure of your love for him and his for you, why marry him? And I hope you live happily ever after and wish you all the luck and happiness in the world.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

We are two girls in our teens. We have been going with two boys for quite a while. One day we heard that they had taken other girls out. After this they asked us to go out again. We like these boys very much, but do you think we should accept their invitations?

A BLOND AND A TITIAN.

A BLOND AND A TITIAN: You silly girls! Of course, continue to go out with your friends. There is no earthly reason why they should not go out with other girls since they are not engaged to you. On the other hand, you, too, should accept invitations from other young men, and go about with them.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl in my early teens, and am in love with a boy nineteen years old. I met him on my vacation last Summer, he has asked me for several dates, but I didn't accept them.

Please advise me what to do.

BABE.

BABE: You certainly haven't made it clear to the young man that you are in love with him, Babe! Why didn't you accept his invitations?

I suggest that you write him to call some time when you are having a few friends in for tea or cards. Or you might even drop him a note and ask him to come some Sunday afternoon. Otherwise he may feel that you are not interested in him at all.

Many do not yet realize this!

"My bill for that call was 60 cents", said Mrs. King.

"I can't understand that!" said Mrs. Jones, "it cost me 75 cents when I telephoned".

Of course the explanation is that the first party had said to the operator when placing her long distance call "I will speak to anyone there".

That made it a Station-to-Station call, which is about 20 per cent cheaper than a person-to-person message.

Station-to-Station calls, besides being cheaper, are nearly always quicker than person-to-person (where you must locate a particular individual). Moreover, low evening rates (after 8.30 p.m.) and still lower night rates (after midnight) apply on station-to-station calls, and in most cases connection is established while you remain at the telephone.

Chapter 5a.

ONE MORE DECEPTION.

Shortly after Gwen's party, Mrs. Drew threw Celia into a panic by saying:

"Dearest, you and Richard have been entertained so much that I really think you should return some of the hospitality. Why don't you give a party?"

Her brain reeling, Celia answered: "But surely no one expects anything like that, when you are ill, dear."

The invalid answered wistfully: "I should like it, really. You could have the door open, and I could hear everything. It would be almost like being with you."

"I'm quite sure the doctor would forbid it," replied Celia firmly.

Her mother sighed.

"What a nuisance an old, sick woman is to young people. . . . I wish I did so want to meet Richard's friends — the ones who come in the evening — to see him. Really, I'm strong enough now to have many visitors for just a little while. And I've been ill. I seem from the world for so long."

Celia had no answer to that, and, after a moment, Mrs. Drew suggested brightly:

"But how absurd we are! Of course, this old house is too small and too shabby for a real party. There's the Country Club. You and Richard can give a nice dance there."

Celia's heaping proved of no avail. After the manner of invalid's, her mother's thoughts dwelt upon the idea so long and so insistently that, in the end, Celia consented.

She had no idea of giving a dance; in her heart of hearts, she knew that, with gossip rampant, as it was just then, she would receive polite, but pointed, regrets to any invitations she might issue. Gwen could be depended upon to round up a certain set, but the affair would be a farce and a laughing-stock to the rest of the town.

However, she announced to her mother the date of a dinner-dance that she and Falconer would give. It made her heart bleed to see the invalid's joy and interest in the event. She wanted to know all about the menu, the floral decorations, the orchestra, who was coming, what Celia would wear.

Celia told Falconer: "You've got to play up. When the evening comes, we'll dress and go out at the proper hour. I'll spend the time at Gwen's. You can do whatever you please. We'll arrange to 'return together. I dare say you can lie as well as I can, if not better."

"You can be the most insulting little cat," he returned, with a laugh. "All right, Celia. Anything to make Mother Drew happy."

"I'm glad there's some one in the world for whom you have a bit of regard."

Gwen came in on the afternoon of the supposed party and sat with the invalid. She gave a glowing description of the preparations that were under way. Downstairs, Falconer said to Celia:

"You are a wise girl not to try it, really. My dear, the town is simply aflame with gossip. There's nothing the cats would like better than to be able to turn down an invitation from us."

"Don't I know it?" was Celia's dreary response. "But I do hope we can get away with it, without Mother's suspecting anything."

"No reason why not. . . . Dress yourself in your prettiest gown; come to my house around seven-thirty, and make Falconer go to his club. And both of you return at two o'clock."

Celia went through the motions of dressing, her thoughts busy with her troubles. She hadn't felt comfortable when she met Miss Page in the hall. Did that busybody suspect the truth? Had she been to her mother's room, looking radiant in a gown of silver lace, Falconer, in evening clothes, came in also to say au revoir. Mrs. Drew looked at them lovingly.

"My two beautiful children! How well you suit each other, and how proud I am of you. Be sure to have a good time and forget this poor old nuisance of an invalid. . . . Now, dear, the car is here to take me to Gwen's. Shall I drop you at your club?"

"I'm not leaving for half an hour," he told her. "I've a word to say to the boys first."

She whispered apprehensively: "Don't you dare let me down."

He laughed: "Pretty brave, . . . Never mind, the tables will soon be turned. Believe me, in Central America, women don't give orders to their husbands in that tone."

She left him abruptly, heard him go into his quarters, and close the door. She hesitated, afraid to leave him there.

In the end, she went to Gwen's and passed a quiet evening. On the way home she stopped at the club, to pick up Falconer, as they had agreed. She waited in the car while a page went to call him. After a seemingly endless interval, he returned.

Rage at Falconer for putting her to this inconvenience at such an hour filled her heart, but she said calmly:

"You must be mistaken. I was to stop here for him. Go back and look through all the rooms."

The boy returned finally, and porter says that Mr. Falconer has not been in the club all the evening, Madam."

With fear in her heart, she hurried com. Miss Page met her at the front door.

"I was just about to send for you, Mrs. Falconer," she said.

How Much Water Should Baby Get?
A Famous Authority's Rule
By Beatrice Beckham

Giving baby sufficient water often relieves feeding ills. Then make up any deficiency with water.

This rule is two ounces of fluid per pound of baby weight. The amount of fluid absorbed by a breast fed baby is best determined by weighing him before and after feeding for the whole day; and it is easily calculated for the bottle-fed baby specialists agree nowadays, that during the first six months, babies must have three ounces of fluid per pound of body weight daily. A ten pound baby, for instance, needs twenty-four ounces of fluid. Later on the baby's fever, crying, upset and restless spells. Most doesn't, give him a few drops of Mother's Cordial. For these and other ills of babies, and children such as colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, sour stomach, loss of sleep, underweight, etc., leading physicians say there's nothing so effective. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper—and millions of mothers have depended on it in over thirty years of ever increasing use. It regulates baby's bowels, makes him sleep and eat right, enables him to get full nourishment from the food, so he increases in weight as he should. With each package you get a book on Mother-hood worth its weight in gold.

Just a word of caution. Look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the package so you'll be sure to get the genuine. The forty cent bottles contain thirty-five doses.

REGENT THEATRE

Bessie Love travels in a circle! In "A Harp in Hock," a picture production directed by Sigmund Hoffman, Bessie plays a pair of slippers to dance in a contest for a silver trophy, wins it then sells the slippers in order to buy another pair of slippers to go on dance to win more contests!

"A Harp in Hock," which comes to the Regent theatre today, a story of a pawn broker who adopts a son of Erin, was written for the screen by Hayden Talbot and Jane Murfin from Schildkraut and Junior Coghlan, with Bessie Love in the leading feminine role.

BELLE THEATRE

Fifty covered wagons of the type which blazed a trail to a new country in the days of '49 form a picturesque train in Paramount's Zane Grey epic "The Vanishing Pioneer," at the Belle. The wagon train was filmed crossing a weird whipped stretch of desert near Hurricane, Utah. At its head rode Jack Holt, who is featured in the cast of this Zane Grey picture, opening an engagement at the Belle theatre beginning today.

All of the wagons in the train were recruited from among the settlers in the Mormon settlements of Utah. They are not relics or motion picture "props," but actually are the most prized possessions of their owners. The covered wagon still plays an important part in the economic life of that country in the shade of gigantic red rock walled cliffs.

One unit from the Paramount studio remained on location in Utah for two weeks, filming scenes for "The Vanishing Pioneer." Some of these scenes were taken in the wildly picturesque rock walled canyon of Zion National Park. Others were taken in that desert country of the region with snow capped blue mountains forming a secondary background to the multicolored cliffs. Panchromatic film was used in many of the scenes so that all the beauty of the natural tints, made of colors was captured. John Waters directed.

TO CHECK CRIME OF DRUNKENNESS

Sir Henry Drayton Blames Alcohol Compounds And Canned Heat

Toronto, July 7.—Strenuous efforts are being made by the Liquor Control Board of Ontario to check drunkenness and the use of substitutes for liquor, according to a statement issued today by Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the board.

With regard to substitutes for potable alcoholic drinks, Sir Henry pointed that, over a period of years, many people have become addicts of such concoctions as rubbing alcohol compounds and canned heat, and that the use of these drinks accounts for a large part of the drunkenness.

The board formerly sold alcohol in six ounce bottles, but this practice was discontinued except on doctors' prescriptions. Some people, Sir Henry says, are in favor of resuming the sale as it can be bought freely in Quebec and brought in. He does not think however, that it is in the public interest to sell such a strong drink. Grain alcohol, which is now sold by the board, is a less dangerous drink, but when mixed with other kinds of alcohol it is unsafe for use by those who do not understand it.

In future no alcohol will be sold by the Board except on doctors' prescriptions, the statement says. Efforts will be made, in co-operation with the Dominion authorities at Ottawa, to stop the distribution of canned heat.

Alcohol should not be confused with ethyl alcohol, the intoxicating element. While of the same character of alcohol, whiskey blane is really a mild form of whiskey and is entirely free from objection. It is weaker by 113 degrees than grain alcohol. They will last whiskey blanc as now sold in Quebec at $1.50 for a 26-ounce bottle.

PURPOSE OF NATIONAL FORESTS

Although wide publicity has been given to the policy which the Department of the Interior, Canada, has for some time submitted with regard to the reserving of forest areas on Dominion lands for permanent timber production, a misconception still prevails in some quarters that the timber within a national reserve is reserved against use, Nothing could be more removed from the actual facts; all timber within these areas is available for disposal but its sale, whether for commercial purposes or for settlers' use, is necessarily submitted with regard to the preservation of the forest cover. SENSATIONAL FIELDING BEHIND GOOD PITCHING WON BALL GAME

BLAKELY INJURED

"Vinny" Utronki Pitched Fair Game And Kingston Lost 5-3.

By S. R. C.

Displaying a defensive system that is seldom equalled in Central League ball the Belleville Canadian Nationals forced the Kingston team to accept the short end of a 5-3 score here on Saturday afternoon in one of the best played games this season. There was a thrill provided for every inning and the locals bordered on the sensational at times. They turned in a dazzling performance that sent the spectators into howls of glee and if they continue in their present stride should overhaul the Oshawa team within a week. Oshawa won from Peterboro on Saturday by a score of 9-4 and the Shamrocks, a seventeen point margin over Belleville, who play a double-header in Deloro on Wednesday and a single game in Oshawa next Friday evening. Walter Gerow certainly had the boys on their toes and although the Kingston team outhit the locals they could not get the hits when they were needed worst. This is borne out by the fact that Belleville had but four men left on bases as compared with Kingston's nine.

Walter Gerow and Vinny Utronki the Renfrew youngster in, to do the hurling and although he found himself in hot water several times the sterling support by his team-mates pulled him out of several uncomfortable positions. Utronki allowed the visitors but eight hits, struck out five but his failure lay in the fact that he was a trifle erratic at times and issued five free passes. George Bullivan, who was working behind the plate, came in for some sarcastic comment at the hands of the fans and in all truth some of his decisions certainly left room for plenty of argument. He had handled scores of better games in the O. C. B. L. than was witnessed on Saturday and some of the wrong calls almost be termed gifts. He was a Santa Claus in disguise to the visitors on at least three occasions.

Vinny Jamieson opposed Utronki on the mound and the hurler was at his most equally divided with the Belleville moundsman having the best of the play in the pinches.

Jamieson fanned three, walked one and allowed seven hits, but the most of the singles meant runs.

Two smart plays were engineered by the Belleville team and Bob Blakely in a ball-park third baseman took part in both of them. The double killings had the effect of nipping in the bud promising chances by the Kingston team to score.

Weir's Running Catch.

It remained for Vernon Weir, the rollicking scotchman to provide the chief fielding attraction of the afternoon, and it was not until the ninth inning that Weir pulled his play. "Bobs" Britton, erstwhile Queen's football star was at the bat. He hauled out a nice Texas League that would have fallen safe in nine chances out of ten. Weir was off with the crack of the bat, sailed back toward left field and as the pellet was six feet off the turf he lunged for it, the tip of his fingers struck the ball and it bounced back in the air and Weir with a final spurt captured it as it fell for the second time. It was a finely played and he received oodles of well-merited applause. Harry Mills stole a bit from George Ada in the fifth inning when he got in front of his screaming line drive for the last put-out of the locals' log. It was a similar bat Mills clung to the sphere.

The victory was a costly one as Harry Blakely, who has been playing smart ball at short-stop received a bad gash on the nose when Chet Cherry slid into the keystone sack in the fifth frame. Cherry was attempting a steal, he came into the bag feet first and in the melee Blakely was knocked off his feet, Cherry's spike inflicting a nasty wound that required the back in harness on Wednesday, a medical attention. He will, however, was purely accidental and Cherry was the sorriest man on the ball ground. Given the versatile Point Ane player was shifted from right field to shortstop and Alex Weir filled Cherry's shoes in the garden. Green can play centre-field with equal effect and is a handy man to have around.

Kingston's murderer's row, of Brighton, Cherry and Ada failed to connect in his all afternoon and their bats were noticeably silent. These three are a general rule collect about half of the hits but Utronki was forcing them to pop weakly to the infield and outfield all afternoon. Buck who is playing his first year in senior ball continued to play a smart game and apparently Vinny Daley made no mistake when he placed the youngster as a fixture in right garden. Buck got two hits, one of them a double. Jamieson, while he pitched a steady game, did not confine his talents in this direction but helped himself to a pair of hits as well.

Ross's Terrific Hitting.

Wicky" Ross, who has been shifted from first to sixth place in the batting order indicated that he can still hit by pulling out two mighty clouts one of them a triple, while he also banged out a double. Both were clean hits and the change is surely working wonders with him. Ross, who replaced Ross at the head is pounding the apple at a great rate these days and his triple was the longest hit of the game. It sailed between deep right and centre field and had it been five feet farther Scott would have hit for the circuit.

Cherry's catch of Harry Mill's tremendous hit in the first inning was a fine piece of work and the big outfielder was forced at a breakneck speed to make the play. Bob Scott's steal of home in the second inning was a nice piece of baseball and he caught the visitors napping at the switch. In the fourth frame he stole third and as he was rounding the base, Jamieson flung the ball past the catcher and Scott came on home. However, Bullivan raced him to go back to third, but in the face of it all he pulled another attempted steal of the plate and it was successful.

Kingston opened the scoring in the first inning, Arnell being given a walk and Buck sent him to third with a nasty double to left. Duke Britton, the next man up caught one to his liking, drilled it out of the outfield and both runners counted. The next three men went out in order.

Vern Weir was struck by a pitched ball in Belleville's half. "Penny" banged out a nice single, and Sunny Green who followed got another hit and Weir scored. In the second frame Belleville went into the lead when they hung up two more. After two men went out Utronki started the fireworks by doubling and Bob Scott his slick kick and inseparable companion banged out a triple which sent Utronki over. Scott also broke for the National's third run.

In the fourth it was Scott who started it again after two men had gone out. He singled, stole second went to third on a wild pitch, and then pulled the plate. In the sixth their bats rung again. Ross, the first batter reached out his trip and he counted the fifth run on the pitcher's single. In making a wild throw to third to nip him off the bag. Kingston made things interesting in the fifth, but Jamieson was straightened out a smart double play, Hagerman to Scott and Kingston lost a chance to score. In the following frame, however, they were not to be denied, Tetro Stone and Jamieson came in in quick succession and for a moment it appeared as though Utronki's reglne was at an end. His control returned, however to the rescue and the best the Kingston team could do, was to get up one lone run. In the eighth Tetro walked and Stone was hit with the ball with only one down, but Jamieson filed to Hagerman and Jerry Arnell, pinch-hitting struck out and Jimmy his brother filed to Weir.

It was a smart game of ball, and although a trifle long drawn out, the numerous halts to question umpire's rulings and injuries to players were unavoidable.

BEAVERS BEATEN BY HUMBER BAY

Napanee Will Open Bay of Quinte Season On Tuesday

Although they out-hit the Toronto Humber Bay team here on Saturday night the Beavers lost an exhibition game by a score of 16-12. The visitors closed the lid down in the pinches and the Beavers could not score. The Humber Bay team is one of the best to play in Belleville this season and the fans who lined the armouries were not disappointed for having turned out. The Beavers will open the Bay of Quinte League here on Tuesday evening when the Napanee Club will be here. Grant Paul, Manager of the Napanee team always welds a good Club and the fans will see a smart team in action. The Beavers have yet to win the Bay of Quinte League but they are going to make a bid for it this year. The Belleville Ontario round out the league which is composed of three teams only.

The Humber Bay team play in the Sunnyside League Toronto and several of the players with the team by their display indicated that they are among the best in the Queen City. Alfred Wesley at short-stop and Grace Colpacher in centre field took the eye of the fans with their work in the infield. "Beiller" Melchoir, of the Beavers, got a home run to deep centre field and Evelyn Cook featured with her hitting as well as her smart playing in left field.

Miss Molly Gray pitched for the Beavers and she was opposed by Miss Kent. Both were good and there was little to choose, as far as the hurling was concerned. Miss Beswick catcher, with the Toronto team got a home run, and played a perfect game behind the bat. The scoring was scattered throughout the nine innings. The Humbers clipped a strong batting corp toward the close and scored enough to cinch the affair.

The Gooderham and Worts team will be the chief attraction here on Saturday. With Napanee here on Tuesday and the G & W on Saturday, local softball supporters will have lots of action this week.

TORONTO LEAFS WON TWO GAMES

Newark, N.J., July 9.—The Bears tumbled into seventh place yesterday by losing a doubleheader to the Toronto Maple Leafs by scores of 4 to 1 and 5 to 2. The Bears were unable to hit the pitching of Hankins and Fischer. Likewise, they played listless ball in both games. On the other hand the Leafs batted the Bears' hurlers. Bentley was an easy victim, while Brennan had no better luck. Cote hit a home run in the first game.

Montreal July. 9.—It must have been the heat. The Royals struggled the afternoon.

By "The Observer"

Belleville Nationals face three tough games this week, two in Deloro on Wednesday afternoon, and one in Oshawa on Friday. If they can win all of these they will be sitting at the top of the Central League once again.

With the half-holiday on Wednesday many will no doubt avail themselves of the opportunity for the trip. The roads to the north country are in good condition and those who accompany the team are certain of witnessing a good game.

The Oshawa game was originally scheduled for Saturday but as there is a fruiter lessons game on that day the tilt will be played on Friday night. The Oshawa Club have been favored with slim crowds all season and they hope by changing the date and with Belleville and the Motors staging a neck and neck race to play before a packed stand on Friday.

Belleville were scheduled to play in Kingston on July 23rd but as another attraction has been billed for that date the Nationals will play there on the 20th. Another change in dates which may be made is the final visit of the Oshawa team to Belleville. The Motors were slated to lay here on Saturday, July 28th. Walter Gerow is anxious to have this game arranged for Wednesday the 25th as this is an open date here.

Saturday is obviously not the day to play ball in Belleville and this was more than indicated in the slim attendance at the game played here with Kingston. For some weeks there has been an agitation for a Saturday afternoon game but this did not turn out, and if the ball team acceded to the wishes of a few fans—they would soon find themselves with an empty treasury.

Walter Gerow proposes to pitch "Sunny" Green in one of the games at Deloro on Wednesday. The Point Anne boy has played three-positions already and made good in them all. He was a pitcher with the Cement team and buried some good games. With the Nationals playing air-tight ball there is no reason why success should not attend his efforts in the box. Gibson will twirl the other game of the double bill while Utronki will be saved for the game in Oshawa on Friday.

Miss Athol Wesley, who played here with the Humber Bay team on Saturday night lived up to all of the good things that were said about her by turning in a perfect game. She is one of the leading players in Toronto and left no room for doubt as to her ability by her display.

Miss Grace Conacher in centre field also, played a good game and while she was kept awfully busy took care of everything that came her way.

The Bay of Quinte League will start shortly with Napanee, Belleville Beavers and Belleville Ontario as the contending teams. These three will no doubt make things interesting as they are all evenly matched.

HINT RESIGNATION OF ARCHBISHOP OF YORK

London, July 10 (C. P. Cable)—The London Daily Telegraph Ecclesiastical Correspondent hints that the Archbishop of Canterbury may announce his resignation at a meeting of the convocation of Canterbury, today. He says the Churchmen are of the opinion that the Archbishop of York oughtnot to be passed over in the appointment of a successor and if the choice "whether or not" above has already been settled" has fallen elsewhere it is likely to come as a complete surprise.

THREE KILLED AT MILITARY CAMP

Lightning Strikes Field Battery At Petawawa Near Ottawa

Petawawa Camp, Ont., July 10.—Major Jack Chamberlain and Lance-Bombardier A. Y. Goudey, both of the Seventh Field Battery, Montreal, were killed when lightning struck two guns during a field battery while at battery practice here yesterday afternoon. Lieutenant-Col. R. Rutherford, commanding officer, was seriously burned about the face and arms.

Gunner J. W. Dyson, of the Third Medium Battery, K.C.H.A., Kingston, was killed Sunday night when struck by lightning.

While yesterday's storm broke Lieut.-Colonel Rutherford's left arm and shoulder, and his men had just completed a Major O'Sullivan was standing in the open field and was instantly killed by a thunderbolt, which also shattered Gunner Percy Goudey's body nearby.

Gunner Dan Conquerwood, Toronto, was holding one of the horses which was stunned, but he escaped injury.

Gunner Twice Escapes

Gunner Conquerwood was talking with Gunner Dyson on Sunday night when he startled his escape to the fast that on both occasions he was wearing rubber boots and a rubber raincoat.

Two other persons received shocks in the lungs from the storm. They were Miss Theo Tamblyn, daughter of Col. J. S. Tamblyn, of Kingston, who was stunned unconscious by lightning when she was turning a tap at the house. It took several hours to revive her.

Doctor A. A. Linton, of Toronto, camp doctor, attended her at the time when lightning struck the instrument, throwing him eight feet and stunning him for a few seconds. He was able to personally direct the attempts to resuscitate Major O'Sullivan, Lieut. Goudey and Gerry Goudey.

392 CANDIDATES

Miss Mary Orser of S. S. No. 10 Sidney, Wins County Award

The Belleville Board of High School Entrance Examiners have completed their labours, and the duties that were particularly heavy, as more candidates had to be dealt with this year than ever before. There were 310 from the City Schools including the Ontario School for the Deaf; 167 from the rural schools near Belleville; and 25 at Frankford, a total of 392 that the Board had to consider.

The results are creditable to the teachers who prepared the pupils as well as to the young students who now are ready to leave the Public School behind, and enter upon the work of Secondary Education in the High School or Vocational School.

The contest for the Board of Education Medal was very keen, and when the final results were summed up, only a very few marks separated the winners from the others immediately. The contest for the County Medal was more keenly contested than ever before, and it was not until the paper had been valued, that the winner could be booked with certainty.

The Board of Education Medal is won by Miss Frances Evans of Queen Victoria School. The County Council Medal is won by Miss Mary Orser of S. S. No. 10 Sidney. The C. O. I. Medal for prize is won by Miss Louise Schryver, of Queen Victoria School.

This year two additional prizes were placed. Mr. George A. Reid a year ago offered two prizes of $5 each to the Girl and boy respectively among those who were required by the Board to take the final examination and who stood highest. Edward S. Russell, of Queen Mary School, won the boy's prize, but the Examiners could not award a winner for girl's prize, for two young ladies were tied for first place, Miss Georgina Skrabec, of Queen Victoria School and Miss Elma Gorow of Queen Mary School.

Candidates are being mailed to the successful candidates, and a statement of marks to any who were so unfortunate as to fail. A reminder to candidate has the right to appeal as in-dicated on the statement of marks, but candidates are advised to consult their Principals before making their appeal in any subject.

For convenience of reference, the City Schools are given by schools in alphabetical order, and honours are indicated.

LITTLE HOPES FOR SURVIVORS

Lieut. Lundborg Says Murdooned Men Suffering From Fever

Stockholm, July 10.—Lieut. Lundborg, who was marooned on the ice off Foyne Island with the five Italian aviators for five days, says that all were suffering from fever and most of them showed signs of mental aberration.

Little hope is held out for their immediate release. Their morale is low. Other details coming from Spitsbergen conflict with reports of the disaster given out by General Umberto Nobile. All telegrams from the base ship Citta Di Milani, where Nobile is believed to have arrived safely after his flight from the first minute after the dirigible crash on May 25. Nobody can explain how Citta Di Milano and other stations were unable to pick it up until June 9, when the base ship first announced they had established communication with the survivors.

General Nobile's mysterious statement about the unexpected fall of the Italia says that the crew was not prepared appeared to conflict with the fact that there were 500 pounds of provisions in navigating cabin for six people. This was held to indicate that the measure had been taken for a forced landing, otherwise the provisions would have been kept in the dirigible's interior.

PATTERSON COMPANY TO PROCEED WITH M'COLL BROS. GAS STATION

City Solicitor Graham Will Issue Injunction Against Erection

START IMMEDIATELY

Court Action May Follow Announcement By Company

Contracts for the wrecking of the old Bakeral property on Front St., recently acquired by McColl brothers for the erection of a modern gas station were signed today and the work will start almost immediately. The Walter Patterson Construction Company who have been given several contracts for the wrecking of property for gas station construction, were awarded the job and Mr. Patterson stated to the Intelligencer today that thirty or forty men will be employed on the job. Mr. Patterson said that McColl Brothers are planning one of the most elaborate structures between Toronto and Montreal which will probably rival in the neighborhood of $18,000. Hall and Symons, pool room proprietors, the present occupants will be forced to seek new quarters and it is understood that they will move their business to the shop which is being vacated by R. Oliphant and Sons on East Bridge St. Mr. Patterson said that two entrances one on Bridge Street and another on Front Street were planned. There will be parking space for cars and the old buildings at the rear will be torn down when construction will be started.

This announcement will no doubt clear the air, and Mr. R. J. E. Graham City Solicitor asserted that an injunction would be issued against the erection of the station on behalf of the city. This is the culmination of considerable fire-works in the City Council, dating from the time City Engineer Campbell issued the building permit. The sale was consummated through Mr. J. L. H. Corman of the Belleville Realtors. The district has always been placed in the restricted area by the Council. The City Solicitor recently instructed the City Fathers to take the necessary steps in case McColl Brothers went ahead with the erection. It has been a bone of contention and with Mr. Patterson's announcement a warm time is promised.

Mr. G. H. Gustar, representative of the Canadian Institute of the Blind was the interesting speaker at the meeting this afternoon, and suggested means whereby Kiwanis in this City could assist in the prevention and cure of blindness among children and adults. According to the speaker, fifty per cent of blindness is preventable, and if a number of the schools were undertaken, a good percentage of the children would be found to have defective sight, which might quite possibly lead to total blindness if not treated.

Mr. Gustar offered the assistance of Nurses through the Canadian Institute if a survey of this kind were made. He has been interested in the work done by the Provincial and Federal Governments and also by the Canadian National work for the blind of all ages throughout Canada.

MANY TOURISTS SEEK LODGING

Bide-a-Wee Camp On Bay Shore, a Popular Resort

Mr. Harry Ketcheson, proprietor of Camp Bide-a-Wee on the Bay Shore, 20 miles west of the city, reports that the tourist traffic is so heavy that his accommodations are taxed every night. Many are turned away and he states that the number of tourist parties who seek lodging is really astonishing.

Mr. Ketcheson has in the neighborhood of twelve cottages along the bay shore which are equipped with comfortable beds and furniture, and tourists declare that it is one of the best "Cottage Camps" in Ontario.

Meals are served at the restaurant which was built this year at the entrance to the camp, and many take advantage of this convenience rather than look after the meals themselves though they do not stop for the night. It is under the very capable supervision of an expert chef, and meals which are served being of the highest quality.

Several Belleville people have rented cottages from Mr. Ketcheson which they use as their summer home and which is one of the most beautiful along the Bay. It adjoins the Country Club and many golfers who motor down to the game of golf have only to walk a few rods to the Country Club. Next year, Mr. Ketcheson people would do well to drop in when travelling in that direction, and note, the comfortable cottages and the most comfortable tourist resorts in the country.

Last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sillman Dundas St., the members of the Sunday School Church Choir and their friends were entertained at a social gathering. Well over twenty-five members were in attendance and the event was enjoyed by all concerned.

Owing to the rain supper was served on the spacious verandah overlooking the garden while the verandah being lighted by numerous fairy lamps made a very pretty setting for the proceedings. Before the supper a game of soft ball was played which resulted in a great deal of merriment.

During the evening games were played and several vocal numbers rendered by the Cleveland Radio Quartette was in attendance, and favored with several selections by their quartette during the evening. Mr. Hedley was introduced as an elocutionist and his reading was very much enjoyed.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Our deeds determine us as much as we determine our deeds.
—GEORGE ELIOT.

TOURISTS SHOULD BE MADE WELCOME.

The weather in Canada this week has been just warm enough to make visitors here glad that they live in the northern portion of this continent rather than in the South. We can understand how, at this season of the year, the people of the South must long for a breath of the cooler breezes of the North, and the number of American cars seen, together with the numerous American bills in circulation indicates that our neighbors have been taking advantage of a holiday week to seek a change in a cooler clime.

Canada is destined by nature to be the summer playground of the continent, but it is only during the past few years that we have realized the possibilities of our country in this direction and begun to go after the tourist business in wholesale fashion. How this business is growing is shown by the fact that it is now estimated that tourists from the United States alone this year will spend more than $300,000,000 in the Canadian provinces this year, which is probably about $200,000,000 more than Canadians will spend across the international line and abroad. This is a highly satisfactory balance of trade" in Canada's favor.

Though tourist travel is a seasonal activity it is looming up in ever-increasing importance as an economic factor. Spontaneously generated, and for some years permitted to develop largely of its own accord, this holiday travel to Canada has now come to rank as a major source of revenue, taking a place in this regard with the Dominion's greatest natural resources.

The traffic is enriching Canadian business, swelling the revenue of Dominion railways, aiding highway construction and providing employment for many Canadians. It is also a source of much government revenue.

Canada is a natural playground. It provides hunting and fishing for countless Americans and many European. Over its good roads pass endless streams of automobiles from the United States. And its hotels and other hostelries are filled with foreign visitors.

This vast and lucrative business is again going afoot. Recognizing this, certainly all the provinces are inviting tourist business, confident that it can be doubled in the next decade. It is well to make touring in Canada easy and pleasant.

Belleville is well favored in this regard. Its hotels are modern and will be graded with the finest in Canada. Its location on the highway between Toronto and Montreal is ideal. Its parks are beautiful. Its boating facilities are unsurpassed. Its bathing beaches will be given an ovation when here-tours, but the Dominion will feel a deeper satisfaction still in the reflection that there may be a succession of years in which the Diamond Jubilee shall find a guardian in Canada. Jack Canuck is probably better than any British caveman of the day, and young Canadians in all parts of the Dominion should be inspired with the thought that they belong to a breed that trains for victory.

HARD TIMES FOR L. C. A. OFFENDERS.

These are "trying" days in more than one sense for those charged with offences against the Ontario Liquor Laws. The number of these convicted of crimes, who have been in the habit of parading regularly in the editorial rooms of the country with the plea, "Please keep my name out of the paper," is becoming smaller and smaller. They know it is no use.

The man who is convicted of driving a motor car while intoxicated is getting scant consideration all over the country, and it requires the production of evidence showing the most 'extenuating circumstances' to bring forth sympathy for any other kind of a police court offender, in most newspaper offices.

It is a well known fact that most offenders fear publicity more than the punishment they receive in the courts —officially when they are let off with a light sentence in the hope that they will be forgotten.

The Border Cities Star has decided to use this powerful weapon in connection with its campaign to 'clean up Windsor,' and rid the place of rowdyism, gambling and rumselling. A warning has been issued that all persons convicted of being frequenters of these questionable resorts need not ask the 'name to be kept out of the paper.' Men and women found in such places are liable to a fine and imprisonment—and publicity as well.

It is an encouraging thing to note that the number of newspapers scattered all over this province, who are anxious to assist the legal authorities to enforce the law, by co-operating in the matter of publicity, is rapidly growing. The press can provide a great deterrent to crime by following this course, of course. In cases where there is no reasonable cause for the suppression of names.

People who are afraid of the limelight of publicity should give a little thought to this feature of their offences before they do them. Sometimes heavy fines before they deliberately transgress on ineffectable relatives, but offenders should think of their relatives before they proceed to disgrace them.

REQUIEM FOR RUPERT BROOKE

There is rich dust beneath the olive trees
At Scyros, where, wrapped in his martial cloak,
Forever lies the gay young heart that broke
For England, far from English fields and seas.

His voyage ended while the wind still filled
The snowy sails, and storms had not yet risen;
And so instead of dying he was a mariner skilled,
And it is sad to find him in this prison.

An island vault enfolds what England gave—
The boy of her bold brown singing lad;
But song is too elusive for the grave;
I think his name shall be the spark to light
The torch of those who wander through the night,
And guided thus, drop anchor in the sun.

HAVE YOU HEARD THESE?

The son of an old experienced banker was about to leave home and begin business on his own account. 'Herbert, said his father, on this, the threshold of your business life, I desire to impress one thought upon your mind—Honesty is the policy that is best.' 'Yes, father,' said the young man, 'And, by the way,' added the father, 'I would advise you to read up a little law. It will amaze you to know how many things you can do in a business way and still be honest.'

'Now, sir,' said the professor of medicine, 'tell me to what class of maladies insomnia belongs?' 'Why—er,' replied the medical student, 'it's a contagious disease.' 'I never heard it so described before.' 'Didn't you learn all this?' 'From experience. Whenever my neighbour's dog can't sleep, I'm as wakeful as he is.'

Just Stories

Rev. Mr. Whipley, the one-time Cahadian soldier, pastor of Chelsea Presbyterian church, New York, has just delivered himself of this pulpit talk, based on his observations as a night taxicab driver. "I have discovered that the man on the street lives by one commandment: Don't get caught. The desire to do, to have, is sufficient to the deed. Lost in the crowd, blind ed by the glare, swallowed up in the seething maelstrom, men on the street do things unbelievably ugly, commit the most unspeakable deeds. They come to New York from all over the face of the earth. They come believing in themselves, in their fulures. Vision themselves idols of the people, powers in Wall Street, headliners on Broadway. They do not know that there is only 63 cents' worth of taxi distance between the Bowery and Broadway; only 30 cents' worth between Wall Street and the Ghetto. Tired to death, scared by nameless fears, keyed to the breaking point, they look this way and that, and see no one to help. Left to temptation."

Rev. Lennox Knight is a daughter of the Republican candidate for the vice-presidency, was one of the high-lights of the Kansas City convention when she took the platform to second her father's nomination. "I think it was nice of the delegates to permit me to second my father's nomination," she said. "The convention trip was my first experience in politics, and I enjoyed it very much." Mrs. Knight's features and coloring show the Indian strain that courses through the Curtis veins. She is dark of skin and sedge line-nose and carries herself with grace and dignity.

HOLE-IN-ONE AT JASPER PARK

"This is a little one but can give A trouble," said Bell Irving, of Vancouver, describing the 165th hole at Jasper Park Golf Course, which Bell Irving, of Powell River, B.C., recently negotiated in one and promptly entered the gallery of fame in Canadian golf. The shot is small and narrow with run-off and bunkers on all sides, and it has been dubbed "Canada's Bad Baby."

In a course which offers large grass tees, wide fairways, daring hazards and magnificent natural greens, the 165th brings a particular zest to the game, golfers say.

Jasper Park Golf Course is situated in Canada's greatest national Park and its maintained in connection with Jasper Park Lodge, a most delightful resort in the Rocky Mountains, operated by the Canadian National Railways.

Great rolling stretches of beauty, with the magnificent background of snow-capped peaks combine to make Jasper the incomparable golf course. Bracing mountain air puts a vim in the game that comes from the sheer joy of living.

Canada's most delightful golf tournament will be staged six days of September, 5th to 10th next, and the principal prize in the amateur championship fight is the Jasper Park Lodge Silver Trophy. This cup, the most characteristic golf prize offered for competition in the Dominion.

CAPITOL THEATRE

One of the most delightfully refreshing comedies seen in Belleville for some time was presented at the Capitol Theatre last evening for the initial appearance William Boyd, a comparative newcomer to Belleville audiences, played the leading role and as a comedian may be classed as distinctly "different". The story itself unlike many comedies is decidedly interesting and centres around the deep entanglements between two "buddies" whose workers on the construction of a New York skyscraper. It is replete with spontaneous fun and touches of pathos. There is, of course, a love story running through it and the Cabret as the charming chorus girl makes a delightful heroine. Alan Hale as Swede Hansen presents an able portrayal of his role and no one can afford to miss seeing this picture which will be seen again tonight and Wednesday.

On the stage the Imperial Players present "Good For Nothing Husband" an interesting drama which calls forth excellent acting on the part of the players and Miss Bigden in her role of the long-suffering wife made a decided hit with the large audience present. The same play will also be seen again tonight.

LET THE BRAIM SAVE BODILY EXHAUSTION

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH,
Eminent Psychologist.

Ordinary laziness is no virtue. It's a lull and clutch that holds one back. Certainly the average lidder and the indifferent, indefinite individual never succeeds in a way that instriking.

Nevertheless, although we are accustomed to think that all progress has been brought about through the expenditure of great force and energy—and that, indeed, often has been true—it is also a fact that much has been accomplished in a way that may be called indolent and lazy.

It is said that Robert Fulton was lazy. The mathematician Newton was lazy. Samuel Johnston boasted of his indolence. Darwin, Spencer, Isaac Goethe always made it a rule of life never to hurry, but to take things easy.

In what respects did they make laziness a virtue? Simply because they planned! They thought things out in advance! They took the leisure to think!

Many of the world's greatest inventions have been fostered with the idea of saving our steps, and labor, our time.

Thus we have had first the cart, then the carriage, then the automobile, and lastly the flying machine.

To save ourselves writing, the printing press came into being.

To save the labor of the farmer various kinds of improved farm machinery were developed.

The telephone, the telegraph, wireless—all cut down the expenditure of energy.

The geniuses of the world have helped to give us the opportunity of being lazy!

There's no question but that if we thought more and worked our muscles less we would all succeed more quickly and in a more pronounced and signal way!

The trouble is we hustle and bustle because we have nothing else to do because of it.

We do about three-fourths of everything rather and we do well afford to be lazy. Use your mind and save your body. Think things over before you act. Don't rush about from one thing to another. Don't waste energy! Conserve it!

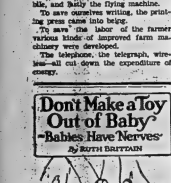

That is the truth of laziness that is a real virtue!

That is the kind of laziness that is great!

Learn to make your mind the really controlling machine that it should be.

Make a little mind energy go a long way.

Too many of us are energy spendthrifts and consequently we cannot afford to be lazy.

Much of the nervousness in older children can be traced to the overstimulation during infancy, caused by respecting baby as a sort of animated toy for the amusement of parents, relatives and friends. Baby may be playful with, but not played with more than a quarter of an hour to an hour daily. Beyond that, being handled, tickled, caused to laugh or even smile, he will sometimes result in vomiting, and invariably causes irritability, crying or sleeplessness.

Fretfulness, crying and sleeplessness from this cause can easily be avoided by treating baby with more consideration, but when you just can't see what is making baby restless or not sleep better give him a few drops of pure, harmless Castoria. It's amazing to see how quickly it calms baby's nerves and soothes him to sleep; yet it contains no narcotic opiates. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper. Leading physicians prescribe it for colic, diarrhea, diarrhea, constipation, gas on stomach and bowels, feverishness, loss of sleep and all other "upsets" of babyhood. Over 25 million bottles used a year shows its overwhelming popularity.

With each bottle of Castoria, you get a book on Motherhood, worth its weight in gold. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the package so you'll get genuine Castoria. There are many imitations.

TEACHERS WILL ATTEND SESSION

Winnipeg Scene of Teachers' Convention This Year

Winnipeg, Man. (By C.P.)—Winnipeg will be the educational centre of the Dominion for at least three days, when the Canadian Teachers Federation gathers for session at the Parliament Buildings here July 24-27. Educational work in the west will be given a boost. A large attendance is expected and the visitors will literally own the city.

The crowded social programme will not be permitted to overshadow the instruction given over strictly to business. After the addresses of welcome from the mayor of Winnipeg and the provincial minister of education on July 24, the convention will hear the annual address of Dr. F. A. Hardy of Toronto, the president and the secretary-treasurer's report by Alderman M. J. Coldwell of Regina, Sask., and clear routine business on the way.

The first intensive discussions are expected on the reports of the standing committees, on July 25 when subjects coming up as overcrowded classes, tenure condition, professional training and teachers' certificates, interchange of teachers, parliamentary and legislative representation and examinations. Dr. W. P. Russell, dean of the teachers' college at Columbia University, New York, a distinguished visitor, will address the teachers on training. On July 26 the convention will continue the reports on the relation of the high school to the university, educational costs and superannuation, questions of great importance to the profession.

The hospitality which Winnipeg will extend to the visitors commences with a pre-convention reception tendered by Winnipeg teachers. On July 24 the government of Manitoba tenders a ban quet while on the evening of July 25 the city fathers become hosts, taking the delegates for a motor tour about the city with high tea at Tower Port Carry. A visit to the Winnipeg Grain Exchange is also promised. A public exhibit chamber is on the programme, also being considered by the Winnipeg board of education on the evening of the last day, July 26.

When you have made a fine meal of gravy and get it too thick, thin and soften it in flavor by adding a tablespoon or several of cream. It will be of better consistency and should be if happen to have a curry flavor, you can make it agreeably milder with the cream.

When Sour Sours

Sweeten the stomach—instantly

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomach. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been overstimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an Alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a teaspoonful dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians for the 50 years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggist.

Chapter 58.
DISASTER.

With hands that trembled, Celia clutched Miss Page's arm.

"What is it? What has happened? Tell me quickly."

"It's not another, Mrs. Falconer. She's had a relapse."

"Tell me!"

"It was all Anna's fault. . . . Long after you'd left, Anna came up to tell me that a gentleman had called to see Mr. Falconer. I said, of course, that you'd both gone to the club, but Anna beckoned me into the corridor. I failed to close the door"—for once, Miss Page looked guilty—"and an invalid's ears are very sharp. . . . Anyway, Anna said that Mr. Falconer was with his friends in the laboratory, but, when she knocked at the door and he opened it, he at last caught a glimpse of the gentleman who was waiting in the hall. Anyway, he went very white and closed the door."

Manuel! The name flashed into Celia's excited brain. The longed-for and yet dreaded Manuel, at last!

"What then?" she heard herself asking, in a voice that sounded strange and strained.

"Anna knocked again, but there was no response, and, when at last she dared open the door, there was no sign of Mr. Falconer his friends. They must have left by the window. She didn't know what to do, because the strange gentleman said he wouldn't leave until he saw Mr. Falconer. That's when she came to get me."

"Yes—and then?"

"I went downstairs and saw the gentleman. He was very dark—Spanish, I think. When I told him that Mr. Falconer had gone out, he said, 'I will give him the message. He can't escape me. If I don't see him tonight, I'll see him tomorrow.'"

"And my mother?"

"When I went back to her, she had fainted. The nurse and I had to use the strongest restoratives. I was really frightened, at one time. I telephoned for the doctor, but he had gone out for the evening, and we were quite around all right. She's asking for you."

Celia dashed for the stairs. Miss Page followed, a trifle breathlessly.

"Of course, I don't know exactly what was going on tonight, Mrs. Falconer," she panted, trying to keep up with Celia, "but do all you can to soothe her, I suppose it's all right for me to say that I know you weren't giving a party with Mr. Falconer at the head."

"Celia," she whispered weakly, "you didn't tell me the truth! You and Richard didn't go out together tonight. He was here for hours after you left. . . . Celia, what is it all about? What is wrong between you?"

"It was business, darling," Celia told her breathlessly. "Richard made a sudden conference. He had to make his excuses to our guests."

"If only I could believe you. Always I've believed my own daughter, but there have been so many odd things lately, You and Richard—what is wrong? Celia, you've not stopping so long him? You've not left me, there isn't somebody else?"

"But I hear things. Snut in as I am, I see things. And I can't understand. I be here, day after day, night after night and worry so."

"Sleep now, darling. You're overwrought. In the morning everything will be better. Dick will explain what happened tonight—why he had to go away so suddenly."

Inwardly she was saying: "Yes, and suppose he doesn't come? Suppose the sight of Manuel—if it was really he—sent him away for good? What then?"

Celia descended to the laboratory. It bore testimony to Falconer's hasty departure—test-tubes, glasses, half-smoked cigarettes, the window open. Falconer had made a quick getaway. Would he return?

He had to return, she told herself. He couldn't leave her in the lurch like this. She peered the floor in the living-room, conscious of the fact that the spring night was chilly and her gown was light. The windows into the garden were open, but she didn't notice it.

Falconer, detestable and odious as he was, mustn't leave like this! What was she to tell her mother?

The hours passed unnoticed. Celia didn't even hear the chiming of the clock on the mantel. She wondered if any woman had ever lived through such a hideous night.

And Manuel—what would be the next? What scandal would be heaped upon her, if he should succeed in seeing Falconer? She realized bitterly that, with the present state of her finances, she hadn't enough money to bribe him to go away, even if he would accept the bribe, at last, just when she had given him up. He stood in the doorway, a tall, white, ghostly figure, and Celia's heart sank into her slippers.

He said, with an effort at his old jauntiness: "Well, my dear girl, I'm afraid the game is up."

WHAT'S NEW

(From a Woman's Standpoint)

White crepe with black accessories are being worn by smart women at Chantilly.

Satin in melon shades will be smart for fall evening wraps. Style takes it to be strong for both afternoon and evening.

In the advance fall models, the skirt length generally is unchanged from present regulations—that is short but covering the knee.

At a Grand London dinner recently sprays of glass primroses clustered at the corners of the table like little nests of sunbeams, an exquisite glass tree with fairy-like branches formed the centre-piece, glass bluebells shimmered between delicate green leaves, and tiny glass posies held the menu cards, while in another drawing room, a corner was occupied by a tall vase of delicious and sumptuous lilies, exquisitely grouped; it was almost impossible to believe that the beautiful sheaf was made of feathers.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Often stair-eyes are put upside down to be corrected. Next time look at the tread and the pins pat in the upright, when it is much easier to nail.

Groceries can frequently be bought cheaper in bulk than in packages. However, it is well to consider whether storing will affect the article and whether or not the storage will prove more expensive in the long run than if bought in smaller quantities as being certain of fresh goods.

Pure little girl who has an ideal gardener is her wish brimmed bonnet with its green eyes to shade the sun and her printed frock to match. Gathered beneath the little round collar, the frock is made comfortably full and short. Ribbon streamers that hang from the collar and run around the crown of the bonnet are the only trimmings. They are made of matching material render a practical frock that looks well and fresh for hot sunny days.

SINCLAIR'S

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

Will you please tell me which is the worst—the girl who goes out into the world, falls into temptation, and meets with disaster or the scandalmonger of a boy who is willing to listen to the story about that girl, and hang around street corners blabbing to all the fellows he meets about her downfall and giving them a chance to add more to the story as it travels around the world? R. J.

R. J.: We would, be a rare of super humans if we were able to resist every temptation thrown in our way as fairly as we might like to. My teaching and, I am sure, yours too, has been that temptations are sent to us in order that we may strengthen ourselves against them and know them when they next come our way.

We cannot, or rather should not, condemn without knowing the circumstances, which sometimes may soften the offense.

I personally, cannot feel it in my heart to condemn a girl placed in the circumstances you relate, and I know there are many wiser, more learned people than I who feel exactly the same.

Such a girl should be treated with kindness, not repelled and shunned and pointed out as an object of scorn. One Wiser than all of us once said to the woman: "Go and sin no more."

As for the question stated by your letter, I think the girl who has committed an error may well be preferable to one who maliciously spreads the story of the error.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

We are two young girls going to high school. Recently we have been receiving anonymous mail with two young men, who at the present time are acting very indifferently toward us in an effort to make us feel bad for a very minor mistake on our part. We have acknowledged this to them but still they think me are to blame.

We would like very much to renew this friendship as we know both boys, they still care for us, because they have said so.

Please, advise us what to do. Is it our place to make the advances or have we done our part by apologizing to them? Is it not? M. AND R.: While their lips say one thing, their actions say another, M. and R. True forgiveness no, only says it, but acts it, and I think, were I in your place, that I would try to forget all about the young men, until they show by their actions that they are sincere in their statements.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a high school girl and, naturally, I have had a number of flirtations with the high school boys and have gone out on a number of dates with them. I have tried to keep friends without going out so much with them, and I never let them interfere with my school work.

Lately I met a boy that I care more for than the others. He is highly respected in the school and is a good athlete. We think a lot of each other and our names are generally linked together at school.

The only thing that we ever quarrel about is religion. He is strong in his belief. I am asking you in plain advise me whether we should let this stand in the way of our friendship?

WAITING.

WAITING: I think you are very foolish to let religion stand in the way of a fine friendship, my dear. Does his religion detract from his personality or from his ability or his school records? Not at all! As given him a background and a faith and courage to keep on in the fight way; to strive for the best and highest; and teaches him the surest way to a good life and clean one, Religion, no matter of what faith, is the shining beacon which lights up the pathway of life, my dear, and to refuse friendship on the plea of difference of religion is a confession of a very small and unthinking mind. And I am sure that you are not that sort. The days of narrowness and bigotry are past, so put such thoughts out of your head and enjoy your friendship for friendship's sake.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

For the past few months I have been going with a young man quite steadily. A few weeks ago he promised to call me or see me, but failed to do either.

Do you think he cares and will call later?

He has no reason to be angry at me. BLACK EYES.

BLACK EYES: If he has no reason Black Eyes, just try to forget him. Enjoy yourself with your other friends and if he cares enough to apologize, he will be the one to make the advance.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I was going with a boy not long ago. Not steady, understand, but I am only sixteen and do not think of going steady until my boy friends is a "steady."

I had gone out with this boy about seven times and I valued his friendship very highly. But all at once he stopped calling for me and even stopped phoning which he had done every night. He speaks to me whenever we meet face to face, but he never goes any farther to make a date or anything.

I have no idea why he has lost interest, for he told me he cared for me more than any other girl.

What can I do to regain his friendship? I would so like to have his friendship again. DOT.

DOT: You might invite a few of your friends to a little party and invite the young man in your list of invitation. Or, when you run into him could stop and talk and invite him to call some time. His attitude then should tell you how he feels.

Dresses For Hot Weather

Sleeveless Frocks are very welcome styles for hot days, and when they are such pretty models as these, they are most desirable. Celanese flat crepe, spun silk, fugi, and raychine are used along with smart prints in this group. White predominates, with many other pretty colorings as well.

'REVOLUTIONARY' DESCRIBES NEW PLYMOUTH CAR

$850–$915 Marks New Era In Low Price Field

The Canadian-built Plymouth one of the three completely new cars announced by the Chrysler Corporation of Canada, Limited today, is the largest, roomiest and most powerful car in the entire low-priced field of motor cars. It is built in six body styles—coupe two and four door sedans, de luxe coupe, roadster and phaeton—priced at from $850 to 1715 at the factory.

Various of these body styles, as well as those for the new Chrysler "75" and "65", are on display at F. C. Lee's Chrysler, and at other Chrysler and Plymouth salesrooms throughout Canada.

Chrysler executives believe the new Plymouth, with its entirely new development both in body and chassis design, will revolutionize the entire low-price field of motor cars just as the original Chrysler cars of 1924 have since revolutionized the whole motor car industry. It is the conviction of these men that no value of this car's equal has ever been produced in the low-priced field. The Plymouth, they say, may justly be termed "Walter P. Chrysler's most astonishing achievement." For at that factory price of from $850 to $915 it also includes these features:

Remarkable Abilities

Fisst: smoothness of operation at all speeds, 60 miles an hour with a smooth purr unlike anything approaching its price; rides the roughest rough at 25 to 30 miles an hour without jar or discomforts; handles with amazing ease at every speed under any condition; is the only car in the low-price field with the safety factor of INTERNAL EXPANDING hydraulic four wheel brakes—wet weather does not affect the use of molded brake linings, lubber to found only on cars of far more expensive construction; characteristic Chrysler flashing accelerating. "Silver Dome" perfected high compression cylinder head, using any grade of gasoline and extracting from each grade more in power, hill climbing ability, speed and acceleration than has hither to been considered possible; brand new style, grace and distinction in body lines; large, luxurious and comfortable bodies, finely upholstered and fitted, affording unusual leg-room and headroom, ample for two to five adult passengers, according to body model; modeling treatment which permits of greater distribution in the choice of colorings; new Chrysler-created slender profile radiator shell and new bowl-shaped headlamps, both chrome plated, insuring permanent brightness and beauty; all the other benefits of the vast resources and brilliant achievements of Chrysler engineering research and manufacturing combined in the principle of Chrysler Standard tied quality.

NOT PHOSGENE GAS THE CAUSE

Terrible Disaster Fault of Bersol a New Fearful Invention

Mrs. J. W. Nicholson of Rochester spent last week with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wesley MacDonald.

L. O. L. 2599 will hold their July meeting on Thursday July 5th. Arch Meeting.

Mr. Vincent Bennett has left Plant 8 and gone to Detroit where he expects to be located in the future.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Soles on June 18th.

Mr. John Narstead of Head Office paid a short visit to the plant last week.

According to a special, cable from Berlin to the, New York Herald-Tribune the gas recently and unaccountably released at Hamburg was not phosgene. It was, says this correspondent, a new and more fearful poison gas called bersol and invented by Dr. Hugo Stolzenburg, Professor Gerhrude Woker, a chemist, at a meeting of the League of Human Rights here is the further authority for the statement.

This gas was manufactured by Dr. Stolzenburg for Russian Bolsheviks at his plant in Russia, and later was stored by him in his Hamburg tanks, where, the fatal explosion occurred, Professor Woker said.

"On the skin of several victims of the Hamburg catastrophe blisters were found which could not be caused by pure or mixed phosgene he alleges. These blisters could very well be corrosive consequences of hydro-fluorine," the chemist said.

"Besides the yellow color of the gas clouds stretching over Hamburg their bleaching effects on plants and the loss of consciousness by those attacked, the gas cannot be attributed to pure phosgene."

NATIONAL COUNCIL EXPEL PARTY LEADERS

Capetown, July 9.—As a climax to bitter quarrels in the South African Labor Party, the National Council of the party met at Durban yesterday and expelled from the party Col. F. H. Cresswell and Hon. T. B. Boyden, members of the South African Government and leaders of the party.

The action was the result of their activity in convening unconstitutionally a conference at Bakenfontein in which the committee was appointed ousting the National Council of the party. The South African Cabinet is a coalition of the Labor and Nationalist party members.

REGENT THEATRE

"A Harp in Hock," which will be on view at the Regent theatre today, features many contrasts. Life, love, pleasures, hone, rest and excitement, in the world metropolis, New York. It is vibrant with drama, thrill, pathos, laughter and appeal.

Associated with Mr. Schildkraut in the cast are Junior Coghlan, May Robson, Beatrix Low, Louis Wolheim, Clarence Burton, Elsie Bartlett, Joseph Striker, Mrs. Charles Mack and others.

BELLE THEATRE

Imbued by the same spirit that had carried the early settlers through similar situations which had the added mental hardship of great danger, the wagoners moved steadily onward while the camera continued to click.

The sun was peeping up over the edge of the weirdly colored rock cliffs which spread in grotesquely picturesque fashion over the section of the country when the film unit started work at Sunrise (as the mornings). In spite of numbed fingers, wind and sand blinded eyes and painfully chapped faces there was no letup, except the time necessary to eat cold box lunches, in the day's work until the sun had vanished behind the western cliffs.

Drivers of the fifty covered wagons which made up the train were practically all natives of the region. Their grim, silent stolcism very often passed even the most hardened of professional players. Not a word of complaint did they utter during the long period of work, for they are of true pioneer stock. The picture is now showing at the Belle theatre.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Belleville, July 4, 1928.

Dear Sir:—

In reading "The Globe" of yesterday, I noticed that the famous Band of the Royal Air Force, have just embarked on one of the C.P.R. steamers for a tour of Canada, and the Toronto exhibition.

I have had the pleasure of listening to this Band broadcasting, and it is a pure delight to hear it.

What about the Auditorium of our new Collegiate? Inderstood that when same was completed, Belleillians would have an opportunity to hear some of the good concerts, operas, etc., but I understand that owing to our beautiful Auditorium has not even been listed with the Booking Agencies for these things.

I am sure that I am by no means the only person that would like to have the opportunity of listening to this famed Band. Would it not be possible for us to have a concert from them?

We are hardly old enough to go outside of our own City to hear good concerts, and I have been wondering that we have not already heard of a good opera, or concert being staged by the Rotary, or Kiwanis Clubs, or better still, a combined affair. We should have something from our own talent for the opening of the Auditorium. Of course, it is only right that the School should put on the first affair, but perhaps this is a bad time of year for that, just after the holidays.

Lots of people are lamenting the heavy taxes we will have to pay for this school, but I think in a few months most of us will have forgotten that when we see the added good the school will be to our City.

The Auditorium should be a means of providing a large revenue for the School Board, and I would suggest that they get busy and have some of their officers get in touch with the Booking Agencies, and give us, who are footing the school bill, a chance to hear some of the good things.

Foreign Bonds
Sound, Attractive and Well-Secured Investments
Interest rates, in most parts of the world, have declined to lower levels than those which have prevailed, at any other time, since the war. Many foreign countries, hitherto heavy borrowers in outside markets, are developing the capacity to supply their own capital requirements. So, it appears likely that, the trend of interest rates on long-term investments will continue toward lower levels. In view of this situation, the current market is most advantageous for acquiring long-term investments which provide attractive income returns.

Security	Due	Price	Yield

NATIONALS HAVE CHANCE TO GRAB LEAGUE LEADERSHIP THIS WEEK

Belleville Play In Deloro And Peterboro In Kingston Tomorrow

Belleville Nationals have a nice opportunity to slip out in front of the Central League tomorrow when they engage Deloro in double-header at the Sanders' Park. It would certainly be a sweet victory if the railroaders could take both ends of the mild-week attraction and Oshawa would have to accept second place as the Motors crew will be idle tomorrow. Peterboro plays a single game at Kingston and with these two teams batting it out for third place the fur is bound to fly.

Manager Walter Gerow will likely use "Hook" Gibson and "Sunny" Green on the mound at Deloro tomorrow, saving Utrosky for the game at Oshawa, on Friday night. Belleville, if they display the form shown on Saturday should win all three games this week. The Nationals certainly played like champions on Saturday and Ritough Kingston put up a good brand of ball they could not cope with the Nationals' timely hitting and sensational fielding.

Peterboro appeared to be one of the surprises of the league when they got off to a brilliant start two weeks ago but apparently it was only a flash in the pan and the Petes have fallen back into their evil ways. One of the reasons for the Pete's failure this year has been the poor showing by Alvin Seckman who was at one time numbered among the league's best. Jeff Mahill has been forced to carry the burden and he cracked on Saturday for the first time and the team lost. Dainty had gone to pieces and "Hark" Morrison was sent in to pitch and it appeared to be all over but the shouting. However in the seventh the Oshawa team fighting like demons pounced on Hardill's offerings and he was hit hard and often. The Peter rolling-pin ed their 5-1 lead and the Motors came under the wire first. It was a tough game to lose.

Belleville team is determined to win the Central league and they are out to oust Oshawa from the leadership this week.

League Standing
	Won	Lost	P.C.
Oshawa	7	4	.636
Belleville	8	5	.615
Kingston	6	7	.461
Peterboro	5	7	.417

GIANTS LOSE 3 TO THE PIRATES

Series Ended Yesterday By 5-3 Win For Pittsburgh

New York, July 10.—The Pirates took the final game of the series from the Giants at Pittsburgh yesterday 5-3, making it three out of four played.

Burleigh Grimes pitched a steady game against his former teammates and with the aid of Lloyd Waner's home run in the 5th inning with one man on base, scored his third win of the season over the New Yorkers.

The deciding play of the game came in Waner's homer, when Welsh misjudged the hit and allowed the ball to go over his head and roll to the fagpole in centre field. On the hit Welsh ran in, then tried to retrace his tracks, but failed to get to the ball.

Brooklyn made it three out of five from Chicago when Dazzy Vance pitched the Robins to a 6-3 victory over the Cubs at Chicago.

The Cubs got 11 hits off Vance but did not have the punch with men on bases to turn them into runs. Blandcroft made one great stop to save Vance some trouble and on two other occasions double plays checked Cub rallies.

The Robins bunched five hits in the fifth inning to score four runs off Pat Malone. Harvey Hendrick accounted for two of the runs with a home run with one man on base. In the same inning Fairfax drove out a triple, Babcroft a double and Carey a single.

Ray Kolp did a good day's pitching while pitching the Cincinnati Reds to a 5-4 victory over Philadelphia at Cincinnati. His single in the sixth brought in two runs to complete the Reds' scoring.

Philadelphia had the edge on total hits by taking 12 off Kolp, but the Reds placed their nine safeties to best advantage. The Reds made their 102nd double play in the second inning. Drowne to Critz to Lucas.

The Cardinals increased their lead over the Giants to four and a half games, as the latter were losing, by defeating Boston here today, 9-5, and clinching their third victory of the four-game series.

Outfit by 12-5, the league leaders scored five runs on the two homers Bottomley's nineteenth of the season which brought in two leaders himself, and Harper's with one on base. Siaker erstwhile manager of the Browns hit for the circuit with one on and added two hits.

The consumption of sugar in the United States, which was 6 lb. per head in 1918, rose to 103 lb. in 1922 and 149 lb. in 1926—nearly 3 lb. a week!

OPENING GAME OF QUINTE LOOP

Napanee Clash With Alan Meagher's Beavers Tonight

Grant Paul and his Napanee team will make their first appearance of the season here tonight when they will clash with Alan Meagher's Beavers at the armouries in the opening game of the Bay of Quinte League. The Napanee team won the Bay of Quinte loop last year and the Beavers have yet to cop the laurels. The Beavers have been improving by leaps and bounds this year until now they are regarded as one of the leading teams in Eastern Ontario. Several exhibition games with outside teams have served to place them in fighting form and the Napanee team will need to be real good, to take home the verdict to night. Molly Gray who has pitched the majority of the games will be on the hillock and if the team lend any kind of support she should win. Evelyn Whalen will be behind the bat with Horne run king "Thy" Warnan, Pearl Tuttle and the rest of the stars in the line-up. Jothan and Johnny Kerr have been assisting Alan Meagher in the coaching until the Beavers have reached almost the state of perfection.

The Napanee Club have some smart players in their line-up and Belleville fans who journey over in the automobiles will witness a fast game.

YANKS DIVIDE DOUBLEHEADER

Pennock Shut Out Browns, Then St. Louis Got Win

New York, July 10.—The open season for doubleheaders came to an end at the Stadium yesterday and from now on the Yanks hope to have a rest from the two-a-day stuff. The championship aren't a bowling success at it. They won one doubleheader from the Browns, last another, and yesterday cleaved two asunder, taking the first one, 4-0, and having the second one taken, 12-6.

It was a dip from the sublime to the ridiculous; from Herb Pennock's perfect pitched game in the opener to the ludicrous efforts of four alleged pitchers in the second. It was during that frenzied fifth that the four later throwers were, and the Browns walked across three twice runs and twenty hits.

The Red Sox took both ends of a doubleheader from the Detroit Tigers at Boston, 4 to 0, and 8 to 2, thereby gaining an even break in the series. The first game was a pitching duel between Earl Whitehill and Jack Russell. Whitehill allowed only four hits but received poor support.

Lefty Morris turned in his twelfth victory against four defeats in the second game. Connie Ryan connected for a home run but freely he also was given ragged support by his mates.

The Athletics had a merry batting orgy yesterday, clubbing George Grant and Billy Bayne for 15 hits that defeated the Cleveland Indians, 14 to 4 at Philadelphia.

Lefty Grove, who had a string of seven victories without a defeat, had his record smeared in the first inning when three runs came in. Three of the Athletics turned in perfect batting averages. Those were Bing Miller with two doubles and two singles; Sammy Hale, three singles and a double, and Max Bishop, two singles and a two-bagger.

Hunnefield's single, followed by Chapman's double and a double by Reynolds gave Chicago a lead in the first innings of yesterday's game that was never relinquished. The White Sox beat the Senators 3 to 1 at Washington while Chicago took home run in the ninth when West tripled and scored on Blume's single.

RED WINGS GET 13-6 VICTORY

Buffalo Bisons Easily Mastered By 'Jing' Johnson of Orioles

Rochester, July 10.—The Red Wings batted Harrison, Lautenbacher and Potts for 18 hits to win yesterday's closing game with Reading, 13-6. Harrison was relieved by Lautenbacher in the fourth and lasted only one inning when Potts was rushed in as the Red Wings continued their attack. Five of Rochester's 18 hits were for extra bases.

"Jing" Johnson easily mastered the Buffalo Bisons yesterday and the Orioles won out, 6-3, squaring the series at two-all. A home run by Fisher with a man on put the Bisons in the running temporarily after Lamotte and Brower each hit for the circuit for the Orioles. The game was interrupted three times by heavy showers.

The Royals, smarting under the double defeat tagged on them Sunday by the pestiferous Black Cats, went after their opponents in business-like fashion yesterday afternoon and behind the steady pitching of Bob Shawkey chalked up an easy 6-3 triumph. Shawkey turned in what was easily his best performance with the Royals, limiting the Cats to six scattered hits and but for an error by Frazier in the eighth, after two were out, would have scored a shutout. Bob also wielded a potent bat, driving in two runs

PROVINCIAL POLICE SWOOP DOWN ON LIQUOR DOCKS

Three Stricken Members of Polar Expedition Rescued--Lieut.-Col. Graham Given Service Medal

WINDSOR POLICE SEIZED LIQUOR

Sir Henry Drayton Charges Short-Circuiting At Border

DOCKS CLEARED

Claims Liquor Firms Have Been Accumulating Supplies

Windsor, Ont., July 11.—The seizure of the two local export docks, Carling and Walkers with liquors worth more than $500,000 was made this morning by Provincial Inspector F. H. Wright, acting on direct orders received from Hon. Henry Drayton, Chairman of the Ontario Liquor Control Board. The docks were seized at 8.15 this morning, the employees were cleared off the premises and a squad of provincial police put in charge of each. All books and papers were seized and a chartered accountant for the board in the Clarkson firm of Toronto set to work at six o'clock to check up the books. In a statement, Sir Henry Drayton said that there had been evidence obtained by the police that short-circuiting or the placing of export liquor in illicit charges for consumption within the province, has been going on all along. He blames this on the fact that exporters have accumulated large stocks and takes the stand that such accumulation is contrary to regulations of the Canada Temperance Act regulating the importation of liquor and its transport through the province.

Toronto, Ont., July 11.—Asked today about the seizure of the two liquor bonded warehouses at Windsor, Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Ontario Liquor Control Board, said that no statements were made this morning. The instructions were to select two warehouses from the many dealers' bonded in Windsor and its neighborhood and in selecting these he believed he acted the most desirable in the interests of the administration of justice and the interests of law and order".

ACCIDENT RATE IS DECREASED

Two Efficient Traffic Officers Watch Roads Closely

Belleville district have been exceedingly fortunate in the fact that few serious motor accidents have occurred on the highways since here this year. While other centres have recorded many accidents Belleville has been conspicuous by its absence in the news despatches regarding crashes on the roads. While the traffic has been higher than other years with the ever-increasing number of cars under the accident rate has been lessened. No fatalities have resulted and no serious injuries have been reported. This may be due to the efficiency of Traffic Officers Frink and Hinchliffe, who keep close observance on the highways. Both of these motor "cops" are doing their utmost to keep the rate down by curbing the speed of reckless. They also desire to use the highways as a speedway find themselves facing a police court charge.

WORK PROCEEDS AT NEW SCHOOL

Hope To Open Collegiate Institute With "House-Warming"

Youngsters in city and county homes eagerly scanned the newspapers containing the results of the entrance examinations yesterday and while more than one was too lost because of a failure the majority of the pupils were successful in gaining their entrance to High School. One lad broke up the intelligencer and with a gasp of surprise exclaimed: "Holly Gee, look'st here, I win a scholarship." Other juniors revealed that the youngster's name was Robert Russell of Queen Mary School, the winner of the boys' prize given by George A. Reid for having obtained the highest marks in the city. It is expected that the number entering the high school in September will surpass all previous records. The school, one of the most modern in Ontario, will be the pride of the present student body and many of the graduates of the public schools who would otherwise attend another Collegiate will come to Belleville to obtain their secondary education.

The school will be all completed by the time the boys and girls are ready to enter and the building and facilities will be a revelation to those who have never seen it before. Two gymnasiums, a magnificent auditorium, and locker rooms are among the chief features. P. C. McLaurin, whose dream it has been for the past ten years hopes to open the Collegiate with a "house-warming", having as the guests the residents of formed days. Mr. McLaurin plans to hold "open house" for one week when any who wish, may spend as long as they wish. In visiting he new building and "leaving autographs" on the old wall chairs.

REPORT STATES MAROONED PARTY LOCATED BY SEARCHING AIRMAN

Three Men Who Tried To Bring Food To Comrades Found

WERE NOT ARMED

Fear Polar Expedition May Have Claimed Lives of Nineteen Men

London, July 11.—A Reuter's despatch from Moscow states that a walking party of the dirigible Italia has been found. The message was received in Moscow today that the Russian flier Chukhnovsky, who has been making flights from the ice-breaker Krasnin, now near Foyle Island, made the discovery in the course of a reconnaissance flight. The Russian airman found Dr. Finn Malmgren, Swedish Meteorologist and member of the expedition, and Italian Navy Navigator, at 80.42 north latitude and 25.45 east longitude, about 25 miles from the present position of Krasnin, this is west of Cape Platen, Northeast Land.

The group of three men had been missing and practically given up for best ever since May 25th when they left nine men of Nobile's group who had been thrown from the ice. They had started on the journey with the marooned party and then decided to make an effort to trek across Northeast Land to King's Bay. They carried approximately 50 pounds of provisions but no fur as known have no arms.

Trying To Reach Land

The pilot this afternoon was searching for a place to make a landing near the party in order to pick them up. The airman reported that he circled over the men five times, two of the party energetically waving a flag to him. A third was lying down.

The purpose of the walking group was to reach King's Bay base to bring help back to their comrades who were stranded near Foyne Island. Dr. Malmgren had a wide experience in life in the Arctic because of his previous studies as a meteorologist in that region. While they do not know he will be able to take care of himself and his two companions despite the Arctic hardships. It was found that the handicap facing them was too great and that they would be forced to camp. Later official word of them was heard from the time the three left other men. Several days ago a search party was organized and the hunt for the handicap facing them was too great and that they would be forced to camp. Later official word of them was heard from the time the three left other men. Several days ago a search party was organized and the hunt for the missing fliers were in constant search for them and the various planes which have scoured the country from on a thorough look out in an effort to trace them.

Trying To Reach Land

King's Bay, July 11.—Indications increased today that the tragedy of the Arctic, which has already claimed the lives of nineteen men, Chief fears were entertained for the fate of others. Those believed dead were:—

The Italian Alpine Chasseur Captain Ilero and two Norwegian guides who also started a search.

Commander Nobile is the only one of his party rescued. Two others were killed in the crash.

Fear has increased for the safety of the five, frost-stricken and partially insane men marooned on the ice by the crash of the Italia.

There appeared to be no immediate prospect of their rescue. For fully two days all efforts to communicate with them by radio have failed.

ALL CANADIAN POLICE FORCE

Some Provinces Not Satisfied With Work of Provincial Police

Lethbridge, Alta. (By C.P.)— The formation of an all-Canadian Provincial police association, in the interest of better co-operation among the various provincial organizations and consequently better public service, is urged unanimously by the delegates to the association necessary if the police of the country are to function properly and efficiently," he declares.

The sponsor of the plan believes that if the various provincial forces were affiliated in a strong dominion-wide organization, the Saskatchewan government would not recently have been compelled to hand back the police duties of their province to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. This is no disparagement of the provincial police forces, but other provinces are getting satisfactory protection from their own organizations.

Co-operation between the different provinces in the prevention of crime and the punishment of criminals, Constable Maddison points out. Such co-operation necessarily already exists but is entirely voluntary. A dominion association would give the provincial policemen an opportunity of getting better acquainted with their fellow-workers in other provinces. "It gives us an opportunity of exchanging our views and ideas, which tends to create that fellowship and good feeling and good feeling which is necessary if the police of the country are to function properly and efficiently," he declares.

"Throughout the American continent, association composed of police chiefs, detectives and sheriffs, have all the present time very strong and effective organizations and the results of their getting together is no doubt shown in greater security movements by the rank and file which go to make up the largest part of any police force," he said. "The results already show that this good work must be kept up, and there is no question but the public is coming to realize that it means increased efficiency.

"An all-Canadian Provincial Police Association is entirely constitutional and practicable. It would serve a useful purpose to the rank and file of the several forces concerned and also the public at large. It would, unquestionably, develop a larger degree of esprit-de-corps between the rank and file and their many superiors and permit a better understanding of police work in general by the public.

"I would develop a closer acquaintanceship and fellowship between those being no object. It would enable members to obtain first hand knowledge of practical achievements accomplished by one another from time to time."

MAYBE YOU'RE GREAT WITHOUT KNOWING IT

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH,
Assistant Psychologist.

History has shown again and again that great minds lie dormant, that striking events are often necessary to bring them to life.

Wars, famines, great political crises, national emergencies, gigantic projects all have brought to public notice and consciousness men who probably would have remained unknown had it not been that these emergencies of the times drew them out.

Roosevelt was an obscure army lieutenant during the French Revolution. Only during the reconstruction period that followed did he have the opportunity of showing what a great man he really was.

Some men are more or less great anyway—that is, they are evidently superior intellectually—and a stirring event makes them greater still.

Wilson, Lloyd George and Foch were superior men before the war. Still, the stress and strain of the times, the demands of the movement, brought out their latent possibilities in a way that peace times never could have done.

Their hidden, undiscovered greatness was brought to the surface and it elevated them to the highest pinnacles of fame.

But no one of us should wait for some unexpected thing to happen in order to show what we can do.

We can search out inner selves and find our hidden powers because they stay here and die without any great event ever occurring that will happen to develop us.

It is a psychological fact that each and every one of us, has dormant, missing powers that we don't use. Often we don't even know they exist.

If we practise a little introspection and a little honest questioning we may find the reason why we do not achieve greater results.

We must try to become as great as we possibly can whether the environment is stimulating or not, whether or not it is an obstacle or an aid in calling forth our hidden and disguised resources.

It makes us strong and aggressive. It prepares us to overcome still greater obstacles.

There are degrees of greatness, and all greatness possess the potentials of becoming greater still.

All and rate, find your own greatness.

Don't let it lie dormant!

Buried abilities do no one any good.

Follow the example of the great. They assumed they were superior; then they proved it to themselves.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

If to be cooked in a frying pan, heat the pan and then rub the bacon slowly. Drain on crumpled paper before using.

Use a pair of bellows for getting dust out of wire mattresses, carved furniture and awkward corners. Every particle of dust blows out most easily by this means.

When using bananas here are two points to remember: First, fully ripe bananas do not have green tips, but have a golden yellow skin flecked with small black spots; second, never keep bananas in the icebox.

Good use can be made of old-fashioned marble-top wash-hand stands by removing the back and arms. Thus you have an ideal kitchen table for pastry-making and so on which is now up-to-date in the kitchen of small flats.

You will be able to readily transfer the vaseline ribbons you waste from the original bottle to the fancy jar on the dressing table if you set the bottle of vaseline on back or range until vaseline is melted.

Sprinkle pieces of wet newspapers over the carpet before sweeping, then wipe over with a cloth wrung out of a weak solution of ammonia and water.

WHAT'S NEW
(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Lady Strachie, mother of the Duchess of York, presided over the London meeting to augment funds for Britain's National Library for the Blind as many Braille volumes were lost in the Westminster flood last January and Lady Brunlmurst spoke sympathetically and urged support, for the 11th century magnate to be held at Ham House, Richmond.

For Afternoon Wear During Graduation Week

Items Week at West Point or Annapolis and Graduation Week at Yale, Harvard or Princeton, all mean a thrilling, breathless round of endless lunches, teas and dinners. Betty has always been partial to the Army and we see her here smartly outfitted from head to toe awaiting her cadet. She has selected for the informal hop this afternoon a printed georgette, trimmed in plain bandings to harmonize with the figure, and made in a design which was formerly used only in evening gowns. The bodice is shirred in front from the V neck to the low which line the wide girdle. The long sleeves are pointed at the wrists. The frock has a pointed skirt and is gathered on the bandings in points to form an uneven hemline in equally smart effect. Silk veils veils or crepe de chine are other popular materials for this model, just as effectively for such a frock. (Copyright, 1928, by Butterick)

Paris says wide-brimmed hats are beginning to make their appearance, and one of the prettiest was a tuscan model in fine beige oriental straw made with the brim curved slightly down all the way round. It was trimmed with a twisted rope of pale pink satin ribbon that was threaded through the brim on the left side and gathered into a chou that rested on the cheek under the brim.

In the midst of Blues, beiges, greys, greens, reds, black and mixtures of red, white and black, Paris now sees much new grey-beige or beige-grey that has what the Parisienne calls "un chic fou," and it is a speckler, pepper and salt color that you think is beige until you see a real beige near it, and when you have decided it is almost grey a real grey comes along and you realize it is much warmer, less blue color.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

Chapter 68.

"I'M TAKING YOU WITH ME!"

Calla asked sharply of Falconer: "What do you mean? Playing the game is up?"

He shrugged and forced sorry smile. "I mean that Manuel has fractured me down. He was here tonight."

"I know—your mother told me. Sobbing almost killed my mother. Why couldn't you have seen him instead of running away like a criminal?"

He laughed shortly. "If you'd encountered Manuel on the war-path, you'd not ask that question. . . . Why worry about your mother. But my friends were more anxious to see Manuel than I was. We simply had to make a quick getaway to think things over."

"What do you mean to do now?"

"Skip," was the laconic answer.

"And leave me to face all this—make all the explanations—endure all the scandal—after you and your associates have tied me of nearly every penny I possess?"

The scorn in her voice lashed him, but he came back with a quick gesture. "Not a bit of it, my dear girl. I'm taking you with me."

"Are you utterly mad?"

"About you—yes. Worse luck. Anyway, you're going with me. You'll be married in New York before the mail sails. Let people think what they like."

"And I suppose you think that I'd leave you enough darned urgent as when I bathe with all my suit."

He came closer to her. "I wouldn't be so sure of that—by my actions, if I were you." His voice was dangerously smooth. "I'm a desperate man. All the more so, because I'm a fool about you." His tone changed suddenly. "See here, dear, we've got to have business in Central America—that's true enough, darned urgent business, too. You accompany me. We'll be married en route, and nobody will be the wiser."

She answered wearily: "If I've told you once, I've told you a million times —No."

He shrugged.

"All right. There's the alternative. I've got to cut and run to escape Manuel, also, I might be of use in Central America soon, if I'm to put this thing over. But I swear to Heaven that, if you refuse to come, the last thing I'll do before I leave this town will be to give the whole business away."

"Tell everybody that you've been posing as my husband, living here and hiding perfectly well that I was you, and not your uncle, I married!"

"Exactly."

"Oh, you beast! You cad!"

He laughed shortly. "I'm giving you your chance, but you're forcing my hand."

"You mean Manuel has forced your hand. . . . I wish he'd shot you tonight."

"If he had, I'd probably be in the morgue, by now. There's no use squabbling," he added. "It's only a waste of time, with so much serious business at stake. . . . The question is, when and how can we get out of town tomorrow? Can you get money quickly?"

She made a weary gesture toward the desk where her checkbook lay.

"You've practically cleaned me out. Your uncle might just as well have left you his money in the first place. You and your friends have it all."

He said sharply: "But you can get more. Borrow on securities. Get a loan somewhere.

She sank into a chair. "I don't see how—even if I could. . . . Which I won't."

He glanced at the clock on the mantel.

"It's beastly late. We'd better not discuss this any more tonight. You're tired and overwrought, and I—Heaven knows what I am. We'll meet at breakfast and arrange things. Think it over. If you don't sleep, and remember, dear girl, that I hold the winning hand. And after all is said and done, I do love you, Celia."

She said sharply: "Go away. Leave me alone."

He made her a bow, deep, ironical: "Good night. Sleep well. Pleasant dreams."

She went slowly up-stairs and stopped to listen at her mother's door. All was quiet. She tiptoed to her own room and faced her problem.

She was vacillating when the following morning when the thing she dreaded, and yet hoped for, happened.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am nineteen years old. Last year I went with a young man for six months. I grew tired of him because I was tired physically, and refused to go out with him. He left the city, but now he is back, and pays no attention to me. Would it be proper for me to call him and ask him to come over some evening? ALICE.

ALICE: No, it most certainly would not be proper for you to call him and bid him to go to see you. It is the place of the young man to seek the girl. And since he has not called you since his return, I would be most undignified for you to do so. However, you might, if you meet him socially at some time, ask him to call. If he cared to resume his friendship with you, he will most certainly follow up your lead.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a married woman and have worked hard all my life. My husband has never been good to me. I love another man who is a lot older than myself. He says he loves me better than anyone else and if I turn him down it would kill him. I feel the same way about him. But still he won't give up his family for me.

BROKEN HEARTED

BROKEN HEARTED: You may not like my answer, but you'll know why down in your heart that it is the only solution of your problem. You know that you are doing something very wrong, and your wisest course is to stop immediately a friendship that will do neither of you any good. Hard as it will be, you must stop going about with the other man and devote your time and life to your husband.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am introduced to many people of all types and classes. They all seem do like me at first glance and seem pleased in my company. They enjoy my gay repartee and as a whole find me an enjoyable companion. Soon, however, their enthusiasm begins to wane. Gradually they drift away and I am left with no one. I am a young girl in my middle teens and this awkwardness hurts me a great deal. J. K. N.

J. K. N.: There's such a thing as too much personality, J. K. N., and when this happens the personality takes the form of egotism and selfishness. Perhaps this is what has happened in your case. Sometimes when a girl is pretty and popular, it goes to her head and she becomes selfishly egotistical and critical and makes, unless many unpleasant. Don't try impressing people with your superiority, or make them feel you are conferring a great favor on them by accepting their invitations. This is one of the most dark ways of losing friends. Being yourself is the best thing on earth for winning and holding friends. And by being yourself, I mean being the sweet, natural spontaneous girl who will charm her friends rather than repel them. Be a good listener and keep yourself up on things that interest your friends. Don't cultivate a "line," for it becomes monotonous. Men love a good listener so try it and see what happens.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl in my young teens. I am going with a boy three years my senior. He says he loves me very much. I am writing to another boy and often go out with him. My parents have no objections. What would you advise me to do? BLONDIE.

BLONDIE: Be friends with both the young men, Blonde, until you are sure which one you care for.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

If one girl turns down my invitation to a formal dance and the next choice keeps me waiting while thinking that she may go with some other person, should I abandon the event or take a friend who really is not interesting company. They enjoy my gay repartee and as a whole find me an enjoyable companion. Soon, however, their enthusiasm begins to wane. Gradually they drift away and I am left with no one. I am a young girl in my middle teens and this awkwardness hurts me a great deal. J. K. N.

Use Model Airplanes on Trip to Europe

(1) This indoor commercial model with its enclosed fuselage looks and flies like a real ship.
(2) Arnes Algebraic at work carving propellers—his specialty.
(3) Cornelius Paulin flies his model.
(4) Winding an indoor tractor motor.

Over three hundred boys in Canada and the United States are hoping that the design, strength and air capabilities of their model planes will carry them to Europe.

Two of these boys must succeed. These two will be the winners of the indoor and out-door divisions in the National Airplane Model Tournament to be held in Detroit at the end of the month under the auspices of the Airplane Model League of America of which Commander Richard E. Byrd is Honorary President. The Tournament, conducted by the "American Boy" Magazine, will be entered by district champions supported by leading newspapers of the continent which are conducting local contests.

A trip to Europe is the biggest prize for which the boys are striving. All the boys who go to Detroit for the Tournament will be prepared to leave on July 2, and the successful contestants will sail from Montreal on the Canadian Pacific S.S. Montcalm July 6. En route to Europe they will be entertained at Niagara Falls, Toronto and Ottawa by officials of the Federal, Ontario and Civic Governments. In Ottawa they will by their models for His Excellency the Governor General and the Prime Minister, both of whom have shown great interest in airplane models. In Montreal the young champions will be the guests of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

LITTLE WORK ON TENNIS COURTS

Cobourg And Belleville Clubs To Meet At Point Anne

The Cobourg team is scheduled to play in Belleville, tomorrow afternoon in a regular Central Ontario Tennis League fixture, but as no courts are available yet, the games will be played on the Point Anne courts through the courtesy of the Point Anne Club.

What has caused the delay over the laying of the surface of the new courts at the Country Club, no one seems to know. As far as can be determined, no work is contemplated for a time anyway. Belleville is far behind her competitors this year for the simple reason that the local players have had no chance to practice as compared with the other clubs.

Cobourg has some fine courts, while Peterboro's are good, although they are oiled. The one thing wrong with the Peterboro courts is, that it is almost impossible to keep clean on the oiled surface. Clay makes one of the best surfaces for the game of tennis, if it is properly taken care of.

The following resolution was adopted last Sunday morning by the Centre St. congregation of the United Church, moved by Robert Ashley, seconded by Mrs. D. Osborne and unanimously resolved that the members of the Centre St. Church and Sunday School, do hereby tender their sincere and highly appreciated of-the kindness and generosity of the Corbyville Company in providing a free truck and the two-vale persons who sent free automobiles on the occasion of the picnic to the Sandbanks on Dominion day, thus enabling us to take out the largest company of children and adults that has gone out from this community for pleasure, in many years, affording an enjoyable and much needed outing for children, women and laboring men.

FAMILY REUNION HELD ON SUNDAY

Members of Ashley-Hawley Circle Gathered At Oak Lake

A most enjoyable outing was held on Sunday when members if the Hawley-Ashley family with relatives and friends met to pass a quiet day together. A number spent the afternoon bathing while others enjoyed a social chat as some of them had not seen one the gathering last year.

MARKING HISTORIC SITES

In commemoration of places, events, and names prominent in Canadian history, the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada during 1927 reviewed 160 sites, and recommended 26 for commemoration. The Department of the Interior, on the recommendation of the Board, acquired 17 sites and marked 20. Apart from the general maintenance and improvement work on ex tant monuments, the engraving operations on the new sites included the erection of 13 standard stone cairns with bronze tablets, one granite memorial tablet, two cut-stone monoliths with tablets, and two boulders with tablets.

CANADA SHIPS FIR TREE SEEDS

Also Other Hardy Pine Seeds To Many Parts of Empire

At New Westminster, B.C., in good seed years, thousands of sacks of cones of Sitka spruce, western red cedar, western hemlock and other trees, are brought in by steamer, rail, motor truck and wagon.

The cones are dried and the seed threshed out, cleaned, bagged and boxed or sealed in tin containers for shipment to various parts of the British Empire.

It has been shown that many Canadian trees, particularly the Douglas fir and Sitka spruce of the British Columbia coast do well in Great Britain. New Zealand is supplied each year with large quantities of seed and smaller quantities are shipped to various parts of Australia and elsewhere.

The crop for the past season was only medium. Of the three species most in demand—Sitka spruce, Douglas fir and western yellow pine—only the Sitka spruce produced a satisfactory supply. From the 1926 crop, however, over 5,000 pounds of this seed was supplied to New Zealand alone.

BROKEN BOTTLE IS CAUSE OF INJURY

Cobalt, July 10.—A broken glass bottle in the lake at the bathing beach, was responsible Saturday afternoon for a rather serious injury to one of the bathers. Miss Dorothy Hinkson, 83 Centre street, had been in bathing with some friends and was just re-entering the water for a final dip when she had the misfortune to step on a jagged piece of broken glass with the result that she received a very bad wound in her foot. The foot bled profusely and after first aid had been rendered at the lake, Miss Hinkson was brought up to Dr. Berry's office who found it necessary to put in five stitches to close the wound. Miss Hinkson will be laid up for several weeks as a result of this injury.

SWORE FALSELY TO SECURE CAR

Vernon Penn, Sidney, appeared before Magistrate Mitel this morning charged with obtaining an automobile from Alderman E. T. Cherry under false pretences. It is alleged that Mr. Penn made certain misrepresentations to the Alderman, telling him that he was employed in a cheese factory and earning money, and stating that in the Autumn he would have other work to do. It is further alleged by the Alderman that a worthless cheque was given to him by Penn, and that the accused did some damage to the car before it was returned. The young man's case was remanded for one week. It is understood that Penn's father will furnish bail.

DERBY DAY IS TIME OF TIMES

Students mention the Crown, the cement of a common language, and the tradition of parliamentary self-government in speaking of the British Empire, says the New York Times. They never mention the annual event which takes place on Epsom Downs. Yet it is doubtful whether as many British hearts' in the world unite in one spot on any other occasion as they do on Derby Day. If for Derby Day we read a live of sport in general, there can be no doubt that here is a real bond of empire. The crowds of half a million on Epsom Downs and of nearly a quarter of a million at the British football championships are duplicated, proportionately, in every one of the Dominions and colonies.

FORMER RAILWAY MAN IS SENTENCED

Moose Jaw, June 30.—Davis B. Dodd, former C.P.R. conductor, was sentenced to two and a half years in Prince Albert penitentiary when found guilty on five of fifteen charges of theft and receiving stolen property, before Judge Buckles yesterday. The sentence will date from February 1, the date on which he was arrested. The charges were laid in respect to articles stolen from C.P.R., freight cars while in transit.

LEGISLATURE OF NEWFOUNDLAND

Many Bills Passed In Parliament of Old British Colony

St. John's, Nfld.—Twenty-one bills, ten of which were amendments to existing acts, were passed during the fifth session of the twenty-sixth General Assembly of Newfoundland prorogued on June 13 until July 7. The House opened on May 2, with a full representation of thirty-six members. There were nineteen supporters of the Government, including the Speaker.

One of the most contentious measures, passed only after the Opposition had exhausted every means of combating it, was a private bill giving the Northern Products Company exclusive rights to export marine shell from certain parts of Labrador. This bill was subsequently given six months hoist in the Legislative Council.

The estimates, which received six weeks' consideration last year, were put through the House in four days.

One of the most important amendments passed was with Crown Lands. This bill reduced the size of mining locations from 320 to 160 acres, required prospectors to have mining licenses and gave the right of granting exemption to $5,000 for expenditure secured in drilling.

A new license was encouraged when one firm was granted exclusive rights for a period of three years, to fish, cure and sell the products of sharks. The gathering of wild fruit intended for export was restricted but a specification of certain dates. The payment of the principal and interest on a loan of eighty thousand dollars proposed to complete Bishop Field College, was guaranteed. A commission was appointed under the Harbor Regulations Bill was given control of pilots and all matters relating to the port of St. John's. An Optometry bill, aimed to prevent fraudulent eye testing, was passed. Certain balances remaining from loans, one amounting to $750,000, were appropriated for other purposes. A bill authorizing the holding of seven and a half millions dollars to retire a war loan was also passed.

WOMEN LAWYERS HOLD CONCLAVE

Toronto, Ont., June 29.—(C.P.)—"I think it is a scandalous thing that a man can still sit his property away from his wife and children," said Hon. Wallace Nesbitt, K. C., treasurer of the Law Society of Upper Canada, at a banquet given to visiting women lawyers by their sisters of Ontario. "If you talk about the English women lawyers, but I know that Lady Astor, Miss Rochfort, the Duchess of Atholl and some others I have heard are not capable of making better speeches than I have heard you make here tonight." He made special reference to the speech of a young Buffalo lawyer, and to that of Miss Ruby Wigle. "I believe," he said further, "that the advent of women in law, and the influence of the girl-secretary has been of great benefit. They have brought a confidence and are discretion itself. I am sure the Dinglebar Commission will not have to deal with women, who have the attribute of honesty to a marked degree as compared with men."

Miss Bertha Boutmen of Buffalo spoke of the prejudice which women lawyers encountered in the earlier years, a prejudice that has also appeared in the United States. "Girls have proved themselves acceptable in law offices, and acquired positions quite readily, while women of exceptional brilliancy and application are forging to the front," she declared. "In Buffalo there are over twenty women lawyers."

She spoke of Judge Morris of Cleveland in the women's civil court, as one of the outstanding women in the profession. She also mentioned Miss Cline of Cleveland, who had been made a judge of the federal court, the first woman to be so elected.

HALIFAX WOMAN FINDS RELIEF

Now Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Halifax, N. S.—"I thank you through the public press of my life and there's nothing to equal Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as all the life that come at the time. I was dragging around the house, so weary, every nerve in my body on edge all the least condition, so that at times I almost wished I was dead. My mother was so proud, I was dull and listless, in fact, I thought I had some awful disease. I took three bottles of the Vegetable Compound and it is truly wonderful. That terrible drowsiness and hot flashes have disappeared. I can do my work now without that tired-to-nothing feeling. Mothers who have tried families should give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. I am sure they will be glad they followed my advice."—MARY JOHNSTON, 227 Barrington St., Halifax, Nova Scotia.

In New York the women of the legal profession are working hard to make a reputation for themselves as a jury, she explained. "In twenty-three states they have obtained the privilege and I found by my work well, particularly in the west. I hope we may soon have it in New York State and that also you will soon have it in Ontario."

A striking feature of this year's "Across Canada and Back Tour" which leaves North Toronto station 10.30 a.m., on July 21 under the auspices of Dean Laird, is the fact that many tourists are coming over from Great Britain to take part in the journey. The special all steel million dollar train which will carry the party across the Dominion is the equal in respects to the famous "Trans-Dauphin Limited." There will be no difficulties to confront the traveller as Stewart Lake is the director, who has already piloted seven similar trips, has made the way smooth beforehand. Booking agents in the already exceptionally heavy and all previous records are expected to go by the board. The itinerary includes stops at all the important cities and towns en route and the Rocky Mountains, Banff and Lake Louise, bungalow camps and industrial centres. A call across Kootenay Lake, a steamship trip from Vancouver to Victoria and return and another cruise down the Great Lakes add variety to a holiday both delightful and educational. There is not a moment in the twenty days that is wasted and everywhere throughout the western fields a most hearty welcome awaits the visitors. Everything is included from Toronto and return in the sum of $230.00. Ask Mr. Stewart, Canadian Pacific Building, Toronto, for tour literature now.

REGENT THEATRE

Kit Carson (by proxy) 92nd modern semblance of the famous scout in the person of Guy Oliver, actor, who portrays that role in James Cruze's production, "The Covered Wagon," which will be on view at the Regent Theatre tomorrow for the second time. Mr. Oliver does not appear in the earlier portions of the story, but he has plenty to do, and one is the man who conveys the news of the gold discovery in California to Leatherstocking and drops a note in a tiny pet cronie, to some of the members of the great wagon train, which relates in a split in the caravan, part of the homeseekers becoming goldseekers and branching off in California.

The story is one of remarkable interest and power. J. Warren Kerrigan and Lois Wilson have the leading roles. In the cast are Alan Hale, Charles Ogle, Ethel Wales, Ernest Torrence and Tully Marshall.

BELLE THEATRE

Great care was taken in making The College Hero," the Columbia production which will be shown at the Belle Theatre tomorrow that it would bring to the screen an actual picture of college life. Occidental College at Eagle Rock near Hollywood was used as a location. The buildings, campus, athletic field and equipment furnish settings for the picture. The faculty and students co-operated in creating the atmosphere and twenty of its collegiate athletes appear in many of the scenes.

Every one of the extra players is either a college or university graduate. Among the schools represented are Harvard, Yale, Cornell, Princeton, Brown, Columbia, University of Pennsylvania, University of Michigan, University of Washington and the University of Vancouver.

Walter Lang, the director, is a graduate of the University of Tennessee and during his undergraduate years was an important member of his college's football eleven.

In addition to atmospheric details there is a cast of favorites including Bobby Agnew, Pauline Garon, Ben Turpin, Rex Lease and Churchill Hayes.

The air mail aviator Reine is being held for ransom by Moors on the coast of Morocco. It was announced at Casablanca, Morocco. Reine, who left Dakar Saturday, carrying South American mail for Paris, is reported safe.

BALDWIN VIEWS BATTLE GROUNDS

British Premier And Wife Visit Vimy Ridge And Grange Tunnel

London, (C.P.)—Reminders of the gallant activities of the Canadian Corps at Vimy Ridge blended interested Premier and Mrs. Baldwin during their recent visit to the battlefields. They saw Vimy Ridge in company with Windham Baldwin, Sir Fabian and Lady Ware, General Hughes, chief engineer of the Canadian war memorials, General Sir Herbert Lawrence, and Colonel Goodwin and Major Jakpot, of the Imperial War Graves Commission. On their way along the Arras-Lens road to Vimy they stopped for a few minutes at the Canadian memorial to Canadian dead. Then they went straight to the Grange trench on the summit of the Vimy Ridge. Here the Canadian and German front lines, as they existed before the storming of the ridge on April 9, 1917, are being cleared and restored to their original condition, while the remains of trench markers, machine guns and other war material found on the ground are arranged in the various positions, as if for use. A large area will eventually be treated in this way. About 30 yards of Canadian and German line have already been restored.

Premier Baldwin crossed a narrow causeway between two great spine trenches, passed with tangled wire and battered equipment, to the Canadian, trenches, and looked behind at a British pattern, rusty now for the most part pierced and smashed by bullets and shell splinters, of British steel parapet. In one place the twisted skeleton of a British aeroplane lies in the open.

When the inspection of the trenches was over Mr. Baldwin visited the Grange tunnel. This extends for a total distance of about eight miles between Souchez and Arras, running under the whole length of Vimy Ridge. Part of the underground system has been cleared, strengthened with concrete, and fitted with electric light; otherwise it stands just as the Canadians left it. Mr. Baldwin was guided through this system by Mr. Stubbs, the Canadian foreman in charge of the work.

About 40 feet below the surface Mr. Baldwin found himself in front of a series of sculptured recess cut in the chalk walls with a deep knife. The most striking of these is perhaps that of a soldier wearing steel helmet with the inscription "Canada 1917." A little farther on the bags of the Royal Canadian Regiment is cut to the chalk. A turn led to the head of a mine shaft, which descends steeply to a depth of 150 feet. A small trolley, on which the charges were lowered, is still in place, with a few bricks of precaution. Just after this comes a relic to which Mr. Baldwin drew especially its attention. It is a German S.S. shell which just pierced the roof and failed to explode, and remained undisturbed there. At the end of the upper gallery an underground brigade and battalion headquarters is kept just as it was left.

Mr. Baldwin spent about an hour underground, while Mrs. Baldwin waited round the reconstructed trench. He went on to the site of the Canadian war memorial, which will look across Lens from the summit of the ridge, and to the French memorial to the Moorish soldiers.

GOV'T CONTROL MAKES PROFITS

Since Radio Was Taken Over: England Realizes Profits

London, (By the Canadian Press)—Governmental control of the Radio here has proved a profitable matter, as it says for the Government. The first report of the British Broadcasting Corporation shows that its license fee for the year was $4,000,000, and that after striking aside $600,000 for commercial time of regional stations there was still $51,000 to be carried forward. The sum of $4,000,000 was derived from wireless licenses. It spent $2,500,000 on its programmes.

Many interesting facts are given in the report. There were, for instance, 68,000 hours of transmission during the year, with only about 35 hours of breakdown. Music occupied about two-thirds of the programmes.

Lessons by wireless seem to be growing in favor in schools, for 4,000 or double the number of the previous year were known to listen to London and Daventry alone. The total number of listeners increased by 217,000 during the year to 2,365,174.

The Earl of Clarendon is chairman of the Commission and receives a salary of $15,000. Lord Gainford is vice-chairman, and has a salary of $5,000. An ordinary member, Sir Gordon Nairne, Dr. M. J. Rendall, Mrs. Hilda Knowden, and Brigadier-Gen. Keith receive $2,500 each.

In South Australia the plant Rivers of Shade introduced thither grows to a height of ten feet in rich gullies. In Tasmania the eucalyptus globulus has been so thick that a man could not ride through it.

PETES BATTLE KINGSTON TODAY

Angus McDonald, Young Pitcher, May Get Another Chance

Kingston, July 11.—The evening at the Fair Grounds Kingston and Peterboro swing at it again, and with both teams scrapping for a place in the playoffs, one of the greatest games of the season should attract a capacity crowd.

The Petes had hung up a string of three victories in a row when Kingston blasted their streak last Wednesday, and they'll be on hand today with blood in their eye and bile in their bats. The Petes are easily one of the best teams in the O.B.L., and they showed last week that they are the team to beat for the playoff position. It was a tough spot to send an untried youngster, and Angus McDonald the Peterboro hurler did well to come through as he did. He is tossed back into the box the locals are going to find it a hot hunch connecting for batting out his delivery. Max Swanston, veteran of several years, and Tommy Holyman, who has been trying to shatter these many seasons will be Josh Craig's field-generals for the game, and don't be one those birds who never knows when he's beaten, and will fight from the drop of the hat. The outfield infield, which places Freddie Ash on first and Tiny Harrison at second, has proved the best of many tried out by Jish Pete this year, and they ought to function in top style tonight.

PIRATES BEAT PHILADELPHIA

New York, July 11.—Scoring the tying run in the eighth and the game winning, the Pirates defeated Philadelphia, 6—5, yesterday and increased their wild lead streak to four straight games. The Warner brothers, Paul and Lloyd drove in the runs off Swetland, who had relieved Ring when the latter got in trouble with one out in the ninth. Hargreave, Pirate catcher, drove in three runs with a long double in the game in the eighth inning. The Phillies went ahead again in their half of the ninth and Ring held the one-run lead when he was lifted. The Pirate hurler retired Hargreave in the final inning, but walked Bridgell, and when Adams singled, he was taken from the mound, Swetland went in and faced the Waner, who smashed a clean-cut single.

Home runs by Andy High, "Chick" Hafey and George Harper, all Joe Genewich in the ninth inning, enabled the Cardinals to defeat the Giants, 8 to 1, in the opening game of the series at Chicago yesterday. The Cards now lead the Giants by five and one-half games.

The Reds continued their winning streak by pounding three Brooklyn pitchers at Cincinnati to win by 12-1. Doug McWeeny, Rube Ehrhardt and Jim Riddle each tried to halt the Reds and failed. Pete Donohue kept the Robins' hits scattered save in the eighth, when the visitors got four drives together for three runs, but even while this was going on, Pete was in no danger. Brooklyn got a total of nine hits.

Chicago won from Boston in Chicago after Hornsby hit a home run to the bleachers for the Braves in the ninth inning. Cuyler's double in the Cubs' half of the inning, intentional passes to Wilson and Grimm, and Hartnett's single, put over the winning tally to give the Cubs a 7-6 verdict.

Ed Holly, making his first start for the Cubs, was pounded from the box in the sixth inning. Fussy followed him and, pitched to one batter and then Hudlin finished the record for the victory. Greenfield, Clarkson and R. Smith pitched for Boston.

Belleville fans will await with interest the result of the two ball games in Deseronto today and while the Nationals have strong hopes of copping both of them the Steelers will give them a battle royal before the afternoon is over. Walter Gerow may pitch Hoot Gibson and Vinny Tremblay although he is looking to give Sonny Green a chance and the Point Anne lad may get his opportunity today. Reports are to the effect that Mr. Elliott has a dark horse from the Northern section of the County whom he will uncover today. The Deseronians have been playing fair ball but their pitching has not been up to the standard, although they have no less than five of them on the staff.

Vaughan Jack, who twirled some fair games last year has been unable to hit a winning streak and was batted off the mound by the Nationals last week. Ralph from Tabora has not pitched with any degree of success while Shea, who was the star of the Deseronian Sodelites cop-off rely on has contracted an ailment which the doctor advised to rest for further games this year. Frank Leal, the veteran of many a championship "what he used to was" and Manager Elliott is afraid to use him against any of the good hitting teams in the Central League. Carl Woods is an effective pitcher and probably the best of the squad but he cannot carry the burden alone.

Jeff Hardill the Peterboro boy, went to pieces for two innings in a long double to the centre in the ninth inning. The Phillies went ahead again in their half of the ninth and Ring held the one-run lead when he was lifted. The Pirate hurler retired Hargreaves in the final inning, but walked Bridgell, and when Adams singled, he was taken from the mound, Swetland went in and faced the Waner, who smashed a clean-cut single.

MONTREAL LOST TO BEARS 11-10

Was Out In Front Twice—Three Big Innings Won For Newark

Montreal, July 11.—The Royals lost another game they should have won when the Newark Bears hammered out an 11-10 victory in the opening game of their four-day visit here yesterday afternoon. Lack of punch in the pinches, combined with feeble pitching has lost the Royals their last game by two days against a second division club, although they made it interesting in the ninth inning till the error by Ike Hunt, Royal shortstop, let the winning run score.

The Red Wings started the delivery of Cy Canistrelli to their liking yesterday and kept pace with the Toronto Leafs in the standings by trimming the Baltimore Birds. Gelbert let the Rochester attack with three safeties.

The Reading Keys waltzed away from the Bisons to the tune of a 10—2 score in the opening tilt of the series yesterday afternoon. Parks featured for the Westerners with three clouts and throwing in a timely double in a seventh inning rally which netted three runs and shattered a two-all dead lock. Legrotti, of Reading, eked out a home run with the bases loaded in the eighth frame.

ST. LOUIS WON BOSTON BATTLE

Took Series Opener From Red Sox By Score of 4-2

New York, July 11.—Let Deseronians have the Nationals. Toronto lead the series opener from the Red Sox at Boston, 4-2. Schaute pitched three of the St. Louis runs and scored the fourth on the business end of a double play. Blue put three hits, including a triple, to three times at bat.

The Indians tied the score at five-all in the seventh inning of the first game, but Washington scored two in their half of the seventh and added four more in the eighth.

Cleveland got 14 hits in the second game, but Claude Reid was scattered while Miller was hit hard and often before he was relieved by Levsen. Rice hit a home run in the second inning of the second game, scoring Reid ahead of him.

The Detroit-New York game was postponed.

NO DECISION IN NAPANEE GAME

Beavers Played Miserable Ball In Bay of Quinte Tilt

The first game of the Bay of Quinte Ladies League was played last night at the armouries lawn between Belleville Beavers and the Napanee Reds but a winner has not yet been decided and the game may have to be replayed at a later date. The score at the end of the six innings was 17-15 in favor of Napanee and the game was called the first half of the seventh after the visitors had counted three more. It is unfortunate that such a situation should arise at the first game but the last remains that the game was not started on time if they are to be completed. Last night's argument was not started until after seven o'clock and the seventh inning was played in virtual darkness. It was therefore decided that the Napanee team did not arrive on time and also maintained that seven innings must be played before it could actually be termed a game. At the meeting after the game no decision was reached and nothing in the constitution of the league stated that the games must go seven innings. James Naphin, the base umpire, held up proceedings when he was late in arriving. The games must be started promptly at 6.30 and with the days growing shorter only seven innings can usually be played.

Alice Meagher used three pitchers, Bessie Doolittle starting. Mollie Gray standing her and when the latter was ineffective, Pearl Tuttle completed the game. Miss Gray appeared to take a nonchalant attitude and while she is popular with the fans she will soon lose her standing if she adopts a careless attitude.

Napanee used two pitchers. Miss Douglas started and she was succeeded by Miss Johnston. The play by both teams was ragged at times and it was by no means an exciting tilt. The Napanee team brought along all of their old stars including Misses Grass, Stinson, Whitton, etc., and they will be heard from before the season is over. Miss Douglas hit a home run with two on bases in the fourth inning and it was the only except drive of the evening. The Beavers were leading for several innings but they went to pieces in the sixth inning and Napanee counted eight runs and won by that.

Some of Jimmy Naphin's decisions were not so good on the bases and the fans did not take kindly to them. An other feature that did not appeal to the spectators was the apparent decision on the part of Miss Grass to "rag" the game when it was practically established that they were losers.

The next game will be played in Belleville on Monday night when the Cobourg will be at home to the Napanee team.

Ken Colling handled the umpiring at the plate.

THE CHINESE MYTH

Among current superstitions concerning medicine is the strange notion that in China the physicians are paid to keep people well and not paid when the people become sick.

Some years ago the Journal of the American Medical Association determined to find out once and for all what basis might exist for the belief that the Chinese regularly used the system referred to. An investigation made among educated Chinese, an inquiry to the Chinese Embassy in Washington, D.C., and the Chinese Consulate in Chicago, revealed the unanimous belief that such a system has not existed in China recently and probably never did exist.

SCHOONER HENRY FORD AGROUND

Jinx Again Makes Self Felt In Atlantic Racing Circles

Gloucester, Mass., (C.P.)—Jinx is the fishing schooner Henry Ford last week off the west coast of Newfoundland completed the work of the jinx that has dogged American contenders for International racing honors and leaves the Lunenburg schooner Bluenose the undisputed champion of the North Atlantic fishing fleets. The Henry Ford, went aground on Indefocal, while on a halibut fishing trip and has been reported a total loss. Her crew was saved.

The other American contenders for the International Fishermen's cup which have gone to their doom since the races were inaugurated in 1920 for the purpose of improving the type of fishing vessels used, were the Columbia, Esperanto, Puritan and Elsabeth Howard.

Loss of the Columbia was the most tragic of the disasters. She sailed for the fishing ground: in July of 1927, of the six when one of her hatches never to return to port. It is believed she foundered in the storm of August 24 of that year, when severe losses to shipping were suffered.

In June 1921, the Gloucester schooner Esperanto, which had defeated the Canadian schooner Delawana to win the International Cup went to her doom in the treacherous ice off Sable Island, but her crew was rescued.

Gloucester men built the Puritan, intending to match her against the Canadians, but even before she was launched fears of the waterfront knew she would never race. Her doom was the result of the old superstitions of the sea when one of her hatches overturned. She left the stocks in April, 1922 and two months later was in the graveyard of the Atlantic, hardly circling the west bar of Sable Island, almost at the spot where the Esperanto was wrecked.

It was following the loss of the Puritan that Gloucester built the Henry Ford. Her ill luck began at the start after she was launched when she grounded on a sandbar at the mouth of the Essex River, where her hull was pounded for a week before she could be pulled off, repaired and made ready for fishing.

The jinx went aboard the Elisabeth Howard, greatest of all the schooners that figured in the fishermen's contests, during the elimination races off here in 1922, when she lost her topmast in any event and narrowly escaped collision with a destroyer in another. A year later, November 1923, this graceful craft was lost off Porter's Island, Nova Scotia.

All the schooners had other mishaps than that which ended their careers. The Columbia was rammed by a French trawler on her second trip to the Grand Banks and narrowly escaped sinking. She was repaired at St. Pierre, but the delay prevented her competing for the Sir Thomas Lipton trophy, sailed for in connection with Gloucester's 300th anniversary celebration.

The Canadians have not escaped jinx. During the elimination races at Halifax, the three years of the contests, the captain of one of the contenders fell overboard and was drowned, and during the first international race at Halifax one of the owners of the Delawana died suddenly. As the Bluenose was preparing to sail for home after the Gloucester series of 1923, a member of her crew fell from a dock to his death.

The Russian representatives here have informed certain delegations attending the league security sub-committee's session at Geneva that Moscow would gladly sign the Kellog treaty to outlaw war if the opportunity of-

HEMLOCK IN CANADA

The hemlock of Eastern Canada is Tsuga, from Nova Scotia westward throughout the St. Lawrence River valley and Ontario to the west end of lake Superior. For years the hemlock was despised as a lumber tree, and it is only since a scarcity of better timber began to be felt that a market has been developed for its lumber. At present hemlock occupies fourth place as a lumber in Canada, with an average annual cut of about 250,000,000 feet board measure. The Eastern hemlock forms approximately 85 per cent of this lumber, and the remainder is cut for the most part from Western hemlock.

FOUR INJURED IN HIGHWAY CRASH

Chas. Hunt of Picton In Hospital Following Accident

Four persons were more or less injured in an accident near Mount Pleasant, Prince Edward County, shortly after seven o'clock last night and although none of them were seriously hurt they required the service of a physician.

Abram Hyatt, of Picton, was proceeding toward Belleville in a roadster and Miss Lillian Fox, R. R 1, Bloomfield, driving another car going in the opposite direction. As the Hyatt car came over a knoll the driver noted that Miss Fox was directly in the centre of the road and hoping to avoid an accident Mr. Hyatt swerved his car

LOAD OF BRICK TOO HEAVY FOR BRAKES

A truck owned by the Stacey Trucking Company of Trenton backed down Murney Hill yesterday crashing into a tree near Cedar Street and although the rear end of the vehicle was damaged in the impact, no one was injured. The driver who was hauling a load of brick stopped the truck at Isabella Street but apparently the brakes would not hold and the motor started down hill.

A sedan was in the path of the truck and rather than damage the car the truck driver chose to go over the curb and the motor struck a tree on the right side of the road. After a few minutes the driver was able to proceed on his way to Trenton.

RESCUE TWO MEN THOUGHT TO BE DEAD WEEKS AGO

Russian Ice-Breaker Picks Up Two Members of Italia's Crew

Aboard Russian Ice Breaker "Krasin-kin," July 12.—Given up for dead for the past six weeks, two of the three members of the Italia's walking party were rescued today by the ice breaker Krasin. The third member, Dr. Finn Malmgren, noted meteorologist and scientist was not found dead, the victim of a bitter struggle since May 30, against the terrors of the Arctic. The rescued members of the party were Captain Alberto Mariano, pilot of the ill-fated Italia, and Captain Filippo Zappi, navigator, member of the Italian Navy.

The three men started from the spot where the Italia had crashed on the ice five days after the disaster in a desperate attempt to reach land. Leaving the group of six men commanded by General Umberto Nobile behind, the trio headed for the coast of North Finland on May 30, five days after the fatal crash. They carried provisions for forty days. As time passed and repeated attempts by fliers and land searching parties to find them failed, fears gradually built up that perished.

Yesterday word came from the Russian ice-breaker Krassin that Soviet flier Chuchkovsky had sighted the men on the ice far to the north of where they had been sought.

Captains Mariano and Zeppia are now aboard the Krassin. Both were in an exhausted, half-frozen and starved state but they have escaped with no major injuries.

Dr. Malmgren died a month ago but his two companions faithful to their comrade and kept his body and this was taken aboard the Krassin today.

The Krassin is the vessel that had rescued the two Italians, again turned its prow toward the seas and began its weary hours battling the ice in an effort to reach the group of men still marooned near Foyne Island.

TRENTON SCENE OF ORANGE WALK

Successful Day of Speeches And Parade—Meet Next At Campbellford

Trenton was invaded by unounsay of Orangemen and visitors on the Day of Quinte District today, for the annual "walk". The Town was at its best in its new dress of ever-green, trimmed with Orange ribbon and streamers, and flags from every house of the town. Early this morning late sleepers were disturbed by the familiar tattoo of the Fife and Drum bands of fellows of William of Orange preparing to celebrate the anniversary of his victory.

"The Glorious 12th" is being celebrated in Trenton for the first time in several years and the officers of the town have left nothing undone to make it one of the best in history. The verdure bands from the lodges congregated in the downtown section of the town and the fife and drum combined in the afternoon to the heart of every son of the Boyne.

Officers of the Trenton Lodge who led the chance of the parade were Worshipper, Percy Cone; Financial Secretary, Con. Reddick; Treas., R. Allston

Chairman of the Decorations was A. Farrar, Chaplain, Harry Corbett. Magistrate W. C. Mikel, Belleville, was one of the chief speakers of the after noon and he will not only deliver an address there but will also speak at the Orange Celebration at Campbellford. It was estimated that in the neighborhood ofthree thousand people were in attendance at the "walk".

ORCHESTRA WAS WRECKED GOING TO FILL A DATE

Players For Country Club Dinner Dance Carried On Despite Injuries

Crashing into a car driven by M. C. Potter, Front of Sidney farmer, last night about seven o'clock, a large Buick touring car containing four members of Tom Mason's Orchestra was rushed to take the dinch on the right hand side of the road, where, it turned completely over planing the occupants underneath.

George Smith, driver of the car, was cut about the face, neck and hands and required medical attention. Bob Turner, saxaphone player in the orchestra, received a deep gash on the knee, but continued on to the Country Club where the orchestra was scheduled to play at seven-thirty. He received medical attention upon his arrival at the club. These were the only two injured in any event, probably due to the fact that there was very little glass on the car. Tom Mason, Reg. Brockburn and Bud Haines were the other occupants, but they escaped with minor bruises.

According to the Provincial Police, who investigated the accident, Potter came out of his driveway onto the Highway making a wide circle over to the wrong side of the road, when the Smith car, which by all accounts was travelling within the speed limit struck that of Potter's in the rear, glancing off into the ditch. The occupants were lucky to escape as easily as the car is badly wrecked.

The dance at the club was continued to the Country Club where, despite the shock of the accident, they danced until the usual good music for the dinner dance.

FINED FOR SALE UNGRADED SEED

Dept. of Agriculture Has Issued Repeated Warnings To Farmers

A court case which involves considerable interest to farmers was here before Magistrate Graham at Napanee on Monday. It appears that several farmers in the County of Lennox and Addington had been selling seed not graded by the Agricultural representatives and they were hailed into court. All pleaded guilty to the offence and were assessed the sum of $5.00 and costs.

The Department of Agriculture requires that all seed previous to selling must be graded as required by the Dominion Seeds Act. The Dept. have taken the stand that sufficient educational work has been done along this line and Inspectors have been notified to keep a close check-up. Harry Pearson, of Belleville, local representative of the Dept. of Agriculture conducted the prosecutions. It is understood that other cases of a similar nature are pending and will be tried in Hastings County.

Six Are Held

Toronto, July 12.—Five men—three of whom have penitentiary records—are in police custody and will be charged in connection with the daring mail bag robbery of June 30th last, when cash and bonds to the value of $125,000.

In addition, one women is held as a material witness.

The coup, which follows three weeks of intensive police effort, ranks as the most important which the local investigating force has executed upon any criminal gang in many years. Two of the actual gunmen who took part in the robbery are believed to be included and two have been positively identified.

Furthermore, $7,436.25 of the loot has been recovered in the possession of the arrested.

The robbery, however, is not yet fully solved. The mastermind, and probably one associate, is still at large.

Findley McLeod, Sr., civic employee, 48 years of age, residing at 3764, Royce Avenue, who will be charged as one of the actual robbers and also with receiving a share of the loot.

Everett McKibbon, barber, aged 32, 1 Fairfield Avenue, Windsor, Ontario, Michigan, who will be charged as one of the actual robbers and also with receiving a share of the loot.

One woman charged as a material witness whose name is withheld by the police.

One of this company, John Brown, alias Sullivan, has been identified as one of the two gunmen who entered the mail car, while Everett McKibbon has been identified as one of the two gunmen who remained with the employees on the station platform.

Story of Arrests

The story of these captures and of the manner in which one of the most clever criminals ever at work on crimes in Toronto annals has been tracked down is a dramatic one. It is a story of trails running out, trails in every direction, even into Northern

REGENT THEATRE

The course of time has run anything but smoothly in the old pioneer days, judging from "The Covered Wagon," the James Cruze Paramount production which comes to the Regent today on its second triumphant visit.

Will Banion, hero of the story, is under a cloud because Jedediah Wingate was with him in the army during the war in Mexico, accuses him before the wagon train people of treason.

The great wagon train of 1848 sets forth for Oregon. Molly Wingate, the girl Will loves, is loved by both Woodhull and Banion. She favors Banion but will not marry a man under a cloud. Then during the journey, Banion saves her life several times and is finally enabled to prove his innocence.

The trip is fraught with great danger. The Indians' attacks, the fording of rivers and prairie fires, add to the terrors of the overland journey. The picture is fun as well—and there is plenty of thrills.

Supporting the star are all contained in this epic drama of the time when the west was still unconquered.

Ernest Wilson, Charles Kerrigan, Alan Hale, Ernest Torrence, Tully Marshall and Charles Ogle are in the cast.

BELLE THEATRE

In "The College Hero" the Columbia Pictures production which is now at Belle Theatre, an honest effort has been made to present a co-educational school as it really is. It shows a world within a world now, and, admittance and envy, success and failure, courage and cowardice all present as vital factors and all working toward the development of individuals who must shortly take their places in the world outside the campus.

It pictures the adjustments made by youth, the shouldering of responsibilities as they come, responsibilities of honesty and straightforwardness, which are an approximation of those to be faced later. The chastening of the wealthy and the development of generosity and forbearance are all part of the work of a college training. The stage play clearly found oil in "The College Hero."

The all-star cast includes Bobby Agnew, Pauline Garon, Ben Turpin, Churchill Ross and Rex Lease. The production scenes were laid at Occidental College near Hollywood.

Hertig, of Belleville, was chosen Secretary-Treasurer for another term. The special Committee, consisting of F. L. Mason, Chairman, Cobourg; Thos. S. Holgate, Bowmanville; G. D. Conant, Oshawa; Henry Fullerton, Cobourg; and Secy J. O. Hertig, Belleville, submitted their report which followed and which was unanimously adopted.

Every municipality in the Central Ontario region was represented by one or more delegates. Those attending the meeting were:—Industrial Commissioner J. O. Hertig, City Treasurer E. P. Frederick, City Auditor H. B. Stock and Aldermen French and Wetten.

The following report and recommendations were presented by the special committee consisting of F. L. Mason, Chairman, Oshawa; Thos. S. Holgate, Bowmanville; G. D. Conant, Oshawa; Henry Fullerton, Cobourg; J. O. Hertig, secretary, Belleville:

Report of Progress

At a special informal meeting of the members of the Central Ontario Power Association held at Cobourg, Nov. 4, 1927, a detailed report was submitted showing the progress of events since this association was first organized on Feb. 17, 1927.

A number of recommendations were then approved, the understanding with the understanding that the recommendations were to be laid before the Prime Minister of Ontario as soon as an interview could be arranged.

Your committee signified his willingness to meet the deputation on Dec. 15, 1927, when the matter was discussed from a majority of the municipalities using power from the Trent River system and the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, and were met in conference by Premier Ferguson and Hon. Robert J. Cooke, minister of power. The deputation presented its requests as embodied in the recommendations as adopted at Cobourg, and secured a most sympathetic hearing.

The two most important of the requests made by the deputation were: (1) That the Government of Ontario should bring about a readjustment of the capital cost of the Central Ontario Power System because of the excessive price that had been paid for original plant, and

(2) That the Government should take steps at as early a date as should be deemed expedient to dispose of non-electrical utilities such as gas works, waterworks and electric railways, and thus clarify the situation in regard to power costs.

Premier Ferguson's Reply

The requests made by the deputation were of a financial nature and required so much study of conditions and contingencies that a definite reply could not reasonably be expected.

Under date of May 17, 1928, Premier Ferguson addressed a comprehensive answer to the secretary.

In his reply the Premier stated that:

(a) The Government was taking preliminary steps through the Hydro Commission to dispose of the non-electric utilities.

(b) The Government would itself take over the timber limits in Brydges Falls, at a price to be fixed.

(c) The Government, under advice from it as opportune time to reduce electric power rates in the Central Ontario zone but through it better to wait for a rearrangement of schedules until the full effect of the Gatineau power contract could be ascertained.

(d) The Premier did not, in his letter enter into any discussion of the request made by the deputation for a readjustment of capital costs.

F. A. Gaby's Statement

A number of municipalities within the Central Ontario Power zone do not own the local distributing plants such as is universally the case in western Ontario. Ownership is still vested in the Government of Ontario.

In those municipalities where local ownership does not prevail it was the general belief that the profits derived from operation were being diverted and used to extinguish deficits in other places, particularly where unprofitable undertakings such as the Peterboro electric railway were being operated at a loss.

In response to protests that were made by the representatives of those municipalities the Commission sought to justify itself by the statement that the income from non-local municipalities was thrown into a pool, the deficits from non-hydro utilities had to be absorbed and it was not fair that those municipalities that had not invested a dollar in local distributing plants should be placed on the same level as others that had made a heavy investment in local ownership.

The Special Committee devoted much energy to this phase of the situation. While not admitting that the system of accounting adopted by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission was equitable in its application, yet the Special Committee pointed out that the Commission is placed under a serious inconvenience because of the exceptional character of the accounts involved. And it must also be admitted that the matter of local investment creates of itself an important difference.

The general satisfaction expressed by the municipalities having experience of local ownership has also been strong influence with the Special Committee in arriving at the conclusion that it will be to the best interests of all concerned for those municipalities in the Central Ontario System, that have not yet adopted local ownership, to assume that responsibility as soon as such a result may conveniently be brought about.

The Special Committee therefore addressed several questions to Mr. F. A. Gaby, chief engineer of the Hydro Commission which that capable official has answered at some length.

Mr. Gaby's replies were in answer to such questions as these:

(1) What is the method of computing the price asked for local distributing plants?

(2) How are the costs and accounts apportioned where rural lines run out from urban centres?

(3) How is the annual cost for power and service to the municipalities arrived at?

(4) Does the Commission exercise any local control over such municipalities as own their local development and distributing systems?

(5) What is the system reserved in arriving at rates in each municipality?

(6) Explain the "diversity" rate.

As Mr. Gaby's replies are of considerable length and somewhat technical in character it is felt that it will be better to read them in full to the meeting and thereby avoid the danger of creating a wrong impression by a synopsis.

Recommendations

The Special Committee, having in view the best interests of humanity, and the other important advantages to be derived from an unbroken system of local ownership under the direct control and supervision of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, therefore strongly and unanimously recommends:—

(1) That all municipalities within the Central Ontario Power zone, that have not yet entered upon such ownership, should assume ownership of the local electrical distributing systems;

(2) That the councils in all such municipalities respectfully requested to enter upon negotiations with the Hydro Commission, as representing the Government of Ontario to ascertain at what price the local distributing plants may be secured.

(3) That a vote of the rate-payers in all such municipalities be taken, at the time of the next municipal election or at an earlier date, if it is so desired upon the question of purchase of the local distributing plants.

POLICE ARREST

Ontario, then narrowing down to Windsor and Toronto, and finally converging at Dundas Street and Royce Avenue, on Sunday last, when the police made their first arrests.

If penitentiary and reformatory life is to be really reform, it is a query which would never have been written, for then the police would never have cynically suspected Findley McLeod, Sr., convicted in 1923 for a $10,000 mail robbery, nor his associates in the penitentiary, Everett McKibbon, Jr., and Harry Greene, did fall under police suspicion as soon as the crime was committed and they were put under constant surveillance. It was not until last Sunday that McKibbon came from Detroit to meet McLeod and provided the police with the occasion which made suspicious for them since 1923. Subsequent investigation brought John Brown, Jr., Sudbury, who is a penitentiary term at the same life as the other two, into the affair. The men arrested on Tuesday.

The police are not inclined to be unduly condemnatory of Findley McLeod, Jr., for the minor part which he played in the affair. He is believed to have been largely the creature of circumstances. There is also optimism about the case which finds McLeod, the taxi driver played, although no mildness will be extended towards him in the matter of prosecution.

JILLIE THE TOILER—

NATIONALS GAIN VERDICT IN BOTH ENDS OF FAST DOUBLE-HEADER

Deloro Smelters Have Firm Hold On Cellar Position

SCORES 5-4, 2-0

'Vinny' Uronski And 'Hook' Gibson Filing Locals To Victory

Belleville Nationals perched themselves finally on top of the Central Ontario League again yesterday when they took both games of a double-header from Deloro in the latter losing by scores of 5-0 and 5-4, but the boys certainly knew that they had been in two ball games before they carried off the verdict. The first game was the better of the two; if any choice were to be made, as the issue was in doubt until the ninth inning, and even then it was anybody's game.

Up until the first of the ninth in the opener, neither team scored a run, Belleville having conducted for only four hits and Deloro three. Harry Mills started it off in the ninth. Harry was with a walk, and Big Penny sacrificed him to second with a nice bunt. Green then stepped and went to second on the fielder's choice, Harry scoring. Rose fined out, but Blakely came through with another hit past third base which scored Green. This ended the scoring and Gibson was the choice of Manager Gerow for the first game, and he certainly turned in a nice performance, allowing only two hits the whole game. Belleville had a total of six hits off Lee, who turned in a much better performance than was expected of the veteran.

Some idea of the game may be gathered from the fact that after the fourth inning, Deloro pitcher Lee went back to the dug out in one, two, three order. Belleville also had only three men at bat in five of the nine innings and the game was played in good time. Many supporters from Belleville were in attendance in fact almost as many as were there from Deloro, and they made themselves heard to good effect.

Deloro pulled off the only double play of the two games in the first inning of the first game, after R. Scott had walked. Weir struck out, and H. Mills hit to the pitcher, who tossed to second and then to first. Hagerman hit left field had a wonderful day in the field getting three put-outs and three of them were really hard catches. The infield was playing in great shape with the possible exception of the second inning, when Bob Scott made two errors in a row. With two out, he pulled Harry Mills off the bag on his throw of Burgess' bid for a hit, and then made a wild throw to catch the same runner going to second when Boyd hit to him. In the eighth, Boyd sent out a long drive which Rose had to run in for. He got his hands on it, but the ball slipped out, and Vicky was given an error. A moment later, however, Gibson caught Boyd napping off first base and the danger was over.

Harry Blakely played a fine game yesterday when he handled a multitude of chances, all of them hard hit balls, with the ease of a veteran. Collins and Brown secured Deloro's two hits. Quinn made one of the most spectacular catches of the day when he speared Green's scorching liner with one hand after a flying leap into the air over second base, and the time and this made the final out. It would almost, surely have been good for a double if Quinn had not got under it.

Lee struck out three men, and Gibson made five whiff.

Summary—Bases on balls, off Lee, 2; off Gibson, 0; sacrifices, Lee to Quinn to Hughes; struck out, by Lee, 3; by Gibson, 5. Umpires—Colling at plate; Kay on bases. Time of game—1.40.

Both teams started in the second game as though they meant business and it was just as well for the Nationals that they picked on the adulterous offering of Hagerman when they had the opportunity. Weir went to the top of the batting order in this game and A. Scott replaced Hagerman in left field. Weir, Bob Scott and Harry Mills hit successive singles to the first inning. Weir scoring. Deloro came right back with three hits off Uronski and scored two runs in their half of the first.

In the second inning, Rose fined out and Blakely was hit by a pitched ball. Alex Scott placed a scorching single between second and first, followed by the same kind of a hit from Uronski, which scored Blakely. Weir singled again for his second hit in two appearances, scoring Alec Scott and Uronski. Ralph was then called, and Vicky Woods went in to do the flinging. Bob Scott fled out but Harry Mills lifted a nice hit over second for his second of the game, and scored Weir.

This ended the Belleville scoring, Woods getting better as the game progressed, while his team-mates notched a run in the third and another in the sixth. That was a sweet innings game and hitting was much freer than in the first. Belleville getting nine and Deloro eight. The feature hit of this game was Quinn's triple to deep center field. Harry Mills had three hits out of four times up, and was tied for batting honors with Quinn. Big Penny is in a batting slump just now, but more than likely will be out of it in time for the game with Oshawa on Friday evening.

Alec Weir took Scott's place in left field in the fourth, and made two putouts and an assist besides some good tries for fouls. The boys right now are playing some of the finest defensive ball to be seen anywhere and the games played at Deloro yesterday were two of the best seen in this locale for quite some time. A win in Oshawa will assure them of a place in the play-offs if they win only one or two more games after that.

TORONTO TEAM TO PLAY HERE

Beavers To Clash With Gooderham And Worts Club

Ladies' softball fans are in for action that this week-end when G. & W. Argyles come here to play on Saturday against the Belleville Beavers. This team is sponsored by Mr. Herbert Hatch formerly of this District, who in addition to being one of the big men of the Gooderham & Worts Company is a keen sportsman and well known locally. His team has been the sensation of Sunnyside this year and their fielding ability is being broadcast both and wide. They are seniors and making all sundry take notice around Toronto. The Beavers were very fortunate in booking this club for Belleville as when negotiations were completed they had one open date, only, left. The Brewers on the other hand have been making wonderful showing against Toronto teams, and outside of their horrible display against Napanee on Tuesday night have played real consistent ball all season. The team will hold a good work-out tonight or tomorrow evening and should be in shape to tackle the Toronto delegation. Although it was not the fault of the Beaver management Tuesday night the word comes forward that there will be no more late starts and Saturday's game will begin shortly after 6 o'clock. G. & W. team will arrive about noon and everything will be in readiness for the big battle. Pictures of the Argyle players are on display in the D. & B. Cigar Store window. See them for yourself.

LOCALS LEADING CENTRAL LEAGUE

Belleville And Oshawa, Leaders, Meet Tomorrow Night,

Belleville Nationals by taking two games from Deloro yesterday advanced to first place in the Central League and Oshawa who were idle now hold down second position. The Nationals played great ball yesterday and should increase their lead over the Motors on miscovorow night when they play at Alexandra Park, Oshawa. Walter Gerow was considering the question of allowing "Vinny" Green to try a hand at pitching but already several games have been lost through unfair pitchers and the Nationals hope to cop this game tomorrow evening. "Hook" Gibson who turned in a masterful performance yesterday against Deloro will likely get the call and should repeat his victory. Peterboro dropped another game to Kingston yesterday and are giving Deloro a clear race for the cellar honors. Kingston defeated Peterboro handily by a score of 9-2. Kingston will play a return game at Peterboro on Saturday. The League is still contains plenty of excitement with one of the tightest races in years.

ROYALS WIN 7-5 NEWARK BEARS

Pitch Great Ball And Even Series—Toronto Wins Game Too

The Royals got the brand of pitching they have lacked badly in the last few games and, with Herb Thormahlen twirling one of his great games, defeated Newark, 7-3, yesterday afternoon to even the series at one victory each. Big Stubbs scored his tenth victory of the season when he pitched the Leafs to a 3-2 success over the Jersey City Cats in the first of yesterday's doubleheader. Jersey City won the second game 4 to 1.

The Cats had the tying run on third base with two out in the ninth when Burke ran over near first to make a sensational scoop of Lawry's drive to retire the side. The Leafs scored their three runs in the first inning.

Rock Seibold chalked up his fourteenth victory of the season when he shut out the Buffalo Bisons, 5-0, yesterday afternoon. The Bears collected 11 hits off Seibold but failed to score. Les Mangum, ace of the Bison hurling staff, was relieved in the ninth after, being the victim of 10 hits, three of them doubles by Charlie Walsh, Keystone second baseman.

DOCK WORKERS' STRIKE ENDS

Paris, July 11—An Admiralty dispatch reports that the strike of the dock workers there has ended. The strike was in progress for many weeks.

There are 250,000 words in the Hagu-Bah-language—70,000 more than in the French, German and Spanish languages combined.

They're off for Amsterdam. Here are some of the 77 classy Canadian track and field athletes who will represent the Dominion in the Olympics. No. 1, Percy Williams, the Vancouver schoolboy sprinting star, who has equal the world's record in the 100 metres. He is shown taking the Olympic oath. No. 2, Victor Pickard of Hamilton, Ont., champion pole vaulter. No. 3, Doral Pilling of Cardstone, Alta., who holds the Canadian javelin record. No. 4, Alex. Munro of Toronto, high jump and running hop-step-and-jump title holder. No. 5, George Hester, the sprint flash. No. 6, top, Johnny Miles, the former news vendor, bottom, the grocer boy, 10,000 metres and the marathon. No. 7, Pete Walters of Listowel, Ont., 800 metres. No. 8, Jack Walters, brother of Pete, 1,500 metres. No. 10, Fred MacBeath of Hamilton, Ont., 400 and 1,600 metres. No. 11, Alex. Wilson of Montreal, also 400 and 1,600 metres. No. 12, Jimmy Ball of Winnipeg, 400 metres. No. 13, Johnny Fitzpatrick of Hamilton, flashy 100 metres sprint star. They don't make them any better than Phil Edwards. No. 14, who is running in the 800 metres race. Edwards, who can bound in British Guiana, is as fine a runner as has ever borne the Maple Leaf in the world's games, and he is a fine fellow personally. No. 15 is Percy Wyer, of Toronto, Ont., one of the marathoners. No. 16 is Dave Griffin of Hamilton, Ont., who will compete in the 1,500 metres. No. 17 is Brian Little of Winnipeg, Man., 800 metres star.

When Urban Shocker found he couldn't keep up the pace with the New York Americans he asked and received his release. He was sold by the Toronto Leafs to the Yanks in 1916. Shocker at times in his major league career reached heights of real pitching greatness.

MARATHON SWIM IN LIMELIGHT

Toronto Again Chosen As Scene of Swimming Battle De Luxe

Toronto.—(CP)— Competition for the world's long distance professional swimming championship in the races to be staged here Aug. 28 and Sept. 8 by the Canadian National Exhibition will be even more keen than it was last year, judging by the number of inquiries and entries received by swim officials.

Last year, 200 swimmers took to the water for the 21-mile grind in which Ernest Vierkotter, of Germany, crawled his way to the championship. Thirty-two countries were represented in the entries.

Entries for this year's races began to come in this month but inquiries have been received from all parts of the world since last September. These indicate an imposing line-up of aquatic stars and a battle for supremacy which will be even more an international affair than the previous one.

Like the 1927 event, the third Wrigley Marathon will be entirely under the direction of the Canadian National Exhibition, with Elwood Hughes, its director of publicity, in charge of arrangements. The distance has been changed and the race split into two sections, 10 be staged a week apart. Purses for the two events will total $64,000.

Women swimmers will compete in a 15-mile event in Lake Ontario off the Exhibition several on Wednesday, Aug. 29. A week later, all the men entered will race in the second event over a 15-mile course at the same spot. The five leading women in the previous race will also have the opportunity of going after the world's championship in the open contest, but no other women will be accepted.

The size of the purse—$25,000 to the winner of the championship and an equal amount to be split up among the other leaders in the two contests—has attracted widespread attention and inquiries have been received from numerous countries.

Australian swimmers have decided to make a strong bid for the honors and a number of outstanding entrants from the Antipodes are expected to reach Canada in time to put in several weeks of training.

Although Ernst Vierkotter's entry last year was not received until after the closing date, he has confidently predicted that he will enter. It is pointed out that in the event Vierkotter find a swimmer who offers as great a financial inducement and is a better man, he thought he would wish to defend his title.

Chief interest among the early entries is centred in a powerful quartet of United States boys who were among the first to announce their intention of taking part. Mille Gade Corson, who conquered the English Channel immediately after Gertrude Ederle, is a certain starter in the 15-mile race. Ethelda Bleibtrey, of New York, who was the Olympic swimming sensation of 1920, is another of this quartet.

With her is Ethel Hertle, blonde New Yorker, who was the fastest among the women in last year's event. She stayed right with the leaders for 14 miles of the 20 miles and was trailing.

FISHERMEN MAKE RECORD CATCHES

Improvement In New England Fisheries Is Report of Bureau

Boston.—Time has never been a time in the history of the business when so much is being done for the improvement of the New England fisheries, declares the fifty-third annual report of the Boston Fish Bureau, just issued. The Bureau of Fisheries, the United States Fisheries Association and the newly organized Massachusetts Fisheries Association are all working in their special fields for the welfare of the industry. Building of the Boston Fish Pier, the largest pier in the world devoted exclusively to the fishing industry, and the recent adoption of advertising are two of the features calculated to improve one of New England's greatest industries.

The Cape Cod Canal recently taken over by the federal government, is declared of much importance to the fishing industry as it provides a much shorter and safer route to this market from the fishing grounds of Nantucket and Block Island. During the past season mackerel were brought direct to this port from points further south than ever before. In a period of two month, 345 fishing vessels carrying approximately ten million pounds of mackerel passed through the canal.

Adoption of the crude oil motor by many fishermen as power for their vessels is another factor responsible for the rapid growth of the fishing industry.

"On the steamer Orion, Captain John Dahlmer, went the high-line honors for the last mackerel season. This vessel brought in fish valued at $62,000, and each member of the crew received $1,200 as his share.

"The schooner Lark, Captain Ernest Parsons, was high liner of the ground fishermen. During one month each member of the Lark's crew received $1,000. In a two months' period the vessel landed fish valued at $47,000, a record never before equalled by a fishing vessel.

"The Progress, Captain Carl Blouin, led the halibut fishermen. Each member of the Progress' crew earned approximately $2,000 during the halibut season.

WALES SPOKE WELSH LIKE A VETERAN

Having been coached in Welsh on roots to Cardiff when a boy, unveiled the Welsh National War Memorial, the Prince of Wales said, amidst the plaudits of a hundred thousand Welsh men: "Mewn anghof ni chant fod yn awel dros ei beddau cwsg'dl. In English that means mean in the English language, "We will see that they shall not be forgotten while the breezes blow over their graves."

Awarded a prize of $3,000 for her game showing. The fourth of the group is Mrs. Lucy Diamond, who was the best of the women in the 1927 Lake George swim. She was placed second to the winner of the race, Edward Kealing, who was the only one to finish the course.

Before the entry list had been opened 48 hours, a score of competitors had filed their official forms and more than 100 swimmers have already informed race officials that they have started training.

PREMIER KING'S BIG OPPORTUNITY

Commissioner Lamb Tells What Whole Empire Needs

London (By The Canadian Press)—Now that the Canadian Parliamentary Immigration Committee has completed its inquiry, writes Commissioner David Lamb in the Daily Telegraph, Premier Mackenzie King has a great opportunity to lift Canadian immigration and settlement on to a high level away from consideration of question of detail, to a bold, generous and comprehensive policy born of foresight and vision. "Such a policy is not only necessary in Canada but in the whole Empire," he says.

In Australia, Commissioner Lamb continues, there is evidence of an increasing desire to "broaden out" on the subject of Empire settlement, and recognition of the dangers lurking in the pressure of population in other countries while vast rich areas remain underoccupied; and there is an inclination to take risks to help the Mother Country. When the mission to Australia appointed by the British Government, which shortly leaves England, arrives in Australia, it will probably find that the work of the Federal Migration and Development Committee has prepared the ground for a forward move, "and we may reasonably look for a big and an early move to the Southern Continent."

Commissioner Lamb asks, "What is this country going to do? The nation's at burden, unemployment, presses hardly on industry and people here. If we have spent $2,500,000,000 on nothing, surely we can contemplate undertaking a like expenditure from which there might be a return, even if that return were indirect. The question era this present have been lifted out of politics.

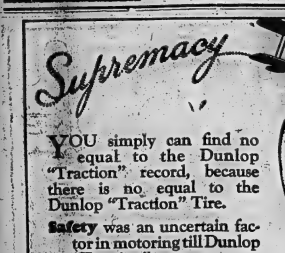

"This unprecedented expenditure must be ever present in the minds of our kinsmen overseas, and if there appears to be a little selfishness in their negotiations that need be no reason for nigardliness on our part. Conservatives always had the reputation of being imperialists. What a great opportunity presents itself to the present Government Liberals appear to maintain their historic lukewarmness in the matter of emigration. Labor is no longer openly hostile to emigration, but the labor statesmen see the practical and political possibilities of a big Empire constructive policy. Anyway, no party can escape or evade the reproach of a 'fateful silliion' who persist on 'forfeit' registers of the unemployed."

We respectfully suggest that at any time the United States Senate runs short of subject to investigate, it should investigate itself.

APPLE CROP MUCH BETTER THIS YEAR

The condition of the New England apple crop is much more favourable than usual at this time of year and well ahead of the 10-year average for this season, according to the New England Crop Reporting Service.

In nearly all sections of New England the bloom was said to be heavy. Maine was an outstanding exception with nearly all varieties having only a moderate to light bloom. The final production of apples, however, may not be as great as the bloom promises indicate, it was pointed out, although conditions are regarded as very favorable to a satisfactory set of fruit.

EGO ALWAYS FIRST IN THE NATURAL MAN

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH
Eminent Psychologist

What are the outstanding psychological traits that distinguish man from wounds?

Modern man is a conscious, deliberate, reasoning animal. He knows what he wants, he acts, his goal, he goes after it. Animals and self-conscious are not entirely foreign to his nature, but if they interfere with progress he reasons them out of his system and goes straight ahead. He really possesses a genuine emotional nature, but I lies rather deep and he does not like to dig it up because it is upsetting to his equanimity and the smooth progress of his advance. He is not insensitive to suffering but it annoys him. His ego is supreme. So overwhelmingly does it influence him that many men toil and sweat an entire lifetime in order that they may be able to create or build up some thing by which they shall be remembered after they die.

Man depends very little upon the outside world or upon other humans for gratification. To do so appears to him a weakness. He hates to receive favors. It humiliates him. He likes to give and place others under obligation. He is almost always activated, directly or indirectly, by motives, of self, and self-aggrandizement.

Man studies himself, watches himself, checks up on himself, is quick to admit and correct a fault of self. He learns by experience. He compares constantly his own self with others, is ready to admit another's superiority, but always plans to surpass that other because he believes he has it in him to accomplish anything. Other people and all forms of activity furnish the gymnasium for the exercise and testing of his abilities. Man is without a doubt the most self-satisfied animal in existence.

And, strange though it may seem, and in all the most repressed animal. He is compelled to repress himself. Should he let himself go his ruthlessness would know no bounds. Men would kill each other. They would inspect, again, subject they would do anything and everything within their power to make their wills supreme.

Man delight in prize fighting and wrestling. They love competitive games like football, baseball, basketball. Anything that matches brain and brawn against brain and brawn thrills them to the marrow. They put themselves in the places of the players. Their muscles and nerves quiver with excitement. In witnessing contests they get the brute within them off their chests. Psychanalysts would call this a kind of rationalization process. It gives the emotional overflow that is difficult to repress completely and permanently a chance to escape in a relatively harmless way at the same time socialized manner.

These methods tend toward socialization in conjunction with fundamental instinctive, material, individualistic, canalized what is left. Man appears a paradoxical mechanism in man. It is perfectly rational and pragmatic, however.

Bear in mind the dominating emotional trait of man—his ego. Bear in mind also his pride, which constitutes his safest intellectual characteristic. Through the ages man has learned via this reason that he cannot always have his own way, that single-handed he cannot fight the whole world successfully. Other men are on this earth and they must be reckoned with. A compromise with them works out the best after all. It is reasonable to subserve oneself, a little in order to gain an advantage. On the privilege of appearing to give he hopes always to receive even more.

Dainty Handwork Makes Children's Frocks Individual

Smocking is a useful art means of introducing a touch of contrast to make this little printed frocks for the small girl. Simplicity in children's clothes is always of first importance but a bit of handwork, in this case the old and ever fashionable smock. The frock above is smocked on either side the little printed yoke. The straight-from-the-shoulder line of the model is very smart for small children. Bands of plain material to harmonize with the figure of the frock trim the armholes and yoke. A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

Chapter 61.
NEMESIS.

Celia was breathing slow when she found of the door-bell sent Anna shrieking. Falconer had not yet appeared. That fact made Celia uneasy although when she had slipped down to unlock the door in the laboratory, according to her custom, she had heard him moving about.

Anna returned to say that the gentleman who had called the previous evening was asking again for Mr. Falconer. Celia left the table and went into the hall.

The sight of Manuel brought home to her Falconer's fear, for she had had a similar premonition, and determinedly said abruptly:

"I've come to see Falconer, I mean to see him, and know he is in this house. You might tell him that it's no use trying to avoid me."

Celia cast an apprehensive glance toward the stairway leading to her mother's room, then recalled that Mrs. Page had learned her lesson and now had ample enough to keep the door tightly closed.

She answered, with dignity: "I will tell Mr. Falconer, but he has not breakfasted yet. Will you wait in the drawing-room?"

"I'll wait where I can keep an eye on the door," was the response.

Her cheeks flaming with indignation, she went to the laboratory and knocked. Falconer, in his dressing-gown, opened the door. His glance strayed beyond her and encountered Manuel.

"Oh, Heavens," he groaned. "I'd hoped for a little more time. Tell him, please, that I'll come as soon as I'm properly clothed."

She shook her head.

"Now, Falconer. We'll have it out now!"

The laboratory door closed behind them. Celia went back to the table and pretended to eat.

But her ears were straining for a sound behind that closed door. What would she hear? A shot? A cry for help from Falconer.

When she went up to her mother's room, the invalid was looking brighter than on the previous evening.

"Where is Richard?" she demanded eagerly. "Why hasn't he come with you to explain that mysterious business of last night?"

"I hope so," sighed her mother. "Really, everything is so inexplicable. So many curious things seem to be going on in this house."

To herself, Celia said: "And no one ever spoke a truer word."

In the morning post was a letter from Annesley, very short and business-like—upon the was yearning for a friendly, personal word. He wrote:

"I have been notified that your bank-account is over-drawn. I am afraid I shall have to sell some securities for you. Can you come to New York, so that we may discuss your financial situation? I cannot understand it—quite perhaps, I understand it too well."

"Come to New York!" Now she wished she could! But how to tell him that already she had sold the better part of her holdings?

She spent a restless morning, rambling around the house, listening for sounds from the laboratory, where that seemingly endless conference was in progress. She refused to worry about Falconer's demand that she accompany him to his flight. Enough that money she could raise. She told herself that there was no further fear of that unknown man Manuel had caught up with him. Flight was impossible. He'd have to face the inevitable and find some way out for himself.

It was nearly time for lunch when the laboratory door opened and the men came out. Falconer was looking pale and, for him, unwontedly serious.

Celia heard Manuel say:

"And remember, it's your own chance, Falconer. I won't act further until tonight. But at eight o'clock you will come." He lowered a little and added: "I'll explain to-night exactly what I do."

To Celia's ears, Falconer's ready laugh was cheerful. "Oh, I'll come. I guess I know when I'm cornered."

To which Manuel responded softly: "It took you a long time to find that out, my friend. You understand Manuel didn't you? You men have done that—to their everlasting regret."

When Manuel had gone, Falconer turned abruptly and went into the laboratory. Celia followed. Falconer sounded, he reappeared, immaculately dressed. Falconer, in his dressing-gown, opened the door. His glance compelled her unwilling admiration. The man at least had courage, for all Manuel's threats was leaving himself entirely to know the outcome of that interview. For, if Falconer knew an escape, it meant disaster for herself. If he didn't escape—

"Let's have coffee in the living-room," he suggested, at the end of the meal. "I want to talk to you."

She agreed with alacrity. He closed the door carefully, after Anna had brought them and departed.

"How many thousand dollars can you gather together between now and eight o'clock tonight?"

She answered scornfully: "If you're speaking to me, Falconer, as to my money, you might just as well discuss the idea. It is useless, I tell you. I'm broke, cleaned out."

He said impatiently:

"Listen. I stalled off that blackmailer until tonight. He'll be waiting for me at the hotel. I promised that I'd get together the equivalent of the sum he claims I stole. Naturally, I haven't de it. If I could, I'd see him in——Central America first. It was all a lie. I used that money legitimately, just as I used my own. . . . But that's neither here nor there. The point is, that with Manuel waits for me at the hotel, you and I will be taking the eight o'clock train for New York and freedom. There is only one thing now that you have burner in the air. Designed to warm private house, it guards the lives of Navy, Army and Marine flyers. It's an odd twist in American inventive genius."

Less than seven days after leaving the shipper in London, England, four packages of merchandise totalling forty two pounds in weight were recently delivered to the consignee in London, Ontario. This achievement was effected by the Canadian Pacific Express in the regular air express service maintained in connection with the trans-Atlantic liners entering and leaving the St. Lawrence.

At the forenoon on Saturday the packages left London and were placed aboard the "Empress of Australia" sailing from Southampton at noon. The following Friday they were transshipped from the vessel to a plane at Rimouski and speeded towards Montreal. Less than three hours afterwards at the St. Hubert airfield outside of Montreal the express was transferred to another machine and carried on to Toronto. Arriving here in the evening, seven hours after leaving Rimouski the packages were picked up by another airplane at the Leaside field and taken to London.

The Canadian Pacific are pioneers in air express in Canada having service under a special tariff in connection with incoming and outgoing trans-Atlantic liners in the St. Lawrence River.

Not only is express to and from Europe greatly expedited by this arrangement, but domestic air express shipments make constant use of the bi-weekly service between Ottawa and Montreal, Toronto and Montreal, and down the St. Lawrence to Rimouski, that thus serves two purposes. Express moving east or west between these points may be greatly speeded in delivery in this manner, and put considerably ahead of ordinary express matter unaided by this auxiliary. Merchants have made use of the Canadian Pacific Express Air Service to ship articles of every description, from flowers to motion picture film.

TO PROBE U.S. CITIZEN'S DEATH

Vienna, July 11—Austrian police, acting at the instance of the American Legation and Consulate were investigating to-day the murder of a man believed to be John Swatzina, thought to be a United States citizen.

HOW DREAMS MATERIALIZE

It is our desire at certain times of the year to get away from the din of city traffic and out to where the slightest noise would be instantly noticeable. We often think of being aboard a steamer out in mid ocean, where time hangs peacefully upon your hands, and the worries of life have fled. We dream of these things, yet little do we, realize that these dreams can come true if we but pause for one moment to think. What of inland waters? We may think of them as being fit for anglers and those who delight in canoeing. But of steamers with broad white decks, where we can sit on some quiet corner and give ourselves up to dreamy thought, do we ever think of such possibilities? They do exist, and think of it, for two whole days, on an ocean of your own, embarking at Port McNicoll, sweeping out across Lake Huron, through the great Soo canal, and out over Lake Superior, the greatest body of fresh water in the world. Your dreams, therefore, can materialize, and more so if you call upon the Canadian Pacific Railway, obtaining all information regarding this wonderful trip, and finally sailing them for reservations. 113d

HAGEN IS AFTER CANADIAN CUP

Won Every Open Championship Except That of Canada

Toronto, Ont.—(C.P.)—Golf in Canada reaches its greatest height on July 26-27 at the Rosedale golf club here, when the Canadian Open title will be contested by one of the finest fields that ever struggled for the coveted honor. Preparations are being made to handle the largest galleries in the history of the sport in Canada and the entry list has been put in the shape—four to 72, 36 each way, and the length of the course is 6,764 yards. Tommy Armour, former United States Open Champion, will be here to defend the Canadian Open title. Walter Hagen, British Open champion, Johnny Farrell, new United States Open title holder, will probably be among the invaders to oppose the best of the Canadian golfers.

Hagen and Mr. Hagen has won every open title in the world except the Canadian and he is determined to annex that open title before long. He has made repeated attempts since as far back as 1914, when he first started on his great golfing career. Farrell and Sarazen have likewise failed so far in repeated efforts to win the Canadian title.

Armour has year won the title by finishing just one stroke ahead of Macdonald Smith. He thus kept the title which he still in the hands of the United States, whose golfers have won it continually since Karl Keffer, of Ottawa, won it in 1914. The last Canadian to even achieve runner-up position was Charles Murray, Montreal, in 1926 second to J. D. Edgar of Aurora.

The record of the championship:

1904—J. J. Oke, Ottawa, runnerup.

1914—Karl Keffer, Ottawa; runner-up, George Cummings, Toronto.

WOMEN PRESERVE CHILD LIFE NOW

Montreal, Que.—(C.P.)—Women who are everywhere the real conservators of child life and welfare, will be eager to hear more of the results of the early testing of the hearing of school children by means of the audiometer, which has been introduced and carried on by the Verdun Protestant School Board this year.

As such a large percentage of deafness in adult life has its origin often entirely unsuspected in childhood, when a strong reason to believe, that many of the cases reported as of defective hearing can be permanently cured, and the child saved a lifetime of deafness. In cases in which the disease has progressed so far that there is no cure, it is often possible by care ful and continued treatment to prevent the deafness from getting worse and the trouble from reaching the not ear.

The Montreal League for the Hard Of Hearing at their annual meeting, here, adopted a resolution commending the Verdun board and expressing the hope that, because of its great importance of discovering hearing defects during the early years of childhood, while they can to a large extent be cured, the other school boards of the province will adopt it as a means to have the hearing of their children tested at least once a year.

PRESS WOMEN GO TO CLEVELAND

Friendly Gesture By Ladies In That City Appreciated

Toronto, Ont.—A friendly international gesture on the part of the Cleveland Women's Press Club, over the invitation extended to the Press Women of Canada to pay a visit across the border, found the Canadian Press women took advantage of the opportunity to meet the Cleveland Press Women and "had the time of their lives" as they announced on their return. Mrs. Tweedale, President of the Cleveland Club, welcomed the guests from camera men and newspaper representatives greeted the Canadian delegation on their arrival from across the lake.

"We sailed across the lake in the sunlight and had the pleasure of returning by moonlight," said one delighted member of the party. The many features of the evening was a full "call to which press women from Montreal (including some French members) from Ottawa, Toronto, London and western cities, responded, among whom were Miss May Glendenan of Toronto, the dominion president of the Canadian Women's Press Club. Judge Mabel Boll was also present, pointed out the value of international amity between Canada and the United States.

During the visit the Canadian press women visited the Perry's War Memorial and placed a wreath in memory of the soldier heroes.

SOUTH AFRICAN MEN TO OLYMPICS

Only One Woman On Olympic Team; Holds High Jump Record

Amsterdam.—(CP)—The South African Olympic Association has definitely chosen the following athletes for the Olympic games: S. J. Atkinson (Natal), Howard P. Kinsman (Natal), W. B. Legg (Orange Free State), J. Viljoen (Transvaal), and Miss Marjorie Clark (Natal). O. C. Weightman Smith, the Cambridge hurdler, who is resident in Britain, has also been selected.

Undoubtedly the most interesting personality of the team is the woman competitor, whose presence marks South Africa's first participation in international women's athletics. She is credited with the unofficial world's record for the high jump, having topped five feet two and a half inches last October, and on five other occasions that year having done 5 feet 1 1-4 inches, and 5 feet 1 3-4 inches. The only reason why Miss Clark's record has gone unrecognized is that South Africa has not affiliated with the Women's International Athletic Federation. Miss Clark has done 100 yards in 11 seconds flat.

Of the men, the most known are Atkinson, the hurdler and long jumper, Kinsman, the sprinter, and Weightman Smith. Both Atkinson and Kinsman took part in previous Olympiads. At Paris in 1924 Atkinson was beaten in the hurdles by Kinsey of America, but at the British Empire meeting a fortnight later he turned the tables on the American. He did 15 seconds for the 120 yards high hurdles a week or so ago, and his best long jump was accomplished in June, 1927, when he cleared 23 feet 8 inches.

Kinsman in the sprints would seem to have little chance against men like Paddock and Carlton, the Australian, as his best time for the 100 yards is 10 seconds, and for the 220 yards 22 1-5 seconds.

W. B. Legg is probably the most versatile member of the team at the Grey University sports at Bloemfontein last February, he won six events, the 100 yards, the hurdles, the high jump, all in the morning, and the 220 yards, and the high jump in the afternoon. Viljoen specialises in the two jumps, high and long, for which he has done 5 feet 10 3-4 inches and 23 feet 4 3-4 inches respectively. The marathon candidate is expected to be M. J. Steyler, who is a phenomenal runner, having practised on his own farm at Vryheid, but it is doubtful if he will prove competent enough for the Finns, especially if they produce another Nurmi.

On the whole the South African team is one of the strongest sent by the Dominions, though South Africa's main hope rests with Miss Clark, who

SUICIDE PREVENTED BY PHYSICIAN'S PROMPT ACTION

BACK CRUSHED BY MOTOR CAR

George Osborne of Marmora Had Narrow Escape From Death

UNAVOIDABLE

Fatality Averted In Heavy Traffic On Stirling Street

George Osborne, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Osborne, of Marmora village, was more or less seriously injured last night shortly after six and the man was taken into custody, this over by a car driven by Miss Gertrude Franklin on the main corner of the town near the Royal Hotel. The tyke was when he was knocked down and of the road along with several other kiddies who were playing and Miss Franklin who is a school teacher had no chance to avoid an accident. The wheels passed directly over the boy's body. Mr. James Lavender, the County Constable who was standing on the corner at the time carried the lad to the office of Dr. Crawford. An examination revealed that no bones were broken although his back was bad ly crushed. Had Miss Franklin not been travelling slowly a fatality might have resulted.

A young lad by the name of Wilson was knocked down in the village of Stirling last night shortly after ten o'clock. He was carried to the office of Dr. Ponte and after cursory examination had been rendered, he was able to proceed to his home. He was bruised about the eye and face. The car was driven by Mr. Ralf Ireland and when the proper parties had stepped from the curb and the lad's mother was sheltered from all harm, the traffic was heavy at the time with hundreds of motorists in attendance at the Orange celebration.

SIX CANADIANS IN KING'S PRIZE

Lieut. Desmond Burke of Ottawa Well Up In Front

Bisley Camp, Eng., July 13.—Canada will have at least six representatives in the final for the King's Prize tomorrow, that many of her Bisley team having qualifying scores of 137 and better today in the second stage. Three more Canadians with scores of 136 just missed getting into the final, shooting off with thirty-three others for thirty-three of the one hundred places.

Bisley Camp, July 13.—Two of the comparatively lesser lights on the Canadian Bisley team distinguished themselves in the shoot in the second stage of the great King's Prize match, C.Q.M.S.R. Stevenson of Montreal, led eleven Canadians with five 143 out of possible 150, while Sergt. H. W. Burton, of Victoria, shot 142.

The next best Canadian scorers were Lieut. Desmond Burke, of Ottawa, and Sergt. J. H. Regan, Victoria, each scoring 138. Hours were needed to tabulate the scores of competitors today to determine the 100 who would enter the final tomorrow, but it seemed that the scores of 136 would qualify so that Canada would have more than half a dozen marksmen in the final.

HARDY VETERANS OF ORANGEISM

Speaking of old Orangemen! There were two hardy veterans in the parade today for the Glorious Twelfth that rank with the best of them. One was John Adams, of Thomasburg, who will celebrate his 92nd birthday on the 23rd of October. Mr. Adams said yesterday that he was a subscriber of the Intelligencer ever since he could read, and his father before him. In fact, John Adams' granddaughter is carrying on the tradition and reads the paper every evening as well.

Another one of the Old Guard is Daniel McCle, of Stirling Lodge, Mr. McCle joined in Ireland seventy years ago and has been a member in both countries ever since. Mr. McCle will be ninety in Christmas time. Some record.

SIX THOUSAND ATTENDED ORANGE WALK' AT STIRLING YESTERDAY

Thirty-One Lodges From Hastings County In Big Parade

T'was a grand day in Stirling Yesterday—the Glorious Twelfth. King William himself could not have asked for a greater day of enthusiasm and for a greater turnout. Six thousand paid homage to the Prior Orangeism during the day, where the celebration was held, and well over a thousand more failed have come during the afternoon without paying.

There were thirty-one lodges present, and when the grand parade was told just after the dinner hour a thousand strong was being marched through the village and back to the grounds. With bedecked men on grey horses directing the ceremonies and drum and fife bands, to say nothing of the smart Stirling boys' band, all combining to make a colorful and inspiring picture, visitors gasped at the immensity of the pageant.

Optimism of sun upon a gloomy day,
A daisy blossoming beside the way,
A bluebird lilting on a leafy tree,
Herald of spring and brighter days to be;
Hope is the keynote of the year,
Then hope, hope, hope, and banish cowardly fear!
—NOEL CARLTON.

LAW SHORN OF ITS DELAYS AND EXPENSE

Two years ago there came into being in New York an organization known as the American Arbitration Association. It has demonstrated that business men make good lawyers and many cases, even though they dispense with legal robes and red tape. Hundreds of new-fangled societies are formed each year. Few of them click. This was one that did. The society now settles disputes involving millions of dollars at a minimum of time and expense. The small litigant who could not afford to risk the cost of defeat in a court of law has no worries in this arbitration system, for the maximum cost of a hearing has been fixed at $25.

It is explained that it was the continued condition of the New York courts that furnished the impetus for business to form its own "League of Nations," and thus save time and lawyer's fees. With 36,000 cases awaiting trial and settlement and with no facilities for settling only about 1,000 a year, business men decided to build up their own machinery for settling disputes. The procedure is very simple. Representatives from each faction and also their sides of the argument and each selects the name of the man whom he wishes to arbitrate the case. A third is chosen by the association.

Sometimes the decision, as final as the court decree, is made at once, but it must be made within four days of the hearing. In many business disputes, the question of time is almost the most important consideration. Quick perishable goods are often involved. The association is not for profit and is maintained by dues and voluntary contributions. It embraces on its roll of directors men of such international authority as Charles E. Hughes, Owen D. Young, Harry Augustus and Charles Schwab. It is that rare organization bird that is doing what its sponsors predicted it would do—it works.

TANNING IS HEALTHY SUN-BURNING IS NOT.

During July and August sunbathing generations over the weather as the principal topic of conversation. This is the season when one-half the population is compelled to listen to the other half wagging about seashore tan or complaining about blistered shoulders and arms.

Sun baths have effected almost miraculous cures in cases of tuberculosis of the bone and glandular affections and a good coat of tan or case of sunburn adds credence to the seashore vacation yarn, but there is also ghastly danger from sunburn. Inflammation, fever, infection and even death may follow injudicious exposure to the sun, the burn of which is not different from that of fire or steam.

Good rules for bathers to follow are to keep out of the summer sun between the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. except for brief periods, to cultivate tan gradually, and not seek from a week-end trip to return home with a certificate of tan to a season at the seaside.

Just now, when the practice of exposing children to the sun for health reasons has brought about a special garb for their sunning, the warning is in place—that the periods of exposure be brief, and above all else, the head should be covered and the eyes protected by dark glasses.

Sun baths without burns, but with the tan that the individual's complexion entitled him to, is the ideal to be sought, and in the attainment of this all the beneficial effects of the sun may be gained without the maladies which wait upon burns.

ERRORS OF JUSTICE APT TO BE SERIOUS

Mistrials are attracting a good deal of attention just now. The trial of Tom Mooney has been shown again and again to have been a frame-up of the police department of San Francisco, and with the Sacco and Vanzetti trial has shaken the faith of the labor people in the courts of the United States. The release of Oscar Slater in Scotland after an imprisonment of over eighteen years has been made the occasion of a new trial, as he insisted on having his innocence of the crime with which he was charged, made clear.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle has been interesting himself in this case for a number of years past, and no one who has studied the evidence can understand how the man was ever convicted. He was nearly hanged and the authorities have made no amends to him for his pains. But we should not forget how very infrequently such miscarriages of justice occur. But the hanging of an innocent man does not shock the judicial mind nearly so much as it does the layman. The layman cannot help but think of the possibility of finding himself in a similar plight one day.

BROTHERS.

My arm is thrown
Around my brother,
Our cheeks and arms
Are closely pressed.
We walk in peace—
We love each other,
I feel his laughter
In my breast.

My shudders mingled
With my brother's.
Our very hearts
And souls combine.
Our voices answer,
One another's—
I can not tell
His words from mine.

But soon we part
From one another.
A blow, a wound,
A shifting mood,
Then brother rises
Against brother.
We'd slay each other
If we could.
—Mary Britton Miller.

I have more respect for those who work for the improvement of society than those who merely pray for it.

PASSING YEARS

(From The Intelligencer of this day 30 years ago.)

A very largely attended Orange celebration was held in Brown's Grove, near Thomasburg yesterday. Over 50 Ledges were in line. Mr. Wm. Morton was Marshal and addresses were delivered by W. Martin of Stirling, R. Porter of Huntingdon and W. F. Hodgson of Belleville.

Fire destroyed a barn and contents owned by Mark Sandford, 5th Concession of Madoc on Thursday evening last. The origin is a mystery.

At a meeting of the Board of Education held last night it was estimated that over $16,000 will be levied for school purposes this year.

Mr. A. O. Northrup was registered at a Toronto hotel yesterday.

Mr. J. C. Davidson is in Brighton today in the interests of his company.

Mr. T. S. Carman and family returned last night from a trip to Quebec and other St. Lawrence points.

OTHER MEN'S THOUGHTS

Blind times are but little intervals of timidity between periods of normal growth.—Montreal Herald.

A Kansas country editor has discovered that when a man finds fault with his local newspaper ten to one he hasn't an advertisement in it, three to one he is delinquent in his subscription, and even money that he never did anything to assist the publisher to make it a good paper, and forty to one that he is anxious to see it when it comes out. To which might be added a hundred to one that he makes the biggest threats when he demands that his name be kept out of police court proceedings.—Chatham News.

HAVE YOU HEARD THESE?

Girl—So you kissed that painted creature?

Boy—Yes, I satisfied the colours.

Silly Sue—Oh, officer! There's man following me and I think he must be drunk.

Officer (giving her the once-over)—Yes, he must be.

Med—Is he afraid of affairs?

Dan—Yes; he's had an affair with nearly every girl in town.

Artillery Rookie (about to take his first lesson in horsemanship)—Sergeant, please pick him out a nice, gentle, peace-loving horse.

Rookie—No.

Sergeant—Ah! Here's just the animal for you. Never been ridden before. You can start out together.

A big game hunter in Rhodesia tracked down a lion and wounded it. The beast turned on him, beat him to the ground, and was about to finish him off when the flap of the hunter's collar turned over.

Instantly the lion bounded off into the bush.

The Amazon basin in South America, which covers more than two million square miles, has a population of less than one person per square mile. Sweden was the first country to recognize that a wife's services in the home had a legal value.

A HOME FROM HOME

What is a bungalow camp? It is indeed very, easy to sum up. A home from home. It is not a tentlike encampment as we often imagine it to be, indeed no cheerier atmosphere could be found than amidst one of these rustic yet luxurious camps, filled with life, brimming over with a determination to get the best out of the surroundings, and indeed, life itself. Let us consider the French River Camp, situated in the heart of the rugged and beautiful country such as Province of Ontario possesses. Here is an ideal vacation for the canoeist, fisherman, golfer, the tennis enthusiast, and above all there is the privacy of a house of your own to sleep in. Again, take Devil's Gap Bungalow Camp, amid equally delightful surroundings, a few miles from Kenora. All kinds of aquatic sports are available, including excellent fishing. Mention must also be made of Pigeon River camp which lies deep in the north woods.

PORTSMOUTH GUARD RECOVERING NICELY

Kingston, July 12.—Guard R. C. Stewart, who was viciously attacked by Convict Degidlice as he was bringing dinner to the prisoner, was reported today to be recovering nicely from his wounds, though his face is still a mass of gashes. He is now at his home and will probably remain off duty for some time.

The fifth and sixth largest cities in the world are Chicago, 3,701,7061 and Tokio (2,370,000).

HUMAN KINDNESS.

Ever since Sir Henry Thornton took hold of the Canadian National Railways, one of the main points in his instructions to all employes has been courtesy and human kindness, report that newspaper. The account goes on:

The limits to which these instructions are carried evidently have wide bounds for in the police court Magistrate Hopewell took occasion to comment on the large heartedness of Constable Ernest Johnston, of the railway force. He had picked up Frank Williams whom he found trespassing and who, apparently, was not of the usual hobo type.

"Had your breakfast?" asked the court of the prisoner, who was scantily clad. "Yes, your worship, the officer brought me sandwiches and coffee and another officer of the railway gave me a an overcoat," was the reply.

With a gesture of appreciation of the officer's conduct, the magistrate placed the accused in charge of John Joad, of the Union Mission, for a week to see what can be done in such a case.

Goat's tallow and beech ash were the ingredients of the earliest kind of soap.

NO SEX SUPERIOR' BUT SO DIFFERENT!

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH.
Eminent Psychologist.

Men are clever in the sense that women use the word. When a man says a woman is clever he means she is capable. When a woman duhs a man clever she implies trickiness. I venture to say that men are more tricky than women.

Woman has the credit of being so because of being the weaker vessel physically. She has had to fall back upon her wits and everybody knows it. But woman rarely for wits and is tricky with everybody until she falls in love. Then toward the beloved object she becomes trusting, frankly subservient, suffused with idealism. But man is always more or less tricky and has his guard even with those he loves. He never gives himself up completely. "What does it mean to the other fellow" "What are they getting out of it?" This, in substance, is the ruling passion of his life.

I do not wish to imply that man is devoid of idealism. Indeed, I believe he is of the very highest order. Patriotism, justice, fraternity, equality—these are man-made principles. He is even capable of sacrifice in the cause of an ideal. But his type of sacrifice is different from a woman's. Woman will suffer personal pain, suffering, sacrifice. It is an integral part of her personality make-up. But though man will also go through all these trials uncomplainingly, man will do it only to preserve a set principle, or to defend his native soil, all the while figuring that if he be subjugated or arrested, valuable principles remain and, that his own individual progress will everingually be handicapped.

Men are more observed how men delight in theorizing? When women get together they talk of personal matters, such as the price of food, servants' troubles, children, Mrs. Smith's new baby. Always, too, there is added considerable animation as though the problem under discussion were the most important in the world and always the discussion is personal and carries with it a certain detachment "knocking" to make it interesting.

But men can, and do talk for hours on some speculative hypothesis in an absolutely detached and non-personal manner. Stocks, bonds, business conditions, fluctuations of prices are the rule, but revolutionary doctrines, art, literature, and even the universe can be just as fascinating for them. As they show a certain detachment with which on the face of it does not seem materialistic. In reality, however, it carries a selfish motive because it has to do with the smooth running of the affairs of men which is so necessary to the development of the potentials of any one of its unit numbers.

Men therefore get the credit for being proud-minded, for not being selfish, for being above the petty trivialities of life. They are so much the narrow in their outlook, people say. Maybe they are, but attention to personal comforts and the niceties of existence are thrown in together and indiscriminately with their penchant for gossip and mutual jealousies.

But that does not necessarily make man a superior being. Doesn't a man enjoy a good bed, a well-cooked meal, a well-appointed home, well-groomed and well-dressed? He is not above these comforts, attention to which carries with it somewhat of viewpoint and close attention to details. Man appreciates these as well right and he is always hoping to win some woman who will attend to these creature comforts and take that part of his selfishness off his hands. The home is too much a place for him to use his intellectual abilities for, which is why he relegates it to second place. His business or profession gives him a variety of room and unlimited opportunity. That's why he so easily falls into the habit of eating, reading and discussing business, neglecting everything else to do so. Golden be his condition! Surely this does not make men superior to women.

One sex is not superior to the other. They are merely different!

"SALADA" TEA

ORANGE PEKOE BLEND

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Save the liquor in which asparagus was cooked and to two cups add one cup of milk, two tablespoonfuls of flour, stirred smooth in cold water one teaspoonful of butter, and a seasoning of salt and pepper. Just before serving stir in a cup of sweet cream and the cooked asparagus tips cut in small pieces.

Where woodwork has to be painted, white paint is usually used than brown. Sometimes makes the rooms. Many people are afraid of white paint on account of the work it entails, but if a cream white or cream shade is used and given a good enamel finish it washes quite well. When it is dirty it is very easily cleaned with any of the paint cleaners.

A pen which seems absolutely useless will continue to give excellent service if you hold it over a flame (the gas will do), about a quarter of a second, then dip it into water.

Before purchasing a new broom, press it down firmly on the floor. If the straws remain firm the broom is all right, but if they spread out and bend, do not buy the broom, as it is not made of first-quality bristles.

WOODLEY FURRIERS

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS

By Mildred Barbour

Chapter 62.

"UNTIL EIGHT O'CLOCK."

The discussion between Celia and Falconer lasted most of the afternoon. To Celia, it was a nightmare. She felt sure that it could not be real.

Falconer walked nervously up and down the living-room, smoking numerable cigarettes, beating down all her objections. Where his personal interests were concerned, he had no consideration for her.

"You forget Annesley," he reminded her. "I think you owe a bit of attention to him, or you'd ask him."

"And do you think he wouldn't know that it was you behind me, urging me on, demanding money. He warned me——" she caught herself quickly.

"Did Annesley warned you, did he?" She saw the swift anger in his eyes. "I might have known he would. Oad, how he hates me!"

"And how I hate you!"

"Thank God it means, my dear, I've heard that too often from your charming lips. But it won't last always. I've told you that I'll make you care one day; make you want to marry the man who posed as your husband for so long."

"I love Tom Harrington," she said wearily.

He snapped his fingers.

"That fool! I don't believe it. You've only kidded yourself into thinking that, because he was your first affair—a boy-and-girl romance, wasn't it? . . . But that's neither here nor there. We've no time to waste on sentimental discussions now. The question is, how soon can you reach Gwen and get a loan? There's not much time to lose now. And we'll have to arrange things for your mother. Pretend that I've urgent business in New York and that I won't go without you. She'll accept that. In fact, I think she'll be rather happy about it, because she's sensed that we're not the devoted young married pair we've pretended to be."

Celia laughed in his face, very argument at her disposal, but he beat down each one with the output of his own necessity. Finally, while he tatted, a plan, a ruse, by which she could get out of the house, came to her.

She found herself saying, as though some one were prompting her: "I'll telephone to Gwen and see if I can talk to her this afternoon."

She went to the telephone, and he followed her. Overheard what she could say to Gwen that would carry weight with him. It was with mingled dismay and relief that she learned that Gwen was spending the day at the Country club, playing golf; she would not return until evening.

Falconer gave an impatient exclamation. "How on earth can she get hold of the money at once, after the banks are closed?"

Celia found herself saying: "Gwen has a safe in her library. She often keeps large sums of money there."

"Good enough," he declared contemptuously.

"Then I'll run out to the club and see her this afternoon," Celia said, giving thanks for a chance to escape. He wondered that, eyeing her suspiciously.

"I don't trust you any too much."

"I'm afraid you'll have to, in this instance. There's nothing else to be done."

"I guess you're right," he conceded at last. "There's Horace Vail— but he's tight as a drum where money is concerned. And Cross has nothing. And Harrington—no. Harrington would be only a broken reed."

She said angrily: "You'd use me and manipulate me with these men to get a loan to save your skin!"

"And to save a revolution that has every chance of success once it is in charge," he reminded her coldly. "You go to Gwen Barnes and I'll stay right with your mother and make her feel happy and contented. Then, before dinner, we'll spring the news of our departure, and at eight o'clock you'll be on the train."

The fear in her grew brought a little tempestuous into his voice. He came closer to her, while she retreated to the wall.

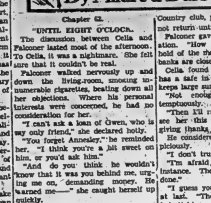

"You needn't be afraid of me, Celia. I swear that I'll treat you well."

She watched him go up the stairs to her mother's room, humming a gay tune. When he had disappeared, she turned to the telephone with a passing of misgiving, that Gwen had left with friends to spend the afternoon elsewhere—no one knew where. She would have to play the game out by herself. Surely she was a woman as tricky as Falconer?

And, hour by hour, minute by minute, second by second, the hands of the clock on the living-room mantel crept nearer to the hour of eight.

'A Sitabout Dress Of Grey Crepe de Chine

SMARTLY restrained in both cut and color, the crepe frock of nice grey, illustrated above, is in thoroughly good taste for informal afternoons. Quite a feminine model, it is also a slender one. This is because of the moulding effect of the girdle which is set into the frock and gives a meager and smoother line than the superimposed girdle. The crushed necklace, with its bow, also the wrist bows and the wide front bow, offer interesting notes. Reptile shoes of matt kid complete the smart costume.

WHAT'S NEW

(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Tannin, a brown lighter than sable, is to be an autumn shade.

Grey persian lamb, leopard and natural otter are to be among the smart fall furs for sports coats.

In printed velveta, destined to play a highly important role in the autumn mode, patterns are inclined to remain fairly small and run to the all-over design.

Court trains have altered since last year for not only have women complied with the Lord Chamberlain's request to make them shorter, but they are much lighter and the modern 1928 train is a flimsy feather-weight thing —rather like a chiffon scarf—that the wearer can throw over her arm without feeling its weight.

Paris reports everything must be supple, for dresses are becoming more and more fashionable, and the really clever woman knows how to draw a voluminous but fragile wrap round her slender form in such a manner that every line and curve is revealed as well as disguised.

The first thing that stands out just now at Le Touquet is that everybody wants to wear a handkerchief scarf in polka dots, "dub" or "guards" stripes or in a plain color with a narrow border in two contrasting shades.

Small bags made of scraps of cretonne or other strong fabric and fastened on inside of bureau drawers with thumb tacks make handy receptacles.

SINCLAIR'S

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl of 16. A few weeks ago I went out with a boy of 17. When coming home he asked me to wear his class ring. I accepted it and wore it for a week. The other night after a party I gave his ring back because the other boys were making fun of me for wearing his ring. Three days ago I met this boy on the street and spoke. He did not speak. Last night one of the boys told me he was mad because I wouldn't wear his ring.

Please give me your advice, as I love this boy very much.

JEAN.

JEAN: I think you were a very foolish girl to hurt the boy's feelings as you have done. Of course, I do not approve of a girl's taking a ring from a boy, because it so frequently leads to misunderstanding and embarrassment for them both. However, you should have explained why you returned it. If you care for the boy in a friendly way, you certainly owe him an apology and I cannot exactly blame him for not speaking to you. However, he really should have returned your greetings. Put all thoughts of love from your mind, for you are too young yet, Jean. But I should apologize to the boy, for it is rather foolish to let such a silly thing break up what will probably be a fine friendship.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

There are two boys that have both told me they loved me. Sometimes I love one and sometimes the other.

What shall I do in this case?

WORRIED.

WORRIED: I'm sure you don't love either of the young men, so the wisest thing for you to do is just be friendly with them both. You will know when you're truly in love, my dear, so just love out of your mind for the time and accept the friendship of both the boys.

I am a girl 28 years of age and secretly married to a man of 35. Before he met me he made an engagement with his mother that he would stay single until she died. If she knew he was married it would break her heart.

I am so heartbroken from having to hide from her that I am not up to my parents are not living and I am staying with friends. I do not work, so I couldn't board. Do you think it would be best for me to quit him? He has promised to live home in the Fall after he gets all of his business together, but I don't, see how I can wait that long.

WORRIED: Secret marriages may be very romantic, my dear, but one always suffers terribly for the little romance that comes from them. Why doesn't your husband get you a little apartment? It would be so much better than having to depend on one's friends. Or you could go to work, until such time as you two could be together. Having nothing to occupy your mind, nor your time, probably makes you magnify everything, my dear. No matter how trivial I think it should take some sort of a position, rather than have this hang so heavily on my hands. You would get a better slant on things in general, and I know it would make you happier until the time when you announce your marriage.

lodges met the rear of the procession when the former marchers were on their way back to the fair grounds. Following the parade a soft ball game was started, and in the rear of the grounds a few short speeches were given.

M. P.'s and M. P. P.'s

Noted speakers were present yesterday. Included among those were Mr. W. H. Tummon, M.P. for Hastings, J. H. Cooke, M. P. P., S. Rollins, of Tweed, Rev. H. L. Byers of Stirling and J. J. Hill, M. P. County Master John Green acted as chairman of the proceedings.

Mr. Tummon, in his address spoke on his favourite subject, that of the immigration problem. In beginning his talk Mr. Tummon stated that the Orangemen of this district had celebrated more often in Stirling than in any place in the district for the past twenty-five years. "There are a great many people who understand what the Orange Order means. It has been said that one of the needs of Canada is increased population. The governments, both provincial and dominion, have tried to attract people from the overcrowded old country and while these governments have been endeavouring to do this what has happened? In 1867 there was a population in this country of 3,145,000 and in 1928 there are 9,319. We brought into Canada 4,491,156 people, or 114,156 more people than the total increase in population for the last thirty years. "What is wrong in this country when yt cannot keep the ones we bring in here or the boys and girls when they grow up. During recent years for every one British subject brought in there have been two to three foreigners. We must contend against, also, the immigration law of the U. S. leaving the door wide open for Canadians.

If we are going to maintain connection with the Mother Country we must maintain strong British feeling. Those of foreign nationality usually go to the west. Britishers stay here. Give them a hearty welcome. We need satisfied immigrants."

J. J. Hill, M. P. P.

Mr. Hill was another speaker. He spoke for about two minutes, and stated this pithy fact. "You'll hear that Orangeism is declining. Let those who say so come to Hastings!" Mr. Hill, as did the other speakers complimented the Orangemen on their splendid turnout and fine arrangements.

The Honorable R. J. Cooks was also asked to speak. "Today," he started, "we assemble as Orangemen to celebrate an event of long ago. We do not meet in a spirit of vindictiveness however.

"The success of the Orange Order is due to the fact that it is essentially religious. There is as much true religion taught in the Orange Order as in any church. Throughout the whole empire the 12th of July is almost looked upon as a public holiday and no other organization can gather such a great crowd as we do. The reason is that in the Orange Lodges the different protestant denominations meet in a common union and that union is needed today. The Church of England always shall be, free and should retain all its rights inviolate and today this means the whole protestant religion, not just the Anglican Church. Protestant churches have the endorsation of the Orange Lodge.

Mr. Sam Rollins spoke a few brief words. "We represent the greatest county in Ontario," he stated. The county of Hastings is the county of a thousand wonders. Providence has furnished you with the choicest of wealths.

Continuing in a slightly different vein Mr. Rollins said, "The Orange Order has built more schools and public institutions than any other organization. The interest in the Order is not passing although our forefathers are. I hope that the young men and women will realize what the Orange Order means to the community and the country."

The Reverend Byers, of Stirling also spoke.

In the evening a dance was held in the village and a charming play, "Sons of Picardy," featuring Miss Betty Connelly as a singer, was introduced. Truly a great day!

ST. JOHN SCHOOL IS WINNER OF TROPHY

Saint John, N.B. — Local cadet circles are jubilant over the triumph of the cadet company of King George School, North End, which has just been adjudged the winning the Earl Haig Imperial Trophy Sword for excellence in an empire-wide competition which closed last November. Reports of the other points were transmitted to England through the Department of National Defense at Ottawa. The local boys were entered in the section of the competition open to younger companies and they won the highest honor open to them. In the shooting competitions using 32 rifles on an indoor range, four boys of the winning company scored 96 and 100, the latter the highest possible. These boys were each 13 years of age at the time of the competition last year. Advice of their victory was received by cable on Sunday May 27.

KING WILLIAM'S

Orange "walk", some of the lodges saving novel means of attracting attention, as well as means to make the trek over the hot pavements a little more comfortable. The most elaborate float was that of L.O.B.A. Lodge No. 758, from Brighton. These ladies were dressed in plain white and they had orange umbrellas which added to the gaiety of the parade, and also protected them from the rays of the broiling sun. Not in years have the Orangemen had such perfect weather for their annual celebration, and the day was all that could be expected. The officers of the Trenton Lodge are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts in making yesterday's "Twelfth" one of the best in this district for years.

Hawkers and balloon sellers made life unbearable on the streets until one bought their wares, when all was serene again. The Trenton Lodge alone did over one hundred dollars from the sale of their novelties and Orange ribbons, besides what they made at their refreshment booth on the Market Square.

Orange Order Misunderstood

Bro. W. C. Mikel, K.C., said there had been a great deal of misunderstanding concerning the Orange Order and then read from the "General Declaration" of the Orange Order which is printed and placed in the hands of every member on his admission and is open to the world, the following extracts:

"Disclaiming an intolerant spirit the Association demands as an indispensable qualification without which the greatest and wealthiest may seek admission in vain, that the candidate shall be deemed incapable of persecuting or injuring anyone on account of his religious opinions; the duty of every Orangeman being to aid and defend all loyal subjects of every religious persuasion in the enjoyment of their constitutional rights."

The rules of the Association are open not only to the members of the Association but to the whole community; there is no reserve except the signs and symbols whereby Orangemen know each other."

"It lays its foundation in the field of British Liberty. It disclaims the badge of faction and knows no emblem save the altar and the throne."

After Bro. Mikel had read these extracts he said, "Wherever you find the Orange Order you find the greatest amount of religious liberty.

Lost Thirteen Colonies

Great Britain lost the Thirteen Colonies which rebelled and formed the United States of America because she granted religious freedom to the Catholics of the fourteenth British Colony of Quebec, by the Quebec Act which was passed by the British Parliament in 1774. Quebec at that time extended from the Atlantic ocean west, and took in what is now Canada and part of what is now the western United States. Great Britain gave the people of this colony of Quebec who were mostly Catholic, the right to practice the Catholic religion. The other thirteen British Colonies in North America complained that this Quebec Act established the Catholic Religion on their borders and asked for its repeal. The British Parliament repealed all other acts displeasing to the Thirteen Colonies but refused to repeal the Quebec Act, hence the rebellion and the loss of the Thirteen Colonies. Quebec recognizing the hast treatment she had received from Britain refused to join the Thirteen Colonies in the rebellion but remained loyal to the Empire, which fact to-gether with the coming of the U. E. Loyalists after the war, saved Canada for the British Empire.

Whether Protestantism is considered to be the true expression of the simple religion of the early Christian disciples, or whether it is an institution resulting from the Reformation of 1517 or from the quarrel of King Henry XIII. with the Pope, or is a mere action of the devil, the fact remains that it has grown from a very small beginning to be a great power in the world notwithstanding the existence of other religions.

Religious Instruction

If Protestantism suffers, it will not be from any other religion or outside influence, but rather from within itself. It is sometimes said that Protestants are people who fight like bull for an open Bible and when they get it open, never use it. Also that Protestants will fight for freedom of worship, but what they really want is freedom from worship.

The old family altar has disappeared and with its disappearance comes a demand to have religious instruction in schools, but that cannot be done without making religious strife. In the competition between the family altar and the family altar, the family altar has lost out.

The Orange Order has helped to take religious instruction from the more exclusive province of the Church and has opened the Bible. It is therefore up to this Order to see that the people get religious instruction.

Responsibility of the Order

The Orange Order by supporting the freedom of worship and taking the education from the Religious Orders, is to some extent responsible for the absence of religious instruction in the public schools. It is therefore up to the Orange Order to see that other means of religious instruction are provided. To see that the open Bible is not only kept open but used.

A recent decision of Masonic is described as the death-knell of the Boy Scout movement in Italy.

Ben Turpin, who is featured with Bobby Agnew, Paulin Garon, Hoot Gibson and Churchill Ross in Columbia Pictures' screen gem of campus days, "The College Hero," which will continue at the Belle Theatre today and Saturday is not adverse to talking of the days when he had a difficult time to make both ends meet. He is fond of recalling the time when he had Mary Pickford to dinner and they all ate with relish a steak at forty cents a pound and drank a pail of real beer at a dime. In those days Ben and Mary were making names for themselves.

SportOgramS

By "The Observer"

Certainly seems good to see the old Baseball perched on top of the Central League once again. Here's hoping they remain there for the balance of the season. Here's a prediction: "If the Napanee-Tweed Central League (they'll win the Ontario championship. Cast your glimmers around the province, any you won't find out more than four or five outstanding teams of the whole lot. The Toronto Oaters, the Galt Terriers and the famed Hillcrest Reserves, Toronto Canoe Club and Shiers who have willowed Senior ball in different parts of the country claim that the calibre of ball served up in the Central League is equal to that played anywhere.

If the locals capture tonight's game at Alexandra Park, Oshawa, they will have a clear-cut lead in the Central League and Oshawa or any other club will find it hard to catch them. Funny what a difference a few games make in the league standing. "Hoot" Gibson is ready with both barrels for the Schulte-Burgoyne crew tonight and heading the pitcher list is Bill Le. should luck abound, he under his belt. Belleville with Ottawa pitching on the other hand played just at Oshawa and they should win again tonight.

The Nationals are playing marvellous ball following their game with Kingston here last Saturday and appearances, which is keeping them. Walter Gerow has installed the idea that the Ontario championship is just as much responsibility by a long way and all of the boys have caught the spirit. Let's go gang.

Next Wednesday the Railroaders will clash with the Peterboro team at the Exhibition Park in this city and we have a bitter taste of the last game still lingering with us when the Peter took a fall out of the locals on the Toronto Street ball lot. "It won't happen again," says Walk.

Frankie Leal, who has been pitching ball as long as the oldest Indian can remember, is scheduled to hurl against Belleville's aggregation with with "Hoot" Gibson, one of the best in the league on Wednesday and Leal names to be a tough assignment. The veteran is not through yet by a long way. Just watch the showing he'll make in the coming months. The Nationals are swelling. The Nationals found his delivery puzzling at times.

Harry Blakely had to retire from the game in the fifth inning of Saturday's game with an injured nose but he signalled his return to the game on Wednesday by turning in one of the finest games on the Delore lot in many a moon. Blakely is a fine ball player, a gentleman and a credit to the Belleville club and the Central League. He is not the type to "bait" the umpire or dispute a decision, but he lends to his knitting every minute.

Bill Ralph and "Vinny" Unruski, both hail from Renfrew, and the latter had his opportunity to show his superiority over his fellow-townsman on Wednesday. Ralph batted but two innings while Unruski was still going strong at the finish.

"Inky" Woods is one sweet pitcher and in the writer's opinion he ranks third in the league with "Jeff" Hardill leading the parade and "Vic" Owen the second best hurler in the loop.

Oshawa will play in Delore tomorrow and it would not be the least surprising to see Bob Elliott's crowd take a fall out of the Motors. Delore played good ball Wednesday and the visitors should have played just a shade better.

Those who made the trip to Delores were rewarded with seeing two of the best games of ball played. Both were air-tight and the first game especially was a real thriller.

The Gooderham aine wents Argyll team, one of the smartest soft-ball leags in Toronto will be here on Saturday to do battle with Alex Meagher's Reavers. The G. & W. team play a fifth brand of ball and local fans will be invited to keep Saturday afternoon an open date.

The Intelligencer Sports Editor is in receipt of a communication from the manager of the Lockwood soft ball team of Toronto, asking for games in this district. The Railway Beachers have on their line-up some of the leading male soft-ball players in Toronto and any local aggregations would do well to engage this team in a game here.

Pal Jennings, Trenton's famous swim marathon and expects to make a good showing. Pat was climinated last year when a member of the family died the day before the big race but he will undergo rigorous training for the next six weeks in the hope of getting in the money.

An attempt will be made on Friday night to organize a City softball league among the girls teams in the city and it is hoped that a good turn-out will greet the efforts of Reg. Woodcroft, the president of the Winter League.

TORONTO BEATEN BY SCORE 3-0

Jersey City Takes Fall Out of Leafs—Red Wings Won

Toronto, July 13.—Jersey City swept the series by whipping yesterday 3-0. Brown held the Leafs to four hits and only one inning, the fifth, did Toronto appear to have a chance to score.

In this inning Cote reached third on Gaw's error, but with two men on base Sanders slapped to the pitcher for an easy out.

Whiller Leverenz also twirled well for the Leafs, but was unfortunate to underdrift a wild pitch with men on third and second in the third inning. The ting-leaved twi one run and another scored on an infield out.

Two hits gave the Cats their third and last run in the eighth. Martin on the go with the pitch, ran all the way from first to the plate on Sanders' single to left.

Jersey City leads the Leafs on the season with nine victories in sixteen games played.

Irb Smith produced the run-getting that won for the Red Wings yesterday against Buffalo, sending Billy Southworth home in the second inning with the first run and tallying the second and winning counter in the ninth to ride home from third on Del Gainer's single. Rothester won the encounter, 3-2, by but had a good deal to do with the successful verdict.

Vic Keen, who seems able to trim the Birds, allowed but four safe hits through the nine frames, two of them, a triple by Hurley and Brewer's following single, giving the Orioles their only run in the fourth.

LOCALS LOST TO CAMPBELLFORD

Holloway St. Tennis Club Defeated In Tummon League

Campbellford, July 13.—Campbellford defeated the visiting team from the Belleville, West Hill Tennis Club yesterday by a five-point match in the Tummon League by winning four of the five points. In this league the points are only used to decide the winners of the tournament matches and are not considered in connection with the final reckoning to decide the championship of the league. Campbellford and the Belleville Argyle clubs are playing a single schedule in the league so that the win for the local team yesterday afternoon counts as two. After the matches had been all played, tea was served in the clubhouse, and later some of the members engaged in friendly games for pastime and practice.

Of the five events, the only one to be won by the visitors was one of the men's doubles when Jones and Hudgins of Belleville won from Beatty and Dr. Johnston, Campbellford, 8-6, 6-4. Andrews and Harden of Belleville lost to W. Kingston and W. Hermon, Campbellford, 6-1, 6-3. In the mixed doubles, Miss Woodley and V. Hudgins lost to Miss J. Weston and Dr. Longmore, Campbellford, 6-1, 6-2. Miss Josephine Longmore, Campbellford, won from Miss Wrightmeyer, Belleville, 6-4, 6-3. Harry Frye, Campbellford, won from D. Wells, Belleville, 8-6, 6-1.

"Ya Viene!"

Four thousand feet underground the drill bites into the oil bearing sand. The peon driller, sensing the uprush of petroleum, gives warning: "Ya viene!"—here it comes!

So, below the equator in far Peru, another source of incomparably rich crude oil is established. In a few days the well is capped and the oil is feeding through an underseas pipe line to mammoth Imperial tankers, riding at anchor a mile offshore. Then follows the long voyage to Canada where the unduplicated equipment of Imperial refineries conserves in Marvelube the superior lubricating qualities found in Peruvian crude alone.

Only Peruvian crude is used in making Marvelube; only Imperial Oil Limited has access to Peruvian crude, the better crude from which a better oil is made.

GOLF TEAM LOST TO PICTON CLUB

Younger Players Show Up Well In Bay of Quinte Match

Picton Golf Club were guests of the Belleville Club yesterday afternoon in a regular Bay of Quinte League match. After some keen competition the Belleville players lost to Picton, the locals having seven wins as against eight for Picton while four games were tied. There was a wonderful turnout of Belleville plays and Waller Reeves, captain, was somewhat disappointed that Picton did not send a large representation as he had arranged for several of the younger players at the local club to take part. When the full Picton team did not arrive several of the more experienced players remained out of the match in order to give some of the comers a chance. All of the veteran players won their matches. THOMASBURG MAN KILLED WHEN CAR TURNS TURTLE

Canadian National Brakeman Sustains Crushed Chest -- Driver Exonerated By Coroner's Jury

DRIVER IS EXONERATED OF ALL BLAME IN TRENT ROAD FATALITY

Evidence Heard Before Coroner And Jury Following Accident

DRIVING SLOWLY

Miss Mae Purdy, Victim, Was Well-Known In Sidney

Accidental death, with the driver of the car apparently of all blame, was the verdict rendered by the jury empanelled to inquire into the unfortunate death of the late Mae Purdy, who died instantly when struck by a car driven by Michael Amodeo near her home on the Trent Road late yesterday afternoon. In order not to detain Amodeo, Sergt. of Detectives John Trunsch empanelled a jury directly after the accident and Coroner Dr. Boyce heard the evidence at the Tickell Mortuary Parlors. Miss Purdy who was a spinster, resided with her mother just west of the Ontario School for the Deaf, she was killed almost opposite her home when she sustained a fractured skull and other injuries. Mr. Amodeo, a neighbor of the lady's daughter was proceeding to his home in Kingston where he conducts an excursive wholesale fruit business and according to eye-witnesses was driving at an unusual moderate rate of speed. He signalled with his horn twice but Miss Purdy, who suffered from defective hearing evidently heard the approach of the car and walked directly in front of it. She had crossed to the road a few minutes previous and was returning when the accident occured. Mr. Amodeo applied the car within a few feet of the victim and at that time the victim was directly in front of it.

She was carried to the lawn of her home but life was extinct and Dr. C. H. Stobie was called a few minutes later and pronounced her dead. There were several wounds on the head, scalp and according to the physician her death was brought by the sharp impact and this was the immediate cause of her death. Miss Purdy who was in the neighborhood of fifty had lived with her mother on the Trenton Road and was known by almost every resident in the Front of Sidney.

Amodeo was brought to the city by Provincial Officers, but was released following the accident. It was his first accident with a motor car and while he did his best to avoid it nevertheless he keenly felt the affair.

Remains Identified

Mr. A. E. Collins, acted for the Crown at the inquest yesterday in the absence of Crown Attorney C. O. Donnan). The Jurors were: W. A. Woodley, Foreman; William Morgan, William Lexis, Fred Fletcher, George Ketchesan, Chas. Walters, Geo. Lee, S. J. Fisher and H. French.

STOVE EXPLODES; BADLY BURNED

Henry Conklin, Yeomans Street, Suffers Severe Injuries

When Henry Conklin, 85 yeomans St., attempted to start his coal oil stove about eight o'clock this morning, something went wrong and an explosion resulted, flames leaping from the stove to the roof of the summer kitchen where the stove was located, the rafters of the kitchen were covered with heavy paper, this quickly ignited, and in an instant the whole kitchen was a mass of flames.

Mr. Conklin, who is seventy-five years of age, ran into the main part of the house to warn his wife of the danger, and then went back to try to put the stove out in the yard before the remainder of the oil in the stove became ignited, but the flames drove him back. Mr. Arnold Brown, a next door neighbour happened to look out of the window and saw the flames coming through the roof, so immediately called for the firemen, who made a fast run to the scene.

In the meantime, Mr. Conklin, who is a very active man, considering his age, had managed to pull the stove from the inferno of the kitchen, and it blazed away in the yard until the firemen put it out with chemicals. In doing this, however, he was badly burned about the hands and arms, and the hair on the top of his head was partly burned away.

Dr. Faulkner attended the injured man, who was suffering intense pain as a result, but showed much pure courage both in the way in which he tried to save his home, and in the manner in which he endured the pain of the burns. The summer kitchen was completely destroyed and part of the main kitchen, but good work by the firemen saved the flames from the rest of the house.

INDIANS LOCATE WAMPUM BELTS

"Red-Skins" Attend Convention At Niagara Falls

Niagara Falls, N.Y., July 14.—Attending the celebration here today by several hundred Indians from the States and the United States to mark the return of their treaty rights to cross the International Border at will, five Algonquin Indians from Quebec have located the wampum belts which the Iroquois Indians from these parts left behind when the winds of their province for 122 years.

Cached when the Algonquins feared the whites would make an effort to seize them, the belts only recently were brought to civilization by a group of Indians travelling by canoe and through forests. No one knows how old the belts are, but Chief Michel Cote, heading the visitors, states they were fashioned thousands of years ago. No white man has set eyes on them for more than a century.

BRANCHES WILL BE KEPT OPEN

Merger of Standard And Commerce Banks Is Announced

The amalgamation of the Bank of commerce and the Standard Bank came as a distinct surprise to Belleville when old not suspect such an event. The merger has been completed with absolute secrecy and not a whisper of such a move has been heard on the city on the past year.

Speaking to The Intelligencer today Mr. Bob Ellsworth, manager of the local branch of the Standard Bank stated that for the next year or so both local branches would remain open in the city. "I don't think that either bank is large enough to take care of the combined business of both banks," he stated. The first authentic word Mr. Ellsworth received of the transaction was last night when the general manager of the Bank wired to him the news of the merger.

Mr. A. T. Sinker, manager of the Ban kof Commerce, had received a circular letter to the effect that in future the two banks would be combined. "It is the present intention of the Commerce to keep on all the staff of the Standard Bank," he stated, after reading the circular letter.

CAR CAREENED FROM HIGHWAY

Jesse Dickerson, of Mountain View made the mistake last night of motoring without his lights on the Picton highway, presumably forgetting to turn them on. The result of this little lapse of memory was that Dickerson's car suddenly crashed into a ditch, taking a post box off in its mad career and doing some damage to the car.

The driver, who was all alone at the time, crawled out of the debris unhurt and telephoned for aid. The police are investigating the affair.

GIVEN TERM IN REFORMATORY

Harold Barnum Arraigned Today But Remanded Again

The three young men who stole Mr. William Spriggs's car from its parking space on Church street some five weeks ago appeared before Magistrate Mikel in police court this morning charged with theft of an automobile, contrary to the criminal code.

Fred Lefevre and Arthur Weeks pleaded guilty to the count, while Harry Ray pleaded not guilty. No evidence was offered against young Ray and the charges against him were dismissed. Both Lefevre and Weeks counted the witness stand to swear that May did not know anything about the theft and that they had picked him up some time after the car was stolen. It appears that the two young men stole a ride on the runway as far as Belleville, stole the automobile while here, drove up to Toronto and stayed there for some time and then went to Windsor where they were arrested.

Lefevre and Weeks did not fare so well as May. The pair pleaded guilty to the theft and Magistrate Mikel sentenced them to one year reformatory and two years less a day indeterminate in the reformatory. The court admitted that he had been in police court before charged with theft of a car but owing to his youth had been released him on probation.

Harlem Up Again

Harold Barnum appeared before His Worship once again this morning and was remanded for one one week, pending the return of the Crown Attorney. The accused inspired regarding bail and Chief of Police Kidd stated that $2,000 was asked and that Barnum could have the bail if the Crown Attorney returned to arrange it.

AVIATION MAKES RAPID STRIDES

Canada Leads World In Practical Use of Aeroplanes

Ottawa, July 14.—Aviation in Canada made great strides during 1927, according to a Government report issued yesterday. Canadian fliers accomplish most remarkable feats, but their activities were along the lines of development work rather than spectacular transatlantic flights.

Commercial companies more than doubled their flying time; the provincial Governments increased theirs by 5½ per cent, while civil operations for the Dominion Government services increased bi the proportion. The vast ity and range of the operations increased notably. Flying has now become a recognized part of practically every conservation, development and engineering service in the country. The activities of Canadian pilots and aircraft range from observing for the scaling fleets off the Newfoundland coast and forest duties in Cape Breton Island, to forest fire protection and fishery patrols on the Pacific coast; from air mail service to Pelee Island, the southernmost point in Canada, to the observation of ice conditions through the winter in Hudson Bay Strait and transportation in the Yukon. Nowhere in the world has aeroplanes been put to more practical and varied use.

During the year, air mail servicer extending the chief centres of population were considered seriously for the first time. Preliminary surveys and experimental flying were undertaken with a view to the establishment of routes in Ontario and Quebec through out Canada of the transatlantic mails by Post Office Department, which for some years has given permission to carry mails by air to remote points officially recognized the advantages of such services by awarding contracts for four winter mail services before the end of the year. This most important phase of air transportation is at present receiving due consideration with a view to the establishment, as conditions and finances permit, of airways linking the scattered provinces of the Dominion, over which scheduled services may be maintained for mail, express and passenger traffic.

HAROLD KERR, 23, SMOTHERED TO DEATH IN UPTURNED AUTOMOBILE

Had Left Home At Thomasburg To Drive To Tweed

INQUEST ORDERED

Car Left Road, Struck Ditch And Turned Completely Over

Harold Kerr, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kerr of Thomasburg, was found dead in his car one mile north of the village shortly after eight o'clock this morning. Kerr had started for Tweed about six o'clock this morning alone, and apparently something went wrong with the steering gear and the car careened into the ditch, turning over. Kerr was pinned inside of the motor which was a sedan and as there were no marks on the body it is presumed that he smothered to death. Kerr had resided in Thomasburg all his life and was well known in the district and the news of his death was received as a distinct shock by his friends. He was employed part of the time by his father on a farm but had lately been working for another man near Tweed. The car was a comparatively new model.

Found By Brother

It was found in the ditch turned completely upside down. It is presumed that the victim was pinned beneath the wheel and was unable to extricate himself. Advice from Tweed today state that Coroner Dr. Maither has ordered an inquest which will be opened today at two o'clock at Thomasburg, a brother of the unfortunate man, was the first to discover him and he immediately raised an alarm and a physician was called who pronounced him dead. The body was taken to the burial parlors at Tweed.

C. N. R. YARDMAN SERIOUSLY HURT

Was Coupling Freight Car When The Accident Occurred

Arthur Bongard, 57 Albion street, a yardman at the Canadian National shops in Belleville was seriously injured last night about eleven o'clock when he was caught between a box car and a freight engine. Dr. Wallbridge, Canadian National doctor, was called and the injured man was rushed to the Hospital. X ray pictures were taken of the injured man, and show that no bones were broken. Whether or not there are any internal injuries is not known, but this me. he was resting quite comfortably.

Bongard was engaged last night in switching cars and apparently the engineer in charge of the switching engine backed up before Bongard reached he was doing so. The coupling caught the unfortunate man almost at the waist, and he was crushed before the engine could be moved forward again. At first it was thought that his hip had been crushed or broken, but the X ray shows that although it was painfully bruised, there were no splinters or fractures.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Beauty provokes thieves sooner than gold.

—SHAKESPEARE.

SOASHING THE EDITOR OF N. Y. DAILIES.

Metropolitan editors are being pestered these days by adventurous individuals with a "Lindbergh complex," who have wild ideas for thrilling expeditions and widen notions about the value of the news rights to their daring escapades.

I wish what Lindbergh got, and not a cent lower! A French pilot informed the Paris correspondent of a New York editor the other day. He was negotiating financial support for a proposed airplane flight from Paris to New York.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is supposed to have received more than $100,000 for the stories he has written for the New York Times and associated newspapers. The Frenchman is still looking for some one who will pay that much for his story. If he succeeds in flying the Atlantic, editors on this side probably will indulge in frantic bidding which may send the price skyrocketing to a high level; but let us wait the newspaper-market for airplane adventurers, South American expeditions, polar explorations, big game hunting trips, and down to the by-lines of prize fighters, home run kings, marathon dancers and "human" caricature is markedly bearish at the present writing.

The three big buyers of adventure are T. V. Rauch, representing the Hearst newspapers; David E. Smiley, general manager of the North American Newspaper Alliance, and the New York Times, of which F. T. Birchall is doing managing editor.

All three have now decided that they will not finance any expedition, as agreement, however, which does not prevent adventurers from guessing at what they will receive from the press for news rights and including their guess on the credit side when approaching financiers for capitalization. In a number of cases it has been noted that the value of the news rights has been listed at $100,000, although editors' hope that price will never be reached again.

There is no yardstick to measure the value of adventure features. The last big price was $15,000, given to General Umberto Nobile by the Hearst newspapers through Mr. Rauch. David Smiley did some liberal spending when the Bremen landed in Labrador. It is said that Mr. Birchall had persuaded to pay a huge sum to the promoters of a round-the-world Zeppelin flight, which is to start this summer, and the same buyer is reported to be willing to pay a large amount for exclusive rights to stories about the rocket airplane now being tested in Berlin by Fritz von Opel, the wealthy German automobile manufacturer. The Times bought the news rights to Amelie Earhart's flight, and the price paid will be only a small contribution toward fortune the young girl expects to accumulate out of book rights and other contracts which will be handled for her by George Palmer Putnam.

The first break in the market came when Ruth Elder landed in the sea on her flight last summer. While Miss Elder and Haldeman were making their slow way to port by steamer, her financial backers in New York, with headquarters at the Waldorf Astoria tried to hold out for $100,000 from the newspapers without success. As one item it was claimed $75,000 was offered. In the end, however, Miss Elder only received between $12,000 and $20,000 for her pigeon articles.

Although the editors have yet to be known generally that they won't pay big prices, a constant stream of would-be Lindberghs storm their offices. And all of them begin negotiating on a basis of $100,000.

Since Lindbergh flew to Paris last year, an average of one aviator a week has come to us with some daring idea which they want us to buy and exploit," Mr. Smiley of N. A. N. A., said.

"It has become a money-making proposition very largely. The ominous suggestion that lives were being risked for the 'good of aviation' or for 'sake of science' is being discarded now as bunk. An editor cannot deal directly with the man who has an adventure story up his sleeve. He has his press agent, his literary agent, his manager, his lawyer, even his board of directors.

In a very blase fashion these supermanagers tell us they expect their client will receive $100,000 for the newspaper rights. They won't deal with one editor alone. They want to know how much he will bid. Then they carry that offer to another for a boost.

In extenuation, so, discourage the 'Lindbergh complex' editors point out that payment of money usually only enables a newspaper to a by-line account of the adventure. Regular wire news agencies cover on their routine report the news of the start, the progress of the flight and the arrival, with interviews and official statements. Much of the hyping writing is done by literary ghosts, and it is thought that the public must be realizing this supposedly secret fact in these days when every prize fighter and baseball player appears in the dual capacity of newspaper writer and slugger."—New York Editor and Publisher.

Piedmont, Cal., July 14.—Herbert Bashford, 67, author and playwright, died at his home here yesterday after being kept alive since Tuesday by inhalator by firemen. He was stricken with heart disease Tuesday.

sion of Sidney, an employ of the John Lewis' Hardware Company was the first witness called. He identified the body as that of the deceased, Miss Purdy. He stated that he had known her for ten years and remarked on her defective hearing. Mr. Gilbert stated that Miss Purdy employed the use of an ear-trumpet at times.

Sergt. of Detectives John Trualach said he had been notified of the accident, visited the scene and then viewed the Jury together. R. C. Cole of the Pickell Company said he removed the body from the scene of the accident to the morgue.

Mr. H. E. Moran, who was an eye-witness, said that he had been living in Prescott but was on his way to Oshawa, where he hoped to obtain employment. He recalled Miss Purdy coming out of the house on the south side and after noting that the road was clear of traffic walked to the opposite side of the highway. A few minutes later he spoke of having seen her coming out of a drive-way and return along the road toward her home. The car was advancing slowly from the west on the south side of the highway. When the car was about twenty feet away it appeared as though the lady dodged directly in front of it, then back toward the north side and suddenly she darted in front of it and was struck,' said Mr. Moran who explained that he was lying in the grass a few feet east of the scene, at the time.

Edward Shaw of Detroit, Mich., a tourist, who was accompanied by his wife and a friend asserted that he was rounding a curve at the Ontario School for the Deaf about five hundred feet east at the time. He said Miss Purdy appeared to step directly in front of the car and was struck by the front of the radiator. 'The car was stopped within a few feet, as it was going only about twenty miles an hour,' he declared.

'Was there anything that Mr Amodeo might have done to avoid an accident,' questioned Mr. Collins. The witness replied in the negative.

Provincial Officer David Sylvester said he accompanied Officer Bert Hammer to the scene and after an examination found the right headlight bent back slightly. He also said that there were no skid marks on the pavement at the spot where he found a clot of blood on the road where she had fallen after having been struck. The tires of the car were in first-class condition,' he observed.

His First Accident.

Michael Amodeo, driver of the death car was called next. He said he lived at 360 Princes Street, Kingston and dealt in wholesale fruit. He was driving from the west and saw the woman when a few yards west when he was travelling about twenty-five miles an hour. 'She was going southeast across the road,' exclaimed the witness, 'and I slowed down to fifteen miles an hour.' Continuing he gave a clear version of the fatal affair stating that when one hundred feet west Miss Purdy was walking in the centre of the road, directly south of the white lines. 'As I approached I blew the horn twice but Miss Purdy paid no attention and when the car was within a few feet of her I swerved slightly to the north and the woman jumped back in front of me and I could do nothing.' He related having stopped the car within ten feet and found the victim lying in the road. She was carried into the yard and a doctor called. Mr. Amodeo said it was his first accident in the fourteen years as a driver of motor cars. The jury rendered their verdict without leaving the room and Mr. Amodeo was exonerated of all blame.

ESSEX mirrors public choice

The enormous spread of Essex success is due to an accumulation of values never approached under $1,200, which is perfectly obvious to the ordinary buyer as well as the expert.

At $885 and up you not only get the brilliant performance and reliability of the famous Essex chassis; you also get a satisfaction, in appearance, richness and comfort, never even considered within hundreds of dollars of the price.

As you lounge in the roomy, high-backed form-fitting seats, every evidence of quality and comfort surrounds you.

You have before you every control in their most natural and handy place. And all about you, the panelling, the weather-stripped doors, the silenced body construction, the floor-matting and the hardware in graceful silvery patterns speak quietly and certainly of quality.

The Essex Super-Six high-compression motor is patented and exclusive, and is so far as we know the most powerful of its size in the world.

Essex popularity in Chicago is but part of a national and world preference that makes Essex sales the largest of any six-cylinder car in history.

SOCIAL LIFE HANGS UPON COOPERATION

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH.
Eminent Psychologist.

TO-DAY we are in a time when an individual, man or woman, can not save a duty to his community.

To live apart from your neighbors, taking little or no interest in the affairs of the town in which you reside, is both selfish and unwise.

Has it ever occurred to you what your own to your community?

Have you ever imagined what your life, and the lives of those who are near and dear to you, would amount to if there were no community—if you had to do everything for and by yourself?

If the groups of individuals among whom you find yourself were non-existent, do you suppose you would have any ambition—the very ambition that keeps us going?

Do you think, under such conditions, you would be as comfortable as you are?

Do you think you would miss the autos, the theatres, the moving pictures, the butcher and baker and grocer, the telephone, the department stores and shops, the luxuries of a modern home, the innumerable conveniences, conveniences and enjoyments that civilization has devised for your pleasure?

Well, that is exactly what your community gives to you!

In return it's up to you to pay back!

An article on this subject would be entirely unwarranted were it not a fact that hundreds, nay thousands, take all the advantages of community life for granted and positively refuse to become interested in its welfare.

I stated above that such an attitude is selfish and unwise. It is selfish because no one has the right to accept the heritage of civilization, so laboriously built up, without making at least an effort to develop that civilization still further. Everyone should do his own bit as a contributor to the happy to be handed on to the future generations.

A stand-offish policy is also unwise because the more you remain in the background, doing nothing, just by so much do you retard the progress that may be effected without any effort on your part. Take an interest in your community, financially, aesthetically, morally—in any and every way in which your interests happen to lie.

Join a civic club. Support your chamber of commerce. Attend school and library board meetings. Encourage social service activities.

Watch the ripples all these others who are indifferent help, the greater will your responsibility as a unit. The reward you in comfort and enlightenment.

Watch your community interest and prosperity will do all it can for you!

Don't depend too much upon the other fellow. It is not fair, for one thing. It is up to you to do your part to promote the common weal.

Not only that, but the more you help, and

REGENT THEATRE

Monte Blue is at his best as the hero of the story of hard fists and kindly hearts and Betty Bronson plays the waif, June, with whimsical charm which hints at "Peter Pan" which her her first bid for fame. Others in the cast are William Russell as "Straw Knuckle Lamont," George Stone as "Pete" Paul Panzer as "Sergeant Peters" and Jack Curtis as "Murphy."

An army of extras gives atmosphere to the scenes of prison, court, street and other places which are a feature of this great picture. Lloyd Bacon, who is the son of the famous author and "Lightnin'" has done a fine job of directing "Brass Knuckles," and the photography is especially effective. A picture you oughtn't to miss. Now at the Regent.

BELLE THEATRE

Ideas on how not to get rid of money are sometimes as valuable as those on how to accumulate money. Richard Dix, in his latest farce comedy, "Easy Come, Easy Go" which will show at the Belle theatre Monday to Wednesday inclusive, manages to hold on to a great deal of money even when he doesn't wish to.

The picture is considered by moving picture producers to be the funniest that Dix has thus far made. The story involves a young man who is almost too honest to live. Unknowingly he assists a crook in robbing a bank. Thereby establishing himself as an accomplice. It isn't comfortable for the crook when the detectives start on their trail. Dix tries to return the money but people think he is crazy. The situations are smart, fast moving and very funny early reviewers reported.

Harry Mills Celebrated Birthday By Having Perfect Day At Bat

Keeping up their lately acquired winning streak yesterday in Oshawa, the Nationals defeated the General Motors team by the score of 8 to 2. Rain started to fall rather heavily before the Belleville side was retired in the ninth, so umpires Calling and Dell called the game, the score reverting back to the end of the eighth. This robbed Peerny Mills of a homer, Hagerman of a double and H. Mills, Green and Ross of singles, the Nationals having scored four more runs in the ninth on the above mentioned hits.

Belleville's sluggers were certainly trying hard to take advantage of Hank Morrison to fatten their batting averages, and everybody was hitting for Coca singles and doubles in the ninth, when the umps called the game. Hagerman's double was a hard one to [illegible], almost as hard a one as Big Penny's homer. This by the way was the second hit of the day for the big boy, but-he is still in a batting slump It has in no way affected his playing on the field however, and he held Gibson up in fine style.

Both teams batted two runs in the opening innings, before the pitcher settled down to hard work. Scott, the first up for Belleville got on on McCallum's error, Weir sacrificed him to second, Harry Mills got a fine single over second, Weir scoring and Mills going to second on the play. Green then singled over short, Harry Mills scoring, but Green, who tried to make second while the play was being made was caught at the plate was caught. W. Mills then filed out.

McCallum singled, the first man up for Oshawa, and went to third on Wolfe's single. A double play compiled here, the ball hitting Wolfe while he was being run down between [illegible]

Summary.

Bases on balls, off H. Morisson, 1; off Gibson, 2; hit by pitcher, H. Mills 2, by Matthews and H. Morrison; two base hits, Gibson and McCallum; wild pitch, Matthews; struck out, by Matthews, 3; by Morrison, 1; by Gibson, 4; umpires, Calling of Belleville at plate, Dell of Oshawa on bases.

First and second, and he was safe at second, with McCallum scoring. Jones then singled, scoring Wolfe. This ended the scoring for Oshawa, and Belleville had not made much headway until the seventh, when they connected for seven hits, and with an error thrown in scored six runs enough to put the game on ice.

Blakely to start the fireworks singled and went to second on Jones' error, Ross taking a walk. Blakely then on base was caught napping at second and Hagerman singled to score Blakely, Gibson connected for a nice single and went to second on a fielder's choice, Hagerman scoring. Bob Scott singled, followed by another from Weir, scoring Gibson and Scott. H. Morrison replaced Matthews in the box for Oshawa. H. Mills was hit, the second time in one game and Green smashed a single out to score Weir and H. Mills. W. Mills singled, Blakely struck out, and Ross went out to the pitcher for the third out.

Although Gibson was hit a little more freely yesterday than is usual, he was never in very serious trouble, and only bore down when he was forced to. He realizes that there are eight other players on the team and that they should carry some of the burden. Besides pitching a nice game, Gibson helped himself to two hits, a single and a double, practically the very much in the limelight. He allowed ten hits, for two runs, while the Nationals collected thirteen hits for eight runs. This just about shows where 'Hoot' lightened up, and with his support he can be practically invincible.

Chuck Matthews was Schultz and Burgoyne's choice to stop the Nationals, and he was doing a fair job, of it yesterday when the weather turned badly. Hank Morrison, the short stop pitcher for the Motormen, would have finished unless the arbiters had called time is another yarnlet. The Belleville side was not at all sorry, as it was only one man out, so the question is hard to answer. These runs and hits do not, of course, count, the score reverting back to the eighth.

Blakely was lead off batsmith hitter in the eighth, but unlike his usual performance, failed to come through with the hit. He was retired on a fast and a sharp grounder at Blakely, who gave the Duke out by fort. When Matthews left the mound, he went to right field, Jones going to 2rft and Williams was out of the game. All hands from their dance in the spring and in this way are taking chances on exhibition games. It is hoped that they will not have to call on this, through lack of support financially from the fans, who should at least give sufficient to cover charanteee made to the outside clubs.

TORONTO TEAM BIG ATTRACTION

Goodenham and Worts Club Arrive For Game With Beavers

No doubt a large crowd will be on hand tonight to see the famous G. & W. team of Toronto play the Belleville Beavers on the Armouries lawn at 8.15 p. m. The commercial field of this club at Sunnyside this year in the senior series is being boosted strongly by the Toronto papers. They here are fortunate in being given the chance to see them in action. Last Saturday only the toughest kind of breaks kept the Hoovers from rosing out the clever Hunter Bay team, and Mr. McCoy Smoot, manager of that team states the Beavers have a real smart ball club.

The Blue clad lasster have made one senior team take the count, given another a real battle and tonight hope to take a fall out of Herb Hatch's starry collection. A generous collection will be taken up and such support is appreciated. The outside teams coal considerable change and the collections have not been very large. Luckily the girls have a little reserve fund on hand from their dance in the spring and in this way are taking chances on exhibition games. It is hoped that they will be with us again. In the ninth he again singled but this hit could not be counted by the official scores. Officially he was at bat once, and got one hit.

THE DISAPPOINTING EXPERT.

One beautiful moonlight night a certain man and a certain girl were out driving. They were on a country road because, as he said, the traffic was too thick on the main road and made driving difficult. All at once, without any warning, the car slowed down and stopped. "I'm afraid, dear," he said, "that the engine is dead. I don't know whether I can fix it or not."

So they got out of the car and he looked around a while—with the car. In a few minutes he had found the trouble and fixed it so that they got in and drove home.

Let Me Tell You

In many houses soda for household purposes "gets like the wind," especially where a maid does the housework. The soda is simply thrown into the water, without any consideration as to the correct quantity. To save soda, make it into a liquid somewhere in the following manner. Dissolve two pounds of washing soda in two quarts of boiling water, and, when cool, bottle for use. Half a teacupful of this softens a gallon of water, so that only a little—about a tablespoonful at the very most—is necessary for the washing up water. This method of using soda also saves the hands, because in using soda it is almost impossible not to touch it, and the most insensitive skin is bound to suffer in time. Another point to remember is this—that the cheaper variety of soaps are never economical because they contain an excess of alkali, and injure the skin of the user, besides being poor economy in every way.

WHEN JELLY WILL NOT "JELLY"

Unless one is a paragon of cooking virtues, there are times when, in making jelly, the wretched stuff simply will not set, but obstinately continues in a syrupy running condition. The explanation is, probably, that the fruit juice was allowed to stand for more than twelve hours after the first boiling, or that the fruit was not fresh, or again that two kinds of sugar have been used. Any of these apparently trifling errors will give the same results.

However, as the jelly doesn't turn, it's the plan. Put the jelly into 1-lb. pots in the ordinary way. When a sweet is wanted, for lunch or dinner, take a pound pot of jelly, and a pint square of table jelly of any flavour that you feel will suit the main jelly.

Make the home-made jelly up to 1 1-4 or 1 1-2 pints with boiling water, or even a scrap more in winter, and dissolve the table jelly in it. Arrange some sponge cakes in a mould, and pour the jelly mixture over them. Leave until the next day, and then turn out on to a pretty dish and decorate with whipped cream, or serve with custard.

SWEET FIELDS

There are sweet fields that lie
Under the mountains,
Where life runs pleasantly
Like little fountains.

There has the sun forgot
His cruel fire,
And the strong air wanders not
From the cool-beads higher.

There may the grey heart-sick
How Youth was strugglin',
And love a far-off thing
That hurts no longer.

"FUNERAL BAKED MEATS"

If you know H. G. Wells at his best you will know his "Mr. Polly," one of his earlier efforts, and recognize this excerpt from it:

"The funeral he the rather cold wind had proved wonderfully appetizing, and every one brightened at the sight of the cold collation that was now the forgnotie.

The last stage of all is "the round, black or horn-rimmed spectacles of rubber or tortois shell," which so many people are wearing. They are in shape as dappearance a return to the oldest of all old spectacles, which appeared in Europe in the thirteenth century, and might have been brought from China to Italy by Marco Polo or far as their appearance tells. But in their modern form they are light in weight and that is the reason for their popularity.

One writer says that their use began to be noticed, so far as he observed, among the students at Harvard about 1905, just twenty-three years ago, and that a firm of Boston opticians supplied them at that time. Another man stated that in 1906 he bought a pair of them in Boston and undertook to wear them in Washington. But he abandoned the attempt, at least in public, when he found that "babies in their perambulators bawled as he went by, and that horses showed a repugnancy to run away."

In a few years they were common everywhere, and now they have developed a score of variants, "until the rims seem to be made of almost any substance, even of barley-sugar candy."

"Come along, Alfred," cried the hostess cheerfully. "We can't very well begin without you. Have you got the beer ready to open Betsy? Uncle, you'll have a drop of whiskey, I suspect."

There were two cold boiled chickens and a nice piece of ham, sons brawn and a steak—and—kidney pie, and large bowl of salad, and several pots of pickle, an dafterwards some cold apple tart, jam roll, and a good piece of stilton cheese, lots of bottl'd beer and some lemonade for the lads, a very bright and satisfying meal."

FASHIONS IN SPECTACLES

A recent writer traces the various stages of spectacles, mentioning the iron-bound glasses of Benjamin Frank lin, the monocle, the place-nez, and

Poems Old And New

LIFE'S SUNNY INTERVALS

The clasp of a hand when the world goes by,
And the soul is crushed with pain,
The sound of a voice which rings cheerily,
And Life's sun shines out again!

The laugh of a child when the clouds hang low—
'Tis a rainbow in the rain;
Our days of shadows such joys may know,
And Life's sun shines out again!

The scent of June flowers in a crowded street—
Red roses in masses lain;
What matter the noise and the dust and the heat?
For Life's sun shines out again!

The thrill of a blackbird's piercing song
In the midst of a hurricane,
How it carries the listening soul along,
And Life's sun shines out again.

Do we faint as we march the long, long road?
Do we chafe at our toil's rough chain?
Let us rest for awhile, and then raise our load,
For Life's sun will shine again!

Fanny Hurrell.

CAPTAIN KID'S LAMENT

My name is Captain Kid, who has sail'd;
My name is Captain Kid, who has sail'd;
My name is Captain Kid.
What the laws did still forbid
Unluckily I did, while I sail'd.

Upon the ocean wide, when I sail'd,
Upon the ocean wide, when I sail'd,
Upon the ocean wide
I robbed on every side,
With most ambitious pride, when I sail'd.

Two hundred bars of gold, while we sail'd,
Two hundred bars of gold, while we sail'd,
Two hundred bars of gold
And six dollars manifold
We seized uncomplicat, while we sail'd.

We found was at last, and must die,
We found was at last, and must die,
We taken were at last
And into prison cast,
Now, sentence being past, we must die.

Farewell the ocean main, we must die,
Farewell the ocean main, we must die,
Farewell the ocean main
The coast of France or Spain
We ne'er shall see again, we must die.

Some thousands they will flock, when we die,
Some thousands they will flock, when we die,
Some thousands they will flock
To Execution Dock
Where we must stand the shock, when we die.

PEAS, INDIAN WAY

Put the peas into a jar, add 2 oz. butter, pepper, salt, a pinch of sugar, and some mint. Cover closely, place the jar in a pan of water, and let it boil till tender. Strain and serve hot in the jar, and serve.

POTATO SNOWBALLS

A nice way of serving old potatoes is to take four large potatoes, 2 ounces of grated cheese, a tablespoonful of milk, and the usual seasoning of salt and pepper. Bake the potatoes in their skin until done. Cut them in half, take out the inside, and put it into a basin, and mix it with the cheese, butter, and seasoning, adding a little milk. Fill the skins with the mixture, and bake till brown.

GOOSEBERRY CHUTNEY

To make this you require 2 lb. green gooseberries, 2 lbs. of raisins, 2 lbs. onions, 1 oz. of ground ginger, half teaspoonful of cayenne pepper, two teaspoonfuls of salt, one quart of vinegar, and 1.2 lb. of Demerara sugar. Top and tail the gooseberries, stone the raisins, and cut them in halves, peel and chop the onions. Put all ingredients in a jar or casserole and cook gently in a moderate oven for three and a half hours. Stir now and then. Turn the mixture into jars, and tie down securely with parchment or cork.

Identifying the "Finest of Low Priced Sixes"

THE Pontiac emblem, now a familiar sight on every highway, is the distinguishing mark of the world's finest low-priced six.

It identifies the smoothness of Pontiac's Six-cylinder engine, with its new improved G-M-R cylinder-head . . the enduring qualities of Pontiac's sturdy chassis . . the easy-riding comfort of Pontiac's Lovejoy Shock-Absorbers . . the countless refinements of engineering and construction that spell "quality" in a motor-car.

And, just beside the hood of the New Series Pontiac Six is another symbol of a fine automobile . . the "Body by Fisher" emblem, with all that it implies of luxury, craftsmanship and stylish beauty. Pontiac is the lowest-priced six which can claim the distinction of "Body by Fisher."

Whenever you see the familiar "Indian Head" emblem, and say "There goes the New Pontiac Six," you are identifying, beyond doubt, the world's finest of low-priced sixes.

CANADA TAKING QUICKLY TO AIR

Surprising Increase In Uses of Planes Shown By Government

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada's "air-mindedness" is rapidly developing. Aerial activities are being engaged in to a degree hitherto unequalled and even yet unrealized by the great mass of Canadians. The current year has witnessed tremendous strides in the direction of air transportation, and at a very large extent the country owes this to the energy and the patience of a little group of government officers, who, appreciating what the future held, the Canada in the way of aviation, have steadily inspired and guided its development.

What may turn out to be the most successful of their efforts is the establishment of the light aeroplane clubs throughout the country. The purpose of such organizations is to stimulate interest in flying and that stimulus is provided by the government donating, under certain specified and extremely simple, conditions, a couple of "MOTH" planes to each club. At the moment there are 13 ...regularly incorporated organizations in the country, and all of them have qualified for and been furnished with their government "Moths." Cities like Montreal and Toronto had landing fields equipped, but the smaller towns are not neglected and it is only a few days ago that Col. The Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of Defense, inaugurated a club in the Pelee municipality of Cranby, Que.

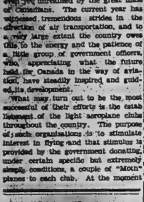

Cranby has provided the sponsors of the light aeroplane clubs with their most potent agency to bring other Canadian cities and towns into line. "What Cranby can do, you can do!" is the ready response to all who desire to register complaint against the difficulties in their path, who declare, perhaps, that the government's terms are too exacting or their requirements too stringent. Friendly rivalry and civic patriotism do the rest.

Large Government Forces

Apart from this aspect of, development in "air-mindedness" however, is the fact that in few countries of the world have aeroplanes been used officially to such an extent as in Canada. This country was the pioneer in aerial survey of forests. Most of the provinces which are heavily timbered-and that means at least four—have for years engaged in the work of forest protection and forest survey of air observers. In both Ontario and Quebec airmen have played a large part in the detection of bush-fires and considerable map-making work has been effected by the same means.

The remote mining districts of northern Quebec, Ontario and Manitoba have been served by aerial transportation for several years; "Trips which usually took the prospector two and three weeks to make have been reduced to only a few hours. With this has been the carrying of supplies and equipment into those areas, and development that has reached a high degree of success.

For almost a year now a Canadian expeditionary air force has been operating in Hudson Straits, the outlet from Hudson Bay. Their function is linked up with the near-completion of the Hudson Bay Railway, from a point in Saskatchewan to Port Churchill. They are making observations on the ice conditions in the Straits at various seasons of the year with a view to supplying information that would guide the government in extending the period of navigation in that area. This force has operated so far with the loss of only one plane. A couple of planes will shortly reach Port Churchill for the purpose of conducting the same important work as that done in the Straits.

DON'T suffer headaches, or any of those pains a tablet of Aspirin can end in a hurry! Physicians prescribe it, and approve its free use, for it does not affect the heart. Every druggist has it, but don't fail to ask the druggist for Bayer. And don't take any but the tablets that are stamped with the "Bayer Cross."

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer-manufacture, to assure the public against infringement of our trade mark, the Bayer Cross will continue to appear on the package.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggist.

SUMMER COMPLAINT KILLS LITTLE ONES

At the first sign of illness during the hot weather give the little one Baby's Own Tablets or in a few hours he may be beyond aid. These Tablets will prevent summer complaint if given occasionally to the well child, and will promptly relieve these troubles if they come on suddenly. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in every home where there are young children. There is no other medicine as good and the mother has the guarantee that they are absolutely safe. They are sold by all druggists or will be mailed on receipt of price, 25 cents per box, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. A little booklet, "Care of the Baby in Health and Sickness", will be sent free to any mother on request.

An additional interest has been contributed to racing's work through the establishment of an annual trophy, donated by the late J. Dalzell McKee, the Pittsburgh millionaire aviation enthusiast who was killed in a crash last year. This is awarded to the airman who has made the most meritorious contribution to aviation in Canada during the year. It was presented for 1927 to Captain H. A. Oaks whose work had mainly been in demonstrating the practicability of winter flying in northern Manitoba.

Air Mail Extending

Air mail routes are being developed. Last year experiments were carried on with aircraft machine mounting and outgoing liners at Rimouski, on the St. Lawrence, and bringing transatlantic mail to Montreal. This has now been extended, and contracts have been regularly let for the continuation of the service for the next three years. Toronto and Ottawa have been brought in on this scheme. The Canadian postal authorities have negotiated for an international air-mail service between Montreal and Albany, where connection will be made with U.S. trans-continental air mails. Toronto-Buffalo and Toronto-Windsor are routes that are now engaging the attention of the department. Where Canada will be surveyed this year by airmen from the department of national defense with a view to establishing air-mail services to the prairie provinces.

Not the least important of the country's aerial developments is the erection of a mooring mast at St. Hubert, near Montreal. This is intended as the station on this side of the Atlantic for the trans-oceanic Empire airships projected and agreed upon by the Imperial Conference of 1926. The mast will be completed this year, and next year will ment of this service.

RIDE TOO MUCH LITTLE WALKING

Halifax, N.S.—"Haligonians do too much driving. Things have come to such a pass that they have their cars stored almost in their bedrooms. A little walking would do them good." So declared Mayor Louis Gastonguay before an audience of city merchants who waited upon him and the Police Commission to request that the recent "no parking" regulation be rendered less stringent. The regulation, recently proclaimed, would have prevented motorists stopping their cars on the principal shopping streets of the city for any time longer than that sufficient to enable passengers to leave or enter the vehicles. There would be no parking even on a side street. Such a wave of indignation arose among the merchants who feared business would be driven to others less used streets where the regulation was not operative, that His Worship, after delivering himself to the above sermon, promised to "help out the merchants all we can." It is expected a fifteen or thirty minute parking period will be substituted. Meanwhile no prosecutions have been recorded under the new regulation.

Migration in Canada

By Rev. P. BOYNTON, in the British Empire Review.

At one time the colonies were looked upon as a sort of last resort for the failure or a haven of refuge for the wrong-doer, and the sentiment was generally regarded as a personal slight. For many reasons, mainly economic, we do not get rid of our failures at home. I had one friend who was a failure in the Old Country, in the management of confidence, and he was done in the Old Land, would lose relief in Canada, and would be a respectable Alderman. I have taken hasty decisions to close their doors, and the insecurity or poverty of migration owes its origin chiefly to the fact that at least a percentage of the Dominions it is the ambition of many young men to think of rising in the world by migrating to the Dominions. Many of them are lured by the glowing accounts of the country which appear in the press, and by the attractive literature issued by the Dominion Government and by the railway companies. Many go out in search of adventure, and to see the world, and a few, alas! go because they have been in trouble at home and think that they will have a better chance of success abroad. Many go out with the intention of returning home after they have made their fortunes, and a few do return, but the majority remain in the country of their adoption. Many go out with the intention of returning home after they have made their fortunes, and a few do return, but the majority remain in the country of their adoption.

Migration is a two-way traffic. Many people leave the Dominions to return to the Old Land, and many people leave the Old Land to settle in the Dominions. Migration is a two-way traffic. Cute in a Baby—Awful at Three—and it's Dangerous

By Ruth Bertrand

Thumb sucking does look sweet in a baby, but it is disgusting in the three-year-old and sometimes it hangs on until fifteen or sixteen! The habit may cause an ill-formed mouth or induce adenoids; and it always interferes with digestion. Pinning the sleeve over the hand; slapping mittens, or putting on cardboard cuffs, which prevent bending the arms at the elbows, are some of the ways to stop the habit.

Another bad habit—irregularity in bowel action—is responsible for weak bowels and constipation in babies. Give the tiny bowels an opportunity to act at regular periods each day. If they don't act at first, a little Fletcher's Castoria will soon regulate them. Every mother should keep a bottle of it handy to use in case of colic, cholera, diarrhoea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, loss of sleep, or when baby is cross and feverish. Its gentle influence over baby's system enables him to get full nourishment from his food, helps him gain, strengthens his bowels.

Castoria is purely vegetable and harmless—the recipe is on the wrapper. Physicians have prescribed it for over 30 years. With each package, you get a valuable book on Motherhood. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper so you'll get the genuine.

MASTER MARINER NOW A STEWARD

Was Made Prisoner of War When Ship Was Sunk

Quincy, Mass. — The Wollaston Yacht Club probably has the oldest steward of any yacht along the coast. He is Captain Ernest Young, for twenty-odd years a master mariner, commanding all manner of craft and sailing the seven seas. His life has been replete with thrills, but perhaps his most hair-raising experience was his encounter with a German submarine during the early days of the World War, before this country had entered the great struggle.

Captain Young was in command of a three-master, auxiliary schooner, laden with food for Allied soldiers. He had reached a point some twenty-five miles off the Irish coast when the U-boat made her appearance.

A shell screamed across the vessel's bow as an order to heave to. Captain Young ignored the message and ordered his helmsman to keep the schooner on her course. A second shot was fired, this time a little closer to the ship, a still more emphatic command to halt. Captain Young paid no attention. A third time the submarine's gun spoke, but still the skipper refused to give heed. The fourth shell took away the schooner's bowsprit, and the fifth brought the mainmast and its fore it should be sunk. Captain Young rigging crashing to the deck in tangled wreckage.

The U-boat then came alongside and gave Captain Young and his men 14 minutes to leave the vessel before it was sunk. Captain Young very humanely.—He was estranged before the end of the war.

Captain Young has commanded Gloucester fishermen, lumber schooners in the Nova Scotia trade, coasting vessels and Elderde

FRIENDS RECALL ATLANTIC FLYER

Miss Earhart Was Nurse In Toronto During Great War

Toronto, Ont. (C.P.)—Miss Amelia Earhart, first woman to fly the Atlantic, is the subject, naturally, of reminiscence by those who remember her while she was in Toronto.

She is recalled as a venturesome young lady for whom taking a chance held no terrors. She was but 18 years of age then, and came to Toronto expecting a year before the end of the war to get overseas, but was then unable to do so from the United States.

"She is a spy sort of girl," said Mrs. Frances Robertson (the former Miss Mildred Trail), friend of Miss Earhart's during their war days, when both served as V.A.D.'s in the kitchens of the Spadina Military Hospital. "She is the sort of girl friend you like when she starts out on a thing—very cool and level-headed," said Mrs. Robertson. "A most attractive personality." She took a course in chemistry in Columbia University, and had a strong bent for aviation. At one time she made a photograph of her in a racing automobile which had brought.

BOSTON CARES FOR CHILDREN

Boston.—During the school year the city of Boston, more [illegible] children whose families [illegible] sufficient funds to furnish them with sufficient nourishing foods. These children are daily given orange juice, cod liver oil and other potent [illegible] in the juices and calories. With the approach of the vacation period some apprehension was felt for the welfare of these children, as no funds had been provided for carrying on the work. The Salvation Army, however, has voluntarily accepted the responsibility for these under-privileged children and will feed and house them at the Army's summer Camp on Lake Massanoag, Sharon, Mass.

HIGHLANDER HAS LOVE FOR SOME

Many Live In Poverty Rather Than Leave Native Glen

London. — (By The Canadian Press) —The Highlander not only insists on living in the Highlands but insists on living on his own strath or on his own island.—We are dealing with a country which has never been industrialized and resists any attempt at industrialization."

The foregoing is a striking passage from the Report of the Governmental Committee on Land Settlement in Scotland. The Committee confesses it is impossible to get the Highlander to appreciate that there is not sufficient land to provide on such way for that portion of the population under consideration.

"The Highlander insists on being given land in his own district" the Committee continues, "and would rather have a hopeless patch of his own native heath than a fair holding in a strange glen. The result is that there are, in the islands and on the West Coast, congested communities on the fringes of sheep farms, living under conditions of extreme poverty, and refusing to leave their homes.

"The men may go away for months sailing from the great ports of as seasonal workers in different occupations, returning at intervals to their homes. The young people may go out into the world, but as a rule they send home money to keep the family homestead in being, and many of them live in hope of returning home again."

COLLECTOR SPENDS MILLIONS ON BOOKS

London.—(C.P.)—Before sailing for New York from Southampton with the "Alice in Wonderland" manuscript, Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach, the well-known United States collector of art treasures said he had spent probably $50,000,000 in his various excursions to Europe to buy books, manuscripts and rare pictures. "During my present visit to England," he added, "I have paid out over $2,000,000."

With reference to the transfer of British art treasures to America, he said, "Believe me take out the more valuable will be the things that remain. Moreover, this treasure hunting has another side. It helps to put many families on their feet again."

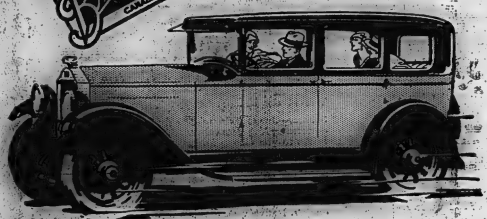

He said he was taking back a book for which he had paid $45,000. That money had got the family who sold the book out of serious difficulty. They were in great need of money.

"The book had been in the family's possession for 150 years," Dr. Rosenbach said. "They realized. Its importance but the pride I offered them was a generous one and they accepted it."

"I wasn't buying adjectives— I wanted FACTS" Said one owner.

That's Why He Bought a Whippet Six

We presume you too, want the unadorned facts. Facts that are the outcome of exhaustive tests. So here they are in brief form: A two-minute study of these facts about the Whippet Six will prove to you that in all your automobile experience you have never seen so much value for so little money—never.

1. NEW WORLD'S RECORD for speed and endurance in a 24-hour run of 1357.5 miles.
2. 7-BEARING CRANKSHAFT (instead of the usual 3 or 4) gives vibrationless smoothness and brilliant performance.
3. HIGH-COMPRESSION ENGINE—speed over 65 miles an hour, and the ability to maintain it steadily.
4. ACCELERATION—5 to 25 miles in 7.2 seconds.
5. ECONOMY—24.7 miles per gallon—oil consumption remarkably small.
6. LOW-SWUNG BODIES in rich color tones, smart interiors luxuriously upholstered.
7. THE LOWEST PRICE IN THE WORLD for a 6-cylinder car with 7-bearing crank shaft, Lover-strut pistons, silent timing chain and many other advantages.

Willys-Overland has been doing some great things this last four years—and the new Whippet cars are in many respects the greatest things Willys-Overland has done. Record breaking sales prove the public's marked preference for Whippet values. The first five months of 1928 were by far the greatest in Willys-Overland history.

In May of this year 44,559 Willys-Overland cars were shipped. Demand continues at the same high level. July marks the two-millionth automobile by Willys-Overland. Production during the first half-year just completed greatly exceeds the entire output for 1927. This unit volume now makes Willys-Overland the industry's third largest producer.

Step in and see these remarkable cars—enjoy a demonstration. Only then can you fully realize their unapproached values.

DEAN OF FISHERMEN IS CAPT. AMIRAULT

Pubnico, N. S.—Captain David Amirault, of Upper West Pubnico might be referred to appropriately as the dean of Nova Scotia fishermen, having pursued that calling for sixty-seven consecutive seasons. This Captain is now seventy-nine years "young" and has no intention of quitting the game. Rather he is preparing for his sixty-eighth season, anxious to go down to the sea again. He began his seafaring life at the age of twelve. He was a "skipper" for thirty-five years, and has covered all the fishing banks from Georges to Newfoundland.

Young Girl Fails In Third Attempt To Commit Suicide — Week-End Motor Accidents At Trenton

HOPED TO END LIFE BY TAKING DOSE OF POISON

Violet Carr, Domestic, Was Found In Critical Condition

WAS ARRESTED

Tried Unsuccessfully For Third Time To Commit Suicide

Violet Carr, who formerly resided in this city, and for the past ten days has been employed as a domestic in Wellington, again tried to end her life at that village on Friday afternoon, by taking ten strychnine tablets. Only the prompt action of Drs. Scott and Thompson saved the girl's life.

The girl had been employed in the home of Dr. Scott of Wellington for the past ten days, having been placed there by Inspector Hanson of the Children's Aid Society, after she had received a suspended sentence in Belleville Police Court on the 6th. of July on a vagrancy charge. Friday afternoon she took a large amount of the poison and was discovered by Dr. Scott in a serious condition. Dr. Thompson, also of Wellington, was called, and together the doctors administered antidotes and used the stomach pump, thus undoubtedly saving the girl's life.

On Saturday, Provincial Constable Preston questioned the girl, who was then well on the road to recovery and she was lodged in Picton jail where she is now awaiting sentence. The girl has been in court before, having tried to commit suicide at Corrigall and one other time. The fault is not all hers, as it is understood her parents are of that class of people that take little if any care of their children. As a consequence a girl of 18 who should now be beginning to enjoy life, has tried to kill herself three times. It is understood that she will receive a term in the Mercer Reformatory.

Prophy sailors found the surface of the Bay decidedly rough yesterday, at least two of them did. Miss Edna Lister, prominent and popular young debutante of this city, in company with Archie Simmons was sailing just west of Belleville, when it was noticed that the couple were in distress.

A motor boat was manned into the scene Hutton and Sergeant of Detectives Truesdell and Sergeant Harman proceeded to the rescue and tried to procure a motor boat to rescue the pair.

Before a boat could be found, however, it was discovered that "Bill" George had acted the hero. Mr. George and Miss Lister and Mr. Simmons were rescued from their different craft. Neither occupant of the boat was injured in any way.

COMMANDEERS TAXI FOR HIS OWN USE BUT GIVES UP IN DESPAIR

Lionel Guindon, Oshawa Taxi Driver, Finds Self In Toils

Lionel Guindon, of Oshawa, a taxi driver, is in the toils of the police today as the result of a little escapade. Guindon, it is alleged, left Oshawa yesterday in company with one of his employer's taxis. He said, when leaving the taxi-stand, that he was going to make a short "trip" as would not be away very long. This was the last anybody heard of him for some time.

At 12.30 last night Guindon gave himself up to the local police, claiming that he had been in collisions with several cars on the way down from Oshawa, had damaged his employer's car to the extent of three flat tires and a crumpled fender; had left the taxi at Brighton and reached Belleville by train.

Mr. Bell, his employer, arrived here from Oshawa this morning and an Oshawa policeman will take the culprit back to that city to stand his trial. Guindon admitted that he had climbed some of the cars with which he collided.

WOOLER BOY SCOUTS CAMP AT OAK LAKE

Oak Lake for the past week has been alive with boys in the tent ages who are camping on the north shore of the lake. They are the Smithfield and Wooler Trail Rangers, and have been using the Tabernacle as their central quarters. Two additions have been built to the old building, making small rooms for the boys as sleeping quarters, and an ideal camp has been held for the past week.

Thirty boys have been at the camp in the last week, and more are expected this week. Many parents of the boys visited the camp yesterday and were agreebly surprised at the comfort and cleanliness of the place.

TRUE SPIRIT IS SHOWN BY SALVATION ARMY BAND

Another incident, indicative of true Christian spirit was shown yesterday by the Salvation Army Band, which out their fellow men, no matter what race, religion or creed they might profess.

Moira St., local Hebrew business man, in the events to thank Jehovah for the saving of the life of Mr. Springer's son, who has been quite ill for some time. Yesterday Mr. Springer for the past week had been well on the road to recovery, and a meeting was held at the Springer home, attended by practically all of those of the Jewish faith in this city.

The Band journeyed over to the Springer residence at 6.15 last evening and rendered a sacred concert which was much enjoyed by those who listened by the immediate vicinity, as well as the last who is improving. Another instance of the unselfish work of the Salvation Army.

STIRLING GARAGE IS BURGLARIZED

Tourists Believed Responsible For Theft of Auto Tires

In the early hours of Sunday morning, D. A. Burkitt's Ford Garage at Stirling was entered by persons unknown, and a number of tires, inner tubes and automobile accessories were taken. The garage had not closed until late in the evening, due to the heavy tourist traffic which is passing over the roads these days, and it is thought likely that a party of tourists were the ones who entered the building.

No money was taken from the till although a considerable amount was left by the owners when the garage was closed on Saturday night. The goods taken were those which are needed by tourists, and would be especially welcome on an auto tour, and, as the robbery was not discovered until late the next morning, they had a good start on the police. Goods to the value of about one hundred and fifty dollars were stolen.

MOTORCYCLE IN CRASH WITH CAR

Alex Bryant, Electrician, Taken To Cobourg Hospital

ARM FRACTURED

Car Narrowly Escaped Crashing Fence of Overhead Bridge

Trenton and district experienced more than its share of accidents during the week-end and although there were no fatalities at least one person was seriously hurt. Alexander Bryant, 36, an electrician who has been employed in Trenton by the Ontario Electrical Construction Co., Noble Street, was proceeding east on the highway about 10.30 yesterday morning on a motorcycle which was filled with baggage. He had left Toronto that morning, and where his family reside. At the western end of the overhead bridge near Trenton he collided with a car being driven by Berk Purdy, a druggist of Trenton. Bryant's right arm was found to be broken and Chief Bain, of Trenton, stated to the Intelligencer that the victim would be removed shortly to Cobourg as well as severe injuries to his chest and legs. He was admitted immediately by Dr. Crowe, of Trenton and Road Foreman Mocford took the man to Cobourg Hospital in his car. It is expected that he will recover. Mr. Purdy's car was also damaged. Another accident occurred on the side-car of the vehicle was a collie pup by a dog which came out of the debris unscathed. The dog was taken in charge by a Trenton man who promised to take care of it until the owner is able to keep the Mongrel. There is a clean cut young man and the residents were quick to rally to his aid.

Mr. Captain Maddaire, of Midland, who was proceeding to Prescott to meet her husband, who is a captain on a Lake freighter failed to make the turning at the west edge of the overhead canal spot and her car crashed the railings which form the fence preventing cars from plunging over to the rail way tracks below. The lights of the car were damaged as well as the front wheels and radiator. She was accompanied by her two years and a daughter, none of whom were injured.

Thomas J. Johnson, 155 Bloomfield Ave., Trenton, escaped injury yesterday when he was driving through Trenton this morning at 9.30 o'clock when a car driven by Mr. Johnston, of Trenton, made a left turn into Johnson's traffic and both cars were damaged but the driver of neither motor was injured. The car driven by Mr. Johnston and Mr. Johnston was turning off Dundas on Dundas street when the other car was going directly through Dundas.

MAY HAVE DIED FROM THE SHOCK

Coroner Mather of Tweed Decides Inquest Is Unnecessary

Provincial police and Coroner Dr. Mather of Tweed, investigated the accident which resulted in the death of Harold Kerr, 14, of Thomasburg, on Saturday morning, and decided that an inquest was unnecessary. According to the physician's statement, the only scratch was a small cut on the finger. Otherwise there was not a mark on him.

It is known fact, however, that the young man had not been in the best of health for the past few months, and it is thought that he may have suffered a fainting spell, gone into the ditch and died from shock. In the opinion of the doctor and the Provincial Police, Mr. Kerr was not smothered as was at first feared, as although he was pinned under the car, his head was clear and he would have had plenty of air. The only logical conclusion is, that he lost control of the car for some unknown reason and died from the effects of the shock.

AUGMENT FUND FOR SYNAGOGUE

Jews of South Hastings Gathered At Home of Mr. B. Springer

The Jewish people of Belleville are making rapid progress in financing their new synagogue, now in progress of erection on Dundas street.

Last evening, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Springer, Moira St., Jewish residents of Belleville and number of local Jewish families, pledged themselves to raise approximately one over seven hundred dollars towards the building.

The gathering too, served another purpose; it took the form of a celebration in honor of Charles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Springer, on the occasion of his 13th birthday, the age at which according to Jewish custom, a young man attains his majority and is first entitled to share in the full privileges and responsibilities of his religion. The young man, in a few well chosen words, expressed thanks to his parents and friends his appreciation for the care and education with which he has been favored, and made it clear that in return, he would do his utmost to maintain in his life the best traditions of the Jewish race.

Visitors were present from Picton, Trenton and Toronto, the chief speaker of the evening being Mr. Finburg, of Toronto, who appealed to the Jewish people for financial support to complete the work on the new Synagogue, now that the roof is completed, in view of the many generous donations.

Chairman L. Kroch, thanked the speaker for his capable and interesting address, following the appeal an entertainment completed a thoroughly enjoyable evening.

Donations made last evening included, Mr. and Mrs. J. Diamond, $150; Mr. and Mrs. L. Mels, $140; Mr. and Mrs. B. Springer, $122; Mr. and Mrs. J. Samuels, $50; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lindsay, $50; Mr. and Mrs. A. Merker, Trenton, $25; Mr. and Mrs. Herman, $25; Mr. and Mrs. $20; Mr. and Mrs. H. Yanover, $102; Mr. and Mrs. N. Yanover, Picton $25.

ENGINEER DIED AT HOME HERE

Thomas F. Gorman, 46 Years a Railwayman, Passed Away

Forty-six years in the employ of the Grand Trunk and latterly the Canadian National, one of the veteran railwaymen of this district passed away yesterday afternoon in the person of Thomas Gorman. Known and liked by nearly every Canadian National man in the city he was well know hand admired and his loss will be keenly felt.

For fifteen years Mr. Gorman was at the throttle of the International Limited running from Belleville to Toronto and so painstaking and careful was he, that few mishaps or accidents blotted his career.

Mr. Gorman, who was sixty-six years of age, contracted pneumonia last week and despite every effort his condition became worse until all hopes for his recovery were abandoned and his death occurred at his late home at 81 Albert Street yesterday afternoon. He was a son of the late John Gorman who migrated from Ireland and was one of the pioneers in the construction of the old Grand Trunk system. He secured his early education in Belleville schools and at an early age identified himself with the Grand Junction Railway as a brakesman and continued in that capacity until the road was absorbed by the Grand Trunk. He worked on the old wood-burning engines when railroading was in its infancy. Later he became an engineer on the Grand Trunk and his conduct record was such that he was given charge of the International Limited known as the fastest train on the road. For fifteen years he was in the same position which he held up until the time of his death. He was to have been pensioned within four years.

The late Mr. Gorman was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Engineers, the Knights of Columbus and St. Michaels Church. He was a quiet type of man and spent a great deal of his time within the confines of his home. He leaves two daughters, Vera and Madeline, both at home, and one son, Father L. E. Gorman, of King ston. One sister Mrs. D. J. Kennedy, Belleville, survives. His wife predecased him some years ago.

Highway Traffic Officer Frink Lying In General Hospital

CONDITION SERIOUS

Was Covering Territory East of City When Accident Occurred

Wesley O. Frink, Highway Traffic Officer covering the territory between Trenton and Napanee, is lying in the Belleville General Hospital today with a fracture of the skull, resulting from a spill from his motorcycle while on duty yesterday.

It appears that Mr. Frink was going east on Highway No. 2, near the cemetery, about 5.45 yesterday afternoon, endeavouring to apprehend an automobile driver who was "cutting in." The officer was riding in a bunch of cars, second in line, and suddenly decided to pass the first automobile. He started to pass when the car commenced to turn. Trying to get back in line again, the car that was immediately behind Frink put on extra charge to the right, hitting the motorcycle on the rear fender, causing Frink to run into the ditch where he landed on his face on a rock.

A tourist brought the officer into the police station and Mr. Frink, who was not unconscious at the time, appeared to be all right except for a badly bruised nose. Later, however, the officer's condition became worse and he was taken home, only to be rushed to the hospital.

Was X-Rayed Today

Dr. O. S. Cronk was in constant attendance upon the injured man throughout the night. This morning Mr. Frink's head was X-rayed and it was discovered that he was suffering from a fracture of the skull.

"There is no depression, however," said Dr. Cronk, "and the boy will not have to operate. Mr. Frink has a good chance of recovery and there is no danger unless complications set in. Fractures of this kind are dangerous, Mr. Frink's injury is not serious considering his injuries."

It is stated that Officer Frink was driving only about 37 miles per hour when the accident occurred. The car that struck him, too, was proceeding at a slow rate of speed.

PETTY THIEVERY RAMPANT HERE

Robbers Broke Safe Dial But Failed To Secure Loot

There were three robberies in Belleville over the week-end, two of which resulted in loses.

Sunday morning and Sunday the Coca Cola office on Church street was entered an the dial was broken off the safe on the premises. Locally no money was taken as the would-be thieves were unable to penetrate the safe itself.

At 8.45 this morning the caretaker at Victoria Park reported to the police that the refreshment booth in the park had been entered. The thieves broke into the tool house. They had removed a piece of glass from a window on the north side of the building about 6 inches square and were thus able to take some tools, a number of rolls of wire also entered the refreshment booth and stole some ice cream, six bars, a quantity of cigarettes and some chocolates.

S. D. Scrimger and Mr. W. Wigmore, of the Old police that the office of the Cities Service Station on South Church street, had been broken into and some oil stolen. The lock had been broken off the door. No money was taken.

The police are at present working hard on these three cases.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

The reward of a thing well done is to have done it.

EMERSON.

NOT QUITE SO FUNNY WHEN HEARD IN COURT

Have you ever been splashed with mud, water or some reckless auto driver's admiral? If you have, you will rejoice that one of these gentry has been brought to book in Toronto and fined $10.00 and costs for reckless driving. The offender in this case was driving a truck, who sent his big machine through a pool of muddy water splattering a number of people waiting for a street car.

This offence, however, is not common in Toronto. It can be duplicated in every town where discourtesy and carelessness sit at the wheel. Many clothes have been ruined and tempers ruffled through shower baths of dirty water raised by some speeding auto driver. Some of the splashers have been incited to regard the spray of it a joke. They cannot understand why the splashee should be angry. It is only a joke and should be accepted as such, even if some clothing is spoiled.

Of course, some near-sighted people cannot see the joke, but these are the exceptions.

And for the joke is on these jokers. Now the Toronto court has shown these inappreciative victims how they can have the last laugh. Heretofore they have suffered, perhaps not in silence, but impotently. They didn't think that there was any way in which they could secure redress. So they paid a few strong words, cleaned their clothes as best they could, and let it go at that. But now things are changed. The law is on the side of the victim.

HONOR OUR GREAT BEFORE THEY RIDE

Marshall Foch had a most unusual and interesting experience the other day—embarrassing for him perhaps, but never-the-less appreciated and remembered by others concerned in the event. He witnessed the unveiling of a statue to himself, prepared to bring home to future generations for all time to come, a realization of the debt of gratitude which the world owes to this mighty military commander.

Marshall Foch, we are told in a dispatch, stood surrounded by a group of diplomats and statesmen, while Premier Poincare, who has the reputation of being cold and cautious—a mental machine—looked the hero general in the eye and told him of his greatness, his place in history with a warmth of word, and a thoughtful admiration he had never been known to use in public.

Certainly public credit and encomium are reserved until after heroes are dead and buried. The old system is all wrong. Tributes should be paid to men, deserving of it, while they are yet alive.

This is particularly true of statesmen and others engaged in great public enterprises. A glaring instance of the prevailing tendency to "honor a man to death" and then tell others what a great personage he was", is provided by the record of the late Hon. Sir Adam Beck. Beck was a man possessed of a great ideal, who strove patiently and arduously to accomplish a great purpose in life. He succeeded in establishing the great Hydro Electric system in Ontario, but was a bitter struggle. On every hand he found himself surrounded by obstacles, stinging criticism, and practically everything which would discourage any other man except Beck. His stout heart, and his unwavering conviction in the final success born of his intellectual qualities and his exceptional vision, carried him through a stormy life, and he succeeded. Today the world pays homage to the memory of the Hydro Knight. He deserved it too extravagant to find an echo in the minds of friends and foes alike.

Some of the admiration and appreciation would have assisted Beck materially when he was alive, and, undoubtedly would have hastened his triumph as a benefactor of his fellow-citizens. It is the same with others who are alive today, and who are striving to accomplish great things in the world of service.

OLD ONTARIO STILL STANDS UP IN FRONT

Last week's Ontario crop report is encouraging, and a fine harvest is in prospect. Rather has been excellent for cultivating, Haying has been general and the reports have been of bumper crops. The storms and rains of the present week have been too late to do more than accelerate second growth. It is noted that there is a brisk demand from American buyers for dairy cattle. Breeding on these lines should prove profitable. Given a good market, breeding is more lucrative than milking.

The canners have been busy on early peas, and are ready for the later crops. Apples indicate optimism, and the crop appears to be well set. The unsprayed orchards, of course, do not share in this. The improved price of hogs is commented upon. This is an item which appeals to every farmer. A good deal of activity has been displayed in the wool campaign. This is a highly important policy. The munitionalities are taking part, and it was announced that wools would be cut at the expense of the taxpayer in default after a certain date.

OTHER MEN'S THOUGHTS

"We welcome you to Canby" is the sign prominently displayed by the Canby Undertaking Company. This is even worse than the Warden of a Penitentiary being "glad to meet you to the latest arrival.—Chatham News.

Our idea of nothing to worry about is the fact that a ton of radium would cost fifty-six billion dollars.—Halifax Herald.

The worst local pessimist is the fellow who says that the mosquitoes so far encountered are merely the scouts for a big campaign.—Ottawa Journal.

Hon. Vernor Smith says that it is not impossible that Alberta will have a 250,000,000 bushel wheat crop. The ordinary citizen would have to meet criticism for making such a statement at this date, but as a member of a farmer government he is largely immune from this. Much can of course happen before harvest time to disappoint the hopes that are now entertained. The last week in June never saw the prospect for a bountiful yield better. If there are no setbacks, the minister's figure will be easily realized.—Edmonton Journal.

Mrs. Flanagan: "Oi do, but don't yez mind that, Mrs. Murphy, just so long as the child is healthy."

Village Policeman: "You can't go through here with your cut-out open."

Village Policeman: "Then get one put in and keep it closed."

A Paisley parishioner and crusty couple lived in a house with one old servant woman. On going into his wife's bedroom one morning the husband was horrified to find the good woman had passed away during the night. After he had got over his first shock he went to the "stairhead" an shouted down to the servant then preparing breakfast, "Maggie, just bile one egg, this mornin', yer mistress 'll no be doon!"

Just Stories

Sir George Wilkins, who is in Antarctic polar compatibles with Commander Byrd, will make the effort almost single handed. He will use the same Lockheed Vega plane and the same 400 horse power Wright Whirlwind motor which he and Lieut. Carl B. Eielson used on the north polar flight, but Lieut. Eielson will not accompany him. The letter is returning to Alaska. To go into business at Nome. Wilkins has not yet announced his objective. He will be accompanied to the pole by only one other man, however. Altogether his expedition will include about five or six men.

When Robert Burns was an excise man is Ayrshire the smugglers and distillers carrying on on a big scale learned to fear him, for he was insnune to their bribes and unrelenting in pursuit But to the poor men and women of the countryside, who sold liquor illicitly and contraband: "Katie, are you mad? Don't you know that the supervisor and I will be married in five minutes!" Be the time they arrived there was no sign of illegal sale.

Winston, Churchill and Lloyd George like to "mix it up" in parliament. When Mr. Churchill returned to the House following his illness after his budget delivery, the two men clashed. Lloyd George wanted to know at once a lot of things—the sale of industry, for instance. Mr. Churchill declared the information would be given gradually. "When are we to get full information?" demanded Mr. Lloyd George. "It will be given step by step," replied Mr. Churchill. Would not Lloyd George prefer peace over Whitsuntide? The proposals said Churchill, deserved from his opponent a "severe restriction from the use of the sharper and commoner forms of party politics in which he indulges on Saturday afternoons and on holidays."

Mainly About People You Know

SUCCESSFUL PUPILS.

At the Toronto Conservatory Examinations held at Albert College recently, the following pupils of Miss Pearl Bywerman, were successful: Junior Counterpoint, Douglas Smith, First Class Honors. Primary Theory, Percy Patterson, Honors.

CASE ENLARGED

Harry Pierce of, Rochester, New York, was not paying particular attention to the wheel of his motor car while driving on Coleman Street yesterday afternoon and Constable Imard brought him to the police station. It is alleged he was driving carelessly with little thought as to possible accidents in the heavy traffic. He was arraigned this morning but will appear at a later date for the hearing.

MOVE TO NEW QUARTERS.

Reeves & Bowen, cleaners and pressers, who were forced to move from their quarters when the building they occupied was made into a modern garage station at the corner of Bridge and Front streets, have secured a new shop over Boyle's Grocery, a few doors south of Bridge street on Front street. They moved into their new quarters on Saturday and are now open for business as usual.

TO VISIT KINGSTON?

A packed golf ball team from this city will journey to Kingston tomorrow afternoon to play the Maple Leaf champions of the City of Kingston. The local team will be under the colors of the Aerial. Jack Allen will be the manager of the team.

NEW SIGNS ERECTED.

The City Engineer's Department is to be congratulated on the fine new signs which now direct traffic at the east end of Cornwall street. Motorists now are able to see, both from signs on the poles and an arrow on the pavement, that they must turn either where before many strangers were the recipients of these simply because the signs were unreadable. There is no excuse now!

BOARD WILL MEET.

On Friday evening another regular Board of Education meeting will be held in the Council Chambers. Now that the new Collegiate is completed except for the addition of the front steps, the question arises concerning the furnishings for the new building. There has been much bitter argument over this matter but it should soon be cleared up.

TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS.

Several guests of Hotel Quinte were summoned to appear at the police station today for leaving their cars parked outside the street all last night. The violators of this by-law claimed that the desk clerk had told them that there was a by-law in the effect, but that it was not enforced. The cases were not fined, but given a warning. It is for the convenience of this city sweeper that the automobiles be off the streets.

REMODELLING BASEMENT

Workmen are busily engaged in tearing down the walls and partitions in the basement of the Canadian Department stores building here, making ready a basement store such as all-T. Eaton Co's stores are the possessors of. It is expected that there will be an inrance on the Rockridge Georgeway as well as one from inside the store. VISITING DINGHY SAILORS GUESTS

Toronto And Kingston Crews Took Part In Contests

On Saturday afternoon the Belleville Yacht Club entertained two crews Kingston Yacht Clubs in an inter club match. The event started at 2SE and "blew like the bull of barney" making things sailing a cold, wet and sometime hazardous undertaking.

The first leg of the course was up the bay, almost dead to weather, in the teeth of a dirty popple which soon threw an unhealthy amount of water into the bilges of the little boats and gave skippers and crews all they could do to hold them right side up. The second and third legs were runs, with all the boats bolling along like scared cats and six worried skippers working hard to keep them on their courses. Beginning at four o'clock and ending at a quarter past eight, three races were sailed. The results were as follows.

First Race	points
K. Y. C., 4th and 5th	4.
R. C. Y. C., 1st and 3rd	5.
B. Y. C., 2nd and 2nd	9.
Second Race
K. Y. C., 3rd and 5th	8.
R. C. Y. C., 4th and 5th	9.
B. Y. C., 1st and 2nd	3.
Third Race
K. Y. C., 2nd and 1 no finish	6
R. C. Y. C., 4th and 5th	9.
B. Y. C., 1st and 3rd	10
Total points
K. Y. C.—15 points.
R. C. Y. C.—18 points.
B. Y. C.—30 points.

No words can too highly express the admiration of the B.Y.C. sailors for the sportsmanship and pluck of the young visitors, who sailed their boats for all they were worth and through to the last crack of the gun, undeterred by cold, wet or scariest. While the home club won by quite a large margin it should be pointed out that they possessed a distinct advantage in that they were familiar both with boats and waters.

The R. C. Y. C. sailors were enter tained at luncheon and dinner, and the K.Y.C. crews at dinner at the Country Club.

The return match with Kingston will be sailed at that club next Wednesday and it is hoped that the B.Y.C. will be able to arrange a date with the R. C.Y.C. later in the season.

Belleville crews were Messrs. George Graham, Bob Martin, Eardley Wilmot and Dr. Proctor.

INSURANCE MEN ENJOY OUTING

Bayside Park, near Picton, was the scene Saturday of the first annual picnic held by representatives of the Metropolitan Life Assurance Co in this district. Agents and their families from Belleville, Picton and surrounding towns of Cananoque, Kingston Napanee, Belleville, Tweed, Trenton and Picton were present to the number of almost sixty and a good time was enjoyed, although the grounds after the heavy rain were a little wet. Races and swimming events were a feature part of the afternoon, and some valuable prizes were awarded.

The memory is said to be stronger in summer than in winter.

SOMETHING WRONG WITH ALL GROUCHES

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH

Whether we feel happy or not is really a matter of point of view. It's how you look at things that counts.

People who forever see black have the wrong slant on life.

Have you ever known a successful man who was hopeless and despairing?

Have you ever seen a happily married woman who felt fearful?

Have you ever heard of a healthy boy or girl who had the slightest doubt about the future?

In short, when you meet a gloomy, downcast and forboding type of character you immediately suspect that there is something the matter with the fellow.

And that is true. It is the inside of the man and woman that makes him what he or she is—not outside circumstances.

A happy person is happy despite adversity. If the mind is adjusted prop erly any individual can weather most any trial without flinching.

Besides, the atmosphere that "pessimistic and cynical individuals create, the feeling that chronic grouches killjoys, and knockers give you, makes you want to get out into the fresh air after five minutes' contact with them.

And misanthropic, sour and minded that are healthy and adjusted radiate an optimism that is contagious—and we feel that too.

Like a germ disease, skeptical, sneering people spread the virus of melancholy to all who listen to their "hymn of hate."

By nature all of me are hopeful!

We may chafe and fret and fume when things go awry. A severe blow like financial disaster or the death of a beloved one may even make us feel that there is nothing more to live for.

Yet, despite rebuffs and reverses, the average man or woman rallies in due course and pushes expectantly forward.

We may be knocked down but we rarely take the count!

Let those who are unhappy examine themselves closely.

Then they will find out what is real ly wrong and wherein the fault really lies.

Think bright, cheering thoughts and everything will seem bright.

Whistle and sing when you have the blues.

It gives you the angle you need.

And be sure to remember this psychological principle that, after all, happiness is a point of view, at those particular times when your spirits are low.

Simply to recall it to your mind will help a lot.

It will turn you in the right direction toward optimism.

Often it will be all that you need to overcome gloom. It will give you an opportunity to face about, shake the doldrums and function joyously onward.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I should a girl after she has met a pleasant boy and seen him several times without going out with him, that until he asks her or can she first invite him to a gathering of here?

2. What is the correct way of introducing a girl chim to a young friend?

LESLIE.

LESLIE: It would be quite proper and very thoughtful of you to invite the young man to your next gathering.

2. "Miss Girl Chum — Mr. Boy Friend' is quite sufficient.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl of twenty-three. When I was in high school at the age of nineteen, I met a boy during vacation resort. He loved me so much and wanted to marry me. I did not accept his love. Now my friend is still single. He has graduated from college and is now practicing his profession as a lawyer. Is it proper for me. to remind him of the past?

ROSALIE.

ROSALIE: I think it any question of the past is to be brought up, you should wait for the young man to do it, Rosalie. It might be embarrassing to him for you to confront him with what may only have been an infatuation. If he still feels the same, he made some sort of successful start in am sure he will tell you of it, although he may be waiting until he has business life before showing you any serious attentions.

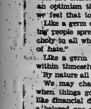

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

About a month ago I met a nice young man at the home of a mutual friend. He asked me for a date and I accepted. I had been out with him several times when one night he tried to insult me. I certainly was angry and hurt at the same time for I thought he was a gentleman. I didn't lose any time telling him just what I thought of his actions. He told me that he had acted that way just to see if I were like other girls. I didn't believe him and so we parted in anger. He has called me up several times to explain, but I refused to listen. Now, don't you think that if he had really cared for me, he wouldn't have doubted me? I still care for him but at the same time I don't admire his methods of finding out a girl's character. Shall I give him another chance to prove his sincerity? Please advise me.

WONDERING.

WONDERING: The young man is evidently sincere in his apologies, and perhaps you would not be acting the lady you are in refusing to listen to him. I am sure he is sincerely sorry for his actions. so why not give him another chance?

Their only labor was to kill the time

Or saunter forth with tottering step and slow.

Smart For The Tiny Tot

This brief frock sketched above shows the trend in distinctive styles for the little girl. Particularly noticed smart is the front inverted pleat coming from the point of the shoulder and extending to the hem. The round collar is becoming loyal children here and matching ribbons are practical. For play-time the frock may be developed in chambray, printed cotton or checked gingham; for afternoon, crepe de chine or dainty voile is appropriate. (Copyright, 1928, by Associated)

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Jam should boil fast after the sugar is added.

Insect bites may be eased by sopping strong carbolic ointment or liquid ammonia on the bite.

A wasp sting should be rubbed with a slice of common onion. If in the throat or mouth, chew an onion slowly and swallow.

When making dripping cakes add a teaspoonful of lemon juice to the rest of the ingredients. This will completely counteract the flavour of the dripping.

Linseed oil is the best polish for ebony fixture, olive oil for oak or mahogany, and cheap stained wood that has become shabby is the better for painting over with two coats of a weak solution of permanganate of potash and a polish with beeswax when dry.

After brushing coconut fibre rugs, rough side up, they should be scrubbed with a hard brush and strong soda water. Afterwards dip the brush in a solution of salt, and scrub the matting again. The salt stiffens the fibre.

The taste of scorched milk can be taken away if the saucepan containing it is immediately stood in cold saked water and left for a few minutes.

CHAPTER 64
THE UNFORESEEN FACTOR

When Celia was ushered in, Gwen sprang up from the table.

"My dear child, I've neglected you shamefully today, but some stupid people came down out of town, and I simply had to entertain them, so I dragged them all over the countryside —But, Celia, what is it?"

Celia explained rapidly.

"You see, if he really gets that train and is not there for good," she finished, "I've a chance—oh, the very merest, of escaping with the minimum of talk. So I pretended to come to you—

"You did exactly right, but you have certainly got a game like that. What do we do now?"

"If you don't mind too much, I'd like to be nowhere near the station to see him go, without seeing me, of course."

Celia, she said, "He might recog nize my car. In a taxi, if we stop at the far side of the station, we can see without being seen, I think."

It was cloisy to eight o'clock when their car reached the station. Celia shrank back into the corner but Gwen leaned forward boldly.

Celia saw two men on the station platform. One was speaking sharply to the other, who was making an effort to get away. There was a quick exchange of blows.

After that, all was confusion. People running and shouting.

"Manuel!" Celia gasped. "He's found Falconer!"

Gwen grasped Celia's arm. "No! Don't! Do you permit murder in the open?"

"It isn't Manuel. It's Larry! Larry Cross!"

"But why——" Celia's voice was lost in the uproar. Long since their chauffeur had deserted them in he nearer to the brawl! Gwen stood at the door of the car in get a better view.

"Larry has him down—she announced tensely. "The fool! Why? Why?"

The fight lasted only a few minutes but, to Celia, it seemed hours. What fresh crisis was Larry precipitating?

The noise grew less. She could see that men were dragging the two combatants apart. Falconer was on his feet. His hat was gone and, under the station lights, he looked dusty and disheveled. There was blood on his face. In the moment of stillness that followed the cessation of hostilities, she heard Larry's tense voice:

"You were deserting her! Running away like a thief in the night. You didn't reckon with me, eh? Well, I haven't finished with you. I'll get you yet."

Gwen moaned: "Oh, the idiot! The idiot!"

It was at that moment that the eight o'clock train roared in, came to a standstill, found no passengers, and did not disturb the night.

Celia buried her face in her hands. There was Falconer standing on the platform, trying to brush the dust from his clothing. And she knew, beyond a shadow of a doubt, that from one of the windows of the hotel, Manuel was viewing the whole procedure.

Men were arguing with Larry, but he shook them off. He had no eyes, apparently, for any one but Falconer.

"Let's go quickly, quick!', Gwen," Celia implored her. But their chauffeur was still lost in the crowd.

"Oh, why did he do it?" moaned Celia. "If Falconer had made that train——"

"We'll see." Gwen called sharply. "Larry! Larry Cross."

Curiously, he heard her, turned round, and stared at the taxi. Then, shaking off the men who were holding him back from another attack on Falconer, he came slowly to the door of the car.

At the sight of Celia, he started violently. "You raw?"

Then said Larry, whatever made you do that? Falconer wasn't doing anything. He was trying to make the best of—

"I know it. That's why I tackled him. He was acting a cur, deserting Celia. I felt it the moment I saw her hurrying through the street to the station. I was going to you to get you to come with her and try to stop him, wasn't she?"

Gwen looked at Celia and made a despairing gesture.

"You see? I told you so." She turned back to Larry. "Whatever made you think he was deserting Celia?"

"Oh, I've heard the stories that are going around. I'm not quite such a fool as I seem," he said bitterly. "I knew their marriage was going on the rocks. Just as I knew Celia married him because my infernal folly had made her the object of gossip. I wasn't going to let people gossip about her again."

Celia's head drooped.

"Oh, if you only knew what you've done. If only only you had let him go."

Larry gave her one searching, probing glance and turned away abruptly.

"Larry?" Gwen called after him, but he gave no heed.

Gwen said, under her breath.

"Now, what will that chivalrous fool do next?"

SINGLE ROOM CARS POPULAR

When Canadian National Railways introduced the single room sleeping cars on the eleven o'clock night trains between Montreal and Toronto, it very soon became evident that this type of high-class service would be welcomed by the travelling public. As a result of the immediate popularity, it has already been found necessary to place these cars in service on other trains of the company and since June 20, these cars have been in service also on the ten o'clock night trains between these two cities.

The single room sleeping car meets the demand of those who require a little additional comfort and privacy during their journey. Each car contains fourteen single bedrooms, and each room is completely fated with toilet requisites. The cars, introduced in Canada for the first time by the Canadian National System, are designed especially for night journeys, where the passenger boards the train between ten o'clock and midnight, and reaches his destination at an early hour next morning. As they are not intended for daytime travel, there is no additional seating accommodation in the bedrooms. In these rooms, which are delightfully decorated, the passenger finds a real bed awaiting, which is placed cross-wise of the car instead of lengthwise as in the case of an ordinary sleeping-car berth. Each pair of rooms have a connecting door, so that couples or parties travelling together may use this door, which, however, is locked on each side when the rooms are sold individually. The rooms are equipped with every device for the comfort and convenience of the passenger and are filling a long-felt want in the service to the traveller with added comfort and convenience during his journey.

These cars are operated in addition to the club cars and other latest equipment which has become a recognized feature of the all-steel Canadian National Railways trains between the two cities.

WILL CLOSE GOLF COURSE ON SUNDAY

London, (By the Canadian Press)—The Scottish golf club made famous by the old man, and not man for the Sabbath. The Ecclesiastical Commissioners of England are evidently prepared to put this teaching into practice. The commissioners comprise the archbishops, 20 bishops, the Prime Minister, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, the Lord Chief Justice and a number of other high dignitaries, not all of whom are necessarily churchmen. They administer a yearly around a couple of million sterling of the ancient revenues of the church.

A considerable proportion of these revenues comes from lands. The Commissioners have changed their minds now concerning the playing of games on Sunday on lands under their control. In regard to golf clubs, for example, they have ordained that any course and clubhouse is to remain closed, and no play to take place before 1 p.m. in winter and 2 p.m. in the summer. No caddies are to be employed or any paid labor, competitions must not be held or matches with other clubs.

The "nineteenth hole" is to be closed on cessation of play. Also, of course, the licence is to be revocable at the Commissioners' pleasure. All this notwithstanding, it remains that some Sunday golf is going to be played on ecclesiastical ground.

NOVA SCOTIAN IS DEAD AT RICHMOND

London.—(By The Canadian Press) —The death occurred at Richmond, Surrey, of Dr. Lewis Gibson Hunt, who had interesting family associations with Nova Scotia, and who for many years visited that province. His father he ceased to reside there. He was the son of A. G. Hunt, a well-known Nonconformist minister in Nova Scotia, he was also for some years Superintendent of Education for the Lower Provinces. Dr. Hunt was born in Nova Scotia in 1851 and following Acadia College subsequently completing his studies at Edinburgh. He then practised in Sheffield for 30 years. He was elected Vice-President of the Sheffield Medico-Chirurgical Society, in which he took a very active interest.

Dr. Hunt left Sheffield about 1905 although he retained his position on the Bench of Magistrates, to which he had been elected in 1890. On taking up his residence at Richmond, Dr. Hunt was elected to various public positions. He inaugurated the movement which resulted in the Employment of Children Act, and for the institution of a Bureau for the employment of children, which was not accepted. In 1915, Dr. Hunt was elected Mayor of Richmond and he was again appointed to the office in 1918.

Presents New Value In Light Six Field

In the immediate acceptance of the new Whippet Six which made its initial appearance in the showrooms of all Willys-Overland merchants this past week, indications are that interest and popularity of this new light six will be as outstanding as that of the Whippet Four when it was introduced two years ago.

Well informed men in the automobile industry declare that the Whippet Six strikes a new achievement for design, quality, price and performance in the light six cylinder field as the Whippet Four did in the light four group two years ago. Both cars set a new trend in their separate price classifications since they ensured characteristic features of design and construction which were new in their classes.

The introduction of the new Whippet Six brought to the automobile buying public new standards of value. Equipped with a seven-bearing crankshaft, full force feed lubrication and other features and a performance rating that is said to equal that of many higher priced cars, the Whippet Six is finding a ready market.

Willys-Overland merchants throughout Canada report that new Whippet Six is registering the greatest public demand in the history of the light six field and every effort is being made at the company's factories to maintain production of this model at capacity to fulfill the volume of orders that have been received by the sales department since the car was first placed on display.

Although the Whippet Six has been on the market but a few days, it already has established an unusual performance record which has resulted in a continuingly increasing demand from buyers. This, of course, has necessitated heavy production schedules on this line of cars.

Production of the Whippet Four also is being maintained at capacity, officials of Willys-Overland declares, with no evidence of the demand for these low-priced cars showing any signs of diminishing. This demand has been the drastic price cuts which brought the Whippet Four in direct price competition with the lowest priced fours in the world.

Willys-Overland has considerably enlarged its production facilities at all of its plants to meet this record buying demand which has set in daily, seeing all monthly production records during the current year.

Executives of the company said that despite the high production program and the record sales volume which have been maintained for months, the company went into June with approximately 30,000 orders on hand for immediate delivery of Whippet Fours and Sixes and Willys-Knight Sixes.

NEW DISTRIBUTOR FOR STUDEBAKER AND ERSKINE

Green's Motor Sales Is Officially Made Distributor

The Studebaker Corporation of Canada, Limited, announces the appointment of Green's Motor Sales, Limited as local distributor for Studebaker and Erskine cars.

There is an increasing demand for the motor cars manufactured by the Studebaker Corporation, and 1928 sales are far in advance of any previous year.

This year, for the first time in the history of the Company, there is an eight cylinder car—"The President"—offered the Canadian motorist. This car is undoubtedly one of the finest cars offered for sale in Canada today in any class, and compares favorably with other cars selling two thousand dollars in excess of its price.

"The Commander" has been well called "The World's Champion Car" having gone 25,000 miles in 22,963 minutes—this marvellous performance proving its strength, dependability and speed.

"The Dictator", rightly termed the "Greatest Value in automobiles"—has beauty, speed, power and stability.

"The Erskine," the new Canadian "six" model with its larger and more powerful engine, has a more roomy body than last year's model, the doors being nearly a yard wide, allowing easy access.

Green's Motor Sales, Limited, will gladly demonstrate these cars for personal appearance, comfort and price, to anyone interested.

PLANT BERRIES

Plymouth, Mass. —Cape Cod cranberry growers have adopted a plan which if successful, may multiply their profits. They are planting blueberry bushes on the waste land surrounding their cranberry bogs, and it is claimed that where the bushes given special attention reward the husbandman with berries of much larger size and higher quality. As the blueberry and cranberry seasons do not conflict there will be no labor problem.

Ice came again in North Bay recently, when a survey of schools ensemble was made, as many as four hundred children were found to be laboring under the handicap of defective vision.

Treatment was given them and classes fitted where they were found to be necessary, and the evil remedied. Your child too, may be suffering from the same trouble. Bring him, or her, in to W. G. Lawrence, Expert Optometrist at 255 Front Street, and have Mr. Leybourne make an examination of the eyes. It's the sensible thing to do and may avoid a great deal of trouble later.

NEW CHRYSLERS MOST ARTISTIC YET PRODUCED

Largest, Fastest And Most Comfortable At All Speeds

The Chrysler Corporation of Canada, Ltd., announces today in its new Chrysler "65" and "70" the most artistic and distinctive, most radical, daring and stylish and the most luxurious cars it has ever built at or near their prices. They are also the largest, fastest, most powerful and most comfortable, as well as the smoothest and quietest at every speed. Flexiness and nimbleness are emphasized in every detail.

R. H. Mulch, Sales Manager, in announcing these two new creations, as well as the Chrysler "Imperial 80" elsewhere in this issue points out that "Walter P. Chrysler and his associates have held that Chrysler, constantly to extend its leadership, must periodically create new models which would proclaim themselves, almost on sight, as overwhelmingly more attractive. The public demand for progress and improvement in motor car performance and style is insistent and insatiable.

Beauty Scientifically Designed.

Scientifically designed to be both stylish and beautiful, they possess the finest and most symmetrical body designs of any car Chrysler has ever built, for this reason:

Starting with the known fact that the oval offers the least visual resistance, careful study has been devoted to the Greek theory of dynamic symmetry which is, in part, that all lines should be placed in sympathetic and harmonious relationship one with another. With that knowledge, curves are of lines, arcs and tangents has been evolved by Chrysler designers wherever one flows into another without a break. All circles are concentric, with all arcs parallel either to smaller or larger arcs. From the front end to rear end of each car all lines, arcs and tangents flow one into another. The result is a coordination of the car's visual picture that is absolute—a result in motor car beauty and symmetry never before achieved.

R. H. Mulch, Chrysler sales manager, discussing the new '65 and '70, said: "The new Chrysler creations will show at first sight that motor car manufacture has, within most recent times, made such vast strides that they would have been impossible, either as an economic value or in the development of such a radically new school of design, even 12 months ago."

Through the continued application of Chrysler's famous principle of standardized quality in engineering and manufacture, prices are generally lower than ever before, affording considerably greater value per dollar.

ARGYLES DEFEAT LOCAL BEAVERS

Toronto Team Secure Early Start And Maintain Lead

Herbie Hatch's Goodeeham and Worts Argyles proved too strong for the Belleville Beavers in an exhibition game at the armouries on Saturday night and as a result the fifth game onto Club took home the long end of a 15-7 score. The Argyles counted five runs in the late innings to clinch the verdict sure. The locals lost but the Argyles realized they were up against something before the game was over. Owning off to a bad start the Beavers allowed the Cty. W. Y. team to score six runs in the first inning and three in the next but they steadied away and played air-tight ball until the ninth when the Argyles again broke loose. The Argyles are a nice well-balanced team sponsored by Herb Hatch and the Goodeeham and Worts Company, play in the Major League at Sunnyside and just now they are occupying third position with a splendid chance of working into the play-offs. They are one of the best teams to be seen in action here this year.

Alan Meagher fielded his best line-up against the Argyles, who brought all of their first-string players along. Miss Molly Gray did the pitching and she hurled one of her best games this year. She had speed to burn and her control was well-nigh perfect. The Beavers played rugged ball in the early stages when the Argyles obtained their lead. Miss Gray is improving by leaps and bounds until now she is regarded as one of the leading soft-ball pitchers in the district. Miss Gray had as her opposition Miss Georgie Dowling, who was in equally good form. Miss Dowling had her elevens on the knees at times with her speedy display. Miss Dowling was succeeded by Phyllis White, the Argyle's first-string pitcher and she better was even better than her predecessor. She assumed the mound in the sixth inning and held the fort during the balance of the game. Miss Phyllis Warham, the home-run king, maintained her reputation by poling out a home run with two on base. Miss Gough featured with her hitting for the Argyles as well as playing a splendid game in the field. Hunter Nicholson in left field for the visitors made a great catch to end the game. The Beavers will play a return game in Toronto at a later date. Vic Brown is the genial pilot of the Argyles and he keeps them on their toes from the start.

NAPANEE TEAM MEET ONTARIOS

Manager Walter Gerow Has Been Driving Team At Top Speed

Belleville Ontario, will make their debut in the Bay of Quinte Girls League at the armouries tonight when the Napanee lass will be here for the second time this season. Those who witnessed the Napanee-Beavers game last week will surely be back again as the visitors put up a scrappy exhibition. The Napanee team were leading in the score in the Beavers game when it was called on account of darkness and the tilt may have to be replayed. The Napanee team have on their line-up all of the veteran players including Misels Grass, Whitlod, Doughs, etc., and they have hopes of winning the Bay of Quinte League and will be fighting to capture the verdict tonight. The Ontarios have played but two games, both exhibition affairs and won them both, the Hamilton Cardinals and the Kingston Treasures being the victims. The Ontarios have been practising faithfully for this game and the fans will see a smart game in action. Walter Gerow has been sending the team through their paces for the past week and they are in the pink of shape. Hilda Matthews will start on the mound for the Ontarios with Aileen Wilkins on the receiving end. The infield will be the same with "Peg" Hillwig holding down first, Audrey Kelleher at second base, Lorna Ridley at short-stop and Mary Adams at third-base. The outfield will be taken care of by Audrey Wilkins, Dolly Canning and Jessie Adams. The game will get under way at 8-15 sharp in order to avoid any confusion such as was evidenced in the Beaver game.

DOUBLE - HEADER HERE WEDNESDAY

'Hoot' Gibson And 'Vinny' Utronki Ready For Peterboro Club

Jupiter Pluvius was the victor in one contest scheduled for Saturday in the Central League, the Oshawa at Peterboro game having been postponed when the diamond was turned into a quagmire but the opposition of James Stevenson Park at Peterboro made it possible to play there, Kingston winning 8-7.

Therefore the standing was not altered and Belleville still have a nice margin and an excellent opportunity of bettering their position on Wednesday of this week when Fred Craig's Peles will be here for a double-header. The Nationals have had little success against the Peles this year, the boys from the Quaker Oats town having trimmed the Nationals every time out. Jeff Harelll has been the master of the locals all season and the Railroaders are out to show the Peles that they are the rightful occupants of the leading position. Oshawa sits trailing the Nationals and they too, have a good chance to climb back on top, as the Peterboro team will play in the Motor City on Wednesday in a double-header. Manager Walter Gerow expects to take both ends of the double-bill with the Peterboro crowd and in an attempt to do so he will likely pitch "Hoot" Gibson and "Vinny" Utronki. The Belleville team have been playing marvelous ball for the last week and they looked like a million-dollar outfit in Oshawa on Friday night. The stands should be packed for Wednesday's game as the Peles always provide plenty of action here. The locals have not won a game from the Northerners and this fact alone should be the means of drawing a large crowd. Fred Craig will probably pitch Harelll and Hockman.

YANKS TAKE 2 FROM REDSKINS

Herb Pitches Shutout—Babe Gets His 34th Homer.

New York, July 16.—The Yanks fired a double-barrelled volley and two more redskins bit the dust yesterday. Professor Herbert Pennock pitched his second shutout in a row in the first number and won, pulled up and clay going, 2-0. Our Mr. Ruth rocketed number 34 in the second tourney, helping no little in a 6-4 victory.

The Stadium was full of 45,000 Sunday visitors and they admired greatly the ease with which the Yanks toured the western boys for a rolling fall. The palookins were never in danger, Professor Pennock attended to the defense and Mr. Ruth to the attack, and the other boys rallied around and played cutie and spritely baseball.

The Babe is moving steadily in the general direction of another record. It may notable long now. A year ago he hit number 34 in his ninety-second game on July 23, but he is beginning to make the 1927 record look pallid and wan, for he is fourteen games ahead with two and a half months still to go.

Yesterday's clout was not herculean nor even titanic, but it was a drive that he lofted on a line into the right field bleachers on the far side of the east gate. Apparently trying to bat into left, George didn't get much back behind his swing, but he timed it perfectly and laid the wood to the pill.

We would also sound the merry cymbal for Professor Pennock, who turned in his fourth shutout of the year, and his second in succession. The Indians got eight hits. Herbert had good speed and a fine curve, but it was his control and smartness that carried him along. In the winter the professor raises silver foxes, and the reason they are so smart is that Herbie shows them how.

St. Louis pushed across two runs in the twelfth inning off Marberry at Washington and won the second game of the series 6-4 from the Senators.

The Senators came from behind in the seventh to tie the count at 4-all. O'Rourke, St. Louis third baseman, drove in three of his team's runs, while Barnes hit two triples for Washington.

READING WINS FROM TORONTO

Buffalo Divided With Newark—Jersey City Lost To Rochester

Reading, Pa., July 16:—Reading gained an edge in the series with Toronto in winning the third game here yesterday afternoon by the score of 6—4, in eight innings, the game being called to allow teams to make train connections.

Rochester, July 16.—Rochester captured both ends of a doubleheader here yesterday afternoon from Jersey City by scores of 12-4 and 8-2. The Red Wings hit hard in both contests, pounding Henderson and Jackson for 15 clouts in the first game and collected eight solid blows off Shoffner, Henderson and Jackson in the night-cap. The hitting of Felts and Ira Smith featured, both playing a homer in each game.

Buffalo, July 16.—The Newark Bears and Buffalo split even in a double-header here yesterday. The Bisons took the first game, 16-2, and the Bears the second, 8-1.

In the opener the Bisons hit all three of Newark's hurlers hard. They made 20 hits, including three homers. Mangun pitched well for Buffalo, and when the game was certain, Proffitt finished and the Bruins got two runs.

In the nightcap the Bears did plenty of Lively hitting.

Montreal, July 16.—Who threw those cushions? Practically everybody that resided one to watch yesterday's double-header at the stadium, so it seemed, judging by the veritable hailstorm of upholstery that showered on the field as the Royals tied the score in the second game of the trin bill. Eventually the Royals won both games, 9-3, and 3-1, to give the actual figures, but it was when Eddie Murphy galloped home with the tying run in the eighth inning of the second game that the fans let loose with all the pent-up emotions that a sporting pitchers' battle can arouse and let go with everything that was handy to express their very great delight of what was happening before them. The cushions were handiest, and in a twinkling the rested yellows blackened the sky and dotted the field.

REDS LOSE TILT 2-1 TO GIANTS

Double In 8th—Cards Lost To Robins Yesterday Afternoon

New York, July 16.—Fitzsimmons won his own game in a pitchers' battle with Red Lucas when he hit a double in the eighth inning to score Out from third, giving the Giants a 2-1 victory over the Reds at Cincinnati yesterday afternoon.

Both pitchers gave only six hits in which doubles to the same spot in left field by Ott and Fitzsimmons broke the tie. Lucas had tied the score in the sixth with a single which scored Allen from third. Curt Walker misjudged Welsh's long fly in the opening inning, and it went for a three-base hit. With the setting perfect, Reese singled to put the Giants one up in the opening round.

The Chicago Nationals won their sixth consecutive game when they beat Philadelphia, 6-3, at Chicago. It was the Cubs' third straight win over the Phillies.

Tio gane opened turbulently for Bush, Cub pitcher, who allowed seven hits in the first four innings, but his teammates kept him out of serious trouble. After that he weathered by and held until the ninth.

Then the Phillies threatened by filling the bases with none out, but they retired with only two runs.

Del Bissonette's stick work drove in two of the three runs which again slowed the Cardinals league-leading pace, and St. Louis lost the second game of the series to Brooklyn at St. Louis, 3-1 yesterday.

It was Bissonette's double in the third and his single in the ninth which sent the runs across. The other tally came in the fifth as the result of one of Mitchell's six passes and a pair of singles. The Cards' only run was pushed over in the eighth.

LOCAL WOMAN DROWNED IN WATERS OF MOIRA RIVER

Car Containing Six Montreal People Plunges Sixty Feet From Railway Bridge Near Trenton

CAR PLUNGES SIXTY FEET FROM OVERHEAD BRIDGE AT SMITHFIELD

Three Montreal Tourists Taken To Belleville Hospital

FENCE SHATTERED

"Miraculous Escape From Death," Say Trenton Physicians

When an automobile with six occupants plunged sixty feet over the overhead bridge between Trenton and Brighton shortly after ten o'clock this morning only three of the passengers were hurt, and none of them seriously.

Lazar Paperman, his wife, two children, a boy twelve years of age and a girl eight years old, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Rebecca Kupusin, and the driver, Leo Poulin, all of 4081 St. Urbain Street, Montreal, were the occupants of the car at the time of the accident.

Driving towards Montreal the party approached the overhead bridge at a fairly fast rate of speed and failed to notice the danger signs. As the party reached the turn at the top of the bridge over the tracks another car coming from the opposite direction was about to make the same turn. It is alleged that the driver of the latter car was pressed directly in the centre of the road allowing Mr. Poulin no opening. Hoping to avoid a head-on collision he cleared the car by the fence on the left side, just missing a large stone. The car crashed through the wooden fence which was constructed like a ladder, leaving no human cargo in it, and through the railing, turned completely over and came down on its wheels and landed on the tracks near the railroad trestle.

Drs. Parker, Dunlop, and Parsons of Trenton, were called to the scene and elderly ambulances conveyed the patients to the Belleville General Hospital.

No Serious Injuries

Speaking to The Intelligencer today Dr. Parker said: "It was a miracle that no one was killed. The little boy suffered three or four many scalp wounds as did Mrs. Paperman, while Mr. Paperman's wife has a badly wrenched shoulder. All things will recover."

Curiously, the wrecked car was able to be driven of its own power to Trenton where about sixty feet landing on the ditch at the side of the main line Canadian National tracks. Two accidents occurred on this same bridge on Saturday. An agitation has been on foot for some time for a more modern structure.

AIMEE LEADING A TRANQUIL LIFE

Halts Investigation By Followers Concerning Her Birth

REFUTES MOTHER

Storm Centre of Recent Affair In Los Angeles Carrying On

Los Angeles, Calif., July 17.—So far as Semple McPherson is concerned her family life is as tranquil as the waters of Lake Tahoe, where she is conducting an Evangelistic campaign.

Before leaving the Angelus Temple here, she made it known that she had stopped an investigation by group of her followers concerning her real parentage. Mrs. McPherson said there was no foundation for the assertion that Mrs. Minnie Kennedy is not her real mother.

Stating that a group of followers had gone to Canada for all records regarding her birth to determine whether she might not be the daughter of her father by marriage previous to that of Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. McPherson said: "Of course, I am her daughter. Any other idea is ridiculous."

Mrs. McPherson then took occasion to the statement by her mother published in Seattle, charging the Evangelist was in possession of large sums of money and that she distributed various sums in a mysterious manner and was unable to account for it. Before her marriage Mrs. McPherson was Aimee Kennedy, of Ingersoll, Ont.

BELLEVILLE WOMAN LOST LIFE IN WATERS OF MOIRA NEAR TWEED

Mrs. Roy Jarvis, Cedar St., Drowned While Swimming

NO INQUEST

Left City Late Yesterday Afternoon For Visit With Parents

Mrs. Roy Jarvis, wife of a truck driver for the Imperial Oil Company, Belleville, was drowned in the Moira River at Lazier Bay, three miles north of the village of Tweed last night about 7.30. The body was recovered in eight feet of water, fifteen feet from the spot where she went down and although resuscitation methods were employed all efforts were fruitless as she had been in the water for two hours. Mrs. Jarvis left Belleville yesterday afternoon by stage for her parents' home in Tweed and after dinner last night, the unfortunate woman stopped with her sister Mrs. Dinah Rachelle and several small children set out for Laton's Bay for a dip. According to advices from Tweed Mrs. Jarvis plunged in the water and suddenly threw up her hands in distress, Mrs. Rachelle unable to swim could offer no assistance and she went down about ten feet from shore. She was reported as a fairly expert swimmer. Search parties were immediately called while grappling hooks were used in an effort to recover the body. An old river-driver on the scene located the remains about fifteen feet away.

Coroner Dr. Mailing was called and after reviewing the circumstances and questioning the only actual eye-witness, Mrs. Rochelle, an inquest was deemed unnecessary.

Lived on Cedar Street

The Jarvis family had been residing on Front Street and only on Saturday had moved to 64 Cedar Street. Mrs. Jarvis had taken their four-months-old baby to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Denis Hoita, Tweed, while the furniture was being moved and was on her return trip for the purpose of bringing the child back home. Mrs. Jarvis was formerly Miss Zadelma Hoita of Tweed, was 24 years of age, and had lived in Tweed until two years ago when she was married to Mr. Jarvis whose former home was in Deseronto and been employed by the Imperial Oil Company for the past two years. Interment will likely be made in the family plot at Tweed.

Laton's Bay is an inlet of the Moira River and is a favorite swimming resort for the people of the district. The water is about eight feet deep but the rains of the past week have swelled the stream.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

But the joint force and full result of all.

HOLIDAYS AND WORK

At the season of the year when most people are concerned with holidays there might seem to be no justification for bringing up the subject of work. But whether we are just about to enjoy open holidays or are even in the throes of holiday enjoyments we all have to go back to work sooner or later. It can do us no harm therefore to philosophize about it.

What, really, is work? The dictionary states that it is physical or intellectual effort directed to a more or less definite end. Synonymous words are labor, toil and drudgery. The man or woman on holidays might be displeased to accept these synonyms without further ado. But they are terms loaded in their meaning and convey a strong impression.

A better definition than that supplied by the dictionary is that work is interesting effort. The man on holidays might ponder this at his leisure. Uninteresting effort? Certainly there is not much labor or toil involved in doing anything that interests us. Interesting effort, therefore, can scarcely be considered as labor, toil or drudgery.

There is many a man who is so in love with his hobbies or profession that all he wants in life is to be able steadily to pursue it and to improve and expand it. Suppose such a man finds swordes and games, the country and fresh air, but was told by his physician that he must play golf three afternoons a week? It is golf, not wholesome, that would be work for such a man—at least until such time as he came to play golf for its own sake.

In general, work is really only work when we choose to make it so. What may seem drudgery one man may appear in a different light to someone else. A laborer is said to have shook out his through a particularly hot sum mer because he had a steady job in a nice cool sewer.

Mobility, work is not work to the man who puts his heart and soul into his efforts. But such a man can easily schedule a shovel to his job if he does not at the same time cultivate the capacity to enjoy a holiday. It is a true old saying, which says work while you work and play while you play nothing gives greater spice to a summer holiday than the feeling that it has been well earned.

HAVE YOU HEARD

(From The Intelligencer of this day 10 years ago.)

Louis is fond of screaming toothpaste out of his shiny new tube. "Mush take so much the time, dear," his mother said to him one morning when he was cleaning his teeth.

"How much may I have?" asked Louis.

Louis gave a great pinch and out shot the paste.

"Oh, oh!" exclaimed his mother, "Not all that, Louis. Didn't I say as big as a bean?"

"Yes," said Louis. "This is a string bean."

"Yes, indeed," replied the new teacher.

"Well, then," replied Tommy with an air of finality, "I'll be there next Sunday, you bet. I've been lookin' for him for three weeks and never knew where to find him."

GOOD WEATHER

Concerning certain grievances we meet:

Upon our daily rounds about the town,
As, wearing out the pavement, or the street;
Or here, or there; whenever we sit down
In office, store, or cozy cafe stall;
We talk to Mr. Black, or Green, or Brown
And hear complaints about the weather-sheet.
That cause a would-be optimist to frown!

For, this one says: "Whew! but, it's far too hot!"
Another, angry, mumbles: "Whew! the cold!"
And someone curses rain on garden-plot,
Or says: "This wind would make a fellow old!"
And Mr. Blank, he raves—and whispers not—
But, lost proclaims his grievance, ultra bold,
Because the sunshine burns his poor bald spot—
(He wears no hat, it serves him right the world!)

So rank and futile-talk, like this, I find:
For, nowhere, on this earth, or East or West,
In better all-year weather; You untitled The Weather-Man; in fact, the very best
Of climates, hereabouts! So, I opine,
I would not tolerate the bore and pest,
Who hot days, cool days, dry days, wet days mind,
And enter a few stray drops of rain oppressive!

And, I declare—"That every town may wed,
Be rid of climate-kickers and their bleat!
They are unpleasant folk, at best who yell
Their maudlin grievances upon the street,
Where'er our roaming footsteps do compel
Us such poor-weather-fools to meet —and greet!
For, it's always good weather, let me tell,
Where real goodfellows—real good-fellows meet!"

EVERY TWO MINUTES
OF EVERY BUSINESS DAY · · · SOMEONE IN CANADA BUYS A NEW GENERAL MOTORS CAR

SINCE the days of Confederation, General Motors of Canada Limited has been supplying Canada with transportation. Each year as requirements have multiplied, the scope of General Motors service has widened . . the quality of General Motors cars has steadily improved. Each year more Canadians have looked to General Motors for better automobiles, until now, every two minutes of every business day, someone in Canada buys a new General Motors car.

Those cars are bought by people you know . . by people like yourself . . for the very reasons which would guide you in the choice of a car.

They are bought because they are the product of the most progressive organization in the world's most progressive industry . . because they reflect the General Motors policy of constant advancement . . because they are better cars. . .

They represent the latest developments of the world's leading automotive research laboratory, offering these developments to the public as soon as they become available. They are proved in advance, at the expense of General Motors, not the public. They are better cars because they are Canadian cars. And they embody greater value because of General Motors money-saving methods of quantity buying and volume production.

This popularity of General Motors cars holds more than a passing interest for the Canadian car buyer . . for General Motors utilizes increased demand to reduce production costs and to offer still more outstanding accessible value.

The attachment is high up above the power wires, so that the one who attached it would have to carefully choose his way between the wires. To touch even one of them would have meant death.

MUCH COOLER, THANK YOU!

Old Sol skated his best, for Belleville this at least, over the week-end. The temperatures were a good deal lower than that of the previous week-end. On Saturday the mercury did not rise above seventy degrees, reaching only three degrees on Sunday and seventy-six degrees today. On the contrary, last week-end the thermometer regis tered well over eighty degrees on all three days.

AUTO CASE STOLEN

Kingston police sent word to this city this morning that a large blue Chrysler sedan, touring license num ber 381,604 was stolen from that city yesterday, and it is that theory the police and Provincial Police be on the look-out for it. Another dark blue sedan was stolen from Marmora, pro vince, which had a marker number 381,381. This car was the property of Mr. H. Saunderson, of Marmora, and the local police are keeping a sharp watch for it.

ROAD SHAPE

Road members while walking over the Centreville on the result, should one of the boards which are getting to be seriously weak, break. Would it be a case of only a bruised shin or one of greater seriousness? A few spots in particular on the footbridge which should be repaired without delay. The city would probably be forced to pay a physician's bill for pedestrians who sig, hurt here so something in the way of repairs should be made at once.

ACCOMMODATIONS TAXED

Camp Ride-a-Wee, on the Trent Highway was filled to its capacity last night, according to several tourists who tried to get accommodation there. This camp is filled on practically every night through the summer, as its cottages are a protection against rain, which is the bugbear of the ordinary camp. Added to this, is the fact that there is a restaurant near by, where hot meals can be had, whether the weather is good or bad, so many are there when the weather turns bad for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cameron, who is owned by Harry Matheson, seem to be the tourists' idea of an ideal place to stay.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Patrons of the Capitol for the first half of the week are favored both on stage and screen with one of the best offerings presented at this popular play house in a long time.

On the stage the Imperial Players present one of their very best comedy dramas this season in the production "Money" a side splitting realistic story of the Upshire which may be viewed in a family with money as the source of the trouble. Every member of the cast takes his or part in an exceptionally fine manner and the performances was an immense success with the opening night audience last evening.

On the screen, Jack Mulhall and Dorothy MacKaill are seen in a fine comedy, "Smile Brother Smile", depicting the trials, ups and downs of a travelling salesman; there is a laugh, a cry, a thrill in the fast moving breezy picture.

BOARDS IN GOOD SHAPE

Inspector Lougheed of the Provincial Police station at Belleville has returned home from Niagara Falls and Buffalo where he spent the past week. Mr. Lougheed drove over and reports that the roads are in fine conditions, although several short detours may be encountered.

THE TEMPERATURES

Although yesterday and today were ordinary summer days, the heat was not felt to such an extent as it has been, probably because of the fact that quite a stiff breeze was blowing. The maximum temperature yesterday was 80 degrees, while today it is 81. The minimum was the same for the two days, 62 degrees.

GAME AT KINGSTON

Belleville is being represented this evening in men's softball by a picked team from this city which will journey to Kingston to give the Limestone City Champions an argument. The Maple Leafs of Kingston are the recognized City Champions, and if the players which Jack Allen has rounded up can take their measure there will in all probability be other games with out of town teams.

RICHARD DIX AT BELLE

Richard Dix at the Belle Theatre last night in one of his characteristic comedies filled every moment with a laugh. This is about the coolest place in town on a night and the system of ventilation makes possible the breathing of pure fresh air at all times. The theatre was excellent, the seats were comfortable, the piano was cool, and when Jack Denmark at the organ, the music was of the very best. What more could be asked?

BIRTHDAY PARTY

About eighteen of the young friends of Jack Bush, Cannifton, were guests at a birthday party held in his home at the home of his parents, at Cannifton. Games were played and refreshments were served at midnight. A thoroughly enjoyable time was had by all present, the guests wishing Jack many more birthdays as happy as this one.

BARRICADE ERECTED

A high barricade has been built about the property recently occupied by Hall and Symons' pool room and Reeves' and Bowling restaurant establishment, in order to protect the public as the work of razing the old building progresses. Today workmen were busy under way with the demolition of the corner site and soon it will have vanished.

RIVER HIGHER

Moira River is much higher at the present time than it was at this time last year, probably due to the fact that a dead of dam has been built in the last few days. If the river bottom remained as dust as it was for the first part of summer as it has so far, Belleville may not be troubled as she often is with the refuse which settles to the bottom and decays.

ENTERTAINED YOUNG FRIENDS

Little Miss Jean Henry, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Henry, Charles Street, celebrated her advent into the public school life with a party held in the afternoon about a dozen of her neighbouring playmates and immediate friends. The happy little party went on a tour of the park overlooking the beautiful bay and concluded the full day on hour with the usual delicacies that satisfy children. Also many rollicking games under kind conditions were played.

RETURNS FROM CAMP

Master Floyd Henry, Charles street, has returned from a week's sojourn at the Y.M.C.A. boys' camp at Moira Lake near Madoc. Judging from the cost of tan and blisters acquired during the outing he had advantages and the officials in charge are to be congratulated for that is done on behalf of the young lads.

PLAY-OFFS THURSDAY NIGHT.

The play-offs between the Maple Leafs and the Ravens in the Ki-Y-Boot Ball League for the Junior Champion ship of the city, will take place on Thursday evening at the Fair Ground, at 6.15 p.m. Each of these teams has won one game in the play-offs, so winner will have to be decided on Thursday night.

CINDERELLA HAD NO BETTER FOOT

Toronto Ont.—Cinderella's fabulous little foot has at last found a modern rival in the tiny feet of Mrs. C. G. Brown of New York, a recent bride who is a former Toronto girl.

Mrs. Brown has the reputation of being a modern Cinderella. A short time ago a fashionable New York shoe house offered a prize for any lady who wore a shoe the size of the ones worn by Mrs. Brown. Competitors came from far and near, but the former Toronto Girl still leads in the foot race by wearing a 12 1-2 or 13 girl shoe. Mrs. Brown is five feet tall and weighs 118 pounds.

HERE'S WHY YOU LIKE TO WATCH BASEBALL

By DR. LOUIS M. HSCHER,
Amateur Psychologist.

Baseball did not become so popular a sport, for nothing. There is a real, honest, solid and useful psychology behind it all.

Baseball is, of course, a simple game in a way, rather inconvenient, old-fashioned, and easy to follow.

Besides, it gets you out of doors.

But the interesting thing about this universal game is that it is so fascinating to watch, probably more fascinating than actually to play it.

Consider for a moment and you will find that the reasons you like to see a baseball game are not only the ones I have cited.

If fact, the chief reason you are so thrilled, especially to big league games, is because the crowds that go to the games hold you in their grip.

You like to be in a baseball crowd because, first of all, you are by nature a gregarious animal, a herd instinct-minded. You like to be with a large mass of people. They give you a sense of oneness, a sense of security.

Although the crowd you're in is composed of all sorts of different men, women, young, old, of all kinds and conditions of mankind, blended in itself to you as a homogeneous group, gathered together by a single interest. This kind of a crowd gives you a friendly feeling. Secondly, in a baseball crowd you let yourself go. In this way your individuality is subdued. You no longer bother about how you look, what people think.

Here you can shout all you like, yell what you like, even slap your neighbor on the back, without giving offense.

In this sort of crowd you are a child again. You are free to give vent, to your emotions to your heart's content.

For a time, at least, you do not have to worry about your personality.

Also, the rapid and often unexpected rise and fall of sentiment for and against the game and individual players, provides your emotions and produces a feeling of having lived and experienced without you yourself having suffered any permanent damage.

Lastly, baseball does not, as a strain upon your intellectual processes. It is, accordingly, a tremendous relief from the work you so gladly left behind.

Baseball will undoubtedly continue to grow in favor, as one of the economics in existence.

Try to find the time to see all exciting game at least once in a while. It will repay you in efficiency even if you have to leave important work for an afternoon.

Baseball, of course, can be overdone like everything else.

But rational baseball attendance will go far in keeping you as adjusted and normal individual.

How Much Water Should Baby Get?

"A Famous Authority's Rule

By Ruth Brisbin

Rule is two ounces of fluid per pound of baby's weight. The amount of fluid absorbed by a breast-fed baby is best determined by weighing him before and after feeding for the whole day, and it is easily calculated for the bottle-fed baby.

Baby specialists agree on the point that during the first six months babies must have three ounces of fluid per pound of body weight daily. An eight pound baby, for instance, needs twenty-four ounces of fluid. Later on the illness his feverish, crying, upset and restless spells. If it doesn't, give him a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria. For these and other ills of babies and children such as colic, cholera infantum, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, sour stomach, loss of sleep, underweight, etc., leading physicians say there's nothing so effective. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper—and millions of mothers have depended on it in over thirty years of ever increasing use. It regulates baby's bowels, makes him sleep and eat right, enables him to get full nourishment from his food, so he increases in weight as he should. With each package you get a book on Motherhood worth its weight in gold.

Just a word of caution. Look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the package so you'll be sure to get the genuine. The forty cent bottles contain thirty-five doses.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS

By Mildred Barbour

Chapter 65.

THE NIGHT OF UNCERTAINTY.

Celia went home with Owen. A council of war was necessary.

"Suppose Falconer has informed on the Rogers?" she wailed. "Whatever can I tell Mother?"

"Tell her that he missed his train," advised Owen grimly. "That at least is the truth."

"But it missed catches no one with him! And he's sure to. He couldn't have missed that row at the station. Then he's stopping at the hotel just across the way."

"Well, that's Falconer's worry. I fancy he's pretty good at dodging the unpleasant."

"The eight o'clock train is the last one through tonight," Celia reminded her.

"There's a fast freight later," said Owen. "I wouldn't surprise me to learn that he'd taken that."

"If Mamsel does grab him——"

Owen laid a hand on her arm.

"No use worrying about that, Celia. After the public row tonight, I'm afraid you're in for it anyway. All the world will think that Larry's quarrel with Falconer was caused by jealousy. They'll remember that once you were supposed to have had an affair with him."

Celia tried to force back the tears.

"Of course, the whole thing is my fault. All this is the result of that stupid lie I told Mother about having a husband."

Owen was sitting thoughtfully out of the window into the darkness.

"It's not young Falconer I'm thinking of—nor his uncle, nor even your mother. . . . It's Larry Cross. What will he do now? And that stupid threat in the presence of a dozen people. Larry was simply possessed tonight; he was in one of his moods—the reckless sort he used to have when he'd been drinking. But he's off liquor now. The whole thing must have been inspired by his love for you and his belief that Falconer was abandoning you."

Her voice faltered, and Celia saw her span an impatient hand across her eyes. Even in her own deep trouble, Celia's heart ached for Owen. Owen, who loved Larry and had witnessed this fresh evidence of his infatuation for another.

"I don't believe it," Celia declared finally. "I

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a boy nineteen years old, and have been going out with a girl about the same age for about three years. She is very old fashioned, will not even let me kiss her. The other night I took that privilege without her consent, now she said I either have to marry her, or else she will never speak to me again. I like her a lot, but I think we are both too young to marry. Please tell me what you would do if you were me?

WORRIED.

WORRIED: I think you should apologize to the young lady if she objected to your actions. Worried, and let it go at that.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

About seven months ago I met him. As he lived out of town he asked if I would correspond with him. I agreed and before he left he gave me his fraternity ring. He wrote to me when he got back and I answered it. But I have received no answer as yet to that first letter of mine. Should I write him a note asking why he doesn't write? My mother says that I shouldn't.

LONESOME GAL.

LONESOME GAL: Your mother is right in telling you not to write again. As long as the young man hasn't answered your first letter. Wait awhile and see whether he replies, as it is his place to answer your letter.

WONDERING.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl in my late teens and have been keeping steady company with a fellow three years my senior for about a year.

Sometimes when we go out he acts as if he cares for me and says he does until the next time he may not see me if he did. Please advise me how I can tell whether he really cares for me or not, and if there is no matter difference in our ages?

WONDERING.

WONDERING: The young man evidently enjoys your company, my dear, and certainly you a good friend. Don't let silly notions spoil a fine friendship, but treat the young man in a pleasant comradely way and wait until you are a bit older before seriously considering love.

WHAT'S NEW

(From a Woman's Standpoint)

A noted Paris lace house shows heavier types for next season.

Crystals will again be a leading factor in autumn jewellery.

Princess frocks made of the extremely stiff satin once so favored by brides are being worn in Paris.

Tweeds and cashmere broadcloths are to be among the autumn's leading woollens.

THERE is nothing that has ever taken Aspirin's place as an antidote for pain. It is safe, as physicians wouldn't use it, and endorse its use by others. Sure, or several million users would have turned to something else. But get the real Aspirin (at any druggists) with Bayer on the box, and the word genuine printed in red.

Tablets Aspirin Genuine

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Bayer-Aspirin means the Bayer product, to assist the public against imitations, the Bayer Co. will hereafter place the safety "Bayer cross" on the tablets.

FINISHING TOUCHES APPLIED TO BAIRNSFATHER'S CANADIAN FILM

"Carry On Sergeant" To Be Shown At Toronto Exhibition

Trenton, July 17.—It is a long cry from the great motion picture studios of New York to the plant of the Ontario Government in Trenton, and greater still is the distance and gap that between Trenton, Ontario, and Hollywood, California. Climate, people, countryside and town are all so different.

For years it has followed that when one thought of motion pictures, New York or Hollywood stood out as the source, and hence indeed was the man who thought it possible that successful photoplays could be produced elsewhere.

But the courage to actually start the making of a big feature in a town of 6,000 population on the shores of the Bay of Quinte, in Canada, with equipment barely sufficient to produce a jewreler, is something to marvel at.

And yet it has been done!

The picture, "Carry On, Sergeant" is finished. At least it is so nearly finished that the author-director, Captain Bruce Bairnsfather, was able to see the results of his months of exacting toil unfolded before him on the screen at the Trent Theatre on Friday morning.

Looking back over the months since motion picture people began to arrive in Trenton—months of every imaginable climate; first the cool evenings of November, later the rain and sleet of December, the frost and snow of January and February, the mild and khaki of March, and bright, sunny days of April and May, during which the last and final scenes of Carry On, Sergeant were shot, one is amazed at the evenness of lighting, the perfect camera work in this wonderful picture.

Yes; wonderful—it will have the stamp of approval from every veteran who has experienced the front line trenches. Trench scenes usually represent an undistinct row of sandbags, perfectly dressed soldiers wonderfully drilled, but Bairnsfather's soldiers and trenches are real—as a matter of Belleville, elected a director of the Consolidated Laundries Corporation of Canada Limited.

The every-day man and woman will understand the beautiful story which twines its way through the rompingdogs action of this drama; there is a humorous touch just where it is needed. Mr. Jimmy Savo had a big job on his hands but he successfully diminishes that choking feeling which continually rises to the throat as one is carried to the height of emotion by the really clever acting of Mr. Hugh Buckler, "the sergeant."

The "Hollywood of Canada" — big time papers and journals have used the term more or less teasingly, but who shall say what may develop in Trenton? May it not be that later on some sage will coin the phrase, "the Trenton of California." Can California produce a real snowfall? Has California weather any brighter or more tropical days than have been experienced during July, 1928, in Trenton?

In this age motion picture producers do not rely on his majesty, the sun. A great big empty building and, voxr, volts and more volts of electricity are more reliable than even a meridian sun light." So says Mr. Bert Cann, who photographed Canada's first motion picture in the feature class.

Carry On, Sergeant, is finished—its finale is magnificent—no other word can describe the scene.

"Hope springs eternal."

Carry on, Captain Bairnsfather! Trenton hopes with you and all connected with your ongoing work.

VIEWING NIAGARA FROM THE AIR

The majestic spectacle of mighty Niagara presents a new charm and affords a new thrill daily to hundreds of tourists who are taking advantage of the opportunity now offered to see the Falls from the air. Since early this season a sight-seeing airplane service over the Falls and down the river past the whirlpool, has been operating and to date has carried 5000 passengers in perfect comfort and absolute security.

Frequent flights are made from a large airdrome at Chippawa in a huge Ford-Stout tri-motored all-metal plane which has a carrying capacity of sixteen persons and a cruising speed of 100 miles per hour. The director of operations is Major J. O. Leach, a veteran of the Royal Air Force. The passengers marvel at the commodious accommodation which the plane, with its main cabin, smoking cabin, and wash room, affords. The flight over the Falls is usually made, at an altitude of one thousand

Sky View Lines Limited, operating passenger airplane services over Niagara Falls and to Toronto and other Canadian points, standardizes on Marvelube Motor Oil.

Sky View Lines transports 5,000 passengers monthly in its Ford-Stout tri-motor all metal plane "Niagara"—the plane which flew to the rescue of the Bremen fliers at Greenly Island.

"In the interests of safety and efficiency" says Major J. O. Leach, Director of Operations, "we use Marvelube Motor Oil and Imperial Gasoline exclusively. We carefully analysed samples of Marvelube after protracted service and found it to be in perfect condition.

CONSOL LAUNDRIES

BUYS FIRST UNIT

Dominion Laundry of Montreal Purchased Through Control of Amex Realty

Montreal.—Recent reports indicate that Consolidated Laundries Corporation of Canada Ltd., formed only recently with the object of acting as a holding and operating company with ramifications throughout the Dominion, has obtained control of Amex Realty Corporation; by this deal ownership of the Dominion Laundry of Montreal will be acquired.

The obtaining of control of this well established laundry unit, constitutes an important step in the plans of the corporation to build up a big laundry empire through the purchase of existing laundries in the larger urban centres of Canada. The plant of Dominion Laundry is located on Des Carrieres Street above Laurier Avenue, the company having been in successful operation for many years. Dominion Laundry only recently added substantially to its service facilities by the opening of receiving depots at strategic points throughout the City of Montreal and suburbs; already the business of the company has reflected in its growth this expansion in facilities. The plan has also resulted in the extending of company's field of operations and important economies in collecting and distributing.

It is understood that negotiations are afoot for further acquisitions and early announcements, regard to same and other additions to the organization may be anticipated.

To achieve a new group of cars with completely original body designs, so illustrious and distinguished as to give every beholder an entirely fresh appreciation of the artistic and mechanistic possibilities of today's science of automobile manufacture—that is the gigantic task which Chrysler engineers and craftsmen have accomplished so notably in the new Chrysler Sixes—"75" and "65." At their exceptionally low prices, we confidently believe the new lines of Chrysler cars initiate not only a new vogue in design and a new supremacy in mechanical perfection, but establish also an entirely new conception of automobile values in the fine car field.

TILLIE THE TOILER— RUSS WESTOVER

ONTARIOS DEFEAT NAPANEE TEAM IN LEAGUE GAME

Local Club Play Splendid Ball And Score 10-3 Victory

Bellevile Ontarios increased by Walter Cerow won their third game in the same number of starts this season when they disposed of the Napanee team in a scheduled Bay of Quinte League game at the Armouries last night. The Ontarios victory was a well-earned one although they had things their own way most of the route. The Ontarios on the form shown are the best of the three teams and have already installed themselves as favorites for the Bay of Quinte honors. The score last night was 10-3 and that just about indicates the margin in the play that separated the two teams. While the Reserves lost to the Napanee girls the Ontarios trounced them good and hearty and it was a smart well-balanced line-up that Manager Walter Cerow introduced to the faithful last night. Well-fortified in every position the Ontarios have the edge on the other two, their wealth of experience standing them in good stead. The Ontarios have already put a wide swath in soft-ball circles and it appears as though they may repeat some of their former successes this season. For the most part the team is composed of the same girls who went through to the Eastern Ontario finals in 1926. The Reavers will likely cross bats with the Ontarios on Thursday night and with the bitter enmity between the two, this game should be well worth witnessing. Each team has its own supporters and argument has already waxed all summer on the respective merits of the two.

Hilda Matthews, who has developed into a clever hurler loed the club last night and she had the Napanee team at the palm of her hand most of the way. She was given able support by her starting little pitcher Aileen Wilkins, who is one of the premier pitchers in Eastern Ontario. The remainder of the team worked like a well-oiled machine and it was seldom that the Napanee team found an opening for a run. The defensive system was air-tight and they used their base to advantage.

Napanee used three pitchers in an endeavour to halt the blue-shirts but all fared the same and the Ontarios have the lead with the Reavers and Napanee ready to replay their game of the other night which was called after 5 innings.

Misses Grass and Stinson, first baseman and catcher respectively caught the eye of the fans with their work and they would certainly be a valuable acquisition for our team. Miss Douglas started on the mound but she was relieved by Miss Johnston who relieved with Miss McCrire finishing the pastime. The latter is a new face in Bay of Quinte ball but she opened her career rather auspiciously last night. A smart double play Olive Adams to "Pat" Lavery finished the pastime. Miss Grass scored the only home run, a long drive in deep centre with one on base in the sixth frame. Miss Casling made a pretty running catch in the fifth and got some well-merited applause. The Ontarios went to work early with their bats and soon collected a nice lead. In the fifth they practically put the game on ice by countin five more runs.

Score by innings:

Napanee	0 0 0 1 0 2 0 — 3
Ontarios	1 1 3 0 5 0 x — 10

PIRATES SCORE 7TH STRAIGHT

Defeat Boston To Make 7th Consecutive Win For Pittsburgh

New York, July 17.—Paul Waner and Geo. Grantham did some heavy work at bat, Ray Kremer showed some of his oldtime form on the mound, and the Pirates defeated Boston, 8-3 yesterday at Pittsburgh, for their seventh straight victory. It was the Bravis' ninth consecutive defeat.

Waner and Grantham had seven hits and five runs between them. Each had a triple. Kremer pitched excellent ball until the ninth inning when he eased up with a big lead when the Braves scored twice on three doubles.

The Giants won the third straight game from the last slipping Reds at Cincinnati, but had to go ten innings to do it. The score was 3-2.

In the tenth frame the Giants scored a run on a single, followed by a sacrifice, and another single while the Reds failed to get a man on base in their half of the inning. Joe Genewich opposed Pete Donohue on the mound in a pitching duel and had a little the better of the affair, giving the Redlegs only six hits, while the Giants gathered 11.

Behind steady pitching by Sheriff Blake and the heavy clouting of Emil Cuyler and Fred Maguire, the Cubs defeated Philadelphia at Chicago again and ran their winning streak to seven straight games. The score was 10 to 5.

Maguire drove in four runs while Cuyler got two singles and a homer. Blake was nicked for nine hits. Four pitchers worked for the Phillies—Miller, Willoughby, Lennon and Ehrhardt.

By "The Observer"

Tomorrow will see another visit by the Peterboro Ball Club to this city and Manager Waller Cerow is hoping to take both games of the double-header which is the chief half-holiday attraction this week. The Nationals have yet to defeat the Peies but they hope to break the jinx tomorrow. "Hook" Gibson and "Vinny" Uironki will be flung at the Lift-Lockers and the pair of them are in perfect shape to hand the Craig-Coached crew a revenge. Manager Craig has the Indian sign on the Belleville team and the Nationals have failed to slip a win over on the Northerners this season.

Jeff Hardill, who pitched very effective ball at the opening of the season has been running into some tough breaks and after his teammates had compiled a nice lead for him on Saturday he let down the bars and Joe Daley's Kingston crew leaned heavily on the wilder and finally the Ponies had annexed enough runs to come down in front.

Hardill will likely pitch the first game tomorrow with Heckman or McDonald the choice for the second The latter is a youngster and has already twirled two fairly good games. Heckman has not the blinding speed that he once had but he can still hurl a good game.

Every game between the Peies and the Nationals has been a stirring battle and the grandstand should be packed for each encounter. The locals are playing splendid ball and their display against Oshawa was real sensational. Every one of the boys have been right on their toes and the class of ball has been of the very best. They are deserving of support of the ball fans of Belleville and the management are looking for the biggest crowd of the year.

Belleville team have a comfortable margin right now and they have no intentions of dropping back, but they cannot afford to drop either game as Oshawa are treading on their heels.

The Motors play two games with Delora on their home lot Wednesday and if they win these two and Belleville should lose one, or both engagements, the Schultz-Burgoyne crew will be on top again.

A grandstand crowded with rabid rooters is a great incentive to any team and with the double attraction for the same price of admission the place should be filled. The ball as played in the Central League is as fine as anywhere in the province and the team that wins this league should march through to the Ontario finals.

The veterans have been holding up their end well. "Peeny" and Harry Mills, Vern Weir, Hagerman and Ross have been playing as of yore while the newcomers Bob Scott and "Vinny" Uironki have been more than holding up their end. Sunny Green and Alec Weir the two Point Anne lads have made good with a vengeance and have been of great assistance to Manager Crow.

The Mills boys are up among the leading batters in the league while "Wicky" Ross since he was moved down to sixth position has been pounding the ball numerously. "Peeny" Mills is still the best amateur catcher in these parts and there are four other teams in this league who'd like to have him. Mills is the master mind behind the bat, he knows the weakness of every batter in the league; is a rare judge of foul flies and is especially apt at handling young pitchers and he is one of the reasons why "Vinny" Uironki is making good.

Harry Mills has not slipped an inch and is just as good now, as he was five years ago. His sight may not be quite as keen but he generally manages to secure all that are within ten feet of him.

The infield is without a doubt one of the best that ever functioned here. Vern Weir is at home at second, Harry Blakely is playing the finest ball of his career while Bob Scott, now that he has perfected his throw to first is most efficient.

"Sunny" Green has turned out to be a real find and Manager Walter Cerow nadsbee him as one of the most valuable players on the team. Versatile, he has been tried out in several positions and made good in them all.

The squad-de-corps is the finest yet, the practices are well-attended and orders are strictly carried out to the letter. They are out to duplicate their performance in 1919 when they swept through to the Ontario finals and here's hoping.

It is rumored down Kingston way that the natives are looking toward a Central League championship but they'll find the road a mighty rocky one before the Nationals get through with them.

If the Nationals win both games tomorrow they will have Bulle to worry about as they'll be sitting high and dry but a double defeat and——???

For some unknown reason the Nationals have been unable to master the Peies but it's going to be a different story tomorrow and the visitors will find a fighting ball team out there.

If Delora can win one of the two games from Oshawa it will help the Nationals a heap but the Oshawa Smelters have had little luck this season in Senior ranks and it would not be at all surprising to see them drop two more.

YANKEES AGAIN WIN TWO GAMES

Take Another Doubleheader From Cleveland; Ruth Gets Homer

New York, July 17.—The Yanks' idea of heaven is not a golden land where angels play harps, but merely a place where one plays the Cleveland Indians a doubleheader every day and, preferably, three on Sunday. With an allowed joy and great fervor our boys smacked down the opposition again yesterday, making four victories in two days.

To make the picture complete Mr. G. Ruth added one more homer to his voluminous collection. It came in the first game and in the thirty inning, and, like his drive of the previous day, was a fair, ninth liner that soared the right-field screen and landed kerplunk about half-way up the hillside of stands.

Two homers in two days is pretty fair work of its kind and has carried the Babe along at a clasp pace as compared with his 1927 record. Hitting his thirty-fifth homer in his eighty-fourth game put him twenty-one games ahead.

The Athletics divided a double-header with Detroit at Philadelphia, winning the first, 3-2, and dropped the second 11-6.

The Tigers won the second game with a nine-run rally in the eighth inning that was started on the home club's four-run lead. Vinz Tavener, the rescue pitcher Wednesday, who relieved Earnshaw with none out and the bases full in the eighth, by smacking a home run for his fourth straight hit, tying the score. Thirteen of the Tigers batted in this inning.

Crowder won his eleventh game of the season without a defeat yesterday when the Browns took their third straight from Washington, 4-3, in ten innings.

Going into the ninth inning Washington was leading, 3-1, but St. Louis tied the score when Reeves threw wild by past first, allowing Blue to tally from third.

In the tenth, Mannish's double, his fourth consecutive hit, Schulte's single on an error, and a sacrifice fly gave the Browns two scores.

Chicago's heavy batting and the clever pitching of Faber and Blanken ship combined to let the White Sox win both games of a doubleheader from Boston, four to nothing, and 8 to 1.

In each game the Red Sox were restricted to seven hits. Mostly played a sensational game at centrefield and Cissell's all-round play distinguished itself. Under Manager Lena Blackburn, the White Sox now have won nine out of 12 games played, all on the road and cleaned up two doubleheaders on successive playing days here.

Carrigan, Wagner, Hofmann and Berry were put out of the second game by the umpire.

THANK KIWANIS FOR COURTESIES

C. Gordon Brown Will Assist Belleville In Forming Club

Mr. Harry Greenleaf, president of the local Kiwanis Club, has received a letter from C. Gordon Brown, of the Lieft Aerodrome Club of Montreal, of which organization Mr. Brown is Honorary Treasurer, thanking Mr. Greenleaf for the kindness shown to the writer and Mr. Leigh Capreol when they visited Belleville recently.

The two visitors were entertained by the Kiwanis Club at luncheon, and expressed in the letter received by Mr. Greenleaf, their appreciation of the courtesies extended them.

Mr. Harry Greenleaf, president of the local Kiwanis Club, [illegible] Belleville, [illegible] Montreal.

Would allow me to convey the thanks of myself and our Club for your kindness shown in entertaining the writer and Mr. Leigh Capreol. It was a pleasure to visit Belleville which was one of the old familiar spots and I sincerely trust that out of our visit will come the establishing of a Kiwanis Club as a proper aerodrome site, so that slops from Montreal to Toronto can be made at Belleville, for refueling.

We made very good time yesterday, an hour and five minutes from Belleville to Ottawa and one hour and twelve minutes Ottawa to Montreal. The weather was wonderful throughout and the Rideau Lakes seen from the air were a beautiful sight.

If at any time I can do anything to help aeronautics in Belleville kindly let me know. Thanking you indeed and the Club you represent for your kindness.

I remain,
Yours very truly,
(Sgd.) C. GORDON BROWN,
Chairman of Publicity
Honorary Treas. Montreal

"Sunny" Geen Pounds Ball Hard In First Game Today

Exhibition Park Belleville, July 18.—Belleville and Peterboro had a league meet here today in a double-header the result of which will have a decided effect on the standing of the Central League. Threatening skies probably deterred to a certain extent from the attendance and numerous other attractions had the effect of keeping spectators away.

Manager Walter Geerow elected to pitch his ace "Hoss" Gibson in the first game, while Manager Fred Craig announced that "Jeff" Hardill would do the flinging for the visitors. Wednesday Yarcesi will go to the mound for the Nationals in the second half of the double bill with McDonald of the veteran Al. Heckman doing duty for the Prins.

BELLEVILLE YOUTH IS SUBJECT OF SCATHING REBUKE BY MAGISTRATE

James Edward Turner Alleged To Have Given Girl Liquor

HOTEL BELL BOY

Jack Cottion, Another Local Young Man, Attended Same Party

Toronto, Ont., July 18.—In sentencing James Edward Turner, bell boy at a local hotel and a native of Belleville, to one month in jail Magistrate J. Edmund Jones in police court today registered his disapproval of the men who deliberately attempt to debauch young girls by the medium of plying them with strong liquors.

Turner was convicted of "supplying a minor with liquor". The object of Turner's attentions was a small and very pretty sixteen year old girl from their home-town, Belleville.

In the witness box the little body stated she had been given two glasses of beer and a glass of whiskey, the latter one secretly charged for a glass of water. The party consisted of three other men and a woman.

The demure witness reluctantly told the court she had come to Toronto to get a job. She had just got one. She had known Turner in Belleville.

The sentence will date from today" declared the bench. "I would make it six months if I could to show what I think of young men who debauche girls." His worship added that such men should not be employed by hotels and that fortunately the accused would not be employed anywhere for thirty days."

The other men who participated in the party were Jack Cottion, A. Goodman and R. F. Pieffer. In the be each case the party was considered respectable and that they had seen the girl given no liquor.

"Your observation about whether the party was sober or not is as reliable as your information as to whether she was given liquor or not." His Worship told the witness, Cotton.

Turner admitted the girl had two glasses of beer, he had given her no whiskey, and "she was treated as a lady, in fact just like his own sister."

Gurneon was apprehended in Belleville yesterday, and was brought back to Oshawa by Detective Sergeant Pinkney. According to his own statement, Gurneon gave himself up to the Belleville police after he had recovered from the effects of liquor taken before he had stolen the car. He was employed by Mr. Bell as a taxi driver, when he committed the offense, stating at the time he took the car that he was going out to answer a call. The police are looking into his record.

He jumped into deep water and did not rise to the surface. His body was recovered. He had been in Canada only two years and had no relatives here.

ASSAILANT BOMBARDED BY HIS IRATE HOUSEKEEPER

Mrs. Rennie Wood caused a disturbance on Coleman Street last night by the use of profane language and screaming. Mrs. Wood, who is the mother of five children, and a widow, was arrested by the local police and appeared before His Worship in police court today.

The accused told of differences with her employer, to whom she acts as housekeeper, and what the trouble started over. "He threatened to slap me and I threw some dishes at him," stated the irate woman. She was given a suspended sentence of cells and read. Police alleged in court that Mrs. Wood was very slightly under the influence of liquor at the time of the charge.

CAR IS DAMAGED DRIVER ARRESTED

Leo Donovan Found By Provincial Police In Intoxicated State

Leo Donovan, Cantelon Road, City, while driving his Ford coupe yesterday on the 5th Concession of Thurlow, ran off the road at a high velocity, about one mile east of the Steel Bridge, and turned over on the right side in the ditch.

Inspector Lougheed, accompanied by H. T. O. Hinchcliffe, answered a call from that place, and it is alleged that the police found Donovan in an intoxicated condition several yards from the overturned car. He was lying in the ditch, which was partly filled with water, and several bottles of beer, some empty and some full, were found beside him.

Donovan was arrested and brought back to this city where he appeared this morning on a charge of being drunk in charge of a car and also with consuming liquor in an unlawful place. He was represented by Mr. E. J. Bonner K.C., who asked for one week's adjournment, which was granted. Donovan was allowed out on bail of $500.

TO-DAY'S THOUGHT

And death, city think, and a small drop of ink,
Falling like dew upon a thought, produces
That which makes thousands, perhaps millions, think.—BYRON.

WHEN IS A MAN TOO DRUNK FOR SAFETY

There is always something cropping up to make law enforcement difficult. Recently issues have had the impress now for some time now, over the law-yers are admitting it. Just when we think we have reasoning sevens penalties in the drunken drivers, with everyone now in a man drunk?"

Up until recently a policeman's word was final in such a case. Recently, however, cases have arisen, and now, judging from a recent case in the court of appeal, before a man can be convicted of drunkenness, the evidence of a physician is necessary. It is not necessary legitimately desirable if the conviction is to hold in the higher courts.

Now, even physicians seem to be in doubt as to the proper rules to follow in deciding whether a man is drunk. Medical men in London, for instance, are not sure about it. The mere fact that a man has liquor on his breath proves nothing more than the fact that he has had a drink. One drink may drink some have drunk while others have fortunate in the matter of capacity can take several drinks and still not give evidence of drunkenness.

London physicians seem to be inclined to the belief that drunkenness is largely a matter of opinion—not on the part of the drinker for he never admits he isn't sober—but even a doctor's judgment in the matter is after all merely his doctor's opinion.

No doctor will give a general rule for pronouncing upon a man's lack of sobriety, but most doctors are agreed that the six symptoms as laid down by the British Medical Association and widely outlined in the Intelligencer from time to time, are fairly reliable. They are:

1.—A dry, furred tongue, or, conversely excessive saliva.

2.—Vulgarities in behavior — boisterous, abusive language, loquacity, excitement or sullenness, and disorder of dress.

3.—Pupils of the eyes vary from extreme constriction to extreme contraction.

4.—Loss of co-ordination of memory, particularly regarding recent events.

5.—Hesitancy and thickness of speech and impaired articulation.

6.—Tremors and errors of articulation and co-ordination of speech.

A test that only known symptom while the British association seems to have overlooked is the tendency to loud, and to invite everyone to join in the chorus, or a desire to "roll the drunk."

Apparently no single test is sufficient of, once to a reasonable conclusion, but the patient must be examined with regard to all of these symptoms. If the result of these are against him, prosecution, and man is drunk.

The British Medical men said in their report, "A person is drunk when, by while under the influence of alcohol, he loses control of his faculties to such an extent as to render him incapable of safely executing his immediate duties."

Based according to this definition, a man who has had one drink, might, through stress of excitement, lose control of his faculties. Yet one drink might not make him drunk, even if it does place under the influence of liquor, and it might so happen that he would, under exciting conditions, lose his faculties just the same, even though he didn't have a single drink. So that the question is rather a, been phrased one in many respects. However as far as drunken drivers of auto accident are concerned, it might be well to stick to the old definitions, and decide lack of sobriety by time-honored tests and evidence. The less red tape placed around the drunken driver, the better.

CHIEF DANGER FROM KISSING NOT GERMS

A controversy is going on in England over the prevalent habit of kissing. Writing of the Daily Mail, one correspondent, commenting upon a recent article by a doctor which stated that owing to the amount of infection carried, kissing should be prohibited, suggests that this can very easily be overcome by painting the lips with iodine. A small bottle, he says, with a brush in the cork is easily carried in the waistcoat, pocket or handbag. Then it is quite easy to paint the lips before indulging.

Another correspondent suggests that "a short way is to obtain some thi medicated gauge which can be cut into suitable pieces. One of these could be placed on the lips before indulging, and immediately destroyed after the manner of long duration. It is added these lip-masks could be filled with tapes to the around the head

We have often heard the theory advanced that kissing is dangerous, but the correspondents in the present controversy are laboring under the unfortunate delusion that the only danger from kissing lies in disease.

Typhoid, malaria, typhus and other fevers are a mere bagatelle compared with the dangerous predicament created when the love-lover is precipitated into the system through the apparently harmless and innocent kiss.

However, the kissing habit has been going on for many centuries—although many present-day parents seem to forget it—and it is not likely that medical advice or the wise contributions of controversial manikin will ever put a stop to it.

SUNDIAL HOURS

Morn—and the shadow on the sundia old,
Marked by the penciled ray
Of golden sunrise bidding flowers un fold,
Painting the dawn of day.

Morn—and flower-chalices with bright dew brimmed,
While yet blithest clobes are fay-rimmed.

Noon—and the tide of radiance at it height;
Fair flowers drowned with heat;
And cool in golden- haze the falling light
Of fountain-raindrops sweet,
Mingling their music with the bees' low hum
Or beds of larkspur and delphinium

Night—and the June-sweet, garden hushed and gray
In twilight mystery deep;
Content in fragrance that shall linger away
And days bright flowers asleep;
And one steals softly where the fountain gleams
In moonlight calm to keep her eyes with dreams.

"Oh, I don't believe she's any worse than other young people around here.

She had parked in front of a fire hydrant for two hours. A cop was waiting for her.

Just Stories

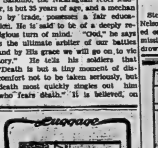

Of the celebration of the golden wedding of ex-Lord.-Gov. Brett of Alberta and Mrs. Brett at Banff, the Calgary Herald says: "Thousands of friends all over the Dominion will join with their neighbors in the famous mountain resort in extending hearty congratulations on the attainment of the golden anniversary of their wedding and in wishing them long life and happiness. One of the pioneers of Alberta, Dr. Brett has displayed keen interest in and given leadership to many movements," says the newspaper in voicing its own congratulatory note. "The Red Cross, the militia, hospital advancement and public life have been filled by his energy and his constructive ideas. He had been president of the Canadian Medical Council, a senator of the Alberta University, member of the old Legislative Assembly of the North West Territories for many years, and recipient of the signal and unique honor of two terms in the lieut.-governorship."

Sandino, the Nicaraguan rebel leader, is but 35 years of age, and a mechan to by trade, possesses a fair education. He is said to be of a deeply religious turn of mind. "God," he says is the ultimate arbiter of our battles and by His grace we will go on to victory." He tells his soldiers that "death is but a tiny moment of discomfort not to be taken seriously, but death most quickly singles out him who fears death." It is believed, on the authority of a recent English visitor to Nicaragua, this if Sandino had the arms he could raise a force of 10,000 overnight, and if ever he should enter Managua, the capital he would receive the greatest ovation any Nicaraguan ever received."

TO WASH CHAMOIS GLOVES

A little soap should then be rubbed on the palms and the inner side of the fingers. A little kneading and squeezing will soon remove all dirt, and the gloves should be squeezed as dry as possible without rinsing them.

They should then be pulled and hung in a moderately warm place, but on no account over the water pipes, as this causes the leather to shrivel and become hard.

Put them on the hands before they are quite dry. They take at least 24 hours to become really dry.

Mr. Martin laid emphasis on the ideals of the brotherhood manifested by the British Empire in connection with the proposals of the United States for reducing war. Knowledge of the Masonic ideals and progress, the Grand Master said spread of masonry in Ontario has been greater than today. He pointed out that the ever-increasing number of clergymen were seeking to become members and suggested that the Lodge could be of great assistance to the church.

Reports indicated the Masonic membership in Ontario of 114,000 and 560 lodges. The financial statement showed a prosperity in that direction also.

Jellis plans to make his journey principally in the higher, stormy temperatures, soundings and samples of the ocean floor at great depths. "Bands and Their Upkeep"

Editor of the Intelligencer,

Bands like the rest of things, cost money and the more money you can afford to spend on it, the better the band you are going to have. Is a band a necessity or a luxury? It is generally admitted these days, a good band is essential in all good size towns and cities, so that being the case, why must treat the band as a business proposition. Many large industrial concerns have organized bands amongst their employees, and they consider themselves well repaid from an advertising standpoint alone; for a number of these bands have reached such a state of proficiency that they are able to take extended concert tours, away from their home town and what better advertising can you have than this? For instance, "The Armor" band playing at the Toronto exhibition this year is a band of working men, all employed at "The American Rolling Mills" who are located at Middletown in the state of Ohio, U.S.A. Perhaps, after all, the best example of civic appreciation of a band, is this small town of Ohio, of five thousand people there is a musical society, made up mostly of business men who devote means and ways of financing the band to the extent of three thousand dollars per annum, and the past nine years, they have contracted with their bandmaster, C. P. Thiele a salary of two thousand dollars per annum. The result is, this small town has one of the finest bands in Canada and some musical authorities claim there isn't a better concert band in the Dominion.

Here are a few more Ontario small towns who consider a band a good financial investment. Renfrew grant $1500.00 annually to its band. Smith's Falls $1500.00. Chatham $1400.00. Brampton $1000. Dundas $1000. Collingwood $1000. Barrie $1000. The band is a good training ground both from the standpoint of discipline and musical education and a bandmaster should be kept employed at that and nothing else. The public should have its brass band whilst all public schools should have a drum and bugle band at all. This is purely the work of a band master who would be preparing these boys to fill vacancies in the senior band. Finally, a suggestion re park concerts. Why not have the band concerts played on the lawn in front of the armouries? No one is going to Victoria Park to be eaten alive by mosquitoes. True, a crowd get there for awhile but it is impossible to stay long and the result is, the people do not hear half the concert. Let the citizens hear the band in some small measure of comfort. It is surely bad enough to ask people to stand to one place for a couple of hours without further subjecting them to violent stings from all army of mosquitoes.

COUNTRY'S THE PLACE FOR CHILDREN'S HOME

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH

There can be no question that the country is a better place for children than the city.

Also that the country house is more conducive to their well-being—to their health, to their happiness—than a small city apartment.

Therefore make your home a country home if you possibly can for the sake of your children.

Children brought up in a city house or apartment, whose play is hedged in by the conventions and hazards of city streets or the park, are poor in the essentials which should influence them throughout life.

Children often look back for their most vivid memories to Christmas visits or summer holidays on grandfather's in the country. One doesn't form strong and affectionate associations with bricks and asphalt.

Children should know the freedom of the wide spaces of a country landscape and have the lines in the shapes of hills and meadows built into their minds.

The soft murmur of a brook or the drowsy twittering of birds at twilight will linger in the memory of years, available for thoughts of repose and refreshment.

All children should have had the privilege of intimate association with a garden, a barn, or stables, in some one of which are kept pet rabbits.

A boy will never forget his favorite nest high up in a tree top, his cherished memories of green pirates under the shrubs where they burrow the other of sunset, of morning and of wild and odd calls from its Winger.

How disjointed and varied our lives we are of home and childhood—yet how intensely vivid! Whether it is home in the city, or poor, whatever it may there should breathe from it the indefinable aura of love and understanding which emanates inevitably from happily mated people bound together as a sanctuary, whose play is hedged by the conventions and hazards of city streets or the park, are poor in the essentials which should influence them throughout life.

A house is not a home. Furnishings alone make a house.

Atmosphere is the only thing that can convert wood, brick and mortar into that idealized, hallowed place which we all instinctively recognize as a home the moment we set foot across the threshold.

Bring up your children in the real home atmosphere. It will remain their greatest asset through life.

Nothing will they be more grateful to you for than that, especially in this modern day and age.

INSECT SEASON NOW HERE

Health Authorities Recommend Use of Fly-Tox for Security

Science has proved conclusively that the fly is one of mankind's worst enemies. As a carrier of disease it has no equal. They transmit more than thirty different diseases, say eminent authorities.

FLY-TOX not only kills insects easily and quickly, but it has other desirable features as well. It will not stain. FLY-TOX is harmless to mankind and animals. It leaves a fleeting odor that is cleanly and fragrant.

This marvelous insecticide was developed at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Roy Research Fellowship. It is a scientific product made to meet today's requirements in household insecticide.

It is a clear, clean and pure liquid put up in bottles with the blue label. Many imitations are seeking to take advantage of popularity gained by FLY-TOX. Do not be misled. Demand the genuine FLY-TOX.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS By Mildred Barbour

CHAPTER 66.

Celia heard Miss Page's statement that "something dreadful has happened" with the resignation of one to whom calamity has become as regular as the sun's light. Her first thought was of her mother, but Miss Page shook her head. "Mrs. Drew is unusually well this morning," she said.

"Then what can it be?"

"Oh, Mrs. Falconer, I don't know how to begin to tell you. The police are downstairs now——"

"The police?"

Miss Page nodded dumbly and then, in Celia's astonishment, produced a handkerchief and began to wipe her eyes. "She was so handsome, so young, so nice," she gasped, between sniffles.

"Monsieur Manuel had got him, after all!" said Celia to herself.

"And poor Mr. Cross! I don't believe he could have done such a thing."

Celia grasped her arm.

"Tell me instantly what has happened."

"Perhaps it's better. Perhaps it will be easier than to hear it from the police." Miss Page lowered her voice, after a glance toward the closed door of Mrs. Drew's room.

"Mr. Falconer's body was found this morning on the railroad tracks about five miles out of town. He had been run over and——oh, Mrs. Falconer, terribly mangled. Isn't it too, too awful?"

"What has Mr. Cross to do with it?" demanded Celia.

Miss Page stared at her, and Celia suddenly realized that a very decided generally receive news of her husband's death so calmly.

"Why, my dear, how wonderful you are. I thought you'd faint. You have smelling-salts in my pocket."

Celia said: "Time enough for that later. I want to know what Mr. Cross had to do with my husband's being run over by a train."

"They had a terrible fight at the station last night, and a dozen people heard Mr. Cross threaten Mr. Falconer's life."

The horror of the situation came home to Celia. She had been so sure that it was Manuel who had, at last, had his revenge. She stood staring stupidly at Miss Page, wondering how she could learn more, without giving away the fact that Falconer's death, tragic as it might have been, did not leave her heart-broken.

Miss Page said: between sniffles: "Of course, you'll have a terrible reaction later. I wish I could put you to bed and give you a sedative, but the police want to see you."

Celia dressed and went downstairs. Two men in black clothes rose to greet her. Their faces wore an air of concern.

"We're sorry to be here on such an errand, Mrs. Falconer," said one. "But I see that you know. It's too bad that we have to question you at such a time, but Cross——"

"Tell me everything," commanded Celia.

"We know very little as yet," said one of the men. "A truck-walker found a body this morning. It was—it was, well a long time before we could identify it. But finally somebody recognized it as Mr. Falconer's. After that, we got busy, and we didn't have much trouble putting our fingers on the man responsible."

"And he is?"

"Young Cross."

"Nonsense," declared Celia. "That's idiocy. There was another man——"

"Not tomorrow at all, ma'am. We've got a dozen witnesses who will swear that your husband and Cross had a fight on the station platform last night and that Cross threatened that he'd get him."

Remembering Gwen's prophecy, Celia's heart sank.

She managed to say scornfully: "And so you think that Mr. Cross must have found a train and forced Mr. Falconer under it? I think my—Mr. Falconer is—was—nearly twice as strong as Mr. Cross. Your theory is absurd."

The man answered grimly: "According to reports, young Cross didn't have much trouble in the scrap earlier in the evening. He's a wicked, when he starts——. However, that's neither here nor there. Cross must have lured your husband, killed him in another fight, and tried to clear himself by putting the—er—body on the track to make death appear to have been an accident."

Celia wrung her hands. "There's no reason to connect Mrs. Cross with the tragedy. There is another man who——" For the second time she checked herself just in time. To tell about Manuel now might reveal too much.

She noticed that the two men were staring at her curiously, as Miss Page, now mortally afraid she was acting her role very badly. She put a hand to her forehead and said: "I don't know what I'm saying! I don't know what I'm saying!"

One of the detectives replied, with awkward sympathy: "Of course you don't, Mrs. Falconer. It's been too great a shock. Now you go to pull yourself together and my partner and I will come back in an hour. But we don't make any mistake," he added. "There's no doubt that Cross did it." They left her alone, then. She tried to gather her scattered faculties, to decide what was to be done now. As yet, she hadn't realized her freedom. The death of Falconer meant the end of one part of her trouble, but, when that thought came home to her later, she shrank from it shudderingly. She couldn't accept freedom at the price of a human life.

She was still standing there in the living-room, a white, inert figure, when the phone rang. It was Gwen. "I suppose you know they've arrested Larry!"

"Oh, Gwen isn't it horrible?" wailed Celia.

"It's horrible for Larry.... It seems that he didn't go home last night. No one saw him after he left the station. The theory is that he followed Falconer."

Gwen said dryly: "I don't know what we are going to do, but I know what I'm going to do. In fact, I've already done it.... I've sent for the finest criminal lawyer in the east to come here to defend Larry."

"Who is that?" gasped Celia.

"Annesley, of course."

For years I could not get any relief and I was discouraged as I am the mother of 6 children. I read in the papers of the health obtained with Lydia E. Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Piano keys should never be washed with water. Take a soft linen rag, dip it in methylated spirit, and with this clean the keys, a few at a time, and polish off with a soft duster.

When Tacking Velvet

When tacking velvet in dressmaking the floral cotton should be used, and when the threads are removed, they must be cut every few inches, not pulled out in the ordinary way, otherwise nicks will be left in the velvet.

Sponge Cake

For a change in flavoring for cakes, puddings, custards, etc., use a half teaspoon each of lemon and vanilla flavoring, or almond and vanilla or orange and lemon. For a change in chocolate icing, use coffee to moisten the confectioner's sugar instead of water. One-half teaspoon of almond extract with one teaspoon of orange juice in a boiled frosting is another delicious and novel change.

Advice to Girls By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am twenty years-of age and deeply in love with a married man in the twenties also. He is not happily married and his wife refuses to grant him a divorce. There is a young fellow that I like a lot also. I know for a fact that both of these are in love with me, but I don't know what to do. The married man wants me to elope with him. Please advise me what to do.

BLUE EYES.

BLUE EYES: You do know what to do, Blue Eyes, for you know you are doing something that is very wrong in encouraging the attentions of a married man. If he truly loves you, he would wait until he was free to declare his love before he placed you in any sort of a compromising situation.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl in my teens and I am going with a boy friend three years older than I am. He has a very good character and he is very good to me. He has been keeping steady company with me for seven months. I do not care for him but I should. I have other boy-friends that I love better than him.

Please advise me whether I should continue to keep steady company with him?

PEGGY.

PEGGY: If by "steady company" you mean you are engaged to the young man, Peggy, you are doing something that is almost dishonest in allowing him to think that you still care for him, when you don't. Tell him frankly how you feel and ask to be released from your engagement, that you may go about more freely with your other friends.

JAM MAKING AND STORING

Why Jam Goes Mouldy—

Because overripe, bruised or unripe fruit has been used.

Because the fruit has been picked on a wet day.

Because the jam has been insufficiently boiled, or

Because it has been stored in a damp place.

The Remedy—

Remove the mould and reboil the jam. Put into clean dry jars and cover.

Why Jam Ferments—

Because damp or overripe fruit has been used.

Because it is stored in too warm a place.

The Remedy—

Open the pots, remove the mildew and reboil the jam with a little more sugar, removing all scum carefully. Boil until the jam has been reduced by one-quarter. Put into clean dry jars and cover.

Badly fermented jam cannot be remedied.

Date Bars

Fruit cookies are an excellent addition to a picnic lunch, but these are also good for tea or for the luncheon dessert:

1 cup sugar,
1 egg,
1 cup flour,
1 cup of nuts,
1 1-4 cup of dates,
1 teaspoon baking powder,

Sprinkle the fruit with some of the flour and beat the yolks of the eggs lightly; add the remaining flour sifted with baking powder, the fruit and nuts Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs last. Bake in a pan as for a cake, fourteen or fifteen inches square, for about 30 minutes in a moderate oven. When baked, dust with powered sugar and cut into bars while warm and remove from pan.

A New Blouse For Ensemble Wear

The blouse of white crepe satin illustrated above is in thorough keeping with the new feminine mode and may be used for the most elegant of three-piece coat, skirt and blouse ensembles. It is an entirely new type, because it is attached to a wide girdle instead of a hip-band. This gives it a feminine feeling of grace that marks it chic in the extreme. The asymmetrical neck is scarcely in line with the girdle bow. It is cut in a new way and, because it is crushed, is infinitely softer and more feminine than the conventional. Provide crepe satin, crepe de chine and moire are smart for this blouse.

UNIQUE EVENT ON HIGH SEAS

Long Boat Race Is a Thrilling Annual Affair To Passengers

Halifax, N.S.—Out on the ice-clogged pathways of the North Atlantic passenger liners, hundreds of miles from land, there is held each spring what is no doubt the most unique aquatic event in the world of sport. It is the annual long-boat race between crews from the two United States pas-senger liners that each year, during the spring months, police the shipping lanes off Newfoundland, locating the positions of dangerous ice-bergs and advising the liners by wireless of the proper course to steer for safety.

This spring the patrol was carried out by the Modoc and Mojave, working alternately, two weeks at sea and ten days in Halifax. The other day the Modoc came in for her regular visit in port and reported her victory over the Mojave in the revival of the annual event on May 31. Members of the crew briefly described the race, as follows:

The Mojave returning from her two weeks off duty, reaches the Modoc early on a clear, sunny morning. It is decided that circumstances are favorable for the annual race. No time is wasted in preliminaries. The long-boats with their ten oarsmen each drop into the water and the two cutters steam slowly apart until the distance separating them is equal to the course demanded by the rules of the event. One cutter has towed the two boats and that vessel will be the starting line. A gun roars and the twenty paddles spin the water. They are off!

The starting cutter, its mission fulfilled, blasts a farewell blast in the wake of the straining crews while their own passions crowd the deck with lusty cheers. No screaming thousands line the course as in the case of the Harvard—Yale classic of both sides of the boats and chugging launches to offer free advice and block the course. Only the gulls wheel overhead honking their wonderment at this strange sight; an ice-berg, glistening like silver against the sun, drifts indifferently by and a school of whales churns up the water as they startled glance before plunging again to the icy depths.

But there is no lack of enthusiasm on the two cutters and in the racing long-boats the sailors struggle with the same determination to win as though the trophy were the Diamond Sculls.

At the boats near the finish line shooting up the sloping sides of the long, smooth rollers, cutting through their crests in a cloud of spray and gliding down to meet the next one, the Modoc crew slowly pulls ahead, and, while a crash of sirens and the coarse shouting of the men echo over the empty expanse of ocean, cross the line triumphant.

Follows a hasty gathering in of the boats to their respective cutters, brief interchanges of pleasantries, and the Modoc turns her nose towards Halifax there leave and recreation; and the Mojave again takes up the weary trek up and down the sea lanes with that leave two weeks away and another chance at the rowing prize a whole year distant.

FREIGHT, STEAMER AND PILOT ASHORE

Quebec, Que., July 17.—The freight steamer Michel P. Embiros and the pilot's tender C. G. S. Jacbert boat went ashore about two miles west of Father Point early this morning. A few details other than that the freighter was laying off Father Point in a dense fog awaiting for the pilot's tender and both vessels drifted aground were available. There were no fatalities.

YOUNG BRITONS VISIT EMPIRE

Will Arrive In Canada In August of This Year

Edmonton, Alta. (C.P.)—An opportunity to fraternize with Canadian boys and girls of their own age will be given the 50 young men and women of the "young ambassadors of Empire" party when they arrive in Edmonton on their tour of the Dominion. These young people will be representatives of the best in British youth and are coming to this country as the reward of personal study of Canada from an Empire standpoint.

The party is travelling under a scholarship plan inaugurated by the Allied Newspapers of Great Britain for the promotion of a more intimate knowledge of the empire among the younger generation in the motherland.

A farewell dinner is to be given the members of the party and their parents in London before the young people sail on July 29.

The Prince of Wales has extended a special invitation to the party to visit the R. F. Radch, and Premier Baldwin, Hon. Mr. Amery and other prominent Britishers are giving the young ambassadors their blessings.

In Canada, the tour has received the special endorsation of the national chapter of the I.O.D.E. and other patriot bodies.

ALEWINES CATCH UNLIMITED SIZES

Damariscotta Mills, Me.—(C.P.)—Old time residents here say that they have never seen so many fish trying to get up the rapids in the river here as since the spring run of alewives began a few days ago. The first big catch was 125 barrels here in the first day after the run began.

Arthur E. Mickerson of Boothbay Harbor, who has a contract with the town of Noblebore and Newcastle for the fish, says that the market this year is not as good as usual. The contract calls for payments of $1.50 a barrel and usually about 1500 barrels are salted for shipment. The alewives formerly were shipped in large quantities to the African west coast and to Hayti, but an increase in the import duties there from $1 to $3.50 a barrel has discouraged the trade, he said. The towns of Noblebore and Newcastle have spent most of the money they received from the sale of these fish in improving their dams, fish ways and storehouses.

To see the alewife run is one of the wonders of Maine. The run usually last about 10 days, the fish coming up the river in large number to Damariscotta Pond to spawn. Soon after reaching the pond they deposit their eggs and three months later the waters there are alive with tiny fish. As cold weather approaches the alewives leave the pond and return to the salt water.

MEN ARE JUST AS CARELESS AS WOMEN

Edmonton, Alta.—Men are just as careless as women about the things they have behind them on the trains according to the record of lost and found articles, kept at the station, but without a doubt, the strangest and most valuable article ever left on a train by a woman in this locality was a baby. A young mother was travelling with four small children, so she decided the baby first and put him on another seat while she put the coats and hats on the other children. They were tired and cross so she had a difficult time getting them all onto the station platform and assembling her luggage and not until the train was pulling out did she remember the baby. A telegraph was sent to the next station where the baby was taken off the train and safely returned to his distracted mother.

HUGE GATHERING TO BE PRESENT

Conservationists From All Over Country Will Attend Convention

Fredericton, N.B.—Conservationists with international reputations have accepted invitations to attend the Canadian Forestry Association Convention in New Brunswick at Fredericton on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 19th and 20th, when forestry problems will be discussed at sessions on the 2 days calculated to arouse public interest in the value of New Brunswick's natural resources and to be an impelling urge for proper conservation of the province's forest assets.

The keynote of the convention will be struck by Dr. Clifton D. Howe, Dean of the Forestry School, University of Toronto, and one of Canada's leading conservationists when he speaks at the opening session at the Assembly Chamber Parliament Buildings on the afternoon of Tuesday, June 19th. The President of the Canadian Forestry Association, Mr. W. E. Gold-ing, of Saint John, will preside and following his introductory address there will be addresses of welcome by Lieutenant Governor Hon. J. B. Todd, Hon. G. D. Richards, Minister of Lands and Mines of New Brunswick, and Hon. A. A. Dysart, Leader of the Opposition in the New Brunswick Legislature, to which Mr. Black, of Ottawa, Manager of the Canadian Forestry Association, will respond.

Dean Franklin D. Moon of the New York State College of Forestry, Syracuse, N.Y., will be the principal speaker at the evening session to be held at the Provincial Agricultural School which is located at the Dominion Experimental Station. A motor drive about Fredericton for the visitors, including the University of New Brunswick, will follow in the afternoon and will conclude at the Experimental Farm, where an informal dinner will take place at 7 p.m. Hon. Richard D. Richards, Minister of Lands and Mines, will preside at the dinner and following Dean Moon's address on Forest Conservation, there will be address by Hon. Howard Ferguson, Minister of Lands and Forests, Quebec; Hon. William Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests, Ontario, and Hon. W. L. Hall, Minister of Lands and Forests, Nova Scotia.

The concluding session of the Convention on the morning of Wednesday, June 20th, will be presided over by Col. P. B. Winslo, Past President of the Canadian Forestry Association. The ident Golding will introduce a thought provoking question: "Can we find $25,000 to spend on forest protection, how would you spend it?" The discussion will be opened by Henri Mercier, Chief of the Forest Protection Service, Province of Quebec, and it is expected a number of those in attendance will participate. "Woods, waters and wild life" is the subject chosen by President Allan G. McAvity of the New Brunswick Fish and Game Protective Association, who will emphasize the importance of preservation of the forests from the recreational standpoints.

The concluding number on the programme is an illustrated address "Young Forest" to be given by Prof. H. F. Weldo, Dean of the University of New Brunswick Forestry School. The convention will close at 1 p.m. on June 20th.

AUSTRALIA HAS OWN PROBLEMS

Sydney, N.S.W.—The White Australia' policy is sound only when coupled with real progress in industrial development, according to G. A. Julius, chairman of the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, who recently returned from a visit to Europe and America.

"We cannot maintain the existing short hours and high wages on the White Australia' policy unless we keep pace with the rest of the world in solving problems of science and industrial economies," said Mr. Julius, "although Australia has many advantages in production, the enormous handicap of distance can be overcome only by scientific marketing. We must study the needs of prospective buyers. The increasing use of artificial silk products material for many years of the factory governing the kind of wool required. Artificial silk will compete with the coarser wools.

"The same thing applies to Australia's schemes for bringing more land into cultivation by irrigation. Instead it may be that some other crop could be more easily marketed than the one it is proposed to put in."

Another problem for Australia, said Mr. Julius, 'was the discovery of a cheap form of land transport. The country could not afford to go on building railroads. Some form of motor was needed which could haul loads at a cheaper rate over back tracks, so that the present limit for farms at 20 miles from a railway could be made 40 miles.

JOTHAN STRUCK OUT EIGHTEEN

Alemite All-Stars Defeated Maple Leafs, Kingston Champions

At Kingston last night a team representing the Alemite Products from this city took the measure of the Industrial League champions the Maple Leafs by the score of 5 to 1. Softball in Kingston is a real live issue in Kingston, judging by the crowd which turned out, and the interest which was taken in every play.

The Alemite squad was strengthened by the use of a new battery, Jothan, who had starred for the C. W. B. last winter in the city league being on the mound. The first twelve men up were the victims of his speed, going out on the strike out way. He then settled down a little and finished the game with a total of eighteen strike outs to his credit.

It is more than likely that a return game will be arranged in Belleville, and although the people of this city do not seem to care for men's softball, it is perhaps because a real fast game has not yet been put on. The game in Kingston last night took just forty-five minutes to play. Those who made the trip were Darrah, G. Hurley, Atto, Bailey, O'Donahue, Jothan, Cole, Flagler and J. Kerr. Jack Allen was manager.

CANADIAN ATHLETES LEAVE FOR OLYMPIC GAMES

The entire Canadian Olympic captain of the track team. In the second row, with officials photographed on the White Star Liner well known hockey referee. Fourth from the left on the second row is Alberta as they sailed down the St. Lawrence bound for Havre a few days ago. On the extreme left of the third row are Capt. F. E. Cordelius (coach), of the track and field team; Miss Aird left, and next to him Bobby Kerr, manager of the ladies' team; Miss M. Parkes, chaperone, and from left to right M. M. Robinson, manager of the track and field team; Miss Aird, captain of the ladies' team; P. J. Mulqueen, president of the Canadian Olympic Committee, Fred Marples, treasurer of the Olympic committee, H. E. Herschorn, president of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association and John Kerry, president of the Quebec section of the O.A.A.

GIRL OLYMPIADS

Toronto, Ont.—Alexandrine Gibb declares that she will make Canada a big hope at the Olympic games at Amsterdam this summer.

Myrtle A. Cook, Director Track and Field Canadian Ladies' A.A.U., Toronto, veteran member of the team is the only girl on the present team who has represented Canada abroad before. She holds the International indoor sprint title won in New York last May, and is claimant now for new world's record for the 100 metres of 13 seconds flat. She will compete for Canada in 100 metres and relay.

Ethel Smith, Canadian Ladies' A.C., born in Toronto, in 23 and was formerly holder of 220-yard championship, but did not defend the title at Halifax. A splendid athlete but coming into her own. She is a softball and basketball star, many games when competing in it, starred for the Olympians in 100 metres and relay event.

Fanny Rosenfeld, born in Russia, 1905, naturalized Canadian in 1920, holder of Canadian records in broad jump, standing broad, discus and shot put, has put the yards in 11 seconds and 220 yards in 26 seconds, but never been credited with either. Canada's most outstanding all round girl athlete and entered for Olympic games in relay and discus.

Ethel Catherwood, born in Hannah, North Dakota, still in her teens, parents Canadian born, holds Canadian high jump record, also Canadian and disallowed world's record in high jump at Halifax trials of five feet three inches. A tall, statuesque beauty, hails from Saskatoon but now permanently located in Toronto. Miss Catherwood will represent Canada in the high jump.

Jean Thompson, seventeen-year-old high school girl from Prestang, but born in Toronto, only commenced real training last September. A claimant for the new world's record in eight hundred metres time of 2.31 1-5. Canada's Olympic entrant in 800 metres.

PIRATES WIN 8TH STRAIGHT GAME

Luque Hurls Smart Ball And Reds Defeat Giants

New York, July 18.—Pittsburgh swell its total of victories to eight straight by winning the third game of the series with Boston 7-4 at Pittsburgh yesterday. The Braves had the tying and winning runs on the sacks in the ninth inning but neither Shiner nor Hornsby was able to help on the crisis. Baker's homer resulted in the put-out at the plate that prevented a deadlock.

Cincinnati won the final game of the series with New York 5-4, saving themselves from four straight defeats. Adolphe Luque was master of the Giants at all stages after the opening inning when two runs were scored on three singles and a fumble by Critz. The Giants threatened in the ninth but a double play saved the day. It was the 108th double killing of the season for the Reds.

Clyde Beck's home run with the bases loaded in the fifth inning broke up a hurling duel between Charlie Root and Jimmy Ring at Chicago as the Cubs defeated Philadelphia 4-3 for their fifth straight victory over the Phillies.

The Cardinals earned an even break on their four-game series against Brooklyn by knocking Dazzy Vance from the box at St. Louis to win the final clash, 7-1. Vance lasted for five innings, in which time he gave nine hits and five runs.

Florence Bell, sometimes called Jane 18 years old, Toronto, born, holder of Canadian sixty-yard hurdle record won school championship for four years, swimmer of note, former all-round Canadian junior champion, a member of Canada's 400 metre relay at the Olympic.

INDIANS PRESENT YANKS WITH WIN

Detroit Lost To Athletics—Cobb Collected Three Hits

New York, July 18.—Nice fellows, those Cleveland Indians—honest and kindly. Beneath their rough exterior beats a heart of gold. They do one good deed every day. Yesterday it consisted of losing another game to the Yankees, making five defeats in a row for the battle-scarred men of Roger Peckinpaugh. The Yanks were sorry to see them go.

The score was 4-3. George Uhle pitched for the Indians. Grasp is president of the Association of ex-Yankee Jinxes. A couple of years ago he was a profound mystery for Yankee bats; lately he has been an open book for those who run to read.

Stewart held Washington to 6 hits and St. Louis won its fourth straight game from the Senators, at Washington, 5-0 "covering the score."

Bob Grove fanned eight Detroit batters and won his eleventh game of the season by pitching the Athletics to a 6-2 triumph over the Tigers.

Ty Cobb hit two singles, a double, drew a pass and scored three runs against his old teammates. As a result of the loss, Detroit again fell to the cellar.

After losing four straight, the Red Sox came out of their slump in the first inning to drive in six runs and knock Grady Adkins, of Chicago, out of the box at Boston and eventually win 9-6.

RAILWAY WRECK

Munich, Germany, July 18.—Ten persons were killed and 35 injured here yesterday when two railway coaches telescoped and caught fire near here, three of those killed were women.

REG. MONCREIF HEADS LEAGUE

At a well attended meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. last night for the purpose of forming an Industrial softball league, Reg. Moncreif was elected President and W. L. Norris, Sec. Treasurer.

The league will be composed of teams from the Optical Co., Point Anne, Corbyville and Frankford.

All games will be played on the Arm curles lawn with the exception of Point Anne's home games, these will be played at Point Anne.

These teams will no doubt put up a good brand of ball as most of the players are well known to the Belleville league.

It is hoped to start the league next week, so come prepared to witness games of high class caliber.

KINGSTON TEAM WILL PLAY HERE

Supremes, Champions of Limestone City To Meet Beavers

Management of the Belleville Beavers have arranged for two games over the week-end both of which should be interesting. On Friday evening at 8.15 the locals will cross bats with the Kingston Supremes, City Champions of the Limestone City. The Supremes recently completed a series with the Treasures and are in fighting form and will give the Beavers a merry tussle. The Beavers have played several games with outside teams this year and have won the majority of them. They had an off night in a recent game with Napanee but hope to capture the return game. Alan Meagher claims his aim will win the Bay of Quinte League which promises to be a real race before it is completed. The supremes as winners of Kingston District will likely stack up against the champions of the Bay of Quinte League and Friday night's game will give the fans an opportunity to compare the strength of the two. The Supremes play smart ball as do the beavers and fans should not pass up this game on Friday night.

On Saturday night another outside team will be here and it is hoped to have as the guests of the Beavers, the Glen Stewarts of Toronto. The team play in the Beaches League and play a good brand of ball. Failing to arrange for a visit by the Glen Stewarts, another outside team will come here.

BIG SWIM NEWS

By The Waltross

Byron Summers, "The Flying Fish" of California, probably the best known of American professional swimmers, has arrived at Castle Island, with his retinue and is hard at work in preparation for the Third Wrigley Marathon.

Byron pulled a tendon in his knee during his training last year and this misfortune practically put him out of the running, although he made good time for five hours. It has been necessary for him to change his leg action to favor this knee weakness and he has developed a powerful six beat crawl that carried him to victory this year in the annual California classic, the Alameda Marathon, a tidal swim of fourteen miles, which he won from a field of over one hundred contestants, only five of whom finished.

He was a strong factor in the Catalina swim, covering twelve miles in world's record time, and in the following April he was credited with swimming from Catalina Island to the mainland in 13 hours, 21 minutes, battling Tuna's time by nearly two hours.

"The Alameda Flying Fish" who has made an early start with his training for the Third Wrigley Marathon. This new style, a strong six beat crawl, seems to give him more endurance. The main

ENGLISH ARTISTS DISPLAY WORKS

Famous Painters Spending Holiday In Bay of Quinte District

SCOTTISH SCENES

Local Art Lovers Visit Men At "Sunnybrook" Lodge

Sunnybrook Lodge, on the Kingston Road, just east of Belleville, has been the home of two well-known English artists, Mr. Jack Britt and Mr. A. Ramon, "old Britt" families, for the past week or more. These gentlemen have done paintings which have been given high awards, and are remaining at the Lodge for a ten days' holiday.

They have been in Canada a little over eight months and in that time have done a number of landscape paintings, both in water colours and oils, which have drawn many favourable comments. They have painted fine landscapes with them at the present time. Neither artist has done any work in this vicinity, although they are unanimous in their praise of the country immediately.

At their studio in Toronto they have many Old Country and Scottish works which they painted before coming here, and these are bringing favorable notice. The heads of Canadian celebrities . On Saturday of this week both men will return to Toronto, but possibly some week later again to paint several landscapes on the Bay of Quinte.

Art lovers of this city have already viewed some of the paintings in these artists' studio and declare that they are fine examples of all paintings, especially a few which depict the scenes of Scotland, both city and rural. Mr. Ramon spent months in Scotland before finishing their work there, and when one sees the wild rocky lakes of that wonderful country, put on canvas, they cannot help but wonder at the skill of them men who create such works.

Mr. Hastings, elder of the two men, is a member of the Royal Scottish Society of Arts, which in itself is a great honour to say artist, as only those who are very capable and have done some work which has been classed as such, by average are members of the society.

The party was met by Mrs. Foster Welch, Southampton's lady mayor.

Only one accident to the athletes occurred during the trip. F. J. Murdoch of the Argonaut Rowing Crew, sustaining his ankle last night. The team took a special train to London and remained in the metropolis only a few hours, leaving for Amsterdam by way of Harwich early this evening.

SMOKE CLOUDS CAUSE OF ALARM

The fire department responded to a call to Woodley's Fur Shop this morning when alarm was turned in by a woman residing above the store. Breaking open the front door the firemen found no fire, but smoke became the source of the smoke. Upstairs, above the store, in a bathroom, were found some smouldering towels, emitting dark clouds of smoke.

The woman who turned in the alarm thought that the smoke was coming from the rear of the Woodley store. A large crowd soon congregated but were disappointed if they expected excitement as the blaze was extinguished in short time.

GIANT SEAPLANE STOPS FOR FUEL

D. S. Bondurant And Party Taxied Into Belleville Harbor

SEATS FIVE PERSONS

Left Here At 11.16 This Morning Bound For Toronto

D. S. Bondurant, of Montreal, a pilot for the Canadian Airways Co., accompanied by his wife, and E. Pelrault, Air Engineer, dropped from the clouds yesterday afternoon into Belleville harbour, when their huge Victory sea-plane developed engine trouble. Although not of a serious nature, Mr. Bondurant felt that as they were in no hurry to get to Toronto, Belleville was a convenient point at which to stop.

Hailing at the Dominion Wharf Company dock, repairs were made and the tanks filled up with gas, ready for a start again this morning. Bondurant is a pilot for the Canadian Airways Company, Montreal, and is now on his way for a month's vacation at Muskoka. He intends to fly to Sault on his return trip. The plane is a five passenger model, 650 weighs over three tons, but once the power starts the ship skims over the water like a bird.

Passengers and Pilot occupy the "boat-section" of the plane, and the propeller is situated behind the motor, differing in this respect from the ordinary plane. There is also double seats ahead of the motor, and one single seat directly in the prows. Gasoline is held in three separate places on the top of the wings, each tank holding forty gallons. Their total capacity one hundred and twenty gallons, will keep them in the air between five and six hours.

This is by no means the largest plane in the Canadian Airways, but compared to the planes which are usually seen within vicinity it is a monster. Its speed is the same as that of the smaller planes as it will only vary 20 miles an hour at a maximum, while the ordinary cruising speed is sixty miles per hour. The party left here at 11.15 this morning and expected to reach Toronto by one o'clock at the latest.

CAR IS DRIVEN AGAINST WALL

Plead Guilty To Charge of Reckless Driving Following Accident

When John Richardson, of Brockville, came up Dundas Street, this morning he failed to stop at the intersection at Bridge St., and collided with a car driven by Fred Fisher, of New York City. Both parties were in the city, Mr. Fisher was travelling too fast, and Richardson failed to stop. The New York car was driven over the curb and up on the lawn between a large tree and the wall surrounding St. Thomas Church, while the other car, a Chrysler sedan lost a wheel and the front axle was bent.

Although several windows were broken, no one was injured, and Fisher commanded that his car was well able to handle a car when he squeezed in between the wall and the tree. Both men had reached an amicable settlement when Constable Evans arrived on the scene, but more trouble was in store for the two men. A charge of reckless driving was laid against them, to which they both promptly pleaded guilty, and were assessed ten dollars and costs, within a half hour of the accident.

HIS PERSISTENCY EARNED A TERM

Vagrant Did Not Know Whether He Was In U.S. or In Canada

Ben Daigle, of Montreal, is persistent to say the least. Yesterday he was chased away from the Canadian National Railway station by Officer Jerome, but today he came back for more. He was not chased away this time, but was hailed into police court before Magistrate Mikel, charged with vagrancy. Daigle, it appears, came here from Montreal, and is endeavouring to get back to his home in Buckhurst, New Brunswick. He made a mistake, your Worship, that was in Belleville," he stated to Magistrate Mikel. Officer Jerome said that the man, when arrested, didn't know whether he was in the United States or Canada. "A week's rest on the Hill would do him good," said Crown Attorney Donnan (and Mr. Daigle will spend the next seven days in the jail.

SCOTTISH FAVOR QUOTA SYSTEM

Recent Influx of Irish Emigrants Calls For Action

London, July 19 (C. P. Cable).—The suggestion that a quota system should be established in Scotland for migrants from Ireland, who would be allowed to enter Scotland only after sufficient work was available for them, is understood to have been made by a deputation received privately by Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Home Secretary, and Sir John Gilmour, Secretary for Scotland at the Home Office today.

The deputation, composed of representatives of the church of Scotland, argued that the recent heavy influx of Irish emigrants into Scotland was calculated to change the whole character of the Scottish people.

It is understood that the Home Secretary told the deputation the impression of this immigration was quite a new idea so far as the British Isles was concerned. He thought the easier approach to the solution of the problem lay with the Irish Free State with the Irish Free State to take back such of those immigrants in Scotland who were dependent upon the public purse, of whom it was alleged there were quite a number.

Negotiations to this end had in fact been made on with the Irish Free State for some time, Sir William said. He promised that the government would give some consideration to the point of view set out by deputation.

BELLE THEATRE

Gang warfare, fights to the death, pleas, speeding police cars—raw virile melodrama, richly seasoned with the romantic charm of Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton. That describes "Partners in Crime," the Paramount picture which opened at the Belle Theatre today.

There is not a single entertainment but overlooked in this thrilling and highly amusing picture. As a straight melodrama it rank with the best. As a situation comedy it could scarcely be excelled. To cap it all there is an excellent love motif. That makes a triangular combination hard to beat. Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton are at their very best in this picture. The qualities that brought them to the very front as character comedians shine brightly through the comedy situations of the production. They don't clown and they are not dressed in ludicrous fashion. They are real characters, and such characters!

Beery has the part of a dumb detective whose beat is the night but whose mind is just a few hours behind time. Hatton has a dual role. First he is a wise-cracking newspaper reporter and then he is "Knife" Reagan, an underworld gang leader.

One of the most amusing features of the plot centers about this reporter-detective and the reporter and the gang leader. Beery knocks the gangster cold thinking he is a detective, who is his rival for the girl in the case.

Mary Brian Appealing

Dainty little Mary Brian is that girl and she does certainly not be blamed for falling for her. She is her own appealing beautiful self in a good role, and that is much praise as anyone could wish. William Powell again acquits himself creditably as the villain in the role of the underworld gang leader and Jack Luden shows up he is considered to have a promising future in his excellent characterization of the young assistant district attorney who declares war on the underworld gangs.

BABE OBLIGES WITH A HOMER

New York, July 19.—The great man came to the plate in the ninth inning. There were two out; a runner was on third and another was on second, and the White Sox were two ahead of the Yanks. Two runs were needed to tie, three to win, but there were two out.

A hush fell over the crowd. The fans waited nervously as the enemy pitch er wound up and delivered the first pitch wide of the plate. Ball one. The pitcher wound up again. The ball sped in, true and straight, right across the middle of the plate.

This time the great man swung. He swung with all the force and fervor in his 220 pounds. There was a sharp crack of wood against leather. Out toward right field there shot a streak of dazzling white—out and onward and up—and as you watched with every muscle taut, that streak of white dwindled into a baseball.

Now it dipped suddenly and began to fall, like a spent bullet, but it cleared the fence and landed in the right field bleachers and the game was won. The great man had done the one perfect thing, he had hit a homer with two on and two out, three runs needed to win in the sixth. And as he circled the bases and turned homeward, he literally fought his way through hundreds of frenzied fans. He battled to open a path through the line, reached the plate and then ran, sluggling through the third and another to the dug-out and the back and shake his hand and grab him affectionately around the neck.

The Motors won the first game on the program 3-1 and in a close finish they also captured the second game by a count of 6—5. Belleville is practically assured of a place in the play-offs when the first and second teams will clash in the finals. Belleville have now won thirteen games and lost five while Oshawa have won and lost five. Belleville was scheduled to play in Kingston on Friday night but the game has been postponed until Monday. BEAVERS FACING CITY CHAMPIONS

Supremes of Kingston To Attraction At Armories On Friday Night

The Supremes of Kingston, the City Champions this year, will appear here tomorrow evening when they play the Belleville Beavers at the Armories Lawn. The game is called for 6.15 p.m. and there should be plenty of action from the opening.

The crimson clad girdles from the east made many friends in the last year by their aggressive type of play and it is reported that they are even better this season. They certainly could hit last season and it is no doubt they still retain their batting eyes.

The Beavers, after playing about the best ball that has ever been played by an Eastern Ontario team have been in a slump the past two games and their work has belied the pep which was so much to the fore in the early season games. However, it was decided to give them a rest and since last Saturday they have been idle.

Tonight a light work-out will be held which should line them up in good shape for tomorrow's important fixture. Should rain interfere with the game, activities will be transferred inside and start at 7.15 p.m. Although this has not yet been necessary at any time this year, when teams are brought from a distance, the club arranging the game will have this protection to clear themselves.

CLOSE FIT IN BOTH GAMES AT OSHAWA

Oshawa, July 18—Oshawa took both ends of a double header here today from Deloro in the final game of Baseball League, winning the first 3—1 and the second 6—5. The evening game went into the tenth inning before the locals squeezed out a victory getting to Wood for four safeties and two runs in the last of the tenth to win the game.

FOOTBALL GAME RESULTS IN TIE

Belleville And Deloro Clubs Have Thrilling Struggle

In one of the most exciting football games of the present season the all-star team chosen from the four Clubs in Belleville played a 3-3 draw with the Deloro team on the latter's grounds last night. The result was to double until the final whistle. From the first kick-off the visiting team made a dash for the goal and Jack Hatfield fumbled the ball for Belleville's first goal after five minutes of strenuous play. For the next fifteen minutes play was within the shadow of both goal-posts and finally Deloro evened the count when E. Brown took the pig-skin through after a great run and conquered Gorman. A half-time the score remained 1-1.

After an interval of ten minutes play was resumed and by this time the spectators crowded the side-lines. The teams went at it hammer and tongs and "Scotty" Knott after a skirmish in front of the Deloro citadel sent the ball straight and true between the posts. This goalie had no chance on the shot whatever. Thus put Belleville one up and E. Brown who is one of Deloro's best players made another one of his great runs and scored the counter from the corner. C. Pollwell shot another goal for Belleville and the Deloro team facing a loss pressed hard and Gorman was given a busy time. J. Hatfield, S. Taylor; Half Backs Brooks finally beat him with a clean shot and the game ended in a tie.

Play Here Next Week

It is hoped to have Deloro visit here next week and it is the urge of the Club that ere rydor and soccer turn out as the games are real interesting. Deloro people turned out in large numbers in support of their team last night and the men who are attempting to revive this great summer pastime in Belleville have not been receiving the support which they deserve. Should sufficient people attend, those in charge of the affairs of the club will likely have Peterboro, Campbellford and Kingston teams here. Mr. Alfred Knight, Secretary of the Club has extended an invitation to aspirants to attend the practice sessions.

Mr. Bertrelle, of Belleville, umpired the game last night.

NATIONALS HANG DOUBLE DEFEAT ON SKIDDING PETERBORO CLUB

Tilt Lockers Given Severe Trouncing By Fighting Belleville Team

FINE CROWD

'Hoot' Gibson And 'Vinny' Utronki Pitch Locals To Victory

Belleville Nationals yesterday afternoon took both games of a double header with the Peterboro Pests, who before yesterday were the only Ciarss in the side of the local team and thus secured an even break on the season. In their other two games with Jack Craig's boys, the Nationals had so had whatever, but the double defeat they administered yesterday made up for any other trimmings they have taken from their tilts. The scores were 12-1 and 7-3.

Hardill was far from the mystery he had been in his first appearance here, the National sluggers touching him up for sixteen hits, garnering thirteen runs, while Hoot Gibson held the opposition to five hits and one run. Gibson seems to get better every game he pitches, and yesterday was no exception. He had six strike-outs, but only seemed to bear down hard in the pinches, and was never touched up for more than one hit in one inning until the ninth, when with a twelve run lead he eased up a little.

Turner and Ross, the first men up for Peterboro, were sent back in the ninth via the strike-out route, and from then till the ninth only three Peterboro men hit safely. In the ninth, Ashe got a single, Harrison struck out, Swanston filled out to Green and Wilgar hit a triple to right, scoring Ashe. Hardill ended the game by hitting to Abe Weir.

Belleville's runs were scored in the third, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth. In the third, Green and W. Mills singled, Blakely got on on a fielders choice, Green out at third, Ross singled, scoring W. Mills; and Blakely scored when Harrison made an error on Gibson's bid for a hit. Blakely hit safely in the fourth, stole second and scored a few minutes later on Bob Scott's hit.

Five Runs in Sixth.

The sixth was Belleville's big innings, no fewer than five runs being scored. Ivy Peery Mills slashed out a lovely triple, Blakely got on on Mels's error, Mills scoring. Ross, Abe Weir, and Gibson singled in succession for two more runs, Gibson scored on Vern Weir's single and he scored when Mills made his second error on Harry Mills. The Nationals' heavy work was not yet finished for two more runs. W. Mills getting his third hit of the day, Blakely being safe on Mels's third error, and Gibson scoring in two runs with a timely single. Two more runs were scored in the eighth on Harry Mills double, Green's single and a double by Blakely.

Peterboro had four errors, three of them by the short stop, Mels, the other offender, being Hap Harrison. Belleville made two singles, but none of them came at critical moments. Blakely and Vern Weir were responsible for these two. Abe Weir's catch of Hardill's high fly for the last out of the game bordered on the sensational, as he had to run some distance, and then only caught it almost at his shoestrings.

Belleville 7, Peterboro 2.

The second game was a seven innings affair, Utronki and McDonald were on the mound for Belleville and Peterboro respectively, and both pitched nice ball, although Utronki had a little more of the edge than McDonald. Utronki had five strike-outs to McDonald's one, and seemed to keep out of trouble better than the Peterboro youngster. At that, McDonald pitched ball, and allowed only nine hits, as compared with the six his team mates gathered from Utronki.

Belleville opened the scoring in the second, Blakely getting a single, stealing second and third and scoring when Hall erred on Hagerman's bid for a hit. Peterboro started out the third by getting three hits and two runs off Utronki, when Crosbie and Turner singled with only one out. Ashe was walked, filling the bases and Hap Harrison smacked a single into left field, scoring two runs.

Belleville came back in their half with two more, when V. Weir singled, Scott sacrificed him to second, H. Mills walked and W. Mills singled, scoring Weir and H. Mills. Singles by McDonald and Bert Hall, coupled with two errors, one by W. Mills and one by Weir, resulted in McDonald scoring. Belleville collected two more in their half. Ross getting a single, Hagerman walking and Utronki hitting out a nice double, scoring Ross and Hagerman. In the next inning, the fifth, Belleville collected another pair, Green walking, Blakely getting on on an error and Ross safe on a fielder's choice. Hagerman then tripled scoring Green and Ross, and Utronki went out to the short stop.

This ended the scoring for both teams, although Weir collected another single in the sixth, but no runs developed. Ross got a single in the seventh and then stole second, but this was as far as he got.

HIGH-LIGHTS OF THE DOUBLE WIN

Although Vern Weir had one error in each game, his fielding yesterday was a treat to watch. His catch of Rose's fly in the second game was one of the best he has pulled this season, and he has made some good ones Weir tried for everything, and is a great help when it comes to snaring flies that would ordinarily drop just over the infield.

Jeff Hardill had plenty of curves and shoots again yesterday, but the Belleballers had made up their minds that they were going to hit anyway, so he was given a rather rough ride. Hardill can pitch a much better game than he showed here yesterday, but it is some satisfaction to take a little of that sting away that he felt on the occasion of the last visit to Belleville of the Peterboro Club.

When Jeff made his last appearance here, few of the Nationals could fathom his curves and drops, and it was his pitching alone that made Belleville look bad right in their own backyard. Swanston seemed to have no difficulty in holding Hardill yesterday, however.

Mels, the short stop for Peterboro in the first game, is a product of the East Peterboro League, an Intermediate organization. Apparently many of the Peterboro fans have been clamouring for him to have a chance, but he certainly did not show senior class yesterday.

He made three errors, all of which directly affected the score and only one of which was at all excusable. At bat he had one hit, a strike-out and got one run over. However, he made an unassisted double play, when he took W. Mills slash on the run with one hand and stepped on second to double Green off that bag. This was the only double play by either team in the whole game.

"Shiner" Johnson, who has been playing ball with Peterboro for the last decade, made his appearance in the position of third base in the first game. He moved over to left in the second inning, and Bert Hall took the red light corner.

Peeney Mills, Slats Hagerman and Wilgar each came through with a triple, Hagerman's being in the second game. Mills was the longest hit, although Hagerr ian's was a close second. Wilgar ran from first to third while Sonny Green tried to find the ball in the long grass over in right field.

Mr. Arnold, youthful pitcher for the Ferry in the second game, is the son of the manager of the Quakers' Oats Company, and his grandfather is president. He intends to enter Yale University this fall and should make a welcome addition to the pitching staff of that college. In a year or so, with a little more experience, he should be one of the best south paws in this district.

Harry Blakely is apparently after Wicky Ross' record for stolen bases. Harry pilfered second and third on one expedition alone in the second game, and stole second once in the first. Three steals for one afternoon is rad so bad.

When Hap Harrison came up in the third with three on, more than one fan quaked in his shoes. Hap was at one time one of the most dangerous men in the league as far as hitting was concerned, and although he did get a few, many who have seen him pelt a triple or a homer under similar conditions breathed a sigh of relief. Hap had a single in each game.

When Wilger attempted to steal second in the fourth inning, he collided with Weir, who was taking the throw. Wilgar was out, but Weir was thrown heavily to the ground, and for a moment it looked like a repetition of the Cherry-Blakely accident which happened at the last Kingston game here. Weir was up, and playing as well as ever in a few minutes, however.

As Oshawa won both games of their double header with Oshawa in Oshawa yesterday, the league standing remained unchanged. Belleville is still at the top of the loop, and players and supporters feel that when it comes to the play-offs, if it is between Oshawa and Belleville the Nationals will have little to fear.

BEWARE OF THE EVER-READY AND GLIB TALKER

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH

When people talk too much and too easily, one ought to be on the alert. Often glib talking covers something. This is not a universal rule, of course, but it is frequent enough to put one on guard.

When people are nervous they tend to talk a lot. The outpouring of a word-stream shifts their attention from the agitation within themselves and gives them courage.

Talking also fixes the attention of the listener. It prevents him from discovering the nervousness of the other fellow.

People talk a lot when they are not sure of their ground and are trying "to put something over." Having nothing worthwhile to say they try to polish it up with embellishments.

Flowery language, fast and furious, becomes the substitute for value. All the time the customer doesn't get much chance to think about and examine he wares that are offered.

People talk a lot when they set out deliberately to deceive and are afraid they will be found out. People also talk a lot when they are caught at something of which they are ashamed. Talking then becomes a kind of "smoke screen."

There are many reasons for, and behind, glibness of tongue.

Most all of them are pretences of some sort. People often think that fluency indicates profundity.

That is not always, however. Quite the opposite is true.

Wiry, sharp, smart rejoinders that so often impress, more than likely stand for shallowness of thinking rather than depth.

People who are adept in handling words and scarcely avoid sacrificing sense for sound.

Get into the habit, therefore, of saying what you have in mind with the fewest and best chosen words at your command.

Simplify your language. That helps to simplify and clarify your thinking too!

When you have transmitted your thoughts to your listeners, stop talking.

Give the impossible talk a rest, darling.

More to come, that perhaps you are actually keeping the best back.

Create interest in what you have to say. Don't kill the interest with long-rests of fluffy verbosity. That is also a good way of avoiding suspicion that you may be hiding something.

Simple, straightforward language has a ring of truth about it. It has the proverbial nail on the head and makes the point you wish to score hold fast.

Conserve your words as you would your income. Words represent thoughts and ideas and these are valuable.

Don't squander them.

Then people soon will get the value everything you say.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laura

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

When a girl attends a meeting or party and is invited out by a young man, is it the duty of the girl to ask him to call at her home some time?

Should a young lady tell her escort she has enjoyed the evening or would this be wrong?

What is a proper acknowledgment of an introduction to a young man when a friend wishes a girl to meet some young man?

WONDERING SUE.

WONDERING SUE: Yes, Sue, you should invite the young man to your home before going out with him. This is for the purpose of letting your parents meet your friends and knowing anyone whom they like and can trust that their daughter is going out with.

2. If she's a thoughtful young lady she certainly will tell her escort that she has enjoyed the evening.

3.—"How do you do" is the best form of acknowledging an introduction. You may add any spontaneous greeting which will show your pleasure at the meeting, but never, never say "Pleased to meet you."

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

If a girl is engaged to a boy and has been wearing the engagement ring and decides she doesn't want him, can he make her marry him?

BLUE HEAVEN.

BLUE HEAVEN: No indeed, my dear, he cannot force you to do anything you don't wish to. When you return his ring he should understand that the engagement is broken which leaves you free to go about with your other friends.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS
By Mildred Barbour

CHAPTER 47.

BETWEEN TWO FIRES

When Celia came away from the phone, after talking with Owen, she found Miss Page sitting on the stairs, weeping unrestrainedly. She was afraid if the woman had fallen in love with Falconer. The irony of the situation brought a light little smile to her lips.

Here, was she, supposedly Falconer's wife, dry-eyed at the news of his tragic death, while a woman he had treated with supreme indifference was crying her eyes out!

She said sharply: "For Heaven's sake, compose yourself! My mother mustn't suspect that anything has happened."

Miss Page nodded dolefully. "I know. It would just about kill her, if she knew. She idolized him." Her tears lowered Celia was resentful. It seemed to ask how Falconer's wife could be so calm in the face of tragedy.

To Celia's relief, her mother chatted gaily about Falconer's trip to New York; wondering if he would wire from certain stops; when he would arrive; how soon he expected Celia to join him.

Somehow, Celia got through the hours; talked with the police; became a sniffling fool to her mother. And when she could, she went to bed! How had he made his getaway, her killing Falconer? For she was convinced that Manuel was the guilty person. But how to tell the police, without giving them a clue that would reveal Falconer's past?

Gwen told her, while they awaited word from Annsley as to the time of his arrival, that they have to spoil now, Celia. You can't keep silent, don't have to save Larry."

Celia moaned: "Oh, why did Larry have to go and get himself mixed up in this horrible business? If it hasn't been for Larry, the whole affair could have passed as an accident!"

Gwen scolded grimly, "Your Larry!" "What does Larry say about last night? Hasn't he an alibi?"

"Not a one. He says he walked for hours in the country. No one saw him. The police found blood on his clothes. They claim it is Falconer's blood..... Oh, the idiots!" Her hands clenched. "Why shouldn't it be? You and I saw them fighting on the station platform last night and Falconer is now bleeding.....Celia, you've got to speak out! I love you, but I can't spare you at the cost of Larry's life."

Celia gasped: "Oh, surely it's not as bad as that. They've nothing but circumstantial evidence against Larry."

That's enough. And Larry has plenty of enemies. He'll be eager to strengthen what little evidence the police have."

"Have you seen Larry?"

"Yes. I went to see him as soon as I heard. The poor boy is quite calm. He doesn't seem to care what happens to him. And he told me I'd best keep out of it..... As if I could! I'll see this thing through to the finish."

In the afternoon came a telegram from Annsley. He would arrive the following day. Celia felt thankful and comforted. With Annsley on the spot, it seemed to her that everything must come out right.

But she realized despairingly that Annsley could do nothing unless all was frank with him. And the very thought of confessing the circumstances whereby Falconer had come to pose as her husband made her sick. She couldn't bear to think of Annsley's dark, brilliant eyes searching her face gravely while she confessed how she had lied to him that day in the little park under the willows. And yet Gwen was right—she had to save Larry at any cost.

Her telephone was ominously silent all that day. That made her more and how once more people had turned against her. Of course, they held her responsible for Larry's supposed actions. Falconer's death was laid at her door.

At last, just before the dinner-hour, the 'phone-bell rang. Tom Harrington was calling. He was nervous and awkward, but he managed to blurt out:

"Celia, I'm terribly sorry. I want to offer my condolences."

"You are very kind, Tom." Somehow, she did not feel the old thrill at the sound of his voice. She was too weary, in the distrait. Later, when Tom had rung off, after the briefest conversation she wandered into the living-room and stood at the open window, staring out into the dusk. She recalled that other evening so long ago, when she had stood like that and listened and waited for a telephone call from Tom. She had been in despair then, because it had not come.

It wasn't until much later that she realized her new status. With the death of Falconer, she became, in the eyes of the world, a widow. And—there was Tom, still caring for her!

Somehow, she got through the day and the night that followed. Somehow, she kept her mother from suspecting anything.

The next afternoon Annsley came. To her astonishment, she found herself weeping on his shoulder.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

To every man there openin
A Way and Way and a Way
The High Soul Climbs the High Way,
The Low Soul gropes the Low,
And in between on the misty flats,
The rest drift to and fro.
But to every man there openin
A High Way and a Low,
And every man decideth
The Way his soul shall go.

CULTIVATE A GOOD FRONT TO SUCCEED

"Run down at the heel"—it speaks loudly. Your character is judged largely by it; your whole fortune may be depending upon it; we, young man, young woman, start in right, and never be "run down at the heel."

All of us owe it to ourselves, our families and our friends to dress well. This is not an advertisement for the clothing merchant, or any other merchant; it is a plea for better dress and for what it means. Better dress does not mean that we shall "lower out" in a loaded code. Still every time that fashion decrees a change; we can dress well by dressing neatly and not radically, and we can dress well without expensive clothing. We can be neat in appearance without a new suit we can be clean; our shoes can be polished and not run down at the heel, and our hat can reflect good taste.

"A good front" gets one by; it carries an introduction by itself; it inspires confidence; it brings business; it is an expression of commercial progress; it is vital to a young man or a young woman; it is vital to the middle aged; it is decidedly pleasing in people of old age. We—all of us—like to meet folks with "a good front." We ought to cultivate the habit of always having "a good front."

BETTER CHANCES AT HOME FOR CANADIANS

Henry W. Ralston, head of the Ralston Habitant organization throws out a warning to the young men of Canada to seek their fortunes in their own land, instead of rushing to the States. In an interview in Toronto recently he pointed out that the young fellow who leaves Canada for a bigger job in the States nowadays is penny wise and pound foolish and is sacrificing much more in future prospects than he gains in immediate advantage.

His reason for making such a statement is found in the vast opportunities which are opening up in this dominion of Canada, and the great need there is for bright and capable young men to take advantage of these opportunities and to develop others.

"It always strikes me as unfortunate," said Mr. Ralston, "that we have so many of our capable young Canadians coming over to the States—unfortunate for them. What happens is that they come to the states, fall in love with an American girl, marry and remain in the States for good. What they overlook is, that while a young man can save more in the States than in Canada just now, he has not got the same opportunities for growth and advancement. The United States is working virtually at capacity today and there is not the room for expansion there that there is in Canada."

Mr. Ralston added that the great need of Canada today is men; for it is men that make the nation. The United States had just its growth, coal and iron and copper and land a hundred years ago as she has today. She is more prosperous now, though, because she has effort men.

This is splendid advice, and it is to be hoped that the young men of Canada will heed it. Apparently the migration to the States from Ontario has not fulfilled the dreams of affluence and power in a great many cases, for almost simultaneously with Mr. Ralston's comment comes the announcement that during the month of May last 2,833 Canadians who have gone to the United States to live, had returned, declaring their intention of remaining permanently in Canada.

We have a wonderful country. The great trouble is to get Canadians themselves to realize it.

The scientist who predicts that a hundred years from now cotton will be women's only dress material is old-fashioned. Most of us, watching the style evolution, have an idea that a century from now dresses will have long since been abandoned.—Hamilton Spectator.

THE SMALL WORDS

She remembered mostly the small words
Spoken quietly. In the cool of night
Half whispered. The little words that merge
With the heart and become clear, become bright.

She recalled them when tears were slowest
Of rain in barren places. When the day
Was a year of fever and the hours
Had no end. And in time, and in the way

Of seeds—they were all at once in bloom!
Sprinkled richly with colors and piling
Their fragrance into the earth's great room.
And she walked proudly among them smiling.

United States Capture Singles In Straight Heats

Antibul, France, July 20.—The United States Davis Cup Tennis team minus Tilden, proved a great surprise today by grinding the first two singles matches of the interzone final contest with Italy in straight sets. After Placido Gaslini in the first match by scores of 6-1, 6-4, 6-0, John Hennessey downed the Italian ace, Barron Hierbert Demorgbrugo, 6-4, 7-5, 6-2.

A tennis drama of the highest court was packed into the Hennessey Morpurgo match as the young American, after a poor start fought his way from behind in both first and second sets to win. Hagn and Lott swept the Italian doubles contest at top speed.

The overwhelming victory of Hunter in the first match exceeded the hopes of his supporters, but it remained for Hennessey to provide the real upset of the day by downing Demorphurgo who was heavily favored to win. The United States needs to win only one of the three remaining matches to qualify to meet France, the challenger.

OSCAR SLATER NOW FREE MAN

Judge Sets Aside Conviction In Scottish Courts

Edinburgh, Scotland, July 20.—The conviction of Oscar Slater for the murder of Miss Mary Gilchrist, an aged woman, in 1908, has been unanimously set aside. The judge in the proceedings of Slater to establish his innocence set the conviction aside, on the ground that it was misdirected in law. Slater was released last November 30.

Slater was arrested in New York early in 1909 as he stepped from a liner. He waved extradition and was returned to Glasgow for trial. He was convicted and condemned to death but the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment two days before the date set for execution.

His release on parole last November followed a campaign waged in his behalf by friends among whom Sir Arthur Conan Doyle was most prominent. The case came into prominence last August during a world wide interest in Sacco-Vanzetti, several newspapers citing it as a case in British history which might be compared with the Massachusetts case.

It is understood that the Government will consider the question of compensation to Slater for his wrongful conviction.

FRANKFORD VILLAGE IS A BUSY CENTRE

Rev. L. M. England, 31 Nelson Street, Islington, was in Frankford recently in the interests of the Prohibition Union of Ontario, and was very much impressed by the prosperity of the village.

Frankford is located close to the Trenton Power on Hastings County and has a population of about 1,200 inhabitants. A pulp and paper mill is situated quite close to the village and the river has a fall of 150 feet in a distance of nine miles, with five cement dams already built, and is capable of great development.

The village contains five grocery stores, two hardware stores, four churches, a splendid public school, two garages, milk evaporating station. There are no houses to rent at the present time, and prospects are good for building. The country surrounding Frankford is rolling, and presents beautiful pastoral scenery, says Mr. England.

TO-DAY'S THOUGHT

Reflect that life's like every other blessing,
Unless it value from its use alone.
—JOHNSON.

CALL A DOCTOR, BUT WHAT KIND TO CALL

In this age of specialization, says a thoughtful surgeon, the old type family doctor is in danger of becoming extinct. The personal touch between patient and doctor, which used to obtain so much, is now being replaced by "the" by an impersonal efficiency in which the patient as a personality counts for almost nothing.

Those who are on the shady side of forty will realize the truth of this observation. In the old days when we were sick we just sent for "the doctor" and did more or less as he told us until we were well again. But now—in the big cities at least—we find that sending for the doctor is a very delicate matter. There are so many kinds of doctors. It is no use calling just sick any more. We have to know exactly where we are sick and what ails us. And with so many places in the human anatomy where we can feel mean and we might easily call in a doctor for the wrong place.

In cases of general discomfort the only thing one can do nowadays is to call until the disease shifts to some part of the body covered by a specialist of whom we happen to know. But best—that is fine discrimination is necessary if we are to get the right doctor the first time. In the old days there used to be a few accepted specialties—ear, nose and throat, for instance. Today the man who looks in the ear and the nose and the throat is almost a general practitioner. It is said that there are now several different kinds of nose men alone. A liver specialist will not think of listening to one's lungs, and a heart man does not dare a rap about one's lumbago. And none of them appear to care a bit how you feel generally so long as the particular organ about which to their eye is not back-firing.

The time is coming when we shall need a medical brokerage similar to those in the New York theatrical world which help the public to decide what shows they should see. We shall soon need medical brokers who will send us where we belong. Otherwise people might prefer to just die rather than be bothered trying to decide for themselves.

It is to be hoped such intense specialization will not spread to other fields—to automobiles for instance. May we be spared from dragging a disabled automobile all over the city to find "the right man." It would be distinctly annoying after one had hoisted it to a rear axle specialist to be told that it was a matter for the carpet; five blocks away who attends to the tiny wires in spark plugs.

NATIONAL RAILWAYS ON FIRMER GROUND

Nothing more important has appeared in the Canadian News recently than Sir Henry Thornton's expression of his hopes for the future of the Canadian National Railways. Speaking at Victoria he declared that the success of the road so far had brought him to the point where he intended to submit a plan for the reconstruction of the financial structure of the system to the government at next session of parliament.

He pointed out that the operating earnings of the road had grown from about three millions to more than forty millions annually. On the books of the railway were all sorts of securities, mortgages and guarantees, he said, and the next step to secure financial solvency was to have a revision of all this. Several years have been devoted to working out a plan which he thought would in perpetuity relieve the government from any further drag upon the treasury in respect of the railway.

This means financial freedom for the railway as well as financial relief for the government. With financial freedom there would necessarily go the freedom from political, or rather from partisan control, which by the business of its public activities of a business character. This does not mean that the railway would be entirely independent of the government but it should mean that all partisan control would be definitely and completely eliminated. It would be easy to constitute a board of directors from the most eminent business men of the country that would serve the railway in fully added active their own interests.

GETTING ACQUAINTED THROUGH MOTOR CARS

The passing of the horse is well known by the census taken on the London-Galt highway reported by the Galt Reporter. It was taken by the government on the previous day, from two in the afternoon till ten at night, and 2660 cars were counted and only 3 horse and buggy vehicle. Between eight and nine o'clock 230 cars passed Preston. Over 100 cars were from points in the United States or outside Ontario. These are only the figures for the afternoon, but the census covers from six o'clock Monday morning till Sunday night of last week.

It is an extraordinary showing, and it is so much a matter of fact that people do not seem to think there is anything unusual about it. The motor car has turned us all into nomads. Nations may have had a premonition of such a condition when he wrote: "The chariots shall rage in the streets, they shall jostle one against another in the broad ways; they shall seem like torches, they shall run like lightnings." And they certainly run to and fro on the earth, though whether knowledge is increased as a consequence is another question.

There must be some advantage, however, from the mingling of the populations of a continent. At least the people of Europe did about as the people of America do there would be less ill-feeling, because there won't be more pleasure in meeting strangers, and the idea that because a fear is borne in mind against any man he enemy won't soon die out. We should wish that Mr Ford, or rivals, may be able to supply every family in Europe with the means of getting about, or perhaps Russia may invade Europe, and Italy may penetrate France, and Turkey spread over Scandinavia in friendly picnic fashion, just as Arizona came to Ontario and California to Quebec and Oregon to Manitoba and no one's the worse, but a great deal the better for finding that we are all alike.

There is another thing to note. The motor car having abolished the horse has also wrought the disappearance of the fly. The poisonous, pestiferous plague-bearing fly is decidedly scarcer in our cities at least, since the horse has been confined to the farm. So the motor car makes for health in more ways than one. And we have good roads in the bargain.

Quebec, Que. — Announcement from Ottawa, from Dr. W. E. Collins, Director of the Geological Survey of Canada, promises several survey parties in Quebec Province this year, mapping and investigating into the geology and mineral resources of the province.

Six hundred delegates to the World's Baptists Congress meeting in Toronto, June 21-29, virtually chartered Canadian Pacific liner Montrose, and were taken from Township's side to Toronto by special C. P. R. train. Following the congress, the delegates make a trip across Canada in the Pacific Coast and return.

Edmonton, Alberta.—Looking to the improvement of wool produced by the sheep ranchers of the Prairies, a party of experts has started out under the direction of the Research Council of Canada to make a survey of the representative sheep ranches of the three provinces. British Columbia is included in the tour.

Winnipeg, Manitoba.—The formation of a dairy calf union is suggested as a possible means of meeting the competition of Denmark in dairy produce in the British market by Mr. Thomas Allen, leader of the co-operative movement in Great Britain and head of the co-operative movement in Great Britain and head of the Empire Marketing Board at the wheat pool conference in Regina.

Indian Head, Saskatchewan.—One hundred million trees have been distributed throughout the Western provinces from the Forestry Farm here and its subsidiary at Hythesland, and the work is still progressing at an unabated rate. Practically all go free to farmers and an average of a car a day is shipped. The work was started in 1901.

The Alpine Club of Canada will hold its 23rd annual camp July 17-Aug. 4 at the head of the Bow Glacier in the Purcell Range of the Rockies. Banff will be the rallyhead for the camp which is five hours motor journey farther on. Eleven peaks all above 10,000 feet in height, will be at the climbing disposal of the campers. There are also many others between nine and ten thousand feet high.

Eliot makes its annual bow to West with the University of Montreal trip across Canada by Pacific and back, starting from Montreal July 7. Many prominent French-Canadians make this annual trip which is sponsored by the University and run on Canadian Pacific trains, motor facilities and Great Lakes steamships. All the major cities of the West and the beauty spots of the Rockies are covered in this popular tour.

Younger railwaymen in the employ of the great Canadian transportation companies held their first annual conference at Montreal recently under T. M. C. A. auspices. The young men came from all points in Canada between Port Halifax and Vancouver and quickly got acquainted, enjoying entertainment and stories in friendliest fashion after the first informal introduction. It is hoped to repeat the conference yearly.

There is a tabloid that offers $1.00 for each embarrassing moment letter accepted by the editor. He received the following epistle the other day:

"Dear Ed.:

I entered my house last night and there I found another man with my wife. I was embarrassed, indeed. Please send $1.00, my self was also embarrassed."

The editor read the letter and sent $3.00 with this note:

"We don't wish to cheat you, and we feel the stranger was somewhat embarrassed himself."

THE BULLETIN BOARD

Mainly About People You Know

SCHOOL BOARD TONIGHT

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education will be held in the council chambers this evening. At least two of the members, prominently connected with the furnishing of the new Collegiate Institute, will not be present tonight. They are Colonel W. H. Ponton, who is recuperating from an accident some time ago, and Mr. C. A. C. Weir, who has been out of the City for the past three weeks.

GOT SUSPENDED SENTENCE

A young girl, employed as a stenographer in the city, appeared before Magistrate Mikel in police court this morning charged with the theft of wearing apparel and other articles from two local homes, aggregating some $60 in value.

The girl was allowed to go on six months suspended sentence, and she will return to her parents' home in a neighbouring town. She was worrying about some bills she had to pay and was given a ridiculously low wage by her employers, it was stated.

A SUGGESTION

Mr. S. J. Buchanan, of Kincardine, was one of the tourists to stay overnight in the Belleville Tourist Camp a few days ago, and declared that he had seen few if any better camps than our own in his travels over the country. Mr. Buchanan has been travelling in this manner for the past three years, so should be a good judge of camps. The only improvement which he thought could be made would be to put up a swing for the kiddies or a slide. This is a good suggestion, for children must have some place to play whether they are at home or travelling.

POPULAR LANDING SPOT

Belleville is getting to be renowned as a port of call for aircraft flying between Toronto and Montreal, due chiefly to the fact that it is becoming known that aviators can procure high test gas with little difficulty, coupled with the fact that there is a landing field in the west of the city. Belleville harbour is an ideal landing place for flying boats the one Wednesday night which drew a crowd during the lunch hour three weeks. Scarcely a day passes without a visitor coming down at the Leavens Bros. field, showing that Belleville is getting on the map to an aerial sense.

NO DISEASE

A clean bill of health may be given to the City of Belleville these days. "We do not know of one single case of contagious disease in the city at present" said Dr. O. R. Orser, M. H. O., to the Intelligencer today.

"There may be the occasional case of whooping cough but no virulent dis-

STILL CHECKING UP

The police are still checking up on those drivers who believe their chauffeurs fare parted on the city streets all night. 48 in the regular gang and one or two more paid the assessment today for the infraction of this city law.

TO PLAY AT PODEY ANNE

Tonight at 6.30 p.m. the Alemite Softball team with a few additions will journey to Point Anne to take on the perpetual champions from that village and on the outcome of this game will depend whether any more softball will be played in this district this year. Point Anne have never met a team in Belleville which was anywhere near their class with "Sonny" Green pitching, but Jack Allen, with the City of Belleville to pick from, thinks that he has an aggregation which can take their measure. Soiban last Tuesday hung up 18 strike-outs playing against the Kingston Industrial Champions, and won the game 5 to 1, so tonight's game should be a real battle.

KI-Y AWARDS

The sweater crests for the winners of the Ki-Y league, in the Juvenile, Midget and Bantam series are being made at the Deacon Shirt Company, and will be finished in a few days. Pennants are also being made for the two junior sections, the Bantams and the Midgets, while the Juvenile winners, the Ravens will receive a cup suitably engraved. Twelve members of each team will receive the crests.

SWIMMING AT THE "Y"

Yesterday afternoon the Y.M.C.A. pool was one of the busiest spots in Belleville as being Ladies Day and at no time there were thirty-five ladies in the pool's area. Though the hot weather both men and women on their own days make use of the swimming pool to a great extent, yesterday being a good example.

TOURIST REGISTRATIONS

Three parties registered yesterday at the Belleville Chamber of Commerce when passing through. They were Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Blaney, Jamestown, N.Y.; James I. Marsh, Pittsburgh, Penn., and W. J. Shayne, Rochester, N.Y.

IN SEVENTH HEAVEN

It's cooler today. Yesterday the thermometer registered as high as 95 degrees, and descended to 45. Today the highest was 84 degrees and the mercury sank to the low level of 50. Considered with the heat wave in Europe, we are in the Seventh Heaven.

RELIEVING HERE

Provincial Constable Price Morris of Picton is in the city relieving at the local Provincial Police headquarters while the other officers are on their vacation. Officer Morris was formerly attached to the City Police Force and was an exceptionally popular officer. He is stationed at Picton.

REMANDED FOR SENTENCE

Louis Kortis, of Tweed, this morning appeared in County Judges' criminal court charged with theft. The man was remanded for sentence for one week. He was sent to Belleville from Tweed and Crown Attorney Donahue prosecuted the case.

TREDDIN FROM STREETS

There has been a singular freedom from "speeders" in police court this summer. Only very few cases have appeared before Magistrate Mikel. This is to the greater part due to the double traffic officer relay between Trenton and Napanee, and the effective way in which the traffic has been handled this year.

JS GREATLY IMPROVED

It was stated today that Traffic Officer Frisk was on the rapid road to recovery, although he will not be fit for duty on the highways again for some time. In fact Mr. Frisk's condition is so good that he will be able to return to his home on Sunday, and was up out of bed today.

SANDFORD—CONNORS

The home was tastefully decorated for the occasion with summer flowers and ferns. Mrs. John Calberry, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Roy Sandford performed the duties of best man. A feature of the ceremony was the baptism of the bride as well as Miss Margaret Sandford daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sandford, by the Rev. J. S. McMullen.

DEATHS & FUNERALS

THOMAS CHARLES H. FUNNELL

The funeral of Thomas Charles Hughes Funnell the little son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Funnell, took place this morning from the family residence, 34 Potts Street, to St. James' Cemetery where interment was made. Reverend Father Klotin conducted the services at the graveside. The large number of friends in attendance and the wealth of floral tributes of sympathy attested to the general sorrow at the passing of the young life. The bearers were John O'Callaghan, Jack Bazzett, Wm. Lynch and Wm. Meagher.

"YOUR PAPER"

Frequently you pick up a paper and after glancing at the headlines, wearily thrust it aside remarking, "Nothing in the paper today." Did you ever stop to think what the phrase, "Nothing in the paper today," means? It means that in the day or week just passed, that no misfortune has befallen anyone in our town; that no fire has wiped out your neighbor's wordly goods; that the grim angel of death or killed an innocent family; that has crossed no threshold of a friend; and that no man, driven by liquor, hatred, fear, or desire of unearned gain, has taken the life of a fellow man; that no poor devil, haunted by the past, or the misdeeds of some other, has crossed the great divide by taking his own life; that no careless or drunken auto driver has run into another car and injured

ADVENTUROUS TIMES CAUSE OF DIVORCES

What's wrong with marriage? What's the matter with men and women that they so often make a mess of marriage?

It used to be thought that the essential requirement for successful marriage was falling in love. If the contracting parties loved each other, some how, everything would turn out all right.

A pretty theory, no doubt. An attractive and appealing one as well. It made things simple and easy. It sort of put responsibility off the lap of the gods and relieved the enamored mass of most of the trouble.

That's used, however, as a pitch somewhere. That time-honored slogan hasn't made good. Divorces are steadily on the increase. The Court of Domestic Relations is busier than the Stock Exchange. Married women flock to the offices of nerve specialists. Married men neglect and desert their wives.

Unfortunately, the average modern young woman, of today, seems to have both the notion that she can, and will, make emotional excitement last forever.

That explains why so many couples get divorces and so soon. The vanity of the girl makes her think her marriage will be an exception. She deludes herself with the idea that she can ill easily make her husband court her and woo her to the end. She has no intention of having last dances, flowers, boxes, theatres, furs, jewelry, worshipful adoration and sex homage spun for even a day after the honeymoon is over. "You will always be glad to me, won't you, John?" is the way she puts it. "You bet I will," answers earnestly. Aren't you the only girl I ever really loved?" And he believes it too—at the time. He is shock-full of love as she is. There lies the gist of the trouble.

This quest for highly-colored adventure on the part of women is mounting! Many barriers of plain, commonsense respectability are being scaled and broken down. Crown, mature men, too, are falling for it. They are beginning to talk about kicks and thrills like adolescents. They are putting up with two-room apartments and restaurant meals. They run out every night and let their wives do as they please. That they themselves have become infected with the romance bug has a lot to do with it. "Who cares? Hurrah! Hamazan! But such explanations are after-thoughts.

Nobody knows what actually happens in the mental, emotional and physical make-up of an individual at the moment he or she falls in love.

But we know a lot about what happens afterwards!

Both sexes are to blame for marriage failures.

If only a little more reason and for sight were mixed up with this adventure spirit!

That would help a lot toward preventing these ever-increasing marriage snarls!

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS

By Mildred Barbour

CHAPTER 68.

HALF THE TRUTH

Amnesley held her in his arms for a moment. Then he said:

"Celia, you cared so much?"

She sobbed, not daring to answer that question: "It's all so tragic and so unnecessary."

Drawing away from him, she wiped her eyes. "Forgive me, Jim. I didn't mean to treat you to such a burst of emotion. I guess it's just because I'm nervous and upset."

He looked at the black gown she was wearing. Common decency had demanded that of her. She turned her head away, feeling her cheeks glow with shame. It was so difficult to keep up her deception with the one man in the world who had been her friend.

She asked him: "What can be done for Larry Crosy?"

He shook his head. "The case is pretty black against him. Of course I believe the boy is innocent. I talked with him before I came here, and I also saw Miss Burns. Cross seems a reckless and headstrong type, but I've had too much experience with real criminals to believe him capable of such an act. However, I've got my work cut out for me. If I'm going to defend him. That I must admit."

She heard him with a sense of despair. She knew then that she would have to tell him a part of the truth. Tell him about Manuel and the revolutionists, at least.

He finished gravely, making no comment until she had finished. His face was inscrutable. She couldn't guess what impression her story made upon him.

"Don't you see how simple it all is?" she asked him piteously. "Of course, Manuel did it."

"You'll have to prove it, my dear, if that is to be our defense..... The fact is, the police are already running down a clue concerning a man who stayed for a short time at the hotel near the station. But he seems to have vanished, and no one can account for his departure. There are witnesses to swear that he didn't leave the eight o'clock train last night, while all the rumpus was going on. And I understand that the express that went through later and is supposed to have run over Falconer's body makes no stops here."

She suggested hopelessly: "There is a freight that stops after the eight o'clock train passes."

He shook his head. "That theory won't hold water, because the freight passes before the express—there is a double track, remember—and, if Manuel took the freight, he couldn't have been in a position to find Falconer, kill him, and get his body in the way of the other train. The whole affair took place five miles out of town. Don't forget that fact."

Celia asked: "Jim, if I have to go on the stand and tell about Manuel and the others, how much more are they likely to ask me?"

He looked at her intensely. "Every thing! Why? Is there more to tell?"

She turned away and gave him an evasive answer. "It's always horrible to have your personal affairs revealed in court, isn't it? And I can fairly see the curious people fighting to get seats and staring at me and saying unkind things."

"My poor Celia, I would spare you, if I could. But Larry's life is at stake."

"Then I must tell everything?" she said, with a sigh.

He seized her suddenly by the shoulders.

"What are you trying to hide? Whom are you trying to shield?..... Celia, why aren't you frank with me? I am your friend, I would do anything in the world to help you."

"I'm trying to shield myself," she admitted, with a sad little smile. "And my mother, also. There are some things she must never know."

His hands dropped to his sides.

"May I meet your mother?" he asked, after a minute. "Or is she ill?"

Alarmed, Celia exclaimed: "She mustn't know why you are here, or anything about Falconer's death."

He answered gently: "You can trust me, Celia. I shall be only a New York friend who has dropped in to see you."

She took him to her mother's room. The invalid was looking brighter than usual. She chatted with Amnesley for half an hour. When he had gone, she said to Celia:

"What a perfectly charming young man..... My dear, I'm afraid I'm a fickle old woman. I almost liked him better than dear Richard..... By the way, have you heard from him?"

Amnesley telephoned Celia the next day. (The grand jury made short work of Larry Crosy's case, and he had been indicted for the murder of Falconer. Celia, you'll have to go on the stand for the defense!".

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

To Get Rid of Mice—Mice do not like the smell of oil of peppermint, and a little placed about their haunts on cotton wads soon forces them to look for other quarters. Cayenne pepper is also excellent.

One of the most practical combinations for a four-poster is to have cream-colored sateen, valance and side curtains if any, of crestone, toile de jouy or glazed chintz, and a spread of some white easily washable material—organdie, dotted Swiss net, lace. In beds of this type the curtains running around the bottom are gathered on brass rods set into the posts of the bed and the coverlet falls partly over the valance. Wherever dotted Swiss or organdie is used for a cover it should be lined with white muslin to give it body and prevent mussing.

"A GREAT TONIC," SAYS MRS. RUSSELL

After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fenwick, Ont.—"I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during the Change of Life for nervous feelings, loss of appetite and to gain strength. It is a great tonic and I have taken a dozen bottles of it. It was recommended to me by a friend and now I recommend it to all women for such troubles as come at this time."

Though less shining, it will look just as well if it is clean and given only a dull polish. After the principal cooking of the day is over, the plate should be cleaned with an ordinary household cleanser, applied with a damp cloth. Then a subsequent rubbing with a dry cloth will give the surface a dull polish. If a pan boils over or any food is spilled wipe it up immediately with a newspaper and then rub over with a cloth dampened with paraffin.

It is said that Mr. Rudyard Kipling's poem "If" in which he outlines his ideal of a strong, wise and noble man, was written as a tribute to the character of George Washington, who seemed to him to have realized that ideal most perfectly.

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl eighteen years of age, considered very good looking, a graduate of high school and very much interested in young men, twenty-one, who my parents think is ideal and will approve of my going with him.

When we meet each other he always speaks to me and treats me well, but seems to be very timid when out in company, and in fact I am the same, as I have never had any company before in this way. Will you please kindly tell me how I may gain his friendship?

Is it proper for my parents to invite him to dine with us?

WAITING BROWN EYES.

WAITING BROWN EYES:—Indeed it is quite proper and very thoughtful of your parents to wish to invite the young man to your home. Probably after you have both had the opportunity of meeting each other more often, you will both overcome the shyness that now seems to be an obstruction to your friendship, and become friends. Just forget yourself, my dear, and act in as friendly and natural a way as you possibly can. Talk of the things that interest him, and before very long you will both forget all about your timidity.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE.

I went with a fellow for about two months. During that time, he gave me his ring to wear. For no reason at all, he stopped speaking to me. I see this fellow every day, in fact he works with me. I have worn his ring every day, even though he did not speak to me.

Now I met another fellow one I care for and he seems to care for me. Please tell me what I should do with the ring? Shall I send it to him? Do you think I should ask him why he is acting so queer.

UNDECIDED.

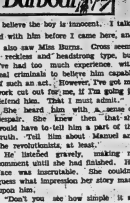

UNDECIDED: It by no means rests with you, and I don't think I should make any comment on the matter at all.

RAVENS CAPTURE JUVENILE LEAGUE

Boys From College Hill Down Foster Ward Outfit

OVERTIME SCHEDULE

Tommy Byrnes Leads Team To 7-4 Victory In Finals

The Ravens, lead by Tommy Byrnes won the championship of the Juvenile section of the Ki-Y Softball League at the Agricultural Park last night when they took the measure of the set-travelling Maple Leafs in one of the hardest fought contests of the year. Seldom do two more evenly matched teams meet and there was no love lost between either of them last night. All season the rivalry has been utter between the two clubs and it threatened at times to break out last night. The Ravens made a thrilling finish scoring three runs in the eighth inning. The game was scheduled to go seven innings but the Maple Leafs led the affair up in their half which necessitated an overtime struggle. The Maple Leafs were the first to score setting two runs in the first inning but the Ravens went into the lead in their third inning when they counted three runs. They added one more in the sixth and with a two-run lead they looked all over like winners but Symonds and Schroeder both reached on the Leafs and the two were rocked again. However the Ravens were saved by Tommy Byrnes' strong three in the eighth and the Leafs could get nothing and the game ended 7-4.

These youngsters play real smart and fine errors were committed last night. The outfielders were under very drive, Ab Young being the best in chase for the winning outfit while Jimmy Hickey made some brilliant catches for the Leafs. The batting aggregation is managed by "Scotty" Coott who keeps them on their toes. "Monty" Ridgen led the batting for he Ravens and while he was in bat rarely missed times but teammates came to life at once. Barriage on the other hand was given good support but his leadership made two bad errors at critical moments of the game. The Ravens are winning had to defeat some of the best teams in the city and they are worthy champions.

Ravens—Ridley p, Miller 2b, Young r f, Byrnes lb, Moore 3b, Herman c, Culnane r f, Caddick s s, Bellis r f.

DESERONTO BOYS GOING STRONG

Lads Developed By Harry Moore With Oshawa Juniors

Deseronto, July 20.—It is a pleasure to be able to report that one so many of our old juvenile lacrosse team—the team that was probably the best collection of "kids" ever to represent Eastern Ontario—now wearing the colors of the Oshawa juniors and are making revenge against the big city teams. The boys are Harold Lyons, Eugene Bevin, Robert Rice, Charlie Cole and Buster Whitton. We would not be at all surprised to see them win the O. A. L. A. championship this year. They have already played a tie with the Toronto team which won the championship last year.

SportOgrams

By "The Observer"

"Hoot" Gibson established himself firmly as the leading pitcher in the Central League when he turned his old rival, "Dot" Hardill to swallow a bitter pill on Wednesday. Gibson should lead the Central League hurlers as the triumphs and doubleos he is one of the best in the McFadden loop. Hardill started the season well but apparently the ordeal of pitching practically every game has proved his undoing. Had Heckman been in any kind of shape the big boy would no doubt have been given the gate in the first game when the Nationals commenced the slaughter. The Petes and Deloro may be practically counted out while the Nationals with their accumulated lead should have little trouble in nosing under the wire first.

Kingston is still very much in the running and the Ponies may slip a surprise and amble home ahead of the Oshawa Club. The Kingston people think their ball team is just as good as Oshawa's any day in the week. Sunday included, and there may be a battle waged for second place yet.

What a wash-out that Oshawa team have proved to be! According to the press gabble from the port of the Oshawa scribes last March the Schulte-Burgoyne combination of "kids" ever to represent Eastern Ontario—now wearing the colors of the Oshawa juniors and making revenge against the big city teams. The boys are Harold Lyons, Eugene Bevin, Robert Rice, Charlie Cole and Buster Whitton. We would not be at all surprised to see them win the O. A. L. A. championship this year. They have already played a tie with the Toronto team which won the championship last year.

honest-to-goodness they are a minus quantity. Teams in this league learned the lesson from Importing players years ago out of the umpteen diamond wonders are made Canadian. The future home one or them has made good. The old reliables are still the best!

Do you know that young McDonald who pitched the second game on Wednesday is going to Yale in the Autumn? His father is President of the Quaker Oats Company of Canada who have a branch factory at Peterboro.

Blakely and Weir are playing sparkling ball around the keystone sack for the Nationals. Both boys are well up in the hitting as well as having an excellent fielding average. Bob Scott has improved one hundred percent over at third base, Harry Mills is the finest first-baseman in Easter Ontario while Walter Gerow has five outfielders of Central League calibre. With two wining pitchers in Gibson and Urquhart the Nationals have the trouble in bagging the gonfalon.

The winners of the Central League will hook up with the Toronto champions and if our fond wish that the games should be played right here in our own sand lot.

The crowd on Wednesday was one of the finest of the year and they were more than delighted when the Nats copped both games. Attendance has been fine to date and pose of Deloro, especially in the second encounter which required an extra inning. Lack of good pitching has been one of the reasons for Deloro's downfall but at that, the Gunners have been favored with few breaks that go with a ball game.

"Hap" Harrison's silence in making a wild throw cost the Petes two runs early in the game and was enough to break any pitcher's heart. Harrison has seen better days as a ball player. Just another case of the passing years having taken their toll. Ashe has developed into a smart first-baseman and outside of our own Harry Mills is one of the best in the league.

Peterboro and Oshawa will play at Lakeview Park on Saturday in conjunction with the Conservative picnic. Anything is liable to happen in this league and since "Josh" Gerow and his henchmen are all followers of G. Howard Ferguson,

SUPREMES HERE FOR BIG GAME

Tonight the Beavers meet Supremes of Kingston in the season's City Championship, in a game which should be of real interest.

The local club were planning on having another Toronto team here for Saturday but were unable to complete arrangements. However Saturday fans will not miss a game as Joint Ann Lasalle, who have given the girls in blue two mighty fine arguments are coming here to play again. The fans like to see them in action and they hope to take the measure of the home team.

BAMBINO SWATS 37TH AND 38TH

Well Ahead of Last Year's Record—Babe's Sister At Game

New York, July 20.—Babe Ruth's sister came to town yesterday. She sat, a charming little lady, in a field box, near the visitors' dugout, and for the first time in her life watched the lad known as George Herman Ruth amaze before the public at the Yankee Stadium.

It was an auspicious occasion, this first visit of Ruth's closest kin to the house that Ruth built. It was all occasion which demanded some special kind of ceremony. C. C. Herman scratched his head and demanded to know what he ought to do about it.

"Great."

"Give her a boner," suggested another.

"Fine."

"Give her two boners."

"Now you're talking, kid," said George, and this is the inside dope on why our Mr. Ruth hit number 37 in the first inning and number 38 in the seventh inning and why he gave his sister a wrist watch and why the Yanks beat the White Sox again, 6-4, and why the citizens stood up and pounded their palms and gave G. Herman the kind of ovation that a sister would like.

And that's why he has now hit five homers in five days—one of his best batting feats—and why he is twenty-six games or eight homers ahead of last year's record, with a new home run mark almost a certainty now.

Boston took the first game of the series from Cleveland yesterday in eleven innings by a score of 5-4. In a double by-Rollings, K. Williams' sacrifice fly and Taitt's single to left gave the Red Sox the victory in the tally. It was a pitching duel between Ed. Morris and Shanks, the former making a fine thirteenth victory of the season.

The Athletics repelled the drive of the St. Louis Browns in the second game by taking both ends of a doubleheader from their rivals, 3—2 and 4—3, in eleven innings at Philadelphia.

Al Simmons' home run in the first inning with one on gave Walberg the decision over Gray in a pitching duel in the first game. Walberg allowed two hits and Gray four.

The second game was a double between Tony Blaeholder and Eddie Rommel. George Haas, rookie outfielder, hit a homer with one on in this game, which the Athletics tied at 3—3 in the ninth. The Athletics won out in the eleventh when Simmons' single with the bases filled scored Fyench.

Washington and Detroit divided a doubleheader at Washington, the Tigers winning the first, 9—3, and the Senators the second, 7—3.

Detroit pecked away steadily at Zachary in the first game and in the second a fierce attack on Stoner by Washington netted five runs. Carroll held the Senators safe in the first game, and Gaston did the same thing against Detroit in the second.

An ounce or so of salt given per day to cows that are falling off from their best under well-defined feeding will drive very beneficial to them.

they may celebrate the event with a win. It would help the locals a little, but oh, well what's the use, they can't catch us now!

KINGSTON YACHT CLUB DEFEATED LOCAL SAILORS

Five Boats From Bay of Quinte Club In Competition

Kingston, July 20.—By the slim margin of two points 28-26 the Kingston Yacht Club took the honors in the meeting with the Bay of Quinte Yacht Club of Belleville on Wednesday afternoon over the local course. Five boats from each club figured in the contest, being as follows:

K.Y.C.—H. Horn, Jr., Major L. F. Grant, Principal R. B. Taylor, G. Davy, P. Dawood.

Belleville—Dr. Procter, A. Gillen, E. Wilmot, J. Mowat and R. Graham.

The race was sailed in almost a calm there being little or no breeze to help the sailors along. The third, fourth and fifth boats to finish staged a little bee of their own just before the finish drifting over the finish line with only a few seconds difference. It looked as though any one of the three would win take first position, and they showed signs of a change but crossed over in the same manner as when their own little rally started.

Owing to the fact that there was insufficient breeze in which to sail the second race was called off. The results were as follows, with the start at 2.56.

Major L. F. Grant, K.Y.C.	4.40.25
H. Horn, Jr., K.Y.C.	4.41.00
E. Wilmot, B.Q.Y.C.	4.44.07
G. Davy, K.Y.C.	4.46.30
P. Dawood, K.Y.C.	4.46.40
J. Mowat, B.Q.Y.C.	4.46.45
R. Graham, B.Q.Y.C.	4.51.25

Dr. Procter, B.Q.Y.C. 4.57.05
R. B. Taylor, K.Y.C. 5.02.55
A. Gillen, B.Q.Y.C. 5.18.56

Officials of the race were as follows:

Starter—Professor D. M. Jemmett.
Timer—George Smith.
Judges—Rear Commodore Mallowey Waddell, H. J. Ryan and Dr. Brock Hopkins.

PITTSBURGH LOST TO BOSTON BRAVES

New York, July 20.—Boston batters ed out a 9-4 victory yesterday at Cincinnati over that part of the Redd pitching staff saved out of the past five-day melee with the Giants and Robins.

The Braves collected four runs off Jablonowski and two off Jake May in the first two innings, a pair of Mowards, and one off Beckman in the ninth, with thirteen hits and the use of one error.

The Robins halted the winning streak of the Pirates in Pittsburgh at nine straight by defeating Pittsburgh 3-0 in the first game of the series. It was a fine duel between Doug McWeeny and the left hander, Fred Russell.

McWeeny was strong at all stages, but the Pittsburgh southpaw weakened in the ninth when Brooklyn added two runs to its previous lone marker. With such a lead in hand, McWeeny went through the last half of the ninth with comparative ease. Brealer's triple and Bissonette's double accounted for Brooklyn's first run, while loose Pirate fielding figured in the other two.

BELLE THEATRE

Comedy, drama, romance and comedy, thrills and laughter, all combine to make "Partners in Crime," now playing at the Belle Theatre, an entertainment masterpiece.

In this Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton team comedy, Paramount has moulded every element that makes a picture entertaining. Using the book "Smiths" Reagan and his gang, with the cute detective and the fresh reporter, still find it warm reception wherever they go for they portray the stuff that makes the heart beat faster and the laugh muscles ache from exercise.

Something New

"Partners in Crime" is something absolutely new in team comedies. In the first place they are not blended rock. Without the laughs it stands on its merits as a great bit of dramatic entertainment.

But there are Beery and Hatton and how they do take advantage of the laugh situations in the picture! Add comedy, provided by two of the greatest comedians on the screen, to a crook story teeming with excitement, then put in a charming love theme for good measure and you have "Partners in Crime."

PORT HOPE GIRL IN SWIM DERBY

Daisy King Shaw Latest Candidate In Chewing-Gum-Marathon

Port Hope July 20.—Daisy King Shaw, who last year represented Port Hope in the Canadian National Exhibition marathon swim, finally entered the 1928 contest Tuesday, when her entry form was placed in the hands of the exhibition officials.

Mrs. Shaw, although at present a resident of Shawinigan Falls, is a daughter-in-law of Mrs. S. Shaw, Ward street, Port Hope. During the summer of 1927, she resided here and underwent a course of training at the local beach, under the direction of a well known swimming coach. On several occasions she swam from the pier at the East Harbour to Gull Light-house and return, but was unable to carry out her intention to swim to Cobourg and return, on the long voyage which prevailed at the time.

CATS WHO FROM BISONS BY 3-1

Montreal Split Double With Reading—Leafs Won Game

Buffalo, N.Y., July 20.— Sunny Jim Bottomley batted in three scoring ten hits but keeping them scattered, and Jesse Haines held Reading to six hits, Horne twice forced Bobby Barrett, Buffalo's best hitter, to go out or to first base, and Barrett was left on the bases loaded and the other with my on second and third.

Gilhooley drove in the Black Cats' first two runs with a double, and was then sent in himself on Jarrett's double. Jarrett playing his second game for the City drove out three hits and played well in the field.

It's a cinch Eddie Holly regrets now all the nice things he said about Eddie Lautenschlager, the lad who twirled Reading to a 7-1 win over the Bisons in the second game of yesterday's doubleheader. The Montrealers, who taken the first game, 5-3, failed to all set to throw the Keystones for a double loop when along comeme Mr. Lautenschlager, holds out tickets to to three scattered blows and gives Reading an even break on the afternoon and a 2-1 edge on the series so far.

After being six straight games to the Bisons, Reading came back and yesterday and defeated the Orioles, 7-1, ten innings. Jarrett broke singling in right to drive Sexton in with the winning run with one out and the bases full.

A post-mortem examination had also been ordered.

THIS EDITOR WAS OF HERO'S STUFF

Of the late C. E. Montague, one of the editors of the Manchester Guardian, a son-in-law of Chas. P., editor of the Guardian's editor, Sir Philip Gibbs has written: "When the war broke out, Montague dyed his white hair black, enlisted as a Tommy, served in the trenches, reached the rank of sergeant and finally was blown up in a dugout. Gibbs broke singing of how he had taken the dye out of his hair again and it was snow white." The dugout was reared to escape responsibility on account of the age limit. Mr. Montague's moral passing away is greatly regretted.

Quebec, Quebec.—The most successful special event of the Canadian Seed Growers Association closed at the Chateau Frontenac on Saturday, June 16th, with a record demand for registered seed for all Canada, given as follows: Wheat, 77,913 bushels; oats, 54,215 bushels; barley, 16,077 bushels; and alfalfa, 10,748 bushels.

Montreal, Quebec. — For prices have advanced since the early spring, as reflected in the three per cent. securities now recently concluded here. Nearly $2,000 extra gets sold at 70 per cent above the level of the previous sale, with a top price of $3.80; milk was also up 20 per cent. with the highest sale at $16.50, while wolf pelts brought a tin per cent. advance over the price level of early spring.

Canadian dinners in the Old Country are not considered complete without Canadian ice cream for dessert. Thus, for the High Commissioner's annual dinner in London on July 20 two eight-gallon tubs of the delicacy were ordered up by Canadians and packed by Canadian Pacific Express in ample time for the dinner. The same thing was done last October for a special Canadian dinner held at Manchester by the Canadian Trade Commissioner there.

Ottawa, Ontario.—By the end of the season 15 flying clubs will have been established throughout Canada, according to advices from the Air Board. A total of $170,000 is being spent by the board this year in the promotion of these clubs for civilian flying. Clubs have already been established at Montreal, Ottawa, Hamilton, Halifax, Saskatoon, Regina, Moose Jaw, Edmonton, Victoria and Winnipeg. One at Halifax and another at London are about to be formed.

Transportation of small but valuable packages by air from Canadian Pacific Air Service, Montreal to Montreal and Toronto, thereby saving about 12 hours in time, is becoming increasingly popular. The Montreal, Toronto, London and Chatham, Guelph had its turn with a parcel of fish lines going to a department store there and the shipment being welcomed by Mayor Robson and other prominent citizens of the town. These parcels are handled by the Canadian Pacific Express Company.

A tablet in memory of men of the Seventh Royal Fusiliers who served with the Quebec garrison during the years of 1775-76 by the Americans under Montgomery and Arnold, was unveiled on Dominion Day on the Wall of the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec, by the Governor-General. Present at the ceremony were officers of the regiment from England and a detachment from the Canadian Fusiliers of London, Ontario, who are affiliated with the English corps. The Chateau Frontenac now stands on the site of the old Chateau St. Louis which was the military headquarters during the siege.

Inspection of the "Duchess of Bedford," new 20,000-ton Canadian Pacific liner, which recently made her maiden trip to Montreal, at once disclosed the extreme suitability of these "Empress" ships for tourist travel. Ventilated under the Bailey-Laurex system of individually controlled outlets, cool air is forced under gentle pressure to every part of the vessel. Public sun-decks and an open-air swimming pool add to the luxurious appearance of the ship and it has now been decided that the "Duchess of Bedford" shall be used on the South America-South Africa cruise next year.

BIG-TIME PRESS FOR BELLEVILLE A SAVAGE TOWN

Girl Came From "Savage Environs" Says Toronto Telegram

Toronto, July 18.—Two weeks ago a 16-year-old girl, modestly dressed and bearing the marks of good breeding, left the savage environs of a place called Belleville and came to this centre of civilization and culture "to take a position." But an unkind fate pursued her. Yesterday she found herself in a position far from her liking—in the witness box of a nasty police court, the centre of attraction for many eyes, curious, ghoulish eyes. The Crown had called her lure as a principal witness against Edward Turney, a young "sell boy" at a hotel here, and a former acquaintance of the little maid in Belleville. In the presence of a striking a figure of youth, innocence and all other things which combine to make the figure of a modern, maiden a magnet for admiring eyes.

The president of the Dickens Fellowship, Crown Attorney McFadden, unmarried and of unimpeachable repute, proved himself the most grasshy step he drew from the little maid's loss and genius of examiners. Then she sat confessen that in response to a phone call from the prisoner, she had gone to his apartment on Pembroke street, and in the presence of other young gentlemen, taken two glasses of beer. Someone had poured out whiskey but this she had emptied into a sink.

A Miner

Turney was accused of supplying liquor to a minor. Beer and whiskey had been found in his room by Sergt. Haney and P. C. Gregory.

"She shopped last night" his appointment to go to a theatre," said Turney, when he went to send any of my family to an hotel where much types are employed."

"Yesterday the girl swore she had taken beer before," said Turney's counsel, W. K. Murphy.

"There is nothing in the statute about a person having to be shown of previously temperate character," remarked Mr. Jones.

Turney said nobody gave the girl either beer or whiskey. She helped herself to the beer. "Four fellows were there, one of them a Belleville youth. They all treated the little girl like a sister. And others present, Messrs. Goodman, Cotton, Fisher, all swore that the party was eminently chaste in character. And all said the Belleville maid helped herself to the beer.

"A quiet gathering," was the unanimous verdict.

Home of Innocence

"I was born in Belleville," announced Mr. Jones, deeply moved to think that an unsophisticated Belleville girl couldn't come to Toronto without running the risk of petting given beer.

"I don't think this sort of man should be employed in a respectable hotel like this. He'll go to jail for one month. I'm sorry I can't make it six. That's what I think of young men who debauch girls. I wouldn't

Died At Eight O'Clock This Morning After Restless Night

80 YEARS OF AGE

Was Beloved And Honored By Patrons of The Theatre

Small Hythe, Kent, Eng., July 21.—Dame Ellen Terry, British actress, beloved by playgoers the world over, died this morning in the little oaken farmhouse tucked away in the vales of Kent where she had quietly spent the last years of her life.

Death came at 8.56 a.m. after an uncomfortable night during which she sank slowly to the end. When days appeared the doctor announced the patient was considerably weaker, She passed away peacefully surrounded by her relatives. Her death marked the final period of her hopeless struggle against a combination heart attack and cerebral hemmorrhage from which she had been sinking slowly since Tuesday.

There had been fears for some time that she, whose life was the stage, would not much longer survive definitely the withdrawal from it which ages ago she celebrated by her eightieth birthday last February.

Until two years ago Miss Terry never failed to appear at the first nights in London and the tall queenly old lady in black, with a black lace scarf draped over her silver hair was always rapturously applauded when she entered her box.

Small Hythe, July 21.—Miss Terry kept constantly at work. Out of doors reading, a little worn copy of the "Imitation of Christ," by Thomas A Kempis, lay face down before she died the following lines of verse in her own firm hand were found written across the fly leaf:

"No funeral gloom, my dears, when I am gone.
Corpse—Casings, tears, black raiment, graveyard grimness.
Think of me with sunbeams into the dimness.
Yours ally, you mine.
Remember at this best of our past moments and forget the rest
And as to where I will, care not one."

Below was written, "I should wish my ashes to be themselves and friends to observe this when I die."

JAPAN ACCEPTS ANTI-WAR PACT

Ceremony of Signature Will Take Place In August

Washington, July 21.—The unqualified acceptance by Japan of the historic anti-war treaty was received by the State Department yesterday in a note from the Premier Minister which congratulated the American Government upon the success which had met all efforts for outlawing war.

"The Imperial Government," said Baron Shidehara, "is proud to be among the first to be associated with a movement so plainly in unison with the hopes everywhere entertained, and confidently concur with the high principles of the acceptance of this solemn and magnanimous treaty by the whole civilized world."

The replies of all of the fourteen nations invited to become signatories to the treaty, with the single exception of Czechoslovakia, have now been received by the State Department. The acceptances of that Government has already been handed the American minister at Prague and it is expected to be received here soon.

With the Governments agreed upon the treaty as it now stands, the next move is expected to be an announcement of arrangements for signing it. The ceremony of signature, according to authoritative information, will be held in Paris the last week of August by invitation of the French Government, through the initiative in that clan for outlawing war by treaty was first taken up.

The invitation will be sent out from Paris, probably next week, in identic notes to the various Governments naming the exact date for signing. The enthusiasm with which Japan has accepted the treaty was reflected in a message received by President Coolidge yesterday from Premier Tanaka himself. It was in response to a message of congratulation sent by Mr. Coolidge on Bastille Day, in which he mentioned with satisfaction the part played by France in the negotiations.

Blame Minister of Labor For Assassination of Obregon

Mexico City, July 21.—Agrarian leaders today were demanding the punishment of those whom they termed "psychological authors" of the assassination of General Alvaro Obregon. Otherwise, the yassert, there would be a revolution.

Fifteen hundred members of the Agrarian parties paraded the streets late last night and demanded that Luis Morones, minister of labor, and other labor leaders holding minor offices in the Calles administration, be dismissed. These labor leaders had opposed General Obregon in his campaign for election. The leaders addressing the crowd openly blamed Morones for the assassination.

FIX BOUNDARY LINE AT SCHOOL

Presto Music Club Makes Request For Use of Auditorium

Last night's meeting of the Board of Education was a short affair and decidedly tame. A quorum was not reached until nearly eight-thirty, and it only took a few minutes for all the business to be transacted.

One or two matters of interest were raised, one of them being a request from Beale Sandey, the Station agent who wanted to know if the Presto Music Club could be able to hire the auditorium in the new Collegiate on October 8th, for a musical recital. Secretary Chalmers was to be present and also Mr. Jack Deacon, well-known singer of this city. Mr. Alexander stated that he did not think the auditorium would be ready for her at that date and the secretary was instructed to inform the correspondent that at this early date it was not possible to state whether the room could be used or not.

A special committee, composed of Messrs. McCle, Jones and Butler was appointed by Chairman John Elliott to meet a committee from St. Thomas' Church with regard to the fixing of a boundary line and erection of a fence between the Church and the School.

It was moved that contracts be asked for the washing of the windows, both inside and out, at the new collegiate institute, this business to be attended to by the Building Committee.

Few Communications

There were a few communications. Dr. Clarke requested his re-appointment as school dentist, and such was done. Colonel W. N. POLICE METHODS TO BE REVISED

Parliament Denounces Scotland Yard Men For Their Procedure

London, July 21.—Elaborate precautions to prevent a repetition of the Irene Savidge case in Scotland Yard were described in the House of Commons today by Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Home Secretary. Miss Savidge figured in a Scotland Yard investigation, following her arrest with Sir Leo Money on charges of disorderly conduct in Hyde Park; their acquittal and the subsequent questioning of the girl by the police.

A parliamentary commission which investigated the affair divided in its conclusions two of the three members declaring that the police should not be censured, but that their methods should be revised. The fifth member of the committee denounced the Scotland Yard procedure as "third degree" methods.

Joynson-Hicks told the House that the recommendations of the majority report had been put into effect. Hereafter when a case involves the reputation of a woman the charge or a statement must first be referred to the central department of Scotland Yard. If police officer decides to go ahead, the officer who is to do the questioning must be instructed in the case and told how to proceed. The citizens involved must be clearly informed of the nature of the information desired and warned of any possible consequences.

If the witness is a woman, there must be a woman officer present at the interrogation, unless the person to be interviewed expressly requests that no woman officer be there.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

As the refiner gold is tried in the fire, so the faith of friendship must be tested in adversity.
OVID.

TEACHING PEOPLE TO TAKE MORE CARE

The Ontario Safety league has sent out over 300,000 circulars to the parents of the province, instructing them in a few simple precautions by which their children may be safeguarded from accident, and possible death that such instructions are necessary to be seen from the daily toll of accidents of all descriptions recorded in the press.

Motor claims the largest number of victims. The remedy is that children should be taught to swim. It is really surprising the apathy and in many cases the actual opposition, shown by people in this important matter. In a province like ours, with its abundant facilities for bathing, it is inevitable that the children should take advantage of their opportunities. They should be properly equipped for this delightful summer recreation; those who cannot look after themselves in the water should not be permitted to enter, except under supervision.

Street accidents come next in their deadly toll. This is a new age, with different traffic conditions, but many parents have not yet awakened to the fact. The young should be specially trained to take care of themselves in the cities, towns and villages, and parents and guardians have a great responsibility in the matter. In this connection, motorists also show great lack of the general necessary of the day. Whether movement has found it necessary to write in the press, warning motorists against the consequences of driving young people "in," carrying them long distances from their homes.

"Within the last few weeks we have had in touch with a number of instances where boys, begging lifts, have been carried distances of 50 to 250 miles from the City of Toronto," he complains, "with the result that the boy of course gets into difficulty, and has to be returned to Toronto by the police authorities." Such a condition of things is an unflattering reflection on the intelligence of the motorists in question.

As regards accidents on the streets and the highways, they are increasing at an alarming rate. In some of the principal centres deaths from automobile accidents increased over 100 per cent. last year as compared with the preceding year. There were 387 fatalities from this cause in the province of Ontario during 1927, as against 349 in 1926, an increase of 10.9 per cent.

The Safety league pamphlet also deals with many other fruitful sources of death and injury, in the home and outside. It is worth the very careful perusal of all parents and should ensure them to a sense of the danger and the need for greater care and supervision.

CANADA TAKING HER PLACE IN THE AIR

Montreal has been holding an Aircraft exhibition in connection with which the Montreal Star produced a special supplement. The history of aviation naturally occupies considerable space, and it is inspiring to think what great progress has been made in such a comparatively brief time. It is only twenty-five years ago since the world was thrilled by the account of the first flight ever successfully accomplished in a heavier-than-air machine.

Once the principle was discovered, development proceeded rapidly. The Wright brothers were first in the field, but quite soon after Bleriot followed by others. The first Englishman in its own English soil was Mr. A. V. Roe, who, in 1908 "hopped" in a straight line for over sixty yards in an airplane. The war of course, gave a tremendous impetus to flying, almost all the nationalities keep continually up to advance and have added their individual triumphs to the record. The Atlantic and the Pacific oceans have been conquered, the North Pole has been visited and there is scarcely any distance so far, or route too hazardous, for the adventurous to undertake.

But it is in the ordinary, everyday use of the airplane that public interest mainly centers. These exceptional flights capture the imagination and show the potentialities of the modern machine, but what progress is being recorded in the commercial field and in the employment of the airplane for general passenger service? In this respect aviation has already more than proved its worth. Irrailmail service has been and is being rendered by the airplane in survey work, in transportation, in government and business enterprises generally. These varied and efficient services, quietly performed from day to day, are leading to a more general recognition of the fact that the day of air travel has indeed arrived. The public is becoming "air-minded." All countries are pursuing an energetic aviation policy, and some are making greater headway than others. The story is told by Major-General J. H. MacBrien, president of the Aviation League of Canada, who speaks of Russia's three million membership of the "Aviachim" of the great strides made in Germany, of the progress achieved in the United States, and of the prospects for Canada. Of the position in the United States, he says: "It is said that 1,000 airports will have been established or under construction by the end of 1928.

A comprehensive plan for the systematic expansion of airways has been drawn up, totalling 50,000 miles. At present twelve thousand miles are in operation, about half being lighted for night flying. More than half the population now enjoys an air mail service." General MacBrien explains the objects of the Canadian Aviation league, which aims not only to ensure the fullest development of commercial aviation, but to encourage the manufacture of aircraft in Canada, and to promote research, experiment and education in the science of aeronautics.

Great progress has already been achieved along these lines. Mail contracts have been awarded, manufacturing companies have been formed or have established branches in Canada, operating companies have been formed for the normal transportation work and surveys for exploration work in the northland. In the matter of aerial survey and forestry protection, Canada "leads the world."

The league intends to take up the question of aeronautical education and make certain recommendations to the schools and technical colleges throughout the Dominion; the establishment of airways and airports is anticipated as "the urgent need of Canadian aviation to-day," with clearly thought out policies and schemes for co-operation between the Dominion, provincial and municipal authorities. "Airways will improve our cohesion as country and as an Empire," concludes Major-General MacBrien, "and will have an important bearing upon our future prosperity."

OTHER MEN'S THOUGHTS

Dr. Bridle, pressing upon the need for capital punishment, "I expect he would like to begin with Professor Marshall.—Hamilton Herald.

England gave an exuberant welcome to all transatlantic aviators—except Alcock and Brown, Brinkmen, who flew the ocean years before the others.—Toronto Globe.

It will pay Canadians to look back once in a while, if for no other purpose than to get the right sort of perspective on the future of their country. A people who in sixty-eight years have been able to accomplish what Canadians accomplished have no cause to be downhearted as to their future, so long as they remain true to the ideals and principles that made their first great advance possible.—Calgary Herald.

HAVE YOU HEARD THESE?

Smithson (rather worried)—"Excuse me, Browne, did I lend you that lawnmower?"

Browne—"No—Jones."

Smithson—"Thats' strange. It's the image of one Townsend lent me. It appears Potts is rather wild about it, because he borrowed it from Hitkinson, and now Clarke wants to use it."

"My nephew graduates from college next week," stated Farmer Waddle.

"That so?" returned Farmer Straddle. "What's his specialty going to be—being a cheer leader or a ukulele player?"

An English visitor turned up at a local football match in Scotland and found all the twenty-two players huddled up near the centre of the field.

"Has there been an accident?" he asked the man nearest to him.

"Yes," was the reply, "they can't find the penny they tossed up with."

Super-Service policies meet the need for insurance protection and savings in sizable amounts on the weekly plan for persons receiving a weekly or monthly pay-cheque.

BARNUM IS SENT UP FOR TRIAL

Pleaded Guilty To Intoxication Charge And Given Jail Term

Harold Barnum appeared before Magistrate Mikel in police court this morning, after several remands, facing a charge of having committed a serious offence against a young eleven year old girl, and was committed for trial at the next Assizes, in the Autumn.

Barnum maintained a stolid, sullen attitude throughout the entire preliminary hearing, and when asked whether he would like to question the young girl's testimony stated that "he hadn't paid any attention to it, or heard it." Pressed Dr. Faulkner stated that the little girl was in a bad physical condition when he examined her.

Fined Second Charge

Barnum faced a second charge today. He was charged with being drunk, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to spend a month in jail, the term to date from his imprisonment, so he has served his sentence already.

Bail of $20,000 is asked for the more serious offense. Barnum endeavoured to secure a lawyer for his preliminary hearing but was not able to do so. The Supreme Court will supply one for him at his trial. The three offenses with which he is now charged a life sentence may be imposed.

PARENTS VISIT SCOUTS AT CAMP

Ladies of Canadian Legion Despatch Treats To Boys

The Boy Scouts and Wolf Cub Camp at Redmerville had a gala day on Wednesday. Many of the parents and friends of the boys came out in the afternoon and evening to see the camp. Sports and a swim came in the afternoon and a camp fire in the evening when the boys were treated to ice cream by Mr. H. Carter and-to bananas by Mr. Ed. Kelaway, made the day seem to be endless. But they are looking forward to a real field day next Wednesday afternoon. Over thirty dollars have been donated for prizes and a fine programme drawn up including swimming, diving, canoeing races and a special three mile race for officers and senior scouts. Parents are welcome at the camp any time they can come out but Wednesday after noon the programme is arranged for the visitors especially. Recent visitors included Assistant Scoutmaster Cecil Lennox, Troop Leader Evans, and former Assistant Scoutmaster George Rogers, who came from Campbellford to see his old scout friends.

The ladies of the Canadian Legion made plum duff cake and Mrs. Dumpstead, the President of the Auxiliary brought plum cake and candy and the Scouts have decided that these ladies are good scouts. Petty officers, Scouts and Cubs are taking part in the camp activities.

ESSEX—mirrors public choice

The most important thing ever said of Essex is said by buyers in the largest 6-cylinder sales, and the most overwhelming competitive preference of automobile history.

It is a preference you will endorse and share the moment you see and ride in the Essex.

The New Essex Super-Six is a delight to the eye—in lines, in fine exterior appointment and in careful finish that invites and repays the closest examination.

Within, this satisfaction to eye and sense is apparent in every detail. The quality of the high-backed, form-fitting seats—richly upholstered—impresses you immediately. At the slender, graceful wheel, you look out over the shining beauty of cowl, hood, saddle-type lamps, heavy, arching fenders, to the winged radiator figure that expresses the spirit and fleetness under your hand.

And then you have the famous Essex chassis, powered with the Super-Six high-compression, high efficiency motor that turns waste heat to power, giving brilliant sustained performance never before known in this field.

SEEKING STIMULATION IN A DIET OF SWEETS

By DR. LOUIS K. HISCH

Mother chocolates sounds like a very innocent pastime, does it not?

Just so, in fact, is it!

But there are ever stepped to realize that chocolates give a physical and mental lift?

It is a noteworthy fact that when prohibition happened along men flocked to the candy stores.

But they didn't go to buy candy for their wives or sweethearts.

They went there to buy candy for themselves!

Alcohol stimulates, of course, and so does chocolates.

Chocolate, when burned in the body, gives the same kind of reaction that the oxidation of alcohol does.

Swiss soldiers are given cakes of chocolate before going on the march in the Alps.

Mountain climbers everywhere recognize the vitalizing quality of sugar in any form.

Chocolates and bonbons oxidize quickly produce energy, give heat to the body, and have a decided and prompt up-building effect on the tissues.

We all crave stimulants at one time or another.

With no habitual alcoholic, this craving is [illegible] and hastened.

Of course, when some chronic drinker took to chocolates they didn't get that "high, dry effect."

Some, indeed, even now consume a pound of candy at one sitting.

If the addiction of the sugar in chocolates and bonbons does not affect the higher brain centers sufficiently to cause definite intoxication, at least it produces an agreeable sense of warmth and well-being that is akin to it.

Among the ladies we often come across chronic chocolate eaters.

They get as much fun out of a box of sweets as a man does out of a stiff drink.

Chocolate does not make them drunk, but it gives a feeling of satisfaction and buoyancy which is identical with the first stages and first effects of alcohol intoxication.

Theoretically — if you could eat enough, and your stomach would stand for it—you could actually get drunk on chocolates.

The chronic eating candy of all kinds after meals is a good thing.

Sweets should not be eaten between meals, however.

Just at the end of a meal—to "top off" with is the best time.

Chocolates have a definite food and nerve tonic value that should not be overlooked.

You will notice a refined or strong-looking if you become a chocolate addict or fiend.

You will, however, court indigestion if you overdo it.

Which kind of chocolate is best? Any kind that contains pure ingredients and is manufactured under sanitary conditions.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

To prevent cakes, pies and other pastry from burning on bottom, sprinkle the bottom of the oven with fine, dry salt. Or, put a piece of wire door screen, cut to fit, in bottom of oven under the pan.

To renovate a shabby or shiny serge skirt, sponge it over with boiling hot vinegar until the stains and grease marks disappear; then thoroughly press on the wrong side with a fairly hot iron. For spots on blue serge, rub them with a cloth, wrung out of coffee. To renovate a navy blue skirt, try sponging it well with cold tea; leave for a day, then press with a fairly hot iron.

CHAPTER 69.

THE DAY OF DAYS

The day of the trial of Larry Cross for the murder of Richard Falconer dawned warm and fresh and golden. It was late August. A day for motoring and country picnics; for tennis and golf. But a day to be spent in a court room.

For Celia, it was the day of the greatest ordeal of her life. She knew that counsel for the state would try to drag from her every detail of her deception. The whole town would know that the man who had stayed under her roof and by privacy which is identical with the first stages and first effects of alcohol intoxication.

Theoretically — if you could eat enough, and your stomach would stand for it—you could actually get drunk on chocolates.

WHAT'S NEW

(From a Woman's Standpoint)

The organdie dance frock with tiered skirt or gathered side draperies is very good.

The tri-color theme of Chanel has been extended to slippers and used with very clever effect, banded in red, white and blue kid, a flat bow and a strike up the heel.

Handwoven bags of generous proportions are well liked to carry with summer frocks for they say an enormous number of the articles no woman can do without.

Judging from the advance collections of evening dresses presented to date in New York, formal frocks have definitely taken to irregular hemlines and they are offered in variety; with dipping length rounded in the sides and back, skirt fronts still sponsoring a length that is just below the knee.

Given as an example of the general enthusiasm expressed over the tri-color theme, by London, Paris and New York, is a sports costume noted in Paris, consisting of a red flannel coat and white crepe skirt banded in blue around the hem, while with this it is a sweater jumper in white with dark blue diamond pattern, and printed beret to match.

Guard Baby's Health In The Summer

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentary, come on so quickly that within a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles or if they do come on suddenly to handle them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during hot weather as Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BELLE THEATRE

"The Fifty-Fifty Girl" is the title of Bebe Daniels' latest starring comedy for Paramount and it will be the attraction at the Belle Theatre for three days, starting Monday. The laugh-provoking situations are naturally arranged and the new picture is a good companion piece for Miss Daniels' recent comedy, "Feel My Pulse."

In this picture, Miss Daniels plays the part of a stubborn girl who maintains that women are superior to men in every given situation. A young man who seriously disagrees with her allows her to test her theories on him and, in the dark passageways of an old mill, being pursued by a horde of yelling laborers, she finally meets her match and concedes his mastery.

The story is laid chiefly in and about an old gold mine with an historic background, although several sequences are taken on a railroad train.

Clarence Badger who directed the star in "The Campus Flirt," "Swim, Girl, Swim" and "Open a Safe," again directs Miss Daniels in "The Fifty-Fifty Girl." and James Hall, who played the leading part opposite Miss Daniels in many of her former comedy successes, is again cast in the leading part in "The Fifty-Fifty Girl." John McDermott wrote the story for Miss Daniels.

FARMERS REAP SUMMER CROP

Toronto, July 20.—Haying operations, which are now general on the farms of Southern Ontario are being seriously impeded by continued heavy rains. Excellent crops of hay are in serious danger of being destroyed. Last night's rain was particularly heavy and followed a downpour of the night before. Today scattered showers are again causing grief to the farmers in many counties.

THIEVES RANSACK OSHAWA OFFICES

Oshawa, July 20.—An epidemic of robberies broke out in Oshawa last night, no less than two offices being broken into, two bicycles stolen, a hold-up taking place and a petty theft being reported to the police. The hold-up occurred at Oshawa-on-the-Lake, when William Harman, of College Ave., was ordered to turn over all his valuables by two surly looking individuals about 11.30 o'clock. They obtained $14 in cash and Mr. Harman's watch.

SENATORS WON FROM DETROIT

Overcome Lead To Down Hopeless Detroit Team 7-4

New York, July 21.—Getting off to hitting form, Washington came from behind and defeated Detroit, second to the third game of the series 7-4, at Washington. Harrell forced home two runs, to let the Senators tie the score in the fifth, and Vangilder, who relieved him, was hit hard in the sixth and seventh when five more runs were scored.

The Athletics won their fifth straight game and their third in a row from the St. Louis Browns, 4-3, at Philadelphia.

George Earnshaw fanned 10 of the Browns and limited their sluggers to three scattered singles.

The Mack victory shattered Alvin Crowder's winning streak of ten consecutive games. Crowder was removed from the box in the seventh inning for a pinch-hitter, with the Athletics' lead only, 1-0. Relief pitcher Dick Coffman held hit for three runs in the home half of seventh stanza.

Jimmy Foxx started the rally with a single and two doubles, figuring in the scoring of three runs.

The Cleveland-Boston game was rained out.

MONTREAL SUFFERS THIRD LOSS TO KEYS

Montreal, July 21.—You never know how good they are until they're gone. A man has to die to become a saint, and a good ball player only has to sit on the bench a while on the injured list before it is keenly realized how much he's missed all his regular position.

The Royals infield was a shining example of these well-known truths yesterday afternoon. The Keystones beat the Royals, 6-4, for the third straight in the last four games, took third place away from them, and when every player on the team got a hit three didn't seem to be anything that could be done about it.

There were a number of things very evident to the two thousand or so fans that saw yesterday's game. The first was that the present infield isn't good enough to win games with the kind of pitching the Royals are getting these days. With Fowler out at third, Fewster down with a wrenched knee and Cadwan sitting on bench with a sore back, the famous double play combination that has won so many close ball games for the Royals is being sorely missed. The substitutes are doing their best, but their best does not quite measure up to the standard required against a man such as like the Keystones.

MOTORIST BURNED TO DEATH

BEAVERS DEFEAT SUPREMES 12-11

Will Play Point Anne On Armouries Lawn At 6.15 Tonight

Madeline Kelleher's run which was scored in the last half of the seventh inning last night enabled the Beavers to defeat the Kingston Supremes in an Intermediate game at the armouries lawn. The final score was 12-11. It was one of the most exciting games of the season and the Beavers were forced to the extreme to win.

Alan Meagher sent his ace, Mollie Gray to the hill and she pitched her best game of the season. She struck out three and walked out one and was master of the situation most of the time. She was given good support by her teammates. Miss Walker opposed her on the mound and the Supremes pitcher was in equally good form.

Beavers obtained an early lead but the Supremes maintained a steady batting game and finally tied the score up in the first half of the ninth. Twin Warham accounted for the winning run when she drove a hot grounder at Miss Fleet and Miss Kelleher crossed.

The Beavers will play an exhibition game with Point Anne tonight at the armouries at 6.15 and with the prestige girls having improved, this game should be well worth while.

Each team banged out 16 hits last night but the Beavers bunched theirs. Vern Weir umpired, behind the plate.

Beavers — Cook, O'Neill, Mooney, Howie, Warham, Twitte, Meachoir, Whalen, Kelleher, Thrasher.

GIANTS RETAKE SECOND PLACE

Cubs Have No One To Blame Except Themselves For Loss

Chicago, July 21.—The Cubs haven't got a winning streak any more, for which they have no one to blame but themselves.

The Giants came from behind with bats swinging and runners winging, not once, but twice. Still they came only far enough under their own power to tie the score. The Cubs had to end a heiping hand when an error in the ninth to put the winning run across, and that allowed the Giants to climb back into second place.

With the score tied going into the final frames and 40,000 screaming spectators, seething with excitement, surprises started coming at last that the eye could scarcely follow them and the mind could hardly grasp them. The first unexpected incident was a single by none other than Lefty Faulkner, who was doing the pitching since Larry Benton had retired a couple of innings before. Then Cuyler laid down a bunt and the second surprise was sprung.

Instead of making a sure play at first, Grimm tried for a very doubtful one at second, where he tried to force Mann, running in Faulkner's shoes. That was so unexpected that English let the ball go through him for an error, and Cuyler stood spellbound while the ball rolled away.

Hoping that one of the dumfounded Cubs would regain consciousness and recover the ball, English tried to detail Mann with a strangle hold and a hammer-lock, but Leslie broke both grips. He struggled loose and departed for third while the unoccupied Cubs still viewed the ball only from a distasteful distance.

From third, it was no great feat for Mann to score on Welsh's long fly that followed and that's how the Giants gained their 6-3 victory that broke Chicago's winning streak which had run for eight straight games.

TRUE LOVE

True love's the gift which God has given
To man alone beneath the heaven:
It is not fantasy's hot fire,
Whose wishes, soon as granted, fly;
It liveth not in fierce desire,
With dead desire it doth not die;
It is the secret sympathy,
The silver link, the silken tie,
Which heart to heart, and mind to mind,
In body and in soul can bind.
—Sir Walter Scott.

FARM WOMAN TO THE EARTH

By Anna Fleurnoy Bassett

My bondage years to you will soon be past;
They'll fold my hardened hands upon my breast,
And I shall lie within your arms at last.
In the still state men call eternal rest.
You have been a strange lover, Earth, to me—
You have asked all in time and strength and, art;
And let return you have, but let me see.
A fleeting glimpse of what is in your heart.

I have not had the things that women crave—
The touch of silks, perfumes and jewels bright;
But in the years when I have been your slave
I have seen dewdrops in the morning light.
And I have felt your wagon sweet breath spice
From where I trod the fresh-ploughed turf's rough roll;
And with your changing under changing skies,
Earth, I was wedded to you, mind and soul.

Now when death makes you take me to your heart,
And I become at last a part of you,
Let cool green leaves and fragrant blossoms start
From my poor clay, and let their brilliant hue
Draw butterflies to me who served you well;
And as they greet the blossoms with a kiss
Let me be living in the body that swell:
This is my prayer—O earth, you owe me this.

Hard water is softened by using a tablespoonful of borax to about two gallons of water.

Should a chimney catch fire a few handfuls of salt thrown on the fire will stop its progress.

JUST IN PASSING

"Onward—not backward, for the hand of God
Points ever, forward, heeding no regret;
Let us not waver; we have heights to climb,
And far to go before the sun has set.
An inward voice calls clearly to us all.
In joy or sorrow, loneliness or pain—
Onward until the glow fades in the west,
Onward in hope, for this is not your rest."
—E.M.A.

PROPOSAL AT A FUNERAL

Among the many racy anecdotes related by General Sir Neville Lyttleton in his recent reminiscences is one which shows the readiness of soldiers' widows in Victorian days to re-marry into the service.

The veteran General recalls the story of a woman who had a proposal from a colour-sergeant on the way back from her husband's burial. She burst into tears, and the non-commissioned officer, thinking this he had been too hasty, told he would see her again later. "Oh, it isn't that," sheblessing of work.

said, "but I have already accepted the corporal of the firing party."

FOR THE YOUNG MAN

Young man there is very little to life, at best. You are born, and for twenty years you amount to nothing—you are growing. For ten more years you are learning how to do something learning a trade or profession. Then you are thirty, and if ever, the real doing begins. If you have wasted the ten years between twenty and thirty you cannot be ready for work at thirty. If you do not begin work and keep at it—if you do not make your every action fill the real thing your chance is very slight. At most, the working life of many is eighty-five years. The first twenty amount to nothing except preparation. The last twenty as a rule, amounts to little, although they ought to be the best years. And out of the eighty-five years which is the limit of human life, we spend at least thirty years in sleep. And we spend twenty more years dressing and wasting time. So that out of eighty-five years, if we are hard workers. we have at the most

SHAPE OF DATES

1 lb. dates, 1 small cup sugar, 3 cups water, 1 box gelatine. 1 cup sherry, 2 cups almonds.

Boil the dates (covered with water for ten minutes. Pour into a colander and allow cold water to run over them. Skin and stone. Make a syrup of sugar, water, and gelatine, which has been soaked in a little cold water. Add dates. Boil up once, then add sherry. Line shape with blanched almonds, pour in dates, and when cold serve with whipped cream.

SPICE KNOBS

1-2 lb. wholemeal flour, 1-4 lb. salt butter 2 oz. castor sugar, 1-4 teaspoon mixed spice or cinnamon, 1 little raspberry jam.

Rub the flour and butter together with the tips of the fingers, stir in spice and sugar, and mix into a stiff dough with a little water. Roll out to a sheet 1-4 inch thick. Stamp into rounds the size of a penny, and make them into sandwich biscuits with raspberry jam. Place in a lightly buttered baking tin, and bake to a pale brown. They should be a little hard when first made, but soften with keeping.

"GOSSIP" AND ITS ORIGIN

The following interesting story on the subject of "gossip" is told by Professor Elmore Lumby in "Means of Social Control." In a quiet English village recently a young woman took her life. Investigation disclosed the fact that she had been guilty of no crime and had led, in truth, an exemplary life. But some pestilential tales, disseminated by a few garrulous old women, had gathered formidable accretions as they circulated. The young woman's good name was stolen from her and impassable barriers of suspicion were erected in all her paths. There seemed no way of relief from this entanglement except by flight or death; she chose the latter. The coroner's jury examined the tragic circumstances and brought in the verdict "killed by idle gossip." As is the derivation of the word, Professor Lumby says, originally the gossip was the "Godsib," that is, the person spiritually related to anyone by reason of acting as sponsor at baptism. (This has been disputed). A modified and later meaning was that of any close friend or intimate, sometimes called "my gossip." But finally the term was applied to any individual who personalized from person to person peddling lies' news. Here we have a rough sketch of a functionary. But there gradually emerged for consideration and naming the stock-in-trade of the functionary and this was also called "gossip."

Galvanized iron dustbins can be kept sanitary if a few sheets of newspaper are burnt in them every time they are emptied.

Let Me Tell You

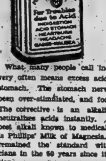

Rice ash and paraffin are good for cleaning steel.

Collars and cuffs that have become worn at the edges can be improved by being lightly rubbed with white wax after ironing and finishing in the ordinary way.

Fresh mould from the garden will clean enamel ware. Rub it on with a piece of wet newspaper, and rinse thoroughly in clear water. Weak tea will clean anything that has a varnished surface.

Steel is not always available when soup is wanted, so it is useful to have a recipe handy which dispenses with it, as does this. Chop up a medium sized onion and lightly fry it in about an ounce of butter. Remove the skins from half a pound of tomatoes (after dipping them in boiling water for a minute or two), slice them and add to the onion, together with two ounces of washed rice and a quart of water. Simmer all together till cooked.

Eucalyptus oil is excellent for colds and is best by sprinkling a few drops on a piece of cotton wool for inhaling, or putting them into a jug of boiling water in cases of incipient chest colds and the steam inhaled freely. For cold in the head a few drops may be taken on a piece of sugar. This will also relieve a cough. Spirits of camphor can also be taken in the same way, but as it is not so strong as eucalyptus, more must be taken at a time.

When Pain Comes

Two hours after eating—

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting stomach acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggists.

SINICAL SADIE SEES

AT THE "LICENSOOR" AGE

By Roger B. Priestman.

They made us buy a license to be married.
And when we started building us a home,
A permit was required,
And as soon as it was wired,
They inspected every switch and every dome.

The law demands that we must have a license
To own our 1930 vintage Ford;
And a permit for erecting
With a fee for the inspecting
Of the ten by twenty shack where it is stored.

They also made us get a driver's license
Permitting us to run the living planet,
And yet another permit,
Or whatever else they term it,
To buy ourselves a case or two of stout.

Last year they heard that we'd installed a radio;
They issued us a radio money card.
They next pried loose a dollar
For the tag upon the collar
Of the moppet that is tethered in our yard.

Oh! it really is a most "licentious" age!
And when we pass beyond this mortal coil,
Our friends must first be sure
A permit to procure,
Before they plant us safley in the soil.
—From Saturday Night.

CHINESE LANGUAGE FUZZLE

One of the principal reasons why illiteracy is higher in China—so far as the reading of newspapers and magazines are concerned—than in most countries is to be found in the fact that it takes about 7,000 individual characters to keep a newspaper in print. Every time something new comes along, such as Einstein's Theory, the League of Nations, and so forth, it is necessary to invent a name, either by appropriating the sound in Chinese or by combining characters according to the meaning. The former method is almost useless, since the characters are nowhere pronounced the same on account of dialectic differences, such a simple word as Ha, for instance, being pronounced variously as Ha, Khia, Fa, Wu, etc. Furthermore, the word in itself may not convey any meaning to the reader who may see it for the first time. It would then be necessary every time the characters are used to have an explanatory note indicating what they mean. Writers then fix the meaning of the words. Whenever they can, they coin a new word by combining parts of characters. All of which is very intricate and makes it difficult for any but scholars to be literate. However, the novels of the country are written in a very simple language, usually a dialects of Mandarin, which is known to many of the common people who cannot read newspapers. Recently an effort has been made by educators to publish a newspaper with 1,000 characters, and it is said to have met with some success. Foreigners find that they can learn to read simple stories and letters by a knowledge of the 1,000 characters and the use of a dictionary.

JUST WHAT IS PROPER DRESS?

For The Manager of a General Store—Discussed In Court

London, (By C.P.)—Quaity tha habit is the person not buy. But not expressed in fancy, rich not quaity, or the apposed oft proclaims the man. The appropriate dress for the manager of a general store was discussed in the King's Bench, before the Lord Chief Justice.

John Hay Morren, of Golders Green said he was engaged as general manager of the provision and general store of Rexel Co., Ltd., of Russell Gardens, Kensington. He was suing them for wrongful dismissal, because he alleged that although he was engaged as general manager at £2,500 a year, rising to £4,000 he found that after he arrived from Scotland he was given merely the managership of a branch shop at Golders Green. He resented this, and was dismissed.

Montague Abrahams, the managing director of the Company, said that he found Mr. Morren in the shop at Golders Green wearing a hard felt hat, and an ordinary lounge suit. He ought to have worn suitable clothes.

His Lordship: "As if he were going to a garden party?"

"He was" cynical, and I told him that he should have 'id 'drop' that, as more of his customers were women, and he must be affable to them," Mr. Abrahams said.

"Do they like an affable manager? Does it make them buy an extra half pound of butter?"

"Sure they do like it."

His Lordship: "Was the manager to wear a frock coat, and a white apron at the same time?"

"He was to wear a long frock coat, as worn by men in a similar position. I don't recollect anything about a white apron."

The jury found for Mr. Morren for $1,800 damages. Judgment was entered accordingly, with costs.

FEW BOYS FINISH HIGH SCHOOL COURSE

Montreal, Que.—Rev. Brother Rees, Principal of the Roman Catholic High School, stated the fact that a very small proportion of the English speaking boys in his school finish the highthe 16th century.

MOST people think this standard antidote for pain, but are too careful to say Bayer when you buy it? Ask do you always give a glance to see Bayer on the box—and the word genuine printed in red? It isn't the genuine Aspirin without it! A druggist store always has Bayer, with the proven directions tucked in every box.

school course. "I would say that the chief cause why boys shirk continuing their education from the primary grades is owing to the lack of right thinking on the part of the parents; many of them did not receive a high school education themselves and hence, unable to appreciate the difference in economic conditions between today and their own day, they succumb supinely to the first demands of school life. Closely allied with my explanation of the matter is another view which I might put thus: whether we care to hear it it said or not, whether we prefer to persuade ourselves that it is so but should not be so, or not, the fact stares us in the face that this is the age when parents tolerate too much in their children."

WHAT IS WRONG WITH MIGRATION

David Lamb of Salvation Army Explains This Question

London.—(C.P.)— What is wrong with migration?, asks Commissioner David Lamb, of the Salvation Army, in this month's Empire Review. Commissioner Lamb says Canadian thought is largely influenced by economic, racial, and political considerations—nowhere else in the Empire so sharply or clearly defined—and a strange conflict of opinions creates many cross currents. "The whole dominion has much in common with its southern neighbor, he believes.

But is the subtle influence of the Monroe doctrine unconsciously weakening the ties with the home land? asks Commissioner Lamb. "Is the material prosperity of the Dominion to be built up at the expense of the ideals which inspired the early British settlers? Why does Canada appear to be lukewarm on the question of the British navy? Why is Quebec showing herself unmistakably a bulwark for the Empire on the American continent?

"Political power still rests—as it has done for generations—in Quebec. With the development of the Prairie provinces, however, it is shifting rapidly West, and in a few years the political control of the dominion will no longer rest with the province of Quebec, or, indeed, in the East. It can scarcely be expected, therefore, to find the East particularly happy about having to contribute to bring even British settlers to the dominion.

"Our Empire selection machinery is slow and cumbersome. It lacks elasticity and common sense. Here are examples of rejects: (a) stammers; (b) squints; (c) 'weak spines'; (d) is above average weight; (e), is two inches short in stature; (f), twenty years of age, was convicted when a child of eleven—assault a fair of thieving and sleeping out; (g) aged sixteen, when eight was convicted of stealing eggs.

"Then a woman has to make a journey of some miles to meet an unknown, man (Government inspector, who, by the way, has never been overseas, and for identification purposes she must wak in front of the bookstall of the railway station with her handkerchief in her left hand; while a boy is told 365 days in a year is the wrong answer (again by a Government representative who has never been overseas). Still all of these people are of good general health and character, and capable of earning their living in the homeland.

"One wonders if, for example, the Canadian Immigration Inquiry will have had under consideration such a case as this: A miner, (with his wife and three children), with work and a home assured in Alberta, has to pay for transportation $200 to get there, but he and his family may have tickets at a cost of $55, if he is to work on the land and not in it.

"Tt. Hon. Mr. Amery, the Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs, has just returned from visiting the overseas dominions. Is is really any use sending any more emissaries unless they go empowered to deal with well known objections, and recognized difficulties, and prepared to stay until those objections and difficulties have been met and overgone? Perhaps the Government is now prepared to give Lord Lovat the necessary authority. If not, why not?"

LORD PLUMER TO LEAVE HIGH JOB

London, (By C.P.)—Field-Marshal Lord Plumer, as already announced, is to vacate the position of High Commissioner for Palestine and Trans-Jordan. Lord Plumer, who was 71 in March, is well remembered by Canadian Veterans both of the Great War and of the South African War. In the War he commanded the Second Army during some of the most eventful operations on the Belgium Front in which the Canadian Divisions were involved. The Field-Marshal always had a good word for the Canadians. He had Canadian troops with him almost all through the war. The 2nd Canadian Casualty Clearing Station exercised with the 2nd Army, on the Somme lines, near Pozeriphze, for two years. Whenever the Canadians scored in the long, heart-breaking contest, the first telegram of congratulation would almost invariably be from the rugged veteran in command of the 2nd Army. In the final advance when two Canadian divisions accompanied the 2nd Army across the Rhine, General Plumer took the salute of the 1st Division on the Suspension Bridge at Cologne, while the 2nd Division marched past Sir Arthur Currie on the Bridge at Sonn.

Lord Plumer, as already mentioned, commanded Canadians in the South African war. He was one of the few generals under whom there happened none of those "regrettable incidents" as the War Office in those days was wont to term downright reverses.

A Tired-out Feeling

Is a Sure Sign That the Blood is Thin and Watery.

"I am glad to have an opportunity of testifying to the benefits I derived from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," writes Mrs. Lawrence Kennedy, St. Joseph, N.B. She further says:—"Some years ago I was working as a stenographer and became badly run-down. I always had a tired-out feeling, had no appetite and suffered terribly from backache. Almost every month I had to remain from the office for a day or two. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I have reason to be glad that I followed this advice. Before I had been taking the pills very long I began to feel much better. Continuing their use my strength came back, I regained my appetite and the terrible backache from which I had suffered disappeared. I have been married some years now and have two fine healthy children, a girl and a boy and am in the best of health. All this I owe to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I trust that these few lines may help some other weak, run-down person."

All weak, run-down people who will give this blood-building tonic a fair trial will find through its new health and strength. You can get the pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BEARS FLOCKING TO THE SUDBURY

Sudbury, Ont.—Bears from the Algoma District are said to be flocking in large numbers to the Sudbury Basin and acquainting themselves with the mine operators' buns there. J. G. Bennett, a geologist and mining engineer, drove out to Sudbury Basin to inspect some properties the other day and left his car standing by the road. In his absence a bear ambled out on the road and commenced exploring the car for something to eat.

Finding nothing suitable about the engine, Mr. Brulin extended his research to the tonneau, where he proceeded to make a meal out of the leather cushions, selecting the tenderest morsels with care and leaving the remainder strewn along the roadway He had decamped, doubtless replete, by the time the owner of the car returned but there were undoubted evidences of his activities.

ESTABLISHED NEW DANCING RECORD

Orange, N.B.W., — (By the Canadian Press)—Bruno Harms, 22, of Melbourne, established a new dancing endurance record of 120 hours, 30 minutes at the Oasis Royal dancing hall at Orange. He commenced dancing on a Thursday at 8 p.m., and remained on his feet till 7.30 the following Wednesday morning. The best was supervised by his trainer and, a committee. He was visited throughout by the police and towns-people. Though showing great signs of distress, he expressed himself able to continue, but was stopped by his trainer.

FINISH SURVEY TITICACA RUINS

Have Been Exploring Famous Ruins Ages Old—Made Discoveries

La Paz, Bolivia.—(A.P.)—Professor Arturo Posnansky, scientist, and founder of the Tiahuanacan museum, and Dr. Rolf Muller, sub-director of the astronomical observatory at Potsdam, have just returned from a investigation carried out in the prehistoric ruins on the banks of Lake Titicaca.

At the Temple of the Sun situated in these ruins, Posnansky and Muller observed the stars, sun and moon from the same post at which the ancient Tiahuanacan priests took observations thousands of years ago.

The scientists made their observations from June 20 to 23, the time of the Solstice being June 21. The difference between the Tiahuanacan meridian as figured by the ancient priests and the meridian of today is only 97 minutes thus demonstrating the exactitude with which the ancient astronomers carried out there studies.

According to Muller and Posnansky the ancients probably used the pilar ability to determine the meridian, establishing with very fine metals the culmination of some of them, thus determining a line exactly south which they marked with a great white sun painted on the side of a mountain of rock, 15 kilometers from Tiahuanacu. This could be distinguished from the observatory in the Temple of the Sun, appearing about the size of an egg.

Years ago Professor Posnansky announced his theory that the ancient Tiahuanacans knew mathematically the angle of ecliptic obliquity. He sets the age of the temple at 12,000 years, the oldest granite Temple of the Sun in the world.

BOA MYSTERY IS FINALLY CLEARED

Keene, N.H.—A mystery occasioned by the finding of live boa constrictors on the beach at Selma, Mass., was cleared up by an amateur naturalist from the Interstate Wild Animal Farm here that the dead reptiles were undoubtedly part of a consignment of wild beasts which was washed from the deck of a vessel bringing them to these shores. According to the announcement, the farm also lost a large consignment of monkeys when high waves swept the steamer's decks. Many of the snakes and animals were to have gone to the Toronto Zoo eventually.

BLIND STUDENT IS NOW A BARRISTER

Quebec, Que.—Blind from birth, Louis Philippe Lalonde has passed his law entrance examination at Laval University and will take his course at the University of Montreal. His father, Napoleon Lalonde, of Victoriaville, Que., died just one week before his articles were to be signed.

The successful student had the examination questions put into Braille type so that he could "read" them, and the replies he wrote out on a typewriter. He was formerly a broken salesman for the Nazareth Workshops for the Blind in this city, and became known throughout the eastern townships. By dint of his sales efforts he saved sufficient money to go to the University, the ideal always having been to become a member of the bar.

BEAVER, MUSKRAT WILL BE PRODUCT

Moncton, N.B.—A company capitalized at $20,000 has been organized in Westmoreland County to establish a large ranch for the raising of beaver and muskrat. Many experiments in this industry have been made in Scandinavia but this is the first instance in which any attempt has been made to enter it on a commercial basis of any proportions. Considerable success in this line has been achieved in other provinces. The ranch will be stocked with New Brunswick breeders as the fur from Muskrat and beaver in this province has already proved a strong favorite on foreign markets, commanding the highest prices.

MARITIMES WERE WELL IN VIEW

At Conference of Fishery Investigations Held In Boston Recently

Boston.—The Maritime Provinces were well represented at the 7th Annual meeting of the North American Committee on Fishery Investigations here. Among those who contributed valuable information to the committee were Dr. A. G. Huntsman, director of the St. Andrews Biological station, New Brunswick, secretary of the committee representing Canada; Dr. G. F. Sleggs, of the University College, St. John's representing Newfoundland, and A. W. H. Needler, another Canadian.

Dr. Huntsman discussed the cod tagging done by the Canadian government. He added that many of the tagged Canadian cod remained localized just as the cod do off the United States coast. Some of the Canadian cod tagged off Cape Sable migrated toward Halifax, while two of them travelled as far as Nova Scotian waters.

The Passamoquoddy power project was discussed in some detail by Dr. Huntsman. The damming of Passamoquoddy bay has been the subject of much controversy among local interests with respect to its effect on the fishing. Dr. Needler, who is with Dr. Huntsman that if the bay is dammed a considerable reduction in the production of cod fish would result, and a virtual elimination of the local sardine industry and the pollock fishery. On the other hand, Dr. Huntsman believed an increase in the local mackerel and lobster fishery might result.

A paper submitted by A. W. H. Needler, dealing with the haddock fishery in the waters of the Western Atlantic showed that the catch of this fish in American vessels off the United States coast has been on the increase since 1886, particularly since 1905, while that made off Canada in Canadian vessels has increased only slightly. The increase was said to be largely due to the use of otter trawls.

William C. Schroeder of the United States Bureau of Fisheries, discussed the cod situation, pointing out that each fall a migration of cod took place from Nantucket Shoals to the waters of Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey and Delaware.

Wealth of Handicraft Lore In Various Races On Prairie

Toronto.—(C.P.)—In view of the wealth of handicraft lore possessed by the various races settled on the prairies, as demonstrated in the different booths forming the component parts of the Canadian Handicrafts festival, Winnipeg may find itself with a training school for this kind of work before long with travelling exhibits arranged for the various parts of the province.

The establishment of short courses where interviews and demonstrations would be given demonstrations in the desired crafts was suggested, it is understood the government would be invited to lend some support when the popularity of these homecraft becomes more generally known. Priceless pieces of lace, it was pointed out, are sold on the European market that only royalty and the ultra rich have been able to afford it. Many examples of fine work done in the homes of prairie settlers who in their spare hours worked at lace making as a profession. It is with the idea of disseminating such skill and preserving it for posterity that a training school for the encouragement of home industry is being talked of.

GYPSIES' HEALTH SERIOUS MATTER

Children Run Risk of Contagious Disease Every Day

Boston.—Alarming conditions, both as to health and education, exist in the Romany camps, located during the summer in various sections of New England according to Dr. Frank J. Bailey, deputy health commissioner.

Recently there has come to the attention of the health department children in several gypsy tribes in need of medical care because of contagious skin conditions, he said. One family of twelve was found living in one room, sleeping on the floor and exposed to this skin conditions which was spreading rapidly through the group. This group had wandered for many months from South America through Mexico to San Francisco and across the continent to Boston. Uneducated and exposed to disease through overcrowded living conditions these itinerant children present a serious problem in child protection not only in this section but throughout the country, Dr. Bailey declared.

Don't Make a Toy Out of Baby "Babies Have Nerves"

By RUTH BRITTAIN

Much of the nervousness in older children can be traced to the over-stimulation during infancy, caused by regarding baby as a sort of animated toy for the amusement of parents, relatives and friends. Baby may be played with, but not for more than a quarter of an hour to an hour daily. Beyond that, being handled, tickled, caused to laugh or even scream, will sometimes result in vomiting, and invariably causes irritability, crying or sleeplessness.

Fretfulness, crying and sleeplessness from this cause can easily be avoided by treating baby with more consideration, but when you just can't see what is making baby restless or upset, better give him a few drops of pure, harmless Castoria. It's amazing to see how quickly it calms baby's nerves and soothes him to sleep; yet it contains no drugs or opiates. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper. Leading physicians prescribe it for colic, cholera, diarrhea, constipation, gas on stomach, and bowels, feverishness, loss of sleep and all other "upsets" of babyhood. Over 30 million bottles used a year shows its overwhelming popularity.

With each bottle of Castoria, you get a book on Motherhood, worth its weight in gold. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the package so you'll get genuine Castoria. There are many imitations.

SUMMER BAKING PROBLEM SOLVED

Shops Like Tarlington's Simplify The Matter

Have you solved the summer baking problem yet? Hundreds of others in this city and district have, and they no longer find it necessary to spend long hours in the kitchen over a hot stove, baking pies, cakes, cookies and all kinds of pastry.

The modern bakery has changed all that, and in Belleville, it is represented by Tarlington's Cake Shop; at the present time, Tarlington's actually provide doughnuts, and all kinds of pastry that compares favorably with the kind "mother used to make," both in popularity.

The public demanded pastry that would be actually homemade, and Tarlington's provide the answer; no longer will people bake in the hot weather—it isn't necessary when a visit to Tarlington's will give them just what they want—variety to suit every taste, pure pastry and cakes with real homemade flavour, and all at moderate cost.

Try it yourself and see if it isn't so.

HUDSON PISTONS HAND FITTED

One of the striking advances in motor car construction is the higher standards of inspection and assembly.

An example is the new practice of the Hudson Motor Car company in hand-fitting all pistons individually into cylinders, even after a number of steps apparently have assured a perfect standard of workmanship. The new practice on Hudson Super-Sixes is described as follows:

First, the cylinder bores are tested for accuracy and for size with Johansson gauges. Then pistons are selected for the individual cylinders—likewise measured by the Johansson gauges. These tests generally are considered to assure satisfactory results, since Johansson gauges are science's most accurate instruments.

But Hudson has now added an operation of hand-fitting the measured and inspected pistons into the measured and inspected cylinder bores. A clearance of two thousandths of an inch is satisfactory; but one of 2 1-2 thousands causes a rejection and the selection of a new piston.

This closeness of fit, it is declared, is possible because the Hudson pistons are built with a double strut of invar non-expanding steel. It is said that these pistons can be fitted safely to even a closer fit than the old time cast iron ones, and that they have the additional advantage of lightness to assure rapid acceleration and smoothness.

All pistons in a set must match in weight, as well as fit perfectly into the individual cylinder bores.

Hudson engineers say that these standards have improved still further the performance and durability of the motors, and are an insurance against piston slap or rapid cylinder bore wear.

Hand-fitting hitherto has been an operation to be found only in the highest priced cars. J. B. Boyce is local Hudson Essex dealer.

GOOD PROGRESS IN FILM SOUND SYNCHRONIZING

Victor Will Erect Plant In Hollywood Soon

A large plot of ground in Hollywood, Cal., situated a short distance from the studios of several important motion picture companies, has been purchased by the Victor Talking Machine Company as a site for a plant in which it will carry on its work of sound synchronization for films, is announced from the offices of the Victor Talking Machine Company of Canada, Limited, Montreal. Work will get under way immediately on a record-pressing plant and in the near future a studio will be erected in which actual scenes from photoplays may be "shot" at the same time voices of players or other sound accompaniments are being recorded. This plant will be in addition to the one owned and operated by the Victor Company in Oakland.

The purchase of this ground is a step in the development of sound synchronization which Victor inaugurated a few months ago. Further plans call for the building of a studio in New York City for the recording of music not only for pictures but for the general recording activities of Victor in the metropolitan district.

It is not the intention of the Victor Company in any way to compete with the film producing companies. It will be strictly a service company providing producers with sound accompaniments for their photoplays, either in the form of complete synchronized scores, arranged and recorded by Victor's expert staff and made after the feature films have been cut and edited, or in sound effects recorded during the actual photographing of the films. It will also make records for any company which does its own recording. This latter work it has done for some time for the Vitaphone Company.

UP TO PARENTS TO SAFEGUARD CHILD'S SIGHT

Watch your child looking at a picture book or reading. Watch out for frowns and squints, tilting the head to one side. Also notice if the book is held too near or too far from the eyes.

These "little things" grow faster than the child, but in most instances can be overcome if discovered and attended to in time. Remember—faulty sight and eyestrain uses up nervous energy and saps the child's intelligence. It is only fair to children to save them from all this wherever possible.

If an eye-examination shows that your child needs glasses, don't let modern prejudice against glasses stand in the way of the child's health, comfort and advancement in school work. The use of glasses now will relieve all strain and perhaps make the wearing of glasses unnecessary in later years.

We use every care in fitting the eyes of children with glasses, and have received the highest recommendations upon our skill and the quality of our work. Our eye-examination is scientifically made and we do not have to depend upon the child's answers to our questions in order to obtain a proper fitting. Do not hesitate to bring the child—there is not the slightest pain or discomfort connected with eye-examinations here.

Bennett Delivers Stirring Message At Conservative Picnic -- Campbellford Women Killed

MOTHER AND SON FALL TO DEATH

Were Attempting To Cross Canadian National Trestle

OTHERS ESCAPE

Mrs. James Jacob, Campbellford, Met Horrible Death Saturday

Campbellford, July 23.—Trapped on the long C.N.R. bridge that spans the Trent River and Grand Road, Mrs. James Jacob, 28, and her son, Lloyd, were killed Saturday afternoon. Two other children were barely able to reach safety. With sparks flying from all wheels as the train's every de- pendable applied the train came to a stop a few feet too late.

Attempting to place her child in safety, the mother and boy fell from the bridge to the concrete of the Grand Road, 30 feet below. Alone the mother could have crossed the bridge in time. Her efforts to save Lloyd, took her life.

Mrs. Jacobs and the children had been picking berries in the woods to the east end of the bridge. With their pails full they had started back via the bridge.

Engineer Warner, of Lindsay, saw the [illegible] He leaned far out of the cab and tried them to go back. He applied the brakes and, powerless to help, witnessed the desperate race.

The inquisitive were picked up, one boy injured but it was believed he's not dying. Just the mother might recover. She was taken to Dr. J. Pree's office. Later she was taken to her home [illegible] Mrs. Jacob, 28, was born in Campbellford.

Officials state that the train—a freight, bright—was not travelling fast that at time as the brake- [illegible] were set when passing the station, 300 yards from the bridge.

Mrs. Jacob is survived by four children. Her husband is a plumber.

Thus is the second tragedy of the kind on the bridge. Two years ago a man was caught and buried by a train that the Trent River.

EIGHTY-FOUR, RETURNS TO SPEND A HOLIDAY IN SCENES OF YOUTH

James Grothers Travelled 6000 Miles From Sunny South

James Crothers, Ing'ersoll, California, an old resident of Belleville, arrived in this city this morning to spend a few weeks among the scenes of his early days. Mr. Crothers who has seen eighty-four summers travelled the entire six thousand miles by rail unaccompanied. He will visit his sister, Mrs. Sarah M. Haight, 4th Concession of Thurlow. The aged gentleman was born on Big Island in the Bay of Quinte and spent his youth a few afterwards moving to Belleville. When nineteen years of age he left Canada to seek his future home in the sunny South, where he followed the occupation of fruit growing and only a few months ago he retired from active work as a lemon producer.

Despite his advanced years Mr. Crothers retains all his faculties unimpaired and can easily read the finest print without the aid of glasses. When interviewed by the Intelligencer this morning he reviewed the many changes that have taken place during his absence and he has failed as yet to locate any of his boyhood associates. He was a particular friend of Messrs. Weese and Fanning both of whom were proprietors of hotels on Front St. The buildings they occupied have since disappeared. He clearly remembers having witnessed an execution in the Belleville Courtyard when Richard and Mary Edwards were sent to the gallows for the murder of a man named Munro in Lake Township. Mr. Crothers' memory serves him well as in answer to a question put by the scribe he readily gave the date of the execution as December 8th, 1837. Dr. Brown was, mayor of the city of Belle-

TOURIST FULLY-EQUIPPED READY FOR WINTER SPORTS

Hamilton, July 23.—All ready for Winter sports, an American tourist from the Sunny South arrived in Hamilton Saturday with a toboggan and a sleigh strapped on the side of his car. He had brought along clothing for the sports and asked a traffic officer how long it would be before he'd have to use it. He was told that it would be necessary to put on heavy underwear. He did not stop in Hamilton, evidently under a July sun, but

Conservative Leader Deals With Tariff Problems At Oshawa

Oshawa, July 23—Wedding a visit of Oshawa in between his Western and Maritime tours, Hon. R. B. Bennett, Leader of the Conservative Party, addressed some six thousand people at a picnic here Saturday. It was Mr. Bennett's first visit to Oshawa, and he spent the whole day in Ontario's county. Leaving Toronto at the head of a large party of Toronto Conservatives early in the morning, he was tendered a civic welcome at Whitby en route, and in response delivered a short address. On his arrival in Oshawa he made a tour of the city, visiting the war memorial and a number of industrial plants.

At the picnic in the afternoon, Hon. John S. Martin, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, speaking on behalf of the Government of Ontario, expressed a welcome to Mr. Bennett and paid tribute to his qualities as a leader and a statesman.

Mr. Bennett, in his address, dealt chiefly with tariff problems. He deplored what he termed the exodus of Canadians to the United States, and demanded an "adequate measure of protection" for Canadian industry. The Conservative Party, he declared, "ought still to have a place in Canadian affairs," he maintained, "We have no mandate to think of other countries as far as our economic life is concerned," he declared.

"What part is Mr. King bound for?" he asked, referring to recent declarations by the Premier, of Canada's equality status at the Imperial Conference and establishment of embassies in foreign countries. "If he wants to make this a Independence Day, let him do so. Let us have a well-defined expression from Premier King as to where he is heading, what his chart is and what his port."

All the major developments brought about in the history of Canada had been the work of the Conservative party, Mr. Bennett contended. Confederation had been brought about under the leadership of Sir John A. Macdonald; the Canadian Pacific Railway had been built by the Conservatives and had turned out a success despite the "scoffing jeers of the Liberals," and under the Conservatives, the party had brought about the establishment and development of industry.

MINOR DAMAGES IN AUTO CRASH

When Robert Oliphant, in this city, swung to the left side of the road on Highland Avenue yesterday in order to make the turn into his driveway, a car driven by Gordon R. Hargreaves, of Wellington Street, was also on the wrong side of the road and crashed into the rear end of Oliphant's automobile and broke the latter car's tire carrier. Mr. Hargreaves' car sustained a broken headlight and bumper. The matter was amicably settled between the two parties and the police did not hold either driver.

DISMISSED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Ernest Baker Is Fined For Reckless Driving Here

Ernest H. Baker was discharged this morning upon a charge of being drunk in charge of a car before Magistrate Mills in police court. It was alleged that Baker had driven down the wrong side of the road on Sunnyside about 12.30, last night, and after crashing into an automobile driven by Wesley Collins, of Oshawa, and had then smashed into a second car immediately behind Collins' automobile, doing considerable damage. The [illegible] car was driven by W. F. Cooper, of Toronto.

Today Baker faced the serious charge of being drunk in charge of a car and pleaded not guilty. Collins claimed that after the smash-up he had stopped his car and gone back to the scene of the accident, that Baker was staggering down the road and was using profane language.

On the contrary, Mr. T. J. Powers, manager of the Queen's Hotel, this city, stated that when he saw the accused he was about a moment after the Provincial Police Force, who investigated, corroborated Mr. Powers' evidence. Charges, therefore, were dismissed against the young man, but a second one that of reckless driving, Baker paid $24.

The accident occurred between Mr. Collins' and Sunnyside corner. In Collins' car at the time was his wife, another couple and two children. On the evidence given Attorney Donnan was loathe to ask for a conviction.

Farmers Warned To Keep Cattle Off Right-of-Way

"Poisonous weed sprays are not being used along the highways of the county of Hastings this year" stated a prominent official of the Department of Agriculture in a letter received by the Intelligencer today, who inquired with regard to the recent wholesale cattle poisonings in Ontario, and when twenty-six head of cattle owned by Steers Brothers died after eating allegedly poisoned grass.

Every precaution is being taken in this county this year to prevent any such event as occurred at Sutton. Although the Railways have used poisonous fluid on the feeds along the right of way, signs have been posted at short distances warning cattle owners of the danger, and so far no trouble has been experienced in this district.

The Canadian National Railway has treated 3,000 miles of right of way and the Canadian Pacific has done 700 miles. Copper sulphate solution is the mixture used and it is highly poisonous. However, every care is exercised warning farmers against allowing cattle to [illegible] on the tracks, and signs state that the railway will not be responsible for loss of them.

TO-DAY'S THOUGHT

Friendship: makes prosperity brighter while it lightens adversity by sharing its griefs and anxieties. — CICERO.

ALL ROBOTS? OH, NO!

Bernard Shaw's current book on socialism had scarcely riled Benjamin De Casseres, New York essayist, and Mr. De Casseres takes a column in the New York World to say what he thinks about it. He is pretty badly upset.

The equality of income proposed, he says probably appeals to most of the little more than it does to Mr. De Casseres. But the latter fairly sees red — to say nothing of reds — when he thinks of it. After letting off steam for a column, he concludes:

"But I howl in vain. The world is going into a parasitic, feministic, de individualized epoch. Whether it is Fascism, Shaw, Communistic Russia, a rapidly socializing Germany, or a federalized America, character and individuality wither everywhere, and in their place we behold the march of robots and slaves."

That sounds very sad. Does it, though, mean anything in particular?

It does not—unless it means that we ought to turn the clock back to about 1800, returning to the days of hand labor and stage coach transportation, scrapping all the protective legislation by which we have tried to protect the weak from the strong, abolishing universal education and re-accepting the old view that the only people who have any business being comfortable, happy and well fed are those who were fortunate enough to be born into the propertied class.

The world, apparently, is parasitic because of such things as cancer, tuberculosis and unemployment. Insurance, feministic because women can vote, and deindividualized because the poor man as well as the rich can own luxuries. Character and individuality are withered by universal education and the 44-hour week. Robots and slaves are marching because chairs and egg beaters are no longer made by hand. There, brethren, is deep pessimism!

The present stage of society is not final, not fixed. We are still in a ferment. Glittering things are in sight; the absolute abolition of poverty and ignorance, for instance, can now be said to be a genuine possibility. Life is being made easier for the average man than was ever dreamed possible.

Does this average man tend to waste his leisure in profligacy and dissipation? Does the passing of illiteracy spawn tabloid newspapers? Perhaps; what of it? A revolution can be consolidated overnight. Give us a chance.

The Apostle Paul was informed that it is hard to rebel against the inevitable. It is just as hard, and futile, now as it was in Syria 3000 years ago. Even invention of the steam engine did more than one hand labor. It began a new epoch in civilization. A new order of things is being born. The outraged squeals of those who can only look backward are not, after all very significant.

THE LAND OF PROMISE

Roger W. Babson, head of the Babson statistical organization throws out a warning to the young men of Canada to seek their fortunes in their own land instead of rushing to the States. In an interview in Toronto recently he pointed out that the young fellow who leaves Canada for a bigger job in the States nowadays is penny wise and pound foolish and is sacrificing much more in future prospect than he gains in immediate advantage.

His reason for making such a statement was the Woodstock Sentinel-Review is found in the vast opportunities which are opening up in this Dominion of Canada, and the great need there is for bright and capable young men to take advantage of these opportunities and to develop others.

"It always strikes me as unfortunate," said Mr. Babson, "that we have so many of your capable young Canadians coming over to the States—unfortunate for them." What happens is that they come to the States, fall in love with an American girl, marry and remain in the States for good. What they overlook is, that while a young man can earn more in the States than in Canada, he has nothing like the same opportunities for growth and advancement. The United States is working virtually at capacity today and there is not the room for expansion there, that there is in Canada."

Mr. Babson added that the greatest need of Canada today is men, for it is men that make the values. The United States had just as much coal and iron and copper and land a hundred years ago as she has today. She is more prosperous now, though, because she has more men.

This is unusually advice, and it is to be hoped that the young men of Canada will heed it. Apparently the emigration of the States from Canada has not fulfilled the dreams of affluence and power that its great many cases, for almost simultaneously with Mr. Babson's comment comes the announcement that during the month of May just 7,610 Canadians who had gone to the United States to live, had returned, declaring their intention of remaining in Canada.

We have a wonderful country. The great trouble is to get Canadians themselves to realize it.

OTHER MEN'S THOUGHTS

With Bolshevik soldiers concentrating on Finland, it looks like the finish of the Finnish.—Toronto Telegram.

The large area of silence in close proximity to Lake Michigan has recently been identified as William Hale Thompson.—N.Y. Times.

King Alfonso of Spain has been made a field marshal in the British Army. His rise has been phenomenally rapid, for, as we recall it, he was not even a private in that army from August, 1914, until November, 1918.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

Western beer parlors, declares Mr. J. J. Morrison, secretary of the Ontario Farmers' Co-operative Company, are "pretty well filled, particularly in Saskatchewan." An interesting statement, particularly in view of the fact that Saskatchewan has none.—Border Cities' Star.

MARGUERITES AND BLUEBELLS

Waving in the Summer breeze,
Ever swinging;
Marguerites in myriads gay,
Bluebells ringing.

If you listen you may hear,
They are saying—
Who are glad you came this way,
Idly straying.

Rest you here on mossy green;
Take our blessing
Back with you where worldly cares
Are ever pressing.

We would help to lighten days
Full of sadness.
We would chase all clouds away
By our gladness.

Come; this glorious sunshine bright
Is for pleasure;
From the fount of Summer's bliss
Take a good measure."

Thus the myriad marguerites,
Ever swinging,
Sing the Summer's hours away—
Bluebells ringing.

Adolph Sax, inventor of the saxophone, during his lifetime was knocked down a flight of stairs, swallowed a pin, was burned twice, drank poison and was nearly asphyxiated, and blown up. His grievances were great, but he managed to even the score.—Council Bluffs Nonpareil.

HAVE YOU HEARD THESE?

The Major: "I can trace my descent back five hundred years."

Madge: "What a length of time to be on the downward path!"

"I hear Briefless is going to marry a millionaire's daughter."

"Will he give up the law business?"

"Oh, yes, he's going into the sob-ister business instead."

Follician: "As a supporter of Senator ——— no doubt you received a nice berth at the capital?"

Disappointed Office Seeker: "Yes—he gave me a wide one!"

In the midst of his loving words the girl yawned. Even though she raised her hand to conceal it, it did not escape his rapt eye. His lorrest on burning words ceased.

"Why speak to you of love?" he cried bitterly. "You who are an utterly heartless? Your yawn showed it."

"Oh, Clarence," she whispered, horror-stricken "did I open my mouth so wide as that?"

Just Stories

On the authority of C. H. Dickie, M.P., participating in the British Columbia election, it was revealed that Hon. Simon Fraser Tolmie, the provincial opposition leader, had cabinet honors tendered him by Hon. Mackenzie King. From the utterance it was inferred that in 1922, after Mr. King's win, when forming his government he offered Dr. Tolmie the portfolio of min ister of agriculture. Coming as it did from the Liberal chief, Mr. Dickie added, it was a striking compliment indeed to Dr. Tolmie's ability as an administrator, but it displayed the confidence which the new premier had in the man before whom he sat in opposition. Of Dr. Tolmie the Toronto Telegram has just said: "Hon. Simon Fraser Tolmie who has dropped out of federal politics to lead the Conservatives to victory in the coming provincial elections in British Columbia, is probably the most human of all the statesmen and near statesmen who have graced the Opposition front benches at Ottawa in recent years."

Of Sir George Wilkins, now arranging to go to the South Pole, after his northern polar passage from Alaska to Spitsbergen, it is recorded: That he was a correspondent with Turkish troops in the Balkan war of 1912-13. He was second in command of Stefansson's Canadian Arctic Expedition in 1913-17. He then served in the Australian Aviation Corps in the Great War, was second in command of the British Imperial Antarctic expedition of 1920-21, and piloted an airmail with Shackleton in 1921-22.—His right over the Arctic Sea was made after three years of experience with the Arctic with airplanes. Now his plan in Antarctic regions is to chart the Antarctic coast from the Bay of Whales to Graham Land. He holds that air-line routes through the Arctic to Europe and Asia are practicable. He is today looking beyond his Antarctic expedition, which is to be undertaken as a geographer, to a pioneer flight between New York and Peking.

GUELPH DENTIST SHOT IN BACK

Guelph, Ont., July 21.—Dr. Ross F. Wing, a local dentist, reported today that he had been shot in the back and chest from behind while hunting ground hogs. The police were called to his home last night, where he was alone in the absence of his family in the country, and he told them that he had risen from his desk when and had driven to his home and then called the police. His wounds are not regarded as serious.

With cobwebs now up as far as the first bedroom windows and creeping up to the fourth, the Royal York (C. P. R. monster hotel in Toronto is well up to schedule and is expected to be completed in time for the opening next May, notwithstanding the short strike of the steel and building trades.

W. M. Van Valkenburg, president of the Regina Board of Trade, says that his city and province are out to capture industries. That is one great field for profit in industrial and the Eastern States. He figures that the mineral resources of the province should provide the basis of a number of industries; as 42 per cent of the provincial area lies within the pre-Cambrian shield.

Inauguration of the new New York-Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, passenger ship service recently represented the first entrance of a vessel from New York into Yarmouth harbor for the past 30 years. This was the S.S. Evangeline, of the Eastern Steamship Line, carrying 150 passengers. She is of 4,000 tons and her sailing connects with the Dominion Atlantic railway and so enables tourists to reach Nova Scotia and all holiday resorts.

This summer will witness a great deal of activity on the part of the grain companies as a result of the Wheat Pool in the construction of elevators at country points. In Alberta to take care of the larger harvests which are expected. Another company which has just announced its intention to enter on a construction program is the Gillespie Grain Company. According to John Gillespie, president, the firm plans to erect six new elevators with a capacity of 40,000 bushels.

Musicians under the leadership of Flight Lieutenant Jack Amers, forming the band of the Royal Air Force, Britain's youngest military band, landed recently at Quebec from Canadian Pacific liner Montnairn, for a tour of Canada from coast to coast, as did the band of the Coldstream Guards last year. The aggregation was formed in June, 1928, and since then has fulfilled engagements all over the British Isles. The band will play in all the principal centres, military centres and garrison towns of Canada during their tour here.

"First call for dinner!" "Last call for dinner!" The old monotonous ring in the luxury traveller is a thing of the past on the Trans-Canada Limited, C. P. R. trans-continental crack train from Montreal to Vancouver. Now a neatly attired waiter in white coat and apron with a smart black bow tie walks through the cars ringing "chimes" on a dulcimer, an appeal at once more pleasant to the ear and more likely to attract attention than the former method. In time, there is no doubt, the idea will be adopted in all dining car trains of the railway.

Advertised to make the trip from Montreal to London in nine days, the Canadian Pacific freight ship reservation already piloted the run in eight days and twenty hours, making record time for a freight ship between the two ports. The ship is one of the five "Beaver" class vessels in the new fast freight steamship service of the Canadian Pacific. They have refrigerated cargo space and are of 10,000 tons dead weight. The service is between Montreal and London, and there is a sailing from the Canadian port every Friday. The vessels are also making better time than most passenger vessels on the London route.

Mrs. F. D. Walton, ill in bed, rushed to river and rescues two small boys from drowning at Muncie, Ind.

There is no mystery about this

"I would love to talk to her — but frankly; I don't know how to make a Long Distance Call".

We are told that there are many people who actually feel that there is something very complicated about arranging a long distance talk.

And it is really so simple!

There are some nearby points for which you do not even have to ask for "Long Distance" — your local operator will connect you direct with the telephone you want. Such points are listed in the front pages of your directory. If you do not know the number ask "Information".

In calling more distant points, ask the operator for "Long Distance", and when she answers, tell her your telephone number and your name, then the city you wish to reach, with the distant telephone number, if you know it. If you do not know it, "Long Distance" will look it up for you.

It is very simple. You will find the operators — local and long distance — always courteous and helpful, and the experience will convert you to the regular use of a wonderful service.

Why not try it?

BEAVER PICNIC

The Beaver baseball team spent a glorious day at the Sandbanks yesterday at their annual picnic. Although the weather was anything but ideal in the morning the clouds cleared away and the ground was sufficiently dry to conduct a series of races and contests. The races were all keenly contested. A ball game was played during the course of the afternoon while several of the girls enjoyed a dip in the Lake. Several of the girls' parents as well as members of the team took in the excursion.

BEAVERS WON AGAIN

Point Anne girls and the Beavers engaged in a slug-fest at the armouries on Saturday night and after the smoke of battle had cleared away the Beavers were on the long end of a 36-34 count. Bess Doolittle did the pitching for the Beavers and Twila Workman was shifted from centre field to catcher. Both teams hit at a tremendous clip and although the Point Anne team hit hard they could not maintain the heavy hitting of the Beavers.

TABERNACLE UNITED CHURCH WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOC.

The W.M.S. held their July meeting at the home of Mrs. Sherry, on Lovekin Park Street, Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. G. Sharpe presiding. After the opening of the service with hymn 240 and the light of the World, Mrs. Gandford led in prayer.

The minutes of the June meeting were read and adopted, and various reports were given.

Miss Margaret Mason gave a reading which was especially enjoyed, entitled the Prairie Guide. Reading by Mrs. Sanford on Mildred's New View Point. Reading by Mrs. Caverley. An interesting reading from the new study book was given by Mrs. A. Finley.

Piano Duet by Jean and Betty Storey.

The offering was received and the meeting closed with hymn and prayer by Mrs. Gyrachuk. A social hour was then spent on the lawn where a dainty lunch was served by the hostess. The gathering was favored with the presence of Mrs. De Mill, at one time a very active member of the society, who in her ninty-second year was able to enjoy greetings from old friends, after an absence of many years.

HUTLEY—COONEY.

St. George's church was the scene of a very quiet but pretty wedding at one o'clock on Saturday, July 14, when Miss Evelyn Cooney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Cooney, became the bride of Mr. George Hutley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hutley, both of Trenton.

The church was decorated for the occasion with white peonies, sweet peas and roses.

The wedding procession preceded down the aisle to the strains of the wedding march played by Mr. H. Grant, organist. The bride was charming in a white crepe-de-chine dress with hose and shoes to match. The ensemble effected was very pretty in the style and was held in place by a band of pearl beads. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses with fern and babysbreath. The maid of honor was Miss Margaret Hutley, sister of the groom, wearing a dress of Valencia silk crepe with white hose and shoes to match and carried a bouquet of carnations and fern. The bridesmaid, Miss Alice Hutley, was also in a dress of powder blue silk crepe with hose and shoes to match and carried a bouquet of carnations and fern. The bridesmaid, Miss Alice Hutley, was also in a dress of powder blue silk crepe with hose and shoes to match and carried a bouquet of carnations and fern. The groom was played during the signing of the register.

After the ceremony, dinner was served at the home of the groom's parents to the relatives and friends of the contracting parties later Mr. and Mrs. Hutley accompanied by the maid of honor, left for Toronto and Niagara Falls. The bride's travelling costume was an ivory coat and hat to match. They left amid shower of confetti and good wishes, and on their return will reside in Trenton.

CROP PROSPECTS HAVE EFFECT ON MARKET

Chicago, July 23.—Much lower Liverpool cables and reports of fresh to fresh early setbacks today in wheat values here. The weakness of the Liverpool market was ascribed to excellent new crop prospects in Canada and to probable large yield of winter the old Canadian crop. Opening 7-8c to 1 3-4c off, Chicago wheat later underwent a further drop. Corn and Oats went down with wheat, corn starting 1-4c to 1 5-8c off, and afterwards continued to sag, provisions were

DEFER SENTENCE OF MURRAY MEN

Trio Accused of Stealing Sheep And Grain Make Restitution

Cobourg, July 23.—Judge L. V. O'Connor granted a request of T. F. Hall, K.C., in County Court, Cobourg, that the sentence of Charles McGraw, George Puffer and William Taplin, for theft, preferred against them July 20, in order that some restitution could be made for thefts committed by the accused. T. F. Hall appeared for the defence, and W. F. P. Kerr, K.C., for the crown.

The plea of "not guilty" was changed to one of "guilty," when C. McGraw, Morganston and C. Puffer and W. Ingles, Castleton, appeared for sentence. The charges of theft of grain and poultry from farmers in Murray and Brighton townships. The thefts, which, it is alleged, were conducted on an organized and wholesale scale, extended a period of two months, throughout May and June. Over 1,000 bags of grain was disposed of in Trenton, and the chickens in Cobourg.

REV. AND MRS. ROSS HONORED AT BATH

The departure of Rev. G. E. and Mrs. Ross from Bath pastoral charge was celebrated by many kind expressions of appreciation both in word and deed.

The Official Board at its last meeting held before the pastor left the charge passed the unanimous resolution recognising to the full the splendid work of Mr. and Mrs. Ross during their three years stay on the charge and deeply regretting that the minister could not see his way clear to continue his work on the circuit.

On the evening previous to their departure, Mr. and Mrs. Ross were entertained at a unique social function the musical program was provided and refreshments served. The program consisted of addresses readings and musical numbers.

During the rendering of this pleasing function Mr. and Mrs. Ross were invited forward and presented with a purse of gold, a beautiful silver vase, a silver berry spoon, dish the latter was presented to Mrs. Ross and a very complimentary address.

Rev. and Mrs. Ross were taken completely by surprise, but both made happy, jolly and fitting replies.

WOMEN DO NOT NEGLECT HOME

Montreal, Que.—Marguerite Straith writing frontil, Agathe Des, Monts to the "Canada" takes exception to a statement made by that paper on "Women and Education," in which the editor appeared to fear that home interests would be neglected if women took up higher avenues of learning. She writes:

"From my own experience, I can furnish some "social effects" of the lack of education for women in the higher branches of learning in Canada. Some twenty odd years ago, four or five young women students of the arts asked for admittance to the Department of Architecture at McGill University. I was one of them. The daughters of those men who had built up the city and its University, the young Englishmen then at the head of the department, refused the request for trivial reasons. The immediate effect was to drive several of the intending students to the United States where they have since pursued their careers, unwilling and ex-pirate Canadians."

HOLDS WITH THE ENTRY OF WOMEN

London, Eng.—Speaking at the annual convocation of the Deaconess' Order of the Wesleyan Methodist body recently, Rev. Wilfrued Bailey, D. D., ex-president of the British Conference, defended the movement for the opening of the ministry to women. Besides stating and arguing his views on the principle, he gave a summary of practical means of discovering the acceptability of each woman for the pastorate. This, to his mind, was the crutial difficulty to be faced.

An ordained woman are already ministering to several congregations in Britain, the question there is out of the academic stage and pronouncement of this noted Wesleyan leader has aroused interest. He says:

"There are some women who appear to have all the gifts for the ministry that would be required if they were men. They ought to have the highest, the best, the utmost recognition which the church can give."

Pointing out that resolutions coming before the forthcoming annual conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, would admit women to the ministry on precisely much the same terms as men," he suggested that deaconesses should certainly be eligible for ordination while still retaining membership in their order. This would prevent their becoming "stickit ministers" and getting the things started wrong. Churches would be well able to judge of the acceptability of one who had not yet been ordained. Then, if she could not be stationed by conference she could find an opening in deaconess' work. He recognized that the problem with women, as with men, in the ministry was to secure train and ordain persons whom the circuits would want as pastors.

MISS MABEL DUNHAM KNOWS MENNONITES

Kitchener, Ont.—Miss Mabel Dunham, author of books on the Mennonite question, is in the city where she took and observer with her on a motor trip in Waterloo County.

"Greatly are the Mennonite women respected by their men folk, but they tell you that they know their place. You won't see a true Mennonite girl walking beside her husband, oh, no—she has just a little behind him. It is not over-lordship, it is just custom. A custom, too, in the way they which wash the wall at the back of the verandah that shades the front of their house.

"Even I, a descendant, don't know just why it is done," said Miss Dunham, who loves her mother's people dearly, "nor why they will have no curtains on the window, easy minds. No records of these things are left. It is the proper thing to show you the old china when you go visiting in a real Mennonite house, and then you will have to see the garden, for every Mennonite lives this spot."

THE MORNING GROUCH IS A COMMON FAULT

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH.

Eminent Psychologist.

SO-CALLED grouchiness—irritability—is a common habit.

Especially is it noticeable upon awakening in the morning.

We spend all of us "getting out of the wrong side of the bed"—that is, of making a false start.

Where then are grouchy in the morning than women.

The fact, men are more irritable all the time than women.

What does the morning grouchiness signify?

It means a protest against being disturbed.

It indicates a distaste of facing the realities of life!

The person who habitually sleeps late is a pain in point.

He doesn't like the tasks of life and so doesn't want to get started.

His unconscious mind protects him against the unpleasant experiences which he knows he has to endure.

It wraps him in the arms of Morpheus and lulls him into a sense of security.

Grave-charming sleep, thou easer of all woes."

And why are women less likely to be bad-tempered in the morning than men?

Well, women are more adaptable than men.

Women can make the best of things with a small finer grace than men.

Women are much more likely to accept a situation than to rebel against it.

Lastly, women are more reasonable and practical when it comes to resigning to the inevitable.

The feeling of safety that sleep engenders probably goes back to the days before we were born.

The mind functioned to some degree at that time.

Perhaps it got the notion that sleep, security and freedom from annoyance, expressed identical states of well-being.

At any rate, when a child is born it cries.

There may be a psychological significance in that besides the physical, namely one of correcting the things in order to breathe.

For that is it may, pessimism and fretfulness upon arising can be overcome.

Use your "horse-sense" as they say.

You've got to go through with the work of the day—with the work that lies ahead—then why not start pleasantly?

Try whistling or humming a tune.

That often helps. It gets you "set right."

Besides, the more you grouche, the worse it all seems and the harder you make it for yourself.

Morning grouchiness can and should be conquered.

To let it persist is childish.

It means also that you have not profited by experience as you should, that you have not yet learned how best to battle with life.

When first you try to overcome the morning grouch you will find it difficult.

But the second morning will be easier than the first, and the third easier than the second.

But stick it out and grow up!

It may not make you wealthy but it certainly will make you happier.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housekeepers

Boil your peas gently; toss them in fresh butter; sugar them slightly, for there is no other way in which they will render to you their full and tender flavor. If you are among the busy ones who will make a separate course of them.

Sponge cake that has grown stale can be used up for the nursery by soaking in milk and serving cold, cut in squares, with a thick, pure chocolate is very nourishing and warming for children in winter when served in this way.

Select plums that tend to plump ness and fullness just as in purchasing peaches. The largest and best colored plums of any variety are preferable but also more costly. Perhaps the most important thing in buying plums is to get ripe stock—not underripe or overripe.

Chapter 76.

THE LETTER OF A SCAPEGRACE

Heedless of the hour, Celia tore open the letter addressed in Falconer's handwriting. It read:

"You infernal little hussy—but also, darling girl: This will naturally surprise you, coming as it were, from the grave. I've no doubt that you buried what you thought was my body, with pomp and ceremony and a large amount of thankfulness. I ought to hate you for the hasty trick you played on me that night—at—might have known I couldn't trust you—but, unfortunately, I'm still crazy about you. However, this is not meant to be a love-letter—incidentally, I've never written one to my life. I'm sending along this little missive—if you'll probably startle you out of your wits—to inform you that the man who posed as your husband and whom you gleefully imagined you'd planted in the charmingly peaceful cemetery of your charmingly peaceful town is not dead at all. You buried Manuel; you poor deluded child! Manuel, who is dead, partly by my fault, partly because of his own avarice . . . Here is the way of it!

"On the night when I planned to make my getaway, with you as my companion, and your obnoxious friend, Lazzy Gomez, proceeded in wayish as and try to hammer the daylights out of me—incidentally I don't know yet why—I missed the eight o'clock train. You, false child, undoubtedly know that! I'll tell you! I wasn't feeling any too good, with Manuel right across the street to witness the whole performance and see that I was double crossing him about the money. There wasn't another train as I had, perforce, to sacrifice my comfort and dignity and jump the freight that went through shortly afterward. With honesty, I have to admit that I'd done such a thing before, but never by preference.

"By another unfortunate mischance Manuel saw me and followed me. I went up the ladder reserved for the use of the brakemen, like a monkey up a pole. Manuel, being slightly heavier and not so young, had more difficulty. I was there and aboard when he caught up with me. Naturally, I can't tell you what he said to me. But he tackled me. He should have known better—not to of a speeding train. He had a knife, and I, fought for my life, I'll tell you that. His thought, of course, that I had the money. He was trying to search me without giving him any. It was a pretty fight, Celia, and the sort Cross treated me to when he took me unaware. If I've been prepared for Cross, I could have given him like a rest with a couple of grips I have, but I fell my last belt in some wicked when he starts.

"Anyway, to go back, to Manuel, I thought my last minute had arrived. We struggled all over the roof of the freight—and were nearly run over as of going overboard half a dozen times. The end came rather suddenly. Manuel slipped. I saw his danger and I swear to you, Celia, that, in spite of my fear of him, I would have saved him, if I could, because I won't forget for a long time the screech he gave as he went over the side. I saw him land on the opposite track. And then, a moment later. . . but it seemed like an eternity, I saw the headlights of a train bearing down on that track. It was on an instant. I heard the roar of the other train, and the freight slid around a curve. That's all I know. I didn't try to look back.

"I dare say I should have returned to town, but I had an idea in the back of my head, that the police might be too anxious to see me, if Manuel had been recognized during his sojourn there. Also, I had to get to Central America, if the revolution was to go forward as we planned, and delay would have been fatal. After all, I wasn't responsible for Manuel's finish. If he hadn't been so keen for money, he'd be alive today.

"I got a boat, cursing you for double-crossing me at the last moment, and sailed alone. And here I am. But, alas, not yet president of our pretty little republic, nor controller of those tempting oil-wells for which Manuel lost his life and for which I've got myself into something of a jam. Of that, more later.

"The point is that I've only just heard what happened back in your town—that it was I who was supposed to be killed, and that your wild young friend, Cross, is to be tried for murder. I've no cause to love him, but I'm writing this letter to save his skin, even though I may get myself into hot water. I'm not entirely the rotter you always thought me, Celia. There's a strain of good blood that shows, now and then—mostly in my undoing.

"Just at present, I'm in a mess myself. I was caught by the good old U. S. A. in a little smuggling proposition, and the future doesn't look too bright for Richard. However, we'll hope for the best. I've already informed your chief of police of my part in Manuel's sad demise. That will be one thing for Cross, I think. And as for you, my little spitfire, I have only to say that I'm still mad about you and, when I've extricated myself from my present precarious situation, I shall be coming back to get you, Celia, honestly. I've never loved a woman before and——"

The letter fell from Celia's nerveless fingers. She didn't try to finish reading it. She sped to the 'phone. But even as she reached it, the bell rang. Annesley's voice, cool and calm, came over the wire.

"The trial is off, Celia. Your husband is alive; it was Manuel who was killed——"

"I——I know. . . I've just received a letter."

"You, too?" He laughed shortly. "It certainly did things thoroughly, that nephew of my old friend, once he started. Both the chief of police and the district attorney have affidavits from him. Cross will be freed at once."

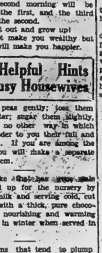

Celia tried to say something, but the wave of thanksgiving that swept over her robbed her of her voice. Annesley went on:

"There are a great many details to be gone into. I shall be busy all the morning and part of the afternoon. . . . But may I see you later, to tell you the full story?"

"Oh, yes. Please. Please."

There was a moment's silence. Then he said: "So you are not a widow, after all, Celia."

These pajamas illustrated above are intriguingly and delightfully French. They are made of peach crepe de chine with narrow pointed bandings of delicate robin's egg blue and are the last word in chic for intimate night garments. The short sleeves sleeves make them cool and comfortable. The becoming neckline is a smart Vionnet, though it could be round or square, as the wearer pleases. Besides crepe de chine, silk crepe, radiua, satin, poplin or cotton crepe could be used for these pajamas. (Copyright, 1928, by Bell Syndicate.)

(From a Woman's Standpoint)

London repeats a vogue for gums and other bonbons in jewels with real glasage cails, the new large porcelain beads like turquoise matrix, but very bright, and the crystals in pastel colorings to wear with chiffon frocks.

Prints bid fair to continue into fall, judging from recent advance fall collections shown in New York where printed velvet is important for afternoon wear in a new collection, and more printed with small designs is presented in evening frocks, which are especially effective.

SINCLAIR'S

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl fifteen years old and have been going with a boy for two years. He is sixteen. We have been engaged a year. We both took the same studies last year—in first year high—and both received exactly the same grades. His sister also went with us. They came up every night and we studied together and then took a ride, or something after her "steady" had come. But in school we acted as though we were not relationship.

Our tastes and interests are similar. We both have planned a four year college course. Then we are to be married. Our parents nor no one knows this.

We do not limit one another's friendship, yet neither of us go out with anyone else.

My mother objects to us being together every other night? She does not know we are engaged? Do you think this too often?

Should I break this engagement? I realize a girl of my age know nothing of love—real love. Yet mother married at fifteen and she and dad are sweethearts yet.

TROUBLED PATSY.

TROUBLED PATSY: Secret engagements are always unwise, Patsy, dear, as they lead to most embarrassing situations. The best thing for you both is to forget all about an engagement, until you are through college and then see whether you feel the same towards each other. You see by being secretly engaged, you are forced to deceive your mother and that should never be. She is quite right in objecting, as long as she does not know of your engagement. Why not tell her, and then follow whatever advice she may give you. However, I think you are both too young to tie yourselves down by such a binding promise. And remember, Patsy, when you cite your mother and dad, that conditions were not so hectic in their days as in ours. There weren't quite so many distractions then as now, so life was not so rushed and breathless as it is now. I really think you should break your engagement, but first I should advice you to tell your mother the whole story.

ANNIE LAURIE.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl nineteen years old, and considered good-looking and very popular.

I have been going out with never a boy friends in the past. But I have met two whom I care most for.

One considers me more than a friend and tells me he loves me with all his heart, but I cannot see him often on account of his work, and it is hard for me to stay home, when he does not come up to see me.

On the other hand, I have only known one of the boys for two weeks and he has asked me to be his wife.

He comes from a very respected family and does everything to please me, but its hard to decide.

Do you think this is true love? I'm almost crazy.

LONESOME BOB.

LONESOME BOB: I don't think you can love either of the young men. Lone some Bob, for if you were really in love you would surely know it. Treat them both in a nice friendly way, but explain that you do not love them. Perhaps by time you may decide which of the two you care most for, but in the meantime I shouldn't give any decision that might cause unhappiness in the future.

RECALL STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE

Workmen Tearing Down Theatre Look For Clue of Ambrose Small

Toronto, Ont. (C.P.).—The historic Grand Opera House, whose boards were trodden by the great of the theatrical world, is being demolished and the wrecking of the building can be recalled not only its better days but the famous Ambrose Small case, a classic of its kind. Workmen tearing down the old structure were instructed to go carefully in order that if possible some clue might be found to the mysterious disappearance in December, 1919, of Small, owner and theatrical magnate. The building was the place where he was last seen.

Stories of strange happenings are told by the workmen. The watchman also has been overdone by fear as what he believes to have been supernatural manifestations, and will not return to the job. Another declares that without warning, a gust of wind early one morning carried dust along with its clouds and dislodged many bricks in the wall. The building had been thoroughly searched before, the police even doing much digging in the lower regions in the unsuccessful effort to find even the smallest indications of what happened to Small.

"If the building was not near a gas gas with people and police around all the time I would not stay here five minutes" the watchman said.

Perhaps the ugliest spectres of great actors and actresses walking the scenes of their dazzling triumphs of long ago, causes the strange shrewery of debris.

Robert B. Mantell, famous Shakespearian actor, who died a few days ago appeared long ago at the Grand. Nat Goodwin and De Wolf Hopper to the lights of the present day stage—Margaret Anglin, Ethel Barrymore and their many confreres.

HER LOVER LEFT ALL HER ASSETS

London (By The Canadian Press).—A story, strongly reminiscent of Miss Havisham, of Gaits House, in Dickens' "Great Expectations," is being related with a small villa at Bush Hill Park on the north side of London. For two years the house has been left to decay; the furniture is rotting and the once charming garden is overgrown.

Exactly two years ago, Miss McCloy, the last occupant was found dead in the house; she had died some weeks before her body was discovered, but there were no signs of foul play.

No relatives could be traced. The keys are held by the executors' agent, and Miss McCloy's jewels and investments—totalling over $5,000—are held by the Treasury.

It is said that Miss McCloy—like Miss Havisham—received on the morning of her wedding day a letter from her lover saying that he had changed his mind, and was going abroad. She was heart-broken, and could not, apparently, settle her love.

Now, the favorite flower of her faithless lover, were the only blooms she would grow in her garden; his photograph was always on her mantelpiece, and it is believed that she left him all her property. He cannot be found.

Madras, India, July 21.—After nine policemen had been injured in clashes with striking railroad men today, officers fired upon the strikers, whose casualties were not determined.

272 MILLIONAIRES IN CANADA NOW

Toronto, Ont.—There are 272 millionaires in Canada and more than half of them reside in the province of Ontario, it is stated in a circular by Boyd's City Directories of New York, an advertising and listing firm, to various financial houses in this city.

The circular, giving compilations for 1928 and showing Canadians classified by wealth, states that there are 139 millionaires in Ontario, 97 of whom are in Toronto, which also leads the cities in Canada.

The province of Quebec is listed second with a total of 81 millionaires, 76 residing in Montreal and 10 in Quebec City. Manitoba has 21, all of whom are Winnipeg residents.

British Columbia comes next with five, Alberta and Nova Scotia have two each, while Saskatchewan and Prince Edward Island are not credited with having enough liquid population anyone with more than $1,000,000.

Next to Winnipeg, which is third in the Boyd listing, London, Ont., is placed fourth in the classification by cities with a total of 14. Ottawa, Ont., and Quebec City have 10 each, Vancouver, B.C., 6 and Hamilton, Ont., 4.

The circular also details the wealth of Canadians by provinces and large cities in various other grades starting at $500,000.

CAR IN DEMAND IN FAR NORTH

Both Machinery And Automobiles Are Wanted In Alaskan Territory

The automobile and modern machinery are active participants in another "gold rush" to Alaska. Together they are not only assisting the gold shore of the world but also are opening up a new country unsurpassed in scenic richness, delightful climate, pleasing condition and ideal summer playground.

The demand for automobiles in Alaska is indicative of the progress of this most northern territory. Recently a shipment of Oldsmobiles made as part of the cargo of the liner S. S. Alaska, chartered from Seattle for points north. The Oldsmobiles included a variety of models and were consigned to the Chilkoot Motor Co. Fairbanks, Alaska.

The automobiles of Alaska, still generally believed, were gained in the nineties when thousands of prospectors rushed over the Chilkoot Pass many perishing in the rigors of winter and for lack of proper transportation facilities. Gold was the lure and fortunes were panned out of the gravel of the creek beds and rivers.

Recently modern machinery has been brought to Alaska and is used in working the old mines on an efficient basis, gleaning a rich harvest left by the gold rushers due to their crude methods. This new "gold rush" is attracting attention to the entire country, which is being rediscovered in the building of good roads and the use of modern machinery in the mines today dog teams of 30 years ago as a means of transportation.

Good highways and good automobiles, such as Oldsmobiles, are replacing dog sleds, which frontiers and distance are broken down. Alaska has a fine system of improved into a touring paradise, visited annually by thousands of tourists who find modern time inconvenience according to the Oldsmobile dealer at Fairbanks.

Through thousands of windshields, tourists are learning that Alaska is not the bleak land of frozen wastes that it was pictured. This new view of our most northern outpost shows a country rich in resources, ready produce, grains, lumber, copper, precious metals, fish and other commodities necessary to the welfare of the world. And with a real summer each year.

LONDON IS STILL FINANCIAL CENTRE

Chicago, Ills. — At a recent gathering of famous economists at Norman Wait-Harris Institute and Political 3rd ure produced statistics and arguments to prove that London is still the financial centre of the world.

With this viewpoint in mind, he argued that the invisible items of the British balance of trade should be a matter of general interest throughout the world. Since the annual British Capital surplus at present is only one fifth as large as in 1911, the analysis of these invisible items would suggest that London bankers are increasing their short time borrowings, decreasing their balances held abroad and using the credits so derived to maintain the the city of the world.

"This process of "lending long" and "borrowing short" is one that is likely to great difficulties in the near future, Prof. Sprague said. In the United States, increased demand for ready money could be met by release of gold, but London is particularly sensitive concerning gold supply and has no large surplus on which to draw, he said.

COLLECTION OF VALUABLE COINS

Edmonton Woman Possesses Many Costly Books Too

Edmonton, Alta.—The collecting of old coins is a hobby that perhaps not many women indulge in, but Mrs. E. Q. Chase of this city has a varied and valuable collection, as well as some very interesting and rare old books. Among her coins are included two Roman coppers of the reign of Augustus, Romanus Peter; a New Brunswick half penny of 1843; United States copper of 1842; copper of George IV. reign; United States silver half dollar, 1831; Napoleon coppers of 1850 and 1852; American penny, 1851; penny, of the time of George II; penny of Nova Scotia during the reign of George III; a Russian coin, 1840; very small coin from California, 1854; four Chinese coins, the date of which are not known; a square Dutch copper; a United States 50 cent piece with the name of Admiral Adams on it; a Mexican one cent piece of 1905; a silver dollar of 1887 from Hong Kong, bearing the Victoria, 1897; a French piece of 1899; a Brazilian 100 reis, Prussia, 1822; 1899; New Brunswick copper of 1864; Greek coin of 1923; Belgian coin of 1911.

Mrs. Chase also has a copy of the London Times, November 7, 1805, with an account of the battle of Trafalgar and the death of Lord Nelson.

Another possession of Mrs. Chase is a miniature history of England from the time of William the Conqueror to the Coronation of Edward VII in 1901. It is only one inch square and printed on very fine India paper. "Alice in Chimes", by Charles Dickens, printed in a book one inch by one and one half, is also a valued possession. The frontispiece shows the new House of Parliament at that time.

WANT WRAPPED BREAD, TORONTO

Toronto, Ont. — A deputation from the Toronto Housewives' Welfare Club, headed by Mrs. A. M. Rumtis, appeared before the Toronto Board of Health to ask that wrapped bread be made compulsory in the city. "There is a deplorable lack of cleanliness in this point," said Mrs. Rumtis. Mrs. McGregor, for the Local Council of Women, voiced a strong protest against the present lack of wrappings. "Only five per cent. of the bread is wrapped" she said.

An alderman pointed out that the small dealer had protested that such a regulation would put them out of business. He said that a certain baking company had machines for wrapping but had no call for wrapped bread in the cities these days aren't one of business" replied Mrs. McGregor.

Dr. Hastings M.O.H. stated that for many years the department of health had been endeavoring to educate the public. Several actions had been instituted against drivers who had violated the regulation that the gloves were to be used for no other purpose than the delivery of bread. Some of drivers have been fined $10 and while gloves....

In many cities wrapped bread was used almost exclusively, he stated, with out any definite regulation. This had come from public demand. He did not feel that there need be any additional charge for this service.

"I don't like to see the public press that the habits of the people of the country are so lax that they have to be forced by law to be clean," Dr. Hastings said.

VANCOUVER HAS LOW INFANT MORTALITY

Vancouver, B.C.—Vancouver is very proud of the fact that it can boast the lowest infant mortality in North America, losing only 18 out of every thousand babies born in the city, but Miss Trudy King, the Director of Child Welfare in the health department of Wellington, New Zealand, and founder of the famous Plunkett Nurses' Association comes from a country where the rate of infant mortality has been reduced to 38 per thousand.

Speaking here today Miss Trudy King emphasized is the care of the mother before the baby arrives and the feeding of the baby. At Dunedin, South Island, which was the original capital, where the Scots founded New Zealand they had no deaths for two years from the main cause of infantile mortality, that is, infantile diarrhoea.

They decided that when the first baby died they would lower all the flags and appoint a royal commission to enquire into the cause of its death. That town has 100,000 inhabitants. So great a hold has the idea achieved that the usual greetings in some towns of New Zealand are not "Good morning, have you baked..."

SHOULD NOT BE FAT AFTER 30

Woman Not Entitled To Extra Pounds As She Grows Older

New York—The women of excess weight who says she is entitled to more pounds as she grows older is contradicted by Jos. F. Wadsworth, of New York.

"At one time," writes Dr. Wadsworth in "The Charm by Choice," "weight was figured on the basis of age as well as of height. Now, however, we know people grow old gracefully and early. A normal weight based on height has been established from large groups of healthy men and women by insurance companies the army and navy and other educational institutions."

Dr. Wadsworth admits a universal tendency to put on flesh after 30, but also attributes this increase in avoirdupois to appetite.

All 100 pounds for five feet of height For every inch over five feet add six pounds. For every inch under five feet subtract six pounds.

Glandular disease affects height and weight in several ways. Dr. Wadsworth reports.

"In many ways, there is the very fat person, short or tall, who eats very little in proportion to her size. She is suffering from an excess in the secretion of the pituitary gland, or a deficiency in that of the thyroid.

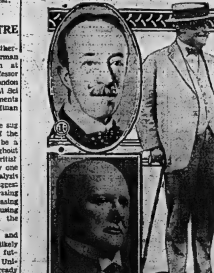

Second; there is the very tall person whose weight never catches up with her height, whose stamina is never accredited too long.

Third; there is the person of average height, much under weight, with an enormous capacity for food. She has scores of thyroid gland trouble.

The abnormally obese person eats little and sleeps much. The abnormally thin drives a horse with more energy than a locomotive.

FATALLY INJURED

Windsor, Ont., July 21.— Joseph Jarasjicic, 49, Windsor, was fatally injured last night when a touring car in which he was a passenger was struck by a truck driven by Henry Thornton, Windsor. Thornton and Louis Guerin, Windsor, driver of the touring car, were held.

Many prominent members of the Orange order in Toronto are going to attend the session of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America, which convenes at Edmonton this week. At least 25 Toronto delegates are expected. None of those who will attend are: (1) F. M. Johnston, ex-alderman of Ward 1; (2) Hon. Joe Thompson, ex-speaker of the Provincial legislature; (3) Alderman of Ward 8, W. A. Howell; (4) Lolius H. Reid, chairman of board of education, who will probably succeed the late William Lee as grand secretary of the Orange lodge; (5) Jr. Kirk; (6) Fred Dane, who was the first imperial vice-president of the triennial Orange convention, and (7) S. A. Moffat.

EXCAVATIONS IN MEXICO BEGIN

Near Headwaters of Cimarron River; May Reveal Valuable Relics

Albuquerque, N.M. — Excavations now under way in Northern New Mexico near the headwaters of the Cimarron River are expected to reveal a prehistoric civilization which existed 20,000 years ago, according to Barnum Brown of the American Museum of Natural History, New York.

Fossils of eight bison of an extinct species and seven spearheads unlike anything used by modern Indians have been unearthed in the first sixty square feet excavated. Mr. Brown pointed out that the spearheads are made of chalcedony and jasper and that the craftsmanship is equaled only by those excavated in Egypt.

The scene of the excavation is where 20,000 years ago an ancient lake was located, Mr. Brown believes. His bases the time on the accumulation of strata which vary from 6 1-2 feet to 15 feet.

Fossils of the bison indicate a massive animal than the buffalo which roamed the Western plains in the nineteenth century. "The hump is not so high, the head is broader, the nose narrower and the horns considerably larger."

PEARL SEASON TO OPEN SOON

Frail Boats Will Sail Away In Search of Precious Jewels

Broome, Australia, (C.P.) — The pearl luggers are away again. During the next few months they will be crawling along the coast a distance of four or five hundred miles and often these cockle shells of hairy will be out of sight of land for weeks at a time. Supplies will be taken to them by cargo vessels—canned food, water and kerosene for the engine.

Winter is the one great season, and roaring gales blow the boats so far out to sea that much time is lost in sailing back for roaring pounds of fifteen to twenty fathoms in depth.

The crews of these luggers are composed of Japanese, Chinese, Malays and Indians, with a sprinkling of Filipinos and Europeans. The only white man to each boat lives a solitary life. He may go for weeks without speaking anything save Malay, which is the universal language.

When ashore for a few brief days he finds himself lapsing into Malay in conversation with friends.

The two Japanese divers work from daylight to dark six days a week, and average one hundred and fifty pairs of shells per day. These are brought up at intervals of an hour, and the "tuan" (master) generally opens them as soon as they are dumped on the deck.

An ordinary table knife is used to open the shells, a quarter. As he plies each shell up the white men thinks, "Does this contain the pearl which will bring me riches?"

PLAYMATES NEEDED FOR YOUNG KIDDIES

Minneapolis, Minn.—The importance of playmates in the development of the young child was emphasized before departments of kindergarten-primary education of the National Education Association by Miriam Brubaker, nursery school director of the National Kindergarten and Elementary College at Evanston, Ill.

The child who has the privilege of being one of a playgroup meets a challenge to his mental capacities that the child who plays alone does not meet," she said. Every day with any group of and the success with which they perform challenging problems strengthens them in due time the opportunity often the youngsters to work out their own solutions.

CLAM CULTIVATION IN NEW ENGLAND

Jonesport, Me.—This town and its neighbor, Beals Island, are giving attention to clam cultivation.

Forty reservations have been set off and worthwhile results obtained. So prolific is the Maine coast clam that the flats were properly protected and cultivated there would be little danger of the clam industry's decline.

One Knox county town advertised with a quarter acre, closing a "clam farm" for a period of three years. The flats within the "farm" produced and cultivated there would be little danger of the clam industry's decline.

One Knox county town advertised with a quarter acre, closing a "clam farm" for a period of three years. The flats within the "farm" produced a revenue from the small area was more than $400. H. D. Otis, director of the Maine fisheries commission, says that if the flats were closed and cultivated for...short, periods every acre would average at least 1,000 bushels of clams annually.

On the beach of Jonathan Telford of Craggy Ford, in Cumberland, it was recorded: "Deceased was one of the best, most grouse-shooters in the North of England. In the time of his...bagged 39 grouse in seven consecutive shots, double shots."

SIR GODLEY TO SUCCEED MUNRO

Will Take Over Governorship of Gibraltar In September

London (By The Canadian Press) — Sir Alexander Godley, who retired recently from the position of head of the Southern Command at Salisbury, will succeed Sir Charles Monro as Governor of Gibraltar in September.

Gibraltar being an Army fortress, the appointment is always held by a military man. The salary is $27,500 a year, with $2,500 entertainment allowance.

One of the most popular officers in the British army, General Godley is known by the nickname of "Do it again Alec" from an exclamation made by a man who saw one of his exploits in Cairo when he was with the Anzacs.

He is a man of many flights. He went through the Matabele affair as a staff officer in 1896, and was in the siege of Mafeking, afterwards commanding its western defences.

In the Great War he commanded the New Zealand Mounted Rifles Force from October 1914 to October 1916. He was at the Dardanelles for four-teen months and then he went to France where he was highly praised for the work of his 22nd Corps at Cambrai in 1918.

In March, 1919, General Godley went to East Africa and had to kill were shown on many occasions when incidents connected with the campaign might have given him trouble, if handled too impulsively.

A great admirer of his tolerance was his clemency towards a French-man who had insulted the British flag. After consultation with French officers about the matt, General Godley discharged him with a caution.

His farewell to the British soldiers on the Rhine was an inspiring tribute to the way they had carried out their difficult duties.

General Godley is now 60.

GIRLS' BATTLE TO SAVE MAN'S LIFE

Sydney, N.S.W., — (By the Canadian Press)—Two girls were saved by Bell Donaldson of Brisbane, and Constance Elizabeth Challen were commended by the coroner at Newcastle, near here, for their courageous battle with a shark while attempting to rescue a man.

Edward Lane died from injuries suffered when attacked by a man-eater at Merewether Beach. Miss Donaldson was swimming nearby when she heard Lane's cry for help.

"I saw the water tinged with blood and realized what had happened," waded out to him," the girl recounted. "I tried to pull him in but could not. I tried to lift him but had my girdle. I secured another belt and kept on pulling until I finally got him into shallow water out of reach of the shar, but he was very weak from loss of blood and was dead when the doctor arrived."

CROP REPORT

General

Consistently cold weather conditions with absence of any important damage from peats or other causes, continue to make the crop outlook in the Prairie Provinces highly favorable. Growth is rapid, when the sun does appear, and heading is beginning to head out, and over large areas all grains are ahead of the average at this period. Satisfactory conditions also prevail in the other Provinces. In Quebec warm weather and heavy rains are causing rapid growth in all crops, and the outlook is encouraging. In Ontario mild weather has prevailed during the past week, and all crops are making excellent progress. Similar conditions prevail in the Maritime Provinces. In British Columbia rain has caused some damage to hay and fruit, but pasturage is excellent and roots and grains promise a yield above the average. Details follow:—

Prairie Provinces

Alberta Southeastern and Northeastern Area—There has been abundant moisture and crops are doing very well Warm weather is now required.

Alberta Southeastern Area—Conditions are very favorable and there has been plenty of moisture.

Saskatchewan Northern Area — Crops are growing rapidly. Wheat is jointing to shot blade, and is commencing to head.

Saskatchewan Southern Area — Grains continue to make favorable progress. Crops are good growing condition and wheat is headed out. Local hail storms are reported in a few districts but damage generally is not important.

Manitoba — Excessive rains have caused further flooding of low lands especially in Southeastern Manitoba. Some lodging of wheat has occurred where the growth is heavy. All grains are more advanced than usual at this time. Prospects are satisfactory.

Province of Quebec

Grain and root crops are promising; there is a heavy stand of hay, and pastures are in good condition. Fruit prospects generally are good but development is late. Tobacco is making good progress.

Province of Ontario

Fall wheat is beginning to turn and a good average crop is expected. Spring grains have made rapid growth and are nearly all headed out. Hay crops are expected. The recent warm weather has helped the corn crop. Cutting of hay is now general and the yield will be above the average. Root crops look promising especially potatoes. Tobacco is making rapid growth with good prospects. Small fruits promise a good average crop. Grapes, apples and pears are making a good showing. Pastures are in excellent condition.

Maritime Provinces

Potatoes are making splendid growth everywhere but especially in New Brunswick, where their present condition is estimated at 95 per cent. While there has been some winter killing on hay lands, mainly in New Brunswick and Western Nova Scotia, an above average crop of hay is nevertheless expected. Pastures are very good. Dairy ations point to an average apple crop.

British Columbia

Recent rains have caused slight damage to the hay crop, but a good yield is expected. A large portion of the first cutting of alfalfa in the Okanagan district has been damaged or ruined through continuous rains. Provided there are no further rains, the loss from scab on apples will probably not be as serious as at first anticipated Rains have caused apples to size very rapidly; they should be larger than average. Apples are estimated to yield 110 per cent. of the average crop; cherries 60 percent.; pears 70 per cent.; plums and prunes 80 per cent.; hops 100 percent.; tomatoes 130 per cent., and small fruits 80 per cent

OLD MEN WILL GET PENSIONS

London.—The relations which existed between Sir Thomas Lipton and his employees were considered in an action before Justice McCardle, when Michael Stortie claimed a declaration that the firm of Lipton Limited were under a binding obligation to pay him a pension of $25 weekly. Counsel said Mr. Stortie was 68 years of age, and had been employed by Liptons for 41 years, starting as a bacon curer, when Sir Thomas Lipton was the owner of the business, and finishing as manager of the bacon factory at 2198 a year. Sir Thomas had promised him a pension when he left, and in January, 1926, when he received a monthly notice to leave the employment in consequence of changes then being made, a pension was granted of him, but on the intervention of Sir Thomas this was stabilized at $25 a week.

C. P. Tomlin, managing director of Lipton Ltd., since August 1924, said that when Sir Thomas Lipton retired it was necessary to effect economies and reduce staff, "some of whom were receiving more than they were worth. The pensions were reviewed, and several cases had been settled."

His Lordship: The directors thought Sir Thomas had gone too far in making promises?

Counsel: Yes, in this case. The directors were clearly advised that they were not bound to pay.

His Lordship said the question of pensions was a serious one, and in this case touched the name of Sir Thomas for wisdom and generosity. Apparently the company, as the latter's executive had, found they were weighed down with a burden.

After the adjournment it was announced that the matter had been settled by the plaintiff accepting an offer of $1600 a week for life and the parties paying their own costs.

BELLEVILLE NATIONALS PLAY AT KINGSTON TONIGHT; HOME WED.

Oshawa Club Hope To Dislodge Locals From Top

Belleville Nationals play two games this week, one at home and the other away. Tonight they invade the sacred precincts of the Kingston Fair Ground for an engagement with Joe Daley's clan. The locals are sitting pretty at the top of the League, and they have no intentions of losing today's game. Oshawa gained a few points on Saturday when they took the Peter Hits camp in their own backyard and the Nationals' lead was cut down as they were idle. Manager Chrow will likely pitch Gibson tonight in Kingston while Joe Daley will probably pin his hopes on Tommy Jamieson. The Nationals left by motor early today for the scene of the conflict with a full line-up.

"On Wednesday the Oshawa Club will be here for a scheduled game at the Park and with these two running neck and neck for the honors, the Nationals should be greeted by an other crowd such as attended the games with Peterboro last Wednesday and Friday. Manager Chrow will be on the mound Wednesday and Manager Walter Brandon has been saving the "Duke" to do the finishing touch. Belleville Nationals may play both games tonight and again on Wednesday, but on the other hand the Nationals may postpone the tie as far as play-offs are concerned and the hurlers will not be driven at top speed in the future and Young Durocki may get the call tonight.

The game here on Wednesday was scheduled for Saturday but as both teams were idle on Wednesday it was agreed to play on that day. Double games draw the largest crowds here. Kingston play at Deloro on Wednesday in the only other game scheduled. Deloro will play a double-header in Peterboro on Saturday but as neither team stand a chance of climbing into the play-offs this will hold little interest. Fans are advised to keep Wednesday as an open date as the Oshawa team are seeking revenge for the double-thrashing handed them some time ago by the Belleville team.

ERRORS COSTLY TO N.Y. YANKEES

St. Louis Browns Won Opener From Indians—Detroit Lost

New York, July 23.—The Yanks lost the game of the series to the Sox, 6-4. Errors by Josephus Dugan and Marcu Koenig in the same fatal eighth inning were costly.

Wells are out in that frame Mr. Dugan fumbled a grounder that your correspondent could easily have aimed with either hand or both. Then Red fern forced out Ruff, Lazzeri to Koenig and a certain double play was lost when Koenig fired a shot into the dirt at Gehrig's feet.

Crouse singled to right, sending Red fern to third and stole second and it was now that Mr. Faber, shifting from one side of the plate to the other, punctuated matters with a timid single to centre.

The St. Louis Browns won the opening game of the series at Cleveland by defeating the Indians, 8 to 5. The Tribe pitchers, Uhle, Brame and Levsen issued seven bases on balls. Eddie Morgan, the Indians' young first baseman, hit a home run in the eighth inning with two on bases.

The Senators ended a long stay at home by defeating Detroit, 8 to 2, taking four out of five of the series. The victory moved Washington up to fifth place as St. Louis defeated Cleve land.

Holloway, Detroit right-hander, was ineffective, while Braxton, Washington southpaw, turned in a well-pitched game. Heilmann and Judge hit home runs.

When making an omelette, immediately the beaten eggs are in the pan drop a teaspoonful of cold water in the centre and stir.

CHICAGO HURLER DEFEATS GIANTS

Brooklyn Divide With Pirates—Vance Wins For Robins

New York, July 23.—Charlie Root held the Giants to 4 scattered hits and the Cubs took the fourth game of the series, 4-2, before 51,000 at Chicago yesterday. The victory gave the Cubs three out of four in the series and further entrenched them in second place.

Brooklyn gained an even break with the Pirates at Brooklyn, winning the first game, 5-0, and losing the second, 3-5. A crowd estimated at 30,000 turned a rainy afternoon to welcome the Robins home at a bargain rate.

Dazzy Vance's fine pitching account ed for Brooklyn's victory. Remy Kremer shaded five Robin hurlers in the nightcap.

Successful doubles in the ninth inning by Douthit and Holm enabled the Cardinals to make off with their third victory in the four-game series with Philadelphia.

The Reds finished up their home stay at Cincinnati yesterday afternoon by taking the third straight game they have won from Boston by the margin of a single run. The score was 5-4 and gave Cincinnati three out of the four of the series.

ALL GRADS HAVE TAKEN FINAL VOW.

Edmonton, Alta.—That carrying off Olympic honors does not take a girl's mind off bobbing and matrimony is proven by the fact that every girl who formed the Edmonton Grads basketball team at the Olympics, four years ago has now married and retired from the floor and baskets, leaving the 1928 honors to the younger girls.

The players who form the team going to the Olympics this year are very young, from 17 to 22 years of age, five of them are employed as stenographers in offices, and the six, Gladys Fry, is a third year student at the University of Alberta, studying household science. Also known as the baseball girl on the team, and she is the utility "man."

FRANCIS KENNEDY STRUCK BY CAR

Francis Kennedy was hit by a truck driven by Harry Gough, Ex-Warden of County Hastings from Madoc, in front of the Belleville Crematorium at five o'clock last night. It appears that Kennedy was turning in Cream ers entrance when he struck Kennedy who was driving a bicycle at the time. Kennedy was not badly injured and is leaving the hospital today.

DEMPSEY FAVORS THE CHALLENGER

Says Heeney Is Rugged And Ready For Champion Tunney

Fairhaven, N.J., July 23.—"Heeney in my opinion, has a better than even chance of defeating Gene Tunney It will take some person to knock him out."

That was Jack Dempsey speaking this afternoon.

The former champion attracted a crowd of upwards of 2,000 to the Rose on Farm Kennels, the record thanks of Heeney's training quarters. He watched the challenger pound through four rounds of boxing, during which lefts and rights bounced off his chin like foil hitting a tin roof. Heeney, in the judgment of experts took off color in his two rounds with James J. Braddock, but seemed to fine the range against James A. Lawless on Pastor Kennels, the record thanks of Heeney's training quarters. He watched the challenger pound through four rounds of boxing, during which lefts and rights bounced off his chin like foil hitting a tin roof. Heeney, in the judgment of experts took off color in his two rounds with James J. Braddock, but seemed to fine the range against James A. Lawless on Pastor Kennels, the record thanks of Heeney's training quarters.

"He looks to be in great shape. He is strong and rugged, and apparently has lots of stamina. He can take a punch and also punch hard. If you can do that, you've got a chance."

He may go to the champion's camp as Speculator tomorrow, provided Tunney decides to work.

After the gossipers New Zealand went to his quarters for a rub down Dempsey was charmed with him also. Kept for Jimmy Hennessey, his trainer. They were together for about fifteen minutes. Then promoter Tex Rickard joined them. If Dempsey gave Heeney any pointers on his fight, with few the candid-mind information to themselves.

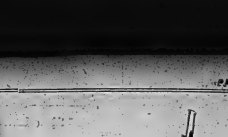

CITY RIVALS TO MEET THIS WEEK

Beavers Will Play In Napanee In Scheduled Game Tuesday

This week will see the battle that the fans have been waiting for when the Belleville Beavers meet their rivals the Ontarios in a scheduled Bay of Quinte League game. The Beavers and the Ontarios have been keen rivals for some years and there is always a certain amount of controversy over the merits of the two teams. The Ontarios have established themselves favorites as they have gained the verdict in most of the games but the Beavers have been playing splendid ball this year and may turn the tables on Walter Cefore's clan. Mrs. Matthews is being groomed for the struggle as will likely twirl for the Ontarios with Molly Grey the choice of the Beavers. Both of these girls have been pitching much better than in previous campaigns and the fans may expect a battle when they take up. Fans are advised to keep Thursday an open date for this game.

On Tuesday night the Beavers will play a scheduled game with the Napanee team in the latter town and they hope to bring home the bacon and screen themselves for their recent defeat here.

Sit back and take it easy

The engine purrs. The Summer breeze has your face. The open road is calling . . . Now is the time to relax. Settle back comfortably in the seat. Take it easy. Enjoy yourself.

And the one way to "take it easy" is to make sure—before you set out—that your motor is safeguarded by proper lubrication. A motor's performance, the length of its life and the frequency of repair bills, all depend largely on the kind of motor oil you use.

As your motor runs, oil forms a thin protective film over the vital parts. This film has to face the lash of scorching heat—the menace of grinding friction. Once it breaks and burns, hot metals chafe against each other. Friction gets in its work and costly damage to your engine is the result.

When you use Veedol you can sit back and take it easy. Its "fighting film of protection" thin as tissue, smooth as silk, tough as steel—is actually safeguarding your motor's life. In Veedol you have the "fightingest" oil that ever tamed heat. The entire line of Veedol motor oils has been reformulated to solve the difficult problem of lubricating the new high-compression motors. Heavier, tougher, longer-lived than ever, Veedol is correct for the new motors, and better for any motor. Have your crankcase filled with the new Veedol and give your motor the extra protection it requires.

PRINCE BRINGS HIS OWN COOK

Also Jewels; Will Occupy Suite During Conference

London.—The Maharajah of Patiala one of the Indian princes who are gathering in London, has taken the "Suite State" of twenty-five rooms, occupying the whole riverside front on one of the floors of the Savoy Hotel. He has brought his own chef and some of his jewels.

More Indian Princes will be in London this summer than have been here since the Coronation of King George. They are arriving for the conference of the Chamber of Princes with their counsel, Sir Leslie Scott, K.C., to arrange the case of their Chamber for the Indian States Enquiry Committee.

The Maharajah is fond of color and blue, red and gold are the prevailing hues of the decorative scheme in his suite. The walls of one room have been hand-painted with a floral design.

A bushy beard and a neatly-trimmed moustache are noticeable features of the Indian ruler's full face. He wears European clothes, but retains the turban ornamented by a rich jewel, and affects gold earrings and a gold and silver sash.

He has brought with him, besides sumptuous Indian uniforms, a store of his personal effects, of which his servants have charge. In Patiala, he has a system of 20 interlocking steel trunks to hold the treasure. None of the trunks can be opened without the rest and the key of each is kept by a different servant. When one trunk is to be opened, the twenty men have to be assembled before the operation can be performed.

The Maharajah's meals are served from the hotel's French menus; but curries cooked by the Indian chef who has brought over a large supply of the special spices of the East that are required, are served halfway through the meal. The chef has also brought with him special silver vessels for preparing the curries.

REGULATE PRICES OF SALOON DRINKS

Brisbane, Queensland (By The Canadian Press).—When liquor bars neglect to sell their stuff at satisfactory prices in Queensland the residents hold "get-together" meetings and boycott the places.

This procedure has recently been adopted at Charlthorpe, where the licensed victuallers at a local hotel were served with an ultimatum demanding that the price of drinks should be reduced to those charged at Warwick, nearby.

The hotel keepers ignored the warning and the bars were promptly declared "Black" and, accordingly, boycotted.

The mass meeting asked that the price of drinks should be as follows:

Beer, 12-ounce bottles, 1th cents; rum (nips) two cents; bottles, $2; overproof bottles $2.50.

SIX EXPLOSIONS

Philadelphia, Penn., July 21.—Six explosions in rapid succession destroyed an Hilti distilling plant, its new equipment and alcohol valued at $75,

000 this morning. Five men were severely injured.

While conducting meetings at Shady Grove, Pa., evangelistic group quarantined against smallpox.

BIG SWIM NEWS

By The Walrus

Capt. Edgar Finlay, D.P.C., of Sydney, New South Wales, served four years with the Australians in Gallipoli and the Near East a Senior officer in the Camel Corps and flying ace. He has a great war record. He has even a greater record as an athlete. Swimming for Australia he won the King's Medal in London in 1911, the highest honor in the gift of the Royal Life Saving Society. In the same year he won the all-round swimming championship of Sweden and was awarded the King's Medal. He was co-holder of the 220 yards breaststroke championship of the world for some years and prior to the war held practically all of the swimming championships of Western and Southern Australia.

Capt. Finlay has come half way round the world to be a contender in the Third Wrigley Marathon at the Canadian National Exhibition on September 8th. He is training quietly in Humber Bay and does not appear to be distressed unduly by low water temperatures, despite his nativity.

Edgar Finlay, Australian Flying Ace and Champion Swimmer, Entered in the Third Wrigley Marathon.

FIRE DESTROYS FARMER'S BARN

Charles Johns of Hoard's Station Suffers Heavy Loss

LITTLE INSURANCE

Lightning Strikes Building In Severe Storm Yesterday

Lightning totally destroyed a valuable barn owned by Charles Johns, a farmer residing about five miles west of Stirling and one mile north of Hoard's Station, during the electrical storm yesterday afternoon. It was about 3:30 yesterday afternoon when the catastrophe occurred, in the midst of one of the worst electrical storms that has swept this part of the country this summer.

Unfortunately, Mr. Johns had only the barn insured and that only for a small amount, as well as the frame building, about one hundred and fifty or two hundred bushels of grain were destroyed, some machinery and a new wagon. It was at first thought that all new had perished in the blaze, but this was denied last night when stock was taken.

The barn was of good size, and well-built. A resident of Hoard's Station stated to The Intelligencer today that only about $500 worth of insurance was carried upon this barn, while the contents were utterly uncovered by any policy.

Mr. Johns today had not totalled his loss, but it is expected that they will be quite heavy. Luckily the house, and other buildings, were at no time in any danger, but it was impossible to check the flames that destroyed the barn.

UPTURNS NOTED IN CHICAGO WHEAT

Chicago, July 24.—Material upturns in Chicago wheat values took place early today, largely because the Liverpool market failed to respond fully to yesterday's sharp declines here. There were also indications that wheat was being bought here against the simultaneous sales at Winnipeg. Opening 1-16 to 1c higher, Chicago wheat afterwards moved with corn, starting 1-4c to 1-2c off and subsequently holding near to the initial figures.

PRINCE GAGARIN UNDER ARREST

Danced At a Local Theatre and Made Many Friends Here

Detroit, Mich., July 24.—Alexis N. Gagarin, 34, Toronto, Ont., dancing instructor, who says he is a Russian prince, pending will be permitted to remain unmolested in the United States if he so chooses, it developed today.

Federal records show that he is legally in this country and cannot be deported, John L. Durkrich, district director of immigration, announced following an investigation into his status here.

Gagarin came here last week to visit a former pupil. He was arrested Sunday for Toronto authorities on a charge of fraud. It being alleged that he violated the terms of a lease on property he used in Toronto.

He story was that he had served with the Cossacks and was driven out of Russia by the Bolsheviki. He said he had become a ward of Thomas G. Masaryk, first president of Czechoslovakia and was sent to this country to be educated.

Prince Gagarin will be remembered by Belleville people as he danced at a local theatre. Each evening the house was packed, and he was given a rousing reception. The Prince after leaving Belleville visited Toronto where he was connected with a night club and later conducted a dancing school on Yonge Street. Gagarin appeared on the King Edward Roof Garden and elsewhere in Toronto. He had an especially pleasing personality and made many friends during his travels.

TORONTO MAN INVENTS UNIQUE CLOCK

A Novel Time-Keeper

The "Time Controlled Globe" invented by Luigi Ciano, young Toronto inventor, is a clock that tells the time in any part of the world. It is composed of an ordinary clock with a globe completed on a circular frame-work below it and is so adjusted that the globe will revolve at the exact speed that the earth is revolving, and will revolve around the clock at the same time, dipping its globe with the seasons. Above is shown a photograph of Mr. Ciano with his invention. It is simply an ordinary of the earth's rotation around the sun globe run by a specially built clock is given."

Mr. Ciano explained. "This globe is fitted with a stationary disc which is divided into 24 divisions, each division representing an hour, twelve divisions for the morning and twelve for the afternoon. The numbers run anti-clockwise, so that as the globe revolves, the correct time is given for every part of the world. The globe is mounted on a circular frame-work which is so adjusted that it revolves around the clock at the same speed as the earth is revolving, and thus the correct time is given for every part of the world at the same time. By means of added mechanism the impressive

WAR PENDING ON NOISY PIGEONS

Birds Driven From Haunts Seek New Nesting Place

With the dismantling of the High School premises recently, literally hundreds of pigeons who for uncounted years have made their homes and reared their young in the old building, have lost their old place of abode and are searching frantically all over the city for somewhere else to settle down and nest.

Residents in the city don't mind pigeons but the noise that they make is objectionable. Loud and early, in fact at sun-up, the birds start to bill and coo a noise that drives a high strung person, and heavy sleeper to distraction.

Complaints from various parts of the city have been received by the police department and something will be done about the matter in the very near future. Although the police have not as yet decided what course of action will be taken, no doubt the obnoxious birds will be exterminated in the easiest and speediest way possible.

CREMATE BODY OF ELLEN TERRY

Simplicity Marks Last Rites of Famous English Actress

Small Hythe, England, July 24.—This little Kentish village was thronged today to their loved Ellen Terry in a setting of warm sunshine, brightly hued flowers and the fields and the village gardens and with everything removed suggesting funeral gloom and sadness absorbed. The funeral services were held in the parish church, but there was nothing dirge-like in the music and the service was one of lovely simplicity. The picturesque guard of honor in the form of a number of bayworkers in shirt sleeves lined up outside the door and coffin was carried in and out under the arch which they made on the hay racks, the body is being sent to London for cremation.

STOCK MARKET NOSES UPWARD

Good Reports By Union Pacific Serve To Boost Prices

New York, July 24.—Aggressive pool operations in the select assortment of the specialties turned the course of stock prices upward again today after an early period of irregularity. A bear drive against several of the pool issues in the forenoon session of the morning trading quickly petered out when it was discovered that relatively little "long" stock was being dislodged.

Call money was in fairly plentiful supply at the renewal rate of 5 1-2 per cent although higher money is expected later in the week. Hopes for the publication of several favorable earnings the reports including a good one yesterday by the Union Pacific there was little in the days news to in the way of bearish influence.

National cash register was under heavy accumulation, climbing more than three points to a new high level at sixty-six. American Can also was in demand and United States Steel common crossed 140 for a gain of about two points, the profit-taking was the participation of the day in the movement in the copper group, Jewel Tea soared into public and National Tea, Arnold, Constable, Case Threshing and Pittsburgh Coal advanced two points or more.

Vernon Booher Makes Startling Statement To Provincial Police

Edmonton, Alta., July 24.—Vernon Booher has confessed that he murdered four persons at Manville, Alta., July 9, the Alberta Provincial Police officials announced today. Confronted with a rifle young Booher was alleged to have borrowed preceding the killings, he asked detective sergeant C. Leslie to take his confession.

"I want to get it over with, I don't care if I'm hanged Sunday," a tired mother as she sat at the table said then shot my brother Fred as he rushed into the house to see what was being pening" the confession stated.

"The law of them were lying in the house when Councillor Scott called. I don't know what I would have done if he had attempted to enter the house.

"When Bill came in from the field, I shot him in the barn, as that he would not find the other bodies."

"Gabriel Coronely I shot in the bedroom.

"Mother and Fred's constant nagging of me about a girl I am crazy about was the cause of the whole things."

FRENCH WIZARD WILL NOT PLAY

Rene Lacoste, Stung By Disqualification of Tilden, Quits Team

Auteuil, France, July 24.—Rene Lacoste, has decided not to defend the United States championship this year and will not proceed to the United States with the remainder of the French team next month, he stated today. Lacoste's father volunteered this information. He was greatly upset at the disqualification of Tilden which deprives the Frenchman of the opportunity of showing his prowess over "Big Bill." The general interpretation of Lacoste's action is that tough players was that France was taking a shot back at the United States Lawn Tennis Association for the disqualification of Tilden which the French consider has practically wrecked interest in the challenge round.

FACE CHARGES AT DESERONTO

Three Alleged Gunmen Arraigned For Theft of Gasoline

Contrary to general belief, Holly, Marano and Craig, the three alleged gunmen who were committed here by Magistrate Mikel to two years less a day in the Ontario Reformatory have not been placed in prison, but have remained in the County jail for the three or four weeks since their trial.

It will be remembered that these three men were arrested by Sergeant Booth and Police Constable Evans in midnight about two months ago. Three loaded guns were found in their car they were charged with carrying concealed weapons, and received the above sentence.

They will be tried today on the charge that they did unlawfully break and enter Cole's Gasoline and Service Station at Deseronto, and will be tried at that town by Magistrate Bedford. The trial is scheduled to start late this afternoon. It is the charge which landed the trio in all their troubles if this vicinity. Apparently running short of gas and money, they broke the lock from the gas station and stole the gasoline. They were soon, however, and the City Police arrested them in Belleville. Provincial Police laid the charge in the Deseronto case.

ROTARIANS HELD MUSIC PROGRAM

A splendid luncheon was held by the Rotary Club at the Bay of Quinte Country Club yesterday. A large attendance was present and many visiting Rotarians, from the United States, mostly tourists passing through Belleville, were guests of the Club.

Although there was no speaker, a fine musical programme was presented during the progress of the meal. The Radio Four made a big hit with all present, and Mr. "Sandy" Burrows' rendition of "Brown Octopus Ate" met with spontaneous applause. Other artists who rendered selections during the Haffner and Mr. "Al" Sullman rendered splendid solos.

WRIGHT AND GUEST IN EXCELLENT FORM

Cloten, Holland, July 24. (C.P. Cable)—Joe Wright and Jack Guest, of Toronto in a double shell, beat the 1,000 metre course record by five seconds faster than the previous Canal today. The Canadian Olympiad aspirants covered the distance nine seconds faster than the United States crew, who rowed immediately afterwards.

GENARO FIGHT ENDED IN DRAW

Toronto, July 24.—In what was perhaps the best and most aggressive lightweight bout staged in this city in years Frankie Genaro of New York retained his world's championship crown in the savage challenge of Steve Rocco, the Canadian champion, after two of the three members of the official jury split in their awards at the end of the ten rounds and the third member of the trio refused to separate the pair. Consequently the bout is credited with a draw against the N.B.A. champion and Genaro continues king. Generally there is quite a lot of dispute in any section with a verdict that fails to return a winner but that proved the night was perhaps the most satisfactory draw that has ever been staged here. Both sides were pretty well satisfied and the house took the decision with approbation.

TO-DAY'S THOUGHT

While I keep my senses I shall prize
All nothing to a pleasant friend.
—HORACE.

CONGRATULATIONS.

Canadians might well take pride in the achievements of Lieut. Desmond Burke, the young Queen's University student who has so ably upheld the honors of Canada at the Olympic shooting meeting in the old land. Four years ago, this noted marksman, then a mere lad, surprised the whole empire by winning the King's Prize, the outstanding event of this important meeting. Last year, he was second, only a point behind the winner. This year, he once again came the highest scorer. But, although he failed to achieve the honour of winning the prize a second time he won the Grand Aggregate prize, which is awarded to the marksman with the highest combined score in the ten main competitions. This was his second victory in this event, for he also won it in 1924. To many minds, this honor is even more meritorious than that of King's Prize, for it shows a consistency in shooting which is remarkable.

A little record of success won by Lieut. Burke stamps him as in the front rank of the empire's marksmen. And Canada has produced many others like him. Year after year the Canadian teams have done well at Bisley, so well that their names appear very often in the prize lists. Canada, by this showing, is still capable of producing men who are clear cut stand, keen of vision and steady of nerve, and although there are some people who will decry the study of marksmanship as a system of training for a fine war, yet it is a worth while training, and it would be a bad day for Canada should she cease to produce such young men as Desmond Burke.

ELLEN TERRY.

The great Victorian constellation is slowly sinking below the horizon. Star after majestic star has disappeared until only one or two of the first magnitude are left and a few of the second, while not many lesser lights are left to recall the blazing glory that once shone in high heaven. A few days ago the death of Lottie Venne was recorded, but it probably meant little to the present generation. Saturday we had the close of one of the great figures of the Victorian drama, one associated with the most original dramatic producer and actor of his time. What Sir Henry Irving would have been without Ellen Terry it is difficult to say, and equally difficult would be the estimate of her work as apart from his. They supplemented each other's weakness with compensating power, and the combination was an illumination and a delight, to all true students of the theatre. Ellen Terry was described in 1865 as the Britannia Miss Terry, and there was always an atmosphere of graceful youth about her which lent its own peculiar charm. Her greatest part was supposed to be the role of Portia in "The Merchant of Venice" and no one ever spoke the celebrated speech, "The quality of mercy" with more poignant sweetness and realistic appeal. But the full strength of her powers was not elicited here as in some other parts. She was truly wonderful in Ophelia, and the melting pathos of the later scenes in this character was overwhelming. She had a great success in "Olivia," the play based on Oliver Goldsmith's romance, and she was always most charming in the Shakespeare comedies, as You Like It,' 'Twelfth Night, 'Much Ado.' She was not the type for tragedy of the Lady Macbeth order, but in such a part as Goethe's Marinella Maria in 'Charles I.' she was unrivalled. The parting scene between Henrietta and Charles as played by Irving and Terry remains in mind as the most pathetic and moving passage ever seen on the stage. It is not generally known that she had been the wife of the great painter, G. F. Watts, but this union was dissolved on account of incompatibility. Her son, Gordon Craig, is one of the most important of the factors in the development of modern drama.

In hush so dense that I can sense—chauffeur who ran off with his car and his daughter,' asked Bulkins.

'He's mighty grateful,' said Boiler. 'He says the poor idiot relieved him of two of his most expensive possessions.'

An old Lancashire couple sat over the fire one evening. After a long silence the old man asked:

'What's cop tass? Tha's quiet.'

'I'm just thinkin', John,' said his wife.

'And what's tha thinkin' about?' asked her husband.

Well, I've been thinkin',' his wife replied, 'we've been together a long time now. It can't go on for ever, ye know. The time will come and one of us will have to go.'

'Aye, said the old man; 'but it's no use worritin.'

'No,' was the reply, 'but I was just thinkin' as when it did happen I should like to go an' live at Southport!'

The plumber reached up and rang the bell. The door was opened by a trim young maid. Inside the hall stood the master and mistress of the house.

'Are you the plumber?' asked the dignified-looking old gentleman, who was very methodical in all he did.

'Yes, sir.'

'Very well, then allow me to acquaint you with the cause of all the trouble before we go any further.'

The plumber turned to the mistress of the house and extended a grimy hand.

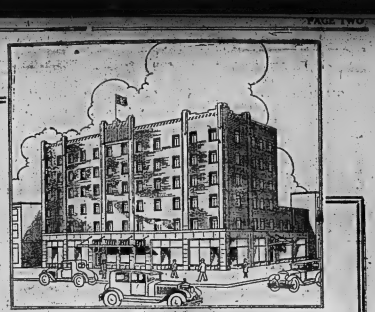

'Please to meet you, ma'am,' he said cordially.

THE BULLETIN BOARD

Mainly About People You Know

ILLEGALLY CONSUMED LIQUOR

Fred Johnson and Frank Hinsley were this afternoon fined $25 and costs and $15 and costs by Magistrate Mills in police court for illegally consuming liquor.

HYDRO PICNIC

Early this morning trucks and cars left the Hydro Electric buildings in the city bound for Presqu'ile Park where there will be held today the annual picnic of the Central Ontario System. Every employee who can be spared is all set for the big picnic and very few fail to take advantage of the opportunity for a good day's run.

SENT THEIR GREETINGS.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Collins, Cedar Street were in receipt of a post-card yesterday from Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Meats who are at the present time visiting in England. The card was written from "Manor the Toponcor at the top of the Worcestershire Beacon." Mr. and Mrs. Meats stated that they had been visiting at Stratford-on-Avon and Warwick Castle, Birmingham. They expect to spend some months in the Old Land before returning to their home in Belleville.

COMBINED CHURCH PARADE.

A combined parade of the Sons of England and the Daughters of England lodges of Belleville, Picton, Deseronto and Trenton was held in Deseronto on Sunday afternoon last. Approximately a hundred members were present for the event, and a service was held in the Methodist Church, where the Reverend Mr. Redcliffe preached a fine sermon.

After the service those in attendance repaired to the United Empire Lodge rooms where an open session was held.

MAGISTRATE WAS AWAY.

Magistrate Mills was absent this morning and was unable to attend police court. There was only one case to appear before Justice of the Peace Newton and this was remanded. This was the young lad who was charged with obtaining credit under false pretenses.

WHEAT FIVE FEET HIGH

Mr. Allan G. Lake of the 3rd Concession of Sidney brought to the Editor's desk today a specimen of Fall wheat which he is producing on his farm. The grain was five feet in height, an unusual sample for this time of year. Mr. Lake has 32 acres sown in Fall wheat and declares that the average height is five feet.

DESKS TAKEN T OSCHOOL

All the school desks were taken from the Y.M.C.A. yesterday, and placed in the New Collegiate, where they will be kept. The "Y" has need of the two rooms which were converted into class rooms when the old school became inadequate for the number of pupils and these rooms have served in that capacity for the past years. Those who have not been in the new school lately will get a surprise when they note the difference just a few furnishings have made, and the new Belleville Collegiate is not to be ashamed of.

SIXTY FOOT BEAM

A sixty foot beam attracts the attention of those who journey to the High School grounds these evenings. The tree from which this beam was born was a monster, as the log itself at both ends is no less than 15 inches thick. Many a farmer in this vicinity would do well to take some of these timbers if they expects to build a barn. Some of the material is certainly worth a good deal of money if anyone could utilize it.

WRONG NAME.

Owing to an error the name of the driver of a car which crashed into a telephone pole on the Madoc Road last Friday night was given as Wr. Hodgins. This name should have read Wilfred Hutchinson.

TRAPSHOOTERS TO MEET

The Trapshooting Club will host an other shooting event at the Fair grounds this evening. A good sized turnout was on hand last week and it is expected that another large crowd will be on hand tonight. Trapshooting is gaining in popularity in the city.

DEATHS & FUNERALS

ROSA ANN MACDONALD.

The funeral of the late Rosa Ann, daughter of Thomas and the late Ellis Beth MacDonald took place yesterday morning from the residence of her sister, Mrs. Wallace Ellis, 21 Gibson Ave., Trenton, and proceeded by motor to Shannonville Cemetery where the service at the graveside were conducted by the Reverend W. H. Clarke of Shannonville United Church. The large number of surviving relative, and friends present as well as the wealth of floral tributes of sympathy attested to the general esteem in which the deceased lady was held. The bearers were Messrs. Henry Little, John MacDonald, H. Thompson, J. Johnson, Louis Reid and Bert Daly.

SNAKES SEEM TO BE VOGUE IN NEW YORK

New York, N.Y. — Someone asked Nathan Jerswitz if he might leave a harmless green leather bag in his shop. Nathan was willing, but he was surprised a couple of hours later when a large black snake—some say five feet long, some ten—issued from the bag and when wandering along Park Avenue. Enter the hero—Patrolman Chester Stubbs—who got two sticks and enticed the snake into a basket.

Not to be outdone by Park Avenue the bag has produced a surpassing serpent. This one was a boa constrictor which descended from the fourth floor of an importing house and was plainly observed by Chicago Pete, Denver Ed and Frisco Mike. They rallied. Came Patrolman Samuel Reilly running, and firing six shots over, but to the end, with the aid of two sticks, they placed the snake on the street car tracks and an inbound motorman cut the body into several sections.

Her loving face we'll ne'er forget,
Though years may pass away,
The loss of her we sadly feel
As keen as that first day.

Her sudden death surprised us all
To part with mother dear was cruel indeed
The loss of the niece we loved so well
Ever remembered by Uncle Frank and Aunt Sade, Belle and Alice, of Toronto.

NOTED PIANIST IS A CANADIAN

New York, — Leslie Hodgson, "United States" pianist whose recitals have been regular features of Cochan's musical season for a number of years and who has played on stages in every part of the United States, is really a Canadian, it was revealed here by an announcement that the artist intends to end what amounts to a 12-year exile from his native land by cancelling several weeks of United States engagements next fall and returning to the Dominion. Except for a private appearance, he has never played in Canada though he has been wel-known here and in Europe for many years, it is said.

"My plans are not definite," Hodgson told an interviewer here, "but this is what I would like to do. My home is in Toronto, my family and all my relatives live in Canada and I received my early education, musical and otherwise, there."

Leslie Hodgson came to New York eight years ago after an early career in Europe and Britain. He was born in a small village in Durham County, Ontario, and went, from their to Toronto and from Toronto to Europe.

HUMBUG A POPULAR, BUT COSTLY PASTIME

Barnum was a famous showman and Barnum was in the habit of saying many pithy, true things.

It was he who said that people like to be humbugged.

Let us examine into the matter a little and see whether Barnum was correct.

It's impossible to estimate the number of people who fall for bogus stocks, and fake oil, mining and ocser promotion schemes.

The number of those who, lured by the expectation of sudden wealth, place their money, often hard earned—into the pockets of these criminals is an unknown quantity, it's so large!

And people are humbugged in other ways, too!

They pay their physician, a man with scientific training, a fee for advice—then go home and follow the advice of a neighbor instead!

They purchase patent medicines by the gallon, at a price much higher than the cost of the crude drugs they contain, simply because the outside of the bottle promises to cure everything!

They patronize the business men in the local paper when they could get their merchandise" just as good and much cheaper around the corner—and for no better reason than that they like to show off the fresh label.

It's all right to be humbugged if you can afford it!

But the bulk of it is that those who have the wherewithal don't allow themselves to be humbugged by the clever psychological appeals of an offer!

We're all constitutionally lazy and none of us hate to think. Those are the three things let themselves be talked into believing that you can get something for nothing—without work.

Coupled with this is ignorance of life and of human nature! They are the people who fall back for relief and hope upon phantasy and day-dream. They collect exhibit of exhibits.

This covers the get-rich-quick class.

In the others we find similar mental mechanisms. They refuse to look for granted that to investigate! It's attractive to believe what you want to believe. It's delightful to have someone you make people think you are wealthy.

In short, everybody likes to be humbugged is sleeping evidence on an arrested development.

Barnum certainly was right!

Fool yourself if you want to, but it is but an expensive and foolish pastime!

Is it not better to face facts?

Is it not better to find the truth?

Watch your step for you make a fool of yourself, you know!

Observe your own gullibility occasionally.

Determine how high your threshold is to sugar-coated suggestion.

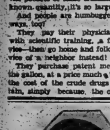

Generally speaking, it is unwise to shut yourself in and to build a wall of unapproachability around yourself.

But in this matter of humbugging it is essential that you do so.

Make it as difficult for anyone to humbug you as you make it difficult for a thief to break into your house!

CHAPTER 72.
VINDICATION

Ever afterward, Celia remembered that day. First Gwen came, radiant, gay. She embraced Celia rapturously.

"Don't it too good to be true? Isn't it free and clear of all cloud of suspicion?" I could almost like Falconer now for doing the enemy thing."

But, seeing Celia's expression, she added quickly: "Oh, you poor dear! In my happiness and relief over Larry, I'd almost forgotten.... You still have Falconer on your hands."

The afraid I have," admitted Celia ruefully. "He seems to be determined to marry me. My only hope is that this smuggling mess will make it impossible for him to return."

Gwen looked thoughtful. "For Annesley mentioned that possibility. He was in too much of a rush to explain clearly—but it seems that Falconer is involved with the government in some unpleasant way."

"We can only wait and hope," shrugged Celia. "Anyway, I'm thankful about Larry and I could cry with joy, now that you saved the order of going on the witness stand and telling everything. I suppose every body is talking, as usual."

Gwen made a wry face. "You can bet that the town's afluttr.... But opinion has switched a trifle. You're not as much in the black books as you were. By the way, are you going to tell your mother anything?"

"Not until after I've sent Jim Annesley and know just where I stand."

Annesley came late that afternoon. He was looking curiously exultant.

"Celia, you'll have to come down town with me. There are certain formalities that must be gone through because of the fact that another man was buried under your husband's name. I hate to have you put to this bother."

Celia said, as they walked down the street:

"Nothing matters, now that Larry is saved. You're sure that everything is all right? That the affidavits were in order?"

"Positive. Larry is as free a man today as I am..... Celia, there's something else I must tell you: I've been in touch by cable with various authorities..... Falconer has been sentenced to prison for smuggling munitions."

She gave a little cry, and he turned to look at her sharply, but he went on: "He was involved when he wrote those letters, and he tried to skip, but was caught. It means a long sentence for him. What are you going to do about him?"

"What am I going to do?" she faltered. "I don't know what you mean."

"You can have your freedom now, if you wish."

It seemed to Celia that the street was revolving about her. She had a wild desire to laugh.

She felt Annesley's eyes searching her face.

"You must think, Jim."

He asked slowly: "You don't want your freedom?"

Before she had a chance to reply, while she still searched for some plausible answer, a man came abreast of them, stopped, and lifted his hat. Celia recognized Horace Vail.

"Mrs. Falconer—Celia—I must congratulate you. I have just learned that your husband is alive," he said gaily.

He gave Annesley a swift, appraising glance, and it seemed to Celia that he blanched. She murmured an introduction, conscious that Vail was looking at her. Then he had gone on, Annesley said:

"Who is that man?"

"But I told you when I introduced you. Mr. Vail—Horace Vail."

Annesley was frowning. "That is not his name."

She stared at him. "Whatever do you mean? It is the man I told you of—the one who brought Larry to the office that night and locked us both in."

"Hmm!" Annesley gave a short laugh. "So that's the villain of the piece! Well, all I must have given him to run up against me in this canal bridge."

"You're simply talking in riddles. What have you to do with Horace Vail?"

"Only this—I had the man you call Vail—his name was Young then—sent to prison some years ago for forgery."

Celia gasped. "You must be mistaken!"

He is very prominent here, words. To Annesley, she must remain Falconer's wife.

She lifted wistful eyes and found his searching her face.

"No, Jim."

It was a long moment before he said: "You mean you'll stick to him, live with him again after he's served his long term?"

She said slowly: "I'll stick."

He sprang to his feet. "How you must love him!"

She crushed back the cry of protest on her lips. How that he should think that. But what a horrible lie to tell the one man in the world who was her friend!

He took her hand and lifted it to his lips.

"I'll go now, since I can be of no further service to you."

A moment later she found herself alone, crying quietly in the shadows.... Just why, she couldn't for the life of her have told.

It was there that Tom Harrington found her when he came striking up the path, a quarter of an hour later.

In Paris, Patou uses stitched plaits and so—in New York, the smart women wears them. Her plaits are especially smart, the plaits in some instances being darkly stitched down. The youthful morning dress of dull red Rodier material, illustrated above, may be used the for sports or for early fall wear in town. Partial to the one piece dress with gayly stitched plaits, it is very new and very trimly chic. The plaits are at the back as well as the front of the skirt, but because they are stitched down, the slender line is retained. The diligent and brunette of Rodier is a darker shade, connecting bodice with skirt, and posed over the dull plaits is likewise slenderizing and youthful, and the narrow collar rolls flat and smart. Use both scarf and accessories. (Copyright, 1928, by Butterick)

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 60 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once the symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 60 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggists.

KILLED IN MOTOR ACCIDENT

Moscow, July 24.—Madame V. V. Schmidt, wife of the People's Commissar for Labor, was killed in a motor accident yesterday.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl in my teens. All my life I've wanted a career—very badly. My parents are poor but I believe I can afford the education necessary to this achievement.

Some weeks ago I met a young man whom I have learned to like very much. I have never allowed myself to think of this friend as any more than a friend. Although I do not love him I know I would if I could forget my ambitions. He wants me to marry him.

Which is the most important—a my career or the home I would establish? If I only knew which place would bring the best happiness!

I would not marry a man I did not love and I never before felt for any boy friend as I do for this young man.

What shall I do? JERRY.

JERRY: You don't say just how old you are, Jerry, but from your letter I take it you are quite young. Why not wait awhile before making such a momentous decision? A few years makes a lot of difference in one's opinions and outlook on life. Try working hard to attain your career, but if you find Love so overpowering when weighed against a career, why then surely that is the right path for you and I am sure the tangle will soon straighten itself out and you'll be happy.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am in love with a young man whom I would like to have the acquaintance of. He seemed as though he would like to know me, I have asked several of my friends but none of them seemed to know him. As I walk past him he smiles and looks. He is also handsome with brown wavy hair, brown eyes, clear cut face he seems to be refined and very nice. Could you please tell me how to get acquainted.

CURLY.

CURLY: I am afraid there is no conventional way of making the young man's acquaintance unless you can get someone to furnish the introduction. I am afraid you do not really understand the word "love". How can you possibly be in love with a man to whom you have never spoken. My advice would be to "forget it."

Cute in a Baby:- 'Awful at Three —and it's Dangerous'
by Ruth Britain

'thumb sucking does look sweet in a baby, but it is disgusting in the three-year-old and sometimes it hangs on until fifteen or sixteen! The habit may cause an ill-formed mouth or induce adenoids; and it always interferes with digestion. Pinning the sleeve over the hand; attaching mittens, or putting on cardboard cuffs, which prevent bending the arms at the elbows, are some of the ways to stop the habit.

Another bad habit—irregularity in bowel action—is responsible for weak bowels and constipation in babies. Give the tiny bowels an opportunity to act at regular periods each day. If they don't act at first, a little Fletcher's Castoria will soon regulate them. Every mother should keep a bottle of it handy to use in case of colic, cholera, diarrhoea gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, loss of sleep, or when baby is cross and feverish. Its gentle influence over baby's system enables him to get full nourishment from his food, helps him gain, strengthens his bowels.

Castoria is purely vegetable and harmless—the recipe is on the wrapper. Physicians have prescribed it for over the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on Fletcher's signature on the package of many imitations.

30 years' use each package, you get a valuable book on Motherhood. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper so you'll get the genuine.

BALLOONS ABLE TO THRILL YET

Aeroplanes Have Not Altogether Extinguished Love of Sport

Washington.—(C.P.) — The darting thrills provided by the aeroplane have obscured somewhat the imaginative surge which once attended the ascent of a free balloon. But drifting with the winds through the heavens remains nonetheless crowded with adventure.

Capt. William E. Kepner, assistant commandant of Scott Field, has been in the thick of such adventure often, but he probably encountered more desperate problems while vanning the national elimination contest a few weeks ago than in any other similar space of time.

Soon after leaving Pittsburgh, late in the afternoon of Memorial Day, he observed that a little cloud which has looked harmless enough at the start was becoming threatening. It rapidly developed into a violent thunderstorm —the disturbance which killed two of the contestants — and before many minutes had passed the strange currents of air associated with it caught his balloon.

The 35,000-cubic foot bag was sucked swiftly under the cloud and then hurled through its center. For several thousand feet the darkness was intense, and the wafting of gas had little effect on the 100 rapid rate of ascent.

Recognizing their danger, Captain Kepner, and his aide, Lieutenant W. O. Kerschner, put on their parachutes, tied the release rings with pieces of rope to the rigging, and sat on the edge of the basket. If they should be knocked out by fighting they planned to fall out of the basket, trusting to luck that the parachutes, opened when their falling weight jerked out the rings, would land them safely somewhere.

They were not struck, but at an altitude of about 4,300 feet they found themselves in a part of the cloud thick with static lightning which turned the darkness into a greenish yellow glow. Meanwhile the wind was whipping their bag violently to one side and an other. Suddenly it shot them down toward the ground, and they had to throw over ballast rapidly to keep from crashing.

Within 50 or 100 feet of the ground their craft regained equilibrium. They saw Lieut. Paul Evert of Scott Field, one of the balloonists who was killed shortly afterward, pass about 100 yards away, and the Goodyear V, piloted by Ward T. Van Orman, dive within a few feet of the ground and then shoot upward. Van Orman was injured and his aide, Walter Marion of Akron, was killed later when they had to abandon their balloon near Youngwood, Pa.

By staying low, Captain Kepner maneuvered his balloon into a valley down which it was swept away from the center of the storm. The air was bumpy, shopping them up and down and forcing them to valve gas or throw over ballast alternately.

BUILT THEIR NEST IN SANCTUARY DOOR

London. (C.P.—Two sparrows—one without a tail—built a remarkable little nest in the hollow of the historic "sanctuary Knocker" which hangs on the north door of Durham Cathedral. The Knocker is in the form of a face of most evil appearance.

Carrying twigs and feathers the birds passed through the hollow eyes of the head, working diligently whenever the North Door was not in use. One eye was laid. Then a couple of heedless boys came along when the doorkeeper was away and destroyed the nest. Centuries ago Durham Cathedral possessed the privilege of sanctuary for evil doers, the chief memorial of this being the big bronze knocker.

Right down to 1541 this custom prevailed, as the records clearly show. People who escaped from prison, or who sought sanctuary after committing a crime, were admitted by the monks and lived in a chamber over the door. They were clothed and fed for 37 days, or until either they had obtained the Prince's pardon, or had been conveyed out of the diocese.

Yet the two little sparrows failed to secure the peace they sought.

ALL CHILDREN TO BE IN BED AT 9.15

Prince Albert, Sask.—"Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight" is probably the song Prince Albert children would like to be singing but it wouldn't do them any good because curfew bylaw which at last week's council meeting raised considerable discussion, was passed and adopted by council and promptly at 9.15 the whistle at the power house blew a warning to all children under 14 years to be off the streets. They are allowed 15 minutes to return to their houses, making the time limit 9.30.

KENNEY, SMITH LIFE-LONG PALS

Grew Up Together—Both Now Are Famous Men

New York, N. Y.—(C.P.—Down on lower Manhattan Island almost fifty years ago William F. Kenny and Alfred E. Smith played together, fought with each other sometimes and never missed a fire. Kenny's father was a battalion fire chief and lived in Madison Street, while the Smiths lived just around the corner in Oliver Street.

Today Kenny, head of a big New York construction company and able to count his wealth in seven or eight figures, is still the dearest friend of Smith, the boy he used to play with and the man named by the democratic party for the presidency.

Since Smith first became a formidable candidate for the presidential nomination Kenny has professed but two ambitions: To see his friend chosen by the democrats and to see him elected to the White House.

Kenny sat in the convention hall at Houston when Smith was nominated, and among his guests were all the Smith family who could go to the gathering, including the New York governor's two men, as warm today as men's wife.

The Damon and Pythias friendship of in the years when they lived together in the lower East Side and neither was very definitely tagged for wealth or fame, was revealed when Kenny told a senate committee at Washington, during the pre-convention campaign, that he had given freely to the fund for promotion of Smith's candidacy and that if Smith were nominated he might command as much of Kenny's wealth as he needed to carry on his quest for election.

Yet Kenny has no aspiration to political greatness nor to anything but Smith's continued friendship. In the event he becomes president, . . .

Charlottetown, P.E.I.—For the last time since its organization the Federation of Medical Women of Canada held its annual meeting in the Maritime Provinces in connection with the 59th annual convention of the Canadian Medical Association at the Prince of Wales College here. WOMEN JUST AS GOOD SPEAKERS

At Least They Could Be If They Tried To.

Ottawa, Ont.—There is no reason why women should not be just as eloquent public speakers as men, according to Miss Helen Zachos, lecturer in the English department of Copper Union since 1898, and mentor of many famous orators, who says "Women are failures as speakers in the majority of cases largely because they do not realize the vital importance of proper preparations for thinking while on their feet.

"Speeches should be prepared carefully. One must know what she wants to say before she can say it. And, unless a woman has had much experience, she never should speak extemporaneously. If she gives a little time and attention to it, she will find she really can talk.

"Women fail to realize that through their own careless habits of address much of the force of what they have to say is lost.

"If women get worried when talking they begin unduly high-pitch voices become strident and discordant. But when they are sure of what they want to say they can have an easy delivery. Then their will realize that a speech should be delivered just the same as a dinner."

BELLE THEATRE

Give, Bebe Daniels half a chance and the motion picture comedienne will wrench a chuckle out of the worst of the pessimists. The Paramount star wrenched a good hearty out of the audience that attended the first local showing of her latest picture, "The Fifty-Fifty Girl" at the Belle theatre last night and the wrenching process was far from being painful. The laughs came easily and in a flood.

The story is typically Bebe, Daniels, who is never better than in a story wherein the beautiful American girl just cannot keep herself out of a jam. "The Fifty-Fifty Girl" deals with such a girl, one who is firm in the belief that she can make a man look silly under any set of circumstances.

Along comes James Hall, her leading man, and in the story, her partner in a mining venture who accepts her proposal to take the part of the woman if she will run things like a man. She pops nickel and gold into the most amazing circumstances, at least as far as the audience is concerned. Bebe as the boss and cocky James Hall as the devoted girl do some real comedy stunting.

The strain is too great for the headstrong Miss Daniels, however, when she is chased by a gang of cut throats in the dark tunnels of the mine, and, after swallowing her pride on numerous occasions, she finally squeals for help. Thanks to the strong right arm of Hall, the day is won. And Bebe admits that the man really is some good after all.

Incidentally, Hall is the exception ally good. James Hall gives a fine performance and William Austin, George Kotsonaros and Johnnie Arledge are excellent in their respective roles. Clarence Badger directed.

REGENT THEATRE

Irene Rich appears as a tempestuous Spanish noblewoman of a century ago in "The Gaieties," her latest starring vehicle for Warner Bros. directed by Paul L. Stein. Forrest Stanley, Myrna Loy, Albert Gran, Randolph Scott, Cook, Dot Farley, Phoebe Fairbanks, Hector Sarno and Joseph Striker complete the supporting cast. "The Gaieties," a Warner Bros. production is now at the Regent Theatre.

FEUDAL SYSTEM IS A PROBLEM

Still Rears In Quebec; Seigneurial System The Trouble

Quebec, Que.,—(C.P.)—There are few corners of the civilized world where old customs and procedures, scorned by modernists as ghosts of a dead and buried past survive with such hardy persistence as in the Province of Quebec. Probably the most striking of these survivals is the seigneurial system of land tenure which, imported to Canada from feudal France three centuries ago, is today causing deep worry to the representatives of several municipalities, although 'it was supposed to have received its death blow in 1854.

In the days of Maisonneuve and Frontenac and Laval the small landowners, virtual serfs, proceeded on each foot to the seigneurial manor or castle overlord to renew their feudal oath of fealty and pay their annual dues, frequently making a present with the payment in products of the soil or of the chase.

In this progressive century, when the word "feudalism" brings a smile to most lips, the few surviving seigneurs receive the annual land rents from feudatories who include mighty corporations, millionaire owners of cable race tracks, large property owners. The rentals which they pay seldom exceed ten dollars and are frequently below that figure, but many of the properties within the Montreal seigneury handed out to their retainers in exchange for services and dues to be rendered, in perpetuity are now worth several thousand times that modest sum.

Of the few early seigniories surviving in the direct line of descent, that of Lotbinière is notable because its ancient manor today houses the head of the historic family, Alain July Chartier de Lotbinière. But while the majority of the seigneurial families have long since lost direct contact with the realms which they once ruled in many cases the seigneurial rights have been acquired, either by inheritance or purchase, by powerful, religious orders. The new act as technical overlords of the land, collecting the troublesome dues when Annie the Dog rolls round.

Following out policy of conciliation with which they won the loyal allegiance of the French-Canadians, the British conquerors of Quebec did not at first interfere with the seigneurial system. But as years passed it became regarded as a grievance and in 1854 legislative action was taken to lay the ghost of feudalism. A system was established by which the landholders could entirely free their shoulders of the yoke by a series of cash-rent payments. But for some reason, many of the feudatories did not take advantage of the chance. Feudalism survived the death stroke.

So today certain provincial deputies and municipal officials are agitating that brains be devised a new and more attractive system by which the twentieth century feudatories can be aided in the redemption of seigneurial tenure from Quebec.

'HOOT' GIBSON PITCHES STEADY BALL AND NATIONALS WIN AGAIN

Weir's Home Run Helps To Defeat Kingston Ponies

SCORE 5-3

Jamieson Hooks Up With Gibson In Pretty Pitching Duel

Still on top and not likely to be anywhere but there at the end of the season is the lot of the Central League for the Belleville Nationals.

Yesterday they stepped into Kingston and out again with a win in the old hat bag before Joe Daley quite realized they had been there at all. The score was 5 to 3, two of the runs being homers, one for Belleville by Vernon Weir, and the other by Arnell for Kingston. Several double plays were pulled off for the benefit of the cash customers and on the whole a very enjoyable afternoon was had by all.

Weir's homer came with two out in the ninth, with Belleville leading by the slim margin of one run. Jamieson let loose with one which ended up around Vern's shoulder, the place he seems to like them best and the next moment Buck in left field was chasing it way up the hill after the ball. It was one of the hardest hit balls of the season, and Weir not only ran all four bases but he came home standing up. Arnell got his in the seventh with one out and none on. Although not hit nearly as hard as Weir's it was a real honest clout, and would have been good for a homer in most parks.

'Hoot' Gibson was given the pitching assignment, and although not displaying his usual fine control, was only touched up for five hits. 'Hoot' issued four free tickets to first, which is about as many as he has given away all season, but fine support in the pinches helped him out greatly. Gibson is a hitter as well as a pitcher, we would have you realize, for he scored one of the best on the team, and he had two hits yesterday in four attempts.

Jamieson Again

Jamieson again attempted to subdue the Railroaders, but found them the usual tough team to beat. He blanked them for the first four innings, and then the Nationals caught on to what he ever he was throwing, sending in a procession of runs for the next four innings. Belleville scored their first in the fifth, when Gibson singled. Bob Scott sacrificed him to second and Marty Mills hit a lovely triple scoring Gibson. Harry was left stranded on third base, however, as Sonny Green popped out to Elliott for the third out. Previous to this time at bat, Green had his two single out of two times at bat.

In the next inning Big Feeney got his only hit of the day, a nice double between right and center fields, went to third on Blakely's choice choice and scored when Ross rapped one at Britton on short. Britton shot the ball home but Feeney slid and the ball hit him. With the game tied up all around, the Nationals seemed to take on new life, and in their half of the seventh proceeded to bunt Mr. Jamieson out of the picture.

Weir's Home Run

Gibson singled again; Bob Scott in sacrificing him to second beat out his bunt, getting a hit. Weir did the same thing, and then Harry Mills singled, scoring Gibson and Bob Scott. A peculiar play which shows the breaks of baseball came up here. Green popped out to Arnell on third, for the first out. W Mills hit to Arnell who threw to Marty out going from second to third and then threw out Big Feeney at first. At least four runs would ordinarily have been scored, but fortunately they were not needed.

There was no score for Belleville in the eighth, and Weir's homer was the only run scored in the ninth. Kingston got their two runs earlier than the Nats, coming in the fourth innings. Britton walked, Cherry hit a high long foul which Alec Scott in left field got under and then made no attempt to catch. This was undoubtedly good baseball, for the man on first would have gone to second after the catch. However, it didn't work out so well, for on the next pitched ball Cherry singled, and both Britton and Cherry scored when Tura singled. Arnell's homer was the only other run for the Kingston clan, and it came in the seventh.

Without a doubt, Belleville is the team to beat in the Central League and it is going to take a real team to put the Nationals under over this year if they get out of this league. With two pitchers on the staff who can go out and win more than a majority of games, and the team hitting and fielding as they have been doing, Belleville can be assured of a team that will give any of them a battle royal.

OSHAWA TEAM IS BIG ATTRACTION HERE TOMORROW

Nationals Will Likely Pitch "Vinny" Utronki Against Motors

Belleville ball team marches gloriously on, while the other teams sit back in awe and wonder how they do it. The Nationals tucked another win under the old belt at the expense of the Kingston team yesterday, and Gibson had assisted the cause by hand ing the Oshawa team a resounding A La "Hap" Harrison style on Saturday and now the Nats are so far ahead of the others that a telescope will soon be necessary to distinguish them.

Tomorrow will see another trek by the Oshawa team to Belleville and we still have sweet memories of the last occasion upon which the Motors were guests here when the Nationals cached in on the National Sunday Sunnyone-cooshed crew home talking to themselves.

The visitors will send either 'Duke' Dainty or 'Chuck' Matthews to the hillock tomorrow in an effort to put the crimp in the Nationals' winning ways. The 'Duke' is a nice pitcher and will give this gang a heap of trouble any day in the week. The Oshawa team cannot afford to drop tomorrow's game as the Kingston team are camping right on their heels. Belleville still have a comfortable lead but they will be out to win tomorrow's game and 'Vinny' Utronki will get the selection for the gunning duties. Utronki is not the worst pitcher in this loop by a jug-full and Duke Dainty will need to be at his best to defeat the ex-Renfrew boy. The Belleville team are playing great ball just now and they deserve the wholehearted support of all the fans in the city and district. 'Peeny' Mills will be behind the bat and all of the boys will be in their accustomed positions when the umps call "play ball" at 2.15 tomorrow afternoon. At this is the chief ball-holiday attraction the park should be packed for the occasion.

HIGH-LIGHTS ON THE GAME

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE GAME

Half of Kingston is wondering today how Vernon Weir hit such a hard drive as he did. Although small in stature, Vern is no weakling, while the drive came with all the strength of his shoulders, and it was a boomer which rolled up hill, for Buck had to chase it away to the left field foul line. The ball was properly played too, without any criticism, and although he was not forced to slide, he did not have any too much time to spare.

Kingston had one less error than Belleville, the count being three and two. Blakely offended twice, but not in serious spots. "Wicky" Ross also dropped a fly which he had come a long way after, but which he should not have muffled. Elliott and Arnell made the errors for the Kingston bunch.

Harry Mills, Gibson and "Sonny" Green divided the rest of the batting honors. Each had two hits in four attempts, which keeps their batting averages well up. Vernon Weir is running them a close second, having two hits in five times at bat. "Sonny" Green, according to unofficial averages is the leading batter of the team, and one of the foremost in the league.

Bob Scott and W. Mills had one hit each in four times up, and both scored a run. Mills' double came at just the right moment, for from then on Jamieson did not have so much confessions, at the Nationals kept nibbling away at his offerings. Scott was ordered to sacrifice, which he did, but he crossed them all up by bunting so well he beat it out. Weir, the next man up did the same thing and then Harry Mills came through with a much needed single to score two runs.

Del Cherry was the big noise with the bat for the Kingston Club, as he annexed two singles in four trips up there. At that the big boy is not hitting like he used to.

George Ada, another of the big sluggers for the Kingston team was credited with four times at bat and no hits. The last time up he hit to Gibson, and was so provoked that he threw his bat against the screen in front of the bleachers. George should not have been so angry, though, for it is not the first time, nor will it be the last, that Gibson has sent him back talking to himself.

Alec Scott played left field for the first four innings and was then replaced by Hagerman. Each had one put out, and no errors, and both are handy men to have about. Hagerman if necessary can go behind the bat while Scott can play any field with equal efficiveness.

In the 8th, Hagerman ran from deep left down hill to snare Elliott's fly, for the third out of the inning. It was a hard catch, especially in view of the fact that the field was bumpy and full of holes.

A carnival has been using the Ball Park for their show for the last few days, and as is usual with these concerns, left the outfield about as smooth as a country road. Balls had to be played safe every time on the bounce for fear they would get away by a bad bounce. The infield itself was not bad but the ridge which has been left behind the diamond was the cause of one Blakley's errors yesterday.

SportOgramS

By "The Observer"

It was stated in an article on the sport page yesterday that Oshawa had beaten Peterboro in Saturday's game at Oshawa. Unfortunately the story was written previous to the correct score having been received and some fans received the wrong impression. Belleville were materially assisted by the Peterboro Club and Oshawa will have a fight on their hands to beat Kingston to the wire.

The game tomorrow should attract a large crowd with Oshawa and Belleville, the two leaders in the Central League race hooking up. The Oshawa team were handed a double-drubbing at the hands of the local squad on their last appearance here and here's hoping that they repeat the dose tomorrow. Gibson will likely do the fleeing for the Nationals. Many fans have been clamoring for a chance to see "Duke" Dainty in action and they may get their chance tomorrow. The "Duke" pitched the Motors to a double win over the Delero team last week and he has been itching for a crack at the Nationals. He did not fare so well against Peterboro and the Swanston-Craig crew slaughtered his offerings fore and aft.

Heckman made another feeble attempt to come back on Saturday but the old arm would not respond. It is queer to see old "Heck", at one time one of the best in the League going down hill. "Heck" made two attempts this year and both of them resulted in failures. It is doubtful if he will essay the task again this year. 'Hap' Harrison assumed the mound after Heckman had fallen down and the big light - hearted second - baseman hurled the skidding Petes to a victory.

Fans are looking forward to the game between the Beavers and the the Ontarios at the Armouries on Thursday night. The Beavers are practising faithfully in the hopes of "taking" the Ontarios while the latter hope to maintain their season's unbeaten record.

Fred Craig the "star cracker" writing in the Peter Examiner says:

Well, Mac, our ball club has gone from worse to terrible. Last fall, they wasted away a 6-run lead and let the Pirates come from behind to beat them, and Wed. they travelled down to Belleville and dropped 2 games in 1 bot afternoon. Only the fact that Mister Elliott's Delero fimeliers kindly consented to go one game thing at Oshawa prevented our talent from dropping clear through the cellar. The Peter had beaten this Belleville gang three times in a row already this season, but to be truthful, Mac, they never was a moment in that 1st game Wed. when they looked to have a chance to make it 3 straight. And while that master strategist, Mister Shiner Johnston, had 44 all digested out that Mister Gerow's baby had ran round the bases so often in the opening engagement that they'd be all tuckered out in the 2nd, the Railroaders, as I call them, went on and copped that 1, too, although the lads pull up a better fight.

Right now they is three races in this Central loop. Belleville and Oshawa is having 1 for 1st place, Kingston Pooles is having a rassell by themselves with the .500 mark, and us and Deloro is battling to see which is going to keep outa the cellar. Mister Gerow's men look like the ultimate winners, although the Motorists keep hanging on and might outlick them yet, although, honest injun, they don't look to have anything like the ball club that Belleville has.

The way the Belleville Nationals have been slugging the ball in recent games is a crime. "Peeny" Mills and his gang have been lambering up on the bases and have been making the twirlers on opposing teams look foolish. They can't keep that up forever and it may halt sooner than expected.—Whig-Standard.

SUGGEST FUND TO BRING BACK PAPA

Ottawa, Ont.—The solution of the deserted wives and children problem may possibly lie in the suggestion of Judge J. F. McKinley of the Juvenile Court, who has asked the board of Control to provide sufficient money to have brought back to Ottawa fathers of families who have deserted.

Mr. McKinley told the board in his letter that the Juvenile court had received an order of more than 70 fathers who had left families in the city and were not providing for them in any way. As a result many one of these families had to be supported by the city Social Service Department or affiliated organizations.

He considered that such a state of affairs was an unfair burden on the taxpayers. A number of cases were known where the father could easily be reached and brought back to the city to aid in the support of his family.

HOW DREAMS MATERIALIZE

It is our desire at certain times of the year to get away from the din of city traffic and out to where the inland waters flow. We could instantly board a steamer out in mid ocean, where time hangs peacefully upon your hands, and the worries of life have fled. We dream of these things, yet little do we realize that these dreams can come true if we but pause for one moment to think. What of inland waters? We could think of them as being fit for anglers and those who delight in a canoeing, but of steamers with broad white decks, where we can sit on some quiet corner and read, or somewhere up in deep thought, do we ever think of such possibilities? They do exist, and think of it, for two whole days on the ocean of your own, embarking at Port McNicol, sweeping out across Lake Huron, through the great Soo canal, and out over Lake Superior, the greatest body of fresh water in the world. Your dreams, therefore, can materialize, and more so if you call upon the Canadian Pacific Railway obtaining all information regarding this wonderful trip, and finally asking them for reservations. 113534

Engine Went Dead And Fishermen Cast To Mercy of Sea

FRANTIC EFFORTS

Picked Up By Steamer 140 Miles Off Florida Coast

New York, July 25.—After spending six days adrift in a 26-foot speed boat, in which they had paunted an afternoon's fishing trip, Charles H. Stone, marine motor engineer, of Lakeworth, Fla., and Aaron Cox, his negro helper, arrived in New York yesterday on the Panama Pacific liner Mariposa.

They had been picked up 130 miles from the coast of Florida by Captain James E. Roberts, after more than 140 hours of fierce battling in their crippled boat, when they had but one gallon of water apiece each day, and were followed for several hours by a man-eating shark almost as long as the boat.

"It had started out fine to go out, I guess," smiled Stone, a husky fellow with high cheek bones, deep-set grey eyes and great jagged teeth. "The engine developed magneto trouble when we had been about three or four hours, and we drifted for eighteen hours with a strong offshore wind. I thought that was the end, but it was not even the beginning.

"We tampered with the engine till we had used up practically all the gas, and then we rigged up a canvas sail and managed to get within sight of land. But no one saw us. First thing you know we were way out at sea again!"

"For days they drifted around, Stone said, sighting several ships but were not seen, even though they burned all their fishing tackle and most of their clothes to attract attention. On the day afternoon at 4 o'clock, when the last bit of water was used up, the Mariposa hove in sight, and, by means of churts steamed by, let down a Jacob's ladder, and took the two men aboard.

500 ATTENDED HYDRO PICNIC

Variety of Sports Featured Outing of Central System

"The best outing of them all" was the unanimous verdict of the employees of the Central Ontario System of the Hydro Electric Power Commission, who participated in the annual picnic held yesterday at Consecon Park. Five hundred were in attendance.

Baseball, tug-of-war and races all over the Central Ontario system were closed up all day yesterday for the picnic. Trains and boats left until late afternoon automobiles left Belleville and all from between Oshawa and Napanee for the Point.

Races, dancing, swimming, ball games, tennis, trapshooting, quoits and horseshoes—all had their devotees and there was literally a variety of attractions. Belleville softballers lost the championship of the Central System when they were nosed out by Peterboro. A cup was presented for this important event, which was won last year by Campbellford but their team yesterday, lost out to Belleville.

That honorable and ancient game, horseshoes, had a large number of adherents. Interest in same was won by a team from Frankford, composed of J. Searles and W. Ferguson, while four ours in trapshooting were carried off by Don Carlos, of Toronto, first, with W. Wheeler of Belleville second.

Those who desired to play golf, or tennis, were accommodated as facilities for both these sports had been provided. Four hundred and fifty picknickers registered which did not include the hundreds of children present.

Among those who were present officials present from Toronto yesterday were: Messrs. Don Carlos, Frederick Dewery and P. Birkett, while officers from all the stations between Oshawa and Napanee were in attendance. Another feature of the day was the fact that no serious accidents were reported

"TO-DAY'S THOUGHT"

"There is no consolation, except in God's Arms."

—PASCAL.

LABOR AND EMPIRE.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, who is about to visit the Dominion, is a great imperialist, and in this respect does not share the views of some of his Labor colleagues who are fond of attacking the Empire. In a recent speech Mr. MacDonald declared himself to be "one of those who have always believed that there was a tremendous work in the world for the British commonwealth of nations to perform." Speaking of India, he expressed the hope that within a comparatively short time India would take its place in the Empire as a dominion that will find self-respect as an equal within this commonwealth.

Any talk of withdrawal from India, or Egypt or from the native parts of Africa, is deprecated as not only inconsistent, but as an act of betrayal. To go as would be to hand them over to the tender mercies of whatever wars would, successively against their leaders—in their present state of unstable equilibrium."

These loyal assurances of the expremier should have the effect of setting at rest any fears which may exist regarding the imperial policies of the British Labor party. Those fears, if there be continued are not without justification, in view of the foolish language employed by certain members of the party, whose high position should inspire them with a greater sense of responsibility. It is hard to explain away for instance, the denunciation of the Empire, as a system built up on injustice domination, violence and slaughter; which was the lurid description given by the present chairman of the Labor party, Mr. Lansbury. Then there have been the recommendations of the more extreme members, in regard to India, that the Britishers pack up and leave the country to itself the better. It would be unjust, however, to confuse this excitable rhetoric with the considered opinions of the leaders. There is much talking for effect, but when it comes to occupying office and directing the welfare of the Empire and of the world at large, the moderate, statesmanlike utterances of men like Mr. MacDonald are those which prevail.

DANCE MARATHON.

It is distinctly to the discredit of the officials of Windsor that, the neighboring city of Detroit having refused to permit a marathon dance contest, the community across the river permitted itself to be the scene of what must have been a disgraceful exhibition. Windsor legislators cannot evade responsibility by saying there was nothing in the municipal bylaws to prevent the jazz marathon. If the chief of police was without authority to stop it, the council could have armed him with a legal club at a five-minute session. Now the dance is over, and, if Bedlam out-do be even worse than was reported, nerve despatches from the Border city tell of the necessity of a probe being considered by the mayor. One report that came to the ears of the jaded magistrate was that two of the girls participating had been taking drugs to ward off sleep. Other contestants of both sexes collapsed and had to be carried from the floor. It would have been a pretty picture — frowsy, wilted girls and perspiration-polished men toddling around hour after hour in the strains of jazz and trying to whip poor, tired bodies into a sprint the last six hours of the race that they might win some of the special awards hung up by the promoters. We have prided ourselves in Canada that we don't go in for this kind of thing. Until this marathon dance was staged in Windsor—the neighboring republic had a monopoly on stunts of this kind—dance marathons, flagpole sitting, coffee-drinking and ringbell-eating tournaments. Windsor, we think, has been taught a lesson that will suffice for the rest of the Dominion.

OTHER MEN'S THOUGHTS

It's a wise man who realizes that the secret of happiness lies not in doing what we like but in liking what we do.—Sault Daily Star.

A theatrical authority says 'the public is a climate.' It is worse than that in some instances; a pestilence.—Stratford Expositor.

Turkish women have removed their veils, but compared to their American sisters they have only begun to take off.—Detroit Free Press.

HAVE YOU HEARD THESE?

Artist—Now, what were dresses like ten years ago?

Ela Wite—Tiffe mitee.

In Mexican campaigns the women always accompany their husbands in the army, so the soldiers are always kept in fighting trim.

Grocer—Have you mopped the floor yet?

Boy—No.

'No what?'

'No mop!'

'Only fools are certain, Tommy Wise men hesitate.'

'Are you sure, uncle?'

'Yes—certain of it!'

'Politics no longer is a matter of dollars and cents,' an idealistic orator shouted. 'We'll agree on the cents.'

An Englishman touring in Scotland came across an old couple arguing in the road, and stopped to ask the cause of the dispute. 'We're no disputin' at all,' interrupted the man. 'We're both o' the same mind. I has got half a crown in me pooch, an' she thinks she's no goan to get it, and I'm agreein' wi' her.'

Ivor was a very earnest young man without much initiative. Consequently, when he bought a diamond ring for his fiancee he was completely at loss for a suitable inscription to be engraved inside. 'What shall I put in it, dad?' he asked.

'Oh,' was the reply, 'er—er—you might say, "When this you see, think of me." The ring was duly delivered and bore the somewhat unusual inscription: "When this you see, remember dad."

'THE LEADEN-EYED.'

Let not young souls be smothered out before
Their day is quenched with purple and with night.
They do quaint deeds and fully flaunt their pride,
It is the world's one crime its babes grow dull,
Its poor are ox-like, limp and leaden-eyed.

Not that they starve, but starve so drearily;
Not that they sow, but that they seldom reap;
Not that they serve, but have no gods to serve;
Not that they die, but that they die like sheep.

MARITIME HEADS TO VISIT HERE

Entire Legislature May Be Guests of Toronto During Exhibition

Toronto, Ont. (C.P.)—To have three Lieutenant-Governors, and the entire membership of the legislatures of the Maritime Provinces as guests in Toronto for three days during the Canadian National Exhibition is the hope of the Maritime Provinces Association of Toronto. The Empire Parliamentary Association is to be in Toronto about the last of August, and it is planned to have the Maritime Provinces representatives present to participate jointly in the entertainment that will be provided by the Ontario Government, the City of Toronto, His Honour W. D. Ross, lieutenant-governor, and many of the leading men in the city.

Invitations have been sent to the Lieutenant-governors, all the legislative members, the Presidents of the Maritime Provinces Universities, and representatives of the Associated Board of Trade and of the Press, and it is expected that practically all will accept. Special trains have been arranged for and well considered plans are being made to make the occasion memorable.

The Maritime Provinces Association of Toronto now numbering over 800 members has been interesting itself for the past year in encouraging Ontario firms to look to the Maritimes for larger supplies of the produce of the farm, factory, fisheries, and the forest. They have also been distributing literature intended to bring home to Ontario readers the contribution the Maritimes are making and the greater contribution they can make to Canadian industrial life. The Maritime Provinces Association is composed of Maritime people now resident here. The Honorary President is Lieutenant Governor W. D. Ross; Vice-presidents, Sir Robert Falconer, Most Rev. Archbishop McNeil, and Chancellor H. P. Whidden.

EVENTUALLY PEST WILL BE NO MORE

Washington, D.C.—Hope for eventual extermination of the malaria spreading mosquito and his less danger cus, but pesky brethren is seen by Pub lic Health Service authorities in recent results of aeroplane dusting experiments in swampy areas near Bamburg, S.C.

These experiments have demonstrated that the value of the aeroplane in spreading paris-green over large marsh es and swamps where drainage or other methods of eradication are impracticable. Navy planes with dusting equipment were flown over the South Carolina swamps, releasing the poisonous powder over the mosquitoes' breeding places. At least 90 per cent of the larvae, the investigators estimated, were killed.

"FATHER OF ALL LIVING DENTISTS"

Montreal, Que.—"The father of modern dentistry," as he has been termed," C. N. Johnson, of Chicago, editor of the Journal of the American Dental Association, was interviewed while in this city. He is one of the greatest authorities in the dental profession to day, and he admits frankly that science has not yet discovered the fundamental cause of dental decay. But he has a word for Canadian mothers. He is not of those who believe greatly in diet in the prevention of decay of the teeth, as there are too many different diets suggested.

"I think we can stop dental decay. The keynote of prevention of dental decay is to get the child early to take proper care of the mouth. Find all the cavities in their incipiency; remedy every defect of the teeth; treat the defects on the basis you would treat a contagious disease. Some members of our profession have been remiss in their duty in their treatment of children. They tell the parents that it is not necessary to treat deciduous teeth, that they will be lost within a short time. That is decorating. But when I speak of early treatment I mean between 2 1-2 and 4 years of age. And we will get a generation with dental decay almost eliminated."

REBUKED FOR CONDUCT TO BIBLE

Montreal, Que. (C.P.)— Testifying in a case in which evidence showed blows were exchanged and hair pulled away by two women, neighbors, one of the women struck the Holy Bible at the witness stand so violently as she spoke her oath that Judge Grenier ordered her angrily to order and reprocshed her sternly for her rude handling of the sacred volume.

When her name was called, the woman, mother of the accused, hurried at most running, to the box and on her arrival brought her fist down wildly on the Bible: "I am going to tell the truth, the truth, the truth," she shouted, once more striking the Book to emphasize her truthful intentions. It was almost five minutes before Judge Cannon had finished admonishing her and allowed her to proceed with her testimony.

POINTS AHEAD

Another game in the Belleville League was played last night when the Point Anne team hooked up with the Alexite team at the city. The Cement men were out by the score of 9 to 5. Moore Church pitched for the Alexite, while Bill Strachan did the flinging for the Point. This win makes things look much better for the Point in the city League, and they seem to have the best chance of coming in this year in third place. The Moore team has also put out because of a shortage of players, so all games scheduled with them will be credited as wins for the opposition.

TWENTY-FIVE AND COSTS

Leo Dowdrant pleaded guilty this morning in police court to illegally conveying liquor in a public place and was assessed $25 and $15 costs, which was paid. A charge of drunk in charge of a car had at first been laid against the young man, but this was amended this morning. He was defended by Mr. E. J. Butler, while Crown Attorney Denmas acted for the prosecution.

MAY OPEN DINING HALL

Mr. Wiggins, proprietor of the smart dining hall at Mt. Agnes, has applied to the Intelligencer today that although he was leaving the Manor very shortly, he would in all probability open up elsewhere in the city.

This will be welcome news to the large clientele of the Manor Dining hall, as Mr. Wiggins has made many friends here. Several banquets have been held in the Manor, and the best of service was given. Mr. Wiggins stated today that he would probably have an announcement to make to the public in a few days with regard to his new quarters.

KIWANIS CLUB 'LADIES' NIGHT' WAS A SUCCESS

Picton Members and Wives Provided Splendid Program

Picton Kiwanians and Kiwanis Queens were guests of the Belleville Club at "Ladies' Night" held in the spacious auditorium at the Bay of Quinte Country Club last evening. The hall was filled almost to its capacity and the entertainment left nothing to be desired. The program was short and snappy and was featured by solos, short pithy speeches and piano numbers. Promptly at seven o'clock the visiting members with their guests and the Belleville Kiwanians sat down to a splendid dinner. Harry Cresswell, President of the Belleville Club in a few stirring remarks welcomed the guests of the evening and expressed the sincere happy times spent during the past year since the Picton Club received its charter.

He handed the gavel over to President Dr. Vanalstine after the Picton Club. The latter is a most capable speaker and his remarks were punctuated with wit and originality. Prominent members of the Picton Club were the subject of amusing sketches at the hands of the President and each was made the target of pointed witticisms which brought peals of merriment from the crowd. The fines were cheerfully paid as decided by the visitors who contributed generously to an impromptu auction sale, George Ellis, Secretary of the Belleville Club, extended the greetings of the Belleville Club and spoke of the District basket picnic to Cobourg August 15th. He also spoke of the trip to Ottawa which resulted in the presentation of the Charter to the Kirkland Lake Club last month. Mr. Publow told of the efforts of the Picton Club to strengthen the bond of friendship between the Picton Club and the County of Prince Edward.

Mrs. Ellis, wife of Secretary Ellis contributed a vocal duet and Mrs. Marjorie Ryall acted as accompanist.

Mr. Dr. Vanalstine, the genial toastmaster, also contributed a solo. In the course of the evening a number of guests were called upon for impromptu and humorous speeches which were baffling and mysterious. Among the guests of the evening, Jil. Club brought the greetings of his Club and spoke of the annual work being done by Kiwanis. Victor Dawson, a member of the Picton club was accompanied by Leo Biggs, and Chas. Wright rendered a number. Leo Biggs also contributed a solo and was accompanied by Leo Biggs. Chas. Wright rendered a number. Mr. Leo Biggs was presented with a prize for winner of the guessing contest and Mrs. Georgs Chaffin, wife of the Secretary of the Belleville Club was awarded the Consolation prize. When the program was completed Mr. Hyson Dornan moved a vote of thanks to the Picton Club for the entertainment. He noted the following: Belleville is created by these inter-Club meetings and voiced the sentiments of the local Kiwanians when he expressed the hope that two of them might be held in the future. At the conclusion of the program the floors were cleared and dancing was held until the midnight hour.

DEATHS & FUNERALS

WILLIAM GREGG ROBERTSON

The funeral of the late William Gregg Robertson took place yesterday from the Canadian Legion Hall at 3.30 p.m. to the Belleville Cemetery. Rev. Dr. McTavish conducted the service. Many floral tributes were heaped with the remains from Toronto, Miss T. Wilson, Mrs. Wright, a niece of the deceased, Mr. Georgs Robertson, a brother and two nephews accompanied the remains to the city. Interment was made in the Robertson family plot in the Belleville Cemetery.

LIBERAL SELLING

LED TO SET-BACK

Chicago, July 25.—Liberal selling both from the northwest and the southwest led to a setback in wheat values today after upturn at the start. The initial advances in wheat here were associated with the higher Liverpool quotations than due. Opening unchanged to 1-2c higher, Chicago wheat afterward receded all around to well below yesterday's finish. Corn oats and provisions displayed quality strength, with corn starting 3-4c to 1 1-4c higher but subsequently reacting somewhat.

BISHOPS FORGET THEIR TROUBLES

When They Dined With Lord Mayor The Other Night

London, July—(C.P.)—Bishops forgot, for a while at least, their perplexities over the Prayer Book when they dined with the Lord Mayor at the Mansion House the other night. For many years it has been the custom of the Lord Mayor of London once a year to entertain the Episcopal Bench. Laughter and wisdom were the features of the Reverend fathers, more especially when His Grace of Canterbury delivered a very happy and witty speech. Even the music served with the meals was of a light and happy character. There were Gilbert and Sullivan excerpts—and even selections from old-time music hall songs. Somebody suggested that the music ought to have been Gregorian.

The Archbishop of York said the first letter he had opened that morning contained this very searching question: 'Are you and your brother Davidson servants of the Devil?' The writer, added the Archbishop, left no sort of doubt as to his own opinion. On the one hand, difficulties and bishops of today,' said the Archbishop of Canterbury, 'is the ceaseless demand for utterances of some kind absolutely unlike what our predecessors in office were accustomed to when three or four times a year a stereotyped utterance was put forward in solemn tones and was duly reported in a quite respectable way.

'I sometimes wonder whether the modern form of the newspaper sheet is accountable for it. Nowadays the greater part of our newspapers is full of stirring pictures, brilliant, motor-cars, wonderful dresses from Paris illustrating to the full all the fun and turbulence of the day—and some times even more intimate details than that. Between the interstices of those pictures the reporter has to find room somehow to put in what the man or that has said. No wonder that we are made on occasion to say things in order that we may become as our own.'

Continuing, the Archbishop said a man of his age received much advice of a contradictory nature. Some would have a man retire at 70 or 75 fore. Others would have him carry on until he had to be wheeled in a bath-chair along the Brighton front, to be pointed out by triumphant nurses as an old man in full possession of all his faculties.

INDIVIDUAL THOUGHT DISAPPEARS IN MOBS

The way in which an individual's mind works when he is by himself is quite different from the way it works when that same individual is in a crowd.

From the psychological viewpoint a crowd is much more than a simple gathering of many persons.

In a crowd, individuals of different nationalities, different sexes, different ages, and with different ideas and sets temporarily intermix; they form, in fact, one gigantic, composite individual.

In a crowd a collective type of thought develops; mentality which makes those composing the crowd think and act, quite differently from what they would apart from the crowd.

Individual personality disappears in a crowd.

Each person becomes highly suggestible, especially to some common emotion—pulse—patriotism for instance.

It has been noted that a crowd is more suggestible standing up than when sitting down.

Much of the needlessness in the gallery of English theatres was done away with when seats were provided for all.

The orator and the perverted political "spell binder" deliberately makes use of crowd psychology.

To sway a crowd and make its suggestibility as contagious as possible, ideas that carry deep reasoning must not be employed.

Facts can best be imparted to a crowd by repeating them over and over in different ways.

Speech must be simple.

One should appeal to the emotions.

Apt, timely and 'trick' phrases are always telling.

A loud, big voice, impresses a crowd.

Cartoons, flags, parades, band music—all these help to create the proper atmosphere of suggestion.

However, just as a crowd is quick to accept a suggestion, it is also quick to lose it.

Crowd attention cannot be held for long.

Physical discomfort such as hunger, cold, sudden rain, will oft break the hypnotic spell.

To hold a crowd's attention variety is important.

Furthermore, a stronger suggestion —one appealing more to the emotions —will continue the hypnotic influence when a weaker suggestion has died out.

For instance, at the cry of "Fire" in a theatre a stampede has often been averted by a sudden burst of music from the orchestra.

Crowds are peculiar but an interesting study!

The principles of crowd psychology which I have outlined above, ought to help you to understand much of the world doings which, on the surface, may have appeared puzzling and even contradictory to you.

Especially interesting will a study of the habits of crowds be in the coming presidential campaign.

A knowledge of these matters will make you more tolerant, too.

Self will cure the crowd reactions too seriously.

But be careful of your own crowd reactions when you find yourself in a large group.

Let your reason rule!

GOOD ADVICE FROM MOTHER OF SEVEN

Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ont.—"I began taking Vegetable Compound for nervous and run down feelings and backache. I must say I felt different after the first dose. I have been told this last six months that I look twenty-five. Although I am now forty-seven and have had seven children, I have taken the Vegetable Compound regularly for some time and feel sleep well, healthy and fine."—Mrs. McKim, 18 Laurier Ave., Toronto, Ontario.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

When meat is slightly tainted, put in a few pieces of charcoal when cooking to make it sweet and prevent cooking odors.

To clean white kid shoes—Make a lather of pure white soap and milk for cleaning white kid shoes. Brush as much dirt as possible off the shoes before scrubbing with the lather.

A lovely costume just seen in Paris had a transparent lace redingote, which ran down into a pointed train that tried on the ground, and it was made of dark blue lace, very slimy, and had a huge flat collar of dark blue ermine, and it was worn over a gown of dark blue lace over silver tissue.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS

CHAPTER 12.

THAT TRICKY LITTLE GOD

Tom Harrington took both of Celia's hands in his. He said hastily:

"Celia, I've been a blind fool. I know the truth tonight. Vail has confessed. It's all over town. I know my father's part in it. I can't tell you what I think of that."

Celia answered gently: "Never mind. The past is past."

"But there is the future," he protested quickly. "Celia, I've heard other things. That's what's brought me here tonight, when I should have had the decency to stay away. . . . They know about Falconer's prison sentence and the fact that now you can have your freedom. You want it, don't you?"

"I'm. Tom."

He laid his lips against her palms. "Then, can you forget the past and let me win you in the present. . . . I love you, Celia. I've never stopped loving you! Can we go back, when you are free, to the time when we were so happy?"

She looked at him, wonderingly. Where was her heart? she asked herself. Why wasn't she thrilling with the joy of having the thing for which she had yearned?

She saw Tom's arms reaching for her, and she was instinctively from a sanctuary for which she would once have given her soul.

"Tomorrow, Tom," she heard herself say. "Come to me again. I'm so tired now. So very, very tired."

He sprang to his feet. "Forgive me. I shouldn't have come, after what you've passed through today.... But Celia, I couldn't wait."

She said again: "Tomorrow," and, as she watched him go away, her heart reminded her of that other blither night so long ago when she had heard his furious footsteps echoing down the corridor of the deserted coffee-building.

And now she calmly watched him go. And her brain recorded the fact that he was merely a young and handsome man who had proposed to her; not her girlhood sweetheart of the mad for whom she had suffered tortures.

Miss Page's appearance on the verandah cut short her reverie.

"Your mother is asking for you, Mrs. Falconer." She smiled. "A very good night. She has good news from the doctor.'

When Celia went up, her mother was sitting in the chaise longue, briskly polishing her nails.

"We're going to California, Celia, child," she said. "We need half-a-dozen days' rest."

Slim Evening Types

Dear Irene,

I saw this slender gown of tur quoise blue satin at a dinner party, and its revealing lit Grecian line thought that it was so inexpressibly lovely that I have sketched it for you.

You know, of course, that if an evening dress is to be either beefsuit or flattery now-a-days, it must be extremely slender line. Added that is just what this frock is. The fact that it is made in one piece, is the first instance, makes it slender, and the wide, soup girdle and large front bow that falls below the hemline add to this effect. The V-neckline is also a becoming feature and the sash draped from the shoulder at the back gives that lovely floating "movement." Simple slippers of turquoise blue satin, exactly matching the gown, and finished with flat cut crystal jewels after Chanel.

Yours,

Irene.

MOSQUITOES FOUND TO BE DOUBLY DANGEROUS

Can Cause Much Suffering By Bite

The ordinary mosquito is not content with injecting disease germs into the blood. A burning sensation is left. The scratching of the bite often causes infection.

FLY-TOX will kill those germ-carrying mosquitoes, and it is your protection against mosquito infection.

FLY-TOX will kill those germ-carrying mosquitoes, and it is your protection against mosquito infection.

FLY-TOX superiority comes from its scientific development. It was developed at Mellon's Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Research Fellowship. It is not only guaranteed to kill insects quickly and easily, but is also warranted to be stainless, harmless to mankind and animals, and to leave a cleanly, fragrant odor.

Many imitators are seeking to take advantage of FLY-TOX's reputation. Do not be misled. Insist on the genuine. Your dealer sells FLY-TOX.

WHAT'S NEW

(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Sir Alfred Mond recently observed: 'We have in this country men with more ingenuity and more practical application of scientific principles to actual manufacture than in any other country in the world.'

A new shop which derives practically all its inspiration in both materials and interior decoration from the 18th century, has just been opened in London by a wholesale and retail flower specialists, and Marie Tempest, the actress, performed the opening ceremony.

Besides feminine irregularity and skirt width, two highlighted evening dress features, attention is also focused on the sash bodice, and this is achieved frequently in shaped yokes, the skirt sections applied in scalloped outlines of frequently shirred bandings, while girdles that fasten or tie snugly are other means of gaining a satisfactory waistline. Many of the tied snugly at one hip are other methods.

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

During the war I married a French peasant girl and I've never seen her since. I believe that she is dead, but I cannot be sure. Now that I've returned to America I've fallen in love with a girl I've known all my life. She is wonderful and loves me. Should I marry her despite the girl I married in France, and who may now be dead?

PERPLEXED.

PERPLEXED: Legally you are still a married man and would be committing bigamy without ascertaining first whether your first wife is dead or alive. As long as you have been separated so long, and have not heard from your wife, it would be an easy matter for you to obtain a divorce, and this you must do before marrying again. Consult a lawyer and tell him the full circumstances, and he will advise you fully.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am sixteen years of age and I know a few boys between the ages of fourteen and sixteen. In the afternoons and evening, anywhere between four in the afternoon and seven in the evening, three or four of these boys come around on our front porch and talk to me. Of course as boys are, you know they are boisterious and they laugh and talk but never anything out of the natural conversation.

Some of our neighbors have begun to talk about it and how Mother objects.

For my part I see nothing wrong in it.

CURIOUS.

CURIOUS: I cannot see that there is

McGILL LEADS SUMMER SCHOOL

Library School Attains Prominence Attached To French School

Montreal, Que.—(C.P.)—While 3,000 collegians who liven the halls and campus of old McGill stirring with incessant activity throughout three seasons of the year, are scattered far and wide in quest of pleasure, dollars or experience, two busy groups are purposing their studies under the July sun. They are the Summer French School and the Library School.

The Summer French School has gained and international reputation during recent years and draws its large enrolment from United States as well as Canadian centres. But the work of the Library School is less generally known, although the fact that it has been found necessary to limit the enrolment this year proves that Canadian libraries have come to realize the necessity of maintaining specially trained staffs. McGill was the first university to inaugurate instruction in this comparatively new vocation and still holds the premier place. This year the school's number includes students from every province in the Dominion.

Twenty-four years ago McGill established the first summer course in library work in Canada, and since that time these courses have contigued to expand, save for the war period, when all summer work at the university was suspended. The first all-year course to be undertaken by any university in 1927.

Students completing the summer course and obtaining their certificates are qualified to undertake the librarianship of small libraries or to work as assistants in large libraries. Those taking the all-year course are fitted for executive positions in the larger institutions.

The McGill school is under the directorship of Gerhard R. Lomer, M. A., Ph. D., assisted by Mary Duncan Carter, Ph. B., B. L. S. Among the branches in which particular reference work and bibliography, circulation, publicity and extension, and book selection. There are also interesting elective courses in the history of books and reading, story telling for children, library work with children, school libraries, library architecture and binding.

A practical apprentice course in the fundamentals of binding is now being given for the first time in connection with the Summer School. The course, which is attracting much interest, includes lectures on paper, binding materials, the making of book hats, scrapbooks, blotters and boxes. It is under the special charge of Dr. Lomer, with Philippe Beaudin and Oliver Cartgman as instructors in practical work.

While McGill University is fostering library work, the vocation is still in its infancy in Canada and offers no justification for the establishment of a graduate school. Those library workers who wish to continue their studies beyond the limits of the McGill course must go to one of the graduate schools in the United States. But the Canadian educationists who are devoting their energies to this new field are confident that in the not very distant future changed conditions will make feasible the establishment of such a school.

CANADIANS TO BE EXECUTIVES

Of American Osteopathic Convention To Be Held In Missouri

Chicago, Ills.—(C.P.)—A number of Canadians will have important places in connection with the professional programmes and the business sessions of the American Osteopathic Association and affiliated organizations, when they hold the A. T. Still Centennial convention at Kirksville, Mo., during the first two weeks in August.

Dr. Hubert J. Pocock, Toronto, a trustee in the American Osteopathic Association, is programme chairman for the main organization, and is also president of the American Society of Osteopathic Radiographers, an affiliated organization, whose convention meets at the same place.

Among the Canadian speakers on the general programme are, Drs. H. Fernster Moore, Hamilton, Ont., John J. O'Connor, Toronto, Elmer S. Dellwiler, London, Ont., and R. O. Millay, Montreal, who also appears on the programme of the section on the art of practice. Dr. Bruce Marshall, Montreal, is on the programme of the section on acute diseases.

This will be the 32nd annual convention of the American Osteopathic Association. Osteopathy itself has been practised for 54 years. Dr. A. T. Still, founder of osteopathy began his investigations about 1850, and did not make a public announcement of his findings until 1874. For 21 years longer, he put osteopathy into practice before he organized a school to teach it to others. It was not until 1897 that there were enough osteopathy practitioners to form an association.

WOMEN FLYERS ENTHUSIASTIC

Montreal, Que., —(C.P.)— While Montreal women have not taken to flying in great numbers, those who have availed themselves of the opportunity for lessons are enthusiastic, and rather wonder that more women have not caught the contagion of the sport.

Mrs. Eric Neddy, who is learning how to take the air, conquered on the charm of sailing over large white clouds when all earthly Montreal things were discouragingly warm, and another learner, Mrs. W. S. Lightball, was equally pleased with the flying.

The flyers were attired in tight summer costumes with the temporary addition of goggles and helmet. The simplicity and accessibility of the sport was noted as a point in its favor. At present, it was pointed out, the only real difficulty is in finding hours for lessons, as there are numerous learners.

Confidence in one's instructor was indicated as the great asset for a beginner. Mrs. Neddy commented on the fact that both Lady Bailey and Lady Heath, the well-known English flyers had received instruction when learning from F. D. M. Sparks, who is at present instructor at the Montreal Light Aeroplane Club, and she expressed the opinion that this was a particularly good opportunity for Montreal women who would take up the sport.

The fascination of the game is the keener point in taking lessons, it was pointed out. One flyer said she was looking forward to the day a few years hence when young people would drive their own planes just as they now drive their own cars, and when it would be convenient to hop up to one's cottage in the Laurentians for the day.

Quebec, Quebec.—The most sensational speculation in the Canadian Seed Growers' Association closed at the Chateau Frontenac this afternoon, when Mr. Jones, with a record demand for registered seed for 1926 in Canada, given as follows: Wheat, 17,319 bushels; oats, 54,815 bushels; barley, 15,437 bushels; and alfalfa, 10,748 bushels.

Montreal, Quebec.—Fur prices have advanced by the Canadian agents, as reflected in the three-day fur auction sale recently concluded here. Nearly 50,000 ermine pelts sold at 20 per cent above the level of the previous sale, with a top price of 24.50; mink was also up 30 per cent, with the highest sale at 144.50, while wolf pelts brought a ten per cent advance over the price level of early spring.

Canadian dinners to the Old Country are not considered complete without Canadian ice cream for dessert. This, for is Hiram Commissioner's annual dinner in London on July 29 two eight-gallon tubs of the delicacy were ordered and these were shipped by the Canadian Pacific Express in ample time for the dinner. The same thing was done last October for a special Canadian dinner held in London under the Canadian Trade Commissioner's auspices.

Ottawa, Ontario—By the end of the season 15 flying clubs will have been established in Canada, it is said, according to advices from the Air Board. A total of $170,000 is being spent by the Air Board and is the promotion of these clubs for civilian flying. The clubs are already been established at Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton, Halifax, Regina, Moose Jaw, Edmonton, Calgary and Grande Prairie, Alta., at Halifax and another at London on the shore of the Bay.

These parcels are handled by the Canadian Pacific Express Company.

BELLE THEATRE

Monte Blue in Warner Bros.' "Across the Atlantic." The thrills are not make-believe thrills either, the stunts, so Hollywood engineers say, having been done, not by "doubles," but by the redoubtable Monte himself.

The story by John Russell—Harry Carey Cates did the adaptation—and Howard Bretherton is responsible for the splendid direction. Principals in support of Mr. Blue are the captivating Edna Murphy, Burr McIntosh and Robert Ober. Blue has been cast in all sorts of—plays from Western to the most sophisticated comedy. But he has never had a part more suited to his two-faced personality than that of Hugh Clayton; the wounded ace who is rog believed dead by his father, brother and sweetheart.

These three go abroad to visit the country of the ancestors of the last-mentioned and it is then that the hero escapes from a hospital, confiscates a plane and flies to France to find his brother about to marry the girl. Thrilling, human, real. All lovers of red-blooded drama and glamourous romance should see Monte Blue in "Across the Atlantic". Tomorrow at Belle.

BALLYHOO NOW IS THE STYLE

First It's Heeney And Then Tunney But It's All Advertising

New York, N. Y.—(CP)—The ways of the ballyhoo are devious, but their determination endureth forever.

Just a few days after Tom Heeney, edging into his last month of training before tackling the mighty Gene Tunney, welsh champion James J. Tunney went under the bright lights of the Yankee Stadium, July 28, found it necessary to dive into the Shrewsbury river over by Pair Haven, N. J., and rescue Phil Ebersole, his lanky sparring partner, from a horrible death neath the waves. Tom's success was duly noted in the public prints, so much so in fact that he famed cameo of "Pinto" Lawrence, Tommy's favorite guide, suddenly lived up to its name, so vitia, and precipitated the learned champion between more learned Thornton Wilder, author of the new "The Bridge of San Luis Rey" and the Kunjanuck River at Specialator, N. Y.

The author, taking his cane ride with the titlebolder without even wearing his bathing suit thereby qualified for only for a honorable medal, but for the war cross of the knights of the ballyhoo.

And any day now Tex Rickard, director of the ensemble, may be expected to take to the water route and fail from his new yacht, the Maxine now floating idly on the waters of the New York harbor.

BYNG'S POST A DIFFICULT ONE

One of Most Arduous And Responsible Offices In Britain

London, (July—(C.P.) — Viscount Byng, when he assumed the position of Commissioner of Metropolitan Police, certainly did not betake himself into a bed of roses. The Commissionership is one of the most arduous and one of the most responsible offices in the whole administrative system of Britain. It is remarkable too, how many Commissioners have retired virtually under compulsion, although in not a single instance has there been the slightest suggestion against their personal integrity. When he takes up duty a few months before Lord Byng will enter Scotland Yard as a time when, for various reasons, the reputation of the Metropolitan Police has been among the public, if not exactly under a cloud, is not regarded with that serene complacency which for many years was the almost greatest, feeling held by the people of London at large.

The Commissioner of Metropolitan Police is the servant of the Home Secretary, but he is not directly responsible to Parliament for anything connected with the policing of the London area. His constabulary is necessary to all major orders issued by the Commissioner in handling his officers and men and in dealing with the public. The Commissioner commands a force of 20,000 and the Metropolitan Police District covers an area of 700 square miles. The Commissioner receives a salary of $15,000. There are three assistant commissioners, who receive $12,000 each. There are also three deputy assistant commissioners each drawing $5,000 or more. Among them is Lieut.-Col. F. B. Lazrie, who is head of the Mounted Police, and who incidentally, was staff officer under Lord Byng during part of the war. The Metropolitan area is divided into nine districts, each under a Chief Constable, and these again are sub-divided into twenty-six divisions each under a superintendent.

Metropolitan Police Dispcpt are administered by an official known as the Receiver, who has his office in the same building as the Commissioner at Scotland Yard but who is responsible directly to the Home Secretary. The total annual cost of the Force is some $30,000,000. The Home Secretary himself decides the amount of money to be spent upon the municipal boroughs and other local authorities within the Metropolitan Police area.

WILL HEAVYWEIGHT CROWN REST ON A NEW BROW THURSDAY NIGHT

Tunney a 2-1 Favorite With Wall Street Gamblers

Fairhaven, N. J., July 24.—Another heavyweight championship title may change hands by decision next Thursday night at the Yankee Stadium, when Tom Heeney, who built his broad back by swinging a sledge-hammer over an anvil in a New Zealand blacksmith shop, meets Gene Tunney, world's heavyweight champion in a 10-round title bout.

The title changed hands for the first time in history by decision, when Tunney dethroned Dempsey in a rain ful Philadelphia in September, 1926.

Tunney hasn't a chance to knock out Heeney, Heeney has a smart boxing but he is rugged enough to take the champion's best shots over the fifteen-round route.

Tunney is not meeting a big-sway Dempsey this time. Heeney doesn't carry the dangerous punch of Dempsey, but he has the strength and endurance to stand up under the most terrific punishment Tunney can give him.

The challenger has no regard whatsoever for Tunney's ability as a champion, a boxer, or a fighter.

"Because Tunney is champion doesn't mean a thing to me," Heeney said today. "They just another champion to me. I am willing to trade punches with him for 15 rounds and I believe I will come out ahead."

Tunney got Dempsey's goat by flying from Stockton, Pa., to Philadelphia for his first fight. Tunney thinks he will get Heeney's goat by flying from Spectator, N. Y., to New York for this fight. In view of the recent accident in which two of the champion's friends were injured, Tunney apparently is afraid not to live up to his original plan to fly to New York for this fight, but he hasn't a ghost of a chance to interfere Heeney by making the trip by air.

"I don't care if Tunney walks to New York the day of the fight," Heeney said this morning.

"That guy makes me tired about all of his silly superstition. This fight is not going to be won by any scheme or plans. The guy that lands the most blows for 15 rounds is going to win, and I believe I can hit Tunney oftener over this route than he can hit me.

No Real Fights in Two Years.

"After all, this fellow hasn't fought a real fight in two years," said Heeney. "If he thinks he is going to knock me out or even cut me up, he is badly mistaken. The only fighter who ever made me bleed since I came to this country is Paulino, who opened a small cut over my eye in one of our two bouts. I expect, Tunney to land a lot of blows to my head, but I am willing to take them to land my punches.

Heeney has not changed his style of fighting, and will go after Tunney in the same way he fought Paulino, Blake, Sharkey and Delaney.

Dan Morgan, former manager of Paul Berlenbach, saw Heeney work out yesterday and predicted he would win the title.

Heeney is just like Harry Greb, Morgan said.

Different From Dempsey.

"He keeps after a fellow and never gives him a minute's rest. Tunney will find Heeney quite different from Dempsey. Heeney may not be able to hit as hard as Dempsey, but he will be on top of Tunney every second. It is silly to say that Tunney will knock out Heeney. Heeney can take more punishment than any heavyweight in the ring today. The fight will go the limit, and Heeney will win the decision.

NINTH INNING RALLY WINS FOR NAPANEE TEAM

Beavers Minus Services of Three Regulars In Bay of Quinte Game

ONTARIOS WON

Beavers And Ontarios Play League Game On Thursday Night

Belleville Beavers with a patched-up line-up took the short end of the count with the Napanee team in the latter town last night by a score of 13-12. It was a close, exciting game all the way through and a home-run by Mike Grass in the ninth tied the score and then the home team proceeded to win the ball game. The Beavers were without the services of Twin Warham, Ev Whalen and Gladys Knott and some of the second-string players were used and they acquitted themselves well. The game was featured by numerous errors by both teams and it was completed in semi-darkness. Mollie Gray pitched the full game for the Beavers and Misses Johnston and Grass alternated on the hillock for the homesters. The Ontarios are leading the Bay of Quinte League, Napanee is in second place and the Beavers are trailing and have yet to break into the win column.

Beavers—M. Gray, p; E. Thrasher, c; Tuttle, 1b; Melchior, 2b; Kelleher, s.s.; Grindle, 3b; Cook, l.f.; Howell, c.f.; Mooney, r.f. Vern Weir of Belleville umpired at the plate and Jim Naphin of Napanee handled the base.

The Ontarios had no difficulty in disposing of the Frontenacs in an exhibition game at the armouries last night. The Ontarios started to score early in the game and kept up a continual barrage and the final count was 20-5. Mrs. Maidment was on the hill for the Ontarios and the Frontenacs used three pitchers. Hughes Knott, Alma Weese and Dorothy Wilkins were behind the box. Ellie Thompkins, Audrey Wilkins and Audrey Kelleher knocked home runs. Twig Woodley and Ken Colling umpired.

Tomorrow night will see those two rivals meet when the Beavers stack up against the Ontarios. The latter have the edge in the matter of games won but the Beavers hope to defeat their opponents tomorrow night. On Friday night the Optimals and Frontenacs will provide the City League feature.

SportOgramS

By "The Observer"

Just at this time of year the sporting activities are at their height and the Sports Editor of this Journal finds it difficult to attend other than the major events. We realize that many organizations do not get the publicity which they justly deserve. The Intelligencer desires to furnish the people of this district with the latest results of sport events and in order to solve the problem we suggest that each club or sporting organization appoint a publicity agent who will be responsible for the results appearing in the Intelligencer.

A telephone call to 1248 to the Sport Editor will greatly facilitate things and we will be more than delighted to assist in any way possible. As the present time the Nationals are engaged in a drive for the Central League pennant, the girls league, both Bay of Quinte and Industrial are going strong, the soccer team is playing games with outside clubs, and the City Industrial hard-ball league is completing its schedule. Besides these, the golfers, bowlers and dinghy sailors are enjoying one of the most successful seasons in years. Therefore we find it extremely difficult to keep in touch with them all and will welcome any news along the sport line.

While the weather man has been supplying us with perfect July weather nevertheless, our thoughts, while they are concentrated on baseball and other seasonable sports naturally shift around at times to the prospect ahead of our hockey team for next winter. The drive for a new rink despite the repeated efforts of Byron Donnan is a dead issue. The proprietor of the present rink has intimated that the old Turnbull Street ice-palace will not be reopened and the question arises "Where will our hockey teams find a home this winter?"

Last year some of the games were played in the Trenton arena which was an inconvenience for many local patrons of the sport who were not the possessors of an automobile. The local players were not at home on the Trenton ice and whether their defeat at the hands of the St. Michael's College team can be attributed to this fact, is a matter of conjecture. The intermediate team after a poor start dropped out of the group and it remained for the Juniors to carry on.

There are at least four of the local team who with a year or two of experience are ready for Intermediate company and unless a home is found in which to stage the games there is not one iota of doubt but that they will drift to other centres. The people of Belleville have no one but themselves to blame for the state of affairs since they were given all the chance in the world to purchase shares in the proposed rink. Whither are we drifting? Oshawa likely will have a new rink while Bowmanville and Peterboro already have spacious arenas and the citizens of Napanee are planning a structure which will compare favorably with those in other County towns.

Belleville is behind the times and with a championship Collegiate sextette and half a dozen budding Junior stars the citizens should take some action to provide them with suitable quarters in which to exercise their talent.

The City League composed of eight teams was a thriving organization and with the rink closed no attempt will be made to reorganize.

Steps may be taken to place Lacrosse back in the limelight in Belleville shortly. Fred Waghorne of the C. A. A. A. has been delegated to organize midget and junior teams in the cities of Ontario and while a good many summer game could flourished here it has become a dead issue. If you get a chance to assist don't pass it up.

As it was the Petes' staged a rally that was worthy of applause; Craig's men were behind 4-0 at the end of the fourth and then galloped in nine runs in the next two frames and a single tally in the eighth. Why save that stuff for Oshawa, when it would go over so big in Belleville?—Oshawa Times.

The senior ball team appears to be a collection of in and outers, one and so far into the night. Win two drop one, drop two, win Oshawa fans would like to be able to cheer long and vociferously without any breaks.—Oshawa Times.

Oshawa this year appears to have a real junior baseball team which will be matched against the winners of the Kiwanis-Royals series. The Oshawa boys were too much for the locals last year and from the present records of the team the Peterborough boys will sure have to play baseball to beat them. Last week they beat the Irish-Canadians last year's Junior Champions.—Peterboro Examiner.

The Petes on Saturday went

Helen Wills was photographed on after winning world laurels on the Maurelania upon her return home tennis court there. to the United States from Wimbledon masters of the occasion in Oshawa and beat the Motorites by one run thus bringing to an end a slump with six losers. Walt Schultz sent Morrison in to do the hurling but before the game was over an S.O.S. call was sent out for Duke Dainty the veteran who beat Peters twice on Wednesday. Heckman started for the Petes and was relieved by Ray Harrison who turned in a wonderful exhibition of baseball on the Oshawa team.—Peterboro Examiner.

The Kingston team did very well against their more experienced opponents. The local lads, that is, the majority of them, are new to senior company, and am if they do not win the title, they are deserving of great credit for their good showing. It's a hard thing to swing from junior to senior and do wonders all in one season. A little consideration should be given to that.—Whig-Standard.

It looks as though the officials of the Kingston team will have to give some time to studying the local baseball situation. The crowds are nothing like they used to be and the enthusiasm is about nil. Surely something can be done about it.—Whig-Standard.

Lindsay and Belleville have good soccer teams. A few years ago there was the Midland Soccer League, and the Quaker Oats carried off the honors for many years. Can it be revived again?—Peterboro Examiner.

BOTH FIGHTERS 'IN THE PINK'

Tunney Will Fly To New York Despite Rickard's Protest

Fairhaven, N. J., July 24—Blunt Tom Heeney, unaccustomed to camouflaging his thoughts when interviewers ply him with questions, frankly admitted today that he is in the best condition of his fighting career, ready and eager to give Gene Tunney the battle of his life when they meet in the Yankee Stadium Thursday night for the world's championship.

Heeney's training siege is over and except for limbering up exercises he will do no more work. He is in the best of humor generally and his long siege of conditioning is over.

Spectator, N. Y., July 24.—Champion Gene Tunney, never in better shape tapered off his training with a light workout today in preparation for his bout Thursday night with Tom Heeney.

Tomorrow he will do only light exercises and Thursday morning will fly to New York, despite the objections of promoter Tex Rickard and his manager Billy Gibson.

NO HELP FROM B. C.

Vancouver, July 25.—Western Canada farmers need not look to British Columbia for harvest help, the local employment service officials state. The conditions are so good in the province that few men will be available for harvest work in the prairies.

Motorists encountered large balck ear and two cubs on road near Bergey.

PAY HUGE SUMS TO THE VICTIMS

Some Newspapers Insure Their Readers Against Accidents

London, (G.P.)—Following the disaster on the London & North Eastern Railway at Darlington, when over a score of persons lost their lives, one proclaimed widely that it paid out was under the scheme whereby regular cally insured against accidents. Insurance for readers against casualties has become an immense factor recently in circulation—getting among the larger British newspapers.

The Executive Council of the National Union of Journalists has carried a resolution protesting against the attitude of certain newspapers in endeavoring to make advertising capital from the payments of insurance on readers who were killed in the train smash at Darlington." The resolution followed a protest from the Northern District Council of the Union, representing 1,200 working journalists in the North of England, which declared that the treatment of the news of the disaster by a certain section of the Press "subordinates the best traditions of journalism to the aims of circulation advertisement." The protestants regarded the items employed by certain papers on this occasion as being both derogatory to the profession of journalism and repugnant to a sense of common decency." Following these protests by journalists, but independently of them, the Hetton-le-Hose district Council, in whose area the disaster happened, have issued a protest on similar lines.

Vin Callard of the Toronto Monarch Athletic Club, who accompanied the Canadian Olympic team overseas, and who has been entered in the 3,000 metre steeplechase and the 5,000 metre run at the games This will not be Callard's first appearance in international competition, as he competed for England several times before coming to Canada.

NO SATISFACTION FROM POST OFFICE

Brandon, Man. (C.P.)—When the Trans-Canada'' was on its western run one day recently the engineer noticed a man standing beside the track with some sort of signal. It looked like an arrangement to put mail aboard the moving train, so the train slowed down, and a trainman took from an ingenious arrangement of wil low and binder-twine a brown paper parcel. He proved to be an odd piece of faith in the C.P.R. Inside the parcel was a letter and the following note.

"To the Catcher:

"I would like you to mail this letter; it is for my mother. I have mailed 4 letters through the post office and got no answer, so would you be so kind and mail it." The railwayman accepted the service.

Gene Tunney Rules 3 To 1 Favorite To Retain Crown

New York, July 26.—Gene Tunney was up and around the Hudson River at 10.30 P.M. after having his usual siesta at Specialer at 8.30 A.M.

New York, July 26.—(By Edward J. Neil, Associated Press Sports Writer). Lights, and with little outward show of interest, New York turned today to the first heavyweight championship within its boundaries in the past five years.

Now and then an eye turned expectantly toward the sky and sent probing up, as the drone of an aeroplane motor in the heavens. In Madison Square Garden an anxious promoter, Tex Rickard, already gunsaky at the possibility of a financial loss, shivered at the thought that the whim of the flying motor he waited, might not come.

For it was through the air that Gene Tunney, of Greenwich Village, was to journey to the ring for his 15-round fight with Tom Heeney, the New Zealand Bombshell, at the Yankee Stadium tonight. It was a manner of approach from Specialist—Hospital—Specialist—Hospital—Specialist—Hospital—

BAY OF QUINTE GAME TONIGHT

Belleville Beavers Wil Tackle Ontarios At Armouries

Tonight's the night and the armouries is the place! Belleville Ontario pride of Eastern Ontario in 1928 will hook up with Alan Meagher's Beavers in a set-to which looms up as one of the most important struggles of the year. The Beavers have been forced to accept several defeats at the hands of Walter Gerow's hired help and it is rumored on reliable authority that they are out to turn the tables on the Adams-Wilkins crew tonight.

The Beavers are occupying the cellar position in the Bay of Quinte loop and they will be out with a complete lineup in the hopes of slipping the Ontarios a revenge tonight. The rivalry between these two teams has always been keen and there's little love lost between the individual players.

The Beavers will rely on the slants of Molly Gray to carry them through and if she is in her usual form the Ontarios will be faced with a tough proposition. Eddie Matthews will do the flinging for the Ontarios. Both teams have some first-class sluggers and it will be an interesting encounter. The game will get under way at 8.15 promptly.

FIND HOME AT BIG SANCTUARY

Birds Visit Audibon Sanctuary, 164 Species Noted There.

Sharon, Mass.—Harry A. Higbee, superintendent of the Audibon Society's wild life sanctuary here has listed 164 species of birds which have visited his domain. He has also listed 350 varieties of wild flowers and nearly 300 varieties of trees and bushes which grow within the sanctuaries sixty acres.

Higbee declares that establishment of sanctuaries is the only way in which wild birds and animals can be saved from extermination. He has planted a large variety of trees and bushes throughout the sanctuary which are valuable in supplying food a bird may be determined by the to birds. He is also setting out a large evergreen grove in the belief that he will be able to induce several species of birds now nesting in the big woods of Maine and the Provinces, to stop off here and rear their young. "Often," he says, "the nesting place of a bird is a sure index to the character of the country and the fact that a bird seeks a nesting place further north may mean only the absence of desirable conditions here." Higbee is not over fond of the alien bird residents of the country. The English sparrow is a pest, he declares, and the lately imported Starling bids soon to become a greater one. Reference to pheasants also brought to this country from Europe, prompts him to voice his regret that the funds expended in introducing this foreign game bird are not expended in saving the native grouse and quail.

Birds about the sanctuary are so tame that they come to a feeding station in the window of Higbee's office. Rabbits are almost stepped upon before they scurry away. Higbee's Thomas Dewees, 14, schoolboy, tames woodchucks so that they will eat from his hand. Yerna Smith, 5, Tecumseh, Neb., died from burns sustained starting grass roundings in which they have nothing fire.

TO-DAY'S THOUGHT

He was the friend, not of fortune, but of men. —NEPOS.

OUT OF TURN.

Ontario's liquor control policy may not be ideal. There are those who say it is an improvement upon anything the other provinces have to offer and those who believe that a compodite plan, embracing the best features of the control policies of all the provinces should be considered. But we know that what we have is better than what Chicago has and, if it wasn't amusing, the moralists Canada has received at the hands of the W. C. T. U. in "Big Bill" Thompson's bailiwick, would provoke us to indignation says The Hamilton Spectator. The W. C. T. U. members, individually and as an organization, have many splendid achievements to their credit. If the temperance union in the United States wants to bring about the defeat of Governor Al Smith, candidate for president, believing that his election would give their cause a set-back, that is all right with us. But Canadians should insist that when they refer to Canada they stick to facts. It is reported that one of the bulletins circulated by the national office of the union in Chicago sets forth that "In Canada, where the liquor men promised the sale of booze without the saloon, liquor laws are growing more liberal and the saloon is coming back in various forms, in clubs, restaurants and wine rooms. All the old saloon evils are reappearing in Canada." We venture to say there is no illegal saloon selling in the whole of Ontario on any given day than there is in the city of Chicago. There is no legal saloon trade at all in Ontario and the suspicion persists that the saloon business in Chicago and other big cities of the United States, if it is not being legalized, is at least enjoying a certain measure of official protection. Hon. Charles McCrea, acting attorney-general of Ontario, is to be commended for his quick defense of the provincial policy and he is expressing public sentiment when he says there is no intention on the part of Canadians or any Canadian government to have the saloon returned. The saloon and all its evils, as far as Canada is concerned, are relegated to the past, Mr. McCrea tells it he knows. It is to be expected that our liquor control legislation will be amended from time to time. And each of the changes, we may take it for granted, will be designed to tighten, rather than loosen, the liquor regulations.

KEEPING THEM OUT.

The development of the unemployment situation in recent weeks in Britain has been very serious. Recently there were two despatches which bear upon each other. One states that 200,000 starving men will have to be moved from one community to another, owing to the absence of work, or else they must face starvation. The other is the denunciation by the British press of the terms imposed by Australia and Canada upon immigrants to these countries, so that it is practically impossible to get any large number out of the country. Out of 560 young men of Durham it is said only twelve were accepted for passage to Australia, and it is stated that prospective migrants to Canada have to answer 196 questions, many of which are irrelevant. Canada will be guilty of fratricide if red tape or any other form of bureaucratic obstruction prevents relief of the pressure of population in Britain. It is appalling to absurd that we with our less than ten million in a territory capable of holding 250,000,000, should erect barriers in the entry of English-speaking people.

PHENOMENAL GOLF.

A lady in Brookline, Mass., named Mrs. Frances W. Capper (please observe the Capper, for it is doubtful if this story can be clapped) is declared to have made a thirty-hole in one, Thursday, and this is the Capper part of the story, she teed up another ball and did it again. That is, she made another hole in one on the 150-yard shot. Perhaps you don't believe it. So did Mrs. Capper will be heard from later or we miss a wild guess.

OTHER MEN'S THOUGHTS

It is suggested that an adaptation of the rubber ball used for plunging over Niagara Falls could be devised for the use of pedestrians crossing congested streets.—Vancouver Province.

Women are more courageous than men, an aviation expert of England claims. The report obvious is that they do go up into the air more readily.—Ottawa Citizen.

When a wife returns from a vacation and finds no dirty dishes in the sink, she is perfectly justified in being suspicious.—Toronto Saturday Night.

It is claimed that a child can learn to spell better on a typewriter. The trouble is that many typists learnt their misspelling before they learnt to type.—Montreal Star.

When playing golf a man received the news that his house had been burnt down. But, after all, what does a golfer want with a house?—London Sunday Pictorial.

Despite long flight across the ocean, the real hero is the man who would rather get soaked to the skin than to walk downstairs, carrying his wife's green silk umbrella.—Sister Ann's News.

PASSING YEARS

(From The Intelligencer of this day 26 years ago)

Last evening the consecration service of Bridge St. Epworth League was held Mr. C. P. Holton acted as chairman and a large attendance was on hand.

Harry D. Sprague, the young son of Mr. S. M. Sprague, G. T. R. brakeman, Foster Ave., died yesterday. While swimming last Wednesday he was injured and his death it attributed to this cause. He was very popular among his young friends.

Mr. E. D. O'Flynn of Madoc is in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Martin of Tweed are spending a few days in the city.

Mr. James Carrett, Charles St., is visiting friends in Montreal.

Mr. Clarence Reid of London is visiting his uncle, Mr. C. M. Reid.

Mr. P. J. M. Anderson and family are spending their holidays at the Sand Banks.

Mr. Henry O'Hora, left today to revisit the home of his fathers in County Mayo, Ireland.

HAVE YOU HEARD THESE?

'Curious thing happened in Jones and Company's offices," said a chubman. 'An enterprising burglar went a-burgling. He opened a safe and was collecting the spoil when the door swung to and imprisoned him. And there he stayed for five days, supporting life by eating ledgers. 'Good heavens!' exclaimed an astonished listener. 'How was that possible?' 'Well, you see, many of the accounts were cooked!'

A literary man found himself in the company of a youth with whom he experienced some difficulty in finding a suitable topic of conversation. He tried books. 'Have you read anything good lately?' he asked.

'Yes, I've just been reading a splendid book!'

'Indeed. What was it?'

'Well, I forget the title.'

'Who was the author?'

'Oh, I don't know!'

'Well, what was it about?'

'Indeed, I've forgotten.' Long pause —then, eagerly, 'It had a red cover!'

Robinson—I tell you, old chap, marriage changes a man completely. Why, I'm a different man altogether since married.

Longley—I'm glad to hear that. Perhaps you will now settle that little I O U that I've held against you for a year or more.'

Robinson—Oh, dear, no! I couldn't think of settling another fellow's bills.

Tommy—Mamma, didn't you say last week you wanted the carving-knife and the chopper sharpened?

Mrs. Jones—Indeed I did. How thoughtful you are!

'Well, I'll take them round to the cutler's for you.'

'How kind of you! I'll wrap them up.'

'No, don't wrap them up. I want them to show. There's a boy out there waiting to fight me; but I fancy when he sees me coming he'll go home.'

EVENING AT THE MOVIES.

A stately hall, a graceful stair,
Soft lights in silken hoods;
Satyrs and elves on painted walls,
Sporting in painted woods.

Exquisite threads of melody
Spinning a silver tent—
A stir beyond—Move over, please,
And make room for this gent.'

Romance rides in the whispering dusk—
Her coach a yellow star—
'Tis little I hear under a white
For papa's peanut bar.

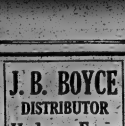

And mama reads to little Mag,
Each title, loud and clear;
While two convivial gentlemen
Discourse on making beer.

The organ peals a throbbing moan,
Dark mischief brews anigh;
The hero pounds on steel-barred door,
Guided by fainting cry.

A breathless pause, the maid is crushed
Against the villain's breast;
Six persons file to seats ahead—
I never knew the rest.

Golfers of the Bellaire Club were hosts to a team from the Trenton Club yesterday afternoon. The competition was very close and after the scores had been checked it was found that Trenton were the victors. Bellaire used several of the younger players and while the scores they turned in were good, nevertheless the more experienced Trenton players came out on top. The visitors won eight games, Bellaire seven, and one was halved. After the matches the visiting players were entertained at tea which was provided by the ladies in the Club House.

Another Unit For Consolidated Laundries

To Establish Plant At Bellaire Under Direction of O. A. Perfit

Another addition to the chain of power laundries planned by the recently Consolidated Laundries Corporation of Canada, Limited, is indicated by the announcement of an early establishment of a new and up-to-date power laundry unit in the progressive industrial centre of Bellaire. This follows closely upon the acquisition in Montreal of the established business of Dominion Laundry Company. Further additions to the organization are expected to result from negotiations now being carried on in other important centres of Eastern Canada.

When completed, the new mill in Bellaire will be operated under the management of O. A. Perfit, a director, of Consolidated Laundries. Mr. Perfit is President of the Hastings Paper Mills and was formerly Vice-President of the Canada Paper Box Company Limited.

RED AND WHITE PICNIC SUCCESS

One Hundred And Sixty-Five Gathered At 12 O'Clock Point

The second annual picnic of the Red and White Grocers and their friends along with visiting grocers at Bellaire and vicinity was held on Wednesday afternoon at Twelve O'Clock Point.

The picnickers to the number of 165 gathered at the park about 2 o'clock and the afternoon was spent in sports and races, followed by a splendid picnic luncheon which was perhaps the most enjoyable event of the day.

A softball game between the County and City merchants resulted in a tie. An extra innings was played with the score still a tie. Several of the players began to show signs of wear and tear so the game was declared a tie game and the prizes divided. Mr. W. J. Smith acted as umpire with Mr. D. V. Huffman on the bases. The Imperial Tobacco Company were the donors of the cigars presented for this event.

The races were in charge of Mr. W. J. Smith of Bellaville, L. Cerow, Rossmore, H. Trumpour, Tweed, and J. M. Dafoe, Frankford, were thoroughly enjoyed by all and many close finishes were the order of the day.

The John Sloan & Co. wholesale distributors for the Red & White Stores, sponsored the picnic, and participated in H. M. P. M. Sloan, President of the Company and Mr. Joe. Wiley, a former Manager of the Bellaville Branch, were in attendance, and Mr. Wiley officiated in the presentation of the prizes, which were donated by the individual merchants.

Following is a list of the prizes and the prize winners in each event;

GIVES OUT RULES FOR VACATIONS

Providence, R. I.—"Do what you want to do and don't allow yourself to receive dictation from public health officials," is the advice on how to benefit most from a vacation, by Dr. Charles V. Chapin, state superintendent of health and former president of the American Medical Society.

"Above all," he says, "do something you haven't been doing. If you are a postman, policeman or one of the walking class of workers, seek out a nice piazza and sit down for a change. The gay set should refrain from dancing and smart resorts. If you are old, go for automobile rides, but don't fall for the idea of making each-and-each a place before nightfall. If you are young, go in for vigorous sports, but not too vigorous.

"Get sunburned, but be gradual about it. Don't try to acquire the complexion of a broiled lobster in one position.

POLLUTED CLAMS GET TREATMENTS

Hyannis, Mass.—A new industry has sprung up here following the lifting of the ban on the taking of shell-fish from the waters of Lewis Bay, which has been closed for a small period because of alleged pollution of the water. Barrels-shelled clams are now being taken in large quantities for removal to South Bay, Osterville, where authorities state that the purer water will cleanse the shell fish of all pollution.

Fishermen are receiving $7.50 a barrel for the shell fish taken here. Officials of the State Department of Health are on duty to see that none of the shell fish reach the market before remaining in South Bay until free of treatment.

"High tension mental giants need brain relaxation, and persons so gifted can prove it by providing their own solutions."

BELLE THEATRE

Don't fail to see Monte Blue in "Across the Atlantic," the Warner Bros.' production, which is now playing at the Belle Theatre. The picture is an aviation romance, carrying its hero overseas to France in a captured plane. Thrilling, dramatic, human, the picture is made to order for the big-hearted man who is in it. The story is by John Ransone and the screen adaptation by Harvey Gates. Howard Bretherton directed. The principals in the strong cast are Edna Murphy, Ben Bard and Gladys Brockwell. "Across the Atlantic" shows some of the earlier types of planes as well as the latest, and the presentation is convincing and absorbing. Blue is his unshaved best, which is saying the proverbial "mouthful."

SERVICE FROM CANADA HOUSE

London, July 26—(C.P.)—Inside the services to the Canadian and British public are performed by Canada House, the office of the High Commissioner for Canada in London. Besides being the medium for official communications between the Canadian Government and various departments of the British government, the High Commissioner's office carries out various duties for the provinces. The visible work of the office that of looking after Canadians travelling in London, is a most delicate and important duties.

In Canada House, which, in its prominent position in Trafalgar Square is regarded as one of the sights of London, are housed besides the Director of European emigration and its staff; the directors of the Canadian Medical Services and the Intelligence of emigrants, the chief Canadian trade commissioner in Britain, and the newly appointed representative of the Department of Soldiers' civil re-establishment. In addition other representatives of the Canadian Department of Agriculture attend to the marketing of Canadian products in Britain, while officials of the customs department carry out various duties.

A feature of Canada House is the special Reference Library containing Canadian material, form directories to newspapers and periodicals.

LONDON BOBBY

Everyone who has been to London knows the London bobby, the man in blue who stops the traffic to tell you the way to the Coal Hole.

Everyone who reads the papers knows him, the sleuth with the flashlight who interferes with the course of justice in Hyde Park, who is getting too fat and who has taken to chewing gum.

But the man who has read Sherlock Holmes knows him, the stupid officer who keeps to the red-tape line and depends on the intuition of the amateur for his success.

He is a well-known character, known to almost everybody. The murderers know him too.

* * *

In the last 12 months there were 21 murder cases reported in the metropolitan police area. There were 37 problems for the police to solve. They solved exactly 37, without the help of Sherlock. There were no more for them to solve, which is presumably the reason they got fat and started to chew gum.

In the same period there was an increase in the number of thefts of cars and motorcycles. There were 1,194 cars stolen and 236 motorcycles. Of these 1231 cars and 230 motorcycles were recovered. The Commissioner, Sir W. Dewar, made in his report that most of the thefts would have been avoided if the owners had taken steps to prevent removal of the vehicles when leaving them unattended in the streets.

Night duty has presented a hard problem to the police, owing to the difficulty of securing reliable evidence of identity. In 1,141 convictions were, however, obtained in 57 cases, and in 46 of these the culprit was struck off the register. The commissioner reports that fines are almost useless as a deterrent in these cases.

Scotland Yard has now a collection of 631,000 sets of finger prints, of which 1,000 sets were collected during the last year. These with the Crime Index, a system by which the methods and activities of habitual criminals are recognized, are of great value in detective work.

SHOULD OXFORD GIVE COPIES OF BOOKS?

London. (C. P.)—A plea that Universities of the Overseas Empire should receive copies of those valuable 11th and 18th century books which the Canadian Pacific Library now holds is duplicate has been made by the Bishop of Gloucester, the Rt. Rev. Dr. A. C. Headlam. "I am not certain that a little generosity of that sort might not come back to Oxford University sixtyfold pr an hundredfold," says the Bishop.

Bishop Headlam is a decidedly original thinker among the Bench of Bishops. His characterization as "disastrous" the intervention of some bishops and other religious leaders in the coal strike. He has declared there is no such thing as "Christian economics."

RULES FOR THE DUTIFUL WIFIE

Tokio, Japan.—A woman's society of Tokyo, which for some time has been studying ways and means of keeping peace in the family, has compiled a number of rules for wives. If these rules are followed, it is claimed, Japanese husbands can always be kept in good humor and general marital tranquility maintained.

Always see that the rooms of your home are clean and in good order before your husband returns from his day's work.

Keep yourself clean and neat. Make yourself look as young as possible and always meet your husband at the door with a smile.

Change your menu daily, but always be sure and serve such dishes as you know your husband likes.

If your husband likes beer and cake with his meals, always see that there is plenty on hand. There is no use trying to stop him drinking, that is when trouble starts.

Don't grumble, but converse pleasantly with your husband on light topics so that he may forget his work.

ILLEGIBILITY OF AUTHORS

Most people who have literary friends are familiar with illegible writing. Horace Greeley, the famous American poetical writer, was a terror to compositors. "Good morning," one young proclaimed, on seeing Greeley's writing for the first time, "if Beelzebub had seen this writing on the wall he would have been even more terrified still." Miss Marchmont related that there was a compositor who fled from Mittenagh to avoid Carlyle's manuscripts, but who, soon after he came to London, encountered again the familiar calligraphy. "Lord have mercy!" he said, "have you got that mah to print, too?" Captain Marryatt's writing was so cramped that the compositors told to use a magnifying glass, and to stick a pin into the copy where they left off to facilitate finding the place.

Dickens "could not decipher" one of the working classes' verses of the philanthropic people who persist in ignoring economic facts, and where matters do not bear to be much more than very political importance than the well-being of those whom they claim to support."

The Bishop condemns extensive expenditure. "The rich man who spends his money on the Riviera or in casinos our amusement, and the poor man who squanders it on drink or the other amusements offered him, are both inflicting injury on their country and therefore ultimately on themselves."

C.N.E. DISPLAY OF THE WOMEN

Building Promises To Be More Wonderful Than Ever This Year

Toronto, Ont.—(C.P.)—The women's building at the Canadian National exhibition promises to be more interesting than ever this year under the capable direction of Miss Violet Dickson. A new policy has been adopted in that practically all of the outstanding women's organizations of Canada will be represented there, as well as the Women's Institutes.

Everything new this year will be the fashion show, and models will parade daily in the women's building displaying Canadian-made costumes in the latest styles and materials. The staging and management will be under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Mosher of the Mosher Studios, and the presentation of the smart Canadian-made clothes for women will be interspersed with dancing numbers. In addition to the style show Miss Ellen Mackle will give a daily talk on dress and style.

Another attraction will be the little skit to be called "New Canada, 1928 and 1928," which is to be presented by actual newcomers to Canada. They will appear at school on Friday and then with a school concert in full swing. Last year the Her Canadian skit represented their arrival in Canada and welcome to the new land.

The Girl Guides will present their pageant which was received with enthusiasm when it was presented at the Girl Guide rally in the Arena some weeks ago.

Quicker handicrafts from start to finish will be a feature. Among others the wool industry will be shown, from the time the wool is shorn from a sheep's back to the weaving process dyeing and making of hooked rugs.

Alberta is sending a prize team of girls to demonstrate some form of agricultural activity in the women's building.

KATHLEEN RICE HIGHLY PRAISED

Toronto.—(C.P.)— Commenting on the discovery of copper pyrites in Manitoba by Miss Kathleen Rice, the Globe says editorially: "What a determined, courageous, self-reliant and capable young Western girls must be who delved all alone into Manitoba's far north and emerged with a valuable find of copper pyrites! Playing a lone prospecting hand, she travelled by dog-sled in winter and by canoe in summer, and single-handed has fought off marauder wolves with her rifle.

"Miss Kathleen Rice is a graduate of the University of Toronto. And now the campus co-ed of a few years ago is a successful proprietor of the Far North, ownership with man in sphere which was thought to be man's alone, during her own canoe up unexplored watercourses, and not failing to pitch tent in the dim twilight of the silent wilderness—silent except for the midnight howls of the wolves and the rustling of branches under the feet of the bear and the moose and the deer.

"This sturdy girl adds complete the gamut of women's activities. But this business of prospecting, toiling on up hill and down dale, through forest, wilderness and rutted rock, with no rifle to talk to but with only the wild game of the country from which to replace a camp larder, it seems to be one field which man could forever keep to himself."

RED SOX RELEASED BRADLEY

Lumber companies report the greatest volume of business in Alberta since the boom year of 1912. One hundred million feet of lumber is being cut in Alberta this year but the bulk of the supplies come from British Columbia mills.

A press report from Telfordville states that the farmers are well pleased with the allocation of stations on the new nine mile extension to the Hoadley subdivision of the Canadian Pacific Railway. A large number of settlers are going into the territory which will be served by this extension and the old timers in the district are now clearing and breaking land for crops next year.

Kyebel Kate, who represents a Yekin concern, and who has just returned from a business mission to Canada, stated that he had bought $,000,000 bushels of wheat in Canada, or about half of Japan's total importations. He explained that Japan got more for its rice than Canada got for its wheat on their market, hence the present purchase. He said, too, that Japanese were eating more wheat foods and adapting themselves to the stronger diet.

"The Maritime Provinces in particular, and Canada in general, need more commercial advertising," was the opinion expressed by Hon. J. H. MacLaster, Prime Minister of New Brunswick, when interviewed on arrival on board the "Empress of Scotland" after a month's visit to Europe. Since settlers in the Maritimes have been quite satisfactory as regards types and quality he said, and he hoped that we will be able to obtain a great many more upward of 1928.

Part of a litter of eight red foxes, which, together with the vixen, were captured in the Arctic district recently, have been brought to Moose Jaw by Mr. W. White, who has established a fox farm east of the city. It is many years since red fox have lived at large in their native state in the southern part of this province, where these were captured. Mr. White intends to start raising patch foxes, a cross between the red and silver or black fox, as a commercial enterprise.

Wool growing in Western Canada is increasing rapidly, according to W. W. Thomson, manager of the Moose Jaw branch of the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers Limited. Up to June 30th, he pointed out, four carloads of wool had left Regina for Weston, Ontario, for grading by Government authorities, as compared with six for the similar half year of 1927. This year's shipments represent 108,000 lbs. from 350 flocks in the province.

The mystic number "13" holds no terrors for the Royal Order of Jesters, an organization within the Lenalia Temple Shrine of Buffalo, who sailed on Friday the Thirteenth of July, with thirteen members in their party, from Montreal for Liverpool. The society meets on the thirteenth of each month at 8.13 in the afternoon, and is divided into courts of 13 members each. The party of Jesters sailed on the crack new Canadian Pacific liner "Duchess of Bedford" in a group of thirteen visiting the old world.

ATE DON BYRNE A GREAT IRISHMAN

The late Don Byrne translated his love of Ireland especially through "Malachi of the Long Glen," "Sure, one of these days he will die, as we all die," he wrote, "and the ghost of him will never be content on the sluggish river, by the sunny trees, where the blue herons and the white cranes and the great, grey pelicans fly. It will be going back, I know, to the bounding surf and the red-berried rowan trees and the barren cliffs of Antrim. To die out of Ulster, when one can die in Ulster, there is a gey foolish thing.

ALL-BLACKS VICTORS, 13-6

Pretoria, South Africa, July 26.—The New Zealand All-Blacks, rugb football team scored another victor today, defeating Pretoria by a score of 13:6 6.

SPEAKER IS A POKER PLAYER

At Least As Regards His Features—In House Never Relax

Speaker Fitzroy of the British House has a bearing of fiinruffled dignity, and he never permits his long, thin features to express any sign either of approbation or the reverse, either of pleasure or of annoyance. This was his demeanor as chairman of the ways and means committee. In this respect he resembles Disraeli, who was known as the Sphinx. For long hours that statesman would recline on the treasury bench never, even under the lash of Gladstone, making the slightest response. It is said of the new Speaker that he long ago discovered the secret of bringing a speaker to a standstill. It is to allow him to talk himself out of ideas. This latitude save Speaker Fitzroy another advantage. When he has decided to intervene he has had, because of his reputation for tolerance, the full support of the whole House.

PITCHING DUEL

Veteran Dainty and Youngster Utronki Hook Up In Nice Battle

In as pretty a hurling duel as has been witnessed in Belleville since the palmy days when Glover, Williams Heckman and Dainty pranced 'around the mound, Belleville Nationals took the final game of the season from the Oshawa Motors team by the score of 6 to 1 at the local park yesterday afternoon.

All the way through it looked like anyone's game, with Oshawa having a little bit of the edge in the matter of hitting on top of five pitching by the old war horse, 'Duke' Dainty. In all the time that Dainty has been in the Central League, he has rarely pitched a better game than he did yesterday, allowing the National sluggers but three hits all through the game. Only the toughest kind of hard luck beat Dainty yesterday, and judging from his exhibition he is still a long way from being through.

'Vinny' Utronki was on the mound opposing Dainty, and he turned in his best effort this year, allowing only six hits, two of them in the first inning. After that the Motors were up in the nick of only on occasional ops from his assortment, one of which was a double by 'Tunney' Morrison. Errors were the downfall of the Oshawa team, a total of eight being chalked up against them. McCallum was guilty of two mistakes.

T. Morrison was charged with three, while Wolfe, Elliott and Keller each contributed one. For Belleville, Bob Scott and Blakely were the only ones to make any errors, and they redeemed themselves by scoring some fast line-drives labelled hits.

Batting honors for the day went to Wolfe of the Oshawa team, as he collected two singles and a double out of four times at bat, while McCallum, T. Morrison and Keller each got one hit. Morrison's was a two-bagger, however, and he scored a few moments later. With one out in the fifth, he doubled and Keller was safe on Blakely's error. Keller started for second and by faking threw to that base, but Morrison coming home but the throw came too late to get Morrison. This was the first run scored by the game and it looked like a million at that time.

Belleville's three hits were divided equally among Vern Weir, Bob Scott and 'Big Percy' Mills. Scott scored in the first run after he had singled, was sacrificed to second by Harry Mills, went to third on an error by McCallum, and scored when Green hit to Morrison, the latter making the play at home but throwing high to the plate, allowing Scott to score. Green was safe on first but was stranded there when the next two batters flied out.

Things looked dark for Belleville in the first innings when Utronki allowed the Motors two hits, Morrison the first man up singled over third base. He was out a moment later when Fair hit to Utronki, who threw him out at second. Jones flied out to center field, and Wolfe hit a double. Smart fielding by Fair at third, and scoring Wolfe out to Hagerman.

Belleville was unable to fathom the slants of Dainty, who was heaving nothing but straight fast balls all afternoon, and the runs which were scored by this means were few and far. In the first Harry Mills was the only man to get to base, and he was left-out, while in the second, Green, who was the only one on, after he had been hit, However he was then long enough to steal second before the side was retired. The Naps went out one, two, three in the third, and 1 nine fourth were in a fair way to go ahead, with a hit by Percy Mills and an error by Morrison thrown in, but it was not enough, and no one came in. In the fifth the side was out in the one two, three order again, but the sixth showed the fans that the game was not yet over, Belleville scoring another run as has been mentioned above.

Errors Cost the Game.

Only three men faced Dainty in the seventh, but the eighth was a different story, with Weir starting it off with a single. He was out and Scott safe on first on a fielder's choice, after which Scott went to second, and, third on McCallum's error. Harry Mills was safe on a fielder's choice, and Green popped out, to Keller on first. With bases full and two out Morrison, who threw to first three times to catch Weir asleep, "Stoke" threw to home to get Scott Blakely was late and Keller had threw to second but it was high and the ball went to center field and Mills to third. Wolfe to third after the third base and Mills scored on that play.

This just about took the heart out of the Oshawa boys, but they tried hard to come back in the ninth, pulling in Matthews and Williams to pinch hit after Dainty had struck out. Matthews flied out to Blakely and Williams ended the game by grounding out to Weir.

It was a hard game for the Oshawa team to lose, but it was right in order

So Belleville, as the Nationals are assured of third place. There are four more games to be played, while Oshawa must play eight before they are through, and the rest may only serve to put the Nationals off their game. Belleville have won five out of six from the Motors this year, Oshawa, and feel that they can take the measure of the Motor crew any day in the week.

LOCALS SURE OF PLACE IN FINALS

Kingston And Oshawa Will Now Battle For Second Position.

The result of yesterday's games in the Central League places Belleville on a stronger pinnacle than ever, and any efforts to dislodge them now will be impossible. The race now resolves itself into a fight for second place with Kingston and Oshawa the chief contenders. The Deloro Club pulled another surprise yesterday when they defeated the Kingston Club 5-1, which helped Oshawa's cause considerably since they lost here. The Oshawa Club have still a tough row to hoe and in order to get into the play-offs they will be forced to the outside limit as they still have two games to play in Deloro and two in Kingston. However, the Motors have demonstrated themselves as confident of the fact that they can trim Kingston but it will be a merry battle before the schedule is completed. Belleville have now won fifteen and lost five games, a record of which the fans of Belleville have every reason to feel proud. Deloro and Peterboro are practically out of the picture but at the same time they can play a telling interests for Oshawa and Kingston. Yesterday's loss was a severe one to the Oshawa clan who had hoped to "take" the Bostiers. Oshawa have two smart pitchers in Dainty and Utronki while it is in this department that Joe Daley is lamentably weak with Jamieson the only other one left on the roster of Kingston's two slugging outfielders, Cherry and Ada have remained strangely silent but either of them may burst loose and create a disturbance any time.

Harold Lake, Oshawa's Secretary of fered a reasonable suggestion yesterday when he stated that it would be advisable to make the series between the first and second teams the best three out of five. The Central league will be completed by the middle of August and it would not be advisable for the winners to wait two weeks before meeting the Toronto winners in the first round.

The standing following yesterday's games is as follows:

	Won.	Lost.	PC
Belleville	15	5	.750
Oshawa	9	7	.562
Kingston	8	9	.471
Peterboro	7	9	.438
Delora	3	11	.21

Big Scott Wilson, who in former years played first base for Oshawa, turned up yesterday here in the role of umpire. Walt Gerow quickly proclaimed his befriending behind the plate, as he is no an official League Umpire, but compromised by having Dolling on strikes and balls and Wilson on bases. At that Wilson was fair as a base umpire.

Another thing the average fan seems to be unaware of, is the fact that umpires on strikes and balls do not rules either behind when the pitcher throws a ball, and only rules their hand when a strike is thrown. This eliminates all chance of a mistake, and some fans who are continually 'ragging' the umpire to 'call them' should take stock of this fact.

'Big Percy' Mills in playing better ball this year than he ever did, and aiding yesterday's game as a criterion, he is one sweet ball player. The way he made those pop fouls look easy yesterday was a crime, and with such support for a pitcher, it lends the whole team more pep.

In the seventh, Blakely saved Scott an error when he picked the ball up after Scott had knocked it down, and threw out McCallum at first by inches. These two work nicely together and the left side of the diamond is well patrolled.

The talk flew fast and furious in the stands in the eighth. When Scott hit a pop fly to the pitcher after Weir had singled; Weir held first, but Dainty dropped the ball, recovering it, and threw to second for a force out on Weir. Scott being safe on first. Many fans thought it was an infield fly, who that Scott was automatically out when he fell it. There can be no infield fly, however, unless there is a man on first and second, and less than two out. In that case the batter is automatically out.

Harold 'Duke' Dainty pitched one of the best games of his career yesterday, and allowed only three hits, all singles but errors by his teammates let the game for him. It takes more than the loss of a ball game to dim his spirits, however, and he declared after the game that if Belleville and Oshawa played off, there would be a different story to tell. 'More power to you, Duke.'

Both teams at times pulled off some sensational fielding. Fair's catch of Big Percy's smash to right field bid fair one of the features. Fair had to run a long way back for it, and if it had not been him, would have been a triple at least. Hagerman also made a nice catch of Fair's fly in the outfield, and had a good afternoon, besides four catches, none of which were 'soft.'

Delora pulled the unexpected and defeated Kingston at Delora yesterday by the score of 5-1, thus putting Kingston farther down in the race, and giving Oshawa a game and a half lead over the Kingston Club for second place. Delora is still in the cellar, but will probably be fourth before the season is completed.

STUDY THE DREAMS OF YOUR CHILDREN

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH.

Registered Psychologist.

The dream is supposed to express dreams she finds the best and clearest, an unfulfilled wish, and in children's examples of this unconscious mechanism.

The child's life is simple compared to an adult.

Accordingly, childish wishes, childish instincts, are of a more simple type.

Hence the unfulfilled wishes as expressed in their dreams are likewise clearly and simply expressed with the minimum of disguise.

A child of four who had been asking for a new doll for several days dreamed that the doll was in the nursery.

On the following day she cried when the new doll was not actually to be found.

A poor boy of six dreamed a few days before Christmas that Santa Claus put into the chimney and had to leave behind a large part of the toys destined for other children.

Freud relates a dream of a little girl of three and a quarter years who had experienced her first bobbed ride on a bike, and being reluctant to leave the boat at the landing, had cried bitterly.

The next morning she said: 'Last night I rode on the lake.'

To understand children's dreams does not require any special knowledge of psychology.

Happenings of the previous day of the child's life usually give the clue to the wish element expressed in the dream.

On the other hand, to interpret and find the wish element in adult dreams is often a laborious and painstaking process.

Besides, adult dreams are often so jumbled, involved, and sketchy, that only an expert in analysis can decipher them.

As in the case with children, the dreams of adults can often be traced to some recent happening during waking life that seems to have started the dream off.

A person walking along the street hears the whir of an engine, and looking up sees an aeroplane above the housetops.

That night this person dreams that an aeroplane of peculiar design—long, torturous like a snake, and made up of many segments—squeezed itself through the bedroom window, perched itself on the footboard of the bed, and talked in Esperanto.

Had a child seen this aeroplane it would very likely have dreamed of seeing it again, more or less as it actually appeared.

The adult, however, wakens about the aeroplane in a peculiar, distorted manner.

In other words adults dream in symbols.

Children nearly always do.

It is interesting as well as illuminating to have children tell you what they dream.

Often, by this method, you can discover what is troubling their little minds, what their disappointments are, what they really want and are striving for.

And children like to tell their dreams, too. It amuses them. Their own dream-life is like the fairy stories they love to hear.

By studying your children's dreams you will gain a remarkable fund of information about them.

Wilful Wives

By MILDRED BARBOUR

Chapter 1.

WHEN KAST SLEETS WEST.

"There, Hal. . . . there's the girl you're going to marry! . . . Isn't she a wonder? Don't tell me your father hasn't good taste!"

The tall young man in Bond Street clothes surveyed the girl in the garden with a bored eye. She was kneeling beside a bed of flowers, industriously using a trowel. Strands of soft brown hair had fallen across her face; her thick was frankly smudged with earth.

"Good Heavens!" murmured the young man.

His father said sharply: "How look here, Hal, you've got to act decently about this. I've gone over it all with you, Willson Glover, I'm gone, financially—and you're gone, too, you selfish young puppy."

"Oh, I'll be the sacrificial lamb with the best grace I can muster. Present me to my future wife, my medieval parent!"

William Reynolds looked at his tall son speculatively. In the bright light of the summer afternoon, he perceived the faint lines of dissipation on the handsome young face. His mouth hardened.

"Perhaps we shouldn't have taken the Glovers unawares like this, but you're such a busy youngster I never know when I can get you for an afternoon. Heaven knows you ought to marry and settle down. . . . She's very beautiful, my boy."

The girl in the garden looked up and saw them. She dropped her trowel and came toward them, dusting off her hands.

"My son, Miss Glover," Reynolds was determinedly at ease. Hal bowed over the little hand with admirable grace.

"I'll go and tell Mother and Dad that you're here," she said shyly. "I don't think they were expecting you today, or they would have been in the garden to welcome you. And I——" she glanced down at her frock and smiled slightly. . . . "I shouldn't have been so untidy."

"No matter," Reynolds assured her. "It's only an informal call. I want a bit of a business chat with your father and I thought this would be a good time for you and my son to get acquainted."

She flushed rosy red. Hal knew then that this proposition, engineered by his father and Glover, had been put up to her. He popped open the heart that she had turned down.

She was very pretty, with the soft glow of perfect health on either cheek. Her hair trained a face of exquisite contour and her eyes were blue as English corn-flowers, with long, dark lashes. Hal told himself that it was a pity that she was a type that had never appealed to him.

When she had gone within the house, the men, then seated themselves in garden chairs under a shade tree.

"Well?" queried the latter.

"I think you're mad, Dad," answered the son. "Marriages nowadays aren't made by parents, except in Europe. And we happen to be one hundred per cent. American."

"I've told you a dozen times why this thing is necessary," Reynolds answered impatiently. "We're up against it financially, Hal. You've helped to put us there, with your infernal debts. George Glover has money, and I have influence. Between us, this corporation we're forming will be a subsea that will put your eye out. He's a newspaper man, and if I hadn't got hold of him in time, he'd have been fleeced."

"Still, I can't understand why you and this Glover can't play your little game without dragging your offspring into it."

"One reason is that I don't want my son to marry a chorus girl—and you're in a fair way to do that very thing," . . . [illegible]

Hal laughed softly: "There are worse marriages.'

"Your mother doesn't think so. And neither do I."

"I'll never make a husband,' shrugged his son. "I like my food times too well. And this girl—she leaves me cold.'

"Wait and see. I think she's rather lovely. . . . Here they come—Glover and his wife."

Glover was short and thick-set. Mrs. Glover was a pudgy plump and very cordial. She beamed upon her guests. The girl now wore a simple afternoon frock.

"Now isn't this nice of you!" exclaimed Mrs. Glover, shaking hands with Hal. "We weren't expecting you until tomorrow, but you're just as welcome.'

"My son happened to have a free afternoon,' said Reynolds, with a wry smile. "Nowadays, we parents have to consult our children's wishes and engagements. Isn't that so?"

"Well, not with Marguerite. She's a good little daughter. Honey,' she turned to the girl, "suppose you serve the tea.'

Obediently, the girl seated herself behind the tea-table that a servant had brought out. She served" prettily, but Hal wasn't observing.

When she gave him his cup, she said: "I hope it's all right. You said no sugar, didn't you?"

"It's quite perfect," he answered politely.

The three older people were chatting pleasantly. Marguerite said to Hal in an obvious effort to make conversation:

"Are you fond of opera ?

"I go occasionally——just to see who's there.'

"I love 'Turandot.'

"Turandot!' He looked vague for a moment. "Oh, yes, the piece that was finished by somebody else after the first chap died. . . .Do you go to the opera?"

"I've only been once. We don't go to New York often in the evening. Dad gets so frightfully sleepy."

Smart and Slenderizing For Street Wear

This frock illustrated shows it as a soft beige kasha and is in extremely good taste for street wear. Collar and cuffs of tan plaid give the smart lingerie touch that is once more the fashion, while the buttoning and the left side front position of the closure of inserted plaits are quite individual. The fact that it is a straight-line dress and belted, and that it has a surplice closing makes it exceedingly slenderizing and becoming to all sizes. [Copyright, 1928, by Fairchild

Hal stifled a yawn with difficulty, and she asked:

"Do you read much?'

He gave her a charming smile and shook his head.

Silence fell between them, a silence that she broke, at last, by saying:

"Would you care to see my pets? I have some dogs.'

He rose and followed her. She led him through the garden to the kennels. A perfect avalanche of dogs met them. She went down on her knees and let eager tongues lick her hands. After a moment, the dogs turned their attention to Hal. He winced when he saw the factor of dusty paws on his immaculate flannels.

Marguerite said apologetically: "I'm sorry, but they're so very friendly.'

"So it seems,' he murmured, busy with an expensive silk handkerchief. She felt his discomfort and led the way in silence back to the group under the tree.

"Well, what do you youngsters think of each other?,' demanded Glover, with more heartiness than tact.

The girl flushed crimson. Hal was ominously silent, but Reynolds put in suavely: 'My son is charmed, isn't it Exactly, Dad,' was the rainer icy response.

"We are both very happy at the prospect of an alliance with your family,' Reynolds said to Glover. 'It remains for Miss Marguerite to say that she is willing.'

The girl glanced at Hal, then looked away again, quickly.

The other members of the little group turned expectantly to Hal. He did the correct thing, turned to the girl, and bowed:

"If you will do me the honor——'

For an instant the girl looked trapped. She made a little, appealing gesture.

Reynolds turned again to Glover: 'If Miss Marguerite consents, you and I, my friend, will enjoy the fortunate experience of having our business relationship cemented by the marriage of our children.'

"Of course, Marguerite is very young,' her mother fluttered. It was obvious that she felt some . . . reprotest was necessary, though only an hour before, she had said to her husband: 'It's the best thing for Marguerite. I'm sure she'd never have been a success with men here. She's so quiet.'

"We mustn't rush her, naturally,' said Reynolds. 'My wife will call tomorrow to make your acquaintance. Meanwhile, Miss Marguerite can consider.'

The girl was silent. Hal stole a surreptitious glance at his watch. It only he could get away!

"Well, well, we'll let things rest for the present,' remarked Glover heartily. 'If I think too much count on my daughter. She's a good little girl.' He laid his hand affectionately on her shoulder. She lifted frightened eyes to his, her lips trembling.

In the train, on the way back to New York, Reynolds said to his son, 'I think they'll persuade you to go through with it.'

Hal's response was more sincere than gallant. 'I hope to heaven they can!'

After Trying in Vain

"I feel it my duty as a mother to recommend Eagle Brand. Three months after my baby was born doctor ordered me to take him off the breast, constructing me to the several different foods. After trying in vain, with Baby's health failing, I was advised to try Eagle Brand Condensed Milk. After the first few bottles we noticed a vast improvement. I entered my Baby in a Baby Contest and he took first prize for being the most perfect baby. He is now 2½ years old and weighs 31 lbs.
Mrs. G., Toronto."

No Other Food Would Agree

"No other food would agree with my baby and while in the midst of a dose of double pneumonia we started him on your famous Eagle Brand and now he is a fine, rosy-cheeked boy of 18 lbs. at eight months and so full of life I hardly know what to do with him.
Mrs. C., Ontario."

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

For pitting cherries, a steel pen stuck point first in the holder is excellent.

For removing silk from corn when preparing it for th stable, or for canning purposes, a small hand brush is better and quicked than the fingers.

One of the best rules to remember with regard to watermelons is that half a large melon is generally more satisfactory than an entire small one. Half a watermelon that weighs 36 to 40 pounds is generally a better buy than a small melon weighing 16 to 24 pounds.

For mixing bread, cake and pastry, a marble slab from an old-fashioned bureau or washstand, or piece of plate glass, is better than a wooden board.

When peeling apples for dumplings or stewing, etc., to prevent them from getting brown and soft, put them in a basin with cold water and a little salt, as each one is cut up.

DOVER LADY IS 100 YEARS OLD

Descendant of Thompsons; Mrs. Hayly In Excellent Health

Port Dover, Ont.—(C.P.)—Norfolk County's "Grand Old Lady," Mrs. Thomas Hayly of Port Dover, has just celebrated her 100th birthday. She is in remarkable health for her years, in spite of the fact that she was deprived of her eyesight more than twenty-seven years ago. Her maiden name was Mary Thompson, and she was the daughter of a young Scotsman who came to this country in his eighteenth year, to hew for himself a clearing in the forest and to rear a family of sixteen children, whose descendants are now legion in the district of Georgetown.

The old home where Mrs. Hayly was born a century ago still stands and about it centre many of the cherished memories which she retains of those early pioneer days.

The work of the household of the Thompsons was divided up so evenly as possible. Mrs. Hayly was assigned to the spinning, a sister had the knitting to do, while to another fell the task of dressmaking. In winter the mandfolds tasks of the pioneer farm life were added to by the necessity of aiding in the woods and cutting lumber twice for the cattle to browse, there not being enough hay to tide them over the season of scarcity. Mrs. Hayly has a vivid recollection of the hardships times of the Mackenzie Rebellion, which was brought home forcibly to her family when the wife of a blacksmith, who lived on a portion of their farm informed the Thompson servants by that pikes were being manufactured by that husband, and that she feared that those who had been hired to her husband's work would become victims of strife some day.

L. A. PROULX IS DEAD

Quebec, July 26.—L. A. Proulx, King's Printer, died here this afternoon. Mr. Proulx was 63 years old.

PILLERS

"You will never receive this letter, my darling. It is written in a moment of despair. I am writing it to myself when my heart calls for you. I have just prepared an envelop to send you—the usual blank sheets of paper, and I cannot resist pretending to myself that I have the right to tell you of my love; I am sitting here in a bleak northern night, with wind and storm raging outside, and I am trying to imagine that you are mine. Oh, Celia, if you were mine: if I dared tell you that I've loved you since we first met at the house of my good friend! Is there ever to be any hope for me, Celia? If I step off to see you on my way back to New York and ask you to be my wife, will you tell me that I am only your friend and can never be anything more?

"Would you laugh, if you could read this?—which you will never do, because, in a few minutes, it goes into the fire. Would you think me a sentimental fool for written such things to a girl who has never given me the right even to hope? . . . Ah, well, you will never know. But, Celia, Celia, I love you. I love you. . . ."

The letter ended there. Celia stared at it for a moment. Then, with it clasped against her breast, she found herself saying: "It isn't true. It can't be true. He couldn't love this frail creature. Not Jim!"

But gradually, as she grew calmer, recollections flashed back to her: His kindness in New York, his evident desire to have her companionship; his eyes, when he stood on the station-platform and watched her train pull out; the interview in the little park under the willows, when she had said she was married to Dick Falconer; their parting on that last night, when she had told him she would stick to Falconer; fearing to let him set the wheels of the law in motion.

"But Jim!" Her heart cried out to him, as the truth slowly dawned upon her.

It was Annesley she loved! That was why Tom's proposal had left her cold. That was why her heart had turned to Annesley when she was desperate—and distraught and in trouble. That was why she had known such deep disappointment when he had not written, had sent her only the blank sheets of paper.

"Oh, why didn't I know before? she moaned. 'Why did it have to come after I've made such a muddle of everything? I love him! I love him! I must have loved him from the first.

She went to her desk and took out pen and paper.

"I am leaving in a couple of days for California, for Mother's health,' she wrote. 'But, before I go, I must make a confession. I owe it to you, difficult as it is.'

She went on to tell him of Falconer's part in her life, how he had forced himself into the house and fallen by chance into the role of husband. She didn't spare herself in her recital. But, for the life of her, she couldn't finish this ending:

'I tell you this solely because I want to ask you to forgive me for lying to you, my friend.' . . . But, Jim, Jim if only once you had spoken for yourself!'

She poised the letter hopelessly. 'He will never forgive me. No man could. But I had to do it. One last tribute to a precious friendship and a love that I can never have.'

On the day of her departure, when the household was all bustling and confusion, Owen rushed in and hurried up to Celia's room. Celia was flat putting on her hat. Mrs. Drew was in her own room, ready for the journey and attended by a chilly Miss Page, who pointedly resented Owen's presence.

"How pretty you look!" Owen told Celia. "But, dear child, why so sad? Surely you don't hate leaving this beastly town?"

Celia made a wry face. 'I could dance for joy at the mere thought. Seriously, Owen, I don't believe I'll ever come back.'

Owen's answer was a trifle mysterious. 'I don't think you will either. . . . By the way, I've brought some one with me to say good-by. He's downstairs in the big living-room now.'

'Larry? How sweet of him! Come, we'll go down.'

'You go first. I want to say good-by to your mother.'

Celia descended the stairs slowly, opened the living-room door—and walked into Annesley's arms.

'Tom!' she gasped.

'I—always, hereafter, Celia. If you'll have me. The last line of your letter gave me hope—so much hope that you take me for your one, last, and only husband!'

She laughed softly. 'It is about time I had one, at least, isn't it?'

His lips on hers gave her his answer.

THE END.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a brunette and in love with a blonde boy, who has curly hair. I have straight hair. Lately I had a quarrel and he hasn't spoken to me since. I would like to make up with him again as I love him very much and I think he loves me also. I am 23 and he is 20. We had a quarrel when the marriage was going on. Please advise what to do.

BRUNETTE.

BRUNETTE: If you were the instigator of the quarrel Brunette you might say you are sorry and he will probably be only too ready to "make up", but how do you think your different complexions affect the situation?

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a young married woman of twenty-five and I have been married six years. I have two children. Perhaps I would be better satisfied if I did have, as my husband is away from home quite a bit.

An old sweetheart has come back in my life and I have been out riding a few nights with him. Do you think there is any wrong? I have told my husband about him bringing me home and as they have always been good friends, he says there's no harm.

I do love my hubby with all my heart. But I just get lonesome and blue. I have a nice home and my husband loves me. I know he does for he proves it in every way he can, but I just get lonesome with him away so much.

PUZZLED.

PUZZLED: Even though your husband approves of your going out with his friend, I think you should be more careful. Possibly he and Lady are always people who will misconstrue your actions, and gossip is an ugly thing to combat. I know it must be lonely for you, but for your own and your husband's sake, I should advise you not to go about with anyone unless he accompanies you.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

Will you please answer the following questions:

How may one become engaged? Is the young lady taken to select and try on the ring, or is the ring purchased without the presence of the young lady? In the latter case how is the size of the ring obtained?

ARCH, B.

ARCH, B.: The only way know of becoming engaged Arch is to ask the young lady the most momentous question of all. Then let her prides as to the engagement ring. This is done nowadays as there is such a variety of styles to choose from and it is really a thoughtful thing for one's fiance to be considerate enough to wish to give the lady her choice of an engagement ring.

VISCOUNTESS LIKED CALGARY STAMPEDE

Calgary, Alta.—(C.P.)—"I have had the finest day of thrills and fun that I have had since coming to Canada." That was the manner in which Viscountess Willingdon summed up her experience at the Stampede, having become a real Western cowgirl and having thoroughly entered into the spirit of what she described as "this great, frolicsome, loveable west."

First dressed in a ten-gallon hat and buckskin coat she endeared herself to the Stony Indians as the wife of their great-new chief, "Morning Light," by chatting with the braves and their squaws.

Her excellency so fell in love with the stampede that she returned immediately after dinner and witnessed the chuck wagon and California cart races. She wound up a memorable day by visiting the Johnny J. Jones show and then completed "the finest day of her stay in Canada", by insisting on having a "hot dog".

During the afternoon Lady Willingdon inspected every section of the exhibition and spend a considerable time in rapt attention watching the stampede events, expressing her alarm at the devil-may-care risks run by the cowboys in their splendid efforts for her entertainment.

AIRPLANE WAS AN EASY FIRST

In Race With Flying Scotsman, Silver Wings Was The Winner

The race from London to Edinburgh of the Flying Scotsman train and the airplane Silver Wings proved an easy win for the latter, "Tiger" of the Imperial Airways, piloted by Captain King's Clipper, carrying Lord Londonderry, air minister, and Captain Sandrome, the London to Edinburgh mail pilot, reached Croydon aerodrome, 10 miles south of London, at 10.30 a.m. Silver Wings made stops at Hendon and Newcastle. Several times the air liner circled backwards in order to keep in touch with the train.

This operation, did not appeal to the retired engine driver in the airplane. He expressed the view that "this circling back business" was making a fool of the train.

In the region of Berwick-on-Tweed, however, the train scored a point, the airplane having mistaken a train which had left London some time after the express, and for a time it traveled alongside this train.

The mistake was soon found out, how ever, and the Flying Scotsman was again leader. After crossing the Scottish border the airplane encountered heavy rain storms.

Why be handicapped with defective vision when correctly fitted glasses may overcome the trouble.

SKEETERS THAT ARE CANNIBALS

They Live in France; Might Help Clean Up Yankee Ones.

Canniba! mosquitoes—those that eat the kind that sting humans—have their habitat in France, for one place.

Mrs. Charles H. Williams, of Long Island, whose art investigation gained has definite information regarding them and soon expects to have a flock of her own, at which appears a cannibalistic appetite. She told a reporter of the New York Herald-Tribune about it—as far as it has gone. To quote this informant: "one ball just received a letter from Dr. Paul Legendre of the French capital, who breeds the cannibal mosquitoes.

He informed her that he would furnish as many of the insects as she wanted, providing she would send some trustworthy person to meet the immigrants at Cherbourg and accompany them on the voyage.

x x x

Mrs. Williams, who, because of her anti-mosquito campaigns of the last two years, has been able to sit on her lawn with some comfort this summer, plans to go to France and bring the mosquitoes to Flushing herself.

"They have to be taken care of on the voyage," she said, "and I feel that I should do that myself. If any of the larvae hatch—or hatches—on the way across, I will know how to feed them. My other person would not.

While Mrs. Williams believes that the fundamental theory of the present war against mosquitoes by breeding cannibal mosquitoes and letting them loose is sound, she has innumerable difficulties to contend with, and she does not expect to provide any actual mosquito fights before late this summer.

x x x

The lady proceeded to explain that Dr. Legendre has proved beyond a reasonable doubt that his cannibal mosquitoes eat French mosquitoes, but Mrs. Williams wonders will they eat the Flushing mosquitoes? Another possibility which gives Mrs. Williams some concern is that the cannibal mosquitoes, which do not bite Frenchmen, may find that they like Americans, of what might happen if an expeditionary force of cannibal mosquitoes decided they like Africans.

BONUS FOR BABY NOT SATISFACTORY

Melbourne, Australia (by the Canadian Press)—Bonuses for babies are not working out satisfactorily, in the opinion of the Australian Women's National League. The system was vigorously attacked at league's recent convention and resolutions were passed urging the government to spend the money in some other way.

Mrs. Catherine Morris, representative of South Australia, declared that the baby bonus had demoralized the community and had done nothing towards saving the lives of mothers or infants. It had not assisted the birth rate, for it was very much lower than was declining.

Mrs. Morris said that the application of the allowance in the proper way would mean the abolition of many of the so-called nursing homes which simply existed because the proprietors knew that they could get itself free from the maternity allowance. The £700,000 which had been spent annually by on the allowance should be allocated as a subsidy to the organizations which existed to promote infant and maternal welfare.

A resolution also carried urging for an increase in allowances under the mothers' allowance act.

147TH ON LIST HOUSE SPEAKERS

Captain Fitz Roy, Does Not Mean 147 Speakers All Told

Captain Fitz Roy, the new British Speaker, is the hundred and forty-seventh on the Roll of Speakers. This, however, doesn't actually mean a hundred and forty-seven men, as more than twenty-two of them sat in the chair more than one term. The first of them, Sir Peter de la Mare, was appointed in the reign of Edward III in 1376. But Captain Fitz Roy is the first soldier to sit there for centuries, unless one counts Cromwell's minute in it (and how soon the bauble he dismissed came back!) and Charles I's few minutes that he "browsed," as he said from Speaker Lenthall—whose bona still stands at Burford—when he carried out his raid on the House to arrest the five members and, unwittingly, to begin the Civil War. But, continues this account of a London correspondent, "There's more continuity in it than that. The mere name Fitz Roy (son of a king) shows that Captain the Honorable Edward Algernon Fitz Roy, son of the Baron of Southampton, is descended from kings—precisely from Charles I, through Charles II and Barbara Villiers, the Duchess of Cleveland.

EQUAL RIGHTS FOR WOMEN IS SLOGAN

Moose Jaw, Sask.—Equal rights for women is the firm belief of Conservatives who attended the convention of the union of Saskatchewan municipalities, and so they adopted a resolution which would make members of the fair sex applicable to the poll tax in force in some provincial districts. The delegates, all men, adopted the resolution unanimously.

Another resolution adopted urged that mothers receive a allowance immediately a husband is committed to jail, penitentiary, or asylum.

Bon Echo, Where Indian Answers Indian in Ontario

6-POUNDERS AT BON ECHO

An Bon Echo Inn, north of Kaladar, on the Canadian Pacific Railway, you can call the ancestors of the Iroquois and the Hurons and you will get an answer which may, or may not be true, but if you do not get this echo answer, you can figure that the spirits of the Iroquois and Hurons are happy in the Happy Hunting Grounds and won't nothing to do with Pale Face who now occupy their hunting grounds and fishing places. An echo never lies.

Within a few hundred yards of the Bon Echo Inn is the Great Rock of legendary Indian battles, of lost treasure caves of silver, and long forgotten tribal worship. Nobody yet has found the silver, but everybody remembers that there is a pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. Who knows that Bon Echo has plenty of silver, and sometimes the nets and sometimes no lure will attract them. As every fisherman knows, a fish will bite when it pays and will crazy and at other times no lure can interest it.

Bon Echo is no exception to the rule. They bite, or they do not bite. At the same time, Bon Echo has small-mouth bass which average 3-lbs. and big bass of the same species weighing 6-lbs. A man who has ever caught a small-mouth bass weighing 3-lbs. can visualize the wonderful fishing "story" he can tell relatives when a 6-pounder gets on the line. You do not get one like this every day, but—well, you never do know what is on the lap of the fishing gods for you.

Bon Echo, is a vacation estate in the woods, on the crest of the Laurentian Highlands of Ontario, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway between Montreal and Toronto. The railway station is Kaladar, Ontario. The Mazinaw Lakes have plenty of fish and there are 120 lakes within easy range of camp. A year ago W. J. Roberts, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., caught a small-mouth bass weighing 6-lbs. at Bon Echo; and H. J. Andrews, of Toronto, caught another weighing but one ounce less. If the fish are biting, the small-mouth black bass fishing at Bon Echo is good.

High Winds In State of Washington Add To Danger

Walla, Walla, Wash., July 27.—More than three hundred frenzied farmers and volunteer fire fighters were battling a grain fire early today in the vicinity of Eureka Flats about thirty miles from here, in an attempt to save their homes and crops. It was estimated the fire which started late last night had destroyed 30,000 to 75,000 acres of grain and burned over 10,000 to 30,000 acres of wheat.

Backed by a high wind the flames spread rapidly. It was reported that the Northern Pacific Railroad was filling tank cars with water at Pasco, Wash., and rushing them to the scene of the fire.

Telephone wires were down and roads blocked in the section and it was impossible to get an accurate estimate of the destruction. Reports here said at least ten farm homes had been burned.

"Big Bill" Tilden

whose reinstatement as a member of the United States Davis cup team on the eve of the challenge matches with France, created a furore, just as did his suspension originally. One can almost see him shaking in his shoes with merriment over the abject backdown of his detractors.

BLOW FATAL TO RING ENTHUSIAST

Had Been Listening To Radio Account of Big Fight

St. Catharines, Ont., July 27.—Demonstrating how Tunney defeated Heeney last night, Patrick Sweeney, 54, Toronto, here on vacation, knocked Charles Sierens, 52, of St. Catharines, between two piles of boxes in the latter's yard last night and a projecting board fractured his neck. He died in a few minutes. Sweeney is being held by the police for questioning.

They had been listening to a radio account of the fight in the home of Charles Cribb where Sierens was visiting and later were trying out certain blows in the back yard when the accident occurred. According to those present there was no disagreement between the two men.

Sweeney was arraigned before Magistrate Campbell this morning on a charge of common assault and remanded for a week but was allowed out on his own recognizance. An inquest will be held Wednesday next.

INDUCED FARMER TO SIGN NOTE

Conducted Own Defense Which Didn't Appeal To Bench

Two old, decrepit farmers, who might well have stepped out of one of Dickens's stories, appeared before Magistrate Mikel in Police Court this morning charged with theft and perjury. The latter is alleged to have induced Thomas Chalmers to sign a promissory note for $100.

J. H. and Edward Diamond, of Picton Bay, Prince Edward County, were the pair that faced this serious charge in court today, and, scorning, a lawyer, conducted their own defense.

E. H. Diamond was the first man called and pleaded not guilty, as did his brother. Mr. Diamond conducted vigorous examination of all witnesses, but his questions evoked no little mirth in court.

It was alleged that the Diamonds instituted to Chalmers that they owned a farm and wanted the money that they secured on the promissory note to buy some cattle. Both were found guilty by Mr. Mikel, and were given until August 13th to be sentenced. In the meantime they will try to raise the $100 to meet the note.

Charles McMunn, Albert McMunn, and William Hennessy all pleaded guilty to charges of being drunk in a public place and were assessed fines and costs each.

R. J. Brown, who also resides near Bancroft, was charged with keeping liquor for sale, was convicted, and sentenced to serve three months in the County Jail. Bruce is a man 64 years of age and when sentence was pronounced, broke down and sobbed violently. He has been the victim of a great deal of ill luck in his day and the chief of which occurred when his barn and house burned down. He was brought to this city last evening to start serving his sentence.

Burrows Lumber Co., Limited, of Winnipeg, Man., and Phoenix, Ala., dropped in at the College, and also, in going over the school register, recaled many other signatures of his day.

Mr. Sparks's early home was at Vars, Ont., near Ottawa, and he is at present renewing friendships in this district and Napanee, where he secured his 3rd partner. He speaks well of the proficiency of O.B.C. training and graduates.

REFEREE HALTED GORY SLAUGHTER

Tom Heeney Was Victim of Open Attack At Hands of Champ

50,000 SPECTATORS

Tunney Scored Technical Knockout In Eleventh Round

New York, July 27.—Blinded and staggering, his face a bloody smear, Thomas Heeney's hard rock frame down under collapsed and fell a victim to a technical knockout in the eleventh round of his world's heavyweight championship battle with Gene Tunney last night.

Tunney, born and bred in New York, and defending his title at home for the first time, cut the sturdy, brave Heeney to ribbons before subjecting him to one of the worst beatings Referee Dave Miller ever saw.

Heeney came charging in like a bull but the slugger Tunney, cool and collected, sended his wild rights to the jaw and stabbed him with lefts to the face until the blood of the gloves against Heeney's cut and bruised face almost became monotonous.

The Associated Press score card showed Tunney winning at least nine of the eleven rounds, with Heeney winning the first and dividing honors with the title-holder in the second. Heeney's only advantage was the first round. After that he was a badly pounded target who, although boring in with fierce energy, could never escape Tunney's masterful attack.

The battle in advance, lacked the colorful appeal attended with the Tunney-Dempsey battles, in Philadelphia and Chicago, each in turn with its record-shattering gate and attendance. Rickard had figured on a gate of at least $1,500,000 last night. He needed more than $750,000 to show a profit.

The battle was a struggle between a boxer who has proved himself perfection in his art, and a strong, durable, fighter whose chief asset is his natural strength. Tunney, a master of defensive boxing, allowed Heeney to set the early pace, and then, after slowing him up with savage blows under the heart, proceeded to batter him into a state of collapse.

Heeney's Defeat Apparent

It took no expert, after the heavyeyed fought tenth round, to tell that Heeney, the challenger, had met his master, and that his finish was coming. As this round ended, Heeney was dragged to his corner back, his body rolled to the edge of the ring, completely knocked out. His seconds rushed into the ring, threw water on him and the fallen New Zealand gladiator was dragged to his corner where restoratives were applied.

His seconds worked frantically over their charge, fanning him, pouring cobwebs out of his brain and applying the smelling salts to his bleeding nose.

Heeney, with marvelous recuperative power, came charging out of his corner as the eleventh round opened, only to fall an easy victim to another barrage of well-timed punches that knocked him groggy and reeling.

As he stood there, with his back to the ropes, his arms hanging heavily at his sides, a certain victim to a finishing knockout blow, Referee Forbes, the referee, immediately waved Tunney to his corner. Heeney had had his chance and lost, but only after fighting a game, uphill battle.

PAID HIS FINE FOR CONSUMING LIQUOR

Ray Dryden faced Magistrate White this morning charged with illegally consuming liquor in a place other than his private residence. Dryden was arrested by Constable Tarrard in a garage, and a quantity of empty beer cartons and beer bottles were found in the place at the time.

Dryden has pleaded guilty to the count and was leniently treated by Magistrate White who imposed a fine of $15 and $7 costs upon him. Dryden is a citizen of Abe United States.

The scores of 36, registered previously by Walter Hagen, British open champion and McDonald Smith of Tuckahoe, N. Y., have not yet been equalled.

LAD IS THROWN FROM BICYCLE

Ted Butcher, Foster Ave., Escapes Injury In Accident

Ted Butcher, 127 Foster Avenue, narrowly escaped serious injury today when he was riding his bicycle on Bridge Street, and was struck by a car driven by Mr. Stephen Goodale, R. R. No. 5, Belleville.

Mr. Goodale was driving east on Bridge Street at the time of the accident, and when he struck Butcher, the boy was thrown violently from his "wheel", and the bicycle was dragged under the car. Luckily the victim was not hurt. Clapsaddle was not held by the police.

NEW PASTOR WILL PREACH ON SUNDAY

The Reverend Robert Hall, new pastor at John Street United Church, who arrived in Belleville a short time ago will preach his first sermon in his new charge on Sunday morning. On Sunday evening he will conduct the service at Holloway Street United Church.

Mr. Hall, who for past five or three years has been in charge of the Amherst Presbyterian Church in Montreal, is a fairly young man and married. He has no children.

AUTHORITIES TO LAY NEW CHARGE

Accused Men Alleged To Have "Tapped" Barrels of Alcohol

Earl Sexsmith and William Moy will face new charges soon, one of their alleged victims of illegal profits, it is reported. These two men are now waiting sentence on two similar charges, but since their trial new evidence has been produced, and they must face the Magistrate's Court again.

It will be remembered that Moy was charged with stealing alcohol from the Canadian Industrial Alcohol Company, while Sexsmith was charged with having in his possession, and selling that he tapped the kegs of alcohol from the said spirits, and even drained off a gallon or more from each keg, thinking that it would not be noticed. He is also charged with receiving stolen goods, knowing that it would not be so.

It is said that the alcohol was tapped for leaks, and if none was found, he is said to have made one, taken out half a gallon or more, and then set the loss down in his report as a "leak." The Provincial Police have in their possession four quart bottles of these spirits which were alleged to have been found either at Moy's home or in his possession, and one bottle of spirits would make four bottles of ordinary whisky. The case will probably come up next week.

OIL TAKES FIRE AFTER EXPLOSION

Buffalo, N. Y., July 27—An explosion aboard the oil barge James P. Kaley in the Black Rock Canal, at Tonawanda in Buffalo harbor early today destroyed the boat and endangered shipping in the harbor. Nelson H. Parsloe, of Toronto, who was blown overboard was believed to be fatally injured and another man was missing.

Accompanied by the tug the barge arrived last night. The tug managed to get away after the explosion. The flaming oil on the water drove fire boats off, leaving several other and freighters in danger for more than an hour. The loss is estimated at $20,000.

MADE SHIPMENT TO FAR NORTH

Deacon Shirt Company Will Utilize Air Service For Delivery.

From Belleville to Pine Ridge, Ontario, is a distance of approximately 1,210 miles, part of the way there being no means of transportation except on foot, or by the modern way, by aeroplane. The Deacon Shirt Factory in Belleville sent a box of goods to the above mentioned village yesterday which has the distinction of being the first shipment sent from this city by aeroplane.

The Canadian National Express will take the goods on their trains from this city to Hudson, Ontario, and at the latter place a plane of the Canadian Airways Ltd., will load and fly the one hundred and twenty-five miles across country to the little village of Pine Ridge. This aeroplane service goes through all the Red Lake territory and calls at the principal mining camps throughout that country, cutting hours and days from the time it formerly took to make these trips.

Not so many years from now Belleville will be on the direct route of the Air Express Services, as we are now on the Air Mail route. It is a good sign that wide-awake merchants and manufacturers are beginning to take the use of the Air Express Companies, for aviation is fast growing, and economical rates and men will be forced to grow with it.

PLANE REFUSES TO LEAVE THE WATER

Horta Azores, July 27.—Capt. Frank T. Courtney, British flyer, made a futile attempt today to take off in a seaplane for Newfoundland. He made several attempts and dumped part of his fuel load but the plane would not leave the water.

News of the finding received here stated that the three brothers were at Sioux Lookout, Ontario.

TO-DAY'S THOUGHT.

Hope is curved with pain
That can't be blamed long smiles again.

—BRET HARTE.

A HIGH TRIBUTE.

The Prince of Wales paid a high tribute to Lord Balfour, who celebrated his eightieth birthday Tuesday, when he referred to him at the dedication of the new building of the Royal Academy, of which he is president, as one whose name was honored and loved by all who spoke the English tongue all the world over." It is true. Not only throughout the Empire, but in foreign lands, the great English statesman has won the respect and admiration of the people for his suave manners and polished diction. He represents what is best in the old school of diplomats, the aristocrat whom training and natural endowments have been placed wholly at the disposal of his country. Lord Balfour's services have been unique, and in his old age he continues to respond to the call of the state with unabridged power. May he be long spared to uphold the prestige of parliamentary institutions. Irrespective of party, the aged statesman enjoys the esteem of all classes of the people.

A PROVERB CHALLENGED.

The old proverb about "killing two birds with one stone" is examined in critical light by James A. Hall, writing in the Atlanta Journal.

The sentiment expressed in it, he says, conflicts with the modern teaching of humanity to animals. Children have a habit of taking such statements rather literally. It seems a pity that while we may preach humaneness to one breath we should spoil it by a perversion in the next.

No doubt the saying had a literal meaning in the old days when bird pie figured largely on the family menu. But those days are gone and with them all excuses for "sling-shotters." The sayings that applied to them are equally out of date. As Mr. Hall says, "Instead of saying that you have killed two birds with one stone, would it not be better to say that you have fed two birds with one crumb?"

It is a gentle thought with a sinless suggestion behind it.

A SERIOUS SUGGESTION.

Not content with making veiled charges of cowardice against the two members of the crew of the Nobile who left their companion, Dr. Malmgren, to die alone in the northern ice, certain Russian newspapers are going even further, and have made veiled suggestions that an even worse fate befell Dr. Malmgren. In despatches from Moscow, quotations are given of stories sent out by correspondents of one of the newspapers of that city, in which it is suggested that Dr Malmgren was not only murdered by his two companions, but was also eaten by them to keep them alive. The suggestion of cannibalism is a horrible one, and the civilized world would shudder to think that in this enlightened age white men would descend to such depths as to practice it.

Fortunately, the evidence on which the suggestion is based is not at all reliable. Before credence can be given to such a story, it must be supported by definite facts and reliable conclusions. Certainly no men should be charged, even by veiled suggestion, with this atrocious act, until a full investigation has brought out evidence to support the charge. It may be that there is a hidden purpose in the Moscow suggestion, for Soviet Russia has apparently very little love for Mussolini, and an opportunity to hurt Italian prestige by suggesting that two Italian officers stooped to cannibalism would be eagerly seized by some of those who are in charge of the Soviet propaganda bureau. If this is the real situation, then such tactics cannot be too strongly condemned. In any case, there is no justification on the part of Moscow newspapers for giving widespread publicity to a report which has stirred human indignation without having behind it the backing of solid proof.

HAVE YOU HEARD THESE?

Little Willie's father took him to school for the first time, and on the way home, in order to see if the youngster had learned anything, he asked:

Who was it killed Goliath?

I dunno, said Willie. 'I was sittin' on a back seat and couldn't see!'

Counsel—Did you see the beginning of the quarrel between the man and his wife?

Witness—I did.

When was it?

Six years ago.

Six years ago!

Yes; I was a guest at their wedding.

A man mortgaged his home to buy an automobile. Then he went around and tried to mortgage the car to get money to build a garage.

How are you going to buy gas? curiously inquired the man of whom the loan was asked.

Well, replied the other slowly, 'if I own a house, a car and a garage, I should think any dealer would be willing to trust me for gas.'

Warden (breathlessly)—Been anything of a convict?

Golfer—The afraid spt. Er—something of a golf ball?

A youthful artist was singing 'Kathleen Mavourneen,' and would insist on singing 'The dawn on the Tay.'

When the concert was over the chairman approached him, and in a fatherly manner praised the young singer. 'You sing beautifully,' he said, 'but you mustn't forget to sing your stitches.'

The boy was indignant. 'Go on,' he said. 'Who are you trying to have? There aren't any stitches in music, the notes stop at G.'

A teacher in a local Sunday school was testing her scholars' knowledge of the Ten Commandments. Coming to the last one, 'Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house; thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife,' the teacher asked:

Can anyone tell me why Moses wrote down house before wife?

Child (with penny to spend)—How many of these sweets do I get for a penny?

Shopman—Oh, six or seven.

Child—I'll taken seven then, please.

THE RECORDER.

It was not dawn; in the full day
I drowsed my wits in sleep,
And let the high world steal away,
Without a song to keep.

Then from a dripping timber-stack,
Where the wild thistle grew,
Spreading his scarlet plumes and black,
Again the loud cock crew.

—John Drinkwater.

The man who wants a garden fair,
Or shall, or very big,
With roses growing here and there,
Must bend his back and dig.
The things are mighty few on earth
That wishes will attain,
Whate'er we want—to any worth
We've got to work to gain.
It matters not what goal you seek,
Six secret here reposes,
You've got to work from week to week
To get results or roses.

BANISH DIGNITY AND ROMP WITH THE CHILDREN

By DR. LOUIS E. BISCH.

If you have children, play with them. If you have no children, play with your neighbor's!

Adults do not, as a rule, realize the amount of good the little folks can do for them, not to mention the benefits grown-ups can bestow upon those of a younger generation.

Indeed, we tend too much to leave the children to themselves, allowing them to work out their own play ideas as best they can.

Have you ever observed how glad a boy is if you help him to build the blocks for his train or steer him clear of the finer points of batting or catching a ball?

And how delightedly a girl accepts your suggestion that you build a doll house for her or otherwise take an interest in her doll family.

Playing with children keeps you young.

Playing with children, from the child's point of view, helps to systematize their minds, puts planfulness into chemistry and creative thinking, teaches them concentration, and develops their powers of observation.

It is not enough that you merely watch children play.

You must get down on the floor, or in the dirt as the case may be, on your hands and knees and try to be a child again.

Get off your dignity once in a while. It will do you good.

Don't be afraid to mess your clothes in a good romp with a healthy, husky boy or girl.

If you merely give instructions, or advice how this or that should be done the children won't like it. They will think you are "nagging us."

But if you actually play with them, enter into the spirit—the child's spirit—of the game, then perhaps you have interest and enjoyment and will be surprised to find how readily you can do the thing you've advised, and with a whale of a lot of fun out of it.

The adult, you must remember, never loses entirely his play instinct.

A man or woman may not have played since childhood. He or she may have forgotten what it was like to play. Years of drudgery, hard work, the trials, adjustments and sorrows may have blotted out childhood memories.

Nevertheless the wish to play is still present, deep down in the inner nature of every human being.

Give it a chance to resurrect. Let your play urges come out into the open. Create an opportunity wherever it can blossom.

That opportunity is open to everyone, for everywhere there are children, and always and invariably will they welcome you into their midst with shouts of glee.

Adult play, golf, baseball, cards and whatnot—have a value and should find a place in everybody's life.

But play with children should be indulged in, in addition, for by means of it you not only are satisfying a fundamental craving, deeply ingrained in your character from earliest days but also, when you play with the youngsters you enjoy a carefree, untrammeled and unrepressed state of feeling that cannot possibly be duplicated in any other way.

MEDICINE FOR YOUNG GIRLS

Mothers Endorse Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sydney, N.S.—"My seventeen year old daughter took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and pains. She could not go about much with the other girls as she was not strong enough. We got six bottles and it did her a great deal. She is looking out now in a store and waits there every morning and back to work in the evening."—Mrs. Mary Vasch, 44 Charles Street, Sydney, N. S.

Pinewood, Ont.—"I constantly had pains in my back and side and spent two days in bed every month. I have taken three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets. They have done me good and I always have them in the house. I have recommended your good medicine to several friends and have given it to my 17 year-old girl."—Mrs. Alfred Ouellette, Pinewood, Ontario.

Wilful Wives

Chapter 3

PAWNS IN THE GAME.

She came up the aisle of the church on her father's arm, all misty and lovely and white and pale as a bride should be. He stood in the chancel, awaiting her, very erect, very handsome.

All the members of the fashionable clique of the Long Island colony were there. They came for the Reynolds family, not for the Glovers. But Mrs. Glover, happy and tearful and slightly overflowned, in a pew marked by a shower of lilies, didn't suspect that. Glover was looking solemn, a trifle too painfully intent on keeping step to the wedding-march. Reynolds, on his side of the church, was easy, assured. Mrs. Reynolds was cool, remote, dignified.

The ceremony was without incident. Hal's best man produced the ring at the proper moment. Hal's responses were perfect—he could always be depended upon to do the correct thing —Marguerite's were scarcely audible.

For her, the return journey down the aisle was endless and tormenting, with every one staring at her. She heard one woman whisper to another: Such an ideal match, my dear. They look as though they were made for each other.'

In the motor, when it left the church for the return journey to the Glover house, where the reception was to be held, she shrank into a corner.

When Hal had installed himself in a country lane, beyond sight of the guests on the church steps, Hal said lightly:

'Smoke, Gail? I think we've been pretty good sports, don't you? I hope our estimable families are satisfied. . . . Mind if I smoke?'

She shook her head. He lit a cigarette and inhaled deeply. His gaze rested on the green countryside through which they were passing. Marguerite looked at the bouquet in her lap.

The reception passed off as well as could be expected, considering that most of the guests were strangers to their hosts. The bride and groom, elaborate, and William Reynolds murmured to his son:

'I should have warned them that this old Roman banquet stuff was not in good taste.'

'The champagne's all right,' shrugged Hal.

'Father, I wonder where he got it?'

'Is it necessary to remind you Dad, that with money one can get anything?'

'You've learned that too well, you young puppy . . . See here, Hal, you've got to play square with that little girl. It won't stand for anything else. When you consented to this marriage arrangement, I took it for granted that I had your word of honor.'

'I'll do the best I can, Dad. But don't expect too much at the start. Marguerite presents difficulties.'

The gaze of the older man wandered across the flower-filled lawn to the terrace and rested upon the little bride. She was not alone. A tall, slender pathetic little figure in her white satin and tulle. He experienced a moment's remorse for what he and Glover had done. It seemed a shame to use this child to further their business interests. But he reminded himself that the future of his own son was at stake, the She would make an ideal wife for Hal.

When she went up-stairs to change into her traveling-gown, she was gone so long that even the guests began to be restless. Hal's patience had long since passed the breaking point.

At seventy-five up-stairs, reported Madame, she descended nearly half an hour 'late.' Consternation reigned at the bottom.

'Do you suppose the little idiot has done a bolt at the last minute?' muttered Hal. Mrs. Glover was frankly alarmed.

Hal seized so quickly all the morning. She is always so sweet and thoughtful of every one. I can't understand—'

'Ah, there she is!' exclaimed William Reynolds, with relief.

She came across the garden with lagging steps. There were the signs of tears on her white cheeks, and on her pretty traveling-frock were the marks of dusty paws.

She met her mother's anxiety with a wavering smile.

'My dog . . . I had to go to my good-by . . . Her voice faltered and broke.

'Oh, Heavens,' said Hal disgustedly, under his breath.

They were in the car, bound for a honeymoon in the Berkshires.

Hal said suddenly: 'See here, it's all over now. I'm sorry I was thin on a honeymoon, when we don't give a rap for each other. But I'm back, I'm sure that you don't hate me. Traveling together without real companionship is a bore and a fatigue. What do you say we put one over on the respective families and cut this trip?'

She looked startled. 'What shall we do, then?'

'My apartment's ready in New York. All but the servants. We can be comfortable there and have a little more freedom. Let's stop off when we reach New York and send the chauffeur on to do the Berkshires alone, if he wants to.'

'Don't you think your father and Dad and Mother would be angry?' she queried anxiously.

'No. They're content now that they've got us safely married.'

'Very well,' she agreed slowly. 'I will do whatever you say.'

He laughed. 'You're not going to treat me to this doleful wife stuff, I hope.'

She stared at him pale-eyed.

His afternoon, when I made my vows at the church, I promised to obey you always.'

He laughed once more, Marguerite, he answered lightly. 'Forget it.'

She asked slowly: 'Then, you don't want a dutiful wife?'

He lit a cigarette before he answered. Then he said, looking out of the window: 'To tell you the truth, I don't want a wife at all. Do you understand what I'm trying to tell you . . . Marguerite?'

'Yes . . . I understand.'

He laughed and shrugged his shoulders.

'We may make a go of it, yet, Marguerite, as our optimistic parents seem to imagine. I hope my doubts, but try . . . Have I your hand on that?'

Gravely she gave him her hand. For the first time a male touched her lips.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

To cook meats and vegetables quicker and more tender, put a piece of cooking soda in the water when boiling them.

To keep shoes from cracking across the top near the toe, especially if the shoe is a little longer than the foot, fill the toe of the shoe with, hair combings. This is much better than cotton which soon becomes hard and uncomfortable.

To remove the rusty look from black suede shoes or slippers rub with a mixture of equal parts of olive and ink. Remove grease marks from suede shoes by rubbing the spots lightly with emery paper. This brings up the nap again. Grease spots on suede shoes will also disappear if they are rubbed with a piece of cloth dipped in pure glycerine.

To blacken tan leather first rub it with a ten per cent. solution of tannic acid; let this dry well then apply a ten per cent. solution of iron sulphate; this gives an intense black and hardens the surface. Or, try rubbing the leather thoroughly with the inside of a raw potato, let dry and then polish. This is the army way and gives excellent results.

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

A boy whom I have known for four years joined the Navy and has given me a Navy ring.

I am sixteen years old and he is eighteen and very nice. Was I right in accepting it?

T.

T.: You must know by this time that I don't approve of girls accepting gifts of jewelry from men. However, if your parents approve, then it is quite in form for you to accept the ring.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I have been going out with a boy, not steady, for about a year. I think a great deal of him and the affection seems to be mutual.

A few Sundays ago at a picnic, insulting remark to another boy in a fit of jealousy he made an about me. He has since called me up and apologized, but he seems to think that I don't care to go out with him and is afraid to ask me.

How can I make him understand that I would like to go with him again, without appearing to be obtuse.

MYRTLE.

MYRTLE: You might ask him to call on you some evening, that is, if your parents approve of your having company. Or when you meet him, you might stop and chat and show him by your friendly, cordial manner that you have forgiven him.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a young girl of eighteen. I am staying with my sister and brother-in-law. I have been going with several girls, boys for over four months. I do not care for any of them. I go with them because they show me a good time, and I like their friendship. Yesterday they came of my many friends called on me my sister objected to my continuing my friendship with him or anyone else. They said I should settle down with one boy friend. Because I do not care for me to go with so many.

SMYLES.

SMYLES: I'm afraid that I don't agree with your sister, Smiles. For you are not engaged to any one boy and you, therefore, should be free to go with whom you choose until you have made your choice for life partner. However, if you are in your sister's home, there is nothing else for you to do but acquiesce in her wishes.

Smart Sports Dress for the Little Girl

A cross all-around sports dress for the growing girl to wear during summer is the one exhibited above at apple green linen. Late it will be a happy choice for school. The small collar and tie are newly smart and the slit pocket at the right, the tabbed cuffs and buckled belt are all inviting features. The belt, collar and cuffs may be fashioned effectively of contrasting material. But for extremely warm weather wear, the dress may also be made with a square head rd neckline and short sleeves.

AMATEURS PLAY AT JASPER PARK

Golf Committee Announce Western Course As Scene of 1929 Tourney.

Jasper Park, July 27.—For the past few years the Royal Canadian Golf Association have been endeavoring more closely to associate the interest of the parent body and the Provincial Association in what they have termed the "broadening out policy". In 1926 the secretary Mr. R. L. Anderson was authorized to visit the Canadian West with a view to discussing Golf matters with the various western association and to look over the various golf courses to ascertain which of them was of championship calibre. As result of this visit together with the spirit of co-operation of the leading golfers of the West, a policy had been worked out which led to a complete revision of the constitution of the parent body which was adopted at the last annual meeting held in Montreal. By these changes the national amateur championship will now swing from coast to coast, the provinces each sending a team to compete in Dominion National Interprovincial Match, to be held at the Royal Golf Club Montreal for which his excellency Viscount Willingdon Governor General of Canada has donated a trophy and has graciously consented to present it to the winning team. The Canadian Amateur Championship will be held this year in Montreal over the links of the summer Le Golf Club. It has been decided by the Executive Committee of the National Amateur Championship be held in the West next year as the championship is to be held in the West it was felt the western people should select a course where either championship should be played. A meeting was therefore arranged at Edmonton on the 18th of August where the entire west was represented and a unanimous recommendation was made to the Executive Committee that the Championship be held at the Jasper National Park Golf course. This recommendation was submitted to the Executive Committee in session held at Hamilton on Wednesday night, July 25th and was approved a recommendation will therefore be made by the next general annual meeting that the invitation of the Jasper Club be accepted while this is the usual course by which the National Championships are decided it is a rose line formality and it may now be considered definitely settled that the next Amateur Championship, 1929 will be held at the Jasper National Park Course. In making this this selection due consideration has been given to the many festitres to make a National Championship a success the secretary has reported to the committee that the Golf Course at Jasper leaves nothing to be desired in the way of a real test of Golf that it is one of the best championship courses in Canada and that it has many attractive features. "A prophet is without honor in his own country" is not true in Golf courses as the people of the West have themselves selected the Jasper Park course.

The wedding reception which was given the Princess Floating Cloud and her husband, Lorenzo, at Snake Island, would have been the occasion of wars are 100 years ago because the groom s of the Ojibway tribe, while the bride s a Cognawaga, once bitter enemies.

Now all is changed, however, and the festivities were conducted with all the modern social graces. Picture number one shows Charles Big Chance, warrior chieftain of the Ojibways and grand father of Lorenzo, who was born on Snake Island 97 years ago. On account of recent ill-health he was unable to attend the party. Picture number two shows the bride and groom, both wearing modern clothes. The groom teaches school at the Iroquois Reserve. The bride formerly was a celebrity in a Montreal store.

MACHINES FLEW LONG DISTANCE

Aeroplanes Go 16,500 Miles From Plymouth To Melbourne

London (By The Canadian Press).—The flight of four Royal Air Force "Gronsdat" flying boats, each weighing nine tons, from Plymouth to Melbourne, 16,500 miles, is termed the greatest flight of its kind in the history of aviation. The machines left England last October and calling on the way at 70 ports, reached Melbourne, at the end of June without having had any mishaps. No such formation flight had ever been made before with any kind of machine.

The flight went on steadily through tropical heat and storm and the machines made the first aerial coasting of India, accomplished the greater part of an aerial circumnavigation of Australia and flew approximately 17,000 of the 23,000 miles scheduled for the cruise.

The great flying boats are now on the way to Singapore, the permanent base for a British Pacific air fleet of the future, of which the craft will form the basis. From Singapore at various times they will make long distance flights to the Far East.

Complete success marked the experiment of all-metal hulls in tropical conditions. They withstood every kind of test. Their wing span is 75 feet and fully loaded each plane weighs nine tons.

Two 500-horse power Napier Lion water-cooled engines propel each craft at a maximum speed of 106 miles an hour. The reliability of these engines, which in 144,000 engine miles did not miss a beat, has astonished the technicians. The machines are biplanes.

Group Captain H. M. Cave-Brown-Cave was in command. Each machine carried a crew of four, having sleeping and cooking accommodation as well as lockers, ripper's stores, tailor's etc, medical supplies and two days' upply of fresh provisions in case of accident. Hammocks were slung from the cabin roof at night.

BAND CONCERT AT EXHIBITION PARK THIS EVE.

By permission of Colonel Eric Kinder M. C., Mr. Charles Marine has arranged for the band of "The Argyle" to give its third park concert Friday evening, commencing at 8.15 p.m.

On this occasion, it has been arranged for the band to play its concert at the "Fair Grounds", and the added advantage to this is the fact that Automobiles will be allowed to come right into the grounds and park around the band stand. Bandmaster Yeatley takes great pleasure in offering an added feature on Friday evening's program when he will present Mr. Max Demuth Trumpet Soloist. Of course, Mr. Demuth being a Belleville boy, really needs no introduction, but it may not be commonly known, he is conceded to be one of the finest professional trumpet players in America. The two park concerts already given by the band of "The Argyles" have drawn large attendances who have been most liberal with their applause which certainly shows appreciation. All that is required is a little consideration on the part of automobilists who will assist in allowing their children to race around the band stand, making all manner of noises. This is hardly fair to those who enjoy listening to music.

Programme

March—"Invincible America"—Woods.
Fantasia—"Overture Orion"—Berry.

Containing excerpts from the operettes Poss de Perquet, Raymond Dazpa, Serpentine, Passport, Mlle. Modiste and Light Cavalry.

Trumpet Solo—"My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice"—Saint Saens. Guest Soloist, Mr. Max Demuth.

American Sketch—"Down South"—Myddleton. In this number we have the traditional Cake Walk, the favorite dance of the Southern negroes. The trio introduces a bewitching melody that is known to a section of the band. As a rule the audience is carried away by the drowsy strain or the melody, that is finds itself unconsciously humming the refrain.

INTERMISSION

Selection—"His Majesty's Ship Pinafore"—Sullivan. By request.
Serenade from the Ballet—"Les Millions D'Arlequin"—Drigo.
Argentine Tango—"To Te Amo"—Walter Rolfe.
Waltz—Sweet Remembrance"—Floyd G. Chalk.
Regimental March of "The Argyle" "The Chappells are Coming".

TWO PENALTIES for speeding
One can be paid many times but the other only once
Death lurks on Highways where the Speeders are Every driver in Ontario knows that the legal speed limit on country highways is 35 miles per hour, or such lower speed as circumstances warrant. Yet every day the speed limit is broken.
One penalty for speeding may be paid more than once. He is the penalty the law exacts—a fine, imprisonment, or suspension of the right to drive.
But there is another penalty. It is the consequence of recklessness. It is paid only once as it leads to a quiet churchyard—and the pity is that the daredevil motorist sometimes sends innocent people there when he goes himself. Death lurks on highways where the speeders are.
Did you ever think of the dangers of fast driving and do you know how they multiply as the speed increases?
At 35 miles per hour your car moves 513 feet every 10 seconds; at 40 miles per hour, 587 feet every 10 seconds; at 50 miles per hour, 733 feet every 10 seconds.
In average condition four-wheel brakes should bring your car to a full stop at 35 miles per hour in 72 feet
at 40 miles per hour in 95 feet;
at 50 miles per hour in 150 feet:
At 50 miles per hour you need 108% more distance in which to stop your car than at 35 miles per hour, though your speed has increased less than 43%! Every mile per hour you add to the legal speed brings a rapidly increasing element of danger to you and to all others on the road near you.
To protect your own life and the lives of others—DON'T SPEED.

BELLE THEATRE

The authority of a megaphone held by the directorial lips is too well known in Hollywood to be disputed, but Director Howard Bretherton found his megaphone useless during one stage of the filming of "Across the Atlantic," in which Warner Bros. are starring Monte Blue.

Bretherton shouted until he was hoarse but Blue paid not the slightest heed. Finally he took to his aircraft hundred feet in the air piloting an airplane, an operation at which he was too new to divert his attention from the mechanism. The difficulty between the director and star was finally overcome by installation of a new radio set.

"Across the Atlantic" is an exciting aviation romance which Harvey Gates has written from an original story by John Ransome. Monte Blue is starred, supported by Edna Murphy, Robert Ober and Burr McIntosh.

WILL INSPECT U. S. BOUNDARY

Between Ontario And Minnesota; Parties From Both Countries

Duluth, Minn.—(By The Canadian Press)—A remarkable phase of the movement for closer international relations in the Ontario-Minnesota boundary county will be shown next month, when a committee of each house of congress will visit the region, separately. There will be public hearings on the proposal to establish an International Park watershed, devoted to scientific forestation, the preservation of wild life, and recreation throughout the most wonderful lake land of America. There is before congress the bill introduced by Senator Shipstead of Minnesota, withheld public lands from acquisition, prevent excessive cutting of timber, and prohibit the raising of lake levels.

The Quetico-Superior Council has been formed, with the co-operation of the Izaak Walton League of America and other state and national conservation organizations, to secure a treaty providing for the sympathetic administration of the watershed, for the purposes named. The question was dealt with at committee hearings at Washington last spring.

Both the Senate and House bodies decided that, in view of the great importance of the question, they must take the unusual course of personally investigating the situation, and give the public most concerned the opportunity of stating their views. Twelve members of the House of Representatives Committee on Public Lands will arrive here on August 8, and give three days to the work, holding at least two public sessions in the intervals of seeing as much of the boundary waters as possible. Senator Shipstead will conduct the Senate Committee on a five-days investigation, beginning August 23.

It is understood that the Government of Ontario had been invited to send representatives as that it may become cognizant of whatever sentiment is developing in Minnesota. It is pointed out here that the initiative in co-operative conservation of the timber hunting, fishing and summering territory which the water boundary affords was taken by Ontario in 1909 the Quetico Forest and Game Preserve of a million acres was established by the Government. Ontario road was followed by state legislation which set aside 1,400,000 acres adjoining Quetico, and by the Federal Council which proclaimed that area the Superior National Forest.

The proposal to dedicate the whole of the Rainy Lake watershed to those purposes was first made from Duluth. It is recognized that, by permanent, scientific (conservation of the timber resources of the region, and a corresponding development of its recreational values a much larger and more enduring prosperity and population can be assured to Trans-Superior than could ever be possible by a swift demolition of the forests, and a destruction of the summer beauties of this picturesque region.

SEASON OPENS WITH CHANGES

Soccer In Great Britain Resumes Shortly; Starts In August

London, (C.P.—Soccer football will get under way in the British Isles in August 25 and will continue thereafter to hold the athletic stage until the following May 4. The usual changes in the various divisions of the English and Scottish leagues due to promotions and relegations will take place.

In the British first division the great Tottenham Hotspurs team, now fallen to the second, will succeed Aston Villa, brought to the second division, their twelfth year taken by Manchester City and Leeds United.

Millwall comes from the Northern section of the third division and Bradford from the northern section into the second division, while Fulham and South Shields go down.

The shakeup is expected to streamline all the leagues, though one English first division still shapes up much the same as last season, where a most extraordinary state of affairs developed, more than half the teams being found struggling to stave off relegation as the end approached.

In the Scottish League Ayr United and Third Lanark are promoted to the first division to take the places of Dundee and Hamilton Academicals.

The first English league games are set for Aug. 25. Scottish there will be some interesting preliminary matches. The Scottish clubs kick off two weeks earlier.

HUGE N. B. LOBSTER WEIGHED 18 POUNDS

Grand Manan, N.B.: — A lobster weighing 18 pounds was caught in Campobello waters recently by William Matthews, of Wilson's Beach, and shipped to Grand Manan, where it was cured and made into a museum specimen. The crustacean was 39 inches long, the large claw being 11 1-2 inches in length six inches in width and holding two fluid quarts. Large size lobsters have no commercial value because of the difficulty in preserving specimen.

In the Ontario-Minnesota boundary county will be shown next month, when a committee of each house of congress will visit the region, separately. There will be public hearings on the proposal to establish an International Park watershed, devoted to scientific forestation, the preservation of wild life, and recreation throughout the most wonderful lake land of America. There is before congress the bill introduced by Senator Shipstead of Minnesota, withheld public lands from acquisition, prevent excessive cutting of timber, and prohibit the raising of lake levels.

The Quetico-Superior Council has been formed, with the co-operation of the Izaak Walton League of America and other state and national conservation organizations, to secure a treaty providing for the sympathetic administration of the watershed, for the purposes named. The question was dealt with at committee hearings at Washington last spring.

Both the Senate and House bodies decided that, in view of the great importance of the question, they must take the unusual course of personally investigating the situation, and give the public most concerned the opportunity of stating their views. Twelve members of the House of Representatives Committee on Public Lands will arrive here on August 8, and give three days to the work, holding at least two public sessions in the intervals of seeing as much of the boundary waters as possible. Senator Shipstead will conduct the Senate Committee on a five-days investigation, beginning August 23.

It is understood that the Government of Ontario had been invited to send representatives as that it may become cognizant of whatever sentiment is developing in Minnesota. It is pointed out here that the initiative in co-operative conservation of the timber hunting, fishing and summering territory which the water boundary affords was taken by Ontario in 1909 the Quetico Forest and Game Preserve of a million acres was established by the Government. Ontario road was followed by state legislation which set aside 1,400,000 acres adjoining Quetico, and by the Federal Council which proclaimed that area the Superior National Forest.

The proposal to dedicate the whole of the Rainy Lake watershed to those purposes was first made from Duluth. It is recognized that, by permanent, scientific (conservation of the timber resources of the region, and a corresponding development of its recreational values a much larger and more enduring prosperity and population can be assured to Trans-Superior than could ever be possible by a swift demolition of the forests, and a destruction of the summer beauties of this picturesque region.

RAISE BIRDS IN BIG INCUBATOR

L. B. Sherman Brings Up Wild Birds by This Method

Marshfield Mass.—To L. B. Sherman, manager of the state game farm at Marshfield goes the distinction of being the first man to successfully raise game birds, partridge and pheasants, by the incubator method.

Sherman has thus far this year raised more than five thousand pheasant chicks in the twelve incubators at the farm. He prefers incubators to setting hens and will use no other method. English and Scotch gamekeepers have long regarded the hatching of game birds in incubators as impossible. They contended that the absence of the mother bird would leave the young birds helpless to three days to the sheltie. Sherman has disproved this theory and in addition to the five thousand healthy chicks now on the farm he has a like number of eggs in the incubators.

The brooding stock at the farm consists of approximately four hundred pheasants, during the laying season an average of 250 eggs are obtained daily and these all go into the incubators. The laying season starts the first of April and ends in July.

Although the young pheasants are tamer than those of domestic species, Sherman declared it is utterly impossible to keep them so. As soon as the birds reach maturity they are as wild as though they were reared in their natural surroundings."

TILLIE THE TOILER— THAT REMAINS TO BE SEEN

ONTS. TENDERED RUDE SURPRISE BY BEAVER TEAM

Hilda Matthews Is Ineffective And Beavers Win 14-5

Although all arguments with regard to the superiority of the Belleville Beavers and the Ontarios was effectively snatched for a time by the Beavers well earned win over their hefty opponents last night at the Armouries, many are still of the opinion that the Ontarios are the better team and only more games will tell the tale. On last night's showing, however, the Beavers completely outclassed the Ontarios, defeating them by the score of 14 to 5. Allan Meagher's girls were not to be denied, and played ball the way it should be played, making few errors and hitting the ball hard when they opened runs.

Beavers started out in the first inning and scored three runs and went right back again at the beginning of the second for three more, meanwhile blanking the opposition. The Ontarios scored their first run in the third, but Beavers, making it seven to one, with the Beavers having the edge all the way.

Hilda Adams on the mound for the Ontarios was not up to her usual game, and issued several passes during this time which kept her in hot water. Miss Simpson, by her good fielding, got her out considerably, and a catch made by Chapman in the fourth, particularly was a feature. Mooney hit a homer over the fence in the second frame, and as two more runs followed the Beavers greatly in their efforts to get a big lead.

Again in the eighth, with three men on base, having all got their by hits and bases, Audrey Wilkins came up and realized the ball players dream, namely, she socked the ball over the fence almost to the Post Office. The Ontarios, to tell the truth, however, were not getting the breaks, good pitching from Hilda Adams, as she was cold and lasted several free passes to first. She has pitched and no doubt will pitch again, better games than she did last night, and there may be a different story to tell after the next game.

The line-ups:

Ontarios—Adams, 2b; Wilkins, c; Greenaus, lf; Wilkins, cf; Kelleher, 2b; Matthews, p; Adams, s; Hidley rf; Holyoay, 1b.

Umpires—Colling and Woodley.

$20,000,000 GOLD FROM NOVA SCOTIA

Halifax, N. S., July.—(C.P.)—Recent official figures regarding gold production in Nova Scotia since 1862, show that about twenty million dollars' worth of the precious metal has been mined in this province, but it is estimated that these figures represent only half the real output, as in the early days many operators did not make returns, and miners also indulged in "bootlegging," selling separately thousands of rich nuggets extracted from the ore. Free gold is still so rich in Nova Scotia that operators have to guard against dishonest employees.

The total official output to date is 967,178 ounces, which was produced from 2,253,693 tons of ore.

By "The Observer"

LeSeville National have no further games until next Wednesday, when Kingston team will be here for the final tilt of the season. In the meantime the locals will not allow any grass to grow under their feet and Manager Walter Gerow will send them through their regular drills.

Wednesday's crowd aggregated around the six hundred mark, a elderly poor showing for a town of this size. The team is playing bang-up ball, better than many other teams of Senior calibre in the Province, they are leading the League and yet the stand is barely full for a choice attraction like the Oshawa Club, the nearest contender. And one fan expressed it about right when he said: "If it weren't for the people of the district who attend, the crowd would not aggregate three hundred."

The local team have the best balanced Club in the Central Ontario League, the veterans have not slipped a trifle while the younger lads have come through in marvelous style. Big Percy Mills is catching just as well as he did ten years ago and his hitting is as husky as ever. His judgment on foul flies is unequalled as was evidenced on Wednesday. Mills is the back-bone of the Belleville team and few will deny it. He handles the young pitchers to perfection and the practised eye will note a great improvement in Vinny Uttonik's pitching since he joined the local staff. Mills knows the big game from A to Z and how the fans do love to see him sock the old apple on the nose.

The two pitchers, Utronki and Olmon are more than holding up their end. Took' Olmon is the big pitcher in the Central League. Look at his record!! it will prove it. Olmon has allowed but an average of five or six hits a game and while his strike-out record is not equal to that piled up by Williams or Cryer, nevertheless he hurls steady ball and is there in the pinches. Utronki is up against better batting than he was in the Ottawa Valley but the lad has won a warm place for himself in the hearts of Belleville fans and now they all call him by his first name.

One fan who played ball himself knows the game and the most intricate plays stafes that he believes Olmon is just as good as Williams. Well, that's a pretty big statement to make, but Olmon has been twirling good ball and while the old cry goes up, "they're not what they used to be," all-the same time let us look around and see just who's missing among the chief swat-smiths of this league.

Kingston lost Batstone, but they secured Ada and the latter is if anything a better hitter, Percy is gone and so is Halbert but neither of them were sluggers of unusual ability. Peterboro have practically the same line-up as five years ago yet Clinton has been their master. Who have Oshawa lost? Tyson, a good hitter, Rowden, and Wilson and possibly one or two others. But looking them all over the teams have not changed more than fifteen per cent, yet we hear lots of the same hue and cry. They're going down hill.' The stands were packed with regularity five years ago but the motor car has done the damage and while the interest in baseball is not up great, it is not because the calibre of ball in the Central League has deteriorated.

Belleville team deserves better support, and whether or not you are a loyal fan you can put that in your pipe and smoke it! The team is winning, the ball is superfine, and they are five laps ahead of the nearest team. Think it over between now and next Wednesday and if you're a loyal-sport fan, booster for Belleville and a supporter of the ball team you'll be in the stands at game-time.

Sunny Green, who learned his baseball with Deseronto where he developed into a pitcher of no mean calibre, is now playing right field for the Belleville Canadian Nationals, who are leading their league. This is the first time that a former Deseronto player has attained the distinction of being on a Belleville senior team but Sunny has won it honestly by tireless application to one of the many games at which he is so proficient.—Deseronto Post.

Walt Gerow's men are favored by the fates and we refuse to think differently.

Dainty buried a wonderful game and the awful eighth was hardly a glorious climax.

Utronki was almost as effective but he had the desired support. Only was committed six errors during the fray and minuses seldom benefit the opposite-to-the-left-side of the ledger.

Herb Wolfe is the right man for the clean-up position, the slugging centre-fielder getting to Utronki for three hits and four trips, including one screaming double.

The chap who wrote "With the Help of God and a Fast Outfield" should cancel the last part and present the Belleville management with a copy bound in rabbit's feet.

The backers of the National always entertain the visiting ball-players in real style and that is the big point in their favor.—Ottawa Times.

The Railroaders sure have a wonderful lead in the Central Ontario League. They have not lost a game since the Peter beat them on July 2nd. So far they have 15 wins and 5 losses, with the locals counting for three of the defeats.—Peterboro Examiner.

Millions and millions of dollars' worth of wealth belonging to the people of Canada have been lost because men thought camp fires would burn out by themselves. Sometimes they do. But if they don't we pay dear for it.

YANKS DIVIDED DOUBLEHEADER

Huggins Won First Game And Detroit Took Second

Detroit, July 27.—Yankees walloped the Tigers yesterday afternoon, 13 to 1, and then were spanked to the meticulous tune of 13 to 10. Judging from the source, you might think it was football, and maybe you're right at that. Certainly it wasn't baseball, the marathon craze has spread to baseball and the two teams stalled along until it was long after 7 o'clock and the shades of night were falling fast. The police should have stepped in and stopped it.

In the first game Bob Meusel's homer and Red Hargrave's ditto, a single and a triple delivered in the ninth, were the only runs for eleven innings. But in the twelfth Vic Sorrell, who had been giving Wade Hoyt the battle of a lifetime, crumbled to dust and the Yanks scored eleven runs on ten hits—two triples, three doubles and five singles. Fifteen hitters waltzed to the plate.

The second game was a horrible exhibition—one of those "married-men — single-men-clambake" affairs, where the final score is 23-21. The Yanks used four pitchers, starting with Joe Dugan, and the Tigers employed three throwers. Gentlemen, it was awful.

WILL BE FIGHT ON NOMINATION

For Representation of Mining-Group On General Council

London, (By C.P.)—According to the information given in the preliminary agenda for the Trade Union Congress at Swansea in September there will, for the first time for several years be a contest for the representation of the mining group on the General Council.

It is expected that this will bring to an issue the discord that has arisen between A. J. Cook and the General Council, and that the voting in the Congress will turn mainly on re-election or rejection of the miners' secretary.

The custom of the Miners' Federation is to name the nominees for the Congress General Council and the Labor Party Executive just over a year in advance. Last July the present representatives on the General Council, including Mr. Cook, were nominated for the election at this year's Congress.

The contest at the forthcoming Congress arises from the fact that the General Federation of Colliery Firemen, Examiners and Deputies Associations has submitted a nomination.

Apart from the persistent attacks by Mr. Cook on the council arising out of the Mond Conference it is contended that Mr. Cook has not observed the facility understood principles governing Committee work, which at certain stages must call for confidential treatment if constant discord and misunderstanding are to be avoided.

BARRIE TALKS TO STUDENTS

Speech Made At Oxford University At Dinner of Rhodes Trustee

London (By The Canadian Press)—"The beginning of all you are to be already lies inside you—a little speck that is to grow, while you are asleep, while you are awake, and that in the fullness of time, according to whether you control it or it controls you, is to be the making of you, or to destroy you."

That was the central theme of a speech made by Sir James Barrie at Oxford at the annual dinner of the Rhodes Trustees.

Saying he had been asked to bear in mind the Rhodes scholars whom three years here and in Europe generally had come, or were coming, to an end, he singled out from among them a fictitious "William M. Brown."

"Now that the stage direction is, alas, Exit William M. Brown—that fascinating fellow, yourself (your interest in whom passes the love of woman)—what is to happen to you next?" he asked.

"Chapter one, 'I depart from Oxford determined to make public duty my highest aim.' Bravo. But how?

"Namely? Ah, Mr. Brown, how we wish we could guide you through the paper knots; but we know as little of yourselves what is being spun for you.

"Nobody has ever had to put on mourning because of me. A proud summing up for the best of you if after reflection you can claim it. But you will find you can't. You ask the speck. You will do things—have probably already done them—shabby, lovable things, dear Mr. Brown—that will mean mourning, for at least those who love you—or would, if you were found out.

"I am not saying this to damp you, but rather as a comfort in case you have been reading the sort of homilies in which the hare is without a flaw. It may have given you a sinking to feel that you can never be like him.

"But you may be like him, and to many cases it will be a mighty good thing for you to be as like him as you can.

"Oh, my soul, Brown, I believe you would be wiser, if it does not incommode you too much, to stop short of greatness. 'Chapter 18 I reach the Summit.' No, they sometimes fall off. To be very able is safer.

"The one place where the immortals are never seen is at the top table.

"One hopes that you are leaving Oxford feeling, as the old saying has it, that red blood boils in your veins, that you have a thousand nightingales, and could eat all the elephant in Hindustan and pick your teeth with the spire of Strasburg Cathedral. That's the spirit.

"If to despise us helps you in your enthusiasms, then, gentlemen, continue. Far worse than your scorning is beyond reason would be your not having a cheery belief that you can do better.

A cigarette butt is not out when you throw it away unless you know it is so. That's the only safe rule to go by. Millions and millions of acres of good pine forest would be available for better use than now generally available today, if smokers had always practised that safe rule.

JOHN PARSONS GOT BIG SCORE

Record For Runs Scored In One "Over"; To Be Priest

London, (C.P.)—John Henry Parsons, the Warwickshire cricketer, who recently established a record for runs scored in one over and for the greatest number of consecutive wins, was the subject of many interviews after this performance. He is one of the most interesting personalities in cricket in England and a fine tribute in the game is predicted for him, says Reuters Limited. Mr. Parsons enlisted as a trooper during the war, won his commission, and was dev ... the military cross. He served with the Worcestershire yeomanry. When peace was declared he was gazetted a captain in the 7th Hussars then in India. He left the army to take up religious work and now is nearing the completion of his studies at a theological college.

Parsons is one of the few cricketers who have changed their status. He played first as a professional for Warwickshire, then as amateur and returned to the professional ranks. He is expected to be ordained into the church of England priesthood next year and it is pretty definitely settled his first curacy will be somewhere in Warwickshire, when, it is presumed he will become an amateur again.

He is popular as a cricketer because he hits out. He made his records against the West Indies bowler, Scott. His scoring in the over was: 2-2-4-6-6-6. One of his smashes went into the dining room and another clean out of the Birmingham ground. Another notable performance of Mr. Parsons was the scoring of 225 runs out of 318 in 1-4 hours against Glamorgan some years ago. He played for the Players against the Gentlemen in 1925 and headed the Warwickshire batting aver...

YOUNG COUPLE TOOK DEPARTURE

Roy Martin, Napanee Youth Disappeared With Girl

A mystery, with decided elements of romance therein is causing tongues to wag, and also some worry, in residents of Deseronto and Napanee. Roy Martin, a young fifteen-year old boy, disappeared last night and with him he took a sixteen year old girl with whom he had been keeping company for some time.

Martin was last seen last night on the highway, in company with a girl, evidently trying to get a ride either east or west on Highway No. 2. Martin was wearing at the time a pair of khaki trousers, and a sport sweater. He is a tall lad, and a stranger would mistake he was at least 18 years of age.

The girl, whose name is unknown, stated that she did not know the name of the girl who eloped with Martin, but that only sixteen years old, and decidedly pretty.

Up to press time today nothing had been heard of the young couple. The Belleville police force were notified of the disappearance and asked to keep a watch for the pair, but nothing was

'MASHERS' WERE TAKEN TO CELLS

It's kids of fun, a certain type of "mashers" will agree, to "pick-up", or rather try to pick-up, girls on the streets these nights. At least this is how youth's not caught at it, believe William Clarke, Robert Clarke and Joseph Copeland, all of this city. In fact the trio will perhaps not be so anxious to interfere young women on the street in future.

The three would-be mashers were pestering some young women on Pinnacle last night, walking behind them and making, no doubt in their own estimation, some extremely witty remarks at the girls' expense. Alas and Alack! A policeman, one Sergeant Booth, happened to be standing nearby, and the "sheiks" were summoned to court.

Pomp And Ceremony Feature As Athletes Stand At Attention

MASSED CHORUS

Former Minister of Fine Arts Reviews Idea of Competition

Amsterdam, Holland, July 28.—The ninth Olympiad of the modern era was opened this afternoon by Prince Consort Henry, of the Netherlands, on behalf of Queen Wilhelmina.

The Athletes of 47 countries, a record in Olympic History, filed before this Mecklenburg Duke upon whom, in the Queen's absence, fell the honor of representing the ancient royal house of Orange Nassau. Presenting a colorful picture in the variegated sport costumes the cream of the worlds athletes stood at attention in the historic national anthem "Wilhelmus Van Nassouwe" sung by the Royal Military and Marine bands and sung by massed choirs of 1,500 voices.

No sooner was Royal party seated than the historic march of the Nations into and around the stadium began. They then formed in the centre and listened to an address by J. T. Dobson, former minister of Fine Arts, reviewing the Greek idea of Olympic competition and admonishing the contestants to conduct themselves according to the old Greek ideal of friendly sportsmanship.

Issue Statement

Amsterdam, July 28.—Fraley Olympic team withdrew from today's opening parade at the last minute as a result of a report that Lieut. Lovegrove had been yesterday and there was a threat of their quitting actual competition. The report is authentic, through the General Olympic Secretary immediately issued a statement saying that the French withdrawal was caused by the weather.

It was learned, however, that the action was the result of an encounte yesterday in which one of the French Olympic officials was struck by the Dutch gatekeeper who had refused him admittance. The committee's failure to discharge him is said to have caused the withdrawal today.

Amsterdam, July 28.—The question was raised whether the French Athletes who missed taking the Olympic oath today would be permitted to participate in the games. M. Bellet issued a formal statement and said the French ambassador would be consulted before decision was reached. He added, however, that it was unlikely the team would be withdrawn as that would be unfair to the athletes.

WANTS TO PROBE SMALL MYSTERY

Disappearance of Toronto Theatre Magnate Arouses Interest

Toronto, July 28.—Dr. Maximilian A. Langsner, M.L.L.C., criminologist from Vienna, has offered his services to the city of Toronto, in an effort to solve the case of Ambrose Small, theatrical magnate, who disappeared from this city on December 2, 1919, and for whom a reward of $50,000 alive and $15,000 dead is still standing. Langsner, it is reported, has created an impression in many Canada with his psychic powers and recently played a part in the solving the murder of dcur in Alberta by Vernon Bodner. The doctor located the gun used by the youth.

Mayor Samuel McBride stated today that it would be quite out of the question to consider wrecking the proposal that the City engage services of Dr. Langsner, and that he would not have it done at the expense of the taxpayers. The doctor in his offer stipulated that all expenses must be borne by the city.

FAVORS STRONG NATIONAL SPIRIT

Sir Robt. Horne Addresses Young People Starting On Tour

London, July 28.—"There is a very strong national 'spirit developing in Canada which appears to somewhat distress some Empire patriots," Sir Robert Horne, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, said in a speech at Mansion House, the residence of the Lord Mayor today. "I am not of that state of mind at all., I believe that the development of a Canadian National spirit is all to the good. I belong to a race most fervid in national spirit although we are naturally the most modest of all people."

Amid laughter Sir Robert, who is a Scotsman and conservative member of Parliament for a Glasgow constituency, said that he had been reading the reports of an old-time agent in Canada whose duty it was to look at new pioneer arrivals, and who reported that of all the "drinking, thieving rapscallions" who had come out to Canada, those from Glasgow were the worst.

The occasion was a luncheon given by the Lord Mayor to the fifty young men and women who start on a tour of Canada tomorrow under the Empire scholarship scheme device by sellin proprietors of Great Britain. Premier G. N. Ferguson of Ontario in a brief speech advised the youthful tourists to enjoy the scenery, but still more to get to know the Canadian people at close quarters.

HOMING PIGEON PATROL SERVICE

Birds Will Assist In Forest Fires And Survey Work

Ottawa, July 28.—The homing pigeon, little winged hero of the Great War, has been officially enrolled in Canada's air patrol. Today, the Department of National Defence announced creation of a homing pigeon service as auxiliary to forest fire patrol and photographic survey.

A pilot now leaving for patrol work in northern areas flies over thousands of miles of wild, uninhabited country. Sometimes he is hundreds of miles from land. In the event of a forced landing without means of communication with his base, his situation is precarious indeed.

To minimize the danger, small homing pigeon lofts are to be established at all air stations. Before a pilot leaves his base two or more pigeons will be taken with him. Specially constructed baskets, each box in its own individual compartment, easily serve. able to the pilot. In the event of a forced landing, a message giving details of the pilot's position and his needs will be inserted in a small aluminum tube attached to the leg of the pigeon, and the bird liberated. The same message will be despatched by the second pigeon to guard against the first being driven off its course by storm or attacked by hawks; for the hawk takes a heavy toll.

Members of the Montreal Racing Pigeon Association have constructed a number of birds as a gift to the new lofts and several cases have already been shipped to the High River (Alta.) air station. The association is also cooperating in instructional work on loft management and the breeding and training of pigeons.

COUNCIL OPPOSED TO LITIGATION IN ORDER TO PREVENT ERECTION

Debate For Two Hours And Finally Defer Further Steps

SOLICITOR'S REPORT

Will Likely Start Erection of Building Next Week

After a hectic session during which three members vacated the chamber in the heat of the argument the Belleville City Council last night passed a resolution instructing City Solicitor R. J. E. Graham to defer any legal action with regard to the McColl Brothers gasoline service station which will be in the course of erection short. ly at the corner of Bridge and Front Streets. It will be remembered that at a regular meeting held some weeks ago the City Fathers advised the Solicitor to take any legal steps necessary to prevent the erection of the pump and sound grounds on which to prevent the Company from erecting the station.

City Solicitor Graham consulted leading authorities in the Province in the matter and he reported that the Corporation would stand a good chance of winning the suit. In the face of it, however, some of the Aldermen were loathe to proceed with the matter feeling that in the event of a loss the Court costs would aggregate a considerable amount. It was the consensus of opinion that the people of Belleville were not in favor of taking the matter in court.

At the present time the old building has been demolished and work will start next week on the actual erection of the station. Walter Paterson has been given the contract which calls for one of the most elaborate stations in the City and as soon as the different resolutions were drafted but were not available and finally after two hours of harangue the remaining members felt that it was advisable to instruct the Solicitor to defer any further steps. Aldermen Donahue and Conway became irate at the turn the proceedings were taking when the Council appeared to be getting nowhere after heated argument and announced their retirement. Finally Alderman Collins left but he was persuaded to return as it left the council helpless without a quorum since several of the City Fathers failed to put in an appearance.

Warm At Times

Argument was warm at times over the wording of the various resolutions but Mr. Graham, who had poured oil on the troubled waters and all was serene when the final resolution was framed. Alderman Woodcock was in favor of passing a recommendation to the effect that the company give the City Solicitor the power to proceed with litigation. Ald. Chas. Hyde said "I wish to please the people and not being in favor of going to court in this matter."

Aldermen Wotten and French inquired: "Will then let us inform the City Solicitor to halt in steps and regard to an injunction to prevent the erection of this building."

After the resolution had been read by the Clerk Ald. Collins stated emphatically that the wording did not appeal to him. "After what we've done already I would prefer to leave the matter with a special committee with power to act. We have only a small representation of the Council here. The City Solicitor was instructed to investigate the matter, he has done so, gathered the material and now it all looks to me like a right-about face on our part."

Ald. Donahue asked: 'After the special committee has been appointed how long will we wait?"

Ald. Collins: 'Give them power to act.

Ald. Hyde said it looked like a gamble from start to finish. 'I will be in sympathy with the committee."

Ald. Collins read his motion which provided for a special committee including the City Solicitor, City Engineer, the Mayor and one or two Aldermen to act in the matter and work in conjunction with McColl Brothers.

Quick Action

Ald. French: "Mr. Mayor what do you think of this resolution?"

'CUTTING IN' WAS CAUSE OF CRASH

Mrs. Wheately Leet of Toronto Suffered From Shock

"Cutting in" was the cause of a more or less serious accident about three miles east of Belleville on the highway last night. When Wheatley A. Leet, of Toronto, attempted to pass a car directly in front of him, he failed to notice that a third car, driven by Robert Mayne, of Point, was travelling in the opposite direction, and was too close to permit passing.

Leet's car crashed into Mayne's automobile head-on, ripping a front wheel and the rear and front fenders off the latter's vehicle and shaking Mr. Mayne's wife up considerably. Luckily no one was hurt as the result of the smash-up. Leet's car suffered severe damage also, and was brought back to the city for repairs. Mr. Leet was on his way from Kingston to the time of the accident.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Everyone can master grief but he that has it.

—SHAKESPEARE.

HAMILTON AIRPORT.

Without an airport a modern city tends to be modern. Facilities for air traffic are as imperative the necessity of today as garages and parking space for motor cars. Hamilton has made no mistake in undertaking to add this important accessory to the other attractions of the city. Loyalists five years have to be taken to enable the city to issue debentures to cover the purchase of the 307 acres that have been chosen as the site of the airport, but there should be no difficulty about this. The port is to be operated by the International Airways of Canada, limited, on a five-year lease at a rental of $12,000 a year. The company also has an option to purchase the property from the city at any time within that period on terms which would fully recoup the city for any outlay occasioned. The city must rely on the federal government for protection so far as that might ever be needed in the operation of the port. Whether the traffic shall come under railway board or some similar body does not at present appear, but it is obvious that the regulations must be authoritative and identical for the whole Dominion.—Hamilton Herald.

THIS IS TOUGH!

A bank manager in Toronto is in hard luck. Some person took his car out for a joy ride and travelled along King street at 41 miles an hour.

So the record says. When he was and the financier was told to appear in court. He protested that he had not been driving the car, said the officer who laid the charge was asked to take a good look at the man.

As he recalled it, the man who was driving had a good assortment of strawberry growing on top of his head just the sort of stuff the Seven Bobbed Shield Sisters would have delighted to see at the head of their parade.

The manager of the bank displayed a dome which boasted no pompadour, and when the theory of making two spears grow where one had been had run the remedial chance of demonstration.

So it was clearly established that the man who presides over the destinies of a branch bank in Toronto had not been motoring around at 41 miles an hour.

Alas for these hollow victories! The beak remarked he was sorry, but assessed a fine of $50 against the owner of the car.

It's stuff like that which makes motorists, and causes good men to scoff at law. Yes, sir, it was tough for that man to lose his hair and $50 to boot.

THEATRE CRISIS.

The question: "What is the matter with the Theatre?" has been taken up by the Manchester Guardian, which points out that no fewer than 96 plays have been produced and failed in the first five months of the year in London. The contrast is recalled between the success of Mr. Masefield's play as given at Canterbury cathedral in these days and the failures to point the moral that the churches do not ignore the drama. It is observed that London needs about 200 new plays a year if all its theatres are to be kept in action with an average run of eight weeks for each play. But these 200 plays are not to be had. Very rarely an author with ideas in his head is able to use the technique of the theatre to produce them. Then add these very dangerous days that we call the "talkies" and the mechanical play which was so amusing and attractive. It is suggested that the drama of action that was at its height when Sir Henry Irving was the leader of the stage in England, may be revived and perhaps combine something of the intellectuality of recent years with the melodramatic thrills of the previous period. As the Guardian puts it: "If 'talkies' films will carry on the drama of 'head' bone interest grandiosos of Irving may arise to knock us all of a heap, to our great content." Perhaps Canada or some other of the dominions may give a hint to the new dramatist. In his last work as Mr. Martin Dennison has been giving us, character and action and novelty of setting, with a tale of unusual experience which still holds up the mirror to universal human nature.

Sandy was playing a very indifferent game of golf. For the third time that afternoon he fouled his shot. Turning to the caddie, he remarked: "I think I'm off my game bad.

"Guid heavens," said the caddie, "has ye' played before?"

A kind old gentleman seeing a small boy who was carrying a lot of newspapers under his arm said: "Don't all those papers make you tired, my boy?"

"Naw, I don't read 'em," replied the

WILD PETTIOT DOG

A misdemeanor, to say the least, is one owned by Mr. Keller, 20 St. Paul street. Mrs. Richard Thompson, also of St. Paul street, complained to the police that a Pomeranian had bitten three of her children on Sunday last, bitten another on Tuesday of this week and completed the work by biting yet another child yesterday. The police will destroy the vicious dog.

EGGS STILL RISING

Eggs still maintain their high level on the market. This morning they were selling for thirty-five cents at all stalls, and although there is no certainty that they will rise in price for some time, yet it is not expected that the price will fall.

Vegetables were reasonably priced. Cabbages, beets, carrots and lettuce all were offered at five cents per bunch while cucumbers sold at five, ten cents each. Butter was forty-five cents the pound. Berries were selling at the same price as Thursday's market.

TO LAY "AMESITE" ROAD

Provincial Surveyors, Inspectors and County Road Chairman James Moore, Nevin of Hawke Township and Road Supt. Simeon Fox were in Stirling recently. The party inspected the surface of the streets which will be laid with amesite. Front and Mill Streets in the village will be laid with the new material.

A FESTIVAL PLACE

Specials are a feature of the Belle Theatre. It would seem, taking the special Thursday night Ladies' Night, when every lady who attends is the recipient of a sheet of music, as one example. Another was the service shown the night of the Tunney-Dempsey fight when the result was flashed on the screen at the end of the eleventh round. Jack Denmark at the Organ console is a special attraction all the time, and his playing is daily becoming more appreciated.

Elmer Olson, composer of songs, at Hayward, Wis., stabbed to death by woman at summer resort.

DELORO DEFEATS BELLEVILLE 2-1

Fast And Clean Soccer Game Played Here Last Night

Belleville entertained Deloro to a Soccer game last evening on the Pine Street School rounds and a fast and clean game was witnessed by the spectators, the issue being in doubt until the final whistle.

Belleville set up a fine attack but the Deloro defence managed to hold their own for some time, at last Norridge beat the visitors goalkeeper with a fairly good shot. This reverse for Deloro only caused the whole team to do their utmost to equalize, they were at last rewarded for their effort in the scoring of a goal by Start the Deloro centre forward who had been very prominent in some fine moves by their forward line. The second half opened with the score at one-all and a fine dong struggle each side endeavouring to gain the supremacy. Goldcough standing out very prominent for Belleville, at centre half in the masterful way he broke up the Deloro attacks. Belleville again took up the running with a very lively attack which ended in Knott shooting wide of the mark when in a fine position.

From the goal kick W. Brown made a very clever run on the left wing putting in a hard shot which the Belleville goalkeeper did well in saving, but it was returned by Brooks in scoring the finest goal of the match. Belleville tried their utmost to draw level but the Deloro defence held out till the final whistle.

WESTPORT ASKS FOR CONSTABLE

Brockville, July 26.—Aroused by lawlessness in the neighborhood, the village council of Westport is presenting a petition to the authorities asking that a provincial constable be stationed in that village.

COUNCIL

'It's alright but the point is we've got to act right away.'

Ald. French speaking on the original recommendation said: 'If the whole thing places us in a bad light, we've already passed the resolution and now we want to rescind it.'

Ald Cherry: 'I dont think it's fair to the rest of the Council to leave it with a special committee.'

Ald. Wood: (Interjected with, 'Well why not leave it in abeyance.'

The Council were not in favor of this step. Ald. Collins speaking in support of his motion declared the Council had appointed a special committee on other matters and said he could not understand why they should balk on this one.

Ald. Wotten then introduced his motion which, "Asked McColl Brothers to apply for a new permit."

Engineer Campbell: "They would have to in any case the original permit was cancelled by the Council.'

At this period the voices of the Aldermen could not be heard above the din in the four corners of the Committee Room and Aldermen Wotten stated that he was willing to face the matter now while he intimated that other members of the Council were "passing the buck."

Ald. French: 'Before they start to build the station must they secure another permit?'

Engineer Campbell: 'I would say so if the original one was cancelled by the Council.'

Ald. Hyde said he did not think the Council had the power to cancel it after having been issued.

Discussion became animated with three resolutions having already been presented for the approval of the Council while none of them were accepted. Mr. Walter Patterson, contractor for the station and representative for McColl Brothers in the matter of the station informed the Council that the Company would build the place only after the plans had received the ratification of the City Engineer.

Ald. French: 'I don't think we should ask them to take out a permit when they already have one. All three were voted on but as they were not satisfactory another was drawn up, instructing the Solicitor to defer any steps he might be contemplating.

The Council, sanctioned the purchasing of three lots between Brock and West Bridge Streets where a sanitary sewer will be laid.

"You don't you forget to bring me Dr. Chase's Nerve Food"

WOMAN'S NERVES

This is a strenuous age. Household responsibilities, the care of children, social engagements, all have their claims on your nervous energies and there comes a time when you cannot get rested.

Sleep fails you and you get up in the morning feeling tired, worn, out and depressed. You probably have headaches and long to go far away somewhere and have a long rest.

Since that is not practical it is necessary to call in the assistance of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Women know that this is the one medicine on which they can absolutely depend under these circumstances.

Make this test: Use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food after every meal and at bedtime for two weeks and see how much better you will feel.

ESSEX—mirrors public choice

The most important thing ever said of Essex is said by buyers in the largest 6-cylinder sales, and the most overwhelming competitive preference of automobile history.

It is a preference you will endorse and share the moment you see and ride in the Essex.

The New Essex Super-Six is a delight to the eye—in lines, in fine exterior appointment and in careful finish that invites and repays the closest examination.

Within, this satisfaction to eye and sense is apparent in every detail. The quality of the high-backed, form-fitting seats—richly upholstered—impresses you immediately. At the slender, graceful wheel, you look out over the shining beauty of cowl, hood, saddle-type lamps, heavy, arching fenders, to the winged radiator figure that expresses the spirit and fleetness under your hand.

And then you have the famous Essex chassis, powered with the Super-Six high-compression, high efficiency motor that turns waste heat to power, giving brilliant sustained performance never before known in this field.

IMPROVE MEMORY BY LINKING FACTS

Based Psychologist.

How quickly we become alarmed when we think our memory is failing! It is perfectly true that as we grow old our memory gradually impairs.

This clouding of the mind is a nice easy way that nature adopts in taking us off. We also see it in certain other organic deteriorations—illnesses, in other words.

However, in poor memory, the first thing to think of is that the trouble is merely a malfunctioning of the brain cells—transitory and curable.

What constitutes memory anyway? Memory depends upon three cardinal principle. First, the Recency of the Stimulus—how long ago it was that the thing occurred that you are supposed to remember.

Secondly, the Intensity of the Stimulus—how strong and pronounced was the stimulus.

Thirdly, the Repetition of the Stimulus—how often you heard or saw it repeated.

You find, in other words, to remember something that occurred an hour ago more readily than if it happened yesterday.

If, sometimes striking facts place your memory of it will be clearer and more lasting than if it was only a usual or trivial occurrence. The stronger the stimulus the more sharply and deeply is it etched on the mind.

Have a particular experience once or twice and you won't remember it as well as if you had had that same experience a dozen times.

Take this to the catechist that school children employ in memorizing poetry. They keep saying it over and over again.

Bear those three principles in mind and you need not worry about failing memory.

If you consider a thing important to remember pay attention and concentrate when it occurs and let your mind soak it up thoroughly.

Next, try to recall it soon after. (Recency.)

Think about it hard. (Intensity.)

Repeat it to yourself many times. (Repetition.)

Poor memory as well as good memory are largely matters of habit anyway.

We are careless in our thinking.

Fatigue also is a factor.

We try to remember too many things of little or no importance and hence wear out the brain cells for remembering more important facts.

Trying to remember isolated facts and not associating them—linking them up with something else—also makes for poor memory.

It is really easy to improve your memory.

Observe your memory reactions and you will soon discover where the trouble lies.

If you find that you do not associate your memory images sufficiently, why make it a point to practice memory associations as much as possible. Soon your memory will improve.

Whatever the memory fault may be, stress its particular correction.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

When boiling eggs, wet the shells well with cold water before putting them in boiling water and they will not crack.

If one is fortunate enough to have a small meat thermometer this should be inserted to reach the centre of the top thick muscle of a ham which is then cooked until the internal temperature reaches 160 degrees. This guarantees a product done just to the right degree for slicing an dealing.

Hair Removed in 3 Minutes

Seems almost too good to be true. But it is true. Science has at last produced a fragrant, snow-white cream called DEL-A-TONE. It's just as easy to use as cold cream.

No fuss or muss. Just think—you apply Del-a-tone Cream, and in 3 minutes wash the hair away. Leaves skin smooth and white. Retards growth. Far better than shaving or pulling hair out by tweezers. Thousands of lovely women would use no other.

Chapter 2.

"ALONE AT LAST".

The apartment was in the Park Avenue district. The Glovers had furnished it, as a gift to the newlyweds, with more generosity than taste. The first time Hal had seen it he had made a mental note of certain objects that his fastidious fancies dubbed "atrocities." He would eliminate them once he and Marguerite had taken possession.

A surprised superintendent ushered the two into the elaborate suite when they arrived shortly after dinner on the evening of their wedding-day. An army of bell-boys followed with luggage.

"I had understood that you and Mrs. Reynolds were not expected for at least a month," said the superintendent, as he turned off the keys.

"We changed our plans," was Hal's curt response. He turned to Marguerite: "Shall we dine somewhere up from the restaurant, or do you prefer to go down?"

"Let's dine here, if you please," she murmured. "I'm really very tired."

He gave the order. She went into the bedroom that a noted decorator had prepared for her use; he had been fired against the Glover taste here. It was a charming room, done in pale blue and silver.

Marguerite stared at her reflection in the great mirror draped in grass-cloth disks of silver and blue bronze. She was very pale. There were marks of fatigue under her wide, childish eyes. She took off her hat and shook out her bright brown hair with an abstracted gesture. Then she sank into a chair and looked steadily at nothing for a long time, until her lips began to quiver and the tears trickled down her cheeks.

Never in all of her life had she felt quite so lonely.

The sound of water cascading into the Roman tub of the bath reserved for her husband's use roused her with a start. She looked up to find him standing in the doorway.

The sight of her, so lonely, so pathetic, touched him.

"I'm sorry there are no servants tonight. I'll send for the staff we've engaged, first thing in the morning. Can you get along for this one evening without a maid, or shall I telephone the superintendent for one?"

"Oh, no. It's not at all necessary. You know, I've not always been accustomed to servants. We were very poor when I was a little girl."

"You're hardly more than that now," he laughed, as he turned away. "I'm afraid you'll have to hurry, if you want to be ready for dinner when the restaurant sends it up."

Mechanically, she bathed and changed to a fresh gown. Then she went into the drawing-room, where Hal was pouring something from a flask into a tall glass filled with ice.

"Have some of this?"

She shook her head. "I don't drink. I should be afraid."

He shrugged. "Of course, we all take chances, but I fancy this stuff I have is safe enough."

"I mean I should be afraid that it would fly to my head."

"Most of the ladies of my acquaintance are looking for just that," he laughed.

She stared at him silently, and he felt constrained to add: "You know, I have a wide acquaintance in New York. I have my purely social connections—and, at the same time, I'm fond of Broadway and a rather gayer existence."

She said slowly: "You will miss all that very much, I'm afraid."

He looked at her, his handsome eyes narrowed. Well" of course, the fact that we are married doesn't mean that we're putting ourselves in prison."

"Of course not," she agreed hastily, but she looked a trifle startled. "Only I'm afraid I shall be terribly out of place among your gay friends. I've had such a quiet life. I love my garden and my dogs and I like to ride horseback and swim a little. I don't know very much about cabarets and night clubs."

"You'll soon learn," he promised her. "Among my friends I'm considered one of the town's best teachers in that line . . . By the way, I've a good friend, a very smart young woman, who will help you with anything you want to know. Her name is Lydia Converse. She belongs to the famous Converse family, but society bores her stiff, and she's trying to make the stage, "to express herself," she calls it. She has the temperament our gods, but she's a good sport."

"Oh! I hope she'll like me. I think I shall need friends here. It will be so lonely without them."

"She won't like you! I can assure you of that," he chided. "Lydia's not keen about other women, especially women younger than herself. But she'll be nice to you and take you about with her."

Marguerite looked slightly bewildered: "But why—if she won't like me."

He finished his glass by way of answer.

"Come. I believe that dinner is served at last. I'm famished, aren't-cha? Still, in all fairness, I must warn you!"

She said that she was, but, when food was placed before her, she found that she could not eat. She merely played with one course after another. Hal, on the other hand, ate with relish. He raised her on her lack of appetite. When the waiter was momentarily absent, he said:

"They'll be saying down-stairs that you're so much in love that you can't eat."

She tried to smile back at him, but her lips were quivering.

In the drawing-room again, Hal lit a cigarette and offered it to her. She shook her head: "I've never learned to smoke."

"Of course. I quite forget. . . We don't know each other very well, do we? Let me see, we've only met about twice."

"Of course. I quite forget. . . We don't know each other very well, do we? Let me see, we've only met about twice."

SINCLAIR'S

WHAT'S NEW

(From a Woman's Standpoint)

Fans are having a great vogue this season.

Satin shoes are smart for daytime wear this summer, says Paris.

If you wear colored shoes your hat and bag must be the same shade.

Long earrings look their best with the centre parting and severe style of hair dressing.

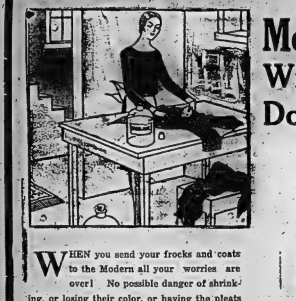

London reports a new vogue for lace and tulle scarfs, embroidered shawls for evening this season.

The Duke and Duchess of York are to be guests of the Earl and Countess of Elgin at their Scottish home, Broomhall, in Fife, next month.

Too many a mistress finds that if she trains a servant in the way she should go she often will.

Most of the transparent coats worn over summer dresses are weighted at the hem and some are given bands of light fur.

A fashion correspondent writes that: "The plump homely type of woman who would go to fancy dress balls dressed as Carmen will find expression in the latest Paris designed bathing suit that merely suggests a fringed Spanish shawl draped about the figure."

Rubber stamps, pads, inks and racks, all kinds, at The James Texts. Special stamps made to order. The store with the green front is now a great favourite. Try it and be convinced.

There are scenes in a tent show touring the small towns, in a theatrical boarding house on New York's East Side, and at an elaborate masquerade. Each of these sequences provides its share of hearty laughs.

REGENT THEATRE

Figures Don't Lie—especially when they belong to such beauties as Esther Ralston and her pals! Here's a film that's going to make every tired business man sit up and take notice! And that goes for the wife and kiddies too! Monday at the Regent.

Sidney D'Albrook is clever as the leading man of the traveling show and Lionel Belmore, as the actor of the old school who knows his 'Hamlet' and demonstrates his ability away from the theatre, keeps the audience in an uproar.

BELLE THEATRE

There are plenty of laughs in store for those who attend the Belle Theatre on Monday during the showing of Columbia's "The Matinee Idol." It is one of the funniest comedies to be shown there in some months.

The picture relates the adventures of a company of "ham" actors which attempts to show Broadway a few things about acting and meets with defeat. Between hilarious scenes there are touches of pathos and heartaches as the brave little heroine fights against odds to convince, the class New Yorkers that she and her company are producing a dramatic masterpiece. When she "bawls" out the first night audience, there is an uproar of laughter.

An appealing love interest is interwoven in the plot between ginger portrayed by Bessie Love, and the black-face comedian, a role summed by Johnnie Walker. The action between the two provide much humor. Ginger, unaware of the comedian's identity, falls in love with his act and struggles with him trying to polish off the rough edges of his crude portrayal in her rather terrible Civil War sketch drama. His chief line is "I love you" and this he says over and over again with different gestures and inflections.

INTERESTING QUOTATIONS

I am his Highness' dog at Kew;
Pray tell me, sir, whose dog are you?
Pope.

Poems, valour! have buried his your fon.
(Inscribed on a stone to the memory of a hound.)

The poor dog, in life the firmest friend,
The first to welcome, foremost to defend;
Whose honest heart is still his master's own;
Who labours, fights, lives, breathes, for him alone.

—Lord Byron.

The little dogs and all,
Trey, Blanch, and Sweetheart, see, they bark at me.

Mastiff, greyhound, mongrel grim,
Mound or spaniel, brach or him,
Or bobtail tyke, or trundle tail;

—William Shakespeare.

A SAGACIOUS DOG

Ah! you should keep dogs—fine and manly-designed creatures—dog of my own sense—Prince—sporting himself out shooting one day—entering inclosures—whisked—dog stopped — whistled again—Prince—no go: still—called him—Prince. Pooh! wouldn't move—dog trudging—staring at a board—looked up, saw an inscription—"Gamekeeper has orders to shoot all dogs found in this inclosure"—wouldn't pass it—wonderful dog—valuable dog that—very valuable dog that—very dog orders, to shoot all dogs found in

Charles Dickens.

Poems Old And New

NOT IN TENDER WITH THE BEASTS

He is tender with the beasts,
Just as tender as can be;
But his eyes have never glanced
Once at me.

Little things like calves and lambs bring the lovelight to his eye;
But he never seems to know
I am by.

Though the other lads all swear
I am handsomer than all,
I would give my soul to be Weak and small.

—Wilfrid Gibson.

FRIENDS

I have a friend whose stillness rests me so,
His heart must know
How closely we together, silent, grow.

I have a friend whose brilliancy inspired,
And rarely tires
When we two warm our spirits at his fires.

I have a friend whose charity delights
In others' rights,
We two sit talking often late of nights.

I have a friend whose discipline I need.
We have agreed
That neither from this schooling shall be freed.

I have a friend whose calmness some mistake,
But we two make
Of suffering more than just its grief and ache.

I have so many friends—each one fulfils
Just what God wills,
Or He through them fills best in me His fulfils.

And so, while fortunate am I to find friends great and kind;
Each one himself, yet part of God's great mind.

—Vivna Johnson.

Let Me Tell You

When Buying Meat

All meat should be firm when touched, and if pressed with the finger should leave no mark. Beef an chicken must be allowed to hang as long as possible, but not allowed to become high. The meat of young animals, such as lamb and calves, should not be hung long, as it quickly becomes tainted.

Care of the Hands

Hands that are inclined to be rough should be rubbed with a mixture of glycerine and lemon juice every night before going to bed. Should, however, glycerine not agree with the skin, as is sometimes the case, take a small pot of good cold cream, turn it into a saucer, and stir into it a teaspoonful of strained lemon juice and the same quantity of powdered alum. Mix these well up the cream and return to the jar pot. Rub this into the hands at night in place of the glycerine and lemon juice. It will have a very whitening and softening effect.

To Bake Potatoes

When you bake potatoes, pour boiling water over them, and cover closely for fifteen or twenty minutes. Drain off the water and dry them directly into the oven where the heat will dry them. This is better than the often recommended plan of boiling them for twenty minutes before putting them in the oven because the actual boiling process cooks the outside of the potato, and when the baking is started the oven furnishes the mellowing process and if care is not taken each potato will have a "core" in it, a hard core. Merely letting the potatoes stand in hot water heats them through, which is really the point to be achieved.

DON'T suffer headaches, or any of those pains a tablet of Aspirin can end in a hurry! Physicians prescribe it, and approve its use, for it does not affect the heart. Every druggist has it, but don't fail to ask for the "Bayer Cross." And don't take any but the tablets that are stamped with the "Bayer Cross."

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer, to assist the public against imitations, the Bayer Cross will continue to appear on all genuine Bayer tablets.

JUST IN PASSING

"Faith came singing into my room,
And other guests took flight;
Fear, and Anxiety, Grief, and Gloom
Sped out into the night.
I wondered that such peace could be,
But Faith said gently; 'Don't you see
They really cannot live with me?' "

DON'TS

R. A. Stapelis, President of the Ontario Motor League, makes the following suggestions to motorists:—

1. Don't assume that kiddies will stay on the sidewalk. They must be your special care first, last and always.

2. Don't ignore the pedestrian's rights. He also pays taxes.

3. Don't sit like a dump on a log. Give signals and let the other fellow know what you are going to do.

4. Don't be a street hog. Drive and Keep your eye on the road.

5. Don't dawdle on the way. This has nothing whatever to do with the Get There Ages.

6. Don't exceed the speed limit. Use ordinary every-day horse sense.

7. Don't cut in—it may be smart, but it is not safe.

8. Don't demand your right-of-way Allow a margin of courtesy for safety's sake.

9. Don't use glare lights. It is against the law, vulgar and dangerous.

10. Don't neglect your Brakes. You may save a life by stopping quickly.

11. Don't take a chance—at railway crossings. It might be your last.

12. Don't drive with a drunken man at the wheel. Solomon saw it coming, and said: "The companion of fools will be destroyed."

JONAH AND THE WHALE AGAIN!

An interesting account of a recent journey round Mount in an armoured car is given by a British officer. The main street of Mount is Minevel Street, a roadway of excellent proportions and straightness, but full of holes and cobbles, which leads down to a bridge across the Tigris, and at the other ruins of Nineveh, at Nebi Yunis. It is at Nebi Yunis where one sees the tomb of Jonah. There is, of course, a certain amount of controversy concerning the identity of the said Jonah. One sect declares that it has nothing whatever to do with the biblical Jonah, but the keepers of the tomb have no doubt that it was the individual of whale fame, and for a little "baksheesh" will exhibit a piece of whalebone, which he brought back with him. Yet another more prosaic school aver that Jonah had a warm time for his fair sex, and on arrival at Nineveh so far forgot himself as to wander into Nebi Yunis Street—in ancient Nineveh, disorderly houses were designated by the insignia of a whale, and that quarter of the city was known as Whale Street—where he stayed for three days, eventually returning to a more respectable mode of life and his mission to the wicked in Nineveh.

A baby mule has four-wheel brakes.

Camels have balloon-lined feet.

THE ORGAN RECITAL

Some men employ their health, so ugly trick,
In making known how oft they have been sick.
Some put up, in recitals of distress,
A doctor's trouble, but punish us less;
Relate how many weeks long they were bed,
How an emetic or tonic did speed;
Nothing is slightly touched; much less forgot,
Nor pain and eyes, seem present on the spot.
Nor the distemper, spite of dreadful or pill,
Victorious stamped, and now the doctor's skill;
And now—alas for unforseen mishaps!
They put on a damp night—to end relapse;
They brought they must have died "they were so bad—
Their pertish hearers almost wish they had

"I don't have to guess," he replied brightly, "they took like plenty at once."

"MY WHIPPET FOUR MADE 40 MILES IN 40 MINUTES"

says an Owner (name on request)

"On a measured stretch," said this owner, "my Whippet Four maintained a speed of 60 miles an hour for 40 minutes. In other words, it made 40 miles in 40 minutes flat over a recognized distance, said against the stop watch.

"I have no doubt that, given the proper roads and the desire to keep it up, I could have maintained this speed indefinitely, as the engine showed no sign of overheating after this spurt. At this speed it seemed to take on a new lease of life and just settled down to a steady smooth pace. As for holding the road, the low-swung body simply hugged the earth's surface."

Enthusiastic owners are constantly furnishing us with testimonials regarding some remarkable achievement of their car.

But, considering the quality features of the Whippet, its remarkably powerful engine—low gravity centre—proven economy—light-wheel brakes—and its ability to withstand terrific punishment, such feats of performance are to be expected rather than wondered at.

See the new Whippet Four and the new Whippet Six you will find a combination of quality features that will really convince you of their incomparable value. Inspect them today—arrange for a demonstration.

You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its quantity in acid. The results are immediate, will no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go back—use—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggists.

U. S. PICTURES IN AUSTRALIA

Urge Use of British Productions In The Commonwealth

London, July.—(C.P.)—The Times' correspondent at Canberra, Australia, says: Probably no more searching investigation has ever been made in the Commonwealth than that recently conducted by a Royal Commission appointed by the Federal Ministry to inquire into conditions in the moving picture industry of Australia. The report of this Commission, presented in the House of Representatives, recently, shows that no phase of the film industry as it concerns Australia has been left unfounded, and in the opinion of the Ministry the decisions of the Commission were so commendable that, subject to constitutional limitations and disagreement with the State Governments, they have been adopted, at least in principle in their entirety.

During the century much mention was made of the "stranglehold" which the United States film industry has acquired on the Commonwealth's market. The allegations, the Commission finds, were not substantiated, but the latest available figures show that the imports of American film that year amounted to 34,000,000 feet, while exports from Australia amounted to only 64,700 feet. The quantity of film imported from Britain was 1,904,190 feet. The Commissioners expresses regret that the exhibition of British films in Australia has not met with general success.

Recently-screened British films, however, have shown a decided improvement in quality and technique; such improvement, applied fully, will overcome any antagonism on the part of Australian audiences.

Statements that British films are boycotted by the trade have been definitely refuted and are without any justification, says the report.

Of the pictures screened in Australia per cent. came from foreign countries, and at least 90 per cent. from America. These films are of a high standard, and the Australian public will continue to demand the same high standard. For that reason and because of the limited offering of Australian films, an Australian quota could not be recommended. The Commission considers that an Empire quota would most readily meet the demand. There would have to be a standard of quality.

The Commission recommends that, in the first place, the Commonwealth authorities should endeavor to make reciprocal tariff quota arrangements with other parts of the Empire. It suggests a quota of 5 per cent. of Empire films for the first year, ten per cent. for the second year, and 15 per cent. for the third. As a further incentive to create a strong Empire industry, the Commission recommends that the tariff on foreign films should be increased from 1 1-2d a foot to 6d, the British Tariff remaining unchanged as "free." An amendment to the tariff schedule in this sense has been submitted to the House of Representatives.

Remarkable anomalies in the existing censorship provisions were discovered. The creation of a board of three censors, including a woman, is suggested and has been adopted by the Ministry. The headquarters will be in Sydney. An Appeals Board to deal with appeals from decisions by the censors will be established.

Completely Run Down

Symptoms That the Blood Is Thin Should Not Be Neglected

Weak, run-down, lacking strength, energy and ambition, nervous, sleepless, poor appetite, digestion disturbed —these are the symptoms named by a great majority of people who have been benefited by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These tonic pills correct the condition described and if you have any of these symptoms you should give these pills a trial. Their great value in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mrs. James A. Tibbetts, Hillier, R.R. 1, who says: "I was completely run down in health. My blood was thin and watery, and my nerves so that I did not sleep well at night. My appetite was poor and the least exertion left me weak and trembling. When I went out I would have a severe headache, and would have to lie down as soon as I got in the house. A friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I soon found they were helping me and by the time I had taken the sixth box I felt like a new woman, and have enjoyed good health ever since. For this reason I say, highly recommend the pills to anyone run-down or troubled with their nerves."

Not only do Dr. Williams' Pink Pills help the nerves. Their main function is to enrich and increase the blood, and as the blood supplies the whole body, new life is given to the entire system. Better digestion, nerves, improved appetite, increased vigor—all these can be yours by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Begin them today. SWEDEN'S DEAD PROVIDED FOR

Ancients Had Horses, Dogs And Food In Their Graves

Stockholm. (C.P.)—How lovingly and elaborately the Swedes equipped their deceased for the last journey about 1,500 years ago is strikingly illustrated by unique discoveries just made at Tuna in the province of Upland. Dr. T. J. Arne a government archaeologist, there excavated a grave field which yielded remarkable finds. Two so-called King-graves, were found, both well preserved. In one fifteen was a skeleton of a man and the remains of the boat in which he had been buried and which was to serve for his last long voyage.

It was like the other graves found, placed East and West and the traveller had been well provided for by the loving hands of his relatives. In the stern of the ship his horse and dog had been placed and as food for the journey he had, amongst other things, been given a kidney shell. A round bronze buckle, evidently serving to fasten his mantle around his shoulders was also found, and a bunch of iron arrowheads showed that he had been well armed. In order to keep his arms sharp he had a small whetting stone, fastened in a ring, and his steel had been fully harnessed. Further a fine handle cut into the shape of a bear's head, and a number of well preserved "mined" earthenware pots were found in the grave.

The next grave also contained a sim lar boat, in which a man and his wife had started on their last journey together, each of them having a horse and a dog with them. The man had his sword and shield, and the wife had iron cooking pots and knives to enable her to prepare their food and also a number of small female appurtenances, including two combs of bone.

The most interesting find of all how ever, was a grave in which a man, who seems to have been a rich and important person, had been buried under a stone mound but without a boat. This grave is about 1400 years old and perfectly unlooched. By the side of the deceased lay a mighty iron sword a sword dagger, a knife, a flint and tinder for making fire, a specially interesting sword-belt of bronze and gold, richly ornamented, and a long and beautiful gilt silver buckle, inlaid with garnet stones set in gold, all in a decorative design of unique character and probably of Southern Germanic origin. The man probably barried a leather hood, the silver ornaments of which were found.

These finds are said by archaeologists to be the most valuable ones made in Sweden for a long time and will throw light on the burial rites and on the culture in general of the period from which they date, which is estimated to be about 500 or 600 A.D.

How Much Water Should Baby Get?

A Famous Authority's Rule

By Ruth Bethune

Giving baby sufficient water often relieves fretfulness. Then make up any deficiency with water.

The rule is two ounces of fluid per pound of baby weight. The amount of fluid absorbed by a breast-fed baby is best determined by weighing him before and after feeding for the whole day; and it is easily calculated for the bottle-fed.

Baby specialists agree nowadays, that during the first six months, babies must have three ounces of fluid per pound of body weight daily. An eight pound baby, for instance, needs twenty-four ounces of fluid. Later on the baby's appetite for water will lessen, and restless spells. If it doesn't, give him a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria. For these and other ills of babies, and children such as colic, flatulence, diarrhoea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, sour stomach, loss of sleep, underweight, etc., leading physicians say there's nothing so effective. It is purely vegetable—the active ingredients of which millions of mothers have depended on it in over thirty years of ever increasing use. It regulates baby's bowels, makes him sleep and eat right, enables him to get full nourishment from his food, so he increases in weight as he should. With each package you get a book on Mother-hood worth its weight in gold.

Just a word of caution. Look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the package so you'll be sure to get the genuine. Thirty-five cent bottles contain thirty-five doses.

NEWSBOYS NOT ALL DESTITUTE ORPHANS

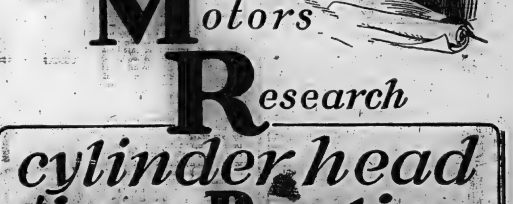

Washington, D. C., (C.P.)—Contrary to popular belief, the average newsboy is not an orphan cast upon a cruel world, but has a widowed mother to support.

Information collected from eight cities over the country by the department of labor shows that economic necessity was not the chief reason for selling papers by the majority of the boys. The data did show, however, that even child workers, from nine-tenth to one-fifth being under ten years of age, The great majority of children were in normal homes, with both parents living and the laborers bringing home most of the "shekels."

The report blamed the lack of adequate playgrounds and recreational activities as responsible for the presence of many children in street work.

American Cars Win Why

WORLD MARKETS YIELD TO THEIR LEADERSHIP

Unloading crated American cars on the waterfront at Rotterdam, Holland, 1928 is by far the greatest motor export year Ever known.

"Overseas buyers are finding American motor cars—at even double American prices—the best values in the world," says J. S. Draper, general export manager of the Hudson Motor Car Company.

"Despite high ocean freights, adverse propaganda and prejudices and even Seattle tariff as well as many points, American built cars are increasingly dominating the world markets through sheer unmatched value.

"So rapidly is the foreign field developing that Hudson-Essex will exceed last year's greater number of cars export this year than the company built all to 1919. Although the expenses of freight, crating, taxes and customs charges often exceed the cost of the finished car in Detroit, the American-built car is still a better buy for quality and price than the motor products of any other country.

"If Hudson figures are typical, ten people will buy motor cars today in overseas lands to one who could afford this luxury ten years ago, largely because of the American efficiency in large scale production.

"This export market helps us American buyer, for the added volume makes possible lower prices to him. Considered what quality features a car like Essex has today. A balanced Super-flex chassis. Balloon tires large enough for a car 800 pounds heavier. A silent rugged steel body. Four wheel self-energizing brakes. Complete car equipment. Colorful lacquer finishes, etc. Today in the British Isles Essex leads all American cars in sales. Hud son-Essex were among the earliest of American cars exported and today command a position of leadership."

CHEVROLET CAR IS CHOSEN ONE

Will Be Used In Hard Trip From Capetown To Cairo

Brief messages from Capetown which a few days ago chronicled the start of a party of motorists headed for London, England, made us the first chapter in a story of twentieth century adventuring that is likely to provide thrills and drama galore before it is concluded.

It is the story of a tour that will wind through jungle trails, over desert wastes, across rivers and unbridged gaps, by make-shift pontoons, through mud and swamps and infested marshes. Four men are attempting to journey, a trail-blazing route 10,000 miles long, from Capetown, in the Southernmost part of Africa, to Cairo and thence on a swing through Europe to London.

A good share of the trip is over uncharted lands never before traversed by a stock car, and jungle life where a tropical sun burns down by day, and where the wilderness closed with the threat of savage life at night. The first leg of the run—Capetown to Cairo is scheduled for completion in 60 days.

The transportation selected by the adventurers consists of a stock Chevrolet sedan, trailed by a Chevrolet truck on which is carried equipment necessary to how a path through wilderness jungles. Included in the equipment is a complete wireless outfit with which the men will maintain contact with the outside world, and medical chest containing anti-venom serum and surgical and first aid supplies. Each member has been inoculated against jungle fever.

Heading the party is the famous African adventurer, Captain Lacey. Others are a wireless operator, a newspaper man, and a motion picture photographer. Selection of a Chevrolet to carry the party was logical, following a demonstration of the rugged qualities of the car conducted recently by Lacey, in which he bettered by hours the time of the express mail truth over the 2,000 mile route between Elisabethville and Johannesburg, in South Africa.

The Cape-to-London run, sponsored by General Motors, South Africa, was originally to end at Cairo, but interest aroused by the project sponsor ship that the route be extended to include visits to General Motors plants at Alexandria, Berlin, Antwerp, London and Stockholm.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

In Summer When Childhood Ailments Are Most Dangerous

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets relieve these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child they will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed to be absolutely harmless even to the new-born babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the little stomach sweet and pure. CHRYSLERS GET HARD ROAD TEST

One of Stiffest Shock Tests Ever Given to These Cars

What is described as the most terrific punishment ever meted out to an automobile is the "road shock test" given to Chrysler cars on a specially constructed testing machine developed by Chrysler engineers.

These engineers explain the plan was devised because they had seen with that outdoor open road tests given to determine the ability of chassis, motor supports, body and other parts of the car to hang together, were entirely inadequate to meet Chrysler standards. It was because of the limitations of outdoor testing that the new machine was developed, and it is unique in its applications to this type of work.

With this new device two elementary features are possible of attainment, the engineers explain.

First, the subjecting of the car to an enormous mileage of severe road shocks within the space of a few hours, a feature held to be impossible in road way testing because no driver could physically stand the continuously severe abuse and still record the vital performance details while the car is in operation.

Second, and regarded as more important, is the fact that Chrysler can exaggerate the bumps of an ordinary road from an equality to more times their normal severity. It is impossible for an driver to negotiate of a car being driven a distance equivalent to the normal season's mileage over roads 40 times as rough as those he will travel, and all within the space of a comparatively few hours. So this is what the Chrysler road shock test was designed to do in order to overcome the physical handicaps of highway testing, since the latter is inflexible and calls for a long-drawn-out period of time for completion, is once a test.

In this test the car is drawn onto a machine in which are mounted eight specially constructed rollers in pairs The distance between the corresponding pairs of rollers on each side is adjusted so that each of the front and rear wheels of the car rests on two rollers.

The power required to drive the testing machine is furnished by the car itself through the rear wheels. As the rear wheels rotate between two pairs of rollers, specially constructed gear connections operate the forced rollers Through this means the front and rear of the car are agitated simply as though they were operating on the road and at a speed equivalent to that of the rear wheels, including highway driving.

Mounted on all rollers are irregularly spaced, raised metal cleats which severe by bump and toss about the entire car, exaggerating the effect of driving over the roughest of roads. With this machine the intensity and frequency of this terrific pounding and wrenching can be continued indefinitely and can be exactly duplicated after actual car. Automatic controls attached to the throttle make possible an hypersensitivity of acceleration and deceleration that assists in producing a wide range of driving over these bumps. No owner will subject his car to such punishment in hundreds of thousands of miles. So uneven are these cleat and so irregular sited that often that the wheels of the car are tossed about like a child upon a rough sea.

If pipe valves burn the gases of your hand they are hot enough to set fire to the bush. Watch out. It doesn't take much to start a million-dollar fire among trees and bushes. Once burnt over a forest area may be useless for generations.

M. McAuley, 31, killed and several injured when front wheel of car they were in collapsed at Elkton, Md.

British Cabinet May Split on Question of Protection for Industries

STRONG MOVE FOR PROTECTION OF BRITISH INDUSTRIES IN CABINET

Ministry Threatens to Split on Question of Safe Guarding

DIFFERENT OPINIONS

Baldwin Refuses to Move at Request of Influential Supporters

London, July 30.—Newspapers and have the pronounced divergence in politicians are discussing with keen interview of members of the cabinet and other persons prominent in the Conservative party of the policy of protection for British industries. Whether this divergence is heading for a sensational split in the party, as anti-govern ment papers claim, is yet to be shown. There is no question, however, that ministers are making one against the other.

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin recently emphatically turned down the appeal of some influential followers for an extension of "safeguarding" to the iron and steel industry. Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Home Secretary in a speech on Saturday strongly advocated this extension and asserted that the question of general protection must be settled between now and the next election. Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, on the other day made a striking declaration in favor of free trade. Lieut.-Col. L. M. S. Amery, Secretary of State for the Dominions, and other members of the cabinet support Joynson-Hicks.

ROTARIANS HEAR ABOUT LIBRARY

Ontario Has More Libraries Per Capita Than Any Other Country

Due no doubt to holiday time Rotary luncheon had a decidedly poor attendance to-day, only forty-one members out seventy being in attendance. But those who were absent missed a splendid programme. Angus Mowatt, Belleville's new librarian, gave a most interesting talk on the work and aims of the public library in this city and in Ontario. There is now on in Belleville more competent to speak on such matters than Mr. Mowatt and he made a splendid impression on the Rotarians

Mr. Mowatt compared the library work with the Public Institution, both of them doing service work, although in slightly different degrees. He stated that Ontario had more libraries per capital, town city and village than any other country in the world, and also said that Ontario was the only province in Canada that gave the real and effective library service in its fullest meaning to the people.

Speaking of the local library, Mr. Mowatt said that it was a necessary adjunct to the city. He divided the class of books up into three channels fiction, history, technical subjects, etc., and reference work. The speaker stated that the last named department should be used more by Bellevillians as it was invaluable.

Another feature of to-day's luncheon was the splendid singing of Mr. Vanderveet, a noted musician of Toronto, and a guest of Rotary today. Mr. Vanderveet rendered three solo numbers.

A GALLANT ATTEMPT

Only a Fair Swimmer Himself He Had Difficulty Reaching Shore

Quick action on the part of Isaac Cole, 170 Mary Street, Belleville, was the means of saving a life yesterday afternoon, at Napanee when a youngster whose name could not be ascertained fell into the Salmon River near the town park. Mr. Cole who was having his lunch in the tourist park heard the child scream and running to the water's edge noted that the girl had gone down for the second time. He plunged in the water fully clothed and managed to grasp the child's dress and succeeded in bringing her to the surface.

Mr. Cole's action was the subject of favorable comment by many spectators who witnessed the saving and efforts may be made to have it recognized by the Royal Humane Society. The child was taken home by Mrs. Joseph Bowser, 185 Mary Street.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Flowers are words
Which even a babe may understand.
COXE.

SAFETY FIRST

Chief of Police Draper of Toronto brought with him from his army service traditions of direct action. He has applied them to motor control in the streets of Toronto.

For instance he considered it prima facie evidence that when a car bumped into a train, another motor car or an individual the charge of reckless driving did not always hold good. So the driver ever so reckless in individual cases, like average man at the wheel and preparation his own person. Step up his car and encourage the other fellow's life if he can help it.

Chief Draper conceived an underlying reason which he put to the test. Almost a hundred cars were stopped from an indiscriminate mass jumbled along the streets of Toronto. Their brakes were examined. Seventy-four had defective brakes. In some cases the brakes were useless.

Seventy-four drivers were accordingly summoned to show cause why an automobile brake in place is not, when needed, an automobile brake in operation. This has been followed by the installation of brake-testing machine, any as-part of the equipment of the police department. Motor cycle men have been commissioned to apply them. There has come about a pronounced movement in examination of brakes in Toronto. There are, of course, many automobile drivers who are not expert in judging the efficacy of brakes. The educational value of Chief Draper's decision will become widespread.

When one considers the far-reaching effects of a quick stop and of an uncertain one. Chief Draper's plan strikes a note apart of an extension of the good old rule of safety first. It also teaches innumerable people what the college means when translated into action, and their own responsibility regarding that translation.

ROMANS IN BRITAIN

At Silverlod, a tiny village situated well hidden among the hills of Hampshire on the grounds of Mrs. Sholto Douglas, a discovery of Roman pottery has been made by a gardener digging to make a pond. The place is supposed to be the site of a Roman villa. Most of the pottery consists of kitchen utensils. An orange-colored colander with the perforations in the bottom made through the original clay; the top of a vegetable dish, with a hole through the knob-like handle; twelve broken vases; numerous jars and plates, and the remains of a large honey pot were found. Mrs. Douglas is reluctant to permit further research which would destroy her beautiful gat den and tennis court, but antiquarians are urging her. It is generally forgotten that the Romans occupied Britain for 400 years longer than we have been in Canada.

"INVISIBLE" AUDIENCES

The Chicago Tribune believes that the snooped methods of conducting American elections are due for the discard. "The radio, it says, has made huge repetition of proceedings such as those which characterized the national conventions impossible. While it may be very exciting to witness a "demonstration," enabling an interrupted which may last an hour, the silent "over the air" is not thrilling—and the politicians are giving more and more attention to the "invisible audience." "The millions who sit quiet-ly in their homes are, as Impressed by the spectacular action which may get results on the spot. Listeners-in are prone to weigh the quality of the speeches and are free from the emotional appeal which plays so great a part in these political conventions. A candidate is judged by what he actually says, and therefore, with this immense audience to which his address himself, he will have to be much more careful about the quality of his oratory under the new conditions.

One is inclined to agree with the Chicago newspaper. The recent broadcasts, interesting as they were, did not enhance one's impression of the dignity of this solemn process of choosing a presidential candidate. Even the skilled announcers failed to make the proceedings appear to be much better than a childish farce at times.

A little negro school girl down in Florida in answer to one question, "What is anatomy?" wrote the following:

"Anatomy is a human body. It is divided into three parts—the head, the chest, and the stummick. The bald holds the brains, if there is any; the chest holds the liver and the lites, and the stummick holds the entrains and the vowels, which are a, e, i o u and sometimes w and y."

A farmer received a crate containing some fowls. He wrote the sender, informing him that the crate was so badly made that it had come to pieces when he was taking the fowls home with him, and they had all escaped, and after much searching, he had only succeeded in finding eleven of them. In due course he received the following reply:

"You were lucky to find eleven hens, because I sent you only six."

Thus earnestly should we endeavor
To bring some sunshine wherever we go,
Instead of darkening weather.

Here Are a Woman And Newspaper Similar?

That was the question put up to its readers by the Leader, published in Fort Meade, Florida. For the best answer, a subscription for one year was offered. Here are some of the replies:

Because you can believe anything they say.

Because they are thinner now than they used to be.

Because they have boldface types.

Because they are easy to read.

Because they are well worth looking over.

Because back numbers are not in demand.

Because they are not afraid to speak their minds.

Because they have a great deal of influence.

Because if they know anything, they usually tell it.

Because they always have the last word.

Because they carry the news wherever they go.

When Cooking Grisly Meat
The coarser and more grisly meat is, the more slowly should it be cooked. Slow cooking makes the sinewy portion and tough fibres as soft as jelly, in which state they are good to eat and very nourishing.

FISHING BOOMS UP NORTH

Anglers who have penetrated the northern denizens of Hastings County are returning from their haunts with marvelous tales of their catches. PERCY WILLIAMS

Maple Leaf more or less in time with the band. If the songsters lacked some harmony, they lacked nothing in vigor or feeling.

It was noted that after the sensational Canadian victory in the sprint the edge seemed taken off the remainder of the days programme. Most were content to discuss Williams' feat British in the field and on the stands were jubilant as the Empire carrying off the honors of the day. Here and there Scotsmen, Englishmen and Irishmen, in company with Australians and South Africans, could be seen arm in arm looking for Canadians to offer congratulations.

Two false starts preceded the race. The time was slower than in either of the semi-finals.

BELLEVILLE LADS REACH WINNIPEG

Kindly Motorists Helped Them on Their Sixteen Hundred-Mile Trek

Travelling sixteen-hundred miles by foot assisted by motorists who gave them air occasional "lift" two Belleville youths Murray Hall and Bruce Root have reached Winnipeg where they are now established in position. Suddenly seized with the wanderlust July 1st, the pair set out for the mile stone.

"Pete" Bebnap a local tonsorial artist took them to Brighton where they made their start. Proceeding as far as Toronto they remained two days and then continued their journey to Detroit. Through the state of Michigan they trekked until finally the footsore lads reached Chicago where they had another brief respite. Then they set out on the last leg of the journey which took them through Minnesota and North Dakota to the Canadian border. After a twelve days trip they reached Winnipeg the City of their dreams. Two day's later they had applied for positions had been accepted and will likely remain there.

During their adventuresome trip they rode in sixty-seven different motor cars, assisted motorists with car and tire trouble and Murray Hall drove a truck for one man several-fire miles through the State of Michigan. They had originally intended to go to the West for the Harvest but according to the letters received by their parents they will stay in Winnipeg.

BEAUTIES OF NATURE CALL THE CITY FOLK

By DR. LOUIS E. RESCH

Summer time is country time.

When the dog days arrive who does not long to get away from the hot, humid city?

And then we ask ourselves why we do not live in the country always?

There is a love and fascination about green fields, the woods, lakes, birds, sunshine and open spaces that is deeply ingrained in every human being.

Yet young men and women who have been raised in the country still continue to turn longing eyes toward the large cities.

In fact, this impulse to flock to cities has gripped some rural residents so strongly that they have even abandoned their farms, being unwilling to wait long enough to secure a purchaser before taking the final leap.

So we see, also, that the city holds a fascination that is deeply rooted in all human beings.

Yet, the love of nature and the herding instinct are very fundamental urges.

And there was a time when both instincts could be satisfied in one and the same time more easily than today.

Today the cities are getting too big, too rapidly.

And today real country is not as readily obtainable as formerly.

One must travel far to get away from civilization.

Generally speaking, however, the country is the better place to live.

Modern inventions and conveniences have done away with most, if not all, the hardships.

The automobile, gramophone, radio, libraries—all have helped.

Electricity and electric appliances can be used to cut down kitchen and household drudgeries.

The school problem, if one has children, is the most serious one to solve in thinking of country life.

City schools are as a rule superior to country schools, especially in the lower grades.

However, parents can find a solution if they put their wits to work.

Those who can afford it can, of course, employ a teacher privately, but if several families combine, the shared expense is not so heavy.

High schools, even in country districts, are usually well conducted and nowadays draw from wide areas, the children often being gathered up and sent to and fro in motor omnibuses.

We are likely to jump to conclusions as to the best place to live and are likely also to decide on the city.

But if we carefully weigh and consider the advantages and disadvantages of each we are more likely than not to give way to the lure of the country life.

Should you be compelled to live in the city, however, be sure to get into the country as often as you can.

Pass your eyes on the beauties of nature that still remain unmarred by man. Rest your brain in the solitude of all human beings.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

To soften stiff shoes after a rainy day wash them over with warm water then rub castor oil or glycerine well into them.

If new shoes pinch wring out a cloth form very hot water and lay it across the tight spot while shoe is on the foot, changing as soon as it cools. It will make the leather shape to the foot.

To test the age of an egg, place the egg in a deep pan full of cold water. An egg that lies on its side is strictly fresh; if it stands at an angle it is three or four days' old; if it stands on end it is over ten days old; an egg that floats on the top is seldom fit for use.

engagement!"

"And we've never really been all alone before," she added suddenly.

"That's so. . . . Alone at last!" He didn't mean to be cruel, but he found himself stifling a yawn. Marguerite didn't see it. She was staring at the empty hearth, with its elaborate brass fixtures that hid the fact that there was no fireplace behind it. nae was thinking of her garden down on Long Island.

Hal's thoughts were playing truant, too. He was thinking of a fashionable night club that saw him rather too frequently. There would be great lamentation among certain Broadway beauties that night.

He looked at Marguerite.

"If you're weary and wish to retire, please do so without ceremony . . . I may go out for awhile."

She agreed gratefully. He went out and returned at dawn, when she was fast asleep.

CHAPTER 4
Married Strangers

After the first few days of her marriage, when she escaped like a wild bird in a cage, Marguerite took up her new life stoically.

She was versed in housekeeping, thanks to the days before her father had made his fortune in oil, and she directed her staff of servants with the ability of an experienced hotel-master. By the time her parents and Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds discovered that she and Hal were not honeymooning in the Berkshires, as planned, and made haste to descend upon them, the household was running smoothly.

Mrs. Glover was appalled by th change in plans.

"I'm sure Hal did the wrong thing, she told her daughter. "Everybody will talk, because people in our class always have honeymoons."

"I much prefer this," Marguerite answered. "It would have been very stupid, travelling about with some one you hardly knew at all."

"He is your husband," her mother reminded her sharply.

Marguerite acknowledged that with a faint smile.

"You're really very happy with him, aren't you? He's a charming young man."

"I'd didn't marry to be happy, Mother. We married to please Dad and Mr. Reynolds."

Mrs. Glover made an impatient gesture.

"Don't talk like a heroine in a problem play. You and Hal were meant for each other. Nothing could have been more happily arranged, even if you didn't start off with a romance. My child, love will come, and it will endure all the longer, because it will be based on common sense."

"Yes, Mother," agreed Marguerite dutifully. She knew that these phrases were Reynolds's and not her mother's. Mrs. Glover's reading matter was limited.

"The girl asked, after a minute. "How are my dogs? Do you think they miss me?"

Her mother patted the bright head affectionately. "Will you never grow up, Marguerite?"

"I'd like to see them.....Do you think you could send some of the puppies in the car sometime for an after noon?"

"And have the upholstery ruined? Heavens, no! Besides, I've arranged out to us when Hal can come, you."

"Oh, Hal can spare me easily," replied Marguerite, and her voice was no irony in her voice. "May I comfortable."

Mrs. Glover looked distressed.

"I really don't think you should be coming home just now, my dear. Remember, you're supposed to be honeymooning."

Marguerite's sigh was resigned.

"I do miss you and—and everything. . . . Really Hill girl, I believe she's getting sick already!" Her mother laughed softly. "I was, too, when I was a bride But then, we were living in the most awful place, hardly more than a shack, while you," her eyes took in the drawing-room complacently, "you have all the good fortune that it wasn't my lot to have. It makes me very happy to see my baby with all the luxuries that were denied me in my youth."

"I think even a shack would be nice, if you really loved somebody," murmured Marguerite.

"My dear, I've already told you——"

At this juncture, the maid announced Mrs. Reynolds. The grande dame manner of the latter always flustered Mrs. Glover. She was quite red and voluble when the other woman was ushered in.

"Isn't it too sweet, this little love-nest, Mrs. Reynolds? I didn't want to break in on the dear children's solitude, but I felt that I must see my baby, when I learned that she hadn't gone away after all."

Mrs. Reynolds, looking cool and stately in a summer chiffon, seated herself by the open windows and leisurely took off her gloves. .

"I think Hal acted wisely. They can get acquainted more quickly in their own home than travelling around from hotel to hotel. Is he being a good boy —my son?" she asked Marguerite.

"He is very kind and thoughtful. The color crept into Marguerite's cheeks.

"Those are two characteristics I have never attributed to Hal. But it is the fault of my husband and myself—we've been too lax with him. I believe that marriage will do him a world of good."

If Marguerite thought privately that this alliance seemed meant to do good to every one except herself, her training had once showed no sign.

"I'll wait to see Hal, if you don't mind," Mrs. Reynolds said, "when he was arrived. "When are you expecting him home?"

"I——I don't quite know," faltered Marguerite. "He—he didn't say."

Mrs. Reynolds looked at her sharply.

"A word of advice, my dear. You must keep a firm hand on the reins. He's not always tractable."

Marguerite laughed. "You're not suggesting that I turn jockey!"

"There are other means for a woman to hold a man, without using a lock and key. Hal responds best to subtlety. Your intuition will show you the way."

Marguerite was bewildered. Her intuition told her nothing, but she was too shy to ask questions.

That evening after dinner, when they were alone in the drawing-room, she loked at Hal helplessly as he loung ed gracefully in a chair. How to begin to make a success of marriage and establish the companionship that was necessary to the happiness of two people who lived under the same roof.

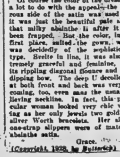

She went to the open window and stared out into the tiny garden across opposite, where the sre-lights made weird patterns with the green leaves. A homesick feeling swept over her. A yearning for the peace of her garden for the eager welcome of the pets who loved her. She essayed to shake off the mood. She would try. She turned away from the window resolutely.

"Hal," she said softly. His head was visible above the back of his chair.

There was no response. She walked around the chair and stood in front of it.

Hal was asleep!

Dear Irene,
The smartest women I know have lately been wearing the loveliest pale shades for evening—champagne, fresh pink, and pale blue and green tones that are almost white. Blondes look especially ravishing in these tints and, as I remember, it was a fascinating tall blonde who wore the exquisite gown of absinthe colored satin that I have sketched above. I saw her at the club, the other evening, and couldn't refrain from admiring her costume, which is one of the loveliest I have seen in many months.

Of course the color of the dress had a lot to do with the appeal—the lustrous side of the satin was used and it was just the beautiful pale shade that milky absinthe is after it has been frapped. But the design, too, is the first place, suited the gown, which was decidedly of the sophisticated type. Svelte in line, it was also extremely graceful and youthful, with its rippling diagonal flounce and high slipping bow. The deep U decolletage at both front and back was very becoming, too, even miss the usual reflecting neckline. In fact, this particular woman looked very chic wearing as her only jewels two gold and silver Wirth bracelets. Her shoes were strap slippers of matching absinthe satin.

Grace.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

My girl friend has been keeping company with a very fine young man for a year. But he has two very disagreeable faults. My friend has written me time and time again for my advice. He comes up to her home when he is drinking and does not come when he is supposed to. You understand he cares for her, I am sure of that.

His boy friend is also my friend and has been for two years and I correspond with him.

FRIEND.

FRIEND: I can't say this. I think very highly of the young man for calling on your friend in an intoxicated condition. To begin with, a man cannot hold much respect for a woman when he dares to enter her presence in this condition. Add to this the fact that he continuously breaks engagements with her, and I think it does for should give a very clear indication of his lack of both love and respect for her. If a man refuses to reform before marriage, there is little chance of changing afterwards, and your friend is only piling up misery for herself in her future if she persists in remaining engaged to a man of this calibre. Hard as it may be, her wisest course would be to break the engagement and try and forget. If he really cares for her, he will prove it by breaking himself of these obnoxious habits and being the man he should be—the man who can hold her respect and love through the years.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

Several years ago a boy and I had a quarrel and since have not spoken to each other. We see each other most everywhere. Do you think it would be correct for me to speak to him again after so long a time?

UNDECIDED.

UNDECIDED: Time heals all wounds Undecided, and it certainly seems you should speak to the young man when you see him.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

We have two girls who love the same young man dearly. We have always been the best of friends until lately when Jim threatened to break up our friendship. This young man seems to show no preference for either of us, for he takes us both out at once or else alternates, one night with one and the next with the other. This seems as though we both would be a jealousy that this young man satisfied, but we are not. We feel should care as much for one as the other.

TIDDLES AND WINKS.

TIDDLES AND WINKS: Don't be silly! The young man evidently is not in love with either of you, and to let such a foolish thing as jealousy break up the friendship between you girls is absurd. Just enjoy the friend ship of this young man and let it go at that. Jealousy is too ugly a thing to find a place in the heart of a young girl, for it spoils her disposition and chances for happiness. .

INITIAL SERMON BY REV. R. HALL AT JOHN STREET

New Minister Gave Inspiring Address to Congregation Yesterday

"Higher Righteousness" was the subject chosen by the Reverend Robert Hall for his first sermon as pastor of John Street United Church, yesterday morning. Mr. Hall has personality and his sermon was forceful and interesting to say the least. John Street Church seems to have acquired a minister who will be one of the finest preachers in the city.

"Jesus said that conventional morality was not good enough for those that sought to enter the Kingdom of Heaven," stated Mr. Hall, in opening his sermon. "We today live on the assumption that the Voice of the Majority is the Voice of God, therefore, in spite of all our pretenses to individuality practised in daily life, we are regulated by the majority vote."

"In politics," Mr. Hall continued, "this holds good, but when we narrow it down to the question of personal conduct then we can say the majority rule is not good enough. The task about the Voice of the people being the voice of God is nonsense. We must live above this common level.

"The moment we choose this higher level, we have to buck against the herd instinct. Nevit is the instinct of self-preservation and she, the herd instinct is the most powerful in life. We run with the pack. If we don't conform our habits we are automatically ostracized by society and our friends. We are by nature social animals and we hunger for companionship. There is nothing cut deeper than the gibes of our own friends.

"How often do we allow ourselves to be grinded down to the common level? So the first essential of Christian living is a high type of courage."

Some Below—Some Above

Crime consists of just those acts that fall below the social level, and so society tends to act upon the individual in two ways. It is constantly lacking those up who fall below the level, and pulling down those who choose to live above that common line. It tries to force those insurgents down to its own level.

"Today society seldom executes or jails its noblest souls, but it has the means of curtailing their activities. The world is not friendly or hospitable to them. It still continues to crucify its prophets and is just beginning to erect a memorial to their memory.

"Canada is simply the rule of the majority. But in the teachings of St. Paul conscience is a different thing. Conscience enlightened and intensified by the spirit of Christ. That is your standard of living."

Shortly, this describes the excellent sermon preached to the church-goers yesterday morning. Throughout, Mr. Hall's fine voice rang with true sincerity and few were not moved. Indeed John Street Church is fortunate in its choice of pastors.

Ere beginning his address yesterday the Reverend Mr. Hall thanked the members of John Street Church for their friendliness and cordiality to Mrs. Hall and himself, and also expressed his esteem of Mr. Wight, of Holloway Street United Church, for his genuine brotherliness.

BE CAREFUL IS A GOOD POLICY

Mother Shipton's Prophecies In 1485 Come Only Too True

In England in 1485 Mother Shipton prophesied among other things that:

"Carriages without horses shall go,
And accidents fill the world with woe
Through hills man shall ride,
And no horse nor ass be at his side.
In the air men shall be seen,
In white, in black, in green.
Gold shall be found 'mid stone
In a land that's now unknown."

This was written seven years before the discovery of America and now 443 years thereafter Mother Shipton's prophecy is fulfilled by millions of carriages being operated without horses. The operation of these automotive vehicles is killing on this continent, that is in Canada and the United States, over twenty-six thousand people a year. The saddest part of this is that about 1-3 of the people killed are children under 16 years of age. In not think of it, you automotive drivers within the sound of my voice—your carelessness, discourteous selfishness on the road, and your failure to exercise common sense—horse sense—when driving, may be responsible for some of these fatalities yet to occur, and to be regretted when it is too late. Most of the 26,000 automotive killings in 1927 were preventable, and of all preventable accidents those at the level railway crossings are probably the most scandalous.

There is your highway sign in big letters, and big figures "Rail Road Crossing 300 Feet Ahead." It should be borne in mind always that "The Roads are on the Train." Two rails ahead do not mean that a train has just passed.

Yes, you have all heard Johnnie's answer to the teacher's request for a sentence using correctly the word "diadem"—Johnnie said, "Drivers crossing railway tracks without looking diadem sight sooner than those who 'Stop, Look and Listen'."

Tuesday of this week took a picture of a modern locomotive at the Bloor Street level crossing near Islington, and through the courtesy of the Canadian Pacific Railway—in connection with this picture we also took a photograph of the Chevrolet Sedan donated by General Motors to the Ontario Safety League for School Safety work. The comparison was a revelation—the locomotive weighed 300,000 lbs., 150 tons, and when travelling 60 miles an hour, could make an emergency stop in not less than 2000 feet, about two furlongs of a mile—4000 ton miles that could not be stopped in less than 2000 feet. The Chevrolet Sedan weighed about a ton—my goodness was, now "Why take a chance."

We do not give enough serious thought to the hazard of the level crossing and its consequences. There is not a week that a locomotive engineer does not have at least one narrow escape from striking a motor car, and not a month passes that he does not have to apply his emergency brakes three or four times to prevent striking some reckless driver.

"The curve, a mile or more in length was quickly passed and then the twin rails stretched straight away again. Slowly the throttle was drawn inward —forty-five, fifty, fifty-five, sixty miles an hour! Once more the illusion of the swirling roadbed as the International Limited hurled itself furiously into the maw of the night.

Far-off to the right in front of us, two spots of light twinkled out of nowhere. The engineer reached forward pulled a lever, and to the roar of the train was added a sudden ominous moaning note. The sound sent a shiver of apprehension through me for I realized that in those two lights the engineer saw the beginnings of horror. Once more his fingers flashed upward and the cab was riven by the wild drawn-out shriek of the whistle, demoning, nerve-shattering in its intensity. Still the two eyes of light came steadily onward.

So rigid was the engineer now that he might have been carved in stone. A second later his arm as if propelled by a light-cowled steel spring, flashed over to the emergency lever. I reeled to the shock that followed and was thrown violently against the side of the cab. It seemed as if the giant of steel and fire was struggling desperately to fling off inasmuch arms that held it in leash.

What I saw as I regained my feet made me clutch the edge of the driver's seat in a very agony of fear. Not twenty feet away a hurtling form leaped into the blinding arc of our head light. For an instant—hours long—the outlines of a small Sedan were etched with dreadful clearness against the white of the roadbed. It seemed as if no force "under Heaven" could keep it from under our wheels. And then—it missed our pilot by inches and in one unforgettable flash I saw a child's wondering eyes and a woman's face—smiling."

It is decidedly encouraging that, in Ontario the first six months of 1928 show a decrease of about 33 1-3 per cent. in level crossing fatalities in comparison with the first six months of 1927 as 20 is to 31. Grade separation, publication in our daily press of level crossing fatalities and co-operation with the work of Accident Prevention seem to be getting results. Of course the remedy for the level crossing menace is grade separation, which on account of the tremendous cost is necessarily a slow process, although a large fund appropriated by the Dominion Government is now available for this splash for a fair sized fish which we have not yet, been able to catch.

At last there is a touch of artificial colour in the picture, a white hen and black and white duck, as must investigate further. And there a little way off are two cows grazing contentedly.

Probably the most satisfactory sight when on vacation is a cow. Life to a cow seems just a long pleasant process of mastication. Food everywhere, lots of water, no long stay in the barn, the milker comes to the field, and rain or shine still the steady grind and munch of the jaws, with an occasional swish of the tail.

While looking at the cows, a noble creature crossed our path. Of average build, black and white in body colour, fair sized red comb and wattles, yellow legs and beak, and the while surmounted by two perfectly sickly feathers. He struts along like a commander, and is followed in a more or less leisurely manner by a small army of black, white, grey, and all combinations of these colours in what are usually known as hens.

With acres and acres of range, the one store boys government graded eggs from a nearby town, the best and lamb come from the same place and acres and acres of pastures will eventually become a useless wilderness of weeds.

The rumble of the tumbling waters is always in our ears, the moonlight on the water, and that peace which we sometimes read about, is perfect.

Life is unhurried, the visitor and the unambitious youth throw horseshoes on the green, occasionally the social energy, bulls you to sleep or both repair of human tissue and energy.

Vacation Time

We are on vacation, but rather than allow the golf clubs to wax a rest we decided to send along to the paper a few impressions of the country.

Officers of the Department of Agriculture do not seem to be particularly active in this part of the country, in fact agriculture is almost a thing of the past. Gardens are cultivated to some extent for a supply of potatoes for the winter, but little else is grown.

Yesterday we enquired where the road led to which constitutes the main street, and the reply was "Nowhere, it is the end of the road." From the end of the road can be seen the mighty Ottawa river. Yes, the place at which we are staying is only a few miles from the capital. The fact that it is "at the end of the road," seems to be a bad thing for the small village.

As we sit on the bank of the river writing, our ears are filled with the rumble and roar of tumbling waters. Clouds of spray fill the air, made beautiful by the brilliant sunshine. A boat or two move lazily through the water and occasionally there is a work in co-operation with railways and municipalities.

With the promise of longer life for motorists, ten commandments are suggested:

1.—Learn to recognize Rail Road Crossings and approach them with extreme care.

2.—Look both ways and listen for trains.

3.—Be doubly alert if there are two or more tracks.

4.—Use good judgment at Rail Road Crossings and live to enjoy the use of your automobile.

5.—Remember the care of your passengers.

6.—Keep your brakes properly lined and in good working order.

8.—When in doubt take the safe course.

Treat your fellow motorists as you would have them treat you. And remember that in the words of Lt. Gen. S. Henry's Highway Safety Committee—

GIRL SMOKES AS FATHER ARGUES

Pa Chases Genius And Girl; Peace Finally Declared

Hyannis, Mass., July 25.—Dr. Martin J. Loeb, 1/2c New York father who pursued Maxwell Bodenheim, novelist, to Provincetown in search of his 15-year-old daughter Gladys, an adjutant literary hobgoe, was being peacefully on his way home today and with him were the author and his erstwhile Greenwich village protege.

They boarded a New Bedford bus here after a night spent at an inn where, under the ills of Martin J. Loeb and family, they recuperated from an exciting week end that furnished sensations aplenty for staid Cape Cod.

Genius Trudges Behind.

As they quit the inn the New York physician who had a short time before denounced the novelist as a "tramp and a bum", strode out in front, followed by Gladys, who only recently attempted suicide because Bodenheim had criticized her work adversely.

The poet, novelist and self-described genius, whose similar criticism of another New York girl's work caused her to drown herself last week, brought Bodenheim temporarily under the eye of the police. Trudged wearily behind sadly in need of a shave, a shine and a press.

Daughter Wants Author.

Dr. Loeb had arrived in Provincetown early shortly after it was learned known his daughter was missing, and while New York authorities were seeking the novelist-genius, his wife with regard to the suicide of Miss Virginia Hall, sent a telegram into the Hudson River after an interview with Bodenheim in which he told her her pooch was "dead."

Shortly after the physician, in company with Chief of Police John Willard, had crossed the novelist from slumber in the 'shack' which he had rented, a messenger boy arrived with a telegram from Gladys announcing her impending arrival from Boston.

Dr. Loeb met Gladys at the train, and succeeded in getting her into a taxicab and half a mile down the road when she announced her intention not to return to New York unless "Max" came with them. Finally they dismounted, and the taxi driver was hauled back by the poet, who packed his 'baggage' in a spare newspaper and soon joined them.

Whole Men Kiss.

For hours afterwards, the headlights of their cab were visible as it zig-zagged all over the highways of the cape, the physician in the front seat, Bodenheim and Gladys in the rear, she smoking placidly while the two men argued vociferously.

Bodenheim is alleged to have countered to the physician's suggestion that he was a 'bum' and should be 'run out of the country' by displaying a sizable roll of bank notes and announcing that he was a 'genius.'

BELLE THEATRE

All the glamor and lure of the roulette tables have been caught in Columbia's sparkling comedy gem of the theatre entitled, "The Maltese Idol." The production was heartily enjoyed by a large audience at the Belle Theatre today where it commenced a three-day run. The adventurous life with its fast action touring the small towns playing the old time, ten-twenty-and-thirty melodramas furnishes the setting for a mirth-provoking entertainment.

Rosie Love and Johnnie Walker head a capable cast which includes Lionel Belmore, Ernest Hilliard, Sidney D'Albrook and David Mir. The production was made under direction of Frank Capra. The story was adapted to the screen by Elmer Harris from "Come Back to Aaron" by Ben Ames Williams and Hagana. The scenario is by Peter Milne.

REGENT THEATRE

Inside secrets of the "punctuality, efficiency and good memory" of many American business men are revealed in the Paramount picture "Figures Don't Lie starring Thomas Ralston, which opens at the Regent Theatre today.

In this instance, Esther Ralston, who takes the part of private secretary to "Steady" Jones, (Fred Kerr) finding' furnishes the three qualities mentioned, she finds a strong attraction for employer's finger an invaluable aid to his 'good memory.'

The plot of the picture centers about the incidents that arise through Esther Ralston's efforts to conduct her employer's business and at the same time keep from being shot by his jealous wife, Blanche Payson.

Richard Arlen takes the leading role as the breezy young sale manager who quite naturally fall in love with the boss's daughter. The rescue from the surf furnishes one of the high spots of the, exciting movies picture directed by Edward Sutherland.

ANCIENTS KNEW YEAST'S VALUE

Ancestral Diet Not So Bad Modern Research Shows

Vienna, July 28—Scientists have repeatedly admitted that our ancestors largely ignorant as they were of dietetic principles, yet managed to keep fairly healthy on the whole.

One of Vienna's great food scientists and an international authority on certain digestive processes, Herr Hofrat Doctor Adolf Cluss, Professor at the Hochschule fur Bodenkultur here, now explains how they did it.

It was not our forefathers' ignorance which kept their digestions in good order, Dr. Cluss points out, but the fact that they intuitively employed what has recently become established as the best dietetic practice.

Whereas our ancestors, in many cases, followed a wise diet by luck, modern dietetics has placed the whole subject on an exact basis, so that now we can not only eat properly if we wish to, but know why it is good for us.

One of the greatest advances made by modern scientific research, Dr. Cluss's view, is the discovery of immense benefit factors in fresh yeast. "Here is scarcely another plant in the world of which good Mother Nature has deposited so many factors important for the nutrition and well-being of the animal organism," he said here today, "as in yeast."

But it is relatively late,' his statement continues, 'that scientists have come to realize that yeast is also an excellent food-stuff and tonic for man.

Readers were invited to fill in upon a coupon the team which they expected would be the winner of the 16 matches set out on the coupon. At the time, said one, and competitor could send in as many coupons as he liked. Where that was done the man who did it was required to send only a copy of a paper for the sole purpose of obtaining the address. Readers were invited to money over to the proprietors of the, paper in consideration solely of the chance of winning a larger sum if he correctly estimated the results of the matches.

That is, in concise opinion, according to common sense and decided case-law, a competition and nothing else.

A detective in evidence said he had calculated the number of coupons that would have to be entered on the basis of his setting.

The Rev. C. C. Lane, M. A., Vicar of St. Anne's thought it was a good, healthy game, and encouraged sport. Although he himself had not entered the competitions he had often helped friends.

The Rev. Ralph Holloway, Vicar of St. Luke's, said he himself had gone in for the football competitions, and on one occasion won a small prize. He had not the slightest misgivings or conscientious scruples about filling in the coupons.

MAPS MUST BE ACCURATE HERE

In Britain's Gold Coast They Have To Be Careful

The lithographing of maps is a craft requiring great exactitude, and lithographers have many troubles. Not the least of these is with paper that shrinks or expands though ever so slightly under varying weather conditions.

In Britain's African colony of Gold Coast all colour printing for maps has to cease during January when the harmattan blows. The dry wind following rapidly on humid conditions causes a change in the paper of as much as a quarter of an inch in a sheet two feet square. This makes it impossible to secure registration of the colours in their precise places on the map. Map-making in Canada is subject to the same difficulties but in a lesser degree.

Paper used in map-making is of a special kind specially made for the purpose. Most of the papers used for general purposes are too porous and too susceptible to damp for high class map work. Even when plaster of Paris and mineral fillers are used on them they are still subject to such great changes in dimensions as to be of little use for lithographing maps. The map board paper used for the maps of the Topographical Survey Department of the Interior is seasoned on racks before being used. On a damp day in summer, heaters are kept going over-night to counteract the humidity. If the maps are to be printed in a number of colours they are left in the heated 'rooms' the press after each colour has been lithographed upon them and returned to the racks to dry so that the next colour will be superposed in its true relationship to the others.

Topographical maps must be accurate. Errors in contours, as well as inch and many factors influence the result, but the stretching or shrinkage of the paper used is one of vital concern and all the patience of the craftsman is required in offsetting its influence.

RUNS FOUL OF BRITISH LAWS

Newspaper Convicted In Court of Running a Betting Business

London, July—(C.P.)—The higher courts here are to decide upon the legality of newspaper football competitions in connection with football matches, an enterprise which five years ago yielded readers of the London Press has adopted extensively.

The proprietors of the Sheffield Telegraph have been convicted for publishing 'a coupon and an advertisement which, it is alleged here today, 'as in years.'

But it is relatively late,' his statement continues, 'that scientists have come to realize that yeast is also an excellent food-stuff and tonic for man.

"We owe to Bolbruck and his collaborators "of the Institute of Fermentation in Berlin, that the importance of yeast as a nutritive factor has been pointed out.

"Since ancient times the dietetic and curative effect of yeast has been known in practice, but man was ignorant of the reasons. . . The content of vitamins in yeast was until recently entirely overlooked. Today we know that yeast is a container of vitamins par excellence. Yeast is a means of strengthening and building up the body which not only helps nutrition but also promotes health and physical and mental well-being.'

KINGSTON HERE ON WEDNESDAY

Ponies In Thick of Fight For Second Place In C. O. B. L.

Belleville Nationals have but one game this week; Kingston play here on Wednesday afternoon. Peterboro took two games from Deloro at Peterboro on Saturday, and advanced to within a game of the Kingston club who are holding down third position. The Nationals cannot be routed from the top but Manager Walter Cook hopes to take all of the remaining games. The Kingston crowd have visions of a place in the play-offs and they will put up a great battle against the Nats. Fans saw a real game last Wednesday when Oshawa were here and they are assured of another such exhibition on Wednesday. Joe Daley has a smart ball team, make no mistake about it and they will give the Intelligencer a run for their money. The local will likely pitch "Hoot" Gibson on Wednesday against the visitors and he will be anxious to stretch his streak to ten victories. The Ponies will likely use "Tammy" Jamieson on the hillock and this boy always gives a good account of himself in any games here. The Nationals are playing great ball and the fans will be well-rated for a trip over to the Exhibition Grounds on Wednesday afternoon.

GIANTS SPLIT DOUBLEHEADER

Benton Credited With 17th Win of Year in Yesterday's Game

New York, July 30.—The Giants and the Cubs split even in yesterday's doubleheader, the Giants winning the first game, 4 to 3, in ten innings, and the Cubs the second 3 to 1.

Guy Bush tested the Giants' mettle in the nightcap, Hack Wilson's 34th homer helped defeat the Giants. Wilson also drove in another Chicago run, and Harinoti sent Grimm home with a sacrifice fly after the first baseman had tripled in the fifth. Cohen's single sent Terry in with the only Giant run in the second.

The first game saw Benton get credit for his 17th victory of the year, and it was the second successive extra-inning game Benton has won this year. Terry's hit sent Reese in with winning run in the tenth.

Bill Zitzmann's hit of the game with the score tied in the ninth inning at Brooklyn, drove Jake May across the plate with the run that gave Cincinnati a six to five decision. Zitzmann drove in three runs and scored two of the remaining three. McWeeny and Lucas, the starting pitchers, were both knocked out of the box. After the Robins had evened the score in the eighth, Hinkel failed to hold the Reds in the ninth. May singled with one out, reached second when Critz walked and scored on Zitzmann's hit.

INDIANS BEAT YANKEES 24 - 6

Old Time Massacre Staged Yesterday; 17 Runs In Two Inning

Cleveland, July 30— The Indians came out the Yanks yesterday in one of those old fashioned pitching battles. The score was 24 to 6 and the game wasn't decided until the first inning. If this thing could only be put to music, it would make Abie's Irish Rose look like a one-night flop.

The Indians scored eight runs in the second, and after that your correspondent had the same burning interest in the proceedings that he has in the labor situation in Upper Silesia. After the game Prof. Huggins took a length of hempen rope and started cut to look for a nice, strong rather.

Besides scoring the inconceivable number of twenty-four runs, the Indians made twenty-seven hits for a total of thirty-one bases. This sound like a lot of hits and don't let anybody tell you different.

After scoring seventeen runs in the first two innings, the Indians got mad and fashioned one in the third and six more in the sixth. Unless we have been misinformed, that makes a total of twenty-four. Hodapp and Luke Sewell made five hits apiece and Joe Shaute, who is just a pitcher, made only one.

Morgan, Summa and Clerkin will probably be unconditionally released this morning. They grabbed only two hits apiece. Well, sir, the Indians had more fun. They hammered five Yankee pitchers into the most quaint contours. They batted completely around, and then some, in three differ ent innings. In each of the two frames Hodapp was up twice and made two hits.

OIL FUEL NOW THE CHEAPEST

Because Only Consumed When it is Needed, Says Report

Oil fuel, automatically controlled, is the cheapest fuel because it is consumed only when it is needed, says a report on heating costs issued by the Oil Burning Institute.

The report points out that oil heat is quickly available at any time during the year. "Warm days discourage the keeping of coal fires. Yet there are many chilly mornings and evenings when heat is needed not only for comfort but to safeguard health. For this reason, oil heat is cared away. Household hanger in Fall and Spring, than coal heat is. Inspite of this, there are numerous cases on record where owners constantly burning to our attention where household fuel costs for the entire year have been reduced by burning oil."

An oil burner, says the Institute, utilizes every ounce of fuel. No wasted half-charred fuel is carried away. Fuel is burned all day simply to provide a little heat for chilly evenings.

In an hourly twenty grade in New England, twenty-three owners of oil burners certified that they made a saving averaging, during the Winter of 1925-26, of 21.3 per cent as compare with the cost of coal during the previous Winter.

"Oil, as a house fuel," the report continues, "would never have won its remarkable acceptance it has today merely as a substitute for coal. Over the welcome relief from coltar drudgery, that it affords does not alone account for its present use in 3-11 of all American homes. The real explanation lies in the fact that oil has ushered in an entirely new era of heating-new standards of comfort, cleanliness and safety, as well as of convenience-that were not possible with any manual fire-controlled fuel.

"It is characteristic of the American mind to appreciate and use machinery human energy and worry. Because oil fuel can be automatically controlled, it has done for heating what the electric lamp did for lighting and the telephone for communication. It provides warmth and comfort, as it is needed and when it is wanted, without human attention."

The first cost of a complete oil heater installation ready for operation varies, depending upon climate and the size of the premises to be heated. For a house of from six to ten rooms, the investment required is between $150 and $1,100. Operating costs may be figured on the basis that 194 gallons of oil equal one ton of anthracite coal. The cost of electric current to run the controller motor varies in different parts of the country, but $18 a year is a fair average.

In general terms, the cost of oil, at ten cents a gallon, is about equal to that of coal at $13.40 a ton in the bin.

That Carefree Weekend Trip

Here's a man—one of a great company of car owners—who looks forward to Saturday and Sunday as bright spots in the weekly grind. He gets out his road maps, plans his trip, gathers the family together, climbs in behind the wheel and off they go adventuring in the great out-of-doors.

Putting dull care behind he forgets business—but (and here's the secret of real motoring comfort) he never forgets or neglects his lubrication. He knows that without proper lubrication the terrific heat generated in his motor—probably twenty-five explosions a second—fifteen hundred a minute in a single combustion chamber—is sufficient to destroy the vital parts of his engine. Knowing this he takes no chances. Before setting out he makes sure that his crankcase contains sufficient of the proper grade of Veedol tested oil—the oil that robs heat and friction of their destructive power and shields the vital motor parts from damage.

Thin as line, smooth as silk, tough as steel, this Veedol "film of protection" has the stamina, the fighting qualities of super oil. Heavier-bodied, longer lived than ever, the "lightweight" oil that ever tamed heat, Veedol has been reformulated to provide correct lubrication for the new high-speed, high-compression motors. Correct for the new engines it is better for any motor. Have your crankcase filled with the new Veedol and give your motor the extra protection it requires.

PEOPLE AFRAID OF LONELY SILENCES

London. (C.P.)—At every turn, wherever we go, music is made a stopgap to fill the silences which today by means dare not face. People are terrified of silence, so they have music and I consider it a great insult to Music."

Sir Hugh Allen, Principal of the Royal College of Music, made this declaration at a dinner in connection with the conference of British and American Music Educationists.

He paused at the end at a sentence and as he did so, a jazz band in the next room struck up.

"What did I tell you?" That finishes it and I sit down," said Sir Hugh amid laughter.

BUREAUCRACY IS UNDER FIRE YET

Lord Hewart Continues Attack; Publish Book In Near Future

London. (C.P.)—A striking book which is likely to cause a considerable stir is being written by the Lord Chief Justice (Lord Hewart). It will deal with the encroachment of bureaucracy on modern life, and the title provisionally selected for it is "Power and the People" says the Daily News. The publishers will be Ernest Benn, Ltd.

Lord Hewart will direct attention to a growing problem to which he has already referred in legal judgments and in public speeches. The standpoint from which he approaches this task may be indicated by recalling a speech which he delivered at the annual dinner of the Law Society at Sheffield in September.

Discussing on that occasion what he described as "The restless encroachment of that arrogant pretensions of bureaucracy in our midst," he said:

"The name, of self-government would be an irritating mockery if it became a vast army of anonymous officials hidden from view placed above the new and administering a topsy-turvy system whereby the servants of the public would be its masters. That is a proposition upon which I do not propose to hold my tongue, so long as I have a tongue to use."

In a memorable address to the American Bar Association, at Buffalo last year, he argued that the Rule of Law involved the absence of arbitrary power on the part of the Government, and equality before the law.

Was there not, he asked an increasing development of bureaucratic pretensions, the aim of which was to withdraw more and more matters from the jurisdiction of the Courts and to set them apart for purely official determination?

In the last few months the Lord Chief Justice has reiterated the warning he gave at Buffalo. At the Manchester Reform Club in December last he argued that it was certain that if there were superfluous or swollen departments the evils which they involved would not be limited to waste of money.

The gaping hole torn in the bow of the Canadian Pacific steamer Montrose when she was in collision with the freighter Rose Castle in the St. Lawrence near Three Rivers. It will be seen that in addition to the knife-like cut in the bow of the Montrose her port anchor has also been carried away. The S.S. Rose Castle was so badly damaged that she was beached. While the crash brought the passengers of the Montrose to the deck prompt action on the part of the ship's officers averted a panic, and no one was injured. The liner was working her way up-stream from Quebec at the time of the collision, and the big freighter was running down-stream in ballast from Montreal.

SAYER SENTENCE DUE TOMORROW

Young Man Pleaded Guilty to Being Drunk in Charge of Car

PARTY WAS JUNE 7TH

Counsel Asks Suspended Sentence on Widowed Mother's Account

Sentence will be passed upon Harold Sayers by Magistrate Millet in police court tomorrow morning. Sayers appeared this morning and was charged with being drunk in charge of a car by which could be pleaded guilty.

On the evening of June 7th, Sayers was fined drunk, smashed into an automobile on Front street, then, without stopping, drove up West Bridge street hill, striking through the Argyll Light Infantry Band, which was returning from manoeuvres, injuring several of the men and sending them to the hospital, while Mr. Fred Howard suffered a broken leg.

The case has been remanded from time to time, and it was only this morning that the accused pleaded guilty to the other. Mr. Charles Payne, counsel for Sayers, pleaded for a suspended sentence on the grounds that Harold Sayers and his sister were the sole support of a widowed mother. Also, counsel averred the accused had made restitution for the damaged car, and was willing to make restitution for the time lost by the injured man, some $200 all told. Mr. Payne stated that he understood that the Government would pay all hospital bills.

Magistrate Asked Leniency

Mr. Payne stated that he had in his possession a letter signed by three or four of the injured bandsmen, addressed to Magistrate Millet, in which letter he was asked that not too severe a penalty be imposed upon defendant. Counsel stated that he would produce this letter tomorrow in court and that the bandsmen would appear personally if sentence until tomorrow and stated that their letter have some bearing upon his sentence.

Mr. Payne also stated that he had been credibly informed that the Colonel in charge of the battalion was agreeable to not exacting a severe sentence.

DENY ANY SPLIT IN THE CABINET

Home Secretary Was Not Laying Down Any Policy In His Speech

London, Eng., July 31. (C.P. Cable) —Sir William Joynson Hicks, Home Secretary, in a confidential statement to several newspapers, says that his speech of Saturday was misunderstood as a sign of policy at all. The speech led up position newspapers to predict and, in some cases actual announce, a split in the cabinet on the question of "safeguarding" home industries.

According to Government supporting newspapers, the cabinet last week decided against the safeguarding of iron and steel industries, with Lieut. Col L. C. M. S. Amery Secretary for Dominions, holding out for some fees ure of protection. The Government's policy in next year's election, it I stated, will be to advocate helpful these industries primarily by relieving them of local taxes.

Nevertheless Mr. Baldwin, it is as serted by his newspaper supporters, I gravely disturbed over the Home Secretary's speech, which Conservative new papers say is considered only lukewarm and at tomorrow's cabinet meeting the necessity for collective cabinet responsibility will be insisted upon in relation to utterances by individual members on such matters as "safe guarding".

Tentative Agreement To Be Presented Today at Washington

London, Eng., July 31.—Details of the Franco-British naval compromise mentioned by Sir Austen Chamberlain, Secretary for Foreign Affairs in the House of Commons yesterday are declared to have been cabled to the British Ambassador at Washington were they are expected to be presented today or tomorrow.

The government spokesman told the Associated Press today that a compromise had been reached between the two methods of naval armament reduction on which previous conferences have split, namely limitation by total tonnage favored by France and by categories, favored by Great Britain.

Under the total or global tonnage system no restriction is placed upon types of vessel to be included under the total tonnage allotted to any country, while under the category system, the total tonnage of various types of war vessels is agreed upon

The question of submarine construction is definitely involved in the compromise, the spokesman said.

In the event that United States and other nations reject the compromise a meeting will be called to consider modifications of it. The compromise will not become effective until the major powers accede to it.

DEATH RESULTED OF AGED WOMAN

Bad Motor Accident at Smithfield Bridge Has A Fatal Sequel

When a car driven by Leo Poplin, of Montreal, crashed through the overhead bridge at Smithfield on Thursday, July 19th, four people were more or less seriously injured, it will be remembered. The Intelligencer learned today that Mrs. Rebecca Kaputsa, mother-in-law of the owner of the car, Mr. Lazar Paperman, had died in a Montreal hospital over the week-end. Mrs. Kaputsa was the most severely injured of the party, suffering some broken ribs and a severe shaking up, which due to her advanced age, were probably the reason for Mrs. Kaputsa's death.

The other occupants of the automobile, all of whom were confined in the Belleville General Hospital for a day or so, were discharged in good condition. It was not thought at the time that Mrs. Kaputsa's injuries would terminate fatally. Drs. Farley, Jr., and Parnacombe, of Trenton, were in attendance upon the injured motorists.

Larkin Is Going Back To London: Not Slated To Succeed Massey

London, July 31 (C.P.) — Some papers here today suggested that Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner, now on his way to Canada aboard the Steamship Albertic, will not return to London, but will succeed Hon. Vincent Massey as Canadian Minister to Washington.

The Canadian Press has the best grounds for asserting that there is no truth in the suggestion of the London papers. The day before Mr. Larkin sailed for Canada, he voluntarily told the Canadian Press he was obliged to return to London quickly because important business awaited him here.

No News at Ottawa.

Ottawa, July 31.—The Prime Minister's office has no information with regard to the rumor that Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner will not return to London but will be instead to Washington. It is understood that Mr. Larkin will spend a few weeks in Canada and then return to London.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Each day is a fresh beginning;
Therefore, my soul, to the glad revival,
And let the dead of old sorrow and older
Be buried.
And pansies forecasted and possible pain,
Take hearts with the day and begin again.

SUSAN CODLIDGE.

GIVE THESE YOUNG PEOPLE A GOOD VIEW

In August a party of fifty British school boys and school girls will visit Canada under the Empire Scholarship plan inaugurated by the Allied Newspapers of Great Britain.

The scheme is designed to introduce the youth of the motherland to a part of the dominions overseas for the express purpose of promoting an intelligent Empire spirit in the younger generation. Great care has been taken in the selection of the scholars to make the tour. They have been chosen on a basis of special qualifications on Empire topics, and for general culture and efficiency. The age limits were set at 14 years and 21 years.

Readers to say the plan aroused keen interest in the schools of Britain. The opportunity for a free trip to Canada and across the Dominion and back naturally appealed to the young people of a real adventure. More than 100,000 pupils contested for the honor of being among the fifty "Young Ambassadors of Empire." The libraries throughout Great Britain were stormed by eager scholars hungering and thirsting for information about Canada.

The party is due to arrive at Quebec on August 5. They will travel across Canada under the auspices of the Canadian National Railways all the way from the Maritime Provinces to the Pacific Coast.

Care should be taken to let these young people see the realities of Canadian life. Too frequently our visitors have the good natured complaint that all they are ever permitted to see of this new country is the inside of large transporting halls where they are expected to listen to floods of oratory or rivalling Niagara. Doubtless some banqueting will be necessary as the visitors must eat in any case, but those responsible for the speeches should remember that a speech has to be very good indeed to appeal to the imprisoning mind of youth.

The first impressions which our young visitors receive should be natural and free. Irrespective of whether some of them later on, decide to come back to Canada to make homes for themselves, or remain in the Old Country, the impressions gained by the tour are bound to be lasting. They should mean a lot many of our own young people as possible.

FOLLY TO KILL THE GOLDEN EGG GOOSE

A complaint has been received by the Hon. Dr. Forbes Godfrey, who has the question of tourist facilities in Ontario under his jurisdiction as provincial minister of health, regarding charges made at a tourist hotel in the Ontario district. According to the statement made to him, a party of tourists visiting this hotel was charged $7.25 for six sandwiches and six glasses of iced tea. It is not stated what sitting was inside the sandwiches, but, to the average person this would seem like a gross case of taking advantage of an opportunity to extort the last cent from the pockets of the visitors from the other side of the border.

Nothing will do more to deter tourists from coming to Ontario than the spreading abroad of tales that there are people in Ontario waiting for an opportunity to overcharge. Since the authorities themselves, surely it is politic for the proprietor of tourist camps and hotels to do business at reasonable prices, earning a reasonable profit, without stooping to extortion. The idea cited is possibly an isolated case, but the inquiry which the minister is making should be complete. If the facts are as stated, then action should be taken to discourage such overcharging, and if some mistake has been made, every opportunity should be given to make it right. Ontario can not afford to have a reputation for extortion where its tourist visitors are concerned.

UNIFORM SIGNALS TO MAKE MOTORING EASY

This Summer Massachusetts put in effect a statute resulting a state-wide uniformity in traffic signals, highway markings and highway lights. The bugaboo of confusing inconsistencies seen along the highways of the state for years past are now removed and motoring is made more easy and sensible. Presently all of the states will be driven to the Massachusetts example, comments an Oklahoma City exchange. It is indeed strange that uniformity has not been established long ago. This is how the hint of the border and the expanding highway system and many millions of people are driving back and forth throughout the country.

Yet practically every municipality in the country has its own peculiar code of traffic regulations and even its particular system of lights and signals.

If the authorities had started out with the firm intention of making travel confusing and rendering it impossible for the motorist to avoid violating some law, they could not have achieved their purpose any better than by formulating the confusing policy that now prevails.

THE BEAUTIFUL HOUSE

(By Mary Webb)

A large house, a fair house, fragrant wide and high,
The Lord of Life has given us—oh hear the plovers cry!
Down upon the speedfull floor, beneath the speedwell sky,
Crossed and set the multitude of living things go by.
Hung about with cay-bloom, sweet and white to see,
Full of silver songs and little wings in every tree,
Crossed by beast and bird, discreet in merry company—
This is but His anchorhold; what must
His castle be?

CHRYSLER
Plymouth

Plymouth 4-Door Sedan, $915

CANADA ACCEPTS AND ACCLAIMS THE NEW PLYMOUTH

The sales record of the new Plymouth, established in two weeks' time, is without parallel or precedent for a car in this field—not in a few retail centers but all over the whole country.

Hundreds of thousands—eager to see the new Plymouth, built by Chrysler, to compete in the lowest-priced field—are thronging Chrysler salesrooms everywhere.

They compare it with the three or four other cars catering to the same great market.

They see contrast in size, style, performance and safety so sharply in favor of Plymouth that curiosity bursts into enthusiasm, enthusiasm is transformed into sales.

These hosts of motorists find in the new Plymouth, with its "Silver-Dome" high-compression engine using any gasoline, characteristic Chrysler performance linked with smoothness, comfort of riding and an ease of handling typical of much more expensive cars.

They recognize that no other car under $1500 is equipped with internal expanding hydraulic four-wheel brakes, efficient in any weather.

In short, hundreds of thousands seeking a low first cost now discover in the new Plymouth the one car in the lowest-priced field which is and does everything that they have long hoped a low-priced car would be and do.

You, too, owe it to yourself to see it, ride in it, drive it. All doubt as to the highest dollar-for-dollar value in the lowest-priced field ends right there.

In sick stomachs—instantly
Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.
Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.
Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.
Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggists.

RASPBERRIES EAGERLY BOUGHT

Red raspberries were at a premium in the market this morning all being sold by shortly after nine o'clock. There were plenty of blue raspberries offered, but these were not wanted in any great extent. The rush was selling for eighteen cents a box, two for thirty-five, while the blues were offered at fifteen cents the single box two for twenty-five cents.

Outside of these raspberries, and a few, very few, huckleberries and currants, little was displayed on this morning's market.

CLOSING QUOTATIONS

Call Money at 7 1-2

New York, July 31.—The stock market had woolsey money easy today per cent and prices broke sharply as a when the call rate was marked up to 7 result. The reaction came after an opening display of strength in which many issues were carried up one to five points. These gains were quickly reduced, or cancelled that top lines of issues ragged one to nearly nine points below yesterday's final quotations.

Call money renewed at six per cent and advanced successively to 6 1-2, 7 and 7 1-2 as ashe called between 500,000 and 600,000,000 in loans in preparation for month end settlements.

IF YOU'RE NOT IN THE RIGHT JOB GET ANOTHER

By DR. LOUIS E. REICH

Don't be afraid to change your job.

Don't hesitate to send in your resignation if you become convinced that you are in the wrong work.

By all means switch to something else if you are sure.

But! Be very sure you are sure.

Perhaps your work is hard and confining. That's no reason for quitting. Maybe it gets on your nerves now and again. That, too, cannot be considered an adequate cause for transferring to something else.

It is possible that you think you are ill. It is possible that you think you are so you should, that you have failed to receive a deserved promotion, that your salary is not adequate.

Many men and women consider such complaints sufficient excuse for quitting.

These should not, however, of and by themselves be considered sadly guides for flight.

Your job is important. You must go deeper than that. You must not allow passing setbacks and disappointments to overwhelm you.

When all is said and done, it is actually easier to know when your job is right than when it is wrong.

If you're in the right job you are most certainly doing the thing you want to do.

You will find that it harmonizes with your ambitions, that you are yourself—perhaps slowly, but surely—reaching the goal you have set for yourself.

The right job gives you mental, moral and spiritual gratification that is unmistakable.

Time flies in its performance.

You simply love to do it.

It inspires you with enthusiasm, self confidence, initiative.

There is nothing you'd rather do.

The very toughness of it, the obstacles in your path, merely spur you on to greater victories.

And it is astonishing how often a person, chafing at his daily work, will find that he is really properly placed and set for success if he will analyze his job and himself a little and see if the two fit.

So many disgruntled ones don't place the proper values on their work, nor do they themselves understand how they should feel and react toward their work.

Many of the world's greatest men started out doing things quite different from the work in which they finally found fame.

Ben Johnson, the poet, began as a bricklayer. The inventor of the cotton gin, Eli Whitney, was a teacher. Johnny, Sir Richard Arkwright, had been a barber, Thinger, renowned for his paintings, also was a barber.

Study yourself, your aptitudes, your weaknesses.

Find the job that dovetails with such a character make-up.

If you have made a false start, don't hesitate to change.

Advice to Girls
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl of seventeen and have been writing to a boy and he has been writing to me but I have written and he hasn't answered yet.

Shall I write to him first or wait till he answers? Please tell me what to do.

A.S.

A. S.: As long as the young man has ignored your letters, don't write to him again.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl sixteen years of age and am considered cute. For a while, boys seem to take very little interest in me. Now they seem to like me. Several boys of whom I am very fond have taken me out—against the word of my parents. They say I am too young to go out with boys. Am I too young to have occasional dates?

Because of my refusals, I am afraid they will lose their interest in me. Suggested to my mother that I entertain a group of friends some evening. She also disagrees with me on that. What shall I do?

LONESOME LOU.

LONESOME LOU: There's only one thing for you to do, Lonesome Lou, and that is—as your mother wishes, be patient a little longer. I'm grant, and I'm sure your mother will allow you to have her friends and go about more when you are older. In the meantime cheerfully do what she wants you to, perhaps before long she will agree to allow you to have occasional little parties in your own home.

Wilful Wives

CHAPTER 8

The Meave Shen

The young woman Hal had mention ed Lydia Converse called upon Marguerite one afternoon at tea-time.

She was very tall and pale and graceful. Her gown followed no particular mode, but wasn't only an intricate assemblage of mauve draperies. A wistaria-blossom drooped against one cheek from under the brim of her hat.

"You must forgive me for waiting so long before making my call—upon dear Hal's bride," she told Marguerite in a studiedly musical voice. "But the heat—really New York is impossible in summer. I shouldn't be here for a moment, if it were not for my art. I expect to have a part in a play this autumn, you know."

"Hal told me you were interested in the stage."

Question about Miss Converse made Marguerite feel ill at ease. She wished Hal hadn't had postponed her call even longer.

"Interested!" A musical laugh followed the exclamation. "It is my life. I have given up my family and my friends to slave—simply slave—for my art."

"Really? I—"

"Of course, you can't appreciate what it means to give up one's self—yourself. I understand that you can only feel sorry for me. Such sacrifices isn't it?"

"I love books and music and——"

"Oh, yes. Quite, I'm sure ..... But I adore the drama—the drama of stark realities. Drama of life and death—all." Miss Converse's very white hands made a comprehensive gesture. "Dear Hal is fond of the theatre, too. We never miss a first night together. By the way, is he at home now?" She gaze roved restlessly around the apartment.

"He is working," Marguerite answered.

"Working? Hal! ..... Oh, never!" "His father and my father are business associates," Marguerite explained. "Hal has a lumber partnership."

"Really? How too delicious! No wonder the poor boy didn't tell me. He must feel it awfully."

"Has he never worked?" Marguerite discovered that childish hurt in her heart that she must ask information about her own husband from another woman.

"Oh, vaguely, from time to time, when his father absolutely refused to give him an income. But he never could hold a position long. He's so popular that he has myriad invitations for each night, and it's simply impossible to get up in the morning and go to work."

She looked at Marguerite searching ly.

"I suppose, now that he has such a sweet little wife, he'll really want to settle down. We'll be so sorry to lose him, My crowd adores him."

"Will you have some tea?" asked Marguerite mechanically.

"What a heavenly thought!" Miss Converse sank back luxuriously in her chair. She added, after a moment: "Perhaps Hal will come before I leave."

"I hope so," said Marguerite quite sincerely. She was beginning to fine the mauve lily truffle wearing.

Hal did come, just as the tea arrived. He kissed the hand of Miss Converse with a flourish, up to him with a gesture of a queen receiving homage from a courtier.

"Dear Hal, I must congratulate you on having found such an adorable little wife. So different, I find her too deliciously refreshing."

Marguerite flushed painfully and become even more acutely embarrassed when Hal crossed to her, bired her hand, and kissed her finger-tips lightly.

She is one out of a million."

Marguerite knew that the little scene was enacted for the benefit of their caller. She tried to look as though that customary, and only succeeded in appearing more ill at ease.

Miss Converse was chatting on brightly, with the air of a person who has noticed nothing—the air that lets every one know that she has.

"You must bring your wife to the club for dinner some night, Hal. I can introduce her to some very interesting women ..... But then, I dare say, you have hosts of friends." She turned her violet eyes question-ly on Marguerite.

The latter shook her head. "We have not been long in the east and I stayed down in the country most of the time."

Her eyes met his with a searching significance. It was obvious that she expected and wanted an affirmative answer.

But he frowned. "Perhaps I have never been jealous."

The lady sighed. "Ah, then you have never been really in love . . . Un lu nate, of course."

There was an awkward silence. Miss Converse finally put down her cup and, glancing at her wrist-watch said:

"Forgive me, but I must fly. I have a dinner engagement with the most fascinating playwright, and I have a dress. It's been too sweet!"

At the door, when she bade good-by to Marguerite, she said to Hal: "You will take me home in my taxi, won't you?"

In the corridor, where they waited for the elevator, she turned upon him her melting, eloquent gaze.

"Hal, how could you? How could you?" she murmured sentimentally.

The Diagonal Line For Juniors, Too

Dear Irma,

I remember your telling me about Ritie Evelyn leaning to have grown-up clothes. "Sounds really silly, mamma!" wasn't that the cunning way she expressed it?

When I saw this little girl's frock of white pique, worn the other day by the daughter of one of my smartest friends, of course, I thought of your precocious young daughter and forthwith made the sketch so that she could have a "really chic" frock, too! You could really make it for her yourself; it's such a simple design that a child love it. I know, because it is so gayly smart.

The shirt is attached to diagonal outline in one-inch effect—that's quite new for Juniors' clothes—and a one-inch collar of red piqué and piqué cuffs cut the same one-sided feeling. The ribbon string tie drawn through a narrow slash in the bodice and the narrow band at the top of piqué are other features that will appeal to the fashion-wise little girl.

Grace.

Some Helpful Hints For Busy Housewives

Nuts,raisins, citron, figs, dates, etc., can be run through the grinder together for cookies, cake filling, fruit cake, salads, sandwiches, etc. Mix in with the ingredients a little of the flour which is to be used in baking, or a few drops of lemon juice, and the fruit will not stick to the chopper.

A teaspoonful of vinegar added to lard used for frying prevents articles being friend from absorbing too much fat.

After using the grinder for meat, potatoes, etc., run two or three crackers or pieces of stale bread through to force out particles that cling to the knives.

WESTERN ROADS FAILED TO DETER ONTARIO WOMEN

Edmonton, July 31.—Mrs. A. Bellman, of Kitchener, Mrs. Frank Robson, of Oshawa, and her niece Miss Flora Patterson of New York City, arrived in Edmonton this week from Ontario by motor, and that might make an interesting note for the personal column without comment. But travelling from Oshawa, Ontario, 3,137 miles of mud, rain and swamp, when the weather man and the prairie mud roads conspire to make motoring at a greater speed than 5 to 10 miles an hour impossible, is something a little different in the way of vacations.

Mrs. Robson's party, including the chauffeur, have learned a great many things about Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and several of them have to do with the notorious gumbo of the prairies. Arrived in Edmonton, and safely established at the Selkirk hotel they appear none the worse for their journey, and wouldn't have missed it for anything. Little phased when bogged in Saskatchewan time and again they could not go any farther, they refused to stop when other cars were resting in towns and along the roads, and continued westward, like the pioneers of old. There were times when to lighten the weight in the car, the three feminine members of the party disembarked in the mud and water slough that passed for a road, and waded knee deep for long stretches. No less than five times did nearby farmers bring their team in the aid of the motorists, and on two occasions no less than five horses were required to pull the big car out of the mud. One night it was impossible to go on, so the party slept on the trail and washed the prairie moon go down and the sun come up.

"And that was something to remember, too," says Mrs. Robinson, whose grey hairs in no whit lessen her zest for life.

The party felt disappointed at not seeing Regina, but owing to bad roads a detour had to be made, and the Saskatchewan city was missed. They arrived in Calgary last week after a fort night's travel, five days of which were spent getting through Saskatchewan and Alberta. Here Mrs. Robson was keenly interested in the convention of the Catholic Women's League, of which she is Toronto subdivision president of Oshawa. They proceeded to Edmonton with the object of motoring to Jasper, and it was only after a definite and widely expressed opinion that it couldn't be done, that they gave up and took the train to the Park. Mrs. Robson was still dubious.

"Do you think it really can't be done?" she asked, the light of battle in her eyes. After the trip from Ontario in cloudbursts of rain and fields of mud, roads of any sort hold little terror for this traveller.

The party is leaving the city today for Calgary, where they will enjoy the Exhibition and Stampede, make a last visit to Banff and Lake Louise, and return home by the United States.

Note—Miss Flora Patterson is known by many people in Belleville as she formerly lived here, while Mrs. Robson spent her girlhood in this city.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

ANGORA WOOL FARMING

To the Editor of "The Belleville Intelligencer."

Dear Sir,

I am often asked whether Angora wool farming is a profitable industry in this country. I am writing to give your readers information regarding the Angora rabbit.

The English and French realized long ago the extraordinary monetary returns that the Angora rabbit brings to its keeper, in comparison for a comparatively small amount of labor and capital. These beautiful white rabbits are rapidly gaining favor in Canada as they have in England and France. Angoras are very hardy, and can be kept in outdoor hutches in summer, but in winter the hutches should be placed in a building for protection, although no heat is necessary. They do equally as well if kept in a building the year around.

Angora wool is in great demand and is manufactured into ladies' and children's garments and Angora yarn. A good Angora rabbit yields one pound of wool per year and costs $1.50 a year to feed when everything is bought. The wool sells from $3 to $5.50 a pound. On some farms in England over 1,900 Angoras are kept. If you wish to pelt the Angora, you can get as much for the pelt as for the average chinchilla pelt. However, as the wool is more valuable, it is much more profitable to clip them year after year until they die of old age.

The wool is clipped or plucked when from two to three inches in length, although it will grow from ten to twelve inches long. Clipping takes place every two or three months as the wool reaches the length desired by the milla, namely, from two to three inches in staple.

After clipping, the rabbit doesn't need brushing for about a month. Then a brushing with a stiff hair brush is necessary about once every ten days to prevent the wool from matting, although the wool seldom mats under three inches. When preparing a rabbit for exhibition it is necessary to groom it daily, as the wool must be long for exhibiting.

The Angora produces four litters a year, the average litter being seven in number, although sometimes there are as many as ten in a litter.

The hutches must be supplied with straw for bedding. Sawdust must also be placed in one or two corners of the hutch. Hutches need to be cleaned out once a week.

My advice to beginners is to get the best foundation stock possible, stock that is pedigreed and from reliable breeders. The best is the cheapest in the end.

There is one outstanding advantage of wool farming over pelt farming. In the latter branch of farming the animals have to be slain to procure their pelts. With wool farming you have your wool, and your rabbit, too.

Yours truly,

Mrs. W. H. Spence,
Bath Road, P.O. Kingston.

Great Britain is to have a new Great Seal on which the effigy of the King will be removed from the quarterdeck of a dreadnought to the back of a charger.

NAVIGATOR WON STEWARD'S

Goodwood, Eng., July 31.— Lord Chaney's Navigator, by Blue Eagle out of Chromeler won the Stewards Cup today with Lord Lonsdale's Endowment second and A. B. Walker's Stranahtro third. Sixteen ran. Navigator was by two lengths. Betting was 8 to 1, 10 to 1 and 20 to 1.

This wasn't the knockout—just a slip. The picture shows Tom Heeney slipping to the canvas in the sixth round after having taken some hard

BELLE THEATRE

"The Matinee Idol" which is being shown at the Belle Theatre, carries the audience behind the scenes of a one-time popular tent show where the most "meta" of melodramas was enacted by a cast of real "hams" recruited from the stinks. It depicts the days when the star engaged and coached the actors, played several roles and shifted scenery in spare time. These methods are contrasted with the modern theatrical revue and through the comparison many highly amusing situations arise.

A quaint love interest is developed between the vivacious tent show heroine and the blackface comedian of the revue. Touches of pathos and real heart throbs furnish relief from the uproarious farcical situations with which the production abounds.

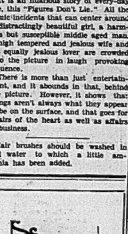

Bessie Love and Johnnie Walker are co-featured in this Columbia production. The former gives an excellent portrayal of the "ham" actress, who decides that the blackface comedian will never make an actor. Walker is pleasing as the comedian who accepts the girl's decision without a murmur and patiently struggles under her tutelage to acquire the difficult art.

The production was made under the direction of Frank Capra. The cast includes Lionel Belmore, Sidney Dalbrook, Erville Alderd and David Mir. Don't miss it.

INDIANS AGAIN BEAT YANKEES

Ruth Clouted 41st Homer But All To No Avail

Cleviland, July 31—As Mr. Dubagpai it in his famous war song of the news, send the news over there. That the Yanks are slipping, the Yanks are slipping".

What was only a mere shimp is now beginning to have suspicious earmarks of a rout. Of their eight games out in the great open spaces the proud champions have lost six. They dropped their third straight to the Indians yesterday, 6-3, and this also marks another melancholy landmark, is being the first time this season that the champions have taken three successive laps on the unprotected club.

To make matters no better, the Athletics won from Detroit again, they are now only five and a half games behind the Yanks. And to think that only seven days ago the Yanks has an eleven-game lead it seems like seven weeks.

Once again the Yanks were guilty of poor pitching, bad fielding, light hitting and a certain dumb ineptness which marks the Hugmen in their worst moments. Furthermore, there was a noticeable lack of alertness and nervousness about them—a tautness that landed in the boys bearing down too hard.

Unhappily, they also ran against Walter Miller who pitched what might was having one of his best days. His slide arm curve and rare change of pace baffled the Yanks, and Manager Mr. Ruth, who provided the only runs when he put one over the right field fence in the fifth inning, was completely singled.

Figures, figures, batted out of the box in the first inning yesterday made a requested appearance and parried another with the ease of losing Felix in nine successive innings.

'HAP' HARRISON ALVIN HECKMAN WON FOR PETES

Peterboro, July 31—Although the Petes had only nine men in uniform on Saturday they battled so effectively without reserves that they took both ends of the double-header at James Stevenson Park from Oshawa, winning the first hands down 14 to 4 and the second in commanding style by 8 to 3.

The double win puts the home team right back in the running for a place in the play offs as it leaves them only a game behind Whitehall and two and one half in the rear of Oshawa. The Motorists have a tough schedule ahead of them with six of their eight games on the road and Jack Boles, the manager, is not counting in the first three weeks in July, series with Belleville, who cannot be beaten out of first place.

Steady pitching by the two veterans Al. Heckman and Hap Harrison, and effective hitting accounted for Saturday's two victories.

Heckman, with perfect control, simply mowed them down in the first game keeping Dekora's eleven hits well scattered and refusing to pass a man while the doublers' heavers were hit hard and also suffered from defective control, issuing six passes. Ralph, a left-hander, started the first game for Deloro but was shelled off the hilltop in the third while Shea, who went to the rescue, got along fairly well until the eighth when the Petes started a fusilade that did not terminate until eighteen had crossed the plate. Shea, of course, had disappeared before the end of this bombardment and Hartley Jack had to be called upon to quell the disturbance.

"SPECTATOR" WILL NEVER BE COMBINED

London (By The Canadian Press)—The Spectator" announces a scheme based upon that adopted by the "Times" in 1924, whereby its future control will be so safeguarded that the Journal will never fall into the possession of unworthy hands or of a great newspaper combine, whereby its great name and its complete, unbiased independence would be sacrificed."

For this purpose a committee has been established for the special purpose of safeguarding future transfers of 51 percent of the Ordinary shares, now held by Evelyn Wrench.

The committee will consist of those of Lord Mayor of London, and the for the time being holding the offices Presidents of the Royal Society, Royal Historical Society, Law Society, and Institute of Chartered Accountants and the Chairman of the Committee of the Headmasters' Conference.

Joe Daley's Team Fighting For Second Place Honors

THE STANDING

"Hoot" Gibson and "Yam-my" Jamieson Likely Starters Wednesday

Kingston Central League Club have it all doped out that they'll win from the Nationals here tomorrow at the Exhibition Park. The Easterners are in the thick of the fight for second place honors and have hopes of overtaking the Oshawa team. King's story defeat at the hands of the Deloro Club last Wednesday did not help matters any and the Daley Clan will be fighting to get that margin back tomorrow. Howard Somerville, who was at one time one of the smartest second-basemen in this League put in his appearance at practice for the first time on Saturday afternoon and the Kingston team will be materially strengthened by Somerville's presence. The Kingston people believe they have a team good enough to win the Central League and they will be out to demonstrate to Belleville fans just how good they are. The visitors will likely pitch Yammy Jamieson tomorrow and the Youngster has an assortment with him that will give the Nationals plenty of trouble. Manager Walter Gerow will probably send Hoot Gibson to the mound and the

NAPANEE LEAFS LOST TO LOCALS

Ontarios In Great Form And Defeated Home Team 16-5

Showing a complete reversal of form the Belleville Ontarios walked to a holiday victory over the Napanee Leafs in a regular Bay of Quinte League at Napanee last night. Hilda Adams pitched masterful ball and it was evident that the Leafs threatened to ever come the lead. She had fine control and a nice turn of speed and was in good form all round. The final score of the game was 16-5. Miss Cerenzone made three feature catches and was the star of the game. At less...three of the catches were labelled for triples and Miss Cerenzone who is practically a newcomer to the local soft-ball field is certainly building good." Audrey and Aileen Wilkins each helped themselves to home-runs while Miss McGuire of the Napanee team got a circuit drive. Miss Stinson caught a great game. The home team used three pitchers, Misses Johnston, Douglas and McGuire. Miss Douglas was the best of the three but her control was erratic at times. Vera Weir umpired behind the plate and Jimmy Naphin handled the bases.

On Thursday night the Beavers and the Ontarios will clash again at the Armouries lawn in a Bay of Quinte League game and the Beavers will be out to repeat their victory of last week. It will no doubt attract a larger crowd than last week. These two rival Clubs always provide plenty of fireworks.

ROYALS WIN 3 - 2 FROM TORONTO

Montreal Lone Victors Among First Division Clubs Yesterday

Toronto, July 31—Outfielder Pam Easterling recently won a game for the Leafs at Montreal but yesterday evened the count when the Royals beat the Leafs in the opening game of series here 3-2. Easterling made one of the locals eight hits and was not charged with an error, but in the ninth inning, with two men out, he played badly a ball hit by Pitcher Falk. It went for a triple and was manufactured into a run, the winning one at that, when Stapleton beat out a grounder to Styles. So all's well that ends well for the Royals even if it was a bad day for the Leafs.

The crippled Rochester Red Wings proved rather easy for the Bisons in the opening game of the series and the Herd sailed through to a 5-2 victory. Leo Mangum was touched for 11 hits but kept the Red Wings' blows scattered while the Bisons were bunching their fifteen made off Hamilton to win handily.

Baltimore easily won the opening game of the series with Reading by the score of 11 to 5. The Orioles hit hard, collecting 16 hits, while Danny Clark and Dick Porter featured with three doubles each.

Maurice Bream gave Jersey City their fourth straight win yesterday at Newark, winning a pitcher's duel from Carl Fischer, of the Newark Bears, in the first game of the series 4 to 1. Fischer held the Jersey City team to three hits for eight innings, but blew up in the ninth and the Skeeters scored three times. Sheridan relieved Fischer after one run had been scored in the ninth inning and forced over two more with bases on balls. The Bears nicked Bream for ten hits, but were helpless in the pinches.

SHANNONVILLE

The second annual picnic of the Women's Missionary Society of Shannonville, was held on Wednesday, July 18th at Sloco Lake. Although the weather was none too promising a large crowd attended and all seemed to enjoy themselves thoroughly.

At Mrs. W. L. Ketcheson's kind invitation the dinner was served on the spacious verandah of her summer cot tage and sixty-five sat down to the first table which was filled with all the delicacies of the season.

The waiters and some of the campers sat at the second table. About 20 in all enjoyed the picnic dinner.

Mrs. Thomas Beatty won a tray in a guessing contest that had been kindly donated by Mrs. Harry Murphy.

The nail driving contest was won by Ross Shetlar and Sam Hilton while Mrs. Harve Shetlar and Mrs. Lauriston Ketcheson won in the ladies contest.

There were also races for the boys and girls as well as the older ones, but the chief attraction was bathing in the lake. Boats were loaned to the picnickers and by evening the entire afternoon was spend by those who enjoyed boating and bathing.

They were pleased to have Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Hawley and Mr. John Leech of Flinton with them for the picnic.

The Ladies had a booth at which they cleared $25.00.

Many expressions of appreciation of the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Ketcheson in allowing their home for the accommodation of the picnickers were heard, also many thanks are due the summer campers who helped make the picnic such a success.
